We are showing the New Norfolk Blouse Suits for Boys and Youths. This style has become so popular in the larger cities that manufacturers can scarcely supply the demand. They look best in Tawn and Pearl Halifax Tweeds. Call and see them.

The most difficult Garment for a lady to choose is a light Print Dress, but if you call at Turnbull's you are sure to have no trouble as he can show you such a large variety in every color, every pattern and at any price.

A new material introduced this season is the Flannelette in fancy colored stripes and plains, the correct thing for Ladies' Wrappers and children's clothes, only ten cents a yard. Ladies handling it for the first time sometimes ask is it all wool. It is really all cotton but finished like a flannel.

As the weather gets warmer children require to have the heavy clothing changed for something light and cool, and Mothers are often perplexed to know what to buy. We would call their attention to our Colored Washing in Fancy Stripe and Check They are warranted fast colors in fact the other they are washed the better they look. The prices range from 12½c. up.

MILLINERY.—We are still receiving daily New Goods by express, Another lot of Plaid Ribbons just received. Also some New Shapes, as the Blossom, Cape Town and Vallego. These are the correct thing for pic-nic hats.

THE GOVERNOR GENERAL

SWORN IN IN THE PRESENCE OF A BRILLIANT ASSEMBLAGE.

The Oaths of Office and Allegiance—The Civic Address of welcome Presented by Mayor Stewart—His Excellency's Reply.

OTTAWA, June 12.—The public swearing in of Lord Stanley, our new Governor-General, took place in the Senate Chamber at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The day was fine, and consequently a large crowd was in attendance on Parliament Hill and lined the streets along which the Vice-Regal party passed.

A guard of honor from the Governor-General's Foot Guards was in attendance as well as the Princess Louise Dragoon Guards, but His Excellency drove up quietly half an hour before the guard and strolled about the grounds for a while. After the guard arrived he came out of the Senate entrance and was given a general salute, followed by vigorous cheers from the crowd.

His Excellency and party were then introduced to Capt. Thompson in charge of the guard and immediately afterwards His Excellency did something which no other Governor before him had done; he inspected the guard, expressing himself pleased with their appearance and equipment.

Meanwhile the galleries of the Senate Chamber had been filled with spectators and on the floor was a brilliant assemblage of the leading citizens of Ottawa, including representatives of the clergy, the bench and the bar, while the presence of a large number of ladies in charming street costumes added color, grace and beauty to the scene.

His Excellency, after reviewing the guard of honor, returned to the Speaker's room, where the members of the Cabinet were introduced to him. Promptly at 3 o'clock he issued from the Speaker's apartment, preceded by his A.D.C.'s and followed by the Ministers, Sir John and Sir Hector walking together, and passing in through the main entrance to the chamber took his seat. All the Ministers except Hon. Mr Foster wore the Windsor uniform. His Excellency is a tall, fine-looking man, whose well developed form well became his Windsor uniform, and as he stood up to take the oath of office and allegiance the impression created by his appearance was most favorable.

The commission appointing His Excellency was first read by Capt. Bagot, A.D.C., after which these oaths of office and allegiance were administered by Chief Justice Sir J. Ritchie.

The Oath of Office.

1. I shall well and truly execute the office and trust of Governor-General of Canada and the Territories depending thereon, and duly and impartially administer justice therein. So help me God.

2. I shall well and truly exercise the office of Keeper of the Great Seal of Her Majesty's Dominion of Canada, according to the best of my kdowledge and ability. So help me God.

The Oath of Allegiance.

I, Sir Frederic Arthur Stanley, Baron Sranley of Preston, do swear that I will be faithful and true and bear true allegiance to Her Majesty Queen Victoria, her heirs and successors, according to law. So help me God.

After the signing of the oath by His Excellency and the Judges, Mr. Grant Powell, Under Secretary of State, presented the Great Seal, which His Excellency took and handed back to him. His Excellency then ascended the throne and taking his seat requested the ministers and spectators, all of whom had been standing, to be seated; and the ceremony of swearing in was completed by the band of the guards in the corridor playing "God Save the Queen" and the battery on Nepean Point firing a salute.

The Civic Welcome and Lord Stanley's Reply

His Excellency being seated Mayor Stewart and the members of the City Council advanced and His Honor read the civic address of welcome.

"In reply His Excellency said that he returned his most hearty thanks for the kindly welcome that had been extended to him on his coming to reside in Canada as Her Majesty's representative. He was glad to see that here as elsewhere all were animated with loyalty towards the person of Her Majesty, whom he characterized as becoming every day more warmly enshrined in the hearts of her people.

"He could not but feel the difficulties to which he was placed at having to succeed so distinguished a predecessor as Lord Lansdowne. Among the long roll of distinguished men who had filled the high office to which he had been appointed were none whose names would be written in more golden letters in the history of this country than that of Lord Lansdowne. He ventured to say that Lord Lansdowne during his career of office had endeared himself to all with whom he came in contact, and his great abilities and calm judgment, his knowledge and courteous manners had all contributed to help him to maintain the high reputation of his house and the character of English legislatures. Lord Lansdowne had left nothing but regret in leaving the country where from the commencement of his sojourn he had been received with such frank hospitality and such hearty good-will, and although he (Lord Stanley) had been but a few hours amongst them he though he could already say that he had experienced even before his arrival that hospitality, kindness and cordiality which had made the name of this Dominion proverbial.

"He was happy to think that although the vicissitudes of political life connected him but a few months with the office of Secretary of State for the Colonies in the English Government, those few months were not altogether unfruitful with respect to the interests of the great Dominion of which we all now speak as members and he trusted that to the latest period of his life his sympathies might ever be with the colonies.

"One principle should animate the man who wished to attain success in public life, and that was to address himself with single-heartedness to the problems with which one might be called upon to deal with an earnest desire to remove difficulties, if such should arise. He should endeavor to pursue that course, and by the result he was content to be judged."

His Excellency spoke in full, round, manly voice witout any attempt at oratorical effect, and created a pleasing impression by his simple straightforwardness.

At the conclusion of his speech the Mayor introduced the members of the Council, after which the Vice-Regal party left the chamber.

His Excellency afterwards visited his offices in the Eastern Block and remained there until after 5 o'clock.

The Vice-Regal party left this morning for Montreal and from there will proceed to Quebec.

His Excellency has subscribed $150 for the relief of the Hull fire sufferers.

MICHAEL DAVITT IS INTERVIEWED AND DESCRIBES THE SITUATION.

No Hope For Ireland From Emigration—The Popular Feeling in England Improving—Prospects 25 Per Cent. Better.

LONDON, June 12.—I interviewed Michael Davitt by telegraph, asking him substantially the same questions that Mr. Balfour answered on Friday. Mr. Davitt was starting from Ballybrack when I wired him first, and the responses were written out on the way to Ulster, despite the hurry and distraction of travel.

The first question:—"Do statistics show an increase in the number of paupers, insane persons and criminals in Ireland?"

"I have no reliable returns by me," said Mr. Davitt, "which would enable me to give a detailed answer to this question in all of its phases. Paupers are on the increase, if this term can in justice be applied to the poorer portion of the cotter and laboring classes, who, having been driven off the land by landlordism, are thus deprived of their only means of livelihood, and compelled to accept relief from the poor rates. Eighty per cent. of these people are made paupers by eviction, and as Mr. Balfour is now carrying on a campaign of eviction as part of his policy or counter plan to defeat the League, he is multiplying the number of people who are made useless by English rule in Ireland. In 1881 there were 589,349 people relieved out of the poor rates in Ireland; in 1886, the number had swelled to 631,186. Side by side with these figures you can put those of at least 3,000,000 acres of land allowed to lie waste where there is so much poverty. If this land were thrown open to labor, as it would be under a home Government it would provide thirty-acre holdings for 100,000 persons, half a million of human beings, and rescue them from the useless condition to which they have been reduced by Castle government and landlordism. I am not able to give you an approximate idea of the number of insane persons in Ireland. They are, however, most numerous where the conditions of life are hardest. The poor houses, into which the evicted are driven, are recruiting stations for lunatic asylums. Ordinary criminals are on the decrease. Recruiting for the British army absorbs many of them, and they are about the only class in Ireland to which the army is welcome."

"What is your estimate of the number of Loyalists in Ireland?"

"This, is a question most difficult to answer. There are many Home Rulers who claim to be as loyal to the Queen as Mr. Balfour. Needless to say I am not one of them. The name Loyalist, however, has now come to be associated with the anti-Home Rulers, and in this sense it is easier to reply to your query. The Parliamentary franchise is now given to every householder who pays his poor rates. These household voters elect 101 members to Parliament, Trinity College being privileged to return the other two, which make up the quota of 103 members who sit in the Imperial Parliament for Ireland. Of the 101 members elected by householders and lodgers, 85 are Home Rulers and 16 Loyalists. According to this test the Loyalists in Ireland number one-sixteenth of the population, and Mr. Balfour's principles and policy consist in ruling 84 per cent. of a country's population in the interest of the remaining 16 per cent."

"Has the Government any efforts in view toward a direct relief of people in such districts as Connemara?"

"I am not very much in the secrets of Government, and can only judge of their intentions in this respect from what has appeared about their policy in the press. A Royal Commission appointed by this Government reported in favor of constructing a light railway from Galway to Clifden, and this work, if carried out, would benefit Connemara very much, while it would give an impetus to the fishing industry on the coast each side of Clifden. Other schemes of public works are also recommended by this Commission, and Mr. Chamberlain is backing up their proposals by advocating them in his Birmingham Post as a plan of settling the Irish question. Both the Government and Mr. Chamberlain evidently believe they can seduce the Irish people from the National cause if they offer them enough bribes."

"Do you look upon emigration as a possible solution of the Irish question?"

"No, emphatically not, unless you mean, as of course you do not, the emigration of the landlords. Within my lifetime the population of Ireland has decreased more than 3,500,000, and yet the people who remain are as poor, if not poorer, than the 8,500,000 who lived and labored in Ireland in 1845. It is the young men and women who emigrate, and these are the bone and sinew of our population. Every man leaving Ireland takes with him a value equal to £100 with which to enrich America. He leaves Ireland so much poorer. If Mr. Balfour could emigrate the whole of our young men and women, the difficulty for England would then be solved; but great as is the tide of emigration now, it will not roll on the consummation of Tory hopes."

"Is there more money in Ireland now than there was twenty years ago?"

"I do not see how there can be, owing to the immense number of people who have emigrated since then. There is, however, a great deal more money expended in carrying on the Government of the country now than there was at that period. There are more Royal Irish Constabulary and Castle officials, and these being well paid, the deposits in savings banks may be greater than twenty years back, but the country is undoubtedly earning less per year now than it did then, in my opinion."

"In 1841 the number of inhabited houses in Ireland was 1,328,839. This number fell to 961,290 in 1861, and again to 914,108 in 1881. In other words, there was upward of 50 per cent. more inhabited houses in Ireland 47 years ago than there are to-day."

"Is there any revival of Irish trade or manufactures?"

"Scarcely any, the woollen manufacturing is beginning to look up a little, but the linen industry has declined. The present Irish Exhibition in London may give a stimulus all round, but until the chief industry of Ireland, agriculture, is freed from the incubus of landlordism there will be no health in any other industry."

"What is the feeling in England toward Ireland, as far as your personal information and opinion goes? Has English sympathy increased lately?"

"I believe most firmly that popular opinion in Great Britain is growing in our favor every day. I am frequently travelling in England and Scotland, and have correspondents in every city from Plymouth to Aberdeen, and I say without a moment's hesitation that the Home Rule cause is 25 per cent. more hopeful to-day than it was twelve months ago. Mr. Balfour's policy, much as he may laud it himself, has gained us a great proportion of this advance in our position, and every eviction he carries out and every leader he puts in prison will add a nail to the political coffin of his party at the next general election. If I did not believe this to be the case Mr. Balfour would experience a little more resistance to his policy in Ireland than is now being offered.

BLAKELEY HALL.

A CENTRAL BANK ECHO.

A Statement by Ex-Cashier Allan—Smash-up on the C.P.R.

TORONTO, June 12.—A bit of history in connection with the unsavory Central Bank proceedings now going on before the Master-in-Ordinary came to light yesterday afternoon. It was in the shape of an affidavit from Cashier Almer A. Allan, who is now domiciled at Minneapolis, Minn. It recites some very questionable transactions in the bank's overstocks, which Mr. Allan declares were negotiated at the instigation of the directors themselves to bull their own stock just before the bank collapsed.

Negotiations are on foot to build an uptown theatre. Carlton-street, near Yonge, has been selected as the most suitable quarter for locating it.

The members of the American Car Builders' Association passed through here yesterday from Chicago en route to the Thousand Islands.

THE FOREST CITY.

Two Privates at the London Military School Rob a Comrade.

LONDON, Ont., June 12.—Alfred Wheeler and John McNeil, two privates at the Military School, are missing, together with a watch and $4 belonging to Rolet Hueston, another soldier.

A ruffian entered the house of Mr. Ross on Myles-street on Saturday night or Sunday morning during the absence of Mr. Ross who is filling a position in the Military College, and attempted to outrage Mrs. Ross, who was in bed. He shocked the woman without mercy but was driven off before he could accomplish his purpose by some neighbors, who were alarmed by the little 12-year old son.

The general store and residence belonging to Mr. Sifton of Arva, was burned about 3 o'clock on Sunday morning.

THE PRAIRIE PROVINCE.

Railway Tenders and Construction—McLeish's Murderers.

WINNIPEG, June 12.—Three proposals have been received for the construction of the railway from Winnipeg to Portage.

Track laying on the Red River Valley Railroad commences next Monday from the south end.

Both Gaddy and Racette, the condemned murderers of McLeish, admit the crime for which they are to hang to-morrow. Racette wears an air of bravado, but Gaddy is completely broken down.

McGarigle, the Chicago boodler, is a partner in Dr. Brett's sanitarium at Banff.

White has been found guilty of offering money to a person to burn buildings at Portage-la-Prairie, and will besentenced to-day.

FELL OVER A CLIFF.

A Hamilton Boat Builder's Terrible Death—Struck by Lightning.

HAMILTON, June 12.—Boat Builder Matthew Thomson left his boat house intending to visit friends in the vicinity of the Valley Inn. His body was found early yesterday morning lying below the cliff near the Grand Trunk Railway track. Evidently he lost his way in the darkness and fell fifty feet over a cliff. An inquest was deemed unnecessary.

During the late storm lightning struck the tower on the new wing of the Hamilton Asylum, split the cornice and did about $200 worth of damage.

The Royal Scots' Trip to London.

MONTREAL, June 12.—The Royal Scots will leave for London, Ont., on Thursday afternoon per C.P.R., where an extensive program will be carried out. On Friday and Saturday evenings "Jessie Brown" will be given under the direction of Mr. Neil Warner. On Saturday the highland games take place, handsome prizes being offered for competition.

More Natural Gas at Collingwood.

COLLINGWOOD, June 12.—The Collingwood Rock Well Company's new shaft in the West Ward developed a strong flow of natural gas yesterday morning, greatly exceeding in power and volume that recently discovered in the East Ward. The flow commenced at a depth of 140 feet, and increases with each foot of boring.

Run Down by a Train.

FORT ERIE, June 12.—Henry Smith, aged 25, a resident of this place employed as a brakesman on the local train which runs to the Grove at Erie beach was attempting to make a coupling betwen the passenger coach and the tender when he was struck by the engine in backing down and instantly killed.

A Jockey's Death.

NEW YORK, June 12.—Chas. Cross, a jockey who was known as one of the best steeplechase riders in the country, died yesterday at the hospital of injuries received by a fall of the horse "Bob Mills" on which he was riding at Jerome Park on Saturday.

The New Canadian Loan.

LONDON, June 12.—The new Canadian loan is favorably viewed in the city. Yesterdays reports seem to leave no doubt that the issues will be successfully made. The scrip is already quoted at 2 to 1-2 premium

Drowned in the Canal.

THOROLD, June 12.—A 3-year-old son of Mr. Harry Carter, of this place, fell into the canal here yesterday and was drowned.

THE FISHERIES TREATY.

UNITED STATES SENATORS DISCUSSING ITS PROVISIONS.

Mr. Gray Speaks in Favor of its Ratification—An Interruption by the Virginia Tail-twister.

WASHINGTON, June 12.—In the Senate yesterday the resolution offered by Mr. Morgan last Thursday as to the Fisheries Treaty was taken up and went over till to-day, Mr. Morgan objecting to Mr. Sherman's suggestion to consider it adopted, as it had accomplished all that was intended by it.

On motion of Mr. Sherman the Senate proceeded to the consideration of the Fisheries Treaty in open executive session and was addressed by Mr. Gray in support of its ratification.

Mr. Riddleberger said that the treaty ought not to be ratified because it was a complete surrender of American manhood to Great Britain.

Mr. Gray said the treaty secured every right of American fishermen and left the tariff on fish where it ought to be left, as a subject to be dealt with by the legislative branch of Congress.

At the close of Mr. Gray's speech Mr. Hoar obtained the floor and further consideration of the treaty was, on motion of Mr. Sherman, postponed till Monday, June 25.

NOT FOR ROME.

Rev. Mr. Maturin Still a Member of the Established Church.

LONDON, June 12.—A few days ago a special cable despatch from New York announced that the Rev. Mr. Maturin, rector of the Episcopal Church of St. Clement, Philadelphia, had joined the Church of Rome. Hearing that he was in England, I visited the Society of St. John, in Crowley, not far from Oxford, where he was said to be a guest. St. John's is a small, unpretentious red brick building on the high road. Entering it I found the corridors and rooms filled with carvings and paintings illustrating ecclesiastical history. I was cordially received by the Rev. W. R. Benson, founder, and head of the society. His clean-shaven face, sedate expression and flowing black robe presented a rather mediæval clergical appearance.

"And so rumor has it that Father Maturin has gone over to Rome," he said, smilingly. "Well, your enterprising paper may contradict it. What's more, he has no idea of going over. He is simply in England on a six-months' holiday, and at the end of that time he will return. He came here for his holidays simply because this was his home before he went across the Atlantic. At present Mr. Maturin has left here on a visit to friends. We here belong to the Established Church, and are under the Bishop of Pennsylvania. It is true that we call each other 'father' here, and are perhaps somewhat ritualistic."

JAY GOULD AND FAMILY.

The Great Wall-street Financier In Feeble Health.

ST. LOUIS, June 12.—Jay Gould and party arrived here from the west and left shortly afterwards for Memphis. Mr. Gould is attended by his family physician, and appears to be in quite feeble health. While the party was at Winfield, Kansas, Eddie Gould while going from the depot to the hotel, fell into an excavation and had his right leg severely sprained, and received some bad bruises.

The U. S. Crop Prospects.

NEW YORK, June 12.—The crop report for June has been issued by the United States Board of Agriculture. In regard to wheat the report says:

"There was some reduction in seeding the winter wheat area in some states, though the average breadth of all was but slightly reduced. In the East and South there was no material loss of area from freezing, but in several Western States it was considerable. The apparent reduction of breadth of winter, as compared with that of last year, is about one and three-fourths millions of acres. The percentage of reduction for the entire winter wheat region is placed at 7.2 per cent. It is 18 in Illinois, 14 in Ohio, 10 in Michigan, and 9 in Indiana. This is in comparison with the reduced area harvested last year. There has been an increase of area of spring wheat in Dakota and the Territories further west, but a decrease in Iowa, Wisconsin and Minnesota, making an average decrease for the spring wheat region of 1 per cent. The area in wheat is apparently slightly below 36,000,000 acres. There is slight local change of condition of winter wheat, some improvement in New York and Pennsylvania, a marked decline in Missouri and minor changes of status elsewhere, making the average 73.3, against 73.1 in May. The loss by overflow of the Mississippi in Illinois offsets in part improvement in other countries. In Ohio, Indiana, Michigan, and Kansas the average condition is nearly the same as in May.

A Minister's Fall From Grace.

ST. LOUIS, June 12.—Father James J. Boyle, in charge of a parish in Winchester Ill., is locked up at police headquarters for creating a disturbance in a disorderly house kept by Mamie Rogers. She claims tha the struck her in the face and threatened to shoot her. Boyle admits that he was drunk and had visited several saloons before he visited the Rogers house, but denies having struck the woman or threatened her and claims that he called on the woman to obtain some letters he had written to her months ago in an effort to reform her.

Killed in Childish Play.

OSWEGO, June 12.—Frank Donohue, aged 10 years, was shot and killed by Lewis Clarke, Central-square, this county, while playing "old bear." Young Clarke took his brother's gun to hunt Donohue, who was the "old bear," and by mistake put in a loaded shell.

SIR CHARLES' OFFER.

THE following misrepresentation, first published in the Kingston Whig, is going the rounds of the Liberal papers:—

"The Empire is getting reckless. it declares that not a single Conservative utterance can be found in favor of unrestricted reciprocity. What about Sir Charles Tupper? Did he not write a glowing communication to the Secretary of State anent the commercial relations of the two countries, and did he not say of the reciprocity alluded to by him that he 'intended it to be unrestricted?' Is Sir Charles not a good Conservative?"

The Whig has got things terribly mixed. When Sir Charles Tupper used the expression that he "intended it to be unrestricted" he was not referring to any glowing communication to Mr. Bayard or any other kind of a communication to that gentleman. And did he not "say of the reciprocity [alluded to by him that he intended it to be unrestricted." What Sir Charles alluded to was a formal proposal made by the British Commissioners at Washington to the United States Commissioners.

Now, it must be known that Sir Charles did not propose unrestricted reciprocity. He did not make a proposal for such an arrangement and never said he did. He did make an offer to settle the fisheries difficulty on the basis of "freer commercial relations," and that offer was not restricted by any details. If the United States Commissioners had been willing to treat on that basis, they would have said so, and the Commission would then have settled down to see how far in the direction of freer commercial relations Mr. Bayard and his colleagues were desirous of going and to what extent Sir Charles and the other British Commissioners would go. But the United States Commissioners refused to consider commercial relations and no further action could be taken on Sir Charles' proposal.

The proposal was far from being an offer of unrestricted reciprocity. If two farmers had a dispute regarding an account, and one said to the other "Let us settle it by a trade in cattle," would the Whig hold that he would be bound to exchange all the stock he had on his farm?

Further, Sir Charles Tupper declared unrestricted reciprocity to be "a wild chimera," and gave no encouragement to those who were advocating the scheme. He was opposed to it—though he still favored freer commercial relations. There were freer commercial relations between the United States and Canada at the time of the reciprocity treaty, but it was not unrestricted reciprocity or commercial union.

COMPLAINTS are made that fees are collected for using the bridges and works in the Queen Victoria Niagara Falls Park while the United States park is free. But the complainants forget the advantage the Canadian park has in the length of its name.

THE Mail adopts the argument that the United States should admit Canadian lumber free in order to conserve the forests of that country. Would not the same argument applied to Canada show a need for an export duty in order to conserve our forests?

Right now is the time to use a good Blood Purifying Medicine. Lose no time in getting a bottle of Dr. Carson's Stomach Bitters. It will do you good. Sold by all Druggists.

FINED FIFTY.

The Young Men who Raised the Row on Saturday Night Pay for It.

The police court this morning was crowded to hear the trial of Michael Shanahan and Dennis Hoban, the two young men from the country who were engaged for some time on Saturday evening in endeavoring to exterminate the town.

Mr. R. E. Wood, County Attorney, appeared for the prosecution and Mr. W. A. Stratton for the defence. The prisoners, who had been in gaol since Saturday night, pleaded guilty.

Chief Roszel, Officer McGinty, Messrs. R. Graham, John Sawers and a cadet of the Salvation Army were sworn. The evidence went to show that the prisoners drove up George and along Hunter-sts at a furious rate, that they were drunk and that they created a disturbance by endeavoring to break the ranks of the Salvation Army and driving on the sidewalks. The chief also produced in court a number of stones found in the buggy and one found in Shannahan's pocket. The Magistrate, beside whom sat Mayor Stevenson, said he would impose a light fine, and as an evidence of good faith he remarked that the young gentlemen should contribute $25 and costs each. He afterwards relented and marked out the words "and costs," and made it the even half century. The money was paid.

FOR LARCENY.

Young Charley Butterworth again occupied a seat in the place reserved for prisoners. In reply to questions by the Police Magistrate, the lad said that previous to coming to Peterborough he had worked at the Tecumseh and Grigg houses, at London, as a bell boy. He was brought out by Miss Macpherson and denied that he had ever been in trouble before. He was remanded for a week until inquiries are made concerning him and his antecedents.

SCOTT ACT.

The enlarged Scott Act case against Mrs. James Condon was next disposed of. Mr. G. T. Leonard for the defence claimed that the case had lapsed owing to the fact that it had been adjourned by the Mayor whom it was claimed had no right to act in the absence of the Magistrate. The P.M. overruled the objection and a witness was called. He swore that between the dates charged he had bought and paid for ordinary malt beer. A fine of $50 and costs was imposed.

Half an Hour with Us and our Girls.

The following is a report of an address delivered by Miss Camilla Sanderson at the Y.W.C.T.U. concert on Saturday night:—

MADAM PRESIDENT, LADIES and GENTLEMEN,—When I invite you to spend half an hour with "us and our girls," I beg you to believe that I have no ulterior motive in the way of a monied appeal looming up in the background like a gloomy shadow to frighten away the gentle spirit of your sympathy. I simply want to tell you a few facts which shall make you feel that we and our girls, but especially our girls, are worthy your kindly interest and attention. Our work is begun and continued on strict temperance principles, and here we claim fellowship with our co-workers the "Y's," under whose genial auspices we meet tonight.

Madam President, if you favor us with a call at "Hazel Brae" and bring these kind friends with you, our Lady Superintendent will be charmed to show you the various rooms and appliances for work within the house, and our pleasant garden and grounds now radiant in the blooming freshness and beauty of early summer. The "Brae" is a lovely spot, and many a lonely hearted lassie will have life long reason to bless our dear friends, Mr. and Mrs. Cox, for their generous provision of a true home for them on this side the Atlantic. I am reminded here of the remark of a warm hearted Irish lady who heard of Mrs. Cox's intention about 5 years ago, and said, "Ah, the dear Lord knew what He was about when he put money into Geo. A. Cox's hands."

As I have said, "Hazel Brae" is lovely, but it is not there that the true beauty of this blessed work lies—a work in which not simply my pen, but my head and heart and both hands are engaged. But just here let me say a word in reply to a question which has been put to me again and again since my connection with Dr. Barnardo's work began. "Why are you not working for poor Canadian children instead of English?" I am Irishwoman enough to answer, "Why do I not attempt to fly?" Have I not thought of Canada's waifs and strays till my brain was weary, and my eyes wet with unshed tears. I fain would fly, but alas, I have no wings. When Canadians say to me, "Here is a home to shelter our homeless ones, and here are funds to feed and clothe and educate them, are you ready to help carry on the work?" My answer will be, "Here am I, send me." Let me clear another point here. Canadians are not supporting our children. I can count on my fingers all the donations over $20.00 that have been given in 4 years. In that time we have spent, I should say, on an average $1,500.00 per year in this town. Some one has said, "Nothing is so successful as success." On that ground alone we may commend our work to your favorable notice. Let me introduce you to a few of our lassies who have been out for 4 or 5 years, and have learned to love their adopted country, though they never cease to long for a visit home.

Lizzie Colton came in June, 1883, and was placed in a good farm home north of Toronto. There have been no complaints against Lizzie, who has been with the family as one of themselves, sharing their sorrows as well as their pleasures, and helping to bear all the burdens of care and trial that the years have brought. The farmer has retired and now lives in the city, and Lizzie, at advanced wages, remains with them trusted and respected. She has visited the "Home," and we felt truly proud of her in every respect.

Jennie Gray, a little maiden of nine, who came out at the same time, was adopted by a farmer away up near Georgian Bay. It is over three years now since I visited Jennie in her pleasant home where quiet comfort and happy contentment seemed to reign. Jennie could not be coaxed away, and the good mother declared she could never let her go.

"Dottie" Bard, another of our 1883 party, was allowed to go with her adopted friends to the far Northwest, from which she writes most readable letters about the prairie flowers and the delights of summer rambles. The good minister with whom she dwells writes us that "Dottie" is as "honest as the day," very truthful, and as pure-minded and innocent-hearted at 16 as it is possible for a girl to be.

Annie Pane, one of that June party, was induced this spring to change her name. When she wrote me about this happy event, she said: "I know I am very young (she is not yet 18) but then my husband is so very good that he will help to keep me right." The clergyman writes us that the young husband is steady and industrious and has saved money. Annie is hardworking and very goodnatured, so we hope much for the future.

Now, I must tell you of some of those who came over in the good ship Peruvian with Mr. and Mrs. Duff and myself in 1884. There were two very delicate looking little girls of 9 and 5 years, with dark hair and big mournful brown eyes. The little one had such a specially pathetic look, you felt sure she had already learned much of life's lesson of suffering. For weeks and months we feared the change of climate would prove too much for the frail little creature; but with care she rallied, and by and bye her face grew less and less sad. You may fancy—the mother had died broken hearted because of her husband's brutal treatment, and this baby, frail as she was, had borne her father's drunken abuse until all the joy seemed crushed out of her life. In the spring of 1885 a gentleman, from whose home the "one ewe lamb" had been taken by the Good Shepherd to roam amid the green pastures of the upper fold, applied for a little girl, and finally came to see if our choice for him would suit. The decision was, "It's all right, I would have chosen her myself among 500." I have been twice in that home, and I may tell you that love and care had wrought such changes I did not know our pet. She is now a bonny, bright-eyed little maid, [illegible] and sunshine of that childless home. The older sister was also adopted, and has greatly endeared herself to her new friends. No doubt I should weary you if I went on to tell of Jane and Mary and Bertha and Pollie and Nora and Anne and a host of others, whose faces and interests are very dear to us, whose early years were clouded by sorrow and privation, but whose sky at present is flooded with the sunlight of Christian love. Our health record is wonderful. We have nearly 600 girls in Canada. Of that number just one has died in five years. We have sent 4 back to England because of feeble health, 2 because of mental weakness, 3 for sad wrong-doing and 1 because of her temper, which made her changes of place frequent and expensive. A few of our older girls are out at wages ranging from $7 to $14 a month, and are doing so well that applications are pouring in from all directions.

In conclusion let me bespeak a kindlier sympathy with our work at "Hazel Brae." You do your own intelligence a grave injustice by accepting and acting upon the vulgar prejudice which places our girls below the rank of respectable citizenship. Is it wicked to be poor? Is it a crime to be an orphan, too young to work and with no friends to help? Surely in this fair Canada of ours, I have somewhere heard a whisper of freedom from such injustice! Surely beneath the broad arch of our clear blue sky there are happy homes and kindly Christian hearts where larger and warmer welcome meets the greater need. Let me close by giving you 4 short chapters in the life of a little rescued one in the Ilford "Home," who was known throughout England as "The Fire Baby."

CHAP. I.

Chilly and bleak were the winds without;
Reeking with smoke and the fumes of gin,
Wretched and cold was the room within,
As with muttered curse and a drunken shout,
A woman, deep branded with marks of sin,
Pushed the door open and staggered in.

Others were there with the awful blight
Plain on their foreheads for all to see,
They had eaten the fruit of the evil tree
Of vicious knowledge, till truth's clear light
Seemed quenched for aye in the deep black sea
Of fallen woman's impurity.

These greeted the comer with curse like her own,
And angry answers grew strong and high,
Ere she took from a bundle of rags near by
A small starved baby whose ceaseless moan,
Pleaded for food from a fount that was dry,
Till maddened by drink and its wailing cry

She seized and threw it from off the bed
On the smouldering coals in the blackened grate,
With an oath that breathed out her bitter hate—
"I may as well finish you now," she said,
And cursed again as her horrified mate
Rescued the babe from its terrible fate.

Again with a cruel and fiendish yell
Was the child thrown back on the smouldering fire,
That only smoked as in sullen ire;
Again it was caught as it shrieking fell,
By a woman deep sunk in the awful mire
Made gentle for once by a kind desire.

With another demoniac fiowl and cry,
The babe, grown still in its fear and pain,
Was flung on the smoaking coals again.
They dared not burn, for the shuddering sky
Poured forth its grief in a torrent of rain,
That saved a black soul from a blacker stain.

The wretched mother ere long was tried,
But the count for intent to kill fell through,
"I never meant such a deed to do,
My baby was hurt in the fight," she cried—
But, "assault with most grievous harm," held true.
And to prison she went, with the pity of few.

CHAP. II.

Through prison windows the sunlight crept
In quivering streaks on the hard, dark floor,
Like the faint, sad smiles that your talk beguiles
Into eyes with the teardrops brimming o'er.

It crept so slowly between the bars,
As if 'twas a venture to shine at all,
And it never dare chase with a merry grace
The strange dim shadows around the wall.

And here they brought her, the nameless waif,
To be baptized in her mother's cell,—
For her low, sad cries and her sweet blue eyes
We called her Patience, it crowned her well.

The chaplain prayed for the wee white thing,
And blessed her truly, as if her right
To a name and place mid the heirs of grace,
Was perfect and clear in heavenly sight.

I ween 'twas a picture strange to see,
A scene for an artist's hand to trace,—
The cheerless room in the lingering gloom
That the sunlight had no power to chase.

The chaplain, nurse, and the baby's friend,
Taking their part in the service sweet.
The mother, a woman by drink made inhuman,
The baby, a snowdrop picked up off the street.

I think that the sunbeams would bear it back
In lines of light to the western skies,
And pencil it there in colors most fair
On the heavenward side for the angels' eyes.

CHAP. III.

The months sped on and this poor rescued dove,
Saved by such means from such a cruel death,
Found loving shelter in a Cottage Home.—
At first betimes, within her baby eyes,
A look of terror, pitiful to see,
Would spring up suddenly as if her thought
Flew back to scenes of horror she had known.
But lured by love's own winsome witchery,
The pale lips learned one bright spring to smile.
A few more lessons and the eyes sad blue,
Grew radiant with the light of baby glee;
And soon, though watchful still, we ceased to fear
Her young life's thread would prove to frail to hold;
For baby Patience, petted and caressed,
Her gentle "Cottage Mother's" pride and joy,
Grew bright and bonny with her pretty wiles,
And built her own soft nest in love's sweet bower.

CHAP. IV.

The months flew on and baby Patience grew—
The fairest blossom in the "Village Home,"
The special property and pride of all.
But one dark day death drew his mighty bow
And shot an arrow down the village street.
None marked his aim or noted where it fell,
But from that hour the fair head drooped and drooped
And the soft cheek pinched and thin and wan,
But from the pretty blue of those dear eyes
Love's winsome light shone to the very last.
Her little hands would toss about in pain,
Then fold the fingers quietly for prayer;
And soft across the stillness of the room,
The whisper, "Mamma, Patience peak to God,"
Soon came the rustle of an angel's wings,
And far away beyond love's anxious gaze,
And far beyond the prison bars and gloom,
The mother's sin and life's dark mystery;
Beyond the love that would have sheltered her.
Our sweet dove flew and found within the gates,
Her spirit's home in Jesu's loving arms.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria,
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria,
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria,
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria,

GOUGH BROTHERS

On the Trail of tottering houses that require Money.

A WHOLESALE STOCK OF CLOTHING BOUGHT AT 52½ CENTS ON THE DOLLAR,

Comprising over 1200 Suits of Men's, Youths' and Boys' Clothing, and 800 pairs of Pants, extra. GOUGHS have secured this splendid Bargain Line and commenced a Grand Fitting-out Sale on Thursday morning.

MEASURES FOR THE MEN.

Read our champion offer, and don't try to duplicate it, for it can't be done.

We offer a man's Suit for $2.50 that cost $4.78 wholesale.

We offer splendid fitting Suits, and in 150 different patterns, at $5.00 easily worth $7.25 wholesale. These Suits, if sold in the regular retail way would bring $9.00.

OUR GREAT BIG PLUM in Men's Clothing, comprising 633 suits, regular wholesale price $17.50, and we are turning them out for $9.00. The cloth alone is worth more than we are asking for the whole suit complete.

Look them all through and then come to us, and if we fail to convince the most skeptical that our Stock is not at least five times larger and our prices 50 per cent. lower than those of any other dealer, we will give a whole outfit free.

WHAT WE SAY ABOUT THESE GOODS.

One man's extremity is another man's opportunity. Our grip on the market has brought this bargain to our counters. We want the public to know just what we offer. When we say the goods are bargains they are positive. When we say no such a pic-nic was ever before offered we have the goods to back up the statement. We nail the flag of cheap and good Clothing, of brilliant sparkling bargains to the mast and defy any clothier on earth to lower our colors.

OUR PLAN TO HELP YOU HERE.

We want everyone to come and see what we are doing. Drive in if you can. Come by water, by stage or on foot, for there's money for you in the expedition. That there shall be no excuse, we will pay the railroad fare of any passenger, within a radius of fifty miles, who comes to our sale and buys $10.00 worth of goods or upwards.

BOUNCING BARGAINS FOR BOYS.

An honest statement always carries weight; can you believe one when you hear it? In black and white we tell you what we are doing in Boys' Clothing.

A Dandy Suit for the boy, and mind you, only 58 cts. People often run away with the idea that a cheap line is only advertised for a bait, and that when they come around say the boy is too big for the clothes and try to sell something else. This is not our style (we leave that for others to do). Don't be afraid to ask for these suits. Our salesmen won't tell you that the Proprietor is out and that they can't find them. We have lots of Boys' Suits at 58 cts. and while they last the public will get them, and though they are worth $1.00 wholesale we can sell them for 58 cts. and make a good living profit.

See our Boys' suits at $1.25, $1.75 $2.50 and upwards. The cheapest are good and the best are better.

HOUSEFURNISHINGS.

At this season many Housekeepers are replenishing their supplies of Tableware and China. City folk are furnishing summer cottages; country folk are filling up the dressers and cupboards of the old homestead; town's folk are picking and choosing here and there. Many would be glad to know of a place whose special business is to meet these wants and desires; that aims to furnish essentially good wares at consistently low prices; that offers the choice of many different dinner services, and yet does not compel you to take an entire set of any pattern, but allow you to select each course of a new design, or buy any portion of the set you may need; that does not try to impose ideas or wares upon purchasers, and yet is ready to advise which of the many wares is most desirable and suitable; and, if wished, will make a careful selection of pattern. When you want Tablewear will you give us the opportunity to serve you.

Framed.

The coat of arms at the Council Chamber has been enclosed in a handsome brass frame. The fact that the picture came from Port Hope, may probably account for the fact that the artist was a little out on spelling. He spells it "Mal-Y-Pese."

Nearly Drowned.

A small boy named Trotter fell in the creek near Halpin's blacksmith shop, on Monday evening, and had a very narrow escape from drowning. He was rescued by his mother who waded in and pulled the youngster out just in time to save his life. Another minute or two and we would be called on to record the first drowning accident of the season.

We aim to make our reputation of the Pantry permanent by selling at figures that clinch the argument every time.

Bad Milk.

President McCargar, of the Eastern Ontario Dairymens' Association, is after the farmers who supply adulterated milk to the cheese factories, and he intends to give them all the full benefit of the law too. One of the Inspectors recently caught a wealthy farmer in this county in the act and he has been summoned to appear before Police Magistrate Edmison, two weeks from to-day.

Muscular Christianity.

On Sunday night the Rev. John Farncomb, Incumbent of St. John's Church, Lakefield, was returning from Warsaw at the time the fire broke out in the lumber yard. He drove to his stable and put in his horse, and hurried past the open church door, without noticing that people were waiting there for the service, and rushed to the fire, where he took off his coat and went to work. The people who had gathered at the church took in the situation and followed their parson.

For Councillor.

Just as the town clock struck twelve times at noon to-day, Deputy Returning Officer Charles Cameron arose at the old Music Hall, hushed the noise of the Belleville and other cheese buyers, and read instructions from the Mayor directing him to hold a nomination for a councillor to succeed Mr. Andrew McNeil, resigned, as a representative of Number Two Ward. He had hardly finished reading when Mr. W. Paterson, jr., arose and said that he had much pleasure, etc., in nominating Mr. Edward Harry Douglas Hall, for the vacant office. Mr. Henry Rush was also on hand and in the usual form he seconded the motion. Mr. Cameron then rested on his oars for one full hour, while the cheese men had the floor, and as no other gentleman was nominated, the returning officer declared Mr. Hall duly elected by acclamation, and the proceedings terminated. It certainly speaks highly for Mr. Hall, that the "commercial" ward allowed him to go in unopposed, and we have no doubt that he will fill the position with ability and give general satisfaction.

The tickets are good for two days, but the majority of those who went up are expected home to-night.

Look For Them.

The large posters giving full particulars regarding the grand Dominion Day celebration will be out in a few days and the public are respectfully invited to wait for them before making engagements. The features will be novel and taking, such as physioge, a dear hunt, horse races, a fox hunt, athelotic sports, band concerts, a baloon ascention and numerous other attractions. The work is under the superintendence of old and competent hands and a gigantic affair may be looked for. Remember the date, July 2nd, at the driving park.

this Evening

Fritz—Our German Cousin.

On Monday evening, June 18th, the celebrated comedian and vocalist Mr. J. K. Emmet will appear at the Opera House, Peterborough, in his new comedy, "Fritz—Our German Cousin." The performance has met with almost universal approval wherever presented. In this regard the Cincinnati Enquirer says:—"The Grand contained a very large audience last evening—about the largest one of the present season—and it was a very enthusiastic one before the evening was very long. The play of Fritz suggests the chestnut; but it is only in name, as the play has been rewritten and overhauled, and is now by far the best play that Mr. Emmet has ever owned. The plot is of interest, though not a deep one, and many of the lines are of worth. The scenery is very good, all of the sets making pretty pictures, and it was painted expressly for this tour. Last evening Mr. Emmet appeared to better advantage than he has before in years to Cincinnati audiences. He seems his old-time self." 1d137

Lacrosse.

The Y. M. C. A. and Ætna Lacrosse clubs played a match on Monday evening, on the P. A. A. A. grounds. There was but a small attendance. The playing all round was very fair. The first game was won for the Y. M. C. A. team in about one minute. Play was at once resumed and after forty-five minutes had passed the Ætnas claimed a goal, but the umpire refused to allow it, and as darkness was rapidly coming on further play was abandoned. The teams were as follows:—

Y. M. C. A.		ÆTNAS.
Manning	Goal	K. Kincaid.
Hendricks	Point	Cronin.
Connal	Cover Point	S. Weir.
Henderson	1st Defence	Sanderson.

THE CHEESE MARKET.

Warminster Brings 9 1-8 and the Rest of the Board Sells at 8 3-4.

The regular fortnightly meeting of the Peterborough and Victoria cheese board was held at the old Music Hall this morning. President Drummond occupied the chair and there was a good attendance of salesmen.

The Liverpool quotation was 44s. 6d.

The buyers present were Messrs. Cook, Bird, Warrington, McCargar, Stewart, of Belleville; Wrighton, Cluxton and Fitzgerald, Peterborough; and Flavelle and Leary, Lindsay.

The cheese boarded were as follows:

PETERBOROUGH SECTION.

Factory.	No. of Boxes.
Glenthorn	99
Keene	182
Warminster	175
Lakefield	118
Shearer	169
North Smith	150
Central Smith	80
Cherry Grove	90
Warsaw	75
Westwood	134
Norwood	150
Melrose Abbey	56
South Dummer	120
Myrtle	25
Pine Grove	90
Otonabee Union	28
O. Lake	25
Benston	25
Lily Lake	20
Total	1,741

VICTORIA SECTION.

Mariposa	55
Cambray	50
Downeyville	68
Bobcaygeon	100
Fenelon Falls	46
Reaboro	25
Star	56
Total	419
	1,741
Grand total	2,160

Owing to the fact that the Lindsay men were not on hand at the opening, proceedings were somewhat delayed.

When 12.30 arrived the only offers made were 8 and 8¼ cents for the whole board. One of the Belleville buyers then arose and asked that the factories be called off, in accordance with a resolution passed at the last meeting of the board. Mr. Flavelle and other buyers entered a vigorous protest claiming that no such motion was carried. The secretary settled matters by stating that no motion regarding the matter was ever put or carried, but that some verbal understanding to that effect had been arrived at.

Cook bid 8, Bird followed with 8¼, Leary offered 8¼. Bird offered 8¾ for the Peterborough section, but afterwards amended it by offering the same figure for all the cheese boarded. Flavelle said he would pay 8¾ for selections and he chose the Warminster factory only. Bird went him one better and made it 9. Flavelle could not be bluffed and he fixed the figure at 9⅛, at which price the sale was made. The other factories all sold at 8¾ to Bird.

The meeting then adjourned for two weeks, it being understood that Thursday next would be shipping day.

THE BAY CONFERENCE.

The Ordination of Ministers at Lindsay—Other Services.

LINDSAY, June 11th.—The Sunday services began with a prayer meeting at six o'clock a.m., a time of power and rich influence. At 9.30 the Love Feast began, being led by the Rev. J. C. Wilson, of Ashburnham. After the tokens of unity and friendship were partaken of the meeting was opened for testimonies. A great number availed themselves of the opportunity. Missionary hymns were sung soon after the regular service began.

ORDINATION SERVICE.

At the opening, the whole vast audience, numbering nearly 1600, rose and pealed forth "Praise God from whom all blessings flow." The effect was fine. After the opening services, Rev. E. A. Stafford, of the Metropolitan, Toronto, preached a grand sermon from Mark 12, 37.—"The common people heard him gladly." The preacher explained the meaning of the text and the classes of people in Palestine. Concluding the sermon, he said not to preach a theology to people not finding a response in the human heart. Personal religion is given of God to the individual. The church is made up of those saved from their degradation, ruin, misery. "Let the man up," cried the preacher "Amen," respond the congregation, "Save the Man." Again "Amen," rings out the congregation. In a noble peroration he exorted the young men to live for this glorious end. The sermon was a masterly effort, holding the close attention to the end.

The President of Conference then proceeded with the solemn and affection ordination service, George H. Raley and Samuel J. Thompson were by the imposition of hands and the word of prayer set apart for the office and work of ministry of the Gospel, and given authority to dispense the sacraments and preach the word of God.

AFTERNOON SERVICE.

In the afternoon an interesting Sabbath School service was held, addressed by Mr. Wm. Johnston, of Belleville, and Rev. J. F. Ockley, of Picton. The children of Lindsay Sabbath School and a large congregation were present.

At 4 p. m. the annual temperance meeting was held, addressed by Revs. H. Allin and J. C. Ash. Not a very enthusiastic meeting.

At the Y. M. C. A. rooms Rev. J. C. Bell and Rev. Jos. Young addressed a large audience of very interested young men.

In the evening Rev. John Leroyd preached in the evening from Col. IV., 5, "Walk in wisdom toward them that are without." The sermon was thoughtful, practical and eloquent. At the close a successful evangelistic service was held, conducted by the Conference evangelists, Messrs. Croosaly and Dewey.

COUNTY COURT.

Only Two Civil and no Criminal Cases on the Docket.

The regular half-yearly County Court opened this afternoon before His Honor Judge Weller. The docket was exceedingly light, there being but two civil and no criminal cases on the docket.

THE GRAND JURY.

The following gentlemen composed the Grand Jury:

R. B. Lundy, Foreman.
R. Batten,	F. Lillicrap,
J. Brumwell,	W. H. Manning,
J. S. Christie,	Thos. Mather,
Silas Cox,	John McIntosh,
John Dixon,	W. H. Minaker,
Henry Edwards,	Joseph Mills,
R. Ferguson,	H. Moore,
Isaac Garbutt,	A. St. A. Smith,
Wm. A. Hall,	R. Stockdale,
Joseph Harvey,	John Trennum,
John Henderson,	Robert Wilmore,

Stewart Wright.

THE CHARGE.

The Judge in charging the jury referred to the lightness of the calendar and the fact that there were no criminal cases for trial, and in doing so he congratulated the county upon its freedom from crime. He regretted that lunatics and idiots were confined in the gaol, as he did not think such a place was fitted for these unfortunates. He found that a prisoner was confined for a breach of the Scott Act and he took occasion to say that it was enforced in a very lax manner, but whether the fault lay with the act itself or with the officials charged with its enforcement, he was not prepared to say. In conclusion he told the jury that they might visit the gaol and report upon its condition, if they saw fit to do so.

The jury then retired.

THE DOCKET.

GRACE V. SILVESTER.—A case from Lindsay, regarding the payment of rent, adjourned until the next court.—R. E. Wood, counsel, and N. A. McMurchy, solicitor for plaintiff. O'Leary and O'Leary for defendant.

HARTLEY V. MUNCASTER.—A suit to recover rent for a dwelling. The case was in progress as we went to press. A. P. Poussette, Q. C., for plaintiff. Edmison for defence.

Shipments.

Messrs. Porter Bros on Monday shipped to Montreal thirty of their celebrated O. B. and S. road carts. They also shipped on the same day one of their Timpken top buggies to a gentleman in Brantford.

Brevities.

—Alderman Harry Winch has a fine young colt by "Bookmaker."

—The railway graders are now working at Smith-st. and will soon cross it.

—A young girl was arrested by the chief this afternoon, on a charge of larceny for stealing a bracket.

—The "Balmoral" Hotel, opposite the market, is in running order and "Ted" will occupy it in a day or two.

—Work on the C.L.B.R. is suspended south of Smith-st., until some arrangement is made with a property owner in that locality.

—The chief produced in court this morning a large package of stones found in the rig and pockets of the men arrested on Saturday night for furious driving.

—Messrs. A. McNeil, M. D. Fanning, T. Hooper and T. Rutherford, the delegates to the High Court of Foresters at Hamilton, left this morning on the C. P. R.

WEATHER NOTES.—May is again, with its flowers and frost, storms and sunshine, a thing of the past. On the morning of the first it was ushered in with dashes of snow, and we had snow again on the 15th, which we put down as the last of the season. Our coldest morning was on the 3rd, the thermometer standing at 25 degrees, and on five other mornings. The warmest was 60 degrees. Our hottest days in the shade between 1 and 3 p.m. were on the 22nd and 23rd, but only 84 degrees, being low, leaving the mean temperature of the month at 49 27-31 degrees. Rain fell on 11 days to the depth of 1 inch and 44-100 of an inch. There was sharp frost on 4 mornings, that on the 17th being the severest, ice forming the thickness of a quarter dollar. We had thunder on two nights, but very little rain, and fog on the 27th. The following are the different points from which this wind was blowing at sunrise during the month, viz:—East, 3 days; north-east, 1 day; north, 4 days; south-east, 8 days; west, 4 days; south-west, 3 days; south, 2 days, and north-west, 6 days.

OUR INDUSTRY.—Myrtle cheese factory is again in full operation under the able management of Mr. W. Cribbin and no doubt will attain the position it has formerly occupied in turning out a first class article.

Band Concert.

The Fire Brigade Band gave another of their popular open air concerts in the Horticultural Park last night and they were, of course, greeted with a crowded "house." The air was chilly but nevertheless the audience appreciated the music as much as ever.

AGAIN, CLOTHING!

Fathers and Sons are alike interested in the subject of New Clothes, and the approach of summer hastens preparations for bodily comfort.

Our stock of Cloths affords scope for gratifying any fancy, as to fabrics, color or price. We have some especially neat things in Scotch and Canadian Tweeds.

Our suit stock defies description. Such variety in pattern and cut as we offer includes every one's want—man or boy. Prices high enough to ensure trusty clothes, low enough to meet all requirements.

Where else do you find better proposals?

Bricklayers' and Masons' Union

No. 12, Peterborough.

To the Architects and Builders of the Town of Peterborough.

GENTLEMEN.—The members of the Bricklayers' and Masons' Union, No. 12, Peterborough, have decided to take no sub-contracts after the 1st day of June, 1888. We take this step, believing it to be to the interest of Architects and Proprietors of buildings, to deal directly with us, and not, as heretofore, letting our branch of work to Carpenters, and then have them sub-let it to us, frequently at a loss to owners of buildings through inferior material being used to secure the carpenter a profit. We therefore consider it would be to the interest of all concerned, to have each trade control its own line of work.

Signed on behalf of the Union,

"Did n't Know 't was Loaded"

May do for a stupid boy's excuse; but what can be said for the parent who sees his child languishing daily and fails to recognize the want of a tonic and blood-purifier? Formerly, a course of bitters, or sulphur and molasses, was the rule in well-regulated families; but now all intelligent households keep Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which is at once pleasant to the taste, and the most searching and effective blood medicine ever discovered.

Nathan S. Cleveland, 27 E. Canton st., Boston, writes: "My daughter, now 2 years old, was in perfect health until a year ago when she began to complain of fatigue, headache, debility, dizziness, indigestion, and loss of appetite. I concluded that all her complaints originated in impure blood, and induced her to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This medicine soon restored her blood-making organs to healthy action, and in due time re-established her former health. I find Ayer's Sarsaparilla a most valuable remedy for the lassitude and debility incident to spring-time."

J. Castright, Brooklyn Power Co., Brooklyn, N. Y., says: "As a Spring Medicine, I find a splendid substitute for the old-time compounds in Ayer's Sarsaparilla, with a few doses of Ayer's Pills. After their use, I feel fresher and stronger to go through the summer."

MONA'S CHOICE.

BY MRS. ALEXANDER.

"Thank you, dear uncle, you are very good! Now you must get to sleep. I have lighted a night-light, and my room is next yours. If you will knock at the door, I will come to you."

They obtained an early start next morning, and the journey was tedious. Uncle Sandy bemoaned the heat, the cost, the weariness of travel; and his niece was truly glad when they reached a shabby little station in a rather flat but prettily wooded country, and everyone got out.

"It ought to be a wonderfu' cure to come this weary long road for it!" groaned Uncle Sandy, as he descended from their conveyance when it stopped before the entrance of the etablissement.

Then came the business of finding rooms and arranging terms. This was simplified by a letter of introduction obtained by Mme. Debrisay from a mutual friend, to M. le Directeur, who speedily came to them, and, to Mr. Craig's infinite joy, proved to be an excellent English scholar. Mona thought her uncle would have embraced him when he addressed them in their native tongue.

The next day saw Uncle Sandy duly inaugurated into the system of water-drinking, douches, and massage.

Occasionally Mona enjoyed a game of tennis, as an English family, consisting of father, mother, two daughters, and a hobbledehoy son, made very friendly advances, and frequently invited her to join them when they played.

The father, a stout, red-faced sufferer from gout, made friends with uncle Sandy, and many were their arguments, as Mr. Clapton was a strong Conservative, and his wife a dame of the Primrose League, while Mr. Craig was an advanced Libeal, not to say a Radical of the most virulent description. This little excitement largely helped the cure, and Uncle Sandy was reluctantly obliged to admit that he felt considerably better.

"How well mademoiselle your niece plays the tenis!" said M. le Directeur, taking his seat on the bench where Uncle Sandy and Mr. Clapton had already placed themselves under the shade of some trees, and in view of the tennis courts. "Do not derange yourselves, gentleman, I pray you!" he continued. "I like to look at Mees Craig, her attitudes are so graceful. She seems like the spirit of the game, yet she is so quiet and posee, and gentle at other times. Truly she is a young girl to be proud of, and I make you my compliments." He bowed low to her uncle, while Mr. Clapton indorsed the eulogium by a short emphatic "Deuced fine girl, 'pon my soul."

The heart of Alexander Craig swelled within him. Perhaps of all the ingredients in his character, pride contributed the largest share, and that pride had been sorely let and hindered all the years of his youth. He would have been completely soured by this constant repression, but for his devout belief in himself. To find that anyone belonging to him should call forth the praise and admiration of the beholders, was a source of delicious gratification, and Mona's merits assumed larger proportions in his eyes as M. le Directeur spoke.

"Eh! she's a good lassie. She is my puir brother's only child, and I look on her as my ain bairn, as she'll find when I am released from the sufferings of this mortal life."

"I expect some very distinguished compatriots of yours," said M. le Directeur, "the Lord Fitzallan, and a companion arrive to-morrow, and Sir William 'Arty—I think he has been lord mayor, a man of high position—he and miladi, his wife, they come to-morrow. It is well that the tennis lawn looks bright, your energetic English, you love games to the last."

"Fitzallan!" repeated Mr. Craig. "I know!—he is my tenant; he has had my house in the Highlands for a conseederable time."

"Indeed!" said both hearers.

And from that moment Uncle Sandy was raised to the rank of a millionaire.

The set was now over, and Mona's side had lost, in spite of her good play. The hour for Uncle Sandy's afternoon walk in the adjoining wood was at hand, so he beckoned her to him, not a little delighted to exercise overtly a father's rights over an elegant-looking girl, who bore the unmistakable stamp of "the Upper Ten"—a class against which he raved theoretically.

"Ah!" said he, as he toddled (a common expression, but extremely expressive of Uncle Sandy's peculiar gait) along, with the help of a stick and an umbrella, beside his niece; "the director has been telling me there are some grand folk coming to-morrow; then you'll see how little time and attention he'll be able to spare for such as you and me!"

"I have been greatly mistaken in Monsieur Delorme, if their presence makes any difference to him," she returned.

"Weel, you'll see; young things like you think everyone is an angel that speaks a kind word. When my leddy mayoress arrives, the roses and posies he has been handing you so politely every morning will all go to her leddyship."

"Well, perhaps so! I don't suppose I have more penetration than my neighbors, but I am quite fond of Monsieur le Directeur, so I hope he will not allow any ladyship, however grand, to cut me out! I shall be deeply wounded if he does."

"You are a foolish bairn! Now, Mona, I don't like any poor, meeserable creature—just like ourselves—that's a' puffed up wi' a handle to her name; I don't like her to show finer feathers than my brother's daughter, so if you want a braw new gown, you get it, my bairn; only tell me the cost beforehand!"

"You are very good and generous, uncle; but I do not need anything. I had some of my last year's dresses done up before we came away; and I actually do not fear comparison, even with so exalted a personage as a lady mayoress," said Mona, laughing.

"That's a' richt; it's weel to have a proper spirit. We are tauld that we must not allow pride to master our hearts; but proper pride is no' included, and I have always held myself to be as good as any ither mon."

The following day, shortly before the hour for table d'hote, the stagnant waters of life at Coutrexeville were stirred by the arrival of my Lord Fitzallan, his valet, his friend—a young man—and his valet; a pile of luggage, including gun-cases, fishing-rods, a couple of dogs, and endless impediments of various kinds. Every waiter in the place appeared absorbed in the bustle created by this important arrival; and the visitors, as they assembled for dinner, talked of nothing else. The great men had signified their gracious intention of dining with the general public, and their places were being busily got ready, champagne bottles put into coolers, and extra dainties for dessert being placed at their end of the table.

"It's just a humeeliating spectacle," said Uncle Sandy, taking his seat and unfolding his napkin, while his very nose seemed to curl up with contemptuous disapprobation, "to see such a like set out over twa laddies that would be better earning their crust."

"I fancy, from what I have heard, Lord Fitzallan is by no means young."

"Why? What do ye ken about him?"

Before she could reply, the door opened and the new guests, conducted by the manager of the hotel, entered. The first was a tall, thin, very thin man, of forty-five or fifty, whose coloring was extremely neutral. His hair was of light hay-color, his mustache a shade or two darker; his complexion a pale drab; his eyes a faded blue; a very long pointed nose; and a rather receding chin, did not convey an idea of mental strength; nor did his sloping shoulders, spidery legs, and long neck suggest physical power. He was smiling blandly at something the host was saying, and his expression was kindly enough, but Mona scarcely took in these details, so surprised was she to see that his friend who followed him was Bertie Everard.

LATEST MARKET REVIEW.

TORONTO, June 11.—On call at the Toronto Board of Trade to-day 97c was offered for No. 2 fall wheat, and 52½c for oats on the track. There were no transactions.

To-day's estimated receipts of hogs at the Union Stock Yards, Chicago, are 33,000; official on Saturday, 16,225; shipments, 7328; left over, about 3000; cattle receipts, 13,000; market quiet.

The only new feature on St. Lawrence market to-day was the appearance of the first cauliflowers of the season. They sold quickly at 35c. a piece. Butter has taken another tumble, and is selling lower than ever to-day at 15c to 17c for lb. rolls and 13c. to 16c. for large rolls. Potatoes are poor at $1 per bag. Supplies in vegetables are keeping up, and all appear to be wanted. On the hay and grain market business is quiet and prices unchanged.

We are showing the New Norfolk Blouse Suits for Boys and Youths. This style has become so popular in the larger cities that manufacturers can scarcely supply the demand. They look best in Fawn and Pearl Halifax Tweeds. Call and see them.

The most difficult Garment for a lady to choose is a light Print Dress, but if you call at Turnbull's you are sure to have no trouble as he can show you such a large variety in every color, every pattern and at any price.

A new material introduced this season is the Flannelette in fancy colored stripes and plains, the correct thing for Ladies' Wrappers and children's clothes, only ten cents a yard. Ladies handling it for the first time sometimes ask is it all wool. It is really all cotton but finished like a flannel.

As the weather gets warmer children require to have the heavy clothing changed for something light and cool, and Mothers are often perplexed to know what to buy. We would call their attention to our Colored Washing in Fancy Stripe and Check. They are warranted fast colors in fact the oftner they are washed the better they look. The prices range from 12½c. up.

MILLINERY.—We are still receiving daily New Goods by express. Another lot of Plaid Ribbons just received. Also some New Shapes, as the Blossom, Cape Town and Vallego. These are the correct thing for pic-nic hats.

FESTIVITIES IN LONDON.

DESCRIBED IN EDMUND YATES' GOSSIPY WEEKLY LETTER.

Mr. Parnell and his Followers—Ireland Turns Out the Senior Wrangle of the Year—A Star for Sale.

LONDON, June 13.—The Prince and Princess of Wales, who went down to Sunning Hill Monday afternoon, will stay there till next Monday. They will give a dance on Friday night, and there will be the usual Royal visit to the Cavalry Barracks at Windsor on Saturday morning, and picnic and boating party at Virginia water in the afternoon. The Royalties from Sunning Hill Park and Cumberland Lodge go to Ascot Thursday with the decidedly meagre semi-state procession, which is all that the Queen has permitted since the death of the Prince Consort, and forms a grievous contrast to the splendid and picturesque cortege of carriages, cream-colored horses and outriders and other servants in State liveries, which were last seen in 1860.

The festivities of the week were inaugurated by an unusually busy night. Monday was fully occupied by Dowager Lady Mayo, Madame Waddington and Prince Dhuleep Singh. There was very little that was funereal in the French Ambassador's farewell party to Count and Countess Karolyi. Mr. Wolff fiddled, Mlle. Thenard recited and Mlle. Janvier sang. The melancholy of leave-taking was tempered by the great variety of amusement. The hostess wore pale blue; the Duchess of Manchester looked remarkably well in pompadour brocade and pearls; so did her Grace of Cleveland in white satin and diamonds. Lady Beauchamp's ball was the social event of Tuesday evening. Lady Randolph Churchill gave a small party for the Princess of Wales. Mlle. Nikita sang. Mrs. Marshall O. Roberts and Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt, of New York, were duly presented to the future Queen of England. The State ball on Wednesday is generally admitted to have been one of the best on record. The Royalties entered the room punctually at 11 o'clock. In the opening quadrille the King of Sweden danced with the Princess of Wales and the Prince of Wales with Duchess Paul. The heat at one time was very great. Lord Mount-Edgecombe should really look to the state of the carpets, which have proven fatal to so many pretty dresses in the last week, as well as to the exceedingly crude color of the newly-finished decorations. The substitution of small tables for one long buffett would relieve a great deal of hustling and heartburning. With these exceptions very few improvements could be suggested. The Princess of Wales wore the ladies' tiara; Princess Louise looked remarkably well in mauve; the Duchess of Leinster was in pale blue and yellow; the Duchesses of Manchester, Sutherland and Cleveland came in their most magnificent jewels; Mrs. Houfa Williams and Mrs. William Carrington vied with each other in artistic gowns; nothing could be more effective than Duchess Paul's dress of light green tulle powdered with glass drops. Lady Goldsmid in pale pink satin covered with white gauze and silver stars and train of white velvet and pink satin, brought a bouquet of orchids given her at the floral fete at Covent Garden.

The ball in Arlington-street was in every way worthy of the high reputation which Lady Zetland enjoys as a hostess. Prince and Princess Christian, Grand Duke and Duchess Paul, the latter in yellow satin, were among the guests. The Princess of Wales, in white tulle trimmed with roses, brought her three daughters in very plain dress. There was a superabundance of dancing men. The Duchess of Westminster, in white, wore splendid pearls. Lady Zetland was in pale pink with lovely jewels. The Duchess of Leinster, Lady Roseleigh and Mrs. Leo Rothschild also came in pink; Lady Londonderry in black, looked as well as Lady Dudley in white; Lady Grosvenor wore white pink; the Duchess of Marlborough was accompanied by Lady Sarah Churchill; Lady Delaware brought her daughters; Ladies Bristol, Newport and Cotterel were among the guests. The lighting, floor, flowers and the music of the Red Hungarians were equally good. It is a question whether Lady Zetland or Lady Wimborne may claim the social success of the week. Mrs. Jeune gave a dinner and an at home to meet Prince and Princess Christian, which induced Mr. Buckley to leave The Times to take care of itself, and Lady Carnarvon to make her first appearance in society after her return from Colonial revels, and gave Sir Henry James an opportunity of discussing the Local Government Bill with Sir Lyon Playfair.

The Grosvenor Gallery Club catered for a certain kind of amusement in the earlier part of the evening. The sensations of the Bond-street gathering were the floral decorations and the appearance of Miss Julia Neilson in blue crepe de chine under the care of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert. Lady Wharncliffe and the engraved turquoises were going on elsewhere. Mrs. Beerbohm Tree was in black. Lord Onslow looked in on his way to Mrs. Jeune's.

The scenes of entertainment on Friday were Marlborough House and Arlington-street. Prince and Princess Christian were the guests of the evening at a dinner for fifty, given by Lord and Lady Wimborne. The King of Sweden and the rest of the Royalists came on to the Hamilton House just after midnight. The Princess of Wales was dressed in pink, with fine pearls and diamonds.

M. Paul Rajou, the aquafortist, died suddenly Saturday at his country house at Anvers-sur-Oise. His portraits of English celebrities and his frequent exhibitions have rendered M. Rajou's name familiar to the London public as well as to collectors. Rajou was scarcely 30 years of age.

It is rarely that a Star of the Order of the Garter is allowed to come to the hammer, but on Friday in Christie's rooms those that covet it may bid for one formed of fine brilliants and rubies, the property of a nobleman.

FAIR GIRL GRADUATES.

DEGREES CONFERRED YESTERDAY BY TORONTO UNIVERSITY.

The Commencement Exercises—Four Young Ladies Receive the Degree of B.A.—Medals and Scholarships Awarded.

TORONTO, June 13.—Convocation Hall was unable to contain the crowd of people who were present yesterday afternoon at the commencement exercises of Toronto University. The gathering, as usual, was a most fashionable one, those present being not only friends of the students, but those who take interest in educational affairs.

On the platform the full faculty of the College were seated together with distinguished visitors, including the Minister of Education, Professor Goldwin Smith, Dr. Potts and others.

The students as they received the reward of their labors were greeted with huge applause by their fellows.

When the four young women came up for their degrees they were loudly cheered. They wore gowns and each was presented with a bouquet by a gallant bachelor who came forward with the offering as each of the ladies rose from before the Vice-Chancellor's chair.

The beneficial result of throwing open the doors of the University to women has been amply shown by the eager manner in which they have taken advantage of the opportunity thus offered of gaining a higher education. Ever since this important step was taken by the Senate young women have distinguished themselves at the examinations and in many instances have carried off the highest honors in the different years, leaving their male competitors far behind. It is, of course, a fact that the female student turns her attention to the study chiefly of modern languages or classics, rarely touching on moral philosophy and never on mathematics or physical science, but the fact remains that she seems to have a greater aptitude for the more graceful branches of learning than men. In the examinations which have just ended there were four lady candidates for the degree of B.A. and it is noteworthy that not only did they succeed, but took a very high place.

MISS HENRIETTA CHARLES.

Miss Henrietta Charles was born in Newfoundland, but her home at present is in St. Catharines, where, in the Collegiate Institute, she began the studies which have brought her so much distinction. She matriculated at the University in 1879 and took honor modern languages and honor mathematics in her first examinations in the succeeding year, winning the scholarship in modern languages and also first scholarship in proficiency.

She passed her second examination in '86, taking first in modern languages and second in the proficiency. In two succeeding years, her third and fourth examinations, she passed, the third being distinguished by winning the modern language scholarship. In her second year she took, in addition to the regular course, honor mental science, making altogether a distinguished college career.

MISS GERTRUDE EASTWOOD.

Miss Gertrude Eastwood is also a graduate in modern languages. She is a daughter of Dr. Eastwood, of Whitby, where she resides, and she is still in her teens and considered by all a remarkably clever young lady.

She matriculated from the High School of her native town in '84 and since then has pursued an honor course of study in modern languages without interruption. In addition she took the honor Latin of the first year and honor mental science of the second.

MISS MARY LENNOX.

Miss Mary Lennox was born in the neighborhood of St. Mary's. She matriculated in 1880 from the High School in that town, and in her first year took honor mathematics as well as honor modern languages. During the rest of her career as a student she confined her attention to the honor modern languages.

MISS ALICE JONES.

Miss Alice Jones, the fourth of the number of young graduates of this year, was born in the township of Stamford, near Niagara Falls. She matriculated from the St. Catharines College Institute in the year 1884. She devoted her attention to modern languages from the first, and at all the examinations displayed a sound knowledge of the subjects. In the final examinations she distinguished herself, as did her sister graduates. All four young ladies are to be congratulated, and it is doubtful if any are more genuine in their tributes of praise than their male competitors in the recent academic struggle.

After the graduates had received their degrees, the following medals and scholarships were awarded to students of the other years:

Lansdowne Gold Medal.—H. J. Cody.

Lansdowne Silver Medal.—Miss L. L. Byckman.

THIRD YEAR.

Blake Scholarship.—H. J. Cody.

FIRST YEAR.

Moss Classical Scholarship.—1. C. A. Stuart (triple).

Second Classical Scholarship.—2. A. J. Hunter (double).

Mathematics.—1. J. F. Howard; 2, R. Henderson.

Modern Languages.—C. A. Stewart; 2, Miss L. L. Jones.

General Proficiency.—A. J. Hunter, C. A. Stuart, 1, Miss E. Bunnell, 2, A. M. Stewart.

Goldwin Smith, in a short speech referred to the fact that his friend Dr. Wilson had seen fit not to change his name, that he preferred to retain the honors of his university to others which other men might think more distinguished.

Senator John Macdonald gave the students a little good advice, specially directed to the students who had failed. He advised them not to be discouraged and recommended them all to take care of their health.

Vice-Chancellor Malock made the closing speech, in which he reviewed the work of the institution during the year. He stated the institution had in that time examined 962 students. The most gratifying results had followed the establishment of a medical faculty in connection with the University. He referred to the university confederation movement, and stated it was making steady progress.

Probably Re is.

ROCHESTER, June 12.—Ex-Sheriff Van Camp has disappeared, leaving an indebtedness of $20,000 to $25,000. He was to have been examined before the Surrogate yesterday as to the disposal of a trust estate of $10,000 but did not appear. He is believed to be in Canada.

THE LONGLEY CASE.

The C.P.R. Arbitration Case—Ex-Cashier Allen's Nice Dealings.

TORONTO, June 13.—The town is full of gossip on the judgment of the Niagara Methodist Conference on the case of Rev. Benjamin Longley. The bulk of opinion supports the verdict of the Toronto district meeting. Probably 10 per cent. of popular opinion holds that Mr. Longley should have been acquitted and restored to his standing in the ministry, 25 per cent. upholds the one year's suspension imposed upon him by the Niagara Conference, and 65 per cent. of his critics stand by the judgment of the Toronto district.

The Canadian Press Association will probably make their trip this season to Portland, Maine, staying there a week.

The little differences between the Dominion Government and the Canadian Pacific Railway Company were the cause of the starting for the west of the big arbitration. The remainder of the expedition will start on or before Friday night. The Board of Arbitrators, Chancellor Boyd, Government Engineer Keefer and Mr. A. Gregory, of Nova Scotia, will be accompanied by Christopher Robinson, Q.C., B. B. Osler, Q.C., and W. D. Hogg, Q.C., of Ottawa, who will represent the Government, and George T. Blackstock, Q.C., and Walter Cassels, Q.C., representing the C.P.R.

Additional light was yesterday thrown on some of the dark transactions of ex-Cashier Allen in connection with the Central Bank. The story was told in the witness box before the Master of how a valueless cheque of $10,000 was counted with the teller's cash every day for 17 consecutive months; how Allen's accounts were so confused that they could not be adjusted with all his own adroitness and that of Accountant Ord combined; how S. Magnus Davis secured advances; and last but not least how 269 shares were dropped out of the list in order to cook the register.

Drowned in the Whirlpool.

SUSPENSION BRIDGE, N. Y., June 13.—Just before six o'clock Monday night William Parsons, an Englishman, 24 years old, who was married in Toronto last New Year's eve., was assisting to place a heavy timber in the lower pier of a mill-race in course of construction, when he fell into the river, was carried through the rapids and was drowned.

Burglars at Weston.

WESTON, June 13.—About three o'clock yesterday morning burglars broke into the residence of Mr. Andrew Kaake opposite the G. N. W. telegraph office carrying off two gold watches and several other articles of value.

WELCOMED AT MONTREAL.

THE VICE-REGAL PARTY AT THE COMMERCIAL METROPOLIS.

The Civic Address Read by Mayor Abbott—His Excellency's Reply—A Drive through Mount Royal Park.

MONTREAL, June 13.—The Vice-Regal party arrived in the city at noon yesterday and were met at the depot by Mayor Abbott, City Clerk Glackmeyer, Lt.-Col. Houghton, D.A.G., Col. Lamontagne, D.A.G., and a large concourse of citizens. They drove at once to the City Hall, where Mayor Abbott read the civic address in French and English, to which Lord Stanley replied, thanking them for their cordial welcome.

His Excellency spoke of the great natural advantages and various resources of the Dominion, of the progress and energy of its inhabitants, and prophesied that the country would become more and more prosperous as the years rolled on. He alluded to his illustrious predecessors and trusted that at the end of his term of office his efforts would be found to have been directed in the same spirit as those of Lord Landsowne.

Lord Stanley then said a few words in French to the same effect, after which Mayor Abbott presented the aldermen and a number of leading citizens to His Excellency.

Mr. John R. Molson afterwards read an address presented by Sir William Dawson and the Governors of McGill University, to which Lord Stanley made an appropriate reply.

After lunch at the Windsor Hotel the Vice-Regal party were taken for a drive through Mount Royal Park. They left for Quebec by boat last night.

CAN'T GIVE BLAINE UP.

Chicago Getting Ready for the Republican Convention.

NEW YORK, June 13.—The Times' Chicago despatch says there are few delegates or boomers yet here, but the hotel lobbies are well filled. The hotel clerks are telling transients that they must be prepared to double up after Sunday and are forgiving themselves for the size of next week. The Sherman banner floated out on the breeze at the Grand Pacific yesterday.

Editor Cappellar, of The Mansfield News, chairman of the Ohio Republican Executive Committee, says Senator Sherman will have the united and earnest support of the Buckeye delegation. It cannot, however, be denied that Blaine has many friends in Ohio. The Harrison contingent which heads the command of the Indiana Republican Convention will use all honorable means to further the nomination of Mr. Harrison.

Don J. Seathers, a prominent politician and lumber dealer of Grand Rapids, Michigan, says "if Depew was out of the way I think, positively, that Gen. Alger would get the Republican nomination. Alger is very strong in the east. They like him. Two-thirds of the New York delegates are for Alger for second choice. But somebody rather tells me that Blaine will yet be nominated. I was talking with Boutelle, of Maine, in Washington and he feels as if he could not give Blaine up. The Irish are demanding his nomination. If after seven ballots each favorite holds his strength there must come a break to somebody. If it could be Blaine, I do not think he could decline a unanimous nomination."

Depew will run if asked.

NEW YORK, June 13.—In an interview with a representative of The Evening Sun, Chauncey M. Depew, in answer to a question as to whether or not he was a candidate for the presidency, said:—"I have never sought the position. If my party, the Republican party, think I am the strongest man to carry the doubtful States and place me in nomination, could I refuse the honor? I would have to make sacrifices to accept the nomination. But if my party calls upon me to make them I will make them."

Indications of a Big Harvest—Disgusted Exodusters—Political Topics.

WINNIPEG, June 13.—Unexceptionally favorable weather for crops prevails and there is every indication that the harvest will be larger than last year's.

A number of Canadians who settled in Dakota have purchased farms in Southern Manitoba, high taxes and cyclones having disgusted them with Yankeedom.

Navigation has opened in Lake Winnipeg.

Barrister Hagel, formerly of Toronto, is the Conservative candidate for Shoal Lake.

Mr. Luxton will probably retire from South Winnipeg owing to a difference with the Attorney-General respecting a liquor license for a political friend.

Trifell, a young Englishman just out, was drowned while bathing near Brandon.

The upper floor of a granary near Brandon fell and badly crushed three farmers.

The Portage firebugs will not be sentenced till to-morrow.

Mr. Norquay will probably be opposed in Kildonan by James Taylor.

Attorney-General Martin's partner, McLean, has been appointed chief clerk in the Attorney-General's department.

It is reported that favoritism has been shown in the matter of the Red River Railway tie contract, which was awarded to J. M. Ross, and other contractors are kicking. This is also said to be the cause of Luxton's withdrawal, and will lead to the retirement of other candidates if the wrong is not remedied.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 13, 1888.

THE BAY CONFERENCE.

LINDSAY, June 12.

The Conference opened at 9 o'clock on Monday, the President, Rev. M. L. Pearson, in the chair. After routine the time was spent reading reports from various committees. The special committee in the case of Rev. Mr. Hudgins reported and advised the Conference to settle the claim of Mr. Hudgins of $300, awarded him by the Conference of two years ago. Report received and an amendment carried referring the whole case to an arbitration. At the afternoon session the Rev. D. O. Crossley, Conference evangelist, was heard. He gave a good report of his and Mr. Dewey's evangelistic work.

The report was received and a motion was moved by E. M. Baker to recommend that the Stationing Committee continue the labors of both of the evangelists to work either jointly or seperately. An earnest discussion resulted and the motion was carried. It was moved by the Rev. Mr. Pope, seconded by W. Robinson,—That the Committee on arrangements for next Conference arrange for daily evangelistic services in connection therewith—Carried. Rev. I. W. Puffer received his letters of standing and withdraws from the church.

Mr. Geo. Wilson, editor of the Port Hope Guide, presided at the missionary meeting in the evening. Rev. A. Browning was the first speaker. His theme was contained in the question "Is this old world worth saving?"

Mrs. L. Massey, of Wallbridge, the representative of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the church was introduced and made a thrilling speech. It was admitted by all to be the event of the Conference.

Rev. Dr. Badgely was the last speaker and gave an eloquent address.

A handsome collection was then taken and the meeting adjourned.

LINDSAY, June 13th.—The morning session on Tuesday, was taken up wholly by the reading of reports.

The Committee on Sunday Schools read their report, the chief and most gratifying item was the fact of a thousand conversions during the year in the Sunday schools.

The Temperance Committee next reported. It was received and considered seriatum. The first clause referring to the Scott Act was amended so as to cast no reflection on the act. The flag of prohibition was unfurled throughout, as the only remedy left.

Dr. W. Williams presented the report of the Educational society of the conference, and Rev. E. N. Baker presented the report of the Committee on General Education. The latter recommended the appointment of Rev. J. B. Clarkson to the board of Alma College, and Rev. Wm. Williams, D. D., to Albert College board. The Statistical Committee reported through Mr. R. Clark. The chief point of interest was an increase of over 1,500 members in the church during the year. Most of the funds show a large increase, particularly the Missionary Fund

The Stationing Committee presented the final draft of stations, which recommended the division of Napanee District into Napanee and Tamworth Districts, also the division of the Lindsay District into Lindsay and Cannington Districts. Some changes were also made in Campbellford, Brighton and Peterborough Districts to facilitate the above divisions. The Rev. Messrs. Crossley and Bates were recommended for Conference evangelists. Rev. John Davies was recommended for superannuation. The balloting for chairmen of districts was then taken up and vote cast before adjournment at noon.

At the afternoon session Rev. E. D. Lewis read the report on "The State of the Work."

Rev. S. J. Thompson, on behalf of the Ordination class, presented the President with a photographic group of the class with that of the General Superintendent and President. The President, Rev. Mr. Pearson, made a very touching reply, thanking the donors and assuring them of his constant love and interest in them. The Conference postmaster, Master Will Pearson, was presented with a well filled purse.

Dr. Ford, of Norwood, moved a resolution of sympathy with our brethren, Rev. Edward Eves, Missionary to Norway House, and Rev. S. J. Thompson, Missionary to British Columbia. It was adopted unanimously.

Rev. R. M. Pope presented the claims of West Belleville Church for financial aid.

The balloting for Chairman was concluded and the scrutineers made their final report as follows:—

Belleville, J. Learoyd; Picton, W. Jolliffe; Napanee, A. B. Chambers, L.L. B.; Tamworth, F. B. Stratton; Madoc, O. R. Lambly, M.A.; Cobourg, J. B. Clarkson, M. A.; Peterborough, M. L. Pearson, (ex-officio); Lindsay, W. Williams, D.D.; Cannington, W. Briden; Campbellford, J. S. Clarke; Brighton, W. Buchanan.

Thanks most hearty and eloquent were tendered to the Lindsay people for kind entertainment. The next Conference will be held at Belleville. The Conference adjourned sine die with the President's benediction.

The following are some of the changes made from the first draft:—Peterborough, (Mark-st.), A. C. Wilson; Lakefield, Francis Johnston; South Monaghan, D. N. McCamus; Cavan South, A. L. Adam; Hall's Bridge, T. Ferguson; Cambray, M. E. Wilson; Shannonville, E. D. Lewis; Cobourg (King-st.), J. C. Wilson; Plainville, J. A. McCamus, Geo. W. McCall, B.A.; Fenella, J. Tozeland; Hastings, A. R. Campbell; Norwood, J. S. Clarke; Campbellford, J. Anderson; Brighton, W. Buchanan; Blairton, W. B. Secombe.

Larceny Cases.

Constable Staples, of Bobcaygeon, on Tuesday afternoon arrested a young lad named Connors, on a warrant charging him with the larceny of a pair of boots and a sum of money. The arrest was made in Otonabee and kept in the police station here until this afternoon, when he was taken to Bobcaygeon for trial....A young girl was charged at the Police Court this morning with stealing a wall bracket from the house of a neighbor. She pleaded not guilty and the case was enlarged until next Saturday. A similar plea was entered to another charge of stealing $27 and it was also enlarged until Saturday, bail being accepted in the meantime.

THE CEMETERY.

The Little Lake Cemetery in Summer Attire—Improvements Being Made.

At the Little Lake Cemetery there is always work being done. Continually improvements are being made to benefit the grounds, to enlarge the available space and to enhance the beautiful appearance of this resting place for the dead.

This year Superintendent Kelly has already had considerable work done and not a little was completed late last fall. A section towards the south of the cemetery, in the "new ground," has been completely levelled and nicely seeded since the REVIEW visited the cemetery last fall. This section was originally a rough piece of ground—the old McGowan shanty stood on part of it—but it is now one of the pretty parts of the cemetery, level, with a slight slope and ornamented with trees.

A new flower bed has been put in near the main entrance. It is a circular bed and contains several kinds of flowers, and favorably impresses a visitor as soon as he has entered the gate. A walk has been constructed from the main entrance along the west side to Ware Avenue, and 500 feet of new hedge has been planted along this walk and is coming up nicely. The hedge from the main entrance east has also been renewed.

About two hundred trees have been planted this spring. Near the eastern side a row of evergreens has been put in, and at intervals other trees have been planted, including maple, mountain ash, cut leaf birch, oak leaf maple, etc. A few of the trees planted last year have died, but on the whole last year's trees have done well. A row of locusts, chestnuts and other trees has been put in along the lake shore near the windwill, and as they grow up will considerably improve that portion of the cemetery.

Near the superintendent's residence there are two pretty star-shaped flower beds, one a five pointed and the other a six pointed star. There is one on each side of the road leading from the main enterance. The flowers for one are furnished by Mr. F. Mason and for the other by Mr. A. Blade.

All the new ground is now covered by the waterworks and the grass is kept bright and green. The cobble gutters have been found very advantageous in carrying of water and preserving the roads, and more of it is being continually laid. A good work is being done in trimming and cleaning up the walks. The edges of the walks had been tramped somewhat and the grass grew out on the walks, and this rendered the trimming necessary. The walks look wider and neater after trimming and the work is having a good effect in brightening up the cemetery.

The grass is now green, the trees covered with foliage and the flowers are bright and fragrant, and the whole cemetery has a beautiful appearance. The grounds are so well attended to and kept in such good order that, with the natural and other advantages of the place, it is always beautiful in summer, and is being steadily improved.

Don't use any more nauseous purgatives such as Pills, Salts, etc., when you can get in Dr. Carson's Stomach Bitters, a medicine that moves the Bowels gently, cleansing all impurities from the system, and rendering the Blood pure and cool. Sold by all Druggists.

Ministerial Changes.

This is evidently "moving year" in the Bay of Quinte Conference, and among the changes made are the removal of the three Peterborough clergymen. Rev. I. Tovell goes to St. Catharines, Rev. J. C. Wilson to Cobourg (King-st.) and Rev. S. J. Thompson to British Columbia, the Rev. F. H. Wallace, B. D., having previously gone to Victoria University. In their places come, to George-st., Rev. M. L. Pearson, the President of the Conference, an able preacher, good church worker, and a man of considerable executive ability; to Charlotte-st., Rev. Sidney J. In brief and to the Point.

Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered liver is misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature.

The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existance. It is easily put out of order.

Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this sad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

Remember:—No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings health and happiness to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy-five cents.

The Nile Voyageurs.

To the Editor of the Review.

DEAR SIR,—I saw that it was stated the other day in the English House of Commons that without the assistance of the Canadian voyageurs the English army could not have accomplished its task of reaching Upper Egypt. In a new country like this we have not so many instances of distinguished achievement that we can afford to let any of them be forgotten amongst us, while remembered elsewhere. Fortunately we had amongst our Peterborough contingent one who was well worthy to fill the position of Historian of the Expedition. The letters of young Sherlock, published at the time in the REVIEW, are still remembered by many of your readers, who came to look upon this gallant young Canadian as a personal friend, and who have since mourned the death of one so gifted and promising. In conversation with some friends this morning the opinion was generally expressed that these letters should be reprinted in a little pamphlet both for the purpose of preserving a piece of history that should not be allowed to be lost, and of furnishing an example to young Canada of future generations of what has been done and what may be done by willing and brave hearts. One enthusiastic lady declared that she would like to have a copy to leave to her grandchildren, although any one who saw her bright youthful face as she said it, could hardly suspect her of being a "grandmother" for many a year to come. Will you not see, dear REVIEW, if you can get these letters together and have them published in a tasty little volume, as a record of what Canadians have done, and as a tribute to one whose memory your readers would not willingly let die?

Yours truly,
ONE WHO STAYED AT HOME.

To back up our opinions two or three with whom I was speaking and myself will take copies to the amount of say $16.

O.W.S.A.H.

[NOTE.—The REVIEW would be pleased to assist in carrying out the commendable suggestion made by our correspondent, who, as a soldier and as one familiar with navigating rivers, is well qualified to speak of the services rendered by the voyageurs. We know from assurances received from all parts of the county and from many at a greater distance that the letters of the late Mr. Sherlock were highly appreciated, and other letters written by him to friends might be added.—ED. REVIEW.]

A SENSATIONAL ARREST.

MR. PRIESTMAN'S ALLEGED MURDERERS IN JAIL.

The Mystery of Parkdale May Possibly have been Unraveled—Police Inspector Stark's Quiet Move.

TORONTO, June 13—Police circles last night enjoyed a genuine sensation, when it came to be whispered around that County Constable Alexander Smith and his wife Rachel had been arrested for the murder, on the night of Aug. 25, 1887, of Joseph Priestman, jr., the Toronto agent of the North Western Masonic Assurance Association of Chicago. It will be remembered that the male prisoner was the first to find the body of the dead man lying stiff and stark on the plank sidewalk on the lonely common stretching from Dufferin-street to Dunn-avenue, just to the west of Exhibition Park and south of the Great Western Railway tracks. The cause of death has remained a mistery up to now, but the Crown authorities are in hopes that it will at last be developed and the responsibility of Priestman's death placed on the proper shoulders.

At the time of the crime public opinion was pretty well divided on the theories of murder and suicide. Those who knew Mr. Priestman intimately were firm believers that their friend had been a victim of foul play. His family relations were of the happiest discription, his financial standing was good, and he was in the prime of life—strong, healthy and to all appearance contented with his surroundings.

The Ontario Government at the time sent Detective Joe Rogers to investigate the circumstances surrounding the death of Mr. Priestman, but his investigation, which lasted over a month, resulted in nothing being discovered which might throw any light on the tragedy. There was also the long drawn out inquest by Coroner Lynd, the verdict of "wilful murder against persons unknown," and public interest in the matter dropped.

Although Mr. Priestman's death was reckoned in the public mind as one of the mysteries never to be unravelled, the case continued to absorb the attention of the Crown authorities. Mr. Priestman's friends were not idle either and kept quietly at work in the hope that one day something might turn up which would remove the stigma of murder from the dead man. County Crown Attorney Ladgerow and Inspector Stark more especially interested themselves, and the result of their labors, with the assistance of outside friends, was the two arrests made last night.

At the time of the murder there were not a few who believed that Constable Smith could tell more than he did about the affair. There were certain suspicious circumstances surrounding his conduct from the very first, which made people think that he was not telling the whole truth at the inquest, but although closely questioned he related a comparatively straight story, and was believed by the jurors.

At five o'clock yesterday afternoon Inspector Stark proceeded to the office of Ald. J. B. Boustead and there swore to a deposition charging Alexander Smith and his wife Rachel with having murdered Joseph Priestman, jr. On the strength of this deposition the Alderman issued warrants for the arrest of the two people charged and handed them to Inspector Stark for execution. Acting under his instructions Detective McGrath and Cuddy took a cab at 5.30 and drove to No. 68 Cowan-avenue, Parkdale, where the Smiths resided, and arrested them. They were placed in the cab and brought down to Police Headquarters, where they remained until 10, when they were walked up to Agnes-street Police Station to remain over night.

The police are very reticent as to the nature of the evidence on which they hope to secure a conviction, but enough was gathered to show that at the present stage they have secured sufficient evidence to warrant the expectation of their obtaining a remand to the Assizes. That the evidence at present is far from being as strong as they could wish is patent from the fact that they decline to disclose its nature,

HOUSEFURNISHINGS.

At this season many Housekeepers are replenishing their supplies of Tableware and China. City folk are furnishing summer cottages; country folk are filling up the dressers and cupboards of the old homestead: town's folk are picking and choosing here and there. Many would be glad to know of a place whose special business is to meet these wants and desires; that aims to furnish essentially good wares at consistently low prices; that offers the choice of many different dinner services, and yet does not compel you to take an entire set of any pattern, but allow you to select each course of a new design, or buy any portion of the set you may need; that does not try to impose ideas or wares upon purchasers, and yet is ready to advise which of the many wares is most desirable and suitable; and, if wished, will make a careful selection of pattern. When you want Tablewear will you give us the opportunity to serve you.

THE CITY AND SUBURBS

Weather Probabilities.

South-east and south winds; fair warm weather.

New Silk Grenadines.

A suberb line of silk grenadines. The prettiest material for ladies' hot weather dresses. In all new designs. Very fine goods, rare excellence in quality. These can be made up in a stylish way in our dress making department for very little money indeed. For silk grenadines try the golden lion.

We aim to make our reputation of the Pantry permanent by selling at figures that clinch the argument every time.

A Wheel Off.

There was a commotion on Hunter-st. about five o'clock on Tuesday afternoon. The same young men who were fined so heavily in the morning for furious driving, were starting for home, from the American House. Their rig ran into another on the street and a wheel was taken off. The trouble was all over and the men on their way home when the police reached the scene.

Coughs and Colds.—If everything has failed try Allen's Lung Balsam and be cured.

Fast Driving.

The police are bound to put a stop to this furious driving, which has become a public nuisance and a menace to the people. Last night several cases are reported, two from the outskirts and one from George-st. south of Charlotte. The offenders are as a rule not residents of the town. A few more $25 fines would have a splendid effect in abating the nuisance.

Lansdowne Rowing Club.

A good meeting of the members of the Lansdowne Rowing Club was held last night. The following gentlemen were duly elected members:—Messrs. R. H. Fortye, M. W. Hackett, F. Stenson, F. McAuliffe and W. Hamilton. There were a number of four oared and single and double scull shells out in the evening and some good spurting over a mile course. The first of the series of club races will take place next week. Another meeting will be held on Friday evening at the boa. house at 7.30 o'clock.

The "Royal" Flavoring Extracts are not only true to their names, but are prepared from fruits of the best quality.

Crowded Houses the Rule.

The Buffalo Evening News, an excellent authority on theatrical matters, favorably comments on the appearance at the Academy of Music in that city of Mr. J. K. Emmet, as follows:—"If the opening night can be taken as an indication of the success that awaits Mr. J. K. Emmet during the coming season, he did a wise thing in reviving his old play, 'Fritz, Our Cousin German.' He played to standing-room only at the Academy of Music last evening, before an audience which accorded him a most enthusiastic reception. 'Fritz,' as presented last evening, is a stronger play in many respects than the several versions of it which Mr. Emmet has been presenting for several seasons past, and affords him an opportunity for the display of the several specialties in which he excels. He was in excellent voice last evening, and his new songs were repeatedly encored, though some disappointment was felt that none of his old favorites were given. Mr. Emmet's company is as usual a first-class one, the sables and the dog Rover coming in for a large share of the praise. The stage settings are very attractive, and aid much in the development of the plot. Crowded houses will probably be the rule during the remainder of the week."

Hotel Change.

Mr. T. Cavanagh is domiciled in his new hotel, the Balmoral, and last evening Mr. Wm. Kennealy assumed the proprietorship of the old Steward House.

Good Rye.

Mr. James Fowler, of Smith, has left at this office fine samples of rye from his farm. The straw is strong and eighteen inches long, with a good and promising head.

New Poles.

The Electric Light Company are replacing their old poles all through the town, with new ones. They are a good deal higher and look much better than those formerly used.

Shaken Up.

One of the horsemen at the driving park on Tuesday evening was "working" a colt, when the animal shied and bolted up against the fence, but fortunately the driver escaped with a few bruises and a shaking up.

LIKE a ship before the breeze, so go those fine Teas at 5 pounds for $1 at the Pantry.

The Secret Out.

People are astounded at the amount of property sold by Jno. Carlisle. Why has he sold so much? Simply because he leaves money every time in said properties for he buyers. Many can vouch for the truth of this statement. 45 parcels sold the last few months.

Exhibition Drill.

An exhibition drill by the pupils (girls and boys to the number of 160) of the Institute, will be given in the Charlotte-st. skating rink on Friday evening, June 15th, at 8 o'clock. A splendid programme will be presented. Fire Brigade Band present. To raise funds for fife and drum band. Admission 10 cents. 5d136

From Apsley.

An elderly man named Kane or Kitely was sent down to gaol on Tuesday, from Apsley, on a charge of vagrancy. His term is one month. He is an old customer and has been committed from Peterborough on many occasions. He was almost naked when gaoler Nesbitt took charge of him. He is not exactly well balanced as far as his mental capacity is concerned.

Rather Costly.

A man named Alexander McDonald, who has been employed on one of the drives all season, came to town yesterday morning and at once proceeded to enjoy himself. He met many friends and towards evening he was in a rather hilarious mood. He was quiet but unsteady on his feet, and as he was unable to take care of himself he was locked up. At the police court a fine of $2 and costs was imposed. The prisoner remarked that the price of hard beds was high, but he exhibited unfeigned astonishment when he found that the total cost was $5.25. He paid it.

Low prices do not affect the quality of of Groceries at the Pantry. This truth demonstrated in every purchase.

A Day of Days.

Remember the big picnic at Bridgenorth to-morrow, Thursday, June 14th. It is the annual picnic of St. Martin's church, Ennismore, and is sure to be well attended. The youths and maidens of the county will be on hand. There is a splendid list of athletic sports, there is the open air concert, there is the drawing for the Texas pony and other attractions, let alone a free dinner and plenty of it. Fun, jollity and pleasure will rule the day with merry hand. How to get out to the grove need not bother you. Mr. Martin Connor will run a line of busses at intervals of two hours during the day or some friend with a fast horse may give you a lift. Let business take care of itself for a few hours and try the fresh air of Chemong Lake and the society of jolly people there congregated. 1d138

White Bronze Monuments.

While in the Little Lake Cemetery on Tuesday afternoon a REVIEW reporter noticed several white bronze monuments. When they were introduced here several years ago interest was felt as to how they would retain their appearance after being set up, and this led to an inspection of them. White bronze, it may be remarked, is made of pure zinc, and differs from commercial zinc in texture and color as steel differs from the iron from which it is refined. The monuments are cast in pieces and put together by fusing. The frosted appearance is given by a sand blast. Sand is blown by steam at a high pressure over the entire work, cutting the surface and giving it a uniform and sparkling color. The inscriptions are put on by removable tablets, which can be replaced at any time by new tablets with the inscriptions desired. The monuments in the cemetery are of a rich gray color, and the engraving and drapery is artistic work. They have stood there several years. One, put in for Mr. Joseph Bennett, of North Monaghan, has stood the frost of four winters. Meeting Mr. Bennett in the cemetery, the reporter asked him if he was satisfied with it. "Perfectly," replied Mr. Bennett, "it pleased me when it was put up, and it is just the same to-day." The frost, the heat, rain and air have had no effect upon it, and it stands as solid and with the same rich color as when it was erected." Being perfected zinc, it covers itself with a thin film of oxide, which does not increase and which resists the effects of the weather. These beautiful monuments are made in Canada, by the White Bronze Company, of St. Thomas, which is represented in Peterborough by Mr. Charles Stapleton.

For chronic catarrh, induced by a scrofulous taint, Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the true remedy. It stops catarrhal discharges, removes the sickening odor, and never fails to thoroughly eradicate every trace of the disease from the blood. Sold by all dealers in medicine.

A Cheap Trip.

Look out for the cheap trip down the river, to-morrow, Thursday afternoon, per steamer Golden Eye. 1d138

New Clarionets.

Bandmaster Miller, while in Toronto on Tuesday, ordered four new clarionets for the Fire Brigade Band. Mr. Miller is bound to have players of reed instruments and if he cannot get them from a distance he will teach them in Peterborough.

A Large Funeral.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Stewart, of Otonabee, passed through town last evening and it was a very large one. When it left the late residence of deceased it was over one mile in length. Many from town attended to show their respect for the deceased lady.

Canton Excursion.

The excursion to Toronto on Tuesday under the auspices of Canton Peterborough No. 10, and St. Luke's Church of England Temperance Society, was the largest that has left the town this season. There were about four hundred persons on board the two trains, including the Fire Brigade band and the uniformed members of the canton. The greater number left at 7.30 and the run up was made in splendid time. At the Union depot the members of Canton Toronto were found drawn up in full uniform ready to receive the chevaliers from Peterborough. They were under command of Col. F. J. Slatter and Majors Hornibrook and McCabe. Headed by the band, the two cantons marched through the principal streets giving a fine exhibition of fancy drill to the evident delight of a large number of persons who lined the sidewalks all along the route chosen. The march was continued to the Grand Pacific Hotel, where the band and canton stopped. After dinner the visiting chevaliers were taken in charge by the Toronto men and shown the sights. The others who went up were widely scattered. The cyclorama, the Island, the Normal School, the new parliament buildings and the thousand and one other places of interest were visited. About two hundred returned home on the late train on Tuesday night, the remainder stopping over until to-day. All who went up were delighted with the treatment they received and nothing but words of praise are heard for the Committee of Management and the railway officials.

The Archer Organ Recital.

On Tuesday evening an audience of about three hundred assembled in the George-st. Methodist Church to hear Mr. Fred Archer, the celebrated organist play. Mr. Archer is acknowledged to be the greatest master of the instrument in America, and well sustained the reputation that had preceded him. All our music lovers were present and were highly delighted with the recital. Mr. Archer's playing shows that great technical skill, combined with a perfect understanding of registering the instrument to suit the different selections that make it the despair of other organists to equal. All the selections were well given and appreciated. The "Clock Movement" of Haydn and Gounod's "Funeral March of a Marionette" were very characteristic. The two overtures "Poet and Peasant" and "William Tell" were given with a surprising degree of orchestral effects. The whole recital is one long to be remembered by those who heard it and the trustees of the church are to praised for their enterprise in bringing Mr. Archer here. Following is the programme in full as rendered:—

PART I

1 Sonata in D, Minor.....Van Eyken.
2 Clock Movement.....Haydn.
3 Scherzo Symphonique.....Guilmant.
4 {a Gavotte (Mignon).....Thomas.
{b Funeral March of a Marionette..Gounod.

COUNTY COURT.

The Grand Jury's Presentment—Conclusion of the Session.

FROM THE GRAND JURY.

The Grand Jury made the following presentment:—

To His Honor Judge Weller, Judge of the County Court of the County of Peterborough, presiding at the general sessions of the Peace for the said County:

We the Grand Jurors of the said County beg to present:—

That we agree with Your Honor in congratulating the County on the almost total absence of crime in this County.

We have examined the jail and jail premises and find the same well kept and in good order. We also find that the prisoners at present confined in the jail receive all the comforts and attention available.

All of which we humbly present to Your Honor.

(Signed) R. B. LUNDY,
FOREMAN.

June 12th, 1888.

His Honor thanked the Jury and discharged them.

THE ONLY CASE TRIED.

HARTLEY V. MUNCASTER.—An action to recover the sum of $125 rent and $16 65 taxes brought by Mr. J. J. Hartley against Mr. R. W. Muncaster. The evidence was to the effect that defendant rented a house from the plaintiff for $125 per year and taxes, it being understood that certain repairs and improvements were to be done, such as sinking a sink hole and making proper connections with it, ventilating the house underneath, building a new fence, etc. These the defendant alleged had not all been done and and those that had been done were only partially completed, at the end of seven months he left the house, taking with him the key, giving as a reason for leaving that the house was so damp that the carpets had to be taken up every two weeks. He kept the key until the end of the year and paid no rent or taxes. On the other hand it was denied that the house was damp, as it is built on a gravel bed. While it was admitted that certain things were to be done, it was contended that no particular time was set for doing them. Judgement for plaintiff for full amount claimed. Mr. A. P. Poussette, Q. C., for plaintiff, and Mr. Geo. Edmison for defendant.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria

For Threatening.

Thomas Tully, of McDonnel-st. west, was arrrested this morning by officer Adams, on a warrant charging him with threatening to do boldly harm to his mother, Mrs. Mary Tully. He was brought before the P. M. and ordered to give bail to keep the peace for a period of one year, himself in $1000 and two sureties in $500 each. He had not the sureties on hand and was committed to gaol, until he finds them or is discharged by the judge at the next court.

Why Baking Powders are Best.

(From Hall's Journal of Health.)

Baking powders properly compounded, and containing pure cream of tartar, are more convenient than yeast; and bread and pastry made with them are just as wholesome, and far more palatable.

We are in entire sympathy with the manufacturers of the Royal Baking Powder—who commenced and are vigorously conducting the war against the use of adulterated baking powders.

Before committing ourselves, however, we made tests of a sufficient number of baking powders to satisfy ourselves that the substitution of alum for cream of tartar in their composition has not been overestimated, while a careful examination of the Royal Baking Powder confirms our belief that Dr. Mott, the Government Chemist, when he singled out and commended this powder for its wholesomeness did it wholly in the interests of the public.

We do not hesitate to say that the Royal Baking Powder people deserve the gratitude of the community whom they are endeavoring to protect.

Brevities.

—Belleville has a civic holiday on June 20th.

—A meeting of the Charity Committee will take place on Saturday evening.

—The Goose Pond Island Valley Viaduct is in full working order.

—Mr. J. H. Burnham has returned home after a trip to the booming "Soo."

—A trainload of telegraph poles came in on the G. T. R. yesterday. They were cut near Kinmount.

—The gas lamp at the corner of Smith and Benson-sts. has been removed, owing to the railway work.

—The Otonabee Canoe Club will hold a meeting this evening to arrange for holding a regatta.

—The gutter from the fountain at the Horticultural Park is being continued down the path to the main entrance.

—Mr. J. G. Hodgins, of Toronto, Deputy Minister of Education for Ontario, is in town.

—The street watering cart drivers complain that the sprinklers are being continually blocked with sawdust.

—Two large culverts are being constructed at Smith and Benson-sts. by the Railway company.

—The hydrant at Smith and Benson-sts. will have to be removed as it will be five or six feet under the railway track.

—Some of the boys and young men who persist in annoying foreigners, will find themselves in trouble unless they desist.

—Captain McNeil of the Canton is dignified with the tile of "General" by the Empire. The Mail only goes as high as "Colonel."

—The Methodist Conference closed at Lindsay on Tuesday night. A large number of delegates, ministerial and lay, came down on the G. T. R.

—It has been found necessary to change the course of the telegraph line to Lakefield, owing to the changes made by the new railway.

—The police expect to don their new uniforms in the course of a few days. They are of a different pattern to those formerly worn.

—Excessive and it is claimed unnecessary whistling by the engineers of the different railways is causing loud complaints, from the south end of the town.

—Some German bills on the boards advertising a coming show, are objects of interest to many. No such posters were ever seen here before.

—A young child of Mr. Thomas Robinson was attacked and bitten by a vicious dog on Edinburgh-st. The injuries are not at all serious.

—Unless there is better behaviour at the park on the nights of band concerts, the Directors may prohibit them taking place on the grounds.

—Do not fail to hear Miss Cartmell's address on mission work at the George-st. Methodist church prayer meeting this evening at 8 o'clock.

PERSONAL.—Mr. Richard Stewart is at present under the care of Dr. Boucher. We hope to see him around again soon, and are glad to learn he is improving.

SPORT.—Our football club "Crystal Springs" played a match with the Cold Springs club on Tuesday, June 5th. After playing one hour and a half, each side had scored a goal. It was very evenly contested, and was witnessed by a large crowd of people. It is probable the return match will be played before long. Mr. John Lancashire, of the Zion football club, acted as referee, and gave general satisfaction.

My advice is this, and if an old man's experience is worth anythin', which it naturally is worth somethin,' don't go to the city with the everlastin' idea that you can buy dirt cheap all around. Formerly, a course of itters, or sulphur and molasses, was the ule in well-regulated families; but now ll intelligent households keep Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which is at once pleasant o the taste, and the most searching and ffective blood medicine ever discovered.

Nathan S. Cleveland, 27 E. Canton st., Boston, writes: "My daughter, now 21 ears old, was in perfect health until a ear ago when she began to complain of atigue, headache, debility, dizziness ndigestion, and loss of appetite. I con- inded that all her complaints originated n impure blood, and induced her to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This medicine soon restored her blood-making organs to healthy action, and in due time reestab- lished her former health. I find Ayer's Sarsaparilla a most valuable remedy for the lassitude and debility incident to spring time."

J. Castright, Brooklyn Power Co., Brooklyn, N. Y., says: "As a Spring Medicine, I find a splendid substitute for the old-time compounds in Ayer's Sarsaparilla, with a few doses of Ayer's Pills. After their use, I feel fresher and stronger to go through the summer."

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 13, 1888.

MONA'S CHOICE.

BY MRS. ALEXANDER.

That gentleman's keen eyes detected her instantly, but with his usual immobility, he merely raised his eyebrows, smiled faintly, and bowed as if he had quite expected to meet his young kinswoman at the table d'hote. Mona was vexed at herself for coloring as she felt she did when she returned his bow, smiling at the same time with irrepressible amusement. The idea of an encounter between Uncle Sandy and Bertie Everard seemed infinitely comic.

"Wha's that?" asked the former, indignantly.

"He is a sort of cousin of mine, or rather of my poor grandmother. I used to stay at his mother's house. She was very kind to me."

"Ay, till you began to earn your own living, those are aye worthless folk. Stop the waiter, will ye? I cannot eat this fish; it has seen a deal of the world since it left the watter."

The offending fish removed, Uncle Sandy "glowered," as he would have said himself, at the new-comers, until it was replaced by a salmis of pigeons.

At length dinner was over. Everard left his seat, as Mona and Uncle Sandy were leaving the table, and intercepted them. Mona presented her uncle, and Everard introduced her to Lord Fitzallan, who bowed twice, once to the lady, once to the crabbed-looking little Scotsman.

"Ah! Miss Craig, 'don't you think we might contrive a cousinship out of the double relationship?' he said, in a soft but weak voice, and with what he intended for a fascinating simper.

"I am afraid not. The only real relation I have is my uncle."

"What a rude speech, Mona! Do you repudiate me?" said Everard.

"Oh, no! I take you for what you are worth."

Everard lifted his eyebrows.

"How is your friend and partner, the music mistress? It was the funniest idea your running away from my mother to her."

"Run away? Did you really run away? What an enterprising young lady!" said Lord Fitzallan, as the quartet strolled out towards some seats under the trees.

"Dinna hear till him," cried Uncle Sandy a good deal disturbed. "My niece is not one o' your leddy to do sic an unmannerly impruidence, she is just a lassie wi' a proper sense of independence."

"Proper sense of independence," repeated Everard; "I fancy you will think it improper when she runs away from you?"

"Eh! but she'll no do that. She can have a good home with me if she chooses, as you know, my lord!"

"Who—me?" exclaimed Lord Fitzallan. "My good sir, what do I know about it?"

"Then you ought, considering you have rented my house for near on two years! Don't ye mind Craigdarroch?"

"Craigdarroch! by Jove! Are you Craig of Craigdarroch? I had not the faintest idea I should meet my landlord in this remote region. I should like to have a third season at Craigdarroch. It is a snug little box, and as I do not like large parties, it just suits me."

"Sma'!" repeated Mr. Craig, indignantly. "There are six large sleeping-rooms, forbye twa ithers, and servants' accomodation, a drawing-room, and a dining-room, a library and my museum, and cellars, etc."

"What a funny notion that Craigdarroch should belong to your uncle, Mona," said Everard.

"And why shouldn't it?" asked Uncle Sandy, testily. "Why shouldn't Mona's uncle buy what he likes with the money he worked so hard to make?"

"I am sure I have no objection. Only I wish you would let Fitzallan have the place for another year. I can only be with him for ten days this season, and the shooting about there is first-rate."

"I am afraid you are a self-seeker, young mon," said Uncle Sandy, solemnly.—

"Yes, of course I am. So are you; so are we all."

"I have always tried to do my duty," returned Uncle Sandy, startled by this attack.

"I dare say. It is much the best plan; it does one no harm if you manage properly, and it pays in the end."

"Yet," said Mona, quietly, "I can imagine your performance of duty not being specially profitable to your employer."

"What right have you to say that?" cried Everard, a little nettled. "It is appalling to think what your tongue will be when you are an old woman, considering what it is at present."

"Miss—Miss—" he an Lord Fitzallan, whose memory was not retentive. "Your charming cousin will never be old."

"Well, I have some letters to write, so good-evening," said Everard, rather abruptly, and he went off toward the club-house.

Lord Fitzallan remained a few moments, trying, vainly, to flirt with Mona, but her manner was so chilling that he, too, bowed and departed.

CHAPTER XV.—AN OLD ACQUAINTANCE.

Mona did not find life at Centrexville by any means exhilarating. Uncle Sandy seemed to have taken complete possession of his niece, and was indeed more amiable and affectionate toward her than he had ever been before to any creature.

At the first moment of recognition Mona was displeased to find that Everard and Lord Fitzallan were to be their "companions of the Bath." But it was very amusing to her to see how profoundly gratified that stern republican Uncle Sandy was by being associated as a family connection with the great grandees of the season. Suser as he might at "yon puir feckless bit of a lord" in his absence, he was always placidly content to hobble along with Mona between himself and the elderly young man in public places.

To Everard he was more deferential. That gentleman's good-humored, unflinching indifference to the feelings of his fellow-creatures filled him with awe. There was no knowing what he might say next, while the fearlessness with which Mona crossed rapiers with him excited his admiration. Yet Everard was always ready to talk with her, and even tried, with the obstinacy for which he was remarkable, to get her away from her uncle to walk with him.

This degree of attention woke Uncle Sandy's suspicions, for, as is not unusual in Scotchmen, he was disposed to attribute all such indications to the master passion of humanity.

"Tell me, noo," he said one exceedingly warm afternoon, as they sat in his room—"tell me, was it because o' one cousin ye refused the other?"

"How do you mean, Uncle Sandy?"

"Eh! you understan' well enough. Is it because you luve young Everard you refused Kenneth?"

"Love Bertie Everard! Do you think any human being loves him, except, perhaps, his mother?"

"How can I ken? He is a braw, outspoken callant."

"He is brutally indifferent to everyone's feelings. Were I obliged to marry either, I should certainly prefer Kenneth."

"Then what for should you refuse him?"

"Because I do not intend to marry him."

"Do you know that it will go hard wi' me before I ever consent to your marrying ony either mon?"

"Well, I shall not trouble you, uncle. I shall never marry Kenneth."

"Then, Mona, I am sair at heart to say it, but I'll no count you as my daughter."

"Oh, yes, you will, uncle! You could not do without me!"

"Not weel. Yet I'd try, if you set your face against doing what I want you to do. Has Kenneth written to ye?"

"No; then I have not written to him."

"Well, do, like a good lassie."

"Oh, yes, uncle; I will write to him."

In the evening Everard called and asked Mona to take a stroll with him.

Advice to Mothers.

If Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth it relieves the little suffer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa whether rising from teething or otherwise causes. 25 cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

The Greatest Flood on Record.

DULUTH, Minn., June 13.—Recent rains have caused the greatest flood ever known in Northern Minnesota. Along the banks of the logging streams tributary to the St. Louis River millions of acres of land are overflowed and loss of life is feared. At Cloquet, thirty miles from here, that portion of the town which is situated on the island is completely engulfed by a raging torrent, only the tops of houses being visible. Several dwellings have been carried away, but the inhabitants were warned in time and no loss of life occurred. The immense saw mills are flooded and abandoned, and in the booms over two millions of logs are jammed. All the county bridges have been carried away. The village of Fonderlac is under water and some buildings have been carried down the stream. From Fonderlac to beyond Spirit Lake the tracks of the St. Paul & Duluth railroad are under water from two to three feet. Indians and old settlers say the flood has never been equalled.

Dying Walt Whitman, the Good, Grey Poet, has a close friend and a devoted admirer in Dr. Bucke, of the London Asylum. The Poet has visited the Doctor at London, and the Doctor has known the hospitality of the Poet at Camden. Their friendship is of many years' duration. Dr. Bucke himself has a fine literary taste, and has done good work with his pen.

The new Canadian loan is still quoted at a premium of 2½, though the demand is slightly less than yesterday. Of course, till the tenders are opened on Friday the actual result of the issue will be unknown, but it is believed in the city that the average price obtained will be nearly 95. This will be a very good result for the first three per cent. Colonial loan ever offered.

24	6	28	10
25	7	29	11,
26	8	30	12

We are showing the New Norfolk Blouse Suits for Boys and Youths. This style has become so popular in the larger cities that manufacturers can scarcely supply the demand. They look best in Fawn and Pearl Halifax Tweeds, call and see them.

The most difficult Garment for a lady to choose is a light Print Dress, but if you call at Turnbull's you are sure to have no trouble as he can show you such a large variety in every color, every pattern and at any price.

A new material introduced this season is the Flannelette in fancy colored stripes and plains, the correct thing for Ladies' Wrappers and children's clothes, only ten cents a yard. Ladies handling it for the first time sometimes ask is it all wool. It is really all cotton but finished like a flannel.

As the weather gets warmer children require to have the heavy clothing changed for something light and cool, and Mothers are often perplexed to know what to buy. We would call their attention to our Colored Washing in Fancy Stripe and Check. They are warranted fast colors in fact the other they are washed the better they look. The prices range from 12½c. up.

MILLINERY.—We are still receiving daily New Goods by express. Another lot of Plaid Ribbons just received. Also some New Shapes, as the Blossom, Cape Town and Vallego. These are the correct thing for pic-nic hats.

THE SUPREME COURT ACT.

A GRAVE DIFFERENCE OF OPINION AMONGST THE JUDGES.

Possibility that all the Cases Heard at Last Session in which the Late Judge Henry Sat may have to be Argued Again.

OTTAWA, June 14.—It is officially announced that Hon. John Schultz has been appointed Lieutenant Governor of Manitoba, the appointment to take effect on July 1.

No time is being lost in getting the Manitoba and Northwest experimental farms at Brandon and Indian Head into working order. Tenders for barns, stables and residences for both places have been called for and will be received up to June 30.

Mr. Mahaffey, of Bracebridge, has been appointed Judge of the Muskoka district.

The Supreme Court was expected to deliver judgments yesterday but none were delivered, and at 1 o'clock Judge Strong entered the court-room without his robes and announced that on account of the late arrival of Judge Taschereau from Rome he had not had time to confer with his colleagues, and consequently no judgment would be delivered until to-morrow.

This is understood, however, not to be the whole reason, as there is said to be a serious difference of opinion amongst the judges as to whether the act of last session, which was passed specially to get over the difficulty caused by the death of Judge Henry, and which act, it is understood, was passed by the Supreme Court judges themselves, really has got over the difficulty, or whether it will not be necessary that all the cases tried at the last session in which Judge Henry sat shall be argued over again. The sentence in the act of last session specially designed to cover the delivery of judgments in cases in which Judge Henry had sat is:

Any five of the judges of the Supreme Court shall constitute a quorum and may lawfully hold the court, provided always that it shall not be necessary for all the judges who have heard the argument in any case to be present in order to constitute the court for delivery of judgment in such case, but in the absence of any judge, from illness or any other cause, judgment may be delivered by a majority of the judges who were present at the hearing, and in such case it shall not be necessary for five judges to be present at the delivery of such judgment.

It will be noticed that although provision is made for "the absence of any judge from illness or any other cause," nothing is said about the death of a judge, and it is held ta be doubtful whether the words "or any other cause" will cover a case of death. It looks as if there was a strong probability that all the cases will have to be argued again, which will be good for the lawyers but not so amusing for their clients.

Michael McNaughton, doorkeeper of the Privy Council, yesterday celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of his appointment. When he entered the service Sir John Colborne was Governor. Eleven others have come and gone and the thirteenth has just arrived, but "Old Michael" still holds out hale and hearty.

The Railway Committee of the Privy Council will hold their next meeting on June 19, when several cases will be heard.

THE THOMPSON CASE.

The Canadian Foresters Elect Officers—A Clergyman Resigns.

HAMILTON, June 14.—The High Court of Canada, C.O.F., resumed its session and those officers were elected by acclamation: Thomas White, Brantford, High Secretary; John Neelands, Wingham, High Treasurer; Rev. J. Williamson, Arkona, High Chaplain; Dr. U. M. Stanley, Watford, Chairman Medical Board, and George Sinclair, Parkdale, High Registrar.

Past High Chief Ranger Long, who represented the High Court at the annual meeting of the Independent Order of Foresters in Chicago, reported setting forth the cordial relations between the two orders.

London was selected as the next place of meeting.

The detectives are still at work on the Thompson case and appear to think that there is something in the murder theory. Mrs. Rump, who is a stout, good-looking woman about 40 years of age, is still in the cells. Her husband was killed in a sand-pit here several years ago. An application for her release until the conclusion of the inquest was made at the Police Court yesterday, but an injunction was laid against her on which she is still held.

Mrs. Caroline McNeil, wife of John McNeil, started out for a short walk after tea last night. She had gone but a few rods when a blood vessel in her right leg burst and she immediately returned home, where she arrived very weak from loss of blood. Medical skill was of no avail and within a short time she was dead.

The resignation of Rev. C. O. Johnson, from the Methodist ministry was a general topic of conversation yesterday among all classes of church people.

DELIBERATE SUICIDE.

A Passenger on the Corinthian Throws Himself Overboard and Is Drowned.

CORNWALL, June 14.—Yesterday as the steamer Corinthian was nearing the Long Saulte Rapids a man apparently about 34 years old, was seen to get up from his seat and deliberately throw himself overboard. The captain was immediately notified, the steamer stopped, the boats lowered and search commenced for the body, but no trace of him could be found.

A handkerchief was found in the pocket of his coat bearing the letters "V.L." His wife was on board, and upon recognizing the handkerchief went into hysterics and nothing could be learned from him.

The person lost off the steamer Corinthian was Victor Leclaire, of St. Rock, Que.

THE RECENT FULMINATIONS OF THE BISHOP OF LIMERICK.

Honoring Great Men With Cambridge Degrees—Labouchere and Smalley's Letters—The Austrian Derby.

LONDON, June 14.—The Duke of Aosta, I see, is shortly to be married to his niece by virtue of a special dispensation from the Pope, to be obtained by the obsequious Archbishop of Turin. It is rather a strange thing, to my mind, that while the Pope's cardinals are always ready for a good consideration to wink at an unnatural alliance of this kind, our English ecclesiastics have to be absolved by a special clause in the "Deceased Wife's Sister Bill" from the obligation to perform marriages which that bill legitimizes. Our Anglican priesthood are more Catholic than the Catholics themselves. The Due D'Orleans, the eldest son of the Comte de Paris, has joined the Fourth Battalion of the King's Royal Rifles at Chekrata, in India, for the purpose of completing his military education. The highly objectionable arrangement has been made by exalted personages, in opposition to Lord Salisbury, and with reckless disregard of susceptibilities of the French Government and people, which cannot be too severely censured. The betting on the Austrian Derby at Pesth was tremendously heavy this year, and Count Anton Apponzi, who won with Raj Tarajta, had backed his steed with such freedom that he cleared upward of $300,000. The count had a very anxious time of it, as, if Raj Tarajta had been beaten, his losses would have been so great that his estate would have been placed under sequestration. Count Anton, who is very popular in Hungary, burst into tears when the winning horse's number was hoisted and the countess had a mild fit of hysterics. This is what some people call pleasure.

The Oaks, near Epsom, formerly the seat of the Earls of Derby, is to be sold the week after next. It is a fine castellated red brick house, surrounded by a richly timbered park and commands a charming view. During the reign of King William IV. the Oaks was the favorite country residence of Lord Stanley, afterwards Prime Minister, and Mr. Charles Greville, Gen. Anson and half the Whig Cabinet were in the habit of staying there for the Epsom races. Walpole, Lord Hardwick's family seat in Cambridgeshire, is being dismantled and the library, engravings and pictures will be sold at Christie's the week after next. The library, which includes a great number of rare books, was formed by Lord Chancellor Hardwicke. The pictures include many of Sir Joshua's, among them being the celebrated portraits of Philip of Yorke, also notable works by Zucchero, Knellar and Van Dyck. It may be hoped that the picture by Hogarth and Sir James Thornhill, which represents the interior of the House of Commons during a debate in the time of Speaker Onslow and Sir Robert Walpole, will be secured for the National Gallery. LABOUCHERE.

Mr. G. W. Smalley's Letter.

LONDON, June 14.—Once more the scene changes in Ireland and once more it is the Bishop of Limerick who appears as the chief factor in the struggle between the Pope and the League. He has, at last, to speak literally, started that ecclesiastical machinery which grinds so slowly that people began, some to despair of seeing it in motion, some to hope that it would never move. The Bishop has summoned his clergy and admonished them, as the Papal rescript bade him. He has affirmed, with all his Episcopal authority, the binding force of the rescript upon the clergy and people with direct reference to the Plan of Campaign and boycotting. He deals with all the various ingenious pleas and excuses for noncompliance and puts them all aside. The Irish Bishops, he announces, have received an answer to their inquiry whether the Papal condemnation was to be considered conditional or limited by the reasons assigned by Cardinal Monaco, and only to have effect where the circumstances implied in it had been found to exist. The Archbishop of Dublin himself replied that the reasons had nothing to do with the formal operation of the decree, and that boycotting and the Plan of Campaign must be held to stand condemned without condition or limitation.

Further still, "there is," says the Bishop of Limerick, "no difference of opinion among the Irish bishops as to the meaning or binding force of this decree. I am entirely in accord with them." It would follow from this that the Nationalists must forego the comfort they found in the resolutions of the Bishops at their recent meeting. "It is no longer," continues Dr. O'Dwyer, "a matter of opinion. Rome has spoken. Controversy is at an end. I am the accredited mouthpiece of the Pope to his subjects in this diocese." Then he deals at length with the agitation against the decree and denounces those who cry out against the interference of the Pope in politics. The Pope answers: "I do not interfere in politics as such, but I condemn those who corrupt or violate God's law." "For the future," proceeds the Bishop, "you must instruct your flocks that they cannot violate this decree of the Holy Office without sin. You must bring home to their consciences the heinous offence of those Catholics who agitate against it. To say that the Holy Father gave this solemn and unalterable decision in ignorance of the facts is an insult to him. In this diocese that wickedness must cease," and he warns all concerned that disobedience will be followed by excommunication. With all this Dr. O'Dwyer proclaims himself a Nationalist, a Home Ruler and a land reformer who believes that there can be no peace in Ireland till every farmer owns his own farm. But he is a Catholic first and a Nationalist afterward. No London morning paper has found time to express an opinion on this tremendous fulmination, but the leading Nationalist organ at Dublin still refuses to accept the Bishop of Limerick as an authorised expounder of the Pope's views, tells him that his superciliousness has dethroned his reason, and implies that other Bishops must take a different line.

The ceremonies at Cambridge on Scarlet Day are remarkable in more points than one. Conferring a degree on the eldest son of the Prince of Wales is hardly more than a courtier-like civility on the part of the University. The boy's father and mother showed their sense of the compliment by going down to Cambridge to see young Prince Albert Victor receive the degree. The group of grown men on whom the same honor was bestowed was a brilliant one. Lord Salisbury, Lord Selborne, Lord Rosebery, Lord Randolph Churchill, Mr Goschen and Mr. Balfour are all really eminent men. Mr. Raikes is a respectable professor; Mr. Stokes, Lord Rayleigh and the other men of science are all of distinction in one way or another. Observe that among the statesmen and politicians there is but one Home Ruler, Lord Rosebery, and of him The Times says, to the University as to the world at large: "Lord Rosebery, diplomatist and Imperial statesman, is far more important than Lord Rosebery, Home Ruler." The Irish cause is not, perhaps, very popular at Cambridge, but Lord Rosebery was well received, and everybody was well received. Lord Salisbury and Lord Randolph Churchill, who led two different wings of Conservatism, were cheered with equal cordiality.

The Hoppers.

CHICAGO, June 14.—Despatches from several points in Illinois and Iowa say the locusts are not molesting the fruit, grain or vegetables as yet. The only damage done is the killing of young and tender trees.

TRE PRIESTMAN TRAGEDY.

An Innocent Clergyman Gets Run In by the Police.

TORONTO, June 14.—Hon. Chas. Drury, Minister of Agriculture, will address a meeting at Kingston on Friday, under the auspices of the Frontenac Farmers' Institute. Mr. Drury is deluged with applications to address farmers' meetings in all parts of the Province. It is the same with fall shows. The invitations are so numerous that he finds it impossible to accept them all and give proper attention to the work of his department. There seems to be a practically universal desire among the farmers of the country to see what manner of man is the real, live, home-grown farmer, who has been promoted to a place in the Cabinet. Mr. Drury's elevation is a pride and satisfaction to the farmers of the whole country.

The name of Mr. J. M. Ferris, ex-M. P. P., is mentioned for the vacant registrarship of East Northumberland.

According to reports made to the Department of Agriculture, Ontario will be able to make a fine exhibit of minerals at the Cincinnati Exhibition. Considering the time allowed the department the collection that will be made will be fairly representative of the mineral wealth of the Province in all its extent and variety.

County Constable Alexander Smith and his wife, who were arrested last night on a warrant charging them with the murder of Joseph Priestman, jr., in August last, were arraigned in the Police Court yesterday morning. The Crown was not ready to proceed and obtained an adjournment till today. The arrest has created intense excitement and people are eager to hear what evidence the Crown has against the prisoners.

The plasterers' laborers and master plasterers came to a satisfactory arrangement last night, and the strike has therefore been averted for this year at least. The men have agreed to accept the present rate of wages till April 1 next year.

The will of the late James Crowther, barrister, who died in April last, was admitted to probate yesterday. The personal estate is valued at $571,491, which has been willed to the different members of his family.

At the meeting of the Council of the College of Physicians and Surgeons yesterday, a resolution was passed congratulating Sir James Grant, of Ottawa, on the honor conferred on him by Her Majesty. Sir James in his reply stated that he accepted the honor at Her Majesty's hands, not for himself, but as a compliment to the medical profession of Canada.

At a meeting of the congregation of the Bloor-street Presbyterian Church last evening a unanimous call was extended to Rev. W. J. Wallace of Georgetown. The salary is $2,000.

Last night the Methodist clergy of this conference, who were meeting at the Metropolitan Church, were surprised by an announcement made by Rev. Dr. Potts at the close of the proceedings. He said he had a most painful matter to bring under their notice. One of their number, Rev. W. F. Wilson of Davisville, a brother they all knew and esteemed, was seized by a police constable, put in a patrol wagon and taken to the Agnes-street Police Station on a charge of disorderly conduct.

The facts seem to be that the rev. gentleman made an innocent remark to a constable who was talking to a drunken man and with apparently no provocation arrested Mr. Wilson and had him taken to the station. He was immediately bailed, but the episode completely broke up a meeting in Brockton where the rev. gentleman was going to lecture. After Dr. Potts' announcement the following motion was brought up:

"We resent the insult offered Mr. Wilson and through him the whole Methodist body, and we agree that we shall render him every support, financial and otherwise, in this matter and tender him our sympathy under the ordeal."

This was carried unanimously. Many of the members spoke strongly on the subject. It is evident there is a deep feeling aroused among the clergymen who are in the city to attend conference.

The case will be investigated by the Police Commissioners.

MOULTON LADIES' COLLEGE.

What the Baptists are Doing for Higher Education.

TORONTO, June 14.—The conditions upon which Mrs. McMaster relinquishes her interest in the Bloor-street residence of the late Senator are as follows:—

1. "That the entire house, furniture and lot named 34 Bloor-street east, Toronto, shall be used in perpetuity for the exclusive purposes of a ladies' college.

2. "That the institution thus founded be called the Moulton Ladies' College, and that Mrs. McMaster be recognized as its founder.

3. "That the arts and the theological departments of McMaster University be open in perpetuity to the students of the Moulton Ladies' College.

4. "That the salaries of four resident teachers of the Moulton Ladies' College be paid in perpetuity out of the endowment of McMaster University.

5. "That the study of the Bible shall form a part of the course of study taught in said Moulton College, and that no person be eligible to the position of principal, professor or regular teacher in said college who is not a member in good standing of an evangelical Christian church."

To carry out the work of making Woodstock College efficient it has been decided by the Board of Governors of McMaster University that seven teachers at least will be necessary, viz., a principal, a teacher of English, a teacher of mathematics, a teacher of sciences, a teacher of classics, a teacher of modern languages, and a teacher of a preparatory class.

No Opposition Likely in Pictou.

HALIFAX, June 14.—It is now conceded that Hon. C. H. Tupper, Minister of Marine and Fisheries, will be returned for Pictou by acclamation.

Mr. Royal has gone to Ottawa to get his commission as Lieut-Governor of the Northwest.

THE END APPROACHING.

ALL HOPE FOR THE KAISER'S RECOVERY IS ABANDONED.

The Emperor Losing Strength Rapidly—Melancholy Prospect of Death from Starvation—The End Evidently Near.

LONDON, June 14.—The first intimation of the alarming condition of the German Emperor was at Ascot. Four-in-hand coaches from Windsor were sent to Sunnydale Park, where the Prince of Wales is stopping, to take him, the Princess, and their guests to the races. There was a delay for some little time, and then an order was sent out for the drags to return, as the royal party would not go. Their absence and its cause cast a gloom over the entire meeting. It soon became known that His Royal Highness had received a long despatch from Sir Morell Mackenzie, announcing the grave condition of the Emperor, and that the case was hopeless. The despatch was not given out, but its character was stated. Other despatches which were published in the evening papers were reassuring, but the same thing has happened before. At the last crisis, while the published reports stated that no apprehensions were entertained, the Prince of Wales received private despatches from Sir Morell Mackenzie, telling him to prepare for the worst, and that the end was probably near. Last night the British Consul-General at Berlin, who is now here, received a despatch stating that the Emperor was dying of inanition. Another despatch received by an official states that death may take place within thirty hours. The serious state of the case appears, as usual, to be withheld from public announcement. The Times' Berlin correspondent telegraphs that there is great uneasiness in the capital. It was rumored two days ago that an opening had appeared between the windpipe and the œsophagus, and this is now confirmed by the doctors. Liquid nourishment thus passes into the trachea, producing coughing and choking. The taking of food thus becomes difficult and repugnant. Nourishment can now be administered only through a tube, and the patient is afflicted with nausea. His Majesty is losing strength rapidly. He was on the palace terrace, however, yesterday afternoon, and at 4.30 received the Crown Princess. He changed for the worse in the evening and became very feverish. Dr. Von Bardeleben arrived at the castle at 10 o'clock and with Drs. Von Leyden and Krause remained with the patient all night. The only prospect is the melancholy one of death from starvation, though the misery is mitigated as far as possible by the use of morphine.

A despatch to The Central News from Berlin says the condition of the Emperor has become worse, and his case is now admitted to be hopeless.

A DOUBLE EXECUTION.

Two Half-breeds Hung Yesterday at Regina for the Murder of McLeish.

WINNIPEG, June 14.—Guddy and Racette, the half-breeds who murdered McLeish at Qu'Appelle, and were extradited from Montana, whence they fled, were hanged this morning at Regina, the Government having refused to exercise executive clemency.

Racette bore the ordeal pretty well but Guddy was completely prostrated and it is believed he actually died before the death trap fell. Racette said on the scaffold he was innocent of the crime and didn't deserve to have the rope put round his neck. He claimed he didn't have a fair trial, and asserted he was not afraid to die. He said he had no chance at his trial to explain. It was not his fault that McLeish was killed and he prayed to God for the forgiveness of those who sentenced him to death. Both died without a struggle. Racette's strangulation caused a great amount of bleeding.

Italy and Ironclads.

ROME, June 14.—The Minister of Marine, replying to questions in the Chamber of Deputies yesterday, contended that the day of great ironclads was not passed. He said it was idle to assert that henceforth cruisers and torpedo boats would be exclusively used. The invention of new projectiles proved the necessity for powerful ironclads. The speed of some ships in the Italian navy had been excelled by foreign vessels, but the Italia and the Lepanto remained the swiftest ships in the world.

Floods in Minnesota.

DELUTH, Minn., June 14.—Not only is there no abatement of the St. Louis river flood, but the situation grows more serious every hour and the impression deepens that a great catastrophe to Cloquet and its lumbering districts will occur. The water rose over a foot yesterday and it is still rising. If the jam breaks the logs will carry away all the houses on the island, twenty-five or thirty in number, and probably Nelson's mill. It rained hard last night.

A Jealous Boulangist.

PARIS, June 14.—Commandant Herriott, a warm advocate of the Boulangist cause, during a fit of mental aberration yesterday shot his young wife and then shot himself. Both are in a critical condition. Madame Herriott was formerly a shop girl. It is supposed the motive for the act was jealousy, although Madame Herriott had been an attentive and untiring nurse during her husband's illness.

National Leaguers Arrested.

LONDON, June 14.—Several members of the Irish National League have been arrested in Ireland. The arrests were the result of secret inquiries. Some of the persons taken into custody were charged with declining to give evidence at the trials of various offenders.

Preparing for a Siege.

PARIS, June 14.—President Carnot, at M. de Freycinet's suggestion, has appointed a commission to study the best means of supplying provisions to civilians in fortified places in time of war.

THE PRESIDENTIAL CONTEST

THE contest for the Presidency of the United States of America has been begun and as soon as the Republicans choose their candidates it will become warm. In again nominating Mr. Cleveland, with Mr. Thurman for the second place, the Democrats have placed a strong team in the field and the prospect for their election, it must be admitted, looks promising. Of course much depends upon the choice the Republicans will make, and although many names are mentioned the choice of the convention cannot be predicted with any certainty. If Mr. Blaine, of Maine, had not positively declined the honor there is scarcely any doubt that he would have been the candidate, by an almost unanimous vote. But his refusal to again bear the banner of the party leaves the way open for the many aspirants to try their chances. In the New York district Mr. Chauncey M. Depew, President of the New York Central Railway and a clever politician, appears to be the favorite, while Mr. Sherman, Judge Gresham and others have their friends, but others are looking out for the "dark horse."

The tariff will doubtless be the chief political question at issue, unless it should be obscured by personal questions that may arise, and it is to be hoped that the contest will be less personal than the last one. Slander is poor campaign material and a campaign of slander does a country impury. But on the tariff question, which will probably be the great one, the parties are not so radically opposed to each other as a casual observer of politics across the line might think. The Republicans wish to maintain a high tariff, while the Democrats believe it is too high and that it should be cut down. Neither party, however, proposes free trade, and the Democrats have placed on record their desire, while lowering the duties, to maintain sufficient protection, so that manufacturing would not be injured nor wages affected. The Democrats party does, however, advocate the free admitance of many natural products that their opponents still wish to keep on the taxed list.

The fisheries treaty may also play a part in the election in some quarters. The opposition of the Republicans to the ratification of the treaty is made for party purposes. Candid men must see the fairness of the treaty, but partisan attacks upon the Cleveland Administration will be made on account of it, just as partisans assailed the Macdonald Government because it had endorsed the treaty.

As the Presidential contest proceeds interest will be felt as to the position of the Mugmumps—the Republicans who gave their support to Cleveland as against Blaine. With Blaine out of the way some of them might find an excuse for returning to the Republicans, but if civil service reform was the chief reason for their defection consistency would probably keep them in the ranks of Cleveland's supporters. Mr. Cleveland has not satisfied them in this matter, but they could scarcely expect a Republican Administration to go as far in the direction advocated by them, unless there was a great change in the party. As to their action, however, we presume much depends upon whom the Republicans nominate.

There are other candidates in the field, including Gen. Fiske, the Prohibitionist nominee, but as none of the candidates will have a shadow of chance for election, except the standard bearers of the two great parties, the only interest attached to the other parties is in regard to how much strength they will draw from the Democrats or Republicans.

DRIVES.—The drives are all passed our village now. Dave and Allen are hustlers. The boys belonging to Dave's drive had a dance in the hall the night before they moved down stream. It passed off quietly and pleasantly. They kept it up till morning and if some of the lads did not take their best girls home its none of our business.

THE ROADS.—Road work should have commenced Thursday, but owing to something amiss or missing, it has been put off a few days.

COWS KILLED.—We had a splendid rain on the 6th, which was needed. It was, however, unfortunate for Mr. Hines, of Chandos, who had two fine cows killed by the lightning.

BOOMING.—Building operations are booming here this summer. Some buildings are in course of erection and another hotel is spoken of. It is needed, but, maybe it is only talk.

ROAD COMMISSIONER.—The faithful are wondering who is the man for road commissioner. Go slow for a while; perhaps you may hear something soon.

STRUCK BY LIGHTNING.—Mr. A. Wilson, of the east road, lost a sheep by lightning during the last storm.

ORANGE PICNIC.—On July 12th, L.O.L. No. 1072 will hold a picnic in Lean's grove, where addresses will be delivered. A competent committee, composed of Messrs. T. McIlmoyl, Z. Tucker, R. Elmhirst and R. Hales, has charge of the arrangements.

FIRE.—Our village has been visited by the fire fiend. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Stevens were suddenly awakened about 1 o'clock Sunday morning, June 10th, to find their dwelling in flames, and had barely time to dress and carry out the baby in the cradle and their three year old boy in his nightdress. Everything except a sewing machine and feather tick was consumed. No insurance on furniture. The building, one of if not the oldest in this part, was owned by Mr. McIlmoyle, of Peterborough, on which there was some insurance. The cause of the fire is a mystery, there having been no fire in the house after seven in the evening and it certainly originated in the back part, which had not been occupied for some time. Mr. and Mrs. Stevens have the sympathy of the whole community, being liked and respected by all. They are for the present with Mr. Anderson, C. I. Agent, near whom they lived and who kindly made room for them.

SCHOOL BOARD.—A special meeting of the Lakefield Public School Board was held in the Council Chamber on Friday, June 8th. All the members were present, and T. Gordon in the chair. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and confirmed. The report of the Head Master for April and May was read and received. A report of the County School Inspector was also read and received. The total number on the roll for April was 277, and the average attendance 209. For May the number on the roll was 282, and the average attendance 212. A communication was read from the Head Master in reference to children breaking glass in the school. He was instructed to enforce School Act in connection therewith. It was moved by Mr. David Smith, and seconded by Wm. Graham,—That the secretary be instructed to advertise for tenders for painting the inside of the school during the holidays, with white lead and oil, and with colors as may be decided on by the Property Committee. Sealed tenders to be opened at the regular meeting in July.—Carried. Moved by Mr. Geo. Cochrane, and seconded by Mr. R. Q. Dench, —That there be a well sunk in the south east corner of school lot.—Carried. Moved by Mr. Dench, and seconded by Mr. W. Graham,—That we ask the council to borrow for the school Board the sum of $400, and the same to be placed to the credit of the school board. Moved by Mr. Geo. Cochrane, and seconded by Mr. David Smith,—That in future all the ashes be sown on the school grounds by the janitor in the month of May each year.—Carried. Moved by Mr. Geo. Cochrane, and seconded by Mr. Wm. Abbott,—That this board do now adjourn, and dispense with the regular meeting in June. —Carried.

LAKEFIELD CEMETERY.—The annual meeting of the Trustees of the Lakefield Cemetery was held on June 11th in the office of the Secretary, Mr. Samuel Sherin. Present, Messrs. Isaac Garbutt, sr., J. C. Sherin, Samuel McKibbon and S. Davis. Moved by Mr. Isaac Garbutt, sr., and seconded by Mr. J. C. Sherin, that Mr. S. McKibbon be chairman.—Carried. Moved by Mr. Isaac Garbutt, sr., and seconded by Mr. S. Davis,—That the Treasurer pay Mr. R. Ray $50.00, balance of purchase money for the acre of land to enlarge the cemetery, and that the deed be registered.—Carried. It was moved in committee of the whole that Messrs. Davis, Sherin, McKibbon and Garbutt, be a committee to have drains dug and fences repaired around the cemetery, during the month of September next.—Carried. Moved and seconded,—That the graves be cut and removed, under the supervision of Mr. S. McKibbon.—Carried. The meeting then adjourned.

CHEMICALLY PURE Drugs at Henderson's Parmacy.

A HANDSOME JEWEL.—The presentation jewel which was given by the Lakefield District L. O. L. to Mr. J. B. McWilliams, Past C. M., has been greatly beautified by the addition of a handsome solid gold wreath. We believe the jewel to be the most handsome, of its kind in the county.

COURT OF REVISION.—On Monday evening the Council sat as a Court of Revision. Present: Mr. W. H. Casement, Reeve, Councillors Henderson and Nelson. Dr. Bell, clerk, stated that no appeals against the assessment had been received. Moved by Councillor Nelson, seconded by Councillor Henderson,—That whereas as no appeals have been received, that the assessors roll as returned be accepted and adopted.—Carried. Moved by Councillor Henderson, seconded by Councillor Nelson,—That the Court of Revision do now adjourn sine die. The Court was then dissolved and a meeting of the Council called.

COUNCIL MEETING.—Present: the Reeve, Councillors Nelson and Henderson. The minutes of the last regular meeting and a special meeting were read and confirmed. A communication was read from the Secretary of the Lakefield School Board, asking that the sum of $400 be placed to the credit of the Board to meet current expenses. The Reeve stated that the deputation appointed by the Council to interview the Commissioner of Crown Lands, asking that 66 feet along the river bank be deeded to the village, had interviewed that gentleman, and he had promised to appoint a valuator to inspect said street and report. Moved by Councillor Henderson and seconded by Councillor Nelson,—That the communication of Mr. W. McDonald, Secretary of the School Board, be received and referred to the Finance Committee.—Carried. Councillor Henderson read the following report of the Road and Sidewalk Committee:—

To the Reeve and Councillors of the Municipality of Lakefield:

GENTLEMEN,—Messrs. Ranney and Ludgate have asked your Committee to advance the sum of $100 on their contract for completing a map of the village, your Committee recommend the payment of said sum.

S. HENDESSON, Chairman.

The report was on motion received. Moved by Councillor Henderson and seconded by Councillor Nelson,—That the following accounts be received and paid, and that the Reeve do issue his order on the treasurer for the same:—

Ranney & Ludgate, map	$100 00
D. Arnott, supplies	9 70
J. Jones, water closets	2 00

and that the pay sheets, Nos. 1, 2, 3 and 4 for wages be confirmed.—Carried.

Moved by Councillor Nelson, seconded by Councillor Henderson,—That this Council do grant the sum of $25.00, to be supplemented by a further sum of the same amount by Messrs. R. & G. Strickland to the Peterborough Fire Brigade as a light token of our appreciation of the prompt manner in which they responded to our call for assistance and rendered efforts on our behalf at the late fire in the lumber yard, and that the clerk be instructed to convey to them a copy of this motion with the Reeve's cheque.—Carried. A sum of $15.00 was also granted to pay for the supper served to the brigade and trainmen. Councillor Moore took his seat.

Mr. I. Garbutt in addressing the council, stated that Mr. Lefevre, Mr. Galvin and himself had been appointed a committee to wait upon them asking that the council enter into the agreement made by the last council to pay to the Smith, Ennismore and Lakefield Agricultural Society the yearly grant of $24.00. Mr. Galvin also addressed the council and pointed out the advantage it would be to the village to have the annual show permanently established here. The Reeve said the matter would receive the attention of the Finance Committee.

By-law No. 142 to borrow $400 to meet current expenses for the Lakefield School Board, received its several readings, was passed, and sealed and signed by the Reeve and Clerk. Councillor Nelson suggested that something be done to protect the village from fire and advocated a speedy settlement of the question. The village should either have a fire engine or waterworks. Councillor Henderson said he would prefer the latter as the most efficient means. Councillor Nelson: Will you undertake to raise that $40 to meet the cost of submitting the waterworks by-law within the next few days? Councillor Henderson said he would, and suggested that the Reeve accompany him on his canvass. The Reeve said he would not do that as he considered that the council should submit the by-law without calling on the people in that way to pay for it. Councillor Moore thought that an engine would meet the requirements of the village. He thought than an engine would satisfy the outsiders. After considerable discussion the following motion was moved:—

Moved by Councillor Henderson, seconded by Councillor Moore,—That Councillors Hull, Nelson, Moore and the Clerk (Dr. Bell), be a committee to get all information possible concerning fire steam engines suitable for this village and lay such information before the council.—Carried. The Council then adjourned.

In brief and to the Point.

Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered livers misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature.

The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existance. It is easily put out of order.

Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this sad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

Remember:—No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings health and happiness to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy-five cents.

SCHOOL CONCERT.—A grand public school concert will be held in Allendale Town Hall on Friday evening next, June 15th, by the school children assisted by local and foreign talent.

NAVIGATION.—The steamer Beaver (Capt. Harris) was in on Tuesday last when arrangements were made for the Union Sunday School Picnic to take place in a short time.

I. O. G. T.—The Keene Temple has arranged for a grand concert on Wednesday next, June 20th. Along with local talent Mr. R. M. Roy, of Peterborough, is expected.

PERSONAL.—Messrs. Tucker and Bryce left on Monday for Burleigh, where they intend to build a new barn for Mr. Tucker. ....Mr. Robt. McCamus is building some barns in the western part of Otonabee.... Mr. A. A. McIntyre is at Westwood, where he is to build an extensive barn for Mr. Geo. Read....Mr. Jas. Bryce is rushing Mr. Read's new house just north of Mr. Cruickshank's blacksmith shop in Keene....Miss Gallon is very low with paralysis. There is not much hope for her as she is well up in years.

METHODIST.—Rev. Mr. McFarlane of Lakefield, comes to Keene and the Rev. Mr. Johnson goes to Lakefield.

WEDDINGS.—On Wednesday last at noon Miss Mary McNeil, fourth daughter of the late Peter McNeil, was married at the homestead to Mr. R. Skinney formerly of Campbellford. Rev Mr. Andrews officiated. The happy couple left on the afternoon train for the East, followed by the best wishes of a large circle of friends.

On Wednesday afternoon, at the residence of her father, Mr. Geo. Taylor, Mrs. Thos. Stewart was married to Mr. Henry Wilson, of Tillbury Centre, County Kent. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr. Johnson and took place on the lawn, after which the large gathering of friends sat down to a sumptuous dinner. We join the numerous friends of both the happy couples in wishing them a long and happy life.

BOATING.—Boating is very popular at present as several new boats have been brought here this spring.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria,
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria,
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria,
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

Bricklayers' and Masons' Union
No. 12, Peterborough.

To the Architects and Builders of the Town of Peterborough.

GENTLEMEN.—The members of the Bricklayers' and Masons' Union, No. 12, Peterborough, have decided to take no sub-contracts after the 1st day of June, 1888. We take this step, believing it to be to the interest of Architects and Proprietors of buildings, to deal directly with us, and not, as heretofore, letting our branch of work to Carpenters, and then have them sub-let it to us, frequently at a loss to owners of buildings through inferior material being used to secure the carpenter a profit. We therefore consider it would be to the interest of all concerned, to have each trade control its own line of work.

Signed on behalf of the Union,
J. J. HARTLEY, President.
GEO. ROSE, Vice-President.

HOUSEFURNISHINGS.

At this season many Housekeepers are replenishing their supplies of Tableware and China. City folk are furnishing summer cottages; country folk are filling up the dressers and cupboards of the old homestead; town's folk are picking and choosing here and there. Many would be glad to know of a place whose special business is to meet these wants and desires; that aims to furnish essentially good wares at consistently low prices; that offers the choice of many different dinner services, and yet does not compel you to take an entire set of any pattern, but allow you to select each course of a new design, or buy any portion of the set you may need; that does not try to impose ideas or wares upon purchasers, and yet is ready to advise which of the many wares is most desirable and suitable; and, if wished, will make a careful selection of pattern. When you want Tablewear will you give us the opportunity to serve you.

'Prentice Boys.

The Grand Lodge of 'Prentice Boys concluded their session at Toronto on Wednesday evening. It was decided to hold the next annual meeting of the Grand Lodge at Peterborough, on the second Tuesday in June, 1889. Mr. M. A. Jamieson, of Peterborough, was elected Assistant Grand Secretary.

Runaways.

On Wednesday afternoon there were two runaways on Simcoe-st. near Bethune. Two single rigs were being driven along when the whistle of a G.T.R. locomotive frightened them. Both dashed into the neighboring lumber yard. One horse ran to the end of the yard, but the other stopped after upsetting some planks. Very little damage was done.

Speak Now.

Some weeks ago the G. T. R. offered to grade Smith and Benson-sts., free of cost to the town, provided they were given the right to use the earth. No action has yet been taken and unless something is done very soon, the company will withdraw the offer and put on a ballast train and if they do so the town will lose a splendid opportunity of getting a necessary work well done, free of charge.

Dominion Day

The complete programme for the great celebration here on Dominion Day has been prepared. The physiogs will be something immense and amusing. For the horse races all the leading fliers in the district will enter. The deer and fox hunts will be entirely new features. Full particulars will be given to the public in a few days, when they will see the finest bill of fare ever offered in this section of the province. The committees and secretary are working night and main and the whole affair will doubtless, be as all such demonstrations here are, a huge success. Watch for full particulars and keep your eyes on the papers for additional attractions.

Sporting Notes.

Peterborough baseballers will play a game at Port Hope, on Friday, with a Port Hope-Cobourg team, that will soon play a game with Belleville.... Quite a number of the bicyclists were out last night.... The members of the boating and canoeing clubs are practising regularly each night for the coming races.... About a dozen horses are being trained at the Driving Park.... "Sleepy Dan" is at Montreal, where he will trot next week.... A number of Peterborough sports were present at the Woodbine races, Toronto, on Wednesday.... On Monday evening next the Y. M. C. A. and Aetna Lacrosse clubs will have a practise match on the P. A. A. A. grounds. The Y. M.C.A. lacrosse team left for Lindsay this morning where they play the Y.M.C.A. team of that place.... The Lindsay cricketers are expected to play here on Saturday.

Exhibition Drill.

An exhibition drill by the pupils (girls and boys to the number of 160) of the Institute, will be given in the Charlotte-st. skating rink on Friday evening, June 15th, at 8 o'clock. A splendid programme will be presented. Fire Brigade Band present. To raise funds for fife and drum band. Admission 10 cents. 5d136

A Grant of $25.00.

At the last meeting of the Lakefield Village Council a grant of $25.00 was made, to be tendered the Peterborough Fire Brigade as some slight token of appreciation of the prompt manner in which they had responded to the call from Lakefield for assistance to fight the fire on Sunday night last. It was understood that the Messrs. Strickland would supplement the above sum with $25.00, which has been received.

THE clearing sale of Dry Goods at Dawson Bros. old stand, Hunter-st., will only continue for four days longer and during this time every line will be sacrificed. Come and secure some of the bargains. F. S. GOULD, Agent.

Personal.

At the recent examinations in Toronto University, Mr. F. C. Armstrong, a former pupil of the Collegiate Institute, stood first in 1st class honors in English and Italian, second in 1st class in French and German, beside taking first class in history.

Mr. Henderson, M. P. East Halton, is in town on private business. Mayor Stevenson took charge of him and showed him the sights during the afternoon. He speaks highly of Peterborough and the rapid strides it is making.

Complimentary.

The High School Inspector, at the Board meeting on Wednesday afternoon, said that he was present at the drilling of the pupils in the morning. He was surprised and delighted, and he paid a high compliment to the efficiency displayed by all and to the instructor, Sergeant-Major Rundle, whom he regarded as the equal of the celebrated Captain Clark, of Guelph, who has been heard of all over the Province. The Inspector also suggested that the course of drill be extended to the common schools as well.

The Life of the Play.

Those who enjoy a good thing should see Emmet, the famous actor in "Fritz, Our Cousin German," at the Opera House, Monday evening, June 18th. The Boston Journal says:—"The bright, merry face of Fritz, Our Cousin German, appeared before the large gathering of spectators in the Boston Theatre last night, and the clever, good-hearted German lad was again carrying on his honest ways. Emmet never seems to grow old. His step is as light, his voice as gay and his face as young as ever. In Fritz he has a part fully suiting him. He is able to picture most excellently the noble man who sacrificed his own fortune that his brother may be happy with that wealth, and who even gives up without a murmur to that same brother the girl whom he loves, because he thinks she loves him. But when events bring around the happy settlement which everyone desires, there is a feeling of pleasure to see 'our Fritz' still unspoiled by prosperity. He is jolly and happy; he is sorrowful and downcast; but at all times he is the friend of all and all are his friends. The songs that he sings are no small addition to the enjoyment of the auditors. Pleasing in their melody, they are still more captivating by the cheery manner of their rendering, for Fritz dancing about the stage, smiling and gesturing as he warbles, will carry any song home to his listener. He was the life of the play." 1d139

George-st. Methodist Church.

At the regular prayer meeting in the George-st. Methodist Church on Wednesday evening, Miss Cartmell, returned missionary from Japan, who represented the Woman's Foreign Missionery Society of the Methodist Church, gave an address on mission work in Japan. She spoke of the customs and habits of the Japanese, of the progress of the mission work and of the need for sending the Gospel to that people. She also exhibited some curious articles used by the Japanese. At the close of the meeting Mr. D. W. Dumble, Recording Steward of the church, explained to the members of the congregation present matters regarding the pastorate. He explained that the Official Board having invited the Rev. James Allen, M. A. to be their pastor, they had done all they could to influence the Stationing Committee to send him here. The Committee, however, did not accede to their wishes, but the fact that Mr. Allen had been assigned to one of the most important fields of labor in the connexion proved the wisdom of the action of the Board. The Rev. M. L. Pearson, President of the Conference, had been assigned to this church. The reports regarding Mr. Pearson were most favorable. The church at Lindsay had prospered under his charge and every one in that town spoke highly of him. While they did not feel satisfied with the action of the Committee in not acceding to their request, it would be against the interests of the church and their interests as individuals to harbor any feeling, and it would be best to join with their coming pastor in the work of the church. At the same times they did not give up the principle that the Board should have a voice in the selection of the pastor and they would still maintain that principle.

INSTITUTE OR HIGH SCHOOL?

The Inspector Addresses the Board of Education on an Important Topic

A special meeting of the members of the Board of Education was held at the Collegiate Institute on Wednesday afternoon. Chairman Stevenson presided and the others present were Messrs. Dumble, Hill, O'Meara, English, Wrighton, A. Rutherford, Weir, Stratton and Denne.

The Chairman in opening the proceedings stated that the meeting was called at the request of Mr. J. E. Hodgeson High School Inspector who had expressed a wish to meet the members and talk over school matters.

Mr. Hodgeson said that he was present under instructions from the Minister of Education and he had the full power of an Inspector. He came to visit the Institute and report on its qualifications and equipment in connection with Institute standing. All Institutes must come up to the proper standing, with the alternative of going back to a High School. Upon examination he found the building the worst arranged in the Province, of any with Institute pretensions. The library, apparatus and maps, are fully up to the requirements of the regulations. With regard to accommodation, taking 1 as the highest and 4 as the lowest, he had marked as follows:—Water supply 3, water closets 2, grounds 0, building 3, class rooms 4 and halls 0. There are no halls and rooms are only reached by passing through other rooms. A room for pupils to practice chemical experiments is necessary. There are no waiting rooms, gymnasium or cap rooms. Teachers' rooms 3, desks 3. Desks are fairly good, but they should be single instead of double. Blackboards 2, lighting 4, heating 2 and ventilation 3. Under these circumstances he would be compelled to vote against the report. The staff he found to be more satisfactory than ever before.

Mr. WRIGHTON said that Mr. Hodgeson was here three years ago and at that time gave a vastly different report to the one just read.

Mr. HODGESON explained that then the points enumerated were not taken into consideration and the annual grants to all Institutes were about the same, but now the government had decided to raise the standard and all Institutes must come up to it or go back.

THE CHAIRMAN said that it was the intention to build a gymnasium during the coming vacation. He thought the town would rather see the school go back to a High School than incur the great expense of a new institute. The present building had been used for thirty years and on no occasion had there been complaints against the halls and other things spoken of today.

Mr. DUMBLE could not understand what was wrong with the grounds. We had the finest park in the country just in front of the school and the pupils can use it at any time.

Mr. HODGESON said the park was one of the finest he had seen and he would not press that point. The building looks well enough outside, but inside the rooms are not easy of access and ventilation is poor. The town had grown lately and should follow Lindsay's example and erect a building worthy of her importance.

Mr. DUMBLE was not anxious for an Institute, which he considered simply to be a place for educating farmers' sons and daughters, as teachers, at the expense of the ratepayers of the town, while the County Council refused to contribute one cent. He thought it best to give the boys and girls a good English education and plenty of fresh air and healthy exercise.

Messrs. Wrighton, Rutherford and Denne felt confident that the ratepayers would not vote $30,000 to erect a new building, while Mr. Stratton took an opposite view, stating that he was prepared to run for Mayor of Peterborough against any other man in it with that as one of the principal planks in his platform.

Mr. DUMBLE said that the Institute should be a separate building. The present structure could be ventilated and the hallways changed.

Mr. ENGLISH was of the opinion that if the school was reduced to the status of a High School there would not be any Government grant either, without spending money.

Mr. HODGESON said the grant would not be as much as if the building was properly equipped for a High School. In his report he would point out the defects and let the Minister decide on a course of action. Light should be let in from the left and rear. His report would be in in about ten days. The present building could be improved, but as he was not an architect he would not estimate the cost. He highly recommended the Smead system of heating and ventilating. Each pupil should have at least 250 feet of air space exclusive of aisle room and the space occupied by platforms.

Mr. WRIGHTON pointed out that it was the intention to have a gymnasum at the drill shed which would fill all the requirements.

Mr. HODGESON thought that the drill shed was too far away and that too much time would be lost in going to and coming from it.

Mr. RUTHERFORD was of opinion that if the suggestions of the inspector were carried out regarding halls, hat rooms, etc., all would be well.

Mr. HODGESON found the greatest fault with the internal arrangements. The others are of minor importance.

After some desultory discussion the meeting adjourned, Mr. Dumble remarking that in the words of Mr. Mowat "the Board will give the matter their most serious consideration."

C. L. R. R.

The track of the Chemong Lake R. R. is now being graded across Smith-st. Things are in an awful mess and it is almost impossible to cross the street. Underneath are three large culverts. The street at this point will have to be raised about seven feet to get a level crossing.

Lights Required.

The police should see that a light is placed on Charlotte-st. at night, at the place where the sidewalk is torn up. There is a large foot passenger traffic and on Wednesday evening there were several narrow escapes. Another bad spot is on Smith-st. at the new railway crossing. The street is almost impassable and there is no light within a block.

University Graduates.

Among those who were honored with the degree of M. A. at the commencement of Toronto University were Mr. F. Sanderson, B.A., a former student of the Peterborough Collegiate Institute and now Actuary of the Manufacturers Life Insurance Co., Toronto, and Mr. T. A. Rowan, who for a short time taught in the Institute. Among those who were awarded the degree of B. A. were Messrs. J. D. Graham and E. L. Police Uniforms.

The police donned their new uniforms this morning. They are of the regulation blue color. The coats are short, square cut fastened with hooks and eyes and buttoned close up to the neck without any collar. Small buttons are put on for ornaments. Shoulder straps bear the numbers. The trousers have wide white stripes. They were manufactured by Messrs. T. Dolan & Co. and are a credit to the makers. The cost of the four suits was $94.

The C. P. R. Switch.

Government Engineer Ridout, Mayor Stevenson, and Messrs. Hazlitt, E. Green, W. English and John Douglas visited the site of the proposed C. P. R. switch up the river bank this morning. Mr. Ridout was sent here for the purpose of reporting to the government which was the best route to take. Matters were simply talked over and this afternoon Engineer Hirchburg, of the C. P. R., is with the party, who are on the spot discussing the matter from all its different standpoints.

"I can readily understand your being a trifle incredulous, Mary," said Steve. Hopole to his sister, "nice things, such as our table shows, generally cost some considerable money. I sent the lot home yesterday, and I'm rather proud of my buying. The dinner service is ample, very strong, and I found it really cheap. The glass is not the best but good enough for us. The few silver things are the prettiest I've seen and the finish is as good as if they cost hundreds. Don't distress yourself, dear girl, about extravagance. When we can go to China Hall and buy what is pretty and neat for so little money I'd hate to deprive you of the pleasure of having the things about. How Mr. Wilson manages to sell so cheaply I don't know, but the facts are enough for me. Let us have dinner.

ay do for a stupid boy's excuse; but hat can be said for the parent who is his child languishing daily and fails recognize the want of a tonic and lood-purifier? Formerly, a course of itters, or sulphur and molasses, was ge le in well-regulated families; but now l intelligent households keep Ayer's arsaparilla, which is at once pleasant the taste, and the most searching and ffective blood medicine ever discovered.

Nathan S. Cleveland, 27 E. Canton st., oston, writes: "My daughter, now 21 ears old, was in perfect health until a ear ago when she began to complain of atigue, headache, debility, dizziness ndigestion, and loss of appetite. I con- luded that all her complaints originated n impure blood, and induced her to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This medicine soon estored her blood-making organs to healthy action, and in due time reestablished her former health. I find Ayer's Sarsaparilla a most valuable remedy for the lassitude and debility incident to spring time."

J. Castright, Brooklyn Power Co., Brooklyn, N. Y., says: "As a Spring Medicine, I find a splendid substitute for the old-time compounds in Ayer's Sarsaparilla, with a few doses of Ayer's Pills. After their use, I feel fresher and stronger to go through the summer."

MONA'S CHOICE.

BY MRS. ALEXANDER.

The walked along a path leading into the woods in silence for a few minutes. At length Mona asked—

"And what does Evelyn say?"

"Oh, nothing particular. She is still in a fool's paradise. They are not going to Strathairlie, because they want to show off the son and heir in Cumberland. They are to have a large party, and want me to go; but that is impossible. I must look after Fitzallan; and that brings me to what I want to say. Don't run away with the notion you can marry Fitzallan."

"Marry Fitzallan!" repeated Mona, amazed. "What an extraordinary idea!"

"Not at all. Don't fly off at a tangent. Of course it is perfectly natural you should try to get a good settlement. It would be a famous match; but I can't allow it!"

Mona paused, leaned against a tree, and laughed heartily.

"If I could keep my countenance, I should be angry with you, Bertie! The determination people seem to have that I shall marry some one or other is absurd."

"But I am determined you shall not marry Fitzallan. Don't you know that, after him, my father is heir to the earldom, and after him your humble servant. Now Fitz was born an idiot, and hasn't improved his brains by hard drinking. His father, Lord Lynebridge, won't give him a penny. Someone has to go about with him, or he would destroy himself in a few months. He proposes for every woman he meets. We had an awful row last April with a girl at a luncheon-bar at Willesden or Ealing, or some such place. He is a harmless creature, but his father will not give him a sou, and he does not want him to marry. It would be a splendid match for you, but you see he has been so queer, I believe we could break it, so it will not do to attempt such a hazard."

"Listen, Bertie. What have you ever seen in me to induce you to think of warning me in this insulting manner? Marry Lord Fitzallan! Why, I would almost rather," she paused and looked at her kinsman from head to foot, "I would almost rather marry you."

"Well, you speak plain enough."

"Yes. I will always speak to you in your own style. What are you—any of you, to me? I want nothing from you. I can supply my own wants, and I have not the smallest ambition to belong to you in any way. I never seek you, and if you ceased to recognize me it would not cause me the smallest annoyance."

"Oh! but I like to talk to you. If I ever could make such an ass of myself as to fall in love, I should fall in love with you."

Mona laughed merrily at this avowal.

"Come, let us go back," she said. "You are by no means agreeable. I really regret not having a sympathetic companion this beautiful evening."

"Ay, I dare say you would prefer Lisle now?"

"Yes; a good deal more. He knew how to mask his selfishness, which is all one expects from an every-day acquaintance."

"I think, Mona, I shall cut you in future."

"As you please. I am quite ready to second your efforts. Here is young Mr. Clapton, he will walk back with me. Well, Mr. Clapton, I think we are going to have another cloudless day to-morrow. Is your sister inclined to make a set at tennis? I think my uncle will not want me in the afternoon."

And the hobbledehoy, well-pleased to be in attendance on Miss Craig, who was now considered "the glass of fashion, and the mold of form," walked back to the park on one side of Mona, while Everard sulked at the other.

The following day was dry and fine, and the projected tennis match came off very successfully. Mona, and Miss Clapton, her brother, and an Anglomaniac French count, short, stout, and extremely puffy.

Lord Fitzallan appeared in an elegant suit of flannels, and picturesque cap; but he served so badly, and so constantly missed his balls, that he soon declared the heat was too much for him, and he subsided on a bench beside Uncle Sandy, who had so improved in health and spirits that he even confessed to a certain interest in the game, and confided to Lord Fitzallan his conviction that, had he not been such a "frail body" he would have played "fine."

Mona observed that her uncle and Lord Fitzallan gradually got into evidently deep conversation; but she did not take much notice of them, as the game was interesting and the Frenchman played better than usual.

Mr. Craig was rather silent all the evening, and retired to rest even earlier than usual; but he was more gracious than his wont, and there was a tone of veiled superiority in his voice when he spoke to Everard.

"Mona," said her uncle, when, after the matutinal water-drinking and douche, etc., etc., next day, she went at noon to administer a biscuit and a glass of wine—"I have something to say to you, my dearie. Sit ye doon."

"Very well, uncle," taking her place beside him on the sofa. "What is it?"

"A varra serious matter, which I hope you'll take in a serious spirit."

"This sounds serious."

"It's just extremely gratifying, as I think you'll say. That young nobleman has been talking varra seriously to me. He is an honest-like chiel, and he tells me he is varra deep in love wi' you, Mona, and he asked my consent in very proper language. I said I would speak to you, and lay the matter fair before you; but that I begged him not to address you till I had explained a bit, for I am no that sure how you would take it. But I hope you will hear reason, for I should like to see you a countess, my bonnie bird, before I died, in spite o' that conceited ape Everard, and his schemes."

"And Lord Fitzallan actually proposed for me!" exclaimed Mona, much amused. "Why, uncle, you would not care to see me enrolled among the aristocrats for whom you have so much contempt—and then there is Kenneth! What is to become of him?"

"Aweel, you see, I canna turn things upside doon, whatever my convictions may be; so while these rideec'lous distinctions continue, it's no so bad to have a share o' them. As to Kenneth," he waved his hand, "you say yourself he does na care for ye. We could find him another wife; and as my lord doesna want ony portion wi' you, I could give a' to Kenneth."

"I am sure you and Lord Fitzallan are very good in arranging for my future; but do you know that Lord Fitzallan is in the habit of proposing for every woman he meets, whether in a ball-room or behind a counter?—that he is a half-witted drunkard, only kept within decent bounds by the watchful care of his family?—that he has not a farthing he can call his own, and his father will not continue his allowance if he marries? Do you know all this?"

"Naw!" exclaimed Uncle Sandy, "and I will not believe it. He told me he was ready to make handsome settlements; to have the family diamonds re-set for you; to have a couple o' rooms always ready for me at Fitzallan Towers, for he was sure Lord Lynebridge—that's the earl—his father, would enjoy a crack wi' me, as he is an advanced Liberal," and the old man's voice grew unsteady with eagerness.

Mona was greatly distressed that her uncle should be so possessed with this impossible scheme, and disappointed to find him so faithless to his own principles.

They talked long and earnestly. At length Mr. Craig began to see that his splendid air-castle was baseless; his good-humor vanished, and with it Mona's powers of pleasing. He complained of headache and rheumatism, pain in the heart, oppressed breathing, faintness, and many other painful symptoms. He insisted on sending for M. le Directeur and the doctor, and dined in his own room.

Advice to Mothers.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth It relieves the little suffer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa whether arising from teething or other causes 25 cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

CANADIAN NEWS IN LONDON.

The New Dominion Three Per Cent. Worth Ninety-five.

LONDON, June 14.—Sir Charles Tupper and the Colonial Agents General have waited upon the Calonial Secrotary to propose an amendment to the Liability of Trustees bill now before Parliament, in order to facilitate the investment by trustees in colonial stocks. The bill requires the sanction of a court to such investment. The deputation urged that trustees be empowered to invest in inscribed stock in any British colony whose four per cent stood at or above par.

The Stock Exchange regards 95 as about the value of the new Dominion 3 per cents. The minimum price for tenders is 92¼. The Canadian Gazette believes the stock will increase in value.

The Board of Trade returns show a further contraction of British exports to Canada, but an expansion in imports from Canada. Exports decreased 60 per cent. for May, and 14 per cent. for five months; imports increased 99½ per cent. for May, and 96½ per cent. for five months.

Is It a Case of Child Murder?

TORONTO, June 14.—Coroner Duncan opened an inquest yesterday on what is a mysterious case. About a week ago a young unmarried woman named Eva Harris, aged 24, living with her uncle, James E. Pitts, butcher, 327 Yonge-street, gave birth to child. Yesterday a hint reached the police that all was not right and that the baby was dead. Detectives visited the place and found the body of the child hidden away in the room in which the young mother was lying. They arrested the girl and had her removed to the hospital, while the body of the infant was taken to the Morgue. The coroner ordered an adjournment till June 22.

OUTSIDE THE LIMITS.

The Outrages by Yankee Fishermen Committed Beyond Our Jurisdiction.

HALIFAX, June 14.—The new fishery cruiser launched at Shelburne has been named C. H. Tupper. She will be commanded by Captain Quigley.

Captain Gordon, of the flagship Acadia, expresses his opinion that most of the depredations by Yankee ocean highwaymen were committed outside the limits, where the cruisers have no authority, and the only recourse is for the aggrieved Nova Scotia fishermen to take proceedings against the guilty parties in the courts. If they do that he guarantees service and execution of all papers. He says the Government are doing their best to protect the fisheries, but it is impossible to have a cruiser at every point along Canada's enormous sea coast line.

An Overdue Steamer.

LONDON, June 14.—The German steamer Pemptos from Singapore, with 1100 pilgrims on their way to Mecca, is overdue at Jeddah, and it is supposed she is lost.

THE TORONTO MARKETS.

TORONTO, June 13.—On call at the Board of Trade to-day 95½c was offered for No. 2 fall; 95c for 3 cars of No. 1 Northern spring to arrive; 92c bid and 93c bid for 1 car on 10,000 bushels to arrive.

Eggs are in good demand at 13½ and 14 cents. The supply continues liberal. Butter is depressed owing to the local market being excessively stocked. In Montreal the quotations are from 2 to 3 cents better. Large rolls and tub butter sells at 14 and 15 cents; small rolls from 14 to 16½, and creamery at 21 to 22½c.

The heavy stock of potatoes loaded on the Toronto market during the last three weeks is rapidly diminishing, and values are gaining. It is expected that in a few days old figures will prevail. Some of the stock has been moved out to Montreal, while the deliveries during the past few days are only nominal. Roses and Chilis are quoted at 85c to 90c on the track, and whites from 70c to 90c, according to quality.

We are showing the New Norfolk Blouse Suits for Boys and Youths. This style has become so popular in the larger cities that manufacturers can scarcely supply the demand. They look best in navy and Pearl Halifax Tweeds. Call and see them.

The most difficult Garment for a lady to choose is a light Print Dress, but if you call at Turnbull's you are sure to have no trouble as he can show you such a large variety in every color, every pattern and at any price.

A new material introduced this season is the Flannelette in fancy colored stripes and plains, the correct thing for Ladies' Wrappers and children's clothes, only ten cents a yard. Ladies handling it for the first time sometimes ask is it all wool. It is really all cotton but finished like a flannel.

As the weather gets warmer children require to have the heavy clothing changed for something light and cool, and Mothers are often perplexed to know what to buy. We would call their attention to our Colored Washing in Fancy Stripe and Check They are warranted fast colors in fact the oftner they are washed the better they look. The prices range from 12½c. up.

MILLINERY.—We are still receiving daily New Goods by express. Another lot of Plaid Ribbons just received. Also some New Shapes, as the Blossom, Cape Town and Vallego. These are the correct thing for pic-nic hats.

Also a complete stock of cloths suitable for spring and summer wear, including overcoatings, trouserings, tweeds, broadcloths, etc., etc.

Mr. Ball intends devoting his whole attention to the cutting department; and a practical, lengthy experience, enables him to guarantee a good, stylish fit, in well madegoods. The patronage of the public is respectfully solicited. A trial order will convince any customer that as regard both price and style, the shop for his money is that of

THE PRIESTMAN TRAGEDY.

HOW THEY SEEK TO CONNECT THE SMITHS WITH THE MURDER.

A Weak Kind of Evidence—The Potency of Love in the Detection of Crime—The Prisoners are Remanded.

TORONTO, June 15.—The revival of the Priestman mystery by the arrest of County Constable Smith and his wife has awakened keen interest among all classes. The Police Court yesterday afternoon was crowded. The Smiths listened to the evidence with much attention, but betrayed no appearance of guilt. Mrs. Priestman, widow of the murdered man, testified to the fact that her husband had frequently spoken to Smith, that the revolver found near the body was not one of the three possessed by him, and that he never carried a revolver. The daughters of the deceased gave similar evidence and Dr. Lynd, the coroner, deposed to Smith reporting the finding of the body and his apparent non-recognition of the remains, which the doctor said were easily recognized, the likeness bearing a perfectly natural expression. This point is the first brought out telling against Smith.

It is worth mentioning how the arrest of the prisoners was effected. A young man was employed by a city detective agency. He first appeared upon the scene about three months ago, passing himself off as one McCraig, a real estate agent. His plan of unravelling the mystery developed into a seemingly mad passion for the affections of the prisoners' daughter Patience, who gave evidence at the investigation, to whom he made love with a vengeance. She became a trifle soft on him and he obtained from her the story that promised to furnish the solution of the dark tragedy. This version looked well and sounded better, but under the Police Magistrate's very clever cross-examination the expectations of the prosecution to fasten the crime on her parents were speedily dispelled. It is understood that Mr. Badgerow will abandon the case and ask for the dismissal of the accused.

The prisoners were remanded.

THE "DISORDERLY CLERGYMAN"

The Latest Happenings of Interest in the Queen City.

TORONTO, June 15.—It is whispered that Mr. Goldwin Smith is about to devote himself to a work that he hopes will hold a permanent place in literature. Mr. Smith has been a voluminous writer on many subjects, but he has produced nothing of enduring value.

Mr. Samuel Armstrong, M.P.P. for Parry Sound, reports that the mining fever has got a bad grip on that district. Interest is chiefly centred in the mines at Dunchurch, twelve miles from Parry Sound village, where an assay has been made, which yielded $27 of silver and $15 of gold to the ton. A second assay is in progress. The boom is covering all the new districts at a startling rate.

A resolute, organized effort is to be made to force the adoption of the Third Party resolutions at the approaching Montreal Convention of Prohibitionists.

Rev. Mr. Fish of the Queet-street Methodist Church has resigned because of ill-health, he being a sufferer from heart disease.

Mr. A. F. Jury, chairman of the Legislative Committee of the Knights of Labor, has instructions from the Executive of the Order to have issued in pamphlet form his report of the labors of the committee during the recent session of Parliament. The report will be out in a few days. It will be of great interest and value to members of the Order in all parts of the country.

The Committee on Ethics recommended that the name of Dr. W. S. Clark of Jarvis-street Toronto, be removed from the roll for unprofessional conduct. While the resolution was under discussion it was announced that the doctor had withdrawn his name from the association, which ended the matter.

A deputation from the Ontario Medical Council waited on Acting Attorney-General Hon. A. S. Hardy yesterday afternoon and urged that the Ontario Government place the bodies of the inmates of the lunatic asylums on the same basis in regard to the Ontario Medical Council as those of hospitals and gaols.

Rev. Mr. Wilson, the Methodist pastor of Davisville, who was so strangely hustled into the cooler by P.C. Jarvis, was arraigned yesterday and pleaded not guilty to disorderly conduct. There was a number of indignant clergymen present to support their colleague, who appealed to the Court to dispose of the matter summarily, as his reputation was at stake. The policeman, however, secured a remand in order to bring a witness.

Hon. G. W. Ross, Minister of Education, delivered an address at yesterday's meeting of the Ontario Medical Association in the theatre of the Normal School. Several papers were read and discussed, the lead being taken by Drs. Smith, of Orangeville; Gardner, of Montreal; Johnstone, of Kentucky; Bray, of Chatham; Hunt, of Clarksburg, and Clarke, of Toronto. Dr. O'Reilly, Superintendent of Toronto General Hospital, exhibited various surgical appliances used in that institution, and also the new ambulance lately presented to the city by Mr. John Ross Robertson.

GERMANY'S RULER DYING.

THE END OF THE EMPEROR'S BATTLE WITH DISEASE AT HAND.

His Life can be Prolonged but a Few Hours at the Most—Growing Weaker and Unable to Take Food—Anxiety at Berlin.

POTSDAM, June 14.—The unequal combat with disease waged by the Emperor for so many weary months is near at its close, and at any hour, at any moment the news of his death may be expected. The worst symptoms have set in. Inflammation of the lungs has supervened. His strength is visibly failing, he is no longer able to take nourishment, and all Dr. Mackenzie's efforts to feed him by means of a tube have failed.

He shows less interest than heretofore in what is going on about him, and when lying down is entirely apathetic. At other times he is fully conscious and his intellect seems clear, but he suffers no pain. The Crown Prince will remain at the palace all night.

Early this afternoon, while reclining in an armchair, he wrote a few farewell words to Prince Bismarck. Afterwards he took a sip of food through the tube, a little cocaine being administered. The Dowager Empress Augusta and the Grand Duchess of Baden will arrive to-morrow.

The people of Berlin did not realize the extreme gravity of the Emperor's condition until the appearance of the morning extras containing the morning bulletin. People then felt that henceforth only the worst news could be looked for. Concern was universal and the intense anxiety increased as successive extras announced the approach of the last agony. Until long after nightfall crowds gathered in front of the official residence in Wilhelm-strasse, being especially watchful at the Chancellor's residence.

Early in the forenoon Count von Schellendorf visited Prince Bismarck and the two started for Potsdam, where they remained two hours and returned to the Chancellery together. Several Ministers visited Prince Bismarck in the evening and an informal council was held. Prince Bismarck had a long conference with the Crown Prince at Potsdam.

POTSDAM, June 14.—A bulletin issued at 10 o'clock this morning says the Emperor is much worse. His strength has been failing since last evening.

NOON.—The Crown Prince and Crown Princess and Prince Henry have arrived at the castle. Empress Victoria has watched by the bedside of the Emperor since 4 o'clock this morning. All the members of the Imperial family have been summoned to his bedside.

1.35 p.m.—The pulmonary affection which the physicians feared on Tuesday last would attack the Emperor supervened last evening.

LONDON, June 14, 2.40 p.m.—A despatch just received from Berlin says the lungs of the Emperor have become inflamed, and the end is approaching.

LONDON, June 14.—A despatch to the Exchange Telegraph Co., sent from Berlin at 1.52 says that lockjaw has set in.

Photographers have made preparations to take a picture of the scene at the Emperor's death bed.

Vienna journals strongly censure the political leaders for worrying the Emperor into a relapse.

POTSDAM, June 14, 4.30 p.m.—The worst symptoms have set in in the case of the Emperor. His strength is visibly waning, and he shows less interest than heretofore in what is going on about him.

A DEADLOCK.

Quebec's Legislative Councillors Spend Last Night in Filibustering.

QUEBEC, June 15.—There is a deadlock in the Legislative Council. The Government supporters made an attempt to-day to carry a motion declaring the seat of Dr. Lavallee vacant in consequence of his letter of resignation which he afterwards withdrew.

The Conservatives claimed the matter should be referred to the Committee on Privileges, Mr. Starnes making a motion to that effect. Mr. Archambault moved in amendment that the debate be adjourned until to-morrow.

This was negatived by 10 to 10.

Fillibustering followed, motion following motion only to end in a deadlock.

At 2 a.m. an agreement to adjourn was arrived at.

SKIMMED MILK AT THE FACTORIES.

A Bath Farmer Gets into Costly Trouble by Dishonesty.

BELLEVILLE, June 15.—Professor James Whiston, cheese instructor under the Eastern Ontario Dairymen's Association visited Bath last week and found that one of the patrons of the factory there—a rich farmer—was sending skimmed milk to the factory. In the evening he drove to the farmer's house and saw the cows milked and on testing the milk discovered that one-half the cream had been removed from the morning's milk. An information was laid before W. N. Doller, J. P., Napanee, and the case was to come up for trial on Saturday, but in the meantime the dishonest dairyman went to the inspector and acknowledged that his wife had been skimming the milk. He paid the expenses of the inspector and the court costs, amounting to $32.95, which may prove a practical illustration of the old maxim—honesty is the best policy.

Collingwood's Natural Gas Find.

COLLINGWOOD, June 15.—There have been many visitors here to investigate the newly discovered gas wells. The people hereabouts think a bonanza has been struck. When the orifice of No. 2 well, which is about two inches in diameter, was plugged up with a view to compelling the gas to flow in the pipes the plug was blown out. From the force with which the plug was blown away it is concluded that there is gas there in large quantities.

Indicted for an Old Robbery.

COBOURG, June 15.—At the Sessions of the Peace here the grand jury found a true bill against Edward Tyce, alias W. H. Rogers, who is charged with robbing the Canadian Express Company of a package containing $1005, the property of the Bank of Toronto, in Port Hope on Oct. 17, 1883.

Bond and Michard Discharged.

MONTREAL, June 15.—In the Court of Queen's Bench the Crown Prosecutor stated that he was instructed by the Attorney-General to enter a nolle prosequi in the cases against Bond and Michard charged with defrauding James Baxter of certain property. The accused were accordingly discharged.

A Hero's Monument.

REV. E. A. STAFFORD PRESIDENT.

The Opening of The Toronto Conference Yesterday—Officers Elected.

TORONTO, June 15.—The Toronto Conference of the Methodist Church commenced its fifteenth annual session yesterday in the Metropolitan Church. It required three ballots to elect the president. The formidable runners were Rev. E. A. Stafford, Rev. Hugh Johnston and Rev. Dr. Stone. On the third ballot Rev. E. A. Stafford, the pastor of the Metropolitan, closed the contest fifty-four votes in the lead. Rev. Hugh Johnston was elected secretary.

Rev. E. A. Stafford, M.A., L.L.B., D.D. the newly-elected president, is a ripe scholar, and rich, original thinker of about 45 years of age. He was educated at Victoria College, Cobourg, where he earned degrees in arts and law, to which was added the other day the doctor's degree by Central College, Missouri, a school under the direction of the Methodist Episcopal Church South. His ministerial life has covered 28 years, the first fourteen of which were spent in Western Ontario, closing with a term of remarkable success at Petrolia. Following this, Rev. Dr. Stafford was called to the Dominion Square church at Montreal, where his immense popularity led to a breach of the Methodist usage, and he was retained as pastor through two consecutive terms of three years each. The next term was devoted to the Dominion Street church Ottawa; after which Dr. Stafford labored with signal success in Winnipeg, whence he was called to the Metropolitan.

At Canada's Ancient Capital.

QUEBEC, June 15.—On Sunday last a respectable farmer of Beaumont, named Turgeon, left his home, and in a letter to his family stated that he had gone out to drown himself. As nothing has since been heard of him it is feared that he may have carried out his threat.

CHINESE IMMIGRATION.

An Inter-Colonial Conference Considers the Question.

SYDNEY, N.S.W., June 15.—The Inter-Colonial Conference on Chinese Immigration passed a resolution to appeal to the Imperial Government to conclude a treaty similar to that concluded between the United States and China. The conference also resolved, in the event of such a treaty being concluded, to abolish the Chinese poll tax and repeal the enactments relative to the tonnage on vessels bringing Chinese to the colonies. Chinese, however, will not be permitted to travel from colony to colony without passports.

Grand Legion Select Knights of Ontario.

ST. CATHARINES, June 15.—The Grand Legion of the Select Knights of Ontario met in session here and elected these officers: Grand Commander, W. J. Porte of Picton; Grand Vice Commander, T. E. L. Lewis, of Chatham; Grand Lieut. Commander, Henry Robertson of Toronto; Grand Recorder, B. J. Leubsdorf, St. Catharines; Grand Treasurer, R. G. Wright, of Napanee; Grand Standard Bearer, W. R. Fenton of Beeton; Grand Senior Workman, S. H. McLellan of Lambeth; Grand Junior Workman, Robt. Irwin of Hamilton; Grand Guard, F. E. Cadaret of Picton; Grand Medical Examiner, Dr. John S. King of Toronto; Grand Trustee, J. R. Nixon of Toronto. There are about 300 delegates present from all parts of Ontario. The next meeting will be held in Toronto in May, 1889.

Forger Young's Punishment.

DETROIT, June 15.—Thos. Wilfrd Young, the restaurant waiter who forged an endorsement on a certificate of the International Trust Company for $2,782 and skipped out with the proceeds to Toronto, where he started a restaurant and made a strong fight against extradition when arrested, was tried in the Recorder's Court here yesterday on the charge of forgery. The jury found a verdict of guilty and the judge sentenced him to twelve years in the State prison. It cost gver $2,000 to convict him.

Indiana Must Have One.

PITTSBURG, Pa., June 15.—In an interview Senator Spooner, of Wisconsin, who is en route to Chicago, said: "The indications point to the selection of one candidate from New York and the other from Indiana. It is necessary that one of the candidates belong to Indiana, and it is unfortunate that two residents from that State should be in the field."

The C.P.R. Branch to Hamilton.

HAMILTON, June 15.—The Canadian Pacific Railway have located their line to Hamilton and the Falls and registered the location. For the present the branch will leave the Credit Valley, near Dixie or Cooksville, about 15 miles west of the city, and strike down for Oakville and then on to Hamilton.

Queer Shovers in Quod.

PORT HURON, Mich., June 15—Special Detective Abbott arrived here from Detroit and arrested Robert Judge and Thomas Primrose of this city and Ben Coulter of London for passing and distributing counterfeit $5 silver certificates. They were taken to Detroit for examination.

The Odium Smuggler's Confession.

INDIANAPOLIS, June 15.—Charles Labelle, the opium smuggler, made a full confession yesterday to Collector Kuhn. He said he had been employed by Ontario parties since January to follow up and forward consignments of goods to California.

OSHAWA, June 15.—The funeral of Walter Stanlick, which took place here yesterday, was largely attended.

THE SCARE INTENSIFIED.

BRITAIN'S FEAR OF A CHANNEL INVASION INCREASED.

Lord George Hamilton's Speech Renews the Alarm—Naval and Military People Give their Views.

LONDON, June 15.—The channel invasion scare intensifies. No sooner has parliament, by vetoing the channel tunnel, thereby practically admitted England's inability to guard a hole thirty feet in diameter, than Lord George Hamilton, the First Lord of the Admiralty, deepens the channel invasion scare by a privileged speech in Parliament the night before last, upon which half-a-dozen newspapers immediately founded stirring leaders. I called upon several naval and military magnates to get their views upon the mooted question, which may be concisely expressed thus:

How many tons of shipping would be required to carry an army of 100,000 men from France to England? How long would it take to collect the transports? How much time would be occupied in putting the troops on board ship and taking them out again? How far would the available steam navy of any continental power be of use for the purpose?

Almost everyone visited seemed saturated with thoughts on the subject, but each one was unwilling to utter them. Admiral Sir John Hay was visited at his residence overlooking Pimlico pier to-day, and was willing to talk, but reservedly. He said: "I am not prepared to state definitely whether the tonnage mentioned by Lord Geo. Hamilton for carrying 100,000 soldiers over the channel is really required. My own impression is that such a number of soldiers could be transported with less tonnage than that he mentioned."

As to a surprise invasion by sea, I believe it could be made. It is quite feasible that a number of men from, say, France, should land on our shores and give us a little surprise, but what the result would be is more than I can anticipate.

"Why should not foreign invaders be able to surprise this country? William the Conqueror landed 60,000 men at Hastings, and in those days it took two or three days to row across. Other countries besides our own have made considerable progress since then, and, looking at the question all round, I think that, in these days of modern appliances, it could be accomplished.

Sir Henry Havelock Allan, son of the famous General Havelock, and himself a retired general, said when I visited him: "Lord George Hamilton is a friend of mine and an old comrade, but looking at this question from a purely technical point of view I must disagree with him.

But supposing a French expedition to leave simultaneously from Boulogne and Cherburg, which latter harbor is admirably adapted to the purpose, I can see no reason why they might not land 40,000 men in England in six hours, to be reinforced by a like number in another six hours; and so on.

"It remains to be considered what such a force could accomplish, having reached its destination. I will not deny that, properly commanded and fully equipped, an army 120,000 strong might get to London. They might seize the surrounding heights and bombard the city.

"Now, as to the probability of anything of this kind coming to pass, it is not so remote as many people imagine. Within a year Russia may seize Constantinople. She may do it within three months. England would be forced to submit or fight."

THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

The Business Transacted by the Presbyterian Divines.

HALIFAX, June 15.—The first hour of the meeting of the Assembly was consumed in devotional exercises. The new Moderator was in the chair. The Moderator with the assistance of the Assembly then nominated a committee to strike standing committees.

Rev. Allen Simpson handed in the report of the Committee on Bills and Overtures recommending that Rev. Messrs. Lane, Forest and Drysdale be a committee to make arrangements for service in St. Mathew's Church on Sunday next. The report also recommended that the subject of Home Missions be taken up this evening and Foreign Missions to-morrow evening, that Free Evangelization, etc., be taken up Monday night, Religion and Temperance on Tuesday night, Sabbath and Sabbath Observance on Wednesday night, and that Thursday morning be devoted to the Confession of Faith and the marriage question.

Reports were read from the Presbyteries of Victoria, Kingston, Barrie, Huron, Hamilton and Knox College with reference to certain aspirants to ministerial positions who had not completed their college course. These reports were referred to to the Committee on the Reception of Students.

The Pemptos Safe.

LONDON, June 15.—The steamer Pemptos, from Singapore with over 1,000 pilgrims on board, and which was reported overdue at Jeddah, has arrived at Aden with her shaft broken.

The American ship Farragut and all hands are supposed to have been lost sailing from Calcutta for Boston.

Mr. Isaac Campbell, formerly of Toronto, was nominated by the South Winnipeg Liberals for the Legislature last night.

The Ontario Medical Association meeting closed last night. Dr. W. H. Henderson, of Kingston, was elected president.

Arabs who have come from the interior say that Stanley was wounded in a fight with natives, and that half his escort deserted him.

Senator Schultz will assume the Lieut. Governorship of Manitoba on July 1.

THE ENNISMORE PICNIC.

The Annual Outdoor Gathering Under St. Martin's Congregation Auspices.

The annual picnic under the auspices of the congregation of St. Martin's Church, Ennismore, was held in Mr. Denne's grove, Bridgenorth, on Thursday. The grove is pleasantly situated on Chemong Lake within a few yards of the village. It is large enough for a monster picnic and the ground, which is thoroughly sodded, slopes down towards the water. Fine, large trees shade the grove and keep back the rays of the sun.

The weather on Thursday morning was threatening, there being appearances of coming rain, which may have prevented some from attending the picnic, yet a large number went out from Peterborough, others coming from Bobcaygeon and Young's Point and the people of Ennismore and those living in the vicinity turned out well. Altogether there were probably 600 people in attendance. The clouded sky made the day more pleasant, as it was not so warm as it would otherwise have been, though occasionally the sun broke through the clouds and beamed warmly down on the grove.

TRIPPING THE LIGHT FANTASTIC TOE.

Dancing was, as is usual, the chief amusement of the day. An excellent orchestra from Peterborough, led by Prof. Doucet, furnished music for those who tripped the light fantastic toe—and those who did so included a large majority of the people on the grounds. The large platform was almost continuously occupied from morning until night, and the music of the orchestra floated through the trees, while borne along with it was the sonorous voice of the master of ceremonies.

THE CONCERT.

In the open air in the grove a short but excellent concert was given. A platform had been constructed especially for the singers, and Mr. D. Smart, of Peterborough, took up one of his organs. When the music of the organ was heard the picnickers gathered around the platform and the music and singing was highly appreciated. Miss Begley in the open air concert surpassed herself. She sung Lady Dufferin's beautiful "Terence's Farewell." Miss Begly is always a very great favorite everywhere. Miss Dunn sung "Spring Time and Robins have Come." Miss Dunn's rendition of this charming selection was duly appreciated by the audience.

OTHER AMUSEMENTS.

At the lower end of the grove large numbers were gathered all day, and trials of markmanship were made with an air gun. The gun was not often idle and the loud ring of the mattalic bullseye as it was struck could be heard very frequently. For the younger male portion of the gathering "Aunt Sallies" patiently waiting to be struck with balls and to turn several summersaults when struck.

DINING.

A dinner was provided by the ladies of the congregation. Mr. Denne's cottage was used as a kitchen and four large tables had been constructed in front of it. These were laden with substantial food and more delicate edibles, and attentive waiters attended to those who surrounded the tables. Later in the day the tables were again spread and an excellent tea was served.

THE TEXAS PONY.

An event around which much interest centered was the disposal of the Texas pony—a small white pony, with small red spots, and bearing a peculiarly shaped brand on one side. It was decorated for the occasion with a bow of ribbons on its head and was viewed by all on the grounds. The pony was disposed of by a drawing and Miss McCann, the energetic young lady who had charge of the tickets and drawing, kept everything connected with it in such good order that everything went off smooth and satisfactorily. Towards evening, when the ticket selling was closed Mr. J. R. Stratton took a box of numbers and shook them up and Dr. Kincaid drew out the lucky number, 870. Miss McCann announced that Mr. John Biggs held the lucky number, and three cheers were given for Mr. Biggs. Under Miss McCann's able management 800 tickets for the drawing were sold.

ADDRESSES.

Short addresses were delivered from the orchestral platform.

Mr. J. R. STRATTON, M. P. P., said he had been asked by Father Kellty to thank those present for their attendance. He expressed the pleasure it afforded him to be present and he hoped they would be present on many more similar occasions. He was pleased to see Protestants and people of all denominations attending to assist the good cause. He hoped that Father Kellty, who was so popular among his people, would live long to preside over the parish. He closed by calling for three cheers for Father Kellty, which were heartily given.

Dr. KINCAID said he had attended a number of picnics, but had not been called on to speak before, perhaps because Father Kelity knew how bashful he was. He had been struck that day with the evidences of the progress made by the people of Ennismore, and he came there because he appreciated the efforts made by Father Kellty to raise the standard of the people intellectually, morally and physically. Dispite the dividing lines of religion and politics, they should meet together on occasions like this. He knew the people of Ennismore would be glad to have Father Kellty long remain with them, but he predicted for Father Kellty a higer position and expected to see him bishop of a diocese. (Cheers.)

Father KELITY said that he saw a great deal about a union of Protestants, but they aimed at a greater object, a union of Catholics and Protestants. In this free community they should always live in harmony and work together. By coming to this picnic they were assisting in the grand work, and if they accomplished nothing else a great good was done in that way. The way to sing the hymn "Nearer, My God, to Thee," was for Catholics and Protestants to work together in union and harmony. He was glad to see two representative Protestants gentlemen present, Dr. Kincaid and Mr. Stratton. He very much regretted that his old and esteemed friend, Mr. Stevenson, could not be present. He had received a letter from him stating that official duties prevented him from attending. The true benefactors of the race were the men who tried to bring Protestants and Catholics nearer to each other. They all believed in the Fatherhood of God and in the divinity of Jesus Christ, the Son of God, and consequently they ought to work together. By working together in that way Catholics and Protestants would further the interests of this Canada of ours and make her the glorious country Providence intended her to be. He concluded by calling on his Catholics friends to give three cheers for their Protestant friends, naming among them especially his absent friend, Mr. Stevenson, and Mr. Stratton and Dr. Kincaid, whom he was so glad to see present.

The cheers were given with a vim, and the picnic broke up with cheers for the Queen.

BANQUETTED AT WINNIPEG.

O'Connor Power Says the Canadian Northwest is the Place for Irishmen.

WINNIPEG, June 15. [illegible] Power was banquetted by the Manitoba Club yesterday afternoon. There was a large number in attendance, including all the leading citizens of Winnipeg.

Mr. Power made an eloquent speech, which was warmly applauded. In the course of his remarks he said that the solution of the wide-spread distress in Ireland was in the Canadian Northwest, of which he spoke in highly eulogistic terms. The scheme which he proposed five years ago, to offer tenants 30 acres in Ireland or 160 in the Nosthwest, if followed would have beneficial results.

Rumors were circulated yesterday that Attorney-General Martin had resigned. This is contradicted by Premier Greenway, who spoke highly of the Attorney-General and reflected on the gang of hangers-on who, because they couldn't get a job or contract from the Government, abused Mr. Martin.

The Chief Engineer of the Northern Pacific is here consulting about the extension of the Red River Valley Railway to Portage la Prairie.

The Reformers have elected Isaac Campbell as their candidate for South Winnipeg, and he has accepted.

In brief and to the Point.

Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered liver s misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature.

The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existance. It is easily put out of order.

Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this sad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

Remember:—No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings health and happines to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy-five cents.

WE BOOM UP THE GOODS. WE BOOM DOWN PRICES.

Right we are! Right we shall be! We Hew to the Line let the Chips fall where they may. Dealers who buy at six months time pursue the even tenor of their way. They are content to do business as hundreds of others are doing—and get left. How can the six months time men compete with GOUGHS, The Wonderful Cheap Men, the High Pressure Electric Clothiers, who seize the opportunity to buy at Spot Cash and buy awfully well. Read, you noble sons of toil, what the Clothiers of the Age are going to do for the next 30 days and when you read reflect, and when you reflect, come and buy from them, for you cannot buy from any wholesale house in Canada at the following prices; For thirty days we will sell you:—

Men's Suits at $2.95 that cost imaginary clothiers $4.25 wholesale.

Men's Pants for $1.50. We don't say what they are worth but see if you can buy elsewhere for $1.95.

Men's Suits for $5.00 worth easily $10.00.
Men's Halifax Tweed Suits all Wool $5.00.
Men's Fine Worsted Suits $6.90, worth $13.00.
Children's Suits for 58 cents, $1.10, $2.00 and up, worth double the money.

Special Drive in Boys' Coats 19c. each, Men's Working Pants 17c. each.

With ample means, prodigious energy and absolute determination to do the Largest Clothing Business in the District, we shall reach that goal if our friends, the buyers, will realize that no firm or dealer has ever offered the values we have given and are giving in Men's & Boys' Clothing. The Public have responded well to our great sale inducements. The public have our best thanks. We regret that the rush was so large on Saturday that we could not give our customers all the time we would like. Two additional Salesmen will be on hand Saturday next so that all who come can have ample attention. We rely on the invulnerable advantages of Square Dealing, in an Honorable Square Way, and with prices 33⅓ per cent. all round below all competitors are the ironclad basis on which we are doing a Triumphant Clothing Trade.

HOUSEFURNISHINGS.

At this season many Housekeepers are replenishing their supplies of Tableware and China. City folk are furnishing summer cottages; country folk are filling up the dressers and cupboards of the old homestead: town's folk are picking and choosing here and there. Many would be glad to know of a place whose special business is to meet these wants and desires; that aims to furnish essentially good wares at consistently low prices; that offers the choice of many different dinner services, and yet does not compel you to take an entire set of any pattern, but allow you to select each course of a new design, or buy any portion of the set your may need; that does not try to impose ideas or wares upon purchasers, and yet is ready to advise which of the many wares is most desirable and suitable; and, if wished, will make a careful selection of pattern. When you want Tablewear will you give us the opportunity to serve you.

Weather Probabilities.

Moderate to fresh south-east and south-west winds; generally fair and very warm weather, with local showers in Northern Ontario.

Again Grenadines.

The art of the weaver of Grenadines in the new patterns which we show this season will command your admiration. Such beautiful goods, such handsome patterns, such prettiness of style and so light and airy a goods are seldom offered. We are making a special effort in the line of grenadines and bespeak the attention of ladies. Inspection invited at the golden lion.

We aim to make our reputation of the Pantry permanent by selling at figures that clinch the argument every time.

The Rowing Boom.

A meeting of the Lansdowne Rowing Club will be held to-night, Friday, at 7.30 at the club house to arrange for club races to take place an evening next week. Four oared, double scull and single scull boats will compete. Room for a few more members. Those wishing to join should call around at the boat house to night.

It was the Same Old Fritz.

"As young in voice and laugh as ever" says the Philadelphia Item, that moved the audience at the Opera House alternately to laughter and tears last night, most of the tears, by the way, flowing in default of more laugh. The original Fritz, in which Mr. Emmet appeared here years ago, has been reconstructed and made as good as a new play, better perphaps than some new ones Fritz has appeared in. But the life and soul of the play was Emmet himself, of course, with new songs and fine voice than when seen here last season, and as tender to children and dumb brutes as his marvelous sympathy has always made him." Go and see Emmet at the Opera House, Monday evening next. 1d140

A band of Gypsy horse traders and tinkers are camped on the shore of the Little Lake. They appear to be doing a rushing trade and are objects of great interest and some suspicion to the people who reside in that vicinity.

Emulating the example of our City Fathers, the village dads secured the services of a town cabman, dressed up in their Sunday best and took a trip around the village from the beaver meadow farm to Armour's Hill, to see what was necessary to be done to the streets and sidewalks.

Underneath the elevator occupied by Messrs. Scott, Hogg & Co., has been found a fine flowing spring, the water from which is as cold as ice and as pure as crystal. Councillor Calcutt has evolved a plan for utilizing the water and at the same time killing two birds with one stone. A large tank holding 130 barrels, will be placed in the tower and the spring water will be siphoned into it, keeping it full all the time. In case of fire the tank would furnish a good supply and a good pressure. Mr. Calcutt also proposes to run a line of pipes to his brewery to supply that institution for making ginger ale.

Exhibition Drill.

An exhibition drill by the pupils (girls and boys to the number of 160) of the Institute, will be given in the Charlotte-st. skating rink on Friday evening, June 15th, at 8 o'clock. A splendid programme will be presented. Fire Brigade Band present. To raise funds for fife and drum band. Admission 10 cents. 5d136

Tramps.

Complaints are continually coming in from the outskirts regarding tramps. One gentleman at the south end informs us that he found a burly vagrant sleeping in his back kitchen one night recently. Another stated that two beggars were at his house in one day. Such customers are are not wanted in Peterborough at all and if a police officer would scout around the outskirts once and a while it would have a good effect.

Baseball.

A baseball match will be played at Port Hope, this afternoon, between a picked nine from Cobourg and Port Hope and a team from Peterborough. The local representatives left on the noon G. T. R. train to-day and will not return until to morrow morning. The following will represent Peterborough:—Brennan—c., Billings—c., Cameron p., Metheral 1 b., Fligg 2 b., Callaghan 3 b., Galley r. f., Kincaid s. s., Moore l.f., and Pratt, spare man.

A Large Funeral.

The Midland Free Press, referring to the funeral of the late Mr. D. H. Williamson, who was for some years a resident of Peterborough, says:—"The funeral procession was headed by the Elmvale brass band, followed by the Fire Brigade in uniform, Foresters, Masons of Midland and Penetang, citizens and carriages. As the procession moved along King-st men, women and children lined the street. Fully one thousand people followed the remains to the cemetery. Mr. Williamson's father reached here from Regina the day before the funeral."

Hastings Bridge.

The following is from the address of the Warden of Northumberland and Durham delivered at the opening of the Counties Council meeting:—"The special committee appointed to obtain plans and specifications and estimate the cost of an iron bridge at Hastings will, I have no doubt, be prepared to report at this session. It is thought by many that the County of Peterborough is responsible jointly with these United Counties for the construction and maintenance of the said bridge. I would suggest that such advice be had before undertaking its construction as will satisfy this Council as to the extent of its responsibility in the matter.

The Coming Circus.

On Saturday, 23rd, and Monday, 25th, Howe's new Colossal Railroad Shows and Mexican and Wild West Exposition will perform at Peterborough. The organization has received very favorable notice from the press wherein it has exhibited and in reference to which the St. Thomas Times says:—"The readers of this journal have noticed that for considerable time past reference has been made in these columns to Howe's new Colossal Railroad Shows and Mexican and Wild West Exposition. The references of the past were merely a warning of what was about to come, and now the time has come. This new enterprise required saveral months' close and confined attention and the expenditure of nearly $50,000 to bring it to a state of perfection and in that state it now exists, and on the 24th inst. the opening shot will be fired by an elegant street parade to be followed by an exhibition of such wonders of the nineteenth century as will startle all whose pleasure it will be to witness them. From Mexico will be found the historical mustang, from the wild west the cowboys and the Indians will appear in the costumes of their tribes, and the famous and treacherous bronchoes will be ridden by the dancing riders from Texas gates, who in turn will be jolted, tossed, and perhaps thrown, despite their efforts to remain in the saddle. The slack wire will be mounted by the most skilful wire walkers that the world has known. The trapeze will be swung high in the air by beautiful lady and gentlemen performers. Pigs will play all kinds of tricks and goats and dogs will startle the spectators with their wonderful and almost human performances."

THE C. P. R. SWITCH

Up the River to the Dickson Mills Will Probably Follow the Bank.

On Thursday afternoon Messrs. T. C. Ridout, Government Engineer, A. L. Herschburg, C. P. R. Engineer, Mayor Stevenson and E. Green, John Douglas, W. English, H. C. Calcutt, T. G. Hazlitt, A. Muhern and T. Cavanagh, property owners intested, and Messrs. E. H. D. Hall, E. B. Edwards and R. E. Wood, representing the Boating Club, visited the place where it is proposed to run a branch of the C. P. R., from the Bridge Works to the mills on the Dickson raceway.

The engineers had the plans laid before the Government, and these were thoroughly inspected and discussed. The proposed route was also traversed and the whole matter discussed from all its different standpoints.

As at first laid out the road would commence about Dalhousie-st. and strike straight out to the centre of the river and thence up the island to Hunter-st. This would prove a costly piece of work and might injure property on both sides of the river.

Engineer Herschburg, however, sketched out a new plan that appeared to meet with the general approval of all interested. By his scheme the road will start near Dalhousie-st., run almost directly north to Sherbrooke-st. and from thence as far as King-st. following the bank of the river, running through portions of Mr. Wm. English's boat house and shed and the boating club's property. At the King-st. wharf a slight turn to the north east will be made to "Chip" Island and thence north to Hunter-st. It is proposed to erect pile bridges at the north and south ends to allow the current to run freely. These bridges will have forty foot openings and will be "glanced," so as not to stop the free flow of water.

By this plan the only person injured would be Mr. English and the boating club. On behalf of the company, Mr. Herschburg agreed to move both boat houses to the east side of the track, provide level crossings at both places and waive all rights to the water front, in addition to paying liberal sums as compensation for the land taken and the damage done. This offer is now under consideration and it is thought that it will be accepted.

THE LACROSSE MATCH AT LINDSAY.

The Local Y. M. C. A. Team Defeat the Lindsay Team by Three Goals to One.

The team in connection with the local Y. M. C. A. crossed sticks with the Lindsay team on the Union School grouds yesterday afternoon. Shortly before 3 30, the Peterborough boys fyied on to the grounds and indulged in a little pitch and toss together before commencing the game. Owing to some of the Lindsay players not being able to leave work very early the game was delayed three quarters of an hour in starting.

A little after 4 o'clock the teams lined up and were composed as follows:—

PETERBOROUGH.		LINDSAY.
Manning	Goal	Pearson
Metheral	Point	Cornell
Connal	Cover Point.	Anderson
Henderson	1st Defence	Hudson
S. Rubidge	2nd "	Denoon
Davidson	3rd "	Smyth
Mooney	Centre	McPherson
Stevens	3rd Home	Bigelow
P. Rubidge	2nd "	Beaton
Foote	1st "	Mulligan
Hendricks	Inside "	Montgomery
Armstrong	Outside "	Findlay
C. J. Phelan	Field Captain	M. Murdock
E. Carter	Umpire	J. Flavelle

Referee—Dr. Hood, Lindsay

At 4.15 the ball was faced. Mooney drew it out, and Davidson reached for it, but it slipped off his stick and fell into the hands of a Lindsay man, who threw on Peterborough's goal. After a little skirmishing in front of the flags, it was lobbed just in front of them. Manning reached for it twice but failed to secure it, and it was kicked through scoring the first game for Lindsay in two minutes. Of course, as usual, the grand stand cheered and the visitors felt a little blue.

The ball was quickly faced, Mooney again drawing it out. Davidson reached for it this time, secured it, made a quick run and lobbed on the Lindsay goal, and Foot knocked it through. Time, 10 seconds. In this game the home team didn't touch the ball after the face. The next game which was the most hotly contested of all lasted 55 minutes. At the face Mooney drew the ball out. Davidson again secured the ball, made a quick run and lobbed on Lindsay's flags, but Cornell, point, and Peasson in goal were two hard men to get the ball past and it was quickly returned to Peterborough defence. For about twenty minutes it was "nip and tuck" between the two teams and it was difficult to say who would score. After this, however, it was seen that Peterborough was gaining and that it was only a question of time when they would score. During this game Metheral, who had changed from home to defence, made one of the prettiest plays yet seen on a lacrosse field. Securing the ball in a scuffle he passed three men who were right "on to him," and threw the rubber from the defence field square on Lindsay's flags. The Lindsays had a good home, but with Manning, goal, and Connal, Metheral, Henderson and Rubidge on defence, it was impossible for them to get the ball through. During the game Peterborough home, consisting of Hendricks, Foot, Rubidge and Armstrong, worked like Trojans and after 55 minutes the ball was neatly lobbed on Lindsay's goal and Rubidge passed it through. There was a general handshaking among the home team at this result.

A pause of ten minutes was given when the 4th game was started and from the outset the ball was kept hovering near the Lindsay goal and after ten minutes play the rubber was passed to Foot who shot on goal and scored, making it now three to 1 in favor of Peterborough. Just as Foot scored, he received an ugly cut on the forehead.

There remained ten minutes until "Time." After the face the Lindsay home made a desperate effort to score, but Peterborough defence prevented it in good style. When time was called the ball was past behind the Lindsay flags and if the boys had been given one minutes more play the result might have been 4 to 1 instead of 3. Mr. J. C. Phelan captained the visiting team and the boys are all delighted with the manner in which he discharged his duties.

The Lindsay team were heavier than the Peterboroughs, but not so agile or such good stick handlers. The boys are all pleased with their treatment by the Lindsay men. The referee, Dr. Hood, spoke of the game on the whole as an excellent exhibition of the national game.

Always Ahead.

Great rush at Ostrom's for Choice Strawberries, only 15 cents per quart to-day and to-morrow. Fresh Tomatoes, 15 cents per pound, also a choice lot of Cabbage, cheap. Come early and secure the first berries. 2d140

Cricket.

Secretary Minore has received information that the Lindsay cricketers will positively play on the P. A. A. A. grounds tomorrow. The letter announces that there will be no "funk" this time. On Tuesday the Belleville players will appear in Peterborough, for the first time.

A Correction.

In an issue of yesterday, in referring to Dr. W. D. Scott, we said that he had opened out an office on Brock-st, one door south of the Bank of Commerce. That was obviously a mistake and it should have read one door west of the bank.

Fishing.

The Fishery Inspectors can now rest on their oars for a time. The close season for bass and maskinonge expired at 12 o'clock on Thursday night and shortly after that hour a number of ardent fishermen started down the river to create havoc and destruction among the members of the finny tribe.

The meed of merit for promoting persona comeliness, is due to J. C. Ayer & Co., whose Hair Vigor is a universal beautifier of the hair. Harmless, effective, and agreeable, it ranks among the indispensable toilet articles

In the Creek.

On Thursday night a young bull intended for beef made his escape from those who had him in charge and plunged in the creek, near Paterson's tannery. It was found necessary to take out the stop logs at the dam and lower the water before his bullship could be got out.

O.C.C.

There was a fair attendance of members at the meeting of the Otonabee Canoe Club, held on Thursday evening. It was decided to amalgamate with the Lansdowne Rowing Club in holding a regatta on the Little Lake, on the evening of the 26th. The races will be a single canoe, a double canoe and one for four paddlers in each canoe. For each event suitable prizes will be given.

The Water-st. Bridge.

Sidewalk is being laid on Water-st. to connect the walks already laid with the new bridge over the gully at the "goose pond." The bridge is completed across the gully and is substantially constructed, the work being done by Mr N. Nicholls under the supervision of the acting chairman of the committee, Councillor Langford. This bridge and sidewalk will be a great convenience for residents of that vicinity and those further north and is already being freely used. The street through the gully has during the past three years been greatly improved, having been widened and filled in to the depth of about ten feet and the hill on the north cut down.

Brevities.

—The "Inverlea" lots are selling off rapidly.

—The police court docket this morning was a blank.

—Cobourg carried the waterworks bylaw by 101 majority.

—The regular shoot of the gun club takes place this afternoon.

—The Boulevards in front of the Park are badly in need of trimming.

—The County Council will open at the Court House on Tuesday next.

—A meeting of the Lansdowne Rowing Club takes place this evening.

—The Ontario Canoe Co. shipped fifteen canoes in three days this week.

—The grounds at St. John's church never looked finer than it does at present.

—A man with a sore arm visited several houses this morning soliciting alms.

—An unusually large number of water services are being put in at present.

—A connection with the sewer is being made from McKee & Davidson's store.

—The Electric Light Co. are stringing new wires. They are black coated instead of the white formerly used.

—A baseball match between the first nine and a club from the west end did not come off, as announced for last night.

—We had but a slight shower here on Thursday night, while at Norwood it poured down in torrents for over three hours.

—Mr. John Douglas has decided to build a double dwelling near Denne's old mill instead of a carriage shop as at first intended.

—The exhibition drill of the Collegiate Institute pupils takes place at the Charlotte-st rink to-night. There should be a bumper house.

—A regular sitting of the Division Court is being held to-day at the Court House before Judge Weller.

—Mr. R. Elliott, of Wingham, has been re-elected High Chief Ranger of the Canadian Order of Foresters.

—The hod carriers will hold a meeting at the K. of L. Hall this evening for the purpose of forming a union.

—There was some very vivid lightning to the east of us last night, but we did not hear of any damage being done.

—On Wednesday there was a large picnic party from Ida, Cavan, at Idyl Wild. The Millbrook band accompanied the party. Quite a number were present from Peterborough.

—The Durham Field Battery leaves Port Hope for the Gananoque camp on Tuesday morning. The Peterborough contingent will probably go down on the previous evening.

DIED.

HAMILTON.—On Friday, June 15th, 1888 MARY HAMILTON, relict of the late Alex. Hamilton, of South Verulam, aged 64 years. Funeral on Saturday at three o'clock, from the residence of her son-in-law, Mr. Wm Drake, Perry-st.

"I can readily understand your being a trifle incredulous, Mary," said Steve, Hopole tohis sister, "nice things, such as our table shows, generally cost some considerable money. I sent the lot home yesterday, and I'm rather proud of my buying. The dinner service is ample, very strong, and I found it really cheap. The glass is not the best but good enough for us, The few silver things are the prettiest I've seen and the finish is as good as if they cost hundreds. Don't distress yourself, dear girl, about extravagance. When we can go to China Hall and buy what is pretty and need for so little money I'd hate to deprive you of the pleasure of having the things about. How Mr. Wilson manages to sell so cheaply I don't know, but the facts are enough for me. Let us have dinner.

What a Time

People formerly had, trying to swallow the old-fashioned pill with its film of magnesia vainly disguising its bitterness; and what a contrast to Ayer's Pills, that have been well called "medicated sugar-plums"—the only fear being that patients may be tempted into taking too many at a dose. But the directions are plain and should be strictly followed.

J. T. Teller, M. D., of Chittenango, N. Y., expresses exactly what hundreds have written at greater length. He says: "Ayer's Cathartic Pills are highly appreciated. They are perfect in form and coating, and their effects are all that the most careful physician could desire. They have supplanted all the Pills formerly popular here, and I think it must be long before any other can be made that will at all compare with them. Those who buy your pills get full value for their money."

"Safe, pleasant, and certain in their action," is the concise testimony of Dr. George E. Walker, of Martinsville, Virginia.

"Ayer's Pills outsell all similar preparations. The public having once used them, will have no others."—Berry, Venable & Collier, Atlanta, Ga.

MONA'S CHOICE

BY MRS. ALEXANDER.

Mona did not appear in public either, and Everard confiscated a charming bouquet of roses Lord Fitzallan was dispatching to her, and bestowed it in his own name on the delighted Miss Clapton.

In the course of the evening a curious, wildly-written and ill-spelled letter reached Mona from his lordship's pen, in which he professed the most ardent admiration for her beauty, her noble character, her general charms, and declaimed against the cruel plots of heartless relatives against his liberty and happiness.

This Mona tore up, and left unanswered. She took an opportunity, however, of informing Bertie Everard of the occurrence. Finally, the evening before she and Mr. Craig left Contrexeville, Lord Fitzallan, in the absence of his valet and his cousin, got hold of a bottle of brandy, and was guilty of some wild antics, which convinced—but by no means consoled—Uncle Sandy.

CHAPTER XVI.—THE SERPENT'S TOOTH.

On the whole, Alexander Craig's retreat from Contrexeville was sudden, and barely in good order. He was not a little crestfallen by the complete collapse of the brilliant hopes which had dawned upon him for a moment. The excellent effect of the treatment and waters, however, had restored his elasticity, so that his sullenness and irritable depression did not last very long.

By the time they reached Strasbourg and were comfortably settled in a good hotel, he began to talk of making plans; maps and guide-books were brought out, and the old man brightened up when he found Mona was highly pleased at the idea of seeing Switzerland.

She was a very efficient assistant, looking up the railway fares, counting the cost, and calculating the difference between foreign and English money.

And so uncle and niece set out on a pilgrimage, visiting by very slow degrees the most interesting places in Switzerland and on the Rhine.

In this tour we will not attempt to follow; are not these places, their histories and attractions, written in the books of Murray and of Baedeker?

For the winter they rested at Dresden, where Uncle Sandy was both comfortable and happy in the society of a Presbyterian minister of sound views, who taught Mr. Craig chess, a great resource, if sometimes a little irksome to Mona.

So autumn, winter, and spring passed by, and midsummer was close at hand.

To Mme. Debrisay the loss of her dear companion was a real bereavement. Mona's letters were her greatest comfort, and, need it be said, with what welcome joy she received a letter from Mona announcing that she and her uncle would be in London on the twenty-second.

It was a fine, glowing evening when, in her prettiest cap, she awaited the arrival of the travelers, having assisted to lay the table and make the place look neat and pretty. Of course those watched for were late, or seemed to be; but at last a cab, laden with luggage, drew up to the gate, and the next moment Mona was in her friend's arms.

"Me darlin' child! I have been that lonely without you! And you are looking right well, but terribly sunburned."

A hearty kiss, and then she went to greet Mr. Craig, who descended from the cab with more alertness than she had ever seen him show before.

"Delighted to see you looking quite a new man, my dear Mr. Craig!" she cried, a genuine look of pleasure dancing in her, bright, dark eyes, as she shook hands with him heartily. "Welcome back, after all these long months!"

"Thank ye, thank ye!" he returned, pleased with the warmth of her greeting. "I'm not sorry to be back again. I hope you are weel?"

"Yes, quite well! I am an evergreen. Mr. Macalister has been good enough to come to cheer me up occasionally. Very kind of him to trouble about an old woman. Glad to see you. Go inside, Mr. Craig, your nephew and I will settle with the cabman."

"Na, na! I'll just pay him myself."

This done, Mme. Debrisay and Mona had a few precious moments to themselves, and then the party sat down to high tea, with the sense of enjoyment arising from the mixture of familiarity and complete change.

"How delicious the tea is!" cried Mona. "That is one thing you rarely get abroad."

"Eh! but it is good to get a bit of dry toast again!" said Uncle Sandy. "And Kenneth, my mon, I am right glad to see you!"

"Thank you, sir. I'm sure I have missed you and—and Miss Mona here, sorely. It was a pleasure to have a bit talk with madame while you were away."

"But, uncle! Kenneth is not looking at all well. He is pale and thin. Have you been ill, Kenneth?"

"Oh, nothing to speak of! Just a cold, and a heaviness in my limbs."

"Eh, mon!" said Uncle Sandy, with a knowing smile, "it's grand to have a braw young lassie speerin' after your health."

"She was always ferry good to me," said Kenneth, uneasily.

Then as appetite was allayed, talk flowed full and free.

"I think, uncle," said Mona, after a good deal of description of the people and places they had seen, "I think you ought to take Kenneth with you to Craigdarroch. It would do him a world of good. And he knows all about land and animals. He would be a better companion than I could be."

"Ah, but I canna want you! If I had my own way, I'd have you baith always by me."

"Well, I am sure that is not impossible," said Mona, thoughtlessly.

She had forgotten her uncle's schemes; it was so long since she had heard anything about them.

"Ahem! I am glad to hear it," he returned, dryly.

Words which stirred Mona's memory. She laughed and blushed, glancing at Kenneth with friendly comprehension.

His face grew longer, and his eyes had a startled expression, which amused Mona.

But Uncle Sandy began to talk of going to bed, and asked his nephew to unstrap his portmanteau for him; and as his room adjoined the dining-room which Mme. Debrisay had secured for their accomodation, they could hear the murmur of voices as Kenneth assisted his uncle to unpack.

"Come, mon ange!" cried Mme. Debrisay; "I will go and have a few words in peace with you while you get out your clothes. I am dying to hear all about everything!"

"And I to tell you. Ah, Deb! I wish I could live and work with you! But, really, Uncle Sandy has been most kind to me, and I am fonder of him than I ever thought I should be. But sometimes his selfishness—his narrowness—repels me; still, I feel bound to him!"

Safe in Mona's little room up-stairs, the friends enjoyed the delights full, free interchange of confidence.

Of all Mona had to relate, the episode of Everard's appearance at Contrexeville interested Mme. Debrisay most.

"To think of such an out and out Radical as Mr. Craig wishing you to marry a nobleman!" cried Madame, shrugging her shoulders when Mona had finished her story. "Ah, ciel! what inconsistent creatures men are! I have heard of this Fitzallan, my dear; and he is as mad as a hatter!"

"He must be," said Mona, thoughtfully.

There was a few moments pause, then Mme. Debrisay said, in a gently remonstrating voice—

"Come, now, my own darling; will you never tell me what is at the bottom of it all?"

"All what, Deb?"

Advice to Mothers.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth It relieves the little suffer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa whether rising from teething or othercauses 25 cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

SPORTING NOTES.

The Tax on Racing Associations—The Walking Match—Ball Record.

ALBANY, June 15.—Assembly bill No. 936 to amend chapter 479 of the Laws of 1887, relating to pool selling upon the race tracks, was introduced for the purpose of exempting country race tracks and fairs that did not have betting on their grounds from paying the tax imposed by the Ives Pool Act. The bill was passed, but the Governor refused to sign it, giving his reason thus: "The object of this bill is to exempt from the tax payable to the Comptroller by racing associations, such associations as can prove to the Comptroller that no pool selling, book making or gambling has taken place on the grounds of said association. The Comptroller objects to being made a judicial tribunal for the investigation of the facts in such cases, and I do not think he ought to be burdened with such unusual duties. Moreover, this bill is also defective in other important respects. A less objectionable method might have been adopted for accomplishing the object of this bill.

BANKERS.—Bank of Toronto and Canadian Bank of Commerce
SOLICITORS.—Dumble & Leonard.

TO DEPOSITERS.—Deposits are received by this Company both on current account and for periods of one year or longer. The rate of interest paid on amount deposited on current account and which may be withdrawn by check in such sums as the depositor may from time to time require, is four per cent., either paid or compounded half yearly, and the rate on yearly deposits is five per cent.

TO INVESTORS.—The five and ten years five per cent debentures of this Company which are issued in denominations of $100, $200, $500 and $1,000 each, transferable by endorsement, with half yearly interest coupons attached, payable at the Head Office of the Company in Peterborough, or at any Branch of the Bank of Toronto in Canada, afford a safe and convenient mode of investment.

The funds of the Company being invested with the utmost care and precaution, no better security can be offered to depositors or debenture-holders, they having a first claim or mortgage on the whole Assets of the Company, the Shareholders having the second. The last audit shows that the amount so invested was over $1,310,223.69, and on securities of at least double that value.

By the Laws of Ontario, Trustees, Executors and Administrators may deposit Trust Funds of the estates which they control in this Company, and are free from all further liability, a privilege of which many have largely availed themselves.

TO BORROWERS.—Money is obtainable from this Company on approved Real Estate Security at the Lowest Current Rates of Interest. The Mortgage may be paid by yearly instalments or otherwise, as may be agreed upon, the interest ceasing at once on all amounts paid on account of the sum borrowed. We are showing the New Norfolk Blouse Suit for Boys and Youths. This style has become so popular in the larger cities that manufacturers can scarcely supply the demand. They look best in Fawn and Pearl Halifax Tweeds. Call and see them.

The most difficult Garment for a lady to choose is a light Print Dress, but if you call at Turnbull's you are sure to have no trouble as he can show you such a large variety in every color, every pattern and at any price.

A new material introduced this season is the Flannelette in fancy colored stripes and plains, the correct thing for Ladies' Wrappers and children's clothes, only ten cents a yard. Ladies handling it for the first time sometimes ask is it all wool. It is really all cotton but finished like a flannel.

As the weather gets warmer children require to have the heavy clothing changed for something light and cool, and Mothers are often perplexed to know what to buy. We would call their attention to our Colored Washing in Fancy Stripe and Check. They are warranted fast colors in fact the oftner they are washed the better they look. The prices range from 12½c. up.

MILLINERY.—We are still receiving daily New Goods by express. Another lot of Plaid Ribbons just received. Also some New Shapes, as the Blossom, Cape Town and Vallego. These are the correct thing for pic-nic hats.

GENERAL CANADIAN NEWS

THE ARREST OF THE ALLEGED TORONTO MURDERERS A FIASCO.

The Foresters in Session at Hamilton—Immigrants Who are Delighted with Manitoba—A Clergyman Fined.

TORONTO, June 16.—In a most inglorious way has the Priestman murder inquiry fizzled out. That there was really no case against the accused County Constable Smith and his wife was believed by almost everybody from the time the arrests were made. Yesterday morning the County Crown Attorney announced to his Worship that he had no further evidence to offer. The colonel said shortly "discharged," and the pair walked out of the dock. A hair-brained young man who was under the impression that he was born to make a detective is responsible for the whole fiasco. A man and his wife who have always enjoyed a thoroughly good reputation have been taken from their young family and lodged in gaol. So poor is Smith that his children have been obliged to accept aid from the neighbors, in fact food has been sent in by the family of the unfortunate man for whose murder their father has been under arrest. Smith was the recipient of many congratulations when he arrived at Parkdale.

The police magistrate yesterday heard the case against Rev. Mr. Wilson, charged with disorderly conduct in the street. The evidence showed that the rev. gentleman would not "move on" when requested to do so by the police constable, and the magistrate decided the defendent was guilty of disorderly conduct and imposed a fine of $1 and costs. His Worship remarked: "I don't blame Mr. Wilson at all, and think it rather unfortunate that it has occurred. The talk between Mr. Wilson and the constable no doubt attracted the crowd. I won't say that the policeman did wrong nor that Mr. Wilson did wrong. Mr. Wilson might have been quite unconscious of doing wrong. I cannot allow the impression to go abroad that the policeman exceeded his duty. It must not go abroad that a minister can do what a tough from St. John's ward would not be allowed to do. The law must be the same for everybody." An appeal against the conviction will be entered forthwith.

Rev. Thos. Griffiths, formerly of the Spadina Avenue Methodist Church, who was called to a lucrative pastorate in Philadelphia some time ago, has applied to the Toronto conference for re-admission, claiming that he cannot retain his present charge without sacrificing some of his doctrinal principles.

Harry Jenkins, a fugitive from Boston, charged with embezzlement in that city, was arrested here on a telegram. He was brought up and remanded.

The colored man Morse was again brought before Judge Macdougall yesterday. Mr. Badgerow asked for a further remand which was granted. The refugee's friends are hopeful of a release.

Thomas Butler, for over a quarter of a century the trusted messenger of the Toronto Lunatic Asylum died yesterday.

KAISER FREDERICK DEAD.

THE BELOVED EMPEROR OF GERMANY RELEASED FROM HIS SUFFERING.

Incidents of the Dying Monarch's Last Hours—A Patient but Terrible Struggle for Life—The Emperor's Career.

BERLIN, June 16.—The Emperor died at eleven yesterday morning. The announcement of his death caused intense excitement in the city. All the members of the Royal families were present in the death chamber at the Freidrichskron palace at Potsdam. A Ministerial Council was held just before the Emperor died. Prince Bismarck, who presided at the Council, was much agitated.

Until five o'clock Thursday afternoon the Emperor wrote with a pencil on little square paper tablets his last wishes and family arrangements. He had lost completely the use of speech. Among other things he wrote: "I feel that Dr. Mackenzie has done all that human science, watchfulness and skill could do to prolong my life. I thank him."

On another slip he wrote: "I have tried my best to do my duty to my God and to my country. I feel that the end is now near. God's will be done."

As I was waiting in an ante-room, the next room to the one in which the doctors held their consultation at eight o'clock yesterday evening I noticed the Crown Prince slowly walking, with a pale, stern face, up and down the stone verandah. As he passed the half open window he would walk on tiptoe so as not to disturb his father.

Even the weather seems weeping for the Kaiser in a steady, soaking rain. It is impossible to describe the grief of the great mass of the people, who simply adore Kaiser Friedrick.

Before the Death Struggle.

LONDON, June 16—As soon as I heard of the sudden and serious relapse of Emperor Frederick of Germany, I sent a number of telegrams to Berlin to men who were in a position to know the actual condition of things. The returns are coming in. I send the last first, because it comes from a physician whose information when I was in Berlin proved absolutely correct. It is terse and to the point, as follows: "I have just come from Potsdam. I could not wire you from there as the Government has stopped telegraphic and telephonic communication.

Another operation was performed this afternoon to give the Emperor nourishment, but without success. His fainting fits were frequent. Intermittent pneumonia has positively commenced; the stomach refuses artificial nourishment. From the palace all reports are hopeless. Enormous crowds surround the palace and inquire anxiously for news from all visitors to the Emperor. When I came out at 6 o'clock I was nearly mobbed. Frederickskron is surrounded by a chain of sentinels. This time his Majesty is doomed.

Another account comes from a man who was employed in the palace at Charlottenburg and went thence to Berlin. It runs as follows:—Here are a few bare facts. His Majesty was carried with great care last night by five servants and three of the doctors from his bedroom into his study. At the time he seemed so weak as to be quite without life, except at the very beginning, when he groaned pitifully. The doors and windows of the study were opened wide, while two servants leaned over the bed and fanned the Emperor continually. At 3 o'clock this morning Sir Morell Mackenzie roused the Emperor from a trance or stupor to give him nourishment, but he refused even artificial nourishment. The court photographers were called this morning to take the last likeness. The scene at the dying monarch's bedside when he motioned his daughter Sophie to his side to congratulate her on her birthday was touching in the extreme. His Majesty's last act was to appoint Count Fedlitz Minister of the Interior after the resignation of Puttkamer.

Sturdy old Bismarck was with the Emperor all night, returned to his house for a few hours rest, and was back again at noon. He has not left his Majesty since. The King of Sweden, Prince Meinenger and the Royal family are all present. The Empress has not left the bedside since four o'clock this morning. Her devotion is said to be simply heroic.

Sorrow in London.

LONDON, June, 16.—Much sorrow is expressed at the death of the Emperor of Germany who was very popular in this city. Flags are flying at half mast and the blinds of many houses are lowered. Numerous messages of condolence have been sent to the Royal family. Immediately on receipt of the intelligence of the Emperor's death Queen Victoria telegraphed a message of sympathy and sorrow to Empress Victoria. The Princess of Wales has returned from Ascott Heath, where she was attending the races, and started for Berlin last night.

W. H. Smith announced this afternoon in the House of Commons the death of the Emperor Frederick. He said he would move an address on Monday expressing the deep sorrow of the English nation for the calamity which has overtaken the Royal family and the people of Germany.

The Pall Mall Gazette says Emperor William by his devotion to duty, untiring industry and firm grasp of a great idea, showed how a king could live. Emperor Frederick has shown the world how a king can die. No character in history stands higher. He earnestly executed whatever was possible to accomplish in his time.

Emperor Frederick's Career.

History presents few figures more melancholy than this of Frederick ascending the throne in his prime, but with the death-rattle in his throat. "There was a time when his friends imagined a very different career for him," says Max Muller in The Contemporary Review. "They believed that he might succeed to the throne in the very prime of manhood. His father, the late Emperor, then Prince of Prussia, had been the most unpopular man since 1848, and it was considered by no means impossible that he might think it right to decline the crown and to abdicate in favor of his son. The star of Prussia was low in 1848, and it sank lower and lower during the last years of the afflicted King, Frederick William IV. Few people only were aware of the changes that had taken place in the political views of the Prince of Prussia, chiefly during his stay in England, and the best spirits of the time looked upon his son, Prince Frederick William, as the only man who could be trusted to inaugurate a new era in the history of Prussia. His marriage with the Princess Royal of England gave still stronger zest to these hopes, for while he was trusted as likely to realize the national yearnings after a united Germany she was known as the worthy daughter of her father and mother at that time the only truly constitutional rulers in Europe. England was then the ideal of all German Liberals, and a close political alliance with England was considered the best solution of all European difficulties. Young men, and old men too, dreamt dreams, little knowing how distant their fulfilment should be, and how dashed with sorrow when at last they should come to be fulfilled."

Details of the Last Hours.

POTSDAM, June16.—An hour after midnight the Empress dismissed the members of the Imperial family to their apartments and prepared herself to pass the night watch in a room adjoining the sick chamber of the Emperor. Dr. Hovell shared in the vigil. At this time the Emperor was in full possession of his faculties. Shortly after 1 o'clock he wrote on a slip of paper the following question, which he handed to Dr. Hovell: "How is my pulse?" Are you satisfied with it?

He then wrote something more but retained the piece of paper in his hand and afterwards erased them.

Between 2 and 3 o'clock his breathing became terribly labored and some moments of struggles would occur, alternating with spasms and great distress as the hard fight with approaching death progressed. By this time the strength of the dying Emperor was seen to be waning. As soon as it became evident that the end was near the Empress caused the Royal family to be summoned. At 3 o'clock all gathered around the bedside.

The Prince Starts for Berlin.

William II.

BERLIN, June 16th.—The Bundesrath met at noon yesterday. Paince Bismartk formally announced the death of Emperor Frederick and the accession to the throne of William, who takes the title of William II.

At the Austian Capital.

VIENNA, June 16.—An order has been issued closing the royal theatres on account of the German Emperor's death.

Germany's New Emperor.

"The King is dead! Long live the King!" Crown Prince William succeeds his father; in fact, became Emperor of Germany the moment Emperor Frederick breathed his last. No new occupant of a throne was ever more closely watched than will be Emperor William by the whole civilized world. His figure rises like a dark cloud upon the peace of Europe, ominous of lightning flashes and the reverberations of artillery's thunder. He is more than a Boulanger. A soldier, passionately fond of military exploit, self-willed, forceful, in a moment he assumes power and responsibility so vast that it can hardly be estimated. Picture to yourself a young man in his 30th year, six feet in height, straight as an ash sapling, with finely-formed, slender limbs, narrow lips, swelling chest, and square, broad shoulders, with a smallish head on a long, fullthroated neck, held proudly upright, and an oval face, with an aquiline effect of profile, clear-cut, strong chin, bended nose, prominent though not high cheek bones, and good open forehead, with clear, sharp, cold gray blue eyes, light brown hair, close cut behind, but longer on the crown, and rising from the timples to form a sort of ridge from the parting across the brow, and a yellowish moustache, loosely curled up at the ends, and you have such a portrait as words can paint of the new German Emperor.

The new Emperor is married to a German Princess, and they have several of a family. He is fond of military life, and has never taken a very prominent part in public affairs. He is a firm believer in the "divine right of Kings."

The New Emperor's Crippled Arm.

A "Former Tutor" writes: Much has been said and written about Prince William's arm that is far from accurate. I had been in the habit of sitting close beside him every day for weeks before I noticed that his arm was in any way different from that of other people. Even then, I only observed it because my attention was called to it by others. Then I perceived that the left arm was always in almost exactly the same attitude, and that the Prince could only move it very slightly, bending it a little up or a little down from its normal condition across the body, as though it were fixed in an invisible sling; and that if he wished to use it to steady the sheet of paper on which he was writing, he was obliged to raise it on to the table with the other hand. No doubt this lack of power is a great loss and inconvenience, especially to so ardent a soldier as William, for it compels him, I understand, to ride only horses that have been specially trained for his use, but it is fortunately no disfigurement whatever.

An Ambassador's Suicide.

STOCKHOLM, June 16.—Count Richler, who was recenly designated as Swedish Ambassador at London, has committed suicide by shooting.

Crofters Pleased with their New Home—The Portage Incendiaries.

WINNIPEG, June 16.—The members of the Winnipeg Board of Trade are indignant at what they consider the impudent interference of the grain exporters of the East in finding fault with the amendments to the grain standards proposed by the Government. The Board of Trade Examiners by resolution yesterday endorsed the changes to the Inspection Act suggested by the Government, believing that the changes suggested are in the best interests of grain growers and dealers in the Northwest and equitable and just to eastern and western purchasers.

The recently arrived crofters who settled in Southern Manitoba are delighted with their location and have written home favorable reports.

PARNELL STILL HOPEFUL.

THE IRISH LEADER SAYS IT IS TIME TO FIGHT.

Home Rule in Scotland—Mr. Gladstone Writes a Letter of Confidence in Home Rule—General European News.

LONDON, June 16.—After the adjournment of the House I had another talk with Mr. Parnell. The spirits of the Irish leader were excellent. "There was a meeting of the Irish party yesterday," Mr. Parnell said, "and we decided fully upon our future course. We begin by putting forth every possible effort to have a full attendance of Home Rule members from now on. Some of them are now in Ireland, but we will try to get them all on hand. The Government yesterday sent down to the races at Ascot and after a great deal of trouble succeeded in getting their members up to the House. It was significant. In a very short time the Goodwood races begin, and after they are over there will be a great scattering of the Tories for shooting parties in the country and all that. They fell as low as 36 majority the other night, and after the shooting season begins and with our forces fully represented things will have a decidedly hazardous look for the Unionists.

We have also resolved to bring up one of the licensing clauses. They have not been withdrawn, but we shall now move for a reconsideration of the ninth clause, bearing on compensation to the keepers of public-houses. Such men are forced by law to close their places on Sunday in Ireland without compensation, and there is no reason why they should be compensated here. The Unionists would very much like to see this clause sunk into the fathomless pit of party blunders, but we will force an issue and in that way a division will be taken which will compel many staunch Tories to vote with the public houses and against their life-long professions and principles or turn and record their votes with us."

"How soon will this be?"

"Within ten days. Other plans are thoroughly well matured, and I may say, and I say it with some satisfaction, that the time for the Irish party to begin fighting, for which I have waited so patiently and so long, has come, and it finds us eager. The real work is fairly started."

Home Rule in Scotland.

LONDON June 16—Lord Rosebery in a speech last evening at Inverness said he thought a local Government measure ought to precede home rule for Scotland, but it was unwise to associate that question with Irish home rule. If the Irish had a Parliament in Dublin their contingent in the Imperial Parliament ought to be largely reduced. A letter was read from Mr. Gladstone wishing success to the meeting and expressing confidence in the triumph of Home Rule.

WASHINGTON, JUNE 16—The following telegram was sent to the American Minister at Berlin to-day;

The President desires you to make expression through the foreign office of the respectful sympathy felt throughout the United States for the German nation in the loss of their Emperor, who has at last yielded to death with such lofty courage and calm resignation to the divine decree.

The Italian Deputies adjourned.

ROME, June 15—Signor Crispi, the Prime Minister, announced the death of the Emperor Frederick to the chamber of deputies to-day. He paid a pathetic allusion to the dead ruler. By unanimous vote the Chamber adjourned till Monday.

HIGH COURT C.O.F.

Proceedings of the Fourth Day's Session at Hamilton—New Insurance Scheme.

HAMILTON, June 16.—The first business before the High Court C.O.F. yesterday was the receiving of reports of the committees on good and welfare and finance.

The special committee appointed on Thursday to draft a scheme whereby the present members of the order and new members might procure an additional $1,000 insurance also presented its report. It was adopted after an amendment had been made. The plan adopted is as follows: The present members of the order and new members between 18 and 45 years inclusive may secure an extra $1,000 insurance by paying a membership fee of $2, additional per capita tax of 50 cents per annum, and pass a satisfactory medical examination; all present members of the order who are over 45 years may procure an additional $1,000 insurance by complying with the above requirements and at the following rates: Between 45 and 50 years $1.35 per month; between 50 and 55 years $1.75 per month; and between 55 and 60 years $3 per month.

It was resolved that the new $1,000 policies be issued as soon as 1,000 members shall have passed all requirements and paid in $1,000 for such a fund and in all things complied with the constitution of the order.

The advisability of transferring the offices of the High Court from Brantford to Toronto was also discussed.

Burglars at Kincardine.

KINCARDINE, June 16.—The Grand Trunk Railway's safe at the station here was blown open last night and $25 of the agent's money and a number of excursion tickets stolen. A bag containing $130 of the company's escaped the notice of the marauders.

SATURDAY, JUNE 16, 1888.

THE IRON INDUSTRY.

MR. T. D. LEDYARD adopts a course that has become a favorite one with those who advocate a combination between Canada and the United States against Great Britain. He quietly puts up a man of straw and then proceeds to knock him down, while assuming that he is engaged in a fair fight. The REVIEW did not express the opinion that Canadian ore should not be exported to the United States or that the ore should be all retained until it was used up in Canadian furnaces. But it did intimate and now repeats that it is extremely foolish on the part of Canada to send the ore to the United States and buy back the iron from that country, paying, for the fun of doing so, the carriage both ways and the United States manufacturer's profit. When Mr. Ledyard first addressed the REVIEW on this subject he looked to commercial union increasing the export of ore across the lines, and he evidently still thinks that would be proper, but, as he has demonstrated the advantages of manufacturing industry to the farmer as well as to the mechanic and merchant, he must see that it would be far more profitable and beneficial to have the iron manufactured here than to export the crude ore.

Mr. Ledyard believes that two charcoal furnaces could supply Canada with that class of iron. Very well, let us have the two furnaces; let us supply our own market before we take steps to supply the world. But Mr. Ledyard fears that the two would not be profitable because several grades of iron are used in making car wheels, though other than charcoal furnaces can supply a portion of the mixture. And the number of car wheels and the quantity of iron used in Canada in connection with its 12,000 miles of railway is very large. Since 1877 the number of miles of railway in the Dominion has been doubled—6,718 miles have been constructed—and more railways are being built and projected.

Mr. Ledyard has a high opinion of Mr. S. D. Mills' knowledge regarding iron manufacture. We would call special attention to the recommendation given Mr. Mills in that regard. At the same time we would recall Mr. Mills' statement, made over his own signature, that "any attempt to establish a furnace here in the absence of protection would probably be met by a determination on the part of some United States furnaces to freeze out the infant industries by underselling, no matter at what cost to them selves." Mr. Ledyard says that Mr. Mills is thoroughly posted and can look at these matters from each point of view, and Mr. Mills' opinion is that the United States furnaces would freeze out a Canadian furnace, if started, at any cost to themselves. They are determined to hold this market—to take such of our ores as suit them and to sell back to us the iron, retaining the profit of handling and manufacturing for themselves. How could they be prevented from freezing out a Canadian furnace? Mr. Mills furnishes the only answer, by protection; and by adopting commercial union or unrestricted reciprocity all hope of iron manufacturing in Canada would be abandoned, and not only that, for other industries in the Dominion would be subjected to the same freezing out process by the combined manufacturers of the United States until control of the market had been secured. When Mr. Mills and other acknowledge that iron manufacturing cannot be established here without protection against the United States furnaces, what nonsence it is to talk about Canada at once supplying the United States market, at the very doors of the very furnaces that could reach across and freeze out the Canadian establishment.

If the commercial unionists had spent the time, energy and money in advertising Canada's advantages and trying to build up the country that they have spent in decrying the country and endeavoring to discourage manufacturing, the Dominion would have been greatly benefitted, and they would have had the satisfaction of knowing that they had benefitted their country, while as it is they have only injured it. It is not yet too late for them to take the right course. The lamp still holds out to burn. But the day of reckoning will come.

If the Sufferers from Consumption, Scrofula and General Debility, will try Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil, with hypophosphites they will find immediate relief and a permanent benefit. Dr. H. V. COBOURG.

SAD NEWS.—Mr. and Mrs. Greer, of Colborne, have been sorely afflicted. The death by drowning of their son Robert in Rice Lake a few years ago is still fresh in the minds of our readers. On Tuesday of last week Mr. Greer received the distressing intelligence that his son Wm. H., who has been residing at Cedar Rapids, Iowa, for the past two or three years, was accidently drowned while fishing in a small boat on the river.

SCHOONER LOST.—The schooner Blanche, owned by Mr. A Campbell, of Lakeport, left Oswego on Monday, May 28th, loaded with coal for the Auston Manufacturing Co., of Brighton, and has not reported yet. It is feared that she has foundered in midlake, carrying to the bottom all hands on board,—John Henderson, captain; Wm. Seeds, mate; W. Haines and J. Houtland, sailors; and Annie Smith, cook. The Blanche was last seen by the crew of the schooner Fleetwings. All the crew, with the exception of Houtland, are from Colborne, and much regret at their untimely end is expressed.—World.

Rev. M. L. Pearson.

The Rev. M. L. Pearson, President of the Bay of Quinte Conference, and who has been appointed pastor of the George-st. Methodist church, was born in Dublin, Ireland, in 1844, and is therefore forty-four years of age. In early years he removed with his father to New York and later to Toronto. Mr. Pearson was educated in the Toronto Model Grammar school, where many eminent Canadians received their education. When eighteen years of age he entered the Methodist ministry and was ordained in 1866. Mr. Pearson was married in 1867 to Miss H.A. Marsh, of Edwardsburg, Edward County. During his twenty-six years in the ministry he has occupied many important pulpits, in Montreal, Ottawa, Napanee, Lindsay and elsewhere. He is a man of persevering energy, executive ability, power of thought and a good speaker. The large vote he received for the Presidency of the Conference testified to esteem in which he is held by his brethren. Mr. Pearson will take charge of his new pastorate on July 1st. HASTINGS.

SAD DROWNING ACCIDENT.—On Saturday afternoon about 5 o'clock an accident of peculiar sadness occurred when the five year old son of Mr. John Wills was drowned within sight of his mother and sister who were powerless to render assistance. At the hour named Mrs. Wills and daughter went to the river edge, which is within a few yards of their residence, to drive home some young ducks which they feared would be carried away by the swift current. The little fellow, who was promised a sail on the river with Mr. Wills, who intended going to fish later on, accompanied the mother and sister, and waded in a few feet after the young ducks when he slipped and fell, and the current, which flows about six miles an hour, carried him down the river. The child floated for about one hundred yards when he sank in full view of the frenzied mother. The cries attracted the attention of Mr. John Scriver, who was on the north shore, and realizing the trouble at a glance, leaped into his canoe and paddled to the rescue. The currents and eddies make the crossing at that point not only difficult but dangerous, and the time occupied in crossing was consequently retarded and the child had disappeared before help came, which was but a few yards distant. Search parties were immediately formed and grappling for the body was continued without success up to the time of writing. Two heavy charges of dynamite were exploded under the water near where the body went down, in the hope of bringing it to the surface, but without avail. The parents have the heartfelt sympathy of the entire community.—Star.

Bricklayers' and Masons' Union

No. 12, Peterborough.

To the Architects and Builders of the Town of Peterborough.

GENTLEMEN.—The members of the Bricklayers' and Masons' Union, No. 12, Peterborough, have decided to take no sub-contracts after the 1st day of June, 1888. We take this step believing it to be to the interest of Architects and Proprietors of buildings, to deal directly with us, and not, as heretofore, letting our branch of work to Carpenters, and then have them sub-let it to us, frequently at a loss to owners of buildings through inferior material being used to secure the carpenter a profit. We therefore consider it would be to the interest of all concerned, to have each trade control its own line of work.

Signed on behalf of the Union,

Read, you noble sons of toil, what the Clothiers of the Age are going to do for the next 30 days and when you read reflect, and when you reflect, come and buy from them, for you cannot buy from any wholesale house in Canada at the following prices; For thirty days we will sell you:—

Men's Suits at $2.95 that cost imaginary cloth-iers $ 4.25 wholesale.

Men's Pants for $1.50. We don't say what they are worth but see if you can buy elsewhere for $1.95.

Men's Suits for $5.00 worth easily $10.00.
Men's Halifax Tweed Suits all Wool $5.00.
Men's Fine Worsted Suits $6.90, worth $13.00.
Children's Suits for 58 cents, $1.10, $2.00 and up, worth double the money.

Special Drive in Boys' Coats 19c. each, Men's Working Pants 17c. each.

With ample means, prodigious energy and absolute determination to do the Largest Clothing Business in the District, we shall reach that goal if our friends, the buyers, will realize that no firm or dealer has ever offered the values we have given and are giving in Men's & Boys' Clothing. The Public have responded well to our great sale inducements. The public have our best thanks. We regret that the rush was so large on Saturday that we could not give our customers all the time we would like. HOUSEFURNISHINGS.

At this season many Housekeepers are replenishing their supplies of Tableware and China. City folk are furnishing summer cottages; country folk are filling up the dressers and cupboards of the old homestead; town's folk are picking and choosing here and there. Many would be glad to know of a place whose special business is to meet these wants and desires; that aims to furnish essentially good wares at consistently low prices; that offers the choice of many different dinner services, and yet does not compel you to take an entire set of any pattern, but allow you to select each course of a new design, or buy any portion of the set you may need; that does not try to impose ideas or wares upon purchasers, and yet is ready to advise which of the many wares is most desirable and suitable; and, if wished, will make a careful selection of pattern. When you want Tablewear will you give us the opportunity to serve you.

THE CITY AND SUBURBS

Weather Probabilities.

Moderate winds; fine continued warm weather.

Words of Cheer.

A REVIEW reporter dropped into the golden lion dry good house this forenoon and found the large staff busily engaged serving customers. "How has spring trade turned out?" asked the reporter. "We have done a good business," replied the proprietor, "and are well satisfied with it." "The rush is keeping up well," remarked the reporter. "It is," replied Mr. Fair. "We have now, as a result of my visit to Toronto on the Masonic excursion, some very cheap and good lines. For instance, we are selling dress goods at 50 cents on the dollar, 15 cent and 25 cent RIBBONS, of choicest colors, 6 cents, and big drives in hosiery and other lines." "And millinery?" "Millinery is booming," Mr. Fair replied. This large and steady trade done at the golden lion is the natural result of watching the markets closely and giving the customers the benefit.

An Appeal.

Mr. Geo. T. Leonard, counsel for the defendant in the case of Inspector Cochrane v. Mrs. Condon, for a breach of The Canada Temperance Act 1878, intends to appeal to Toronto. The principal ground will be that Mayor Stevenson, acting for the Police Magistrate, had no right to adjourn the case.

Well Known Here.

The Mail says:—"Rev. Mr. Fish, who has been filling the pulpit of Queen-st. Methodist Church, has been granted permission by the Quarterly Board to prematurely sever his connection with the church. The rev. gentleman is affected with heart disease and by the advice of his physicians will shortly take a trip across the Atlantic. The resolution embodied the Board's appreciation of Mr. Fish's services during his connection with the church."

In Trouble.

Mr. M. J. O'Leary, nurseryman, of Peterborough, has had some trouble with one of his agents, a young man named C. J. Walker, who has been soliciting orders in the vicinity of Orillia and according to the Packet he raised one order from $3 to $30. He evidently was bound to go the whole hog and sent in forged orders that aggregate about $400. The delivery agent discovered the frauds and Mr. O'Leary went up to investigate, with the result that his suspicions were confirmed and Walker was promptly arrested and lodged in the Orillia lock-up. Walker is about 22 years of age and has hitherto borne an excellent character.

Rather Misty.

The Watchman is the only Lindsay paper that refers to the recent baseball game here, and the reference is so misty that we re-produce it and leave our readers to guess what it means:—"A Lindsay baseball team went down to Peterborough last week to play the first game, of a series of games, in the new Midland League, and the least said about the result the better. The old and well known nine were weakened by the absence of both Little, catcher, and McAdam, 1st base, and as was expected, our boys suffered defeat, in addition to this they were handicapped, much more seriously in another way, which we will not mention openly but we may say no one knows better than the boys themselves that any nine in Canada, or elsewhere, playing against a good nine, have not a ghost of a chance against the "other fellow" who helped the Peterborough men to beat them. The "other fellow" was NOT the umpire!!

Score Peterborough	30.
Lindsay	0.

Cricket.

A cricket match is in progress this afternoon between the Lindsay and Peterborough High School teams. Peterborough went to the bat first and made 56. Lindsay followed with 33. Then the home boys tried it again and made a total of 76. Lindsay is at the bat as we go to press.... Lindsay won the match by 20 runs.

A New Firm.

In a few days Mr. J. H. Wyatt and Mr. J. A. Turner will open out a dry goods business in the stand on George-st. formerly occupied by Messrs. W. W. Johnston & Co. Mr. Wyatt and Mr. Turner are both well known to the people of Peterborough and vicinity and have had considerable experience in the dry goods trade. They are enterprising and energetic young men, who will put to good use the extensive knowledge they have gained in the business. We wish the new firm success.

Entertained at Supper.

On Friday evening Mr. H. Shephard, of Cheapside, invited the clerks in his store to a supper at Messrs. Long Bros.' parlors, to meet Messrs. Wyatt and Turner, who have been in Mr. Shephard's employment for some time and who are entering into business for themselves. An excellent supper was served, which maintained the well known reputation of Long Bros. as caterers. Mr. Sheppard was voted to preside. He explained the circumstances under which they had met, and expressed his regret at losing two valuable assistants in Mr. Turner and Mr. Wyatt. He spoke of them in high terms and wished them success. Messrs. Wyatt and Turner each replied, thanking Mr. Shephard for his kindness and consideration. They regretted the severance of the pleasant relations which had existed between them and Mr. Shephard as employees and employer, as Mr. Shephard had been a considerate employer and one whom it was a pleasure to work with. They wished Mr. Shephard and family success and prosperity. Mr. Cross, of Montreal, and others spoke briefly, and the company dispersed after having spent a very pleasant evening together.

Emmet's Peculiar Talent.

No action on the public stage has met with greater appreciations than Mr. J. K. Emmet, of whom the press have much that is kind and complimentary to say. The Boston Daily Globe commends Mr. Emmet in the following paragraph:—"Fritz the first, the original Fritz, whose laughing face, sunny disposition and love for his little ones made him so welcome to the stage in many cities, made his first bow to a Boston audience last evening. It was Emmet, of course, who portrayed that interesting, decidedly "magnetic" personage of the world beyond the footlights. The German comedian, greeted with friendliness in those offshoots of "Fritz, Our Cousin German," that from time to time he has presented in this city, makes a much better impression in the original "Dutch" piece that gave him such wide popularity. The great assemblage at the Boston last evening was there to see and hear Emmet. The audience was abundantly satisfied to find the piece altogether the best vehicle yet presented in this city for the display of his varied talents. All the star's songs, new and old, were heartily applauded. "Schneider, How You Vas," in which the tiniest of tots essayed to dance with Fritz, met with a reception particularly cordial. As in all the Emmet pieces, children took a pleasant part in the entertainment. There was a dog, too, and a noble one—Jura—whose affection for his master is certainly not assumed. Mr. Emmet himself, received with the greatest of cordiality, could hardly have asked for a friendlier or a larger audience. He is supported by a good company, and Fritz is staged with a good deal of care. The star's engagement is likely to be marked by thronged houses all the week at the Boston." Emmet will present his "Fritz, Our Cousin German," at the Opera House, Peterborough, on Monday coming next, June 18th.

A Norwood Case.

At the Police Court this morning Hugh Drain, of Norwood, was charged with committing an assault upon Hugh Beckett. He pleaded not guilty, but after hearing the evidence the magistrate adjudged him guilty and imposed upon him a fine of $5 and costs. The costs will be rather heavy as numerous witnesses were brought from Norwood and beyond that village.

Committed For Trial.

The Bobcaygeon Independent thus refers to the trial of the young lad arrested near here on Tuesday:—"Reeve Crabtree, who is in attendance this week at the County Council, came home on Wednesday evening and held a court. A man named John Collins recently out from London, and who was employed for a time at Little Bob, stole a silver watch, a pair of new boots and a pocket book containing a sum of money, from the Little Bob boarding house and then decamped. Information was laid before Mr. Crabtree and a warrant issued, and Constable Staples after tracing Collins to Keene, arrested him there, and brought him back. Sufficient evidence was taken to make a prima facie case, in fact he admitted having taken the watch, and the Magistrate committed him for trial at Lindsay."

Acknowledgement.

The Chief of the Peterborough fire brigade has received the following letter with inclosure from Mr. R. C. Strickland, of Lakefield:—

"T. Rutherford, Esq.,

"Chief Fire Brigade, Peterborough.

"DEAR SIR,—Please find enclosed the sum of $25 as a slight compensation for the way in which you and your brigade worked on Sunday evening last at the fire in our lumber yard.

"R. C. STRICKLAND.

"Lakefield, June 13th, 1888."

The Chief has also received the following from the Village Clerk:—

"DEAR SIR,—I have much pleasure by direction of the Village Council to enclose the enclosed copy of a motion passed by the Village Council last evening, and a cheque for $25.

"I am yours, &c.,
"ALEX. BELL, V. Clerk."

"Moved by Councillor Nelson, seconded by Councillor Henderson, That this Council do grant the sum of $25, to be suplimented by a further sum of like amount by Messrs. R. & G. Strickland, to the Peterborough Fire Brigade as a slight token of our appreciation of the prompt manner in which they responded to our call for assistance, and their kind efforts on our behalf at the late fire in the lumber yard. And that the Village Clerk be instructed to convey to them a copy of this motion with the Reeve's cheque.—Carried."

The fire brigade desire to return thanks to Mr. Strickland and to the Village Council for their appreciation of the efforts of the brigade to be of service and of their thoughtful kindness to the firemen while in Lakefield. Should our northern neighbors unfortunately be again threatened by a fire the brigade will not be backward in rendering any assistance in their power.

Over the Canal Waters.

Arrangements have been completed for the excursion announced over the waters of the Trent Valley Canal. The trip will be made under the auspices of Moore Preceptory, No. 13 Knights Templar, on Tuesday and Friday, June 21st and 22nd., via G.T.R. and steamers Cruisers and Mary Ellen. On Thursday a special train will leave the Grand Trunk Railway station, Peterborough, at 6 30 a. m., connecting with steamer at Lakefield, and proceed through Lakes Katchewanooka, Clear, Stony, Love stick, Deer Bay, Buckhorn, Pigeon and Sturgeon, to Lindsay; thence by train, leaving Lindsay at 7.50 p. m., arriving at Peterborough at 8.50 p. m. On Friday the excursion will take the opposite direction, and the train will leave Peterborough at 8 30 a. m., for Lindsay, there connecting with the same steamers and returning to Peterborough via Lakefield. An efficient committee comprising Messrs. E. H. D. Hall, D. Spence, A. St. A. Smith, D. Cameron, B. Shortly, R. H. Green, W. Menzies, G. Walker, R. B. Rogers, W. Brundrette, have details of the excursion in hand and it will no doubt be very successful. Canoeists who have been sporting about over these back lake waters will have an opportunity while on the trip to point out to their wives or sweethearts the old camping grounds and spots of personal interest. Inspection of the government works recently finished and in process of completion along the route will be interesting, while the bracing air and bright sunshine of the higher latitutes will act as a tonic to the business men who will take a day off for the trip.

THE INSTITUTE DRILL CLASSES

Give an Exhibition to a Crowded House at the Lansdowne Rink.

According to previous announcements the girls and boys under Major Rundle gave an exhibition drill at the Charlotte-st. rink. The attendance was large, fully one thousand people having passed through the wickets.

Of the drill itself it is not necessary to say much. All did well and the girls in their calisthenic and dumb bell exercises did so well that they carried the house by storm.

The programme, which will be found below, was carried out to the letter and the frequent applause from the spectators showed that it was appreciated. All did well, but a majority of those who were present awarded the palm to the third form of girls, whose work was almost perfect.

A feature was the single stick exercise of Miss Scott and Miss Bennett. These young ladies handled their sticks like masters and deservedly they received loud applause.

The pupils appear to be all thoroughly drilled in marching, forming in fours, etc, but on the wheel they did not do as well as they should. The girls singing "Rule Brittania," was a taking feature and the wind up by singing "God Save the Queen" by the whole school accompanied by the band was simply grand.

The band of the battalion lent able assistance and to Major Rundle is due great credit for the exhibition, and we only hope that the pupils will see fit before long to favor the public by appearing again at an early date.

It would hardly be fair to particularize where all did so well, but we must say that the officers, one and all, especially the markers and guides, did extremely well, and we know of military men who can get pointers from them for promptness and looks.

The following was the programme of the movements:—

(1) All the pupils march past in fours. (2) All the girls in calisthenics. (3) Company drill 1st form girls. (4) Battalion drill, 2nd form boys. (5) Skirmishing, bugle sound, 1st form boys. (6) Single stick, Miss Scott and Miss Bennett. (7) Rule Britannia, sung by girls. (8) Dumb-bell exercise, 3rd and 4th form girls. (9) All the boys in calisthenics. (10) Battalion drill and fancy marching, 3rd and 4th form girls. (11) Company drill 3rd form boys. (12) Marching past in slow time and squad drill in single rank, 2nd form girls. (13) March past in fours for all the pupils. (14) God Save the Queen by the school.

An Appeal to the Ladies.

To the Editor of the Review.

SIR,—Now that the cricket season is at hand I do hope that the fair sex will do the club the honour of patronizing their matches. It is not necessary for the ladies to stay the whole day, but a look in at least, is, I assure them, much appreciated. The "grand stand" is reserved for them and the price of admission is within the reach of all, being nothing. The club is indebted to a few ladies for their untiring assistance. A little interest goes a long way.

Yours, etc.,

I sent the lot home yesterday, and I'm rather proud of my buying. The dinner service is ample, very strong, and I found it really cheap. The glass is not the best but good enough for us. The few silver things are the prettiest I've seen and the finish is as good as if they cost hundreds. Don't distress yourself, dear girl, about extravagance. When we can go to China Hall and buy what is pretty and neat for so little money I'd hate to deprive you of the pleasure of having the things about. What a Time

People formerly had, trying to swallow the old-fashioned pill with its film of magnesia vainly disguising its bitterness; and what a contrast to Ayer's Pills, that have been well called "medicated sugar-pluma"—the only fear being that patients may be tempted into taking too many at a dose. But the directions are plain and should be strictly followed.

J. T. Teller, M. D., of Chittenango, N. Y., expresses exactly what hundreds have written at greater length. He says: "Ayer's Cathartic Pills are highly appreciated. They are perfect in form and coating, and their effects are all that the most careful physician could desire. They have supplanted all the Pills formerly popular here, and I think it must be long before any other can be made that will at all compare with them. Those who buy your pills get full value for their money."

"Safe, pleasant, and certain in their action," is the concise testimony of Dr. George E. Walker, of Martinsville, Virginia.

"Ayer's Pills outsell all similar preparations. The public having once used them, will have no others."—Berry, Venable & Collier, Atlanta, Ga.

Iron and Commercial Union.

To the Editor of the Review.

SIR,—Although rather late, perhaps you will allow me to reply to your editorial on my last letter on unrestricted reciprocity and close for the present our correspondence.

You question my assertion that under reciprocity we should be able to have blast furnaces to make our own iron and steel. In a recent article you quote Mr. Samuel D. Mills, a high authority on the manufacture of iron, and who is at present endeavoring to form a company to start a coke blast furnace in Toronto. Mr. Mills knows his subject thoroughly and can look at these matters from each point of view, for he is a Canadian brought up in this country, but has had much experience in the United States, having been superintendent of a blast furnace in Michigan. Mr. Mills has stated publicly that under unrestricted reciprocity he could say positively that 3 blast furnaces would start in Canada. The reason for this is plain. Canada has too small a market to induce capitalists to put up the large and expensive works necessary to manufacture iron and steel. With the whole continental market to supply, why could we not do as well as any part of the United States with which we have equal advantages? The official reports show that in the State of Michigan during 1885 there were twelve and during 1886 there were fifteen charcoal blast furnaces in operation, while there is not a single one in Ontario.

Now, I have Mr. Mills' authority for saying that two blast furnaces would supply the whole demand for charcoal iron, but it is doubtful if even these would be profitable because for making car wheels, for which charcoal iron is principally used, it is necessary to have a mixture of at least 3 or 4 different grades of iron, which could not be supplied from only two charcoal furnaces.

Under reciprocity there is no reason we should not do as much as Michigan. We have just as good ores, plenty of hard wood for making charcoal and every other advantage equal to theirs, except the market. Give us the same market as Michigan furnaces have and we can compete with them.

Then as to coke furnaces, there are several points in Ontario where coke could be brought from the Ohio coke districts cheaper than it is carried to Chicago.

An excellent quality of iron ore is found within 125 miles of Toronto and from 30 to 40 miles of Peterborough, and could be delivered to either of those places much cheaper than iron ore is delivered to Chicago. And yet one single company "The North Chicago Rolling Mills," uses 1700 tons of ore a day, as much as would supply the whole of Canada. If there was no duty on the coke, there is no reason why iron should not be manufactured in Toronto as cheap, if not cheaper, than in Chicago.

You argue in a late artical that it would be unprofitable to export our crude ore to the United States and that we ought to keep it to manufacture in our own country.

Six good sized iron mines would supply all the ore that could be used in Canada, supposing we made all our own iron and steel and imported none. Two of the Michigan mines, the Colby and the Chapin, which can easily produce 1000 tons a day each, all the year round, could more than do it.

But supposing we made every pound of our own iron and steel, we could not make it out of only one kind of ore; there would have to be a mixture of hematite and magnetic, and not more than one third of magnetic ore could be profitably used. So that two good magnetic iron mines would supply all the ore of that kind that could be used in Canada. I can point out two magnetic ore deposits in your County that could do it without difficulty. What then is to become of the numerous other magnetic iron mines in your County, and in all the other mining counties and districts in Canada? I can show you over 40 samples of magnetic ore all from different deposits in Ontario, which I have received during the last few months, and others are still coming in. Are all these ore beds to lie idle until the two which would supply Canada are exhausted? Some of the largest mines in Michigan have been working for over 30 years and are still producing as largely as ever, so that the prospect of development under your system would be poor indeed.

The only way in which our iron mines can be developed and iron manufactured to any extent in Canada is to have free trade with our own continent, as everyone interested in these subjects well knows.

The Detroit Free Press estimates that 150,000 men are employed in iron mining in the Lake Superior District, the average wages of miners there being $1.65 per day.

If the iron ores of your county were admitted to market on the same terms as those of Lake Superior, it would not take long to double the population of Peterborough county from the one business of iron mining alone, and it is only by unrestricted reciprocity that this desirable result can be obtained.

Yours, &c.,
T. D. LEDYARD.

In brief and to the Point.

Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered liver is misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature.

The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existance. It is easily put out of order.

Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this sad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

Remember:—No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings health and happines to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy-five cents.

QUEBEC'S FINANCES.

Treasurer Shehyn's Budget Speech—The Government's Policy Extolled.

QUEBEC, June 16.—Treasurer Shehyn made his Budget speech in the Assembly yesterday afternoon. He spoke for five hours, devoting his time principally to praise of the Government's financial policy and their success in placing the recent loan.

After stating that he had been unable to extricate the accounts from the muddle left by the Ross Government, he declared that they had left a deficit of $638,309, and it was necessary to cover the shortage by various means.

The liabilities of the Province June 30, 1887, were $22,188,700 and assets only $11,329,640. The floating debt of the Province at the same time was $[illegible]368, to meet which there were only $[illegible] available assets, the latter including $145,000 due Ontario re common schools.

A new loan of $3,500,000 was issued to cover this indebtedness. He went into the history of the loan transactions, defending the refusal of the offers made by the Bank of Montreal, and another by a Montreal firm on behalf of English capitalists, the failure to raise the money in New York, and described how he succeeded in Paris.

He made a lengthy comparison of the results with other loans, and claimed that the transactions saved $1,500,000 to the province. He compared the last loan of the Conservative Government, and declared that it was unjust to compare Canadian loans with those of Australian colonies.

Notes From the Capital.

OTTAWA, June 16.—Rev. W. W. Carson of the Dominion Church and formerly of Hamilton, left to-day for Stanstead, Que., to attend the annual meeting of the college there. He will deliver the annual sermon on Sunday.

The arbitrators in the British Columbia dispute between the Canadian Pacific Railway and the Government have left for Vancouver, where they will commence to take evidence on the 26 inst.

J. W. Stovel, President of the American Fire Alarm and Telephone Company, had an interview yesterday with the Minister of Customs on the subject of the difficulties this company have had with the Toronto customs authorities with respect to the supply of police signal boxes and apparatus, which were brought into Canada by him some months ago under a contract with the Police Commissioners.

A deputation from the City Council waited on Sir Hector Langevin yesterday with reference to the location of a cab stand on Wellington-street opposite the Parliament buildings. Sir Hector decidedly opposed cabs being again placed in front of the Parliament Buildings, and said if the Council decided to place cabs there he would be unable to carry out the promised improvement on Wellington-street.

We are showing the New Norfolk Blouse S for Boys and Youths. This style has become so popular in the larger cities that manufacturers can scarcely supply the demand. They look best in Navy and Pearl Halifax Tweeds. Call and see them.

The most difficult Garment for a lady to choose is a light Print Dress, but if you call at Turnbull's you are sure to have no trouble as he can show you such a large variety in every color, every pattern and at any price.

A new material introduced this season is the Flannelette in fancy colored stripes and plains, the correct thing for Ladies' Wrappers and children's clothes, only ten cents a yard. Ladies handling it for the first time sometimes ask is it all wool. It is really all cotton but finished like a flannel.

As the weather gets warmer children require to have the heavy clothing changed for something light and cool, and Mothers are often perplexed to know what to buy. We would call their attention to our Colored Washing in Fancy Stripe and Check They are warranted fast colors in fact the ofiner they are washed the better they look. The prices range from 12½c. up.

MILLINERY.—We are still receiving daily New Goods by express. Another lot of Plaid Ribbons just received. Also some New Shapes, as the Blossom, Cape Town and Vallego. These are the correct thing for pic-nic hats.

CURRENT LONDON GOSSIP.

MR. SMALLEY'S WEEKLY LETTER FROM THE METROPOLIS.

Ministerial Concessions in Order—Lord Rosebery's Inverness Speech—Clemenceau's speech.

NEW YORK, June 18.—G. W. Smalley cables The Tribune from London: The Ministers have at last plucked up the courage to surrender their license compensation clauses. The temperance men are jubilant and the publicans angry. The joy of the Home Rule opposition expresses itself in a chorus of jeers. They think it a sign of weakness. Privately, moreover, they remark, or some of them do, that it will be just as easy to obstruct the progress of the Ministerial measure by proposing amendments to other clauses. Mr. Ritchie not very prudently let fall the remark that it was the number of amendments which had convinced the Cabinet that it was useless to persevere with their proposals for the benefit of the publicans. Probably Mr. Caine's figures convinced them, that practical arithmetical persons proved, or at least professed to prove, that the claims to compensation, under this bill would have amounted to thirty millions sterling, an appaling figure indeed.

Surrenders, or you may call them concessions, being in order, Mr. Goschen too, has given way on the wine duties. He is a greater master of figures than Mr. Caine. He strikes out from the new duty list all still wines, and reduces the duties. Yet the sum accruing to the revenue remains the same. The explanation is that the amount of duty was originally much underestimated.

Irish incidents of the week have not been numerous nor important. Nothing further has been heard from the Bishop of Limerick or from any other Irish bishops on the burning question of the Papal rescript. The English have taken much less notice of Dr. O'Dwyer's address than might have been expected. They say, however, that it is a challenge which the other bishops cannot well refuse to notice in some way. Dr. O'Dwyer declared explicitly that he spoke for his own episcopal colleagues as well as for himself. "We are all agreed," said he. If they do not dissent they will be thought to have consented.

Some pains were taken to deny that Mr. Parnell meant to give a dinner to those of his colleagues whom Mr. Balfour had imprisoned for law-breaking, but the dinner was given all the same. Mr. Parnell's after dinner oratory was thought to show more feeling than is usual with him. He dropped his arctic manner and poured out in a torrent his indignation against the Chief Secretary for enforcing the law. The epithets "coward" and "dastard" which Mr Dillon applied to Mr. Balfour sound rather like an effort to rise to the heights, or perhaps descend to the depths expected of him. Both speeches were interesting, but contained nothing new.

The same may be said of Lord Rosebery's speech at Inverness. He spoke in his best vein, at times in a new vein, and with wit and weight throughout. But neither from him nor from anybody else does any hint whatever come of Mr. Gladstone's new measure of Home Rule. Mr. Chamberlain's latest entreaty to know remains without response from any oracle. "Mr. Gladstone," says the author of the Fisheries Treaty, "calls that Birmingham scheme, which some attributed to me, moonshine. At least it is a scheme. He either has none which he is willing to avow, or means in the end to revert to those old Home Rule bills which the House and the country have both rejected, and which he allows his friends to describe as dead." I give the substance of what Mr. Chamberlain said, not his words.

Mr. Gladstone, meantime, instead of complying with Mr. Chamberlain's curiosity, addresses a fresh manifesto to Lord Hartington, complaining of broken pledges, of coercion, and of many other things. "Only an electioneering squib," cry out the Unionist journals; and they say that Mr. Gladstone was in such a hurry to reach the electors of the Ayr Burghs that he sent his letter to the papers before sending it to Lord Hartington. "Not polite," continue they; but without evoking from the Grand Old Man any apology whatever.

Mr. Gladstone's health continues to be the subject of numerous paragraphs in the Home Rule papers, all vehemently insisting that their leader was never better or younger. There is perhaps a little too much of this. Mr. Gladstone is not ill, though people begin to think so when they see his friends so frequently alleging in print the exceeding goodness of his health. But neither does he seem so strong or vigorous or confident in his own power of work as he did last year. He looks much older; his voice is or lately has been very husky; he talks less and with less vivacity; and on the whole he does not seem much younger than most men of sixty.

M. Clemenceau's visit to England might be supposed to have some political end in view. He knows England and English well enough to be able to sound in a short time Ministers if he meets them, and to discover whither English opinion with reference to French affairs is really tending. Besides, the story is current that General Boulanger is coming over. It is affirmed that Mr. Howard Vincent, M. P., lately Director of Criminal Investigation, has invited him, and that General Boulanger will be Mr. Vincent's guest while here. Why should he not? Buffalo Bill was to be met last summer at Mr. Vincent's house in Grosvenor square.

M. Clemenceau, however, says that his visit has no political object. He came on Admiral Maxse's invitation for a few days' relaxation. The Radical leader seems in great health and spirits. He has grown slightly stouter, as well as grayer, but has lost none of his elasticity of manner or exuberant intellectual energy.

GERMANY'S DEAD KAISER.

EMPEROR WILLIAM II. ISSUES HIS FIRST OFFICIAL ORDERS.

Preparations for the Funeral—The New Kaiser and Bismarck—The Policy of William II. to be issued Tuesday.

BERLIN, June 18.—The first full declaration of the new Emperor's policy is now understood as taking the form of an address to the Prussian people, which is expected to be issued on Tuesday. The Reichsrath will be summoned to meet on June 25 to receive the message, and shortly afterwards the Emperor will formally take the oath of the constitution before the Landtag. Prince Bismarck has had a conference with the Prussian Ministry, and obtained an audience with Emperor William II. The impression in the ministerial circles is that the address will be brief, that it will be explicit upon the Emperor's desire for peace and guarded upon the subject of the relations between the Crown and the people.

The remains of Emperor Frederick were placed in a coffin and then carried to the catafalque which had been erected in the jasper gallery. The coffin is identical with the one in which Emperor William was buried. Count Von Moltke visited the mortuary chamber. Later he was received by the Imperial family.

Professors Virchow, Waldeyer and Bergmann went to Friedrichskron Palace at the request of Emperor William and remained for two hours. Their presence gave rise to an accurate report that Emperor William had ordered a post-mortem examination to be made although the Dowager Empress Victoria was averse to it. Public feeling in Berlin distinctly favored the holding of such an examination, and the supposed abandonment of the plan caused a revival of the excitement against Dr. Mackenzie, who was charged with omitting an autopsy in order that he might prevent a final authoritative report as to the true malady from which the Emperor died. Besides the doctors who conducted the autopsy Count Van Stolberg Wermgerode, Count Chamberlain, remained during the examination, which proved the existence of cancer. Dr. Mackenzie's friends state that he concurred in the holding of the post mortem. They also say he knew the character of the disease from an early period, but took the best possible course with the patient.

The funeral service was read in the jasper gallery by Chaplain Koegel. All the members of the Imperial family were present at the service. The transfer of the remains to their final resting place took place this morning.

Among those who have already arrived to attend the funeral are the King of Saxony, the Grand Duke of Hesse and the Duke of Saxe-Weimar.

Prince Bismarck has received the following telegram from Signor Crispi the Italian Prime Minister:

The misfortune that has befallen your country has also plunged Italy into mourning. Though foreseen and dreaded so for a long time this end, so tragic in its simplicity and grandeur is a cruel blow to our sovereign, who has lost a tried friend. The Italian nation, who saw in Frederick a sympathetic and venerated personification of the glorious German nation, is the faithful ally of your Government. The King transmits an expression of his profound sorrow, together with his ardent wishes for the prosperity of the new Emperor's reign. Accept my personal assurance of sincere sympathy in your sorrow. Your Highness has given so many proofs of great ability to bear with fortitude such painful losses occurring at such short intervals.

Sir Edward Malet, the British Ambassador has handed Count Herbert Bismarck a letter from Lord Salisbury expressing the profound grief felt by Queen Victoria when she received the news of the death of the Emperor, whom she so dearly loved. The Queen commands Lord Salisbury to express to the German people in the name of the British nation her heartfelt sympathy in the heavy loss sustained in the premature death of the Emperor, whom they rightly loved so ardently.

Emperor William and Empress Augusta Victoria will presently reside in the Marble Palace.

An Address to the Navy.

BERLIN, June 18.—Emperor William II. has issued the following general order to the navy:

I have to inform the navy, with a deeply moved heart, that my beloved father, the Emperor of Germany and King of Prussia, Frederick III, has departed this life, peacefully in the Lord, and I, stepping into the place assigned me by God's will, have assumed the government of the land, falling to me by hereditary right, and therewith, also, the chief command of the navy. It is indeed a profoundly grave period in which I address my first words to the navy, which has only just ceased wearing the outward signs of mourning for my ever-to-be-remembered and beloved grandfather, Emperor William I, who only last year, during his presence at Kiel, expressed in the warmest words the liviest satisfaction at and appreciation of the development of the navy under his glorious government.

The flags are already lowered for my much beloved father, who so greatly rejoiced at and took so strong an interest in the growth and progress of the navy. Yet a time of deep and sincere mourning chastises and fortifies men's hearts. Thus we shall look confidently to the future, faithfully preserving in our hearts the memory of my grandfather and father.

The navy knows that it not only gives me great joy to belong to it by an external bond but that since my earliest youth a warm and lively interest has, in complete sympathy with my dear brother, Prince Harry, united me with the navy. I have learned to appreciate the high sense of honor and faithful fulfilment of duty prevailing in the navy. I know that every member of the navy is prepared joyfully to give his life for the honor of the German flag wherever he may be.

Thus, in this sad hour, I can say with all confidence—we shall stand together firmly and surely, in good and evil days, in storm as in sunshine, ever remembering the glory of the German Fatherland, and ever prepared to shed our hearts' blood for the honor of the German flag. In this God's blessing will be with us.

WILLIAM.

Apprehension Felt in Paris.

PARIS, June 18.—It is useless to deny that under cover of assumed confidence, the death of Emperor Frederick has caused a feeling here very much like dismay. It was impossible not to notice the silent agitation which pervaded the Chamber of Deputies when the death was announced. It is worthy of remark that not a single journal published an exaggerated statement or a premature account of the death of the Emperor Frederick. He was respected here as a lover of peace, and mingled with the expressions of sorrow at his death are dismal speculations as to the political consequences. Rightly or wrongly, the hatred of France and a desire to render his reign memorable by fresh laurels culled upon the battlefield at the expense of his hereditary foe.

A person who saw the Emperor at Charlottenburg preserved a paper whereon the Emperor has written the following:

"One of the most consoling circumstances of my severe trial is to be shown in what I said of me in the French papers. I certainly endeavored by every means in my power to mitigate the hardships of war when I was at Versailles, but still war was very rigorous, it must always be so to some extent. It gives me fresh faith in human nature to find how the French forgot the evil I had to do them and only remember those that are good. Their present state of feeling makes me hate war more than I ever did in my life.

An Assurance of Peace.

LONDON, June 18.—Europe may be said to think of nothing and to speak of nothing but the long-expected death of the German Emperor. When the announcement was made in the House of Commons the members, who keep their hats on to everything but a message from the Sovereign, uncovered. There is among all classes but one feeling, nor could anything be more genuine than the homage which England, in common with the rest of Europe, offers to the memory of the Emperor. The grief is more personal here than elsewhere, save in Germany. What the press says of him here is well said. Due tribute is paid to his character, his stainless life, his high qualities, his services, his patient courage, and his devotion to duty amid miserable suffering. Europe feels that a valiant soul has departed.

The Emperor and Empress, accompanied by the Dowager Empress Augusta and the Grand Duke and Grand Duchess of Baden and other royalties, visited the Jasper gallery on Sunday morning. While they were assembled around the bier of the dead monarch Chaplain Koegel offered a brief prayer. Access to the gallery was prohibited to the public until the royal party had departed. On account of the want of space it has not been possible to accede to the request of provincial authorities for permission to attend the funeral services in the Friedricks kron. The only representatives of the Berlin authorities will be the leading officials in the Ministries and a Committee of the chief Church Council. The obsequies will begin at 10 a.m.

Berlin Briefs.

BERLIN, June 18.—The Empress Victoria bears her affliction bravely. Her health is not affected.

It is said that when Prince Bismark paid his first respects yesterday to the new Emperor the young man fell upon the Chancellor's neck and with tears in his eyes said: "I hope, I beg of you, that we may remain unchanged."

Count Zudlitz-Trutzscher has been appointed Prussian Minister of the Interior, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Herr von Putkamer.

Von Weiner to-day made a sketch of the Emperor's body. The features are somewhat sharper than usual, and the cheek bones and nose are much more prominent than they were in life. The skin is of a yellowish hue.

THE WILSON-JARVIS EPISODE.

Mr. Blake not wholly Recovered—A Lawyer in Trouble.

TORONTO, June 18.—Mrs. Edward Blake arrived home a few days ago. Mr. and Mrs. Blake spent the winter at various points in Italy. They reached that country in December, and returned to England in April. Mr. Blake has not wholly recovered, but it is believed that when he has reached home and settled down he will find that he has been very greatly benefited. Mr. Blake will sail for Quebec, probably about the middle of July, and will spend the summer at Murray Bay. He will not return to Toronto before September.

The Methodist Conference on Saturday was worked up to white heat over the treatment of Rev. Mr. Wilson, at the hands of Policeman Jarvis and of the Magistrate. The case was the subject of a long resolution in which the Conference pledged its united support to Mr. Wilson in "all legal and proper efforts to obtain redress for the brutality and injustice which he has suffered." The resolution was referred to a committee.

Broker E. S. Cox, of Central Bank notoriety, was examined in Buffalo on Saturday in reference to the liquidation. He stated on two occasions he had got deposit receipts from the bank for $18,000, when in reality he had not a cent to his credit.

A charge of appropriating a client's funds has been laid against lawyer J. B. Hands of this city and his case is now before the Benchers.

PRESBYTERIAN COLLEGES.

Report from the Church Educational Institutions Presented to the General Assembly.

HALIFAX, June 18.—The six theological colleges of the church in Winnipeg, Toronto, Kingston, Montreal, Quebec, and Halifax had favorable presentations to make to the Assembly. Those who took charge of the college business in presenting reports and offering resolutions were Drs. Burns and Forest and D. M. Gordon of Halifax; Dr. MacRae of St. John, and Rev. A. H. Scott of Perth; Rev. Mr. Scringer and Rev. Mr. Dewey of Montreal; Prof. Ross and Mr. Cumberland of Kingston; Rev. Mr. Love of Quebec; Dr. Caven of Toronto and Dr. Bryce of Winnipeg.

The common college fund, having outlived its usefulness, was abolished.

Studying with a view to the ministry, Queen's has 77 students, Montreal 70, Knox 52, Manitoba 20, Morrin 15 and Halifax 40.

The report of Queen's shows the ordinary revenue for last year to be $32,251, with $5,000 additional for scholarships. The assets of the institution are placed at $413,715.

The receipts of Knox College from all sources for last year are $16,652. On the Knox endowment fund $176,554 has been paid in, $24,000 of this during the past year.

The Assembly enjoyed an excursion on the salt water Saturday afternoon, and spent from 6 to 8 o'clock in the evening at a reception in the Ladies' College.

Owen Sound Improvement Bylaw carried.

OWEN SOUND, June 18.—The bylaw providing for the purchase of property to the extent of $3,000 to enlarge Greenwood Cemetery was carried at the Polls yesterday by a majority of 176, and the bylaw for the expenditure of $20,000 in harbor improvements was also carried by a majority of 368.

PROBABLE CANDIDATES.

A COMPLEX SITUATION IN THE REPUBLICAN RANKS.

Extremely Uncertain who will be Chosen to Run for the Presidency—The Coming Convention in Chicago.

CHICAGO, June 18.—A more complex situation was never seen on the eve of the meeting of a Presidential convention. Such developments as have occurred only tend to pile mystery upon mystery. The air is filled with rumours, and out of it all develops nothing tangible. As accurate a description of the situation as could be made at this hour is that about 500 delegates are tolerably certain how they will vote, if they don't change their minds before the balloting begins. The remainder are "all at sea."

Sherman, Allison, Harrison, Oresham, Alger and Depew all have their sails set to catch every favoring breeze, but in spite of Blaine's positive declinations, a good-sized boom has been started for him and is apparently growing. Sherman will probably lead on the first ballot, but after that the result cannot be foreseen. Should several ballots be taken without a choice, when the break comes it may be to the "Plumed Knight," and a nomination under such circumstances he could hardly refuse.

Met by Blaine Men.

CHICAGO, June 18.—The Pacific coast train bearing the California and Nevada delegations and the delegations from the territories west of Colorado arrived Saturday morning. The nine palace cars which composed the train, emblazoned with various devices and with bunting and flags, was received with wild demonstrations by a multitude which awaited its arrival at the depot. The delegations were met by a committee of Blaine men with a silk banner bearing this legend, "Blaine and Protection!" It was turned over to the Coasters and borne to their quarters, followed by a throng of people.

Blaine Shouters from New York.

NEW YORK, June 18.—Two hundred Republicans, under the leadership of John J. O'Brien left for Chicago Saturday. They are all Blaine men.

Twenty prominent members of the Republican Club also left for the Lake City. They are for Depew.

Depew's Room.

NEW YORK, June 18.—Associated Press despatches from Chicago says Depew's candidacy is assuming formidable proportions. He will receive all the support the New York delegation can give him.

SPLENDOR OF ASCOT.

A great Throng of Social Celebrities Present.

LONDON, June 18.—The splendor of the Cup day at Ascot was very much diminished by the evil tidings from Berlin, but a stranger who saw Ascot for the first time on Cup Day would never guess that anything was amiss. You may take M. Clemenceau as the typical stranger, for here he is, austere Republican as he is, in the Royal enclosure. His English friend, Admiral Maxse, is with him and a group surrounds him. Few know the Frenchman by sight, nor is the curiosity of this sort of company about him particularly keen. Mr. Chamberlain is another unusual figure. It is, I imagine, his first visit to Ascot. Lady Mandeville has him in charge, but his vogue in society is such that he needs no guide amid the throng of celebrities. Most of the most familiar and famous faces of men and women are here.

The American list includes Mrs. Phelps, Mrs. Henry White, Mrs. Loomis, Capt. Chadwick and Mr. Charles Phelps—all the legation except the minister, who is on the Atlantic, and Mr. White who has to remain in London to attend to legation business. Other Americans present were Lady Randolph Churchill, Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt, Mrs. Marshall O. Roberts, Mrs. and Miss Bonyce, Mrs. Ronalds, Madame von Andre and Miss Winslow.

Ladies' costumes, always a feature of cup day, were a feature to-day; quieter than last year say sundry critics in a pleased tone. Not a few ladies who have come down from London, where we hear it is raining hard, are quiet in deference to fears of bad weather. The prevailing colors are however, light. Perhaps electric blue is more worn than any single color. But first and last you see every tint in the rainbow, and many not invented when rainbows were invented. There are many ways of seeing the Ascot races. Best of all is to spend the week with friends who have places in the vicinity, drive over daily on a four-in-hand, and lounge away the afternoon in the enclosure.

Scores of four-in-hands are to be seen against the rails on the opposite side of the course, with endless luncheons on each. There is nothing better turned out than Mr. Adrian Hope's team of bays, which he pilots over the turf through masses of people with a skill which is well cheered. Lord Hatsfield had devoted his drag to the drama, and Mr. Arthur Cecil, Mr. Bancroft and many another good actor were his guests. The Blues, too, have a dramatic tradition, but their drag yesterday carried only people of the outer world, beginning with the Duke of Beaufort.

The China man who ten days ago, in Baltimore hospital, had a piece of a rabbit's cornea transplanted into his eye is gradually recovering sight.

The convention held on Saturday, in Pittsburg, of iron and steel workers is of opinion that it would be best to close all iron works for three months.

The London Chronicle says it fears the feeling of brotherly sympathy which binds Englishmen to the Germans, socially as well as politically, will tend soon to disappear.

Madam Diss Debar, of New York, who pretending to be a spiritual medium, obtained an undue influence over Mr. Marsh, who gave her his property, has been found guilty.

MONDAY, JUNE 18, 1888.

THE GERMAN EMPIRE.

AFTER a brave and patient struggle against disease the Emperor Frederick of Germany at last had to submit to death. In his suffering the Emperor had the sympathy of the world, and now that he has passed way his widow, the oldest daughter of Queen Victoria, will receive the same sympathy, especially of the people of the British empire, over which her mother has so long and worthily reigned. The Emperor was always popular and much was expected from him by the people, but the hand of death was upon him before he ascended the throne and his reign was a short one.

The Emperor will be succeeded by his oldest son, who will reign as William II. Much uneasiness has been expressed regarding the ambition and disposition of this young man, who now holds such an important place in the world. Upon him largely depends the peace of Europe, and if reports have spoken truly regarding him war might be expected almost at once. He has been described as the idol of the people, ready to lead them on to great victories; and as being morose and cruel, and actuated by a desire for war for personal glory. It is very probable that neither of these descriptions of the new Emperor is correct, and the disposition and policy of William II. can only be known as time develops them in his course as King and Emperor. The master mind that has advised the young Emperor's father and grandfather is at his service, and so long as Bismarck retains his place the policy of Germany will scarcely be changed. Bismarck's policy has been for peace, but he has built up a great army that, should the Emperor be desirous of war, would be a tremendous instrument in his hands. But the Chancellor whose word has been for peace is still Chancellor, and if he remains in that position the affairs of Europe may not be greatly disturbed by the change on the throne of the German Empire. However this may be, all eyes will be fastened on Berlin, watching for indications of the policy Emperor William II. will pursue.

THE Canadian loan recently negotiated shows the high standing of Canadian credit and inferentially the good financial position of the Dominion. Four millions were asked for at three per cent., the lowest interest ever offered by the Dominion, and three times the sum asked for was offered. The tenders ranged from 92¼ to 95½, and the average price of the accepted tenders is 95 1-20. A Liberal organ said that 95 would be a good price for them, but they have realized over that.

ANOTHER Tory member of the Quebec local house has been unseated for bribery, the victim this time being Mr. Johnston, of Megantic.—Brockville Recorder.

The Recorder ignores an important fact in connection with that contested election. Mr. Whyte was Mr. Johnston's opponent. Mr. Whyte entered a protest against Mr. Johnston's election. Mr. Johnston was unseated—and Mr. Whyte was disqualified. Mr. Whyte was a Liberal.

DR. DANIEL WILSON has declined the honor of knighthood. He prefers the more honorable title, "President of the University of Toronto."—Cobourg World.

The title of President of the University is no doubt an honourable one, but would the acceptance of knighthood deprive the gentleman of that title?

WHEN the local member for South Wentworth makes a speech it is an exhibition of Awreytory.—Hamilton Spectator.

Awrey Tory? Well, we hope he is not the kind of Tory the Spectator prefers for South Wentworth.

Advice to Mothers.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth It relieves the little suffer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa whether rising from teething or other causes 25 cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

The "Royal" Flavoring Extracts are not only true to their names, but are prepared from fruits of the best quality.

REVIEWS.

THE DOMINION ILLUSTRATED.—This is the title of an illustrated weekly proposed to be published by Messrs. G. E. Desbauts & Son, of Montreal. It is a strong point in favor of the success of such a paper that Mr. John Lesperance, known to many attached readers as "Laclede," of the Montreal Gazette, will supervise its literary contents. Another advantage the new paper is to possess is that Henri Julien will furnish cartoons for it. Besides the president and a dozen members of the R. C. A. are to send drawings to it. The first number is intended to appear on Dominion Day, and if its illustrations (engravings and photogravures) are as good as those of the sample issue, it ought to take, at the price of $4 per annum. The sample sheets show a very high standard of the printers' and and engravers' art and the work will be one thoroughly na ional in every respect.

GEORGE KENNAN'S Siberian paper in the July Century will be called "The Steppes of the Irtish," and it will include an account of a long ride in an out-of-the-way part of Siberia, among the Kirghis and the Tartars.

SPORTING NOTES.

Noremac Wins the Walking Match—Shamrocks v Toronto.

TORONTO, June 18.—The walking match at Mutual-street Rink was brought to a close on Saturday night. The attendance at the finish was the largest since the opening, there being nearly 2,000 persons present. The Scotchman proved too much for Taylor towards the finish. Noremac kept up a lively jog all day, passing the old man, and at the close was one mile and nine laps ahead. The score at the close was as follows:

	Miles	Laps		Miles	Laps
Noremac	377	0	Bennett	270	18
Taylor	375	3	Panchot	242	3
Hart	276	11	Collins	201	1

The Torontos Beaten 3 Straight Games.

MONTREAL, June 18.—Toronto Lacrosse Club visited Montreal for the first time this season and met the Shamrocks, in an exhibition game on Saturday before a fair turnout of spectators who witnessed a good match which was won by the Shamrocks in three straight games. Time—8 20, and 6 minutes respectively. The spectators were much disappointed at the play of the Torontos. They were badly captained.

NOVA SCOTIA'S NEW GOVERNOR.

Hon. Mr. McLelan to be Sworn in on July 9—Beef Contracts Let.

OTTAWA, June 18.—It is officially announced that Hon. Mr. McLelan will be sworn in as Lieutenant-Governor of Nova Scotia on July 9.

The contracts for supplying beef for the Indian Department for next year have been let to Trounce & Co., I. G. Baker & Co., the Cochrane Ranch Co., Robert Scott and the Walrond Ranch Co. It is understood that one of the conditions of the contracts is that the beef is to be of animals raised or bred in Canadian territory. The contracts were all let at the lowest figures, which are said to be somewhat under last year's prices—an indication that as ranching increases in our own Northwest the price of beef will come down and the cost of supporting the Indians be materially lessened.

Ontario Universalist Convention.

BLOOMFIELD, June 18.—At the Ontario Universalist convention these officers were unanimously elected: President, Robert Wood of Nixon; Vice-President, Isaac Whittle of Olinda; Secretary, J. T. Middleton, of Hamilton; Tresurer, Thomas Theul, of Fulton; Trustees, J. Anderson of Port Dover, R. Bruner of Olinda, Mr. Escott of Bloomfield.

The Confession of faith was then taken from the table. After a friendly but animated discussion this resolution was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, that the Ontario Universalist Convention is willing to abide by the decision of the General Convention.

These resolutions, offered by Rev. W. S. Goodell, were also unanimously adopted:

Resolved, that we approve our position as expressed last year upon the great reforms now before our people, that the very genius of the religion we [illegible]mands righteousness and truth [illegible]lairs, equal rights to all because all are brethren, the prohibition and entire suppression of all evil practices, the development and expansion of human possibilities until the ideal of excellence as taught by Jesus the Christ is reached.

Siberia.

Having completed her great Southern Railway to Samarcand, Russia is now turning her attention to the North. Siberia is next to be opened up to trade and civilization. We have all of us had from childhood indefinite conceptions of this vast land as a dreary, inhospitable region, a land of terrible frost, fathionless snows, and interminable wastes. All these features have existed in our minds but as the background for dark pictures of the miseries endured by wretched exiles, doomed by a cruel despotism to all the horrors of a living death in a region of absolute despair. In the light of the better knowledge now afforded by such writers as Mr. Keenan, who is describing the country in The Century Magazine, we find the truth of some of those pictures fully confirmed, but we have at the same time revelations of a very different character. Siberia is now known to be a country of vast, though practically undeveloped, resources, having immense tracts of fertile land, regions of impressive and often beautiful scenery, and, in some parts, of already advanced civilization. The opening up of this vast domain, a continent in itself, will be an event in the history of European civilization. Of course with the entry of the railroad the system of political exile must come to an end. The Government is already taking steps for its abolition. The Administration Council of the Penitentiary Department has recently reported in favor of abolition of transportation to Siberia as a judicial punishment, and in all probability the system is doomed. As the prisoners will henceforth be shut up in dungeons at home, instead of being sent into Siberian exile, it does not appear that they, or the cause of humanity, will be immediate gainers by the change. But the spirit of change and of emancipation is manifestly at work, and will not cease till the whole land has come under its influence. When political exile has died, political imprisonment cannot long survive.

In Brief and to the Point.

Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered liver s misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature.

The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existance. It is easily put out of order.

Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this sad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

Remember:—No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings health and happiness to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy-five cents.

HOUSEFURNISHINGS.

At this season many Housekeepers are replenishing their supplies of Tableware and Chins. City folk are furnishing summer cottages; country folk are filling up the dressers and cupboards of the old homestead: town's folk are picking and choosing here and there. Many would be glad to know of a place whose special business is to meet these wants and desires; that aims to furnish essentially good wares at consistently low prices; that offers the choice of many different dinner services, and yet does not compel you to take an entire set of any pattern, but allow you to select each course of a new design, or buy any portion of the set you may need; that does not try to impose ideas or wares upon purchasers, and yet is ready to advise which of the many wares is most desirable and suitable; and, if wished, will make a careful selection of pattern. When you want Tablewear will you give us the opportunity to serve you.

THE CITY AND SUBURBS

Weather Probabilities.

Light to moderate, variable winds; fine and very warm weather.

Following Fashion's Decree.

Reference to the summer fashions as depicted in the leading fashion journals show that the popular and in fact the leading material for dressers during the warm season is the grenadine. Recognizing this we have selected a large stock of the very best goods in this line. The fabrics are light and make up gracefully. Ladies should see our stock before buying. Call at the golden lion.

One Month.

Thomas Brown is from Toronto and is a first class specimen of the genus tramp and vagrant. He has slept in the cells and in the parks and has been picked up several times by the police. About two weeks ago Mr. J. P. Menzies gave him six hours to leave the town, but he did not do so however, as officer Adams found him sleeping on Brock-st. He pleaded not guilty and thought he had a perfect right to sleep just wherever he saw fit. The P. M. disagreed with Mr. Brown and sent him up on the hill for one month with hard labor.

The New Nicholls Hospital.

Contractor Rutherford is pushing the work on the new Nicholls Hospital, and the foundation is about completed. It is a fine and substantial piece of stone work, many of the blocks used being very large and of unusual thickness. Stonemason Sherwood has laid down the material with skill and accuracy, the foundation being in front nearly ten feet high and of corresponding thickness. It was found necessary to raise the foundation one foot higher than shown on the plans, in order to conform to the grade of the street adjoining, and to avoid cutting down the ground in rear of the building. The corner stone will be laid by Mrs. Nicholls, the ceremony to take place within a few days, possibly about the end of the week.

The "Y."

The verdict on last Saturday evening's entertainment is "It was the best of the three." The programme as published in last Friday's issue of the paper, was well carried out, and in addition, Mr. A. E. Scott gave one of his amusing selections, a recitation in prose, describing "Catrina's spouse in a tight place." "The patchwork tidy," which consisted of scraps of poetry and prose contributed by certain members of the audience, formed an amusing feature. The president, Miss L. Sanderson, proposed to "throw" them together after the usual manner, the feather stitching being represented by remarks suggested as the reading proceeded. The alternation of bright and sombre produced quite a startling effect. During the evening an explanation was made from the chair re Mr. A. L. Davis' failure to fill the number indicated on the programme for June 9th. Mr. Davis had sent excuse for his unavoidable absence, but it had failed to reach the committee. At the close of the entertainment the president stated that the committee deemed it advisable to discontinue these very pleasant evenings until the weather became cooler. There will be no more "Y" concerts until September when we would suggest that those wishing an enjoyable hour at a merely nominal fee will remember the Saturday night entertainments. After an expression of thanks to those who had assisted on the programme, the entertainment closed with the national anthem.

We aim to make our reputation of the Pantry permanent by selling at figures that clinch the argument every time.

Dead Animals.

It puzzels the police to account for the number of dead animals that are found along the creek and in the lake. Last week officer Adams had no less than thirty-eight dogs and pigs buried.

Band Concert.

The Fire Brigade Band will give their regular weekly open air concert at the Horticultural Park to-morrow evening, and the programme for the occasion will contain some new and excellent music.

At Trenton.

On Friday night the corner stone of the new post office at Trenton will be laid in grand style by Sir Hector Langevin. Mayor Stevenson, M. P., has received an invitation to be present and he will probably accept. Sir Hector and the other distinguished visitors will be tendered a banquet by the citizens.

'Prentice Boys Regalia.

The members of the order of 'Prentice Boys in Peterborough—Jubilee Lodge, No. 7—received their new regalia on Saturday. It consists of a white apron, trimmed with red, blue and gold, and further ornamented with gold plated jewels; a handsome badge trimmed with gold fringe, and a cap ornamented with gold braid. The regalia is a beautiful one and the boys will present a fine appearance on the street.

Just What was Wanted.

The Port Hope Guide says that:—"The G.T.R. local train will start from Peterborough on Monday, 25th instant, instead of Cobourg, as at present. This will be a great boon to the Peterboroough people, for they can come to town here and remain all day and get home the same night, or they can remain one hour and a half longer in Toronto than they can under the present arrangements. It will also be a great benefit to those who want to cross the lake, for at present parties from Peterborough who wish to go Rochester must come in the night before. We are pleased at the change."

Work For the Firemen.

Shortly after twelve o'clock on Saturday night the firemen were called out to quench a blaze in the rough cast building at the corner of Water and Brock-sts., which was recently gutted by fire. The fire had only just got started when it was seen and in consequence the firemen had but little trouble in subduing it. There is no doubt that the fire was the work of incendiaries, and four men were seen running away from the building shortly before the flames broke out. About eleven o'clock on Sunday morning the fire, which had been smouldering away, broke out again. A still alarm brought out the hose waggon and half a dozen men, and in a few minutes the last vestige of fire was thoroughly extinguished. The building is owned by Mr. John C. Craig, who had just about completed arrangements for fixing it up, but this last fire has probably damaged it to such an extent that it cannot be repaired.

Emmet at the Grand.

We take the following from the Toronto Empire, of Saturday last, referring to the appearance at the Grand Opera House of Mr. J. K. Emmet and his excellent company:—"J. K. Emmet is so well known by theatre-goers that it is unnecessary to say anything new about him. With a very indifferent company, which he by no means has, his name would be sufficient to draw large houses. He is, in fact, a company in himself, and the play seems much duller when he is off the stage. It is a long time since Mr. Emmet has visited Toronto. He played in the old Royal theatre when he was here, and that was about twelve years ago. Those who saw him last night, however, will always be ready to give him a hearty welcome when he returns again, which they hope will be soon. "Fritz, Our German Cousin," which Mr. Emmet has entirely reconstructed, gives him full scope for the display of his versatile talent, and he makes good use of his opportunities. He has a most pleasing voice and his songs are all pretty and catching. His "Sleep, Baby, Sleep," is a gem, and Mr. Emmet was compelled to give an encore to it. The jolly, rollicking large-hearted and self-sacrificing German emigrant was given to the line by Mr. Emmet, and the audience we delighted when Fritz came into his own and won the girl of his heart. No well-regulated play is complete without its villain, and Mr. W. A. Paul, the artist, and brother to Fritz, made a good one. Lawyer Gumm, R. C. Gardner, is a comedian of merit and filled his part satisfactorily. Katrina, a gypsy girl, engaged to Henry Norton, but deserted by him, and who afterwards marries Fritz, was taken taken by Miss Georgia Gardener. Her acting is natural and effective, and this combined with an attractive face and figure, makes her a favorite. The notice would not be complete without some mention of Baby Spencer, Pearl Gardner and Master Gardner, three toddling youngsters, who are wonderfully well trained for so tender an age. There is one drawback only. The engagement of Mr. Emmet and his company is not long enough. There is an evening performance to-night, with a matinee only to-morrow." 1d142.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla operates radically upon the blood, thoroughly cleansing and invigorating it. As a safe and absolute cure for the various disorders caused by constitutional taint or infection, this remedy has no equal. Take it this month.

CRICKET.

The Lindsay Educationalists Defeat Those of Peterborough by 19 Runs.

On Saturday afternoon cricket teams from the Lindsay High School and the Peterborough Collegiate Institute contended for honors on the P. A. A. A grounds, with the result that the home boys suffered defeat to the tune of 19 runs, after a well played, and as cricket always is, a gentlemanly game. The following tells the tale:—

Masonic Sermon.

The Rev. M. L. Pearson, of Lindsay, President of the Bay of Quinte Conference of the Methodist Church, will preach at St. Andrew's Church on Sunday next to the Masonic fraternity.

Low prices do not affect the quality of Groceries at the Pantry. This truth demonstrated in every purchase.

A Half Holiday.

A movement is on foot among the clerks and others to have the afternoon of Tuesday next, decoration day, declared a public holiday, to permit of those who are employed in the shops of taking part in the ceremonies.

Fishing.

Enormous quantities of fish are being caught up north and down south, mainly maskinonge and bass. An ardent lover of the sport informs us that he never knew them to bite better than they are doing at present. On Saturday several thousand pounds were sold in town and this morning one man brought a canoe load up the river.

Farewell.

The Rev. Mr. S. J. Thompson, who has been pastor of the George-st. Methodist Church since the first of the year, delivered his farewell sermon on Sunday evening. During the course of it he took occasion to refer with pleasure to the harmonious manner in which everything had worked during his pastorate. To the congregation, the officials of the church and the choir, he returned his sincere thanks for the many kindnesses shown him and he severed the ties with deep regret. Rev. Mr. Thompson leaves this week for Richmond, British Columbia, a missionary station, where he has been placed by the Conference.

At Port Hope.

The Port Hope Times thus perfers to Friday's ball game at Port Hope:—"A fairly large crowd assembled at the park yesterday to witness the first game in the Midland League series between the Peterboroughs and Port Hopes. The visitors came with a flush of victory on their brows, having a few days before shut out the Lindsays and themselves scored thirty. The game yesterday did not show any such strength in the team as we had been led to expect. They play good ball, but not good enough to win in Port Hope. They could not bat very well, and in their field were weak at first base. Their two pitchers did not seem to puzzle the home fellows, and fly after fly was sent whirling through the air to the outfielders. For the home team, Wood pitched the first five and Livingstone the last four innings. The score sheet shows about equal success for them in keeping down the runs. Mulhall caught a splendid game. The umpire was provided by the visitors and came from Ottawa. He was a fair-haired youth of tender years and innocent features. When he went on the field he would no doubt have asserted with confidence that he was not half a bad fellow—but then he had not umpired a game of ball—now this opinion is changed. He did the best he knew how, but he made some stupid blunders at first and the confidence of the crowd left. After that his decisions were received with a chorus of sarcastic comments that rattled him. There was plenty of kicking on the part of the players. Port Hope has a few acknowledged talkers who ought to be squelched, and Peterborough is not free of the pest. Yesterday the game was almost spoiled by the continual jangling. Hardly a decision was given but a half a dozen tongues began to wag."

County Council.

The regular June session of the County Council will open at the Court House to-morrow afternoon at one o'clock. Warden Walsh will preside.

The Promotion Examinations

Temperance Meeting.

At the Gospel Temperance meeting on Sunday afternoon, Principal Sawyer presided. Rev. W. L. Scott, delivered an interesting address and Mrs. F. Rutherford sang a solo.

At the Point.

Workmen are engaged night and day in finishing the Mary Ellen, at Young's Point, in order to have her ready to carry the excursion for which she has been chartered. Mr. Young is also building a fine steam yacht.

In Town.

The J. K. Emmet "Fritz" Company arrived on the G. T. R. at noon and they are registered at the Oriental. A gentleman who witnessed their performance on Saturday speaks of it in the highest terms.

Cheese.

At the Belleville cheese market 2,058 boxes were offered. The sales were:—165 boxes at 9¼c.; 219 at 9⅝c.; 198 at 9. and 30 boxes at 8⅞c.; 110 boxes at 9c. and 120 at 8¾c., and 50 boxes at 8⅝c. At the Campbellford market 550 boxes were offered, of which 350 were sold at 8⅝ and the balance were withheld.

For Camp.

Capt. Sanderson, Sergt.-Major Metheral, Quartermaster Sergt. Snyder and eighteen men of the Durham Field Battery, will leave Peterborough to-morrow morning on a special Grand Trunk Train for Port Hope, where they will join the main body and proceed to the camp at Gananoque for two weeks drill.

Lacrosse.

A game is scheduled to take place at Orillia on Wednesday next between the Riversides and Orillias, but for several reasons it looks as if the local players will forfeit the game. A meeting will be held at the Commercial House to-night to decide matters and choose the team, provided it is decided to send one up.

A. C. A.

The committee intend visiting Lake Couchiching on Thursday to inspect the site of the camp for this year's meet, and Vice-Commodore McGachan extends an invitation for a party of Peterborough canoeists to join them. Those who go will leave here at 8.20, take a trip on Couchiching after reaching Orillia and return the same evening.

Fall Courts.

The sittings of the Chancery Division of the High Court of Justice, before the Chancellor, will be held at Peterborough on Friday, November 30th, at Lindsay on November 26th and at Cobourg on the 15th of October. The assizes will be held at Peterborough before Justice Street on Thursday, October 11th, at Linday October 8th, and at Cobourg, November 15th, before Justice Rose.

At Lakefield.

The people of Lakefield are evidently waking up to the fact that they are almost at the mercy of any fire that may start in the village. There is probably no place in the country better situated than it is for putting down a cheap and good system of waterworks. On Saturday last those interested deposited the necessary $40 with the clerk and a by-law to provide for the construction of waterworks will be submitted to the people as soon as possible.

The Competing Crews.

Following are the names of members of the Lansdowne Rowing Club making up the four crews (4 oared), to compete at the approaching regatta:—

1. F. Stenson	1. R. Henry
2. A. Mercer	2. F. McAuliffe
3. M. Hackett	3. H. Stock
4. H. Kent—Stroke.	4. C. Shaw—Stroke.

2. J. E. Dolan	2. F. Might
3. H. Adams	3. A. Stevenson
4. J. Sheehy—Stroke.	4. W. Matthews—St.

Cricket.

It is probable that the return match between the Lindsay and Peterborough High School teams will be played at Lindsay on Saturday next.

The Belleville and Peterborough clubs will meet on the P. A. A. A. grounds to-morrow, for the first time. The visitors have a great reputation in their section of the province, and a fine game may be looked for. They will arrive here at 9 o'clock a. m. on the Grand Junction. The following team will represent Peterborough:—S. Ray, R. B Rogers, H. Day (prof.), Rutherford, W. Hamilton, Macdonnel, Parker, J. H. Burnham, Minore, Stratton, and Sallsbury.

Coughs and Colds.—If everything has failed try Allen's Lung Balsam and be cured.

All is Ready.

The large bills announcing full particulars regarding the Dominion Day celebration at the driving park have been issued and the bill of fare presented is certainly highly creditable to the promoters. First comes the physlog procession, for which immense preparations are being made and something unique and laughable may be expected. The horse races include a $200 purse, for trotters and pacers, a $100 purse for a running race and two purses of $15 each for Indian (in costume) and cavaliers races. There are about two dozen horses being fitted at the park now and several outside speedy ones will be on hand. The Fire Brigade band will furnish music all day. In the evening a grand display of fireworks, under the superintendence of Prof. Palmer, of Rochester, will be given in the centre of the horse ring.

Avoid the use of calomel for bilious complaints. Ayer's Cathartic Pills, entirely vegetable, have been tested forty years, and are acknowledged to be the best remedy for torpidity of the liver, costiveness, and indigestion.

Brevities.

—One vag was the only tenant of the cells during Sunday.

—The Port Hope Times refers to our ball players as the "Petes."

—There was an enormous crowd on the streets on Sunday night.

—Mr. King, Secretary of the Port Hope Y.M.C.A., is in town to-day.

—The Fire, Water and Light Committee will meet to-morrow evening.

—86 in the shade was registered at Schofield's drug store this morning.

—The changes in the Methodist Church pulpits take place on July 1st.

—The members of the 57th battalion will parade at the drill shed to-night.

—A large dog, tied up in a bag, was fished up out of the lake on Saturday.

There are only a few men working on the Chemong Lake railway at Smith-st.

—The framework of a horse ornamented one side of Spaulding's Bay on Sunday.

—The Warminster factory cheese was shipped to-day, by Mr. J. D. Flavelle, of Lindsay.

—Tuesday, the 26th of June, will be Decoration Day and in the evening a regatta will be held on the lake.

—The visitors to the cemeteries, the parks and other cool resorts numbered thousands on Sunday.

—Yesterday and to-day were scorchers and the mercury was roaring away up near the top of the bulb.

—A portion of Fitzgerald & Stanger's shop is being fitted up as a show room for the Ontario Canoe Company.

"I can readily understand your being a trifle incredulous, Mary," said Steve. Hopole to his sister, "nice things, such as our table shows, generally cost some considerable money. I sent the lot home yesterday, and I'm rather proud of my buying. The dinner service is ample, very strong, and I found it really cheap. The glass is not the best but good enough for us. The few silver things are the prettiest I've seen and the finish is as good as if they cost hundreds. Don't distress yourself, dear girl, about extravagance. When we can go to China Hall and buy what is pretty and neat for so little money I'd hate to deprive you of the pleasure of having the things about. How Mr. Wilson manages to sell so cheaply I don't know, but the facts are enough for me. Let us have dinner.

The First Symptoms

Of all Lung diseases are much the same: feverishness, loss of appetite, sore throat, pains in the chest and back, headache, etc. In a few days you may be well, or, on the other hand, you may be down with Pneumonia or "galloping Consumption." Run no risks, but begin immediately to take Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

Several years ago, James Birchard, of Darien, Conn., was severely ill. The doctors said he was in Consumption, and that they could do nothing for him, but advised him, as a last resort, to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. After taking this medicine, two or three months, he was pronounced a well man. His health remains good to the present day.

J. S. Bradley, Malden, Mass., writes: "Three winters ago I took a severe cold, which rapidly developed into Bronchitis and Consumption. I was so weak that I could not sit up, was much emaciated, and coughed incessantly. I consulted several doctors, but they were powerless, and all agreed that I was in Consumption. At last, a friend brought me a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. From the first dose, I found relief. Two bottles cured me, and my health has since been perfect."

MONA'S CHOICE.

BY MRS. ALEXANDER.

"Your refusing poor Mr. Waring, and the state you were in when you had consented to marry him before your grandmother's death! Why, I never saw such a face as you had! There was some man at the bottom of it."

"I can only assure you, Deb, I was perfectly heart-whole when I accepted Mr. Waring; and I wish you would not remind me of that dreadful time—pray put it out of your mind. I hope we may soon read the announcement of Mr. Waring's marriage, and that he may live happy ever after."

"Well, I cannot understand it," murmured Mme. Debrisay, in a wondering tone; "but I do understand that you don't choose to tell."

"Never mind, dear; you must tell me all your news now."

* * * * * *

Uncle Sandy did not seem in a hurry to go north. He lingered in London, and Kenneth was under orders to come up every evening. Mona took advantage of his presence to steal away occasionally to enjoy some music and talk with Mme. Debrisay. These absences did not please her uncle. He grew cross and fidgety, and Mona began to fear that he had left his reasonableness at the other side of the Channel.

It was quite ten days after their return before Kenneth found an opportunity of speaking with her alone. An unusually fine evening offered an excuse, and Mona gladly accepted Kenneth's invitation—Mme. Debrisay offering to play chess with Uncle Sandy.

"Now that we have got clear of houses, and people, Kenneth," began Mona, as soon as they succeeded in finding a secluded seat in Kensington Gardens, "tell me what is troubling you, for I see that you are troubled?"

"Troubled? Yes, I should think so. Indeed, I am not one bit more forward than when we parted, and I doubt if I shall get away this summer. Then Mr. Black is in worse health than ever; we fear we will have to leave the school; and here is my uncle hurrying me to marry you—or, rather, to ask you again."

"Well, ask me again, Kenneth," said Mona, sweetly, "and I'll give you the same answer."

"Eh, it will be hard to put him off now," groaned Kenneth; "he is bent upon it whatever."

"Still, you cannot marry me against my will."

"No; but Uncle Sandy says you refused a grand nobleman for my sake, Mona?"

"No; for my own sake. He was a poor, half-witted creature. Kenneth, we must put a stop to this! You must tell Uncle Sandy that you have asked me again, and that I have refused you; tell him you do not care to have anything to do with a girl who is so averse to accept you. If my uncle calls me to account, I will settle the matter very quickly."

It was late when they reached home, and found that Uncle Sandy had retired to bed with a bad headache, and, according to Mme. Debrisay, a bad fit of sulks, as he had lost the game—and to be beaten, especially by a woman, was intolerable.

"Your uncle desired me to say that he wished to see you late or early to-morrow evening, Mr. Kenneth," she concluded, "so try and come as early as you can."

"Very well," said Kenneth, looking as if he did not like it.

"Do you think to-morrow will be the crucial test, Kenneth?" asked Mona, answering the look.

"I feel as if it would be."

"Then do not fear. You will get through, and it is better to have it out."

All the next day Uncle Sandy was silent touchy, dissatisfied. He felt out of sorts, and was quite sure the veal he had eaten the previous day had not been sufficiently cooked. How was it that he could eat veal abroad, and not at home? etc., etc.

These symptoms boded ill for the evening's interview.

When tea-time approached, Mona observed—

"As you want to speak particularly to Kenneth Macalister this evening, shall I go out of the way to Mme. Debrisay?"

"Naw!" said Uncle Sandy, emphatically. "I'll likely want you, so you had best be at hand in your own room."

"Very well," returned Mona.

Kenneth presented himself in tolerably good time—yet not before Uncle Sandy had begun to fidget and fret because he had not come sooner.

The private conference between uncle and nephew had not lasted long, before a message was dispatched to Mona, who was trying to read in her own room.

"Mr. Craig says would you please to come down, miss?"

So Mona descended. Uncle Sandy was grasping the arms of his chair, and speaking in an angry tone. Kenneth was standing on the hearth-rug, with flashing eyes and a heightened color.

"Such willfu' contumaciousness," were the words which hissed from Uncle Sandy's lips as his niece entered the room.

"Come here, Mona! Is it true what Kenneth's been telling me—that you have again refused to be his wife?"

"It is!"

"And has he sought you with the respect and the—the—perseverance that he should show?"

"Yes, uncle. I have no fault whatever to find with him."

"Then why are you sae obstinate? Why will you reject what's for your ain good and happiness, and refuse to agree to what I have planned for you?"

"I am sorry to disappoint you, uncle, but it is impossible I can let anyone choose a husband for me."

"And I must declare I canna wish to marry a young leddy who has refused me three times! It would be very unwise to take a reluctant wife. May be some other young leddy—"

Kenneth got so far, when Mr. Craig interrupted him bitterly—

"Ay, ay, my lad! there's as good fish in the sea as ever was caught; and I see it's no your fault. I don't know what's the matter wi' you, Mona? If you have another lad in your e'e, it'll be some ne'er-do-weel, I am afeard. If it's yon sneering deevil Everard, he wad na' walk across the street for you. You'll be sorry for your contradictiousness one day."

"My dear uncle," laughing, "I never supposed Bertie Everard cared for mortal but himself. I assure you I have no lad of any description in my mind's eye."

"Aweel!" cried Uncle Sandy, greatly enraged, "it is varra ungrateful and unbecoming to mak a laughing-stock of your uncle, wha has spent a kist o' siller on you! To think that you'll refuse a fine good young man, and never give a thought to your puir uncle's comfort, all for mere selfishness, and an ill-placed fancy. You, Kenneth, just give notice to your employers, and come awa' wi' me to Craigdarroch. And you, Mona, I am done wi' you; you may go to your chum. I renounce you; you are just heartless, like your auld grandmother's fine aristocratic freends, and look down on folks that are better than yourself."

"But, uncle, I cannot—" began Kenneth.

"Do not contradict him," whispered Mona, passing close by, as she approached her uncle. "Good-bye, then," she said, kindly, "I will never offer to return, but if you want me, and ask me, I will come to you!"

She tried to take his hand, but he pushed hers away, and turned his face from her like a naughty child.

Mona looked at him kindly, and a little sadly, and then left the room, forbidding Kenneth, by a gesture, to follow her.

A GREAT GLADSTONIAN VICTORY.

The Ayr Elections Demolish the Old Unionist Majority.

LONDON, June 18.—The election in the Ayr boroughs to fill the vacancy in the House of Commons caused by the death of Richard Campbell, resulted in the return of Capt. Sinclair, Gladstonian. Capt. Sinclair received 2,331 votes, against 2,268 for his opponent, Evelyn Ashley, Liberal Unionist.

At the previous election Mr. Campbell, who was a Liberal Unionist, received 2,673 votes and Sinclair 1,498.

The Liberals are jubilant over the unexpected result of the election, and claim that it is direct proof of the veering of public opinion to their support. The contest was fought upon strict Home-rule lines. Late in the day the workingmen went to the polls in large numbers, and almost without exception voted for the liberal candidate. This was the turning point of the contest.

BLOWN INTO THE AIR.

Terrible Explosion in a Drug Warehouse at Zanesville, O.

ZANESVILLE, O., June 18.—A terrific explosion succeeded by several secondary ones, at 11:20 Saturday morning startled the whole city. Closely following was a fire alarm from the heart of the business portion of the city. Those in the neighborhood saw the large two-story brick warehouse of Bailey Bros. & Co. in the rear of their building on Main-street, with several surrounding buildings rise in the air and fall with a crash in a heap. A team of horses which stood at the door of the warehouse was almost covered with the debris and Chas. Murphy, a farmer, was blown out of his wagon in passing.

The extent of the disaster was not realized until Abner Grayson, a colored employee, climbed out of the flaming mass, burned and bruised from head to foot. Then the mangled body of Wm. Miner, a drayman who was fatally hurt, was recovered. Several others of the employees escaped with slight injuries. Mort Bailey, son of F. P. Bailey, was in the building and his body is burried under the ruins. John Lehmana, teamster, received severe but not fatal injuries. Jesse Garden, colored, employed in Bailey Bros., was taken from the wreck badly burned. It is reported two more employees are buried in the wreck. Grayson inhaled the flames and his injuries will prove fatal.

The house is the largest wholesale drug firm in Southeastern Ohio and the warehouse was filled with gasoline, paints, oils, etc., which ignited from some cause unknown.

GRATEFUL—COMFORTING

EPPS'S COCOA

BREAKFAST.

"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavoured beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there was a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—Civil Service Gazette.

Made simply with boiling water or milk. Sold only in half pound tins, by grocers labelled thus:

We are showing the New Norfolk Blouse S for Boys and Youths. This style has become so popular in the larger cities that manufacturers can scarcely supply the demand. They look best in Fawn and Pearl Halifax Tweeds, and see them.

The most difficult Garment for a lady to choose is a light Print Dress, but if you call at Turnbull's you are sure to have no trouble as he can show you such a large variety in every color, every pattern and at any price.

A new material introduced this season is the Flannelette in fancy colored stripes and plains, the correct thing for Ladies' Wrappers and children's clothes, only ten cents a yard. Ladies handling it for the first time sometimes ask is it all wool. It is really all cotton but finished like a flannel.

As the weather gets warmer children require to have the heavy clothing changed for something light and cool, and Mothers are often perplexed to know what to buy. We would call their attention to our Colored Washing in Fancy Stripe and Check They are warranted fast colors in fact the other they are washed the better they look. The prices range from 12½c. up.

MILLINERY.—We are still receiving daily New Goods by express. Another lot of Plaid Ribbons just received. Also some New Shapes, as the Blossom, Cape Town and Vallego. These are the correct thing for pic-nic hats.

GENERAL CANADIAN NEWS

ELECTIONS IN MANITOBA, CHICOUTIMI AND PICTOU.

Arrest of a Toronto Journalist—A $1000 Verdict—The General Assembly in Halifax.

TORONTO, June 19.—Hon. G. W. Ross, Minister of Education, and Prof. Galbraith leave to-day for a visit to educational centres in the United States. It is the purpose of Mr. Ross to establish departments of architecture and of mechanical engineering in connection with the school of practical science and he goes across the line for points bearing upon each of these subjects.

Hon. Wilfred Laurier will probably begin his tour of Ontario during the second week of August. He will be accompanied by Sir Richard Cartwright. It is likely their first meeting will be the joint demonstration to be held under the auspices of the Young Liberals of Hamilton and Toronto.

The police here are getting their names up. The excitement over Rev. W. F. Wilson's arrest had not subsided when James Cheeseman, agricultural editor of the Empire, was arrested and locked up in the cells all night. Cheeseman was taking a stroll in Queen's Park at an early hour yesterday morning, when he was asked by a policeman what he was doing there. This enquiry led to hot words, the editor using very strong language and challenging the policeman to arrest him, which he promptly did. At the Police Court the Magistrate upheld the action of the police, but the case was withdrawn.

The Toronto Methodist Conference adopted a memorial from Bowmanville to the effect that the Annual Conference meeting will be held in the different towns within the bounds as well as in Toronto.

A breach of promise case was heard in the Assize Court yesterday before Justice Falconbridge and a jury. The plaintiff is Miss Jennie Brennan, a nurse by profession, 26 years of age and rather intelligent. The defendant, George R. Henderson, is a machinist in Taylor's safe works, is a young man, sports a heavy, dark moustache, and behaved in such a manner during the trial as to give the impression that he rather enjoyed the experience of having the story told in court than otherwise. The case went to the jury at 5.50, and they returned a verdict for plaintiff for $1,000, the full amount sued for.

THE MANITOBA ELECTIONS.

Nominations Will Take Place on July 4 and Polling on July 11.

WINNIPEG, June 19.—The writs for the general elections were issued yesterday. Nominations will take place on July 4 and polling on July 11. Nearly all enumerators have been appointed returning officers.

The weather is oppressively hot, 93 in the shade to-day.

The rivers are still rising.

The early closing movement has fallen through temporarily owing to a defect in the law.

The Chicoutimi and Saguenay Contest.

QUEBEC, June 19.—In the Chicoutimi and Saguenay election for member of the Local House Dumais (Lib.) was returned by about 400 majority over Marcotte (Nat.)

Elected by Acclamation.

HALIFAX, June 19.—Yesterday was nomination day in Pictou for the House of Commons. Hon. C. H. Tupper, the new Minister of Marine and Fisheries, was elected by acclamation.

The General Assembly.

HALIFAX, June 19.—In the General Assembly Prof. Seimger presented the report of the Board of French Evangelization and made a strong appeal for support and sympathy from the whole Presbyterian Church. Rev. Prof. Armstrong, Rev. C. A. Doudiet and Rev. Mr Cliniquy also spoke on the subject.

The scheme to purchase the Ottawa Ladies' College, to be under the control of the board, was endorsed by the assembly.

PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATES.

Chauncey M. Depew Expects 94 Votes on the First Ballot.

CHICAGO, June 19.—Senator Jones, of Nevada, said that the impression that Blaine would in any event get the solid vote of the Pacific coast was scarcely to be depended upon, and he did not think Blaine's nomination was possible. It was true that Sherman would get no votes from the Pacific States, and it was possible that Gresham would get some votes there, but not many. Allison, Alger or Harrison might be agreed upon, but it was doubtful in any event whether the scheme of solidifying the Pacific States on any candidate could be accomplished.

Chauncey M. Depew finished his survey of the situation last night and determined to permit his name to go before the convention. So much had been said about the feeling against Mr. Depew in the Granger States being so strong that his candidacy would be hopeless, that Mr. Depew desired to find out for himself what that feeling was. Yesterday he received such assurances from Minnesota and other States which had before been reckoned as against him that he finally decided to go into the contest. When Mr. Depew's determination was made known the New York delegation resolved to support him with the whole strength of the delegation. It was positively stated at the meeting of the delegation that Depew would receive the whole vote of New York, the votes of New Jersey and Connecticut and sufficient delegates in Minnesota and elsewhere to bring his strength on the first ballot up to 94 votes.

Thurston was chosen temporary chairman of the convention by the National Committee by a vote of 21 to 20.

A SELF-WILLED EMPEROR.

WILLIAM II. SEIZES THE REINS SWIFTLY AND WITH VIGOR.

An Exciting Sunday in Potsdam—Words and Acts that Thrill Europe—A Cold Shiver runs Through France.

BERLIN, June 19.—If straws show which way the wind blows two things which Kaiser Wilhelm II. did on the very instant of his father's death and which caused general comment, ought to arouse the gravest apprehensions for the future. Frederick died at twelve minutes past eleven o'clock on Friday morning. The then Crown Prince William, together with other members of the Imperial family, was beside the Emperor's deathbed. At the very moment of death the Crown Prince walked out of the Chamber and gave orders to his aide-de-camp, Major Baron von Natziner to have the palace surrounded by fresh cordons of troops, and sent another officer to order the regiment of Hussars of Guard to patrol the grounds and to let no one in and to let no one go out. The Hussars arrived at a smart trot, and did their duty admirably. Even Sir Morell Mackenzie was for half an hour held a prisoner. Even the passes given by Prince Radolin, the Hof Marshall, and by Count Seckendorff, the late Emperor's chamberlain, were annulled within two minutes after Kaiser Frederick's death.

A friend of mine, provided with one of the Hof Marshal's passes, who was in the palace at the time of the Emperor's death, was unable to get out and was kept a prisoner in the guardhouse from half-past eleven until five o'clock in the afternoon. All Potsdam was patrolled by troops exactly as it in war time in the presence of an enemy. The rigid and uncalled-for military measure was the very first act of the new Emperor.

The second act was to order the Imperial purple standard to be hoisted on his own palace, the Marmor Palace at Potsdam. The young Emperor's Imperial standard was hoisted within five minutes after his father's death, so that not much time was lost in asserting his Imperial authority.

These were the first two acts of the young Emperor. No one dares say much about them in Berlin, but they cause general uneasiness, and are regarded as emblematic of what is to come by and by. In fact an influential member of the Reichsrath, not a Socialist but a good standard Nationalist, said to me: "I see from these two acts that there is danger ahead for Germany. Our Great Kaiser Wilhelm and our good Kaiser Frederick both died peacefully in bed; but our young and energetic Kaiser Wilhelm II. will, as the Americans say, 'die with his boots on.' I don't think there is so much danger of war as of his provoking with his military arbitrary measures a state of feeling throughout Germany that will arouse Socialistic attempts and lead to internal strife and discord. I think the immediate effect of Kaiser Wilhelm's reign will be to increase German emigration to America by about 80 per cent."

The above language expresses to-day the feeling of the great masses of the German population. The new Emperor may not prove to be such a Hotspur after all, but such is the opinion already formed of him.

I learn from Sir Morell Mackenzie that after the first agonizing spasms were over the Empress rose, and going where Sir Morell stood, took his hand and said: "The first words I speak shall be to express my thanks to you for having lengthened my beloved husband's dear life."

The Austrian View.

VIENNA, June 19.—Vienna opinions of Emperor William's proclamation are not very favorable. The Neue Frie Presse in a cautious article says:—"Frederick as a victorious general had no need of boasting. William, on the other hand, was only a boy when the great battles which established the German empire were fought."

The Tagblatt thinks Germany's loss is irreparable and says Frederick aspired to freedom and progress—the new Emperor's manifesto is a eulogy of militarism such as has rarely been seen. The Fremdenblatt hopes that Emperor William's only intention is to strengthen the warlike character of the army, establish order and maintain peace.

English Criticisms.

The Daily News says:—We think the alarm which the proclamations of Emperor William to the army and navy excites is uncalled for. More humility might have been expected from an older sovereign, but the spirit in which the Emperor addresses the army and navy is of less importance than that with which he receives Bismarck.

The Times says:—The proclamations are worthy of the Emperor and traditions of his house. Their spirit is not necessarily to be regarded as warlike, still less as aggressive. Germany is an armed nation, and only as such, under existing conditions, can she maintain her unity and power. The Emperor has great power, but not enough to be able to hurry into a great war with a light heart, against the wishes of his people.

A despatch to the Standard from Paris says:—Emperor William's proclamations have sent a cold shiver throughout France. The National says:—They will edify the world. They are the utterances not of a pastor, but of a slaver of peoples.

A Busy Day in Potsdam.

BERLIN, June 19.—The result of the post-mortem examination of the Emperor Frederick has been accepted by the German press as a triumphant vindication of the position taken by the German doctors. Prof. Virchow's dissection showed complete destruction of the larynx by cancer. The Emperor has ordered Dr. Mackenzie to write a complete history of the late monarch's illness. Dr. Mackenzie said to-day that the disease was cancer, but asserts that it was very difficult to make a diagnosis on account of abnormal conditions in the throat. A bird's-eye view of Potsdam would impress the average observer with the idea that the people had suddenly lost their senses. The solemn and placid little village is in a ferment of excitement. The short notice given of the Emperor's funeral has turned things topsy-turvy. People expected that the dead Emperor would lie in state for at least a week in Berlin, instead of which the time has been reduced to one day and the crush is enormous. The effort to bring the mourning decorations up to the standard set in the funeral of the Emperor William has resulted in mere confusion. Thousands and thousands of workmen were rushing about to-day in the streets of Potsdam nailing crape upon every projecting surface that would admit of decoration. Officers were shouting their orders, carpenters building grand stands, citizens turning out the frames of windows to admit of more sightseers and agents rushing about hunting for apartments. It was as busy a Sunday as Potsdam ever knew.

After a vast amount of bother, presentation of letters and so forth, I succeeded in getting into the palace to-day and while there saw the young Emperor for the first time since he has assumed the dignity of monarch. He was clad, as usual, in a general's uniform, and was without coat, cloak, gloves or hat. He stalked across the corner of the courtyard, and when a group of generals and aides-de-camp jumped to their feet and saluted, he bowed gravely and passed into another wing of the palace. Two of the officers of his suite walked after him at a respectful distance. One of the officers of the party, a man of very high rank in the German army, stood looking after the new ruler respectfully for a moment, and then said:—

"If his Majesty displays the characteristics as a monarch that he did as a boy, the coming years will be fraught with extraordinary interest for the German Empire. To my mind the most remarkable characteristic of our new Emperor is his steadfastness. No power on earth can stop him when once his mind is firmly fixed."

The Emperor's Manifesto.

BERLIN, June 19.—The Emperor has issued a proclamation to the Prussian people. In it his Majesty says: The grave has scarcely closed over Emperor William I. before my father, Frederick III., is called away. Frederick bore a hard fate and showed a very Christian resignation. He remained faithful to his kingly duties in the few months allotted to him, and exhibited all the noble qualities of his mind and heart. His virtues and his victories on the battle field will be remembered as long as German hearts continue. I have taken the government, looking up to the king of all kings, and pray God like my father to be a just and clement prince, foster piety and the fear of God, to guard the peace, to promote the welfare of the land, to be a firm guardian of the right and to progress in my kingly duties in unison with the people who in good and in evil days have stood true to their kings. I count upon the people's fealty and conscious of my purpose reciprocate it heartily as a true prince to a true people, both equally ready to make sacrifices for the fatherland. My confidence is derived from this and good will and strength and wisdom to discharge the kingly office for the welfare of fatherland.

The Funeral Ceremonies.

POTSDAM, June 19.—Prince Bismarck and Count Von Moltke arrived here yesterday. The railway stations at Berlin and Potsdam were closed against the public. Crowds gathered outside these buildings and soldiers and police were posted around the stations to keep back the crowds. The Friedrickshon palace was guarded like a fortress. At 9 o'clock the bells were tolled and the ministers who were to officiate at the Emperor's funeral took their places around the coffin in the palace. The choir sang the hymn "Soon Thou Callest Me to Higher Joys" and "Jesus is My Trust." Chaplain Koegel blessed the corpse and the mourners, after which the choir sang "H I Am to Die." The commanders of twelve regiments of which the late Emperor was the chief officer, carried the coffin to the hearse. Eight majors then took the horses by the bridle, and the procession started towards the church.

The second mortuary service over the remains of the Emperor was held at Friedrichskron Castle last evening. Dr. Koegel, court chaplain, officiated. Emperor William and the Empress, the Dowager Empresses Augusta and Victoria, all the members of the German imperial and royal families and the entire household were present. At the conclusion of the service the coffin was closed in the presence of the Emperor, Count Von Stolberg-Wernigerode, court chamberlain; Dr. Friedburg, Prussian Minister of Justice; and the others who had been bidden to the ceremony, and was then placed on the same state bier used at the funeral of Emperor William.

At 9.15 yesterday this morning Potsdam was in mourning and emblems of grief were to be seen everywhere. All the way from the castle to the Friedenskirche, where the funeral was to take place, torches and cressets were seen illuminating with their pallid flames the morning light. Every here and there rose huge flagstaffs and poles bearing banners with mourning devices. The troops which were to take part in the funeral ceremony were already mustering. They comprised the entire garrison at Potsdam and a portion of the Berlin and Spandau garrisons. They consisted of one combined infantry battalion, two combined cavalry squadrons, two combined batteries of artillery, a regiment of the guard corps from Berlin and similar combined battalions and batteries from Spandau. At 10.30 o'clock the troops assumed their positions and the various dignitaries, deputations and various associations proceeded to their places.

The ceremonies at the Friedrichskron Castle began with the performance of Bach's Balo Rufst Du Mich Zu Hohern Frieden. Then the chorale Jesus Meine Zuversicht was sung. As the last strains died away Chaplain Koegel arose and offered a prayer, in which he alluded in feeling terms to the double grievous visitation upon the Imperial house and upon the nation. He thanked God for all He had done for the departed monarch, and implored heavenly consolation for the sorely tried members of the Imperial family and for the nation. The chorale Wenn Ich Einmal Soll Scheiden was then sung, after which the coffin was removed from the castle and placed on a funeral car, the choir meanwhile singing, "I Know that My Redeemer Liveth."

The procession was then formed and moved to the church. Upon arriving at the church the mourners took the seats assigned them. After the service Chaplain Koegel pronounced the benediction. There was no sermon. After the firing of volleys and minute guns by the troops the mourners took their departure. Before leaving the widowed Empress bent over the coffin, and took a solemn farewell look at her dead husband's face. Court Preacher Persius repeated the closing prayer and the choir intoned a dirge.

In the procession from the castle to the church the Prince of Wales walked with the Emperor and the King of Saxony. Among those who took part in the procession were prince Henry, second son of the deceased Emperor, the hereditary Prince of Saxe-Meiningen, and the generals of the army, headed by Count Von Moltke, who carried a marshal's staff. Relics of the Prussian corps of the guard and the dragoon guard brought up the rear of the procession. The funeral ceremonies ended shortly before one o'clock.

The iron and steel manufacturers have rejected the wages scale proposed by the Amalgamated Association of Workers, and a strike is certain.

The St. Catharines Lumber Company's appeal is not expected to come before the Privy Council Judicial Committee until the end of the first week in July.

NOTES FROM THE CAPITAL.

HON. C. H. TUPPER ELECTED BY ACCLAMATION IN PICTOU.

Daily Reports Indicating Satisfaction from the Commanders of the Cruisers—Seizure of Horses by the Mounted Police.

OTTAWA, June 19.—News was received here last night that Hon. C. H. Tupper had been elected by acclamation in Pictou; Dozens of congratulations were wired to the new Minister of Marine and Fisheries. He is expected to come to Ottawa at once.

There are now eight cruisers in commission in the fisheries protective service in the maritime provinces; the Acadia, La Canadienne, Dream, C. H. Tupper, Advance, Critic, Vigilant and C. J. Brydges. The cruiser recently purchased from Col. Allan Gilmour is now in the canal basin undergoing repairs and will shortly proceed to Georgian Bay.

The Department of Fisheries is now in receipt of daily reports from the commanders of the cruisers, which are so far highly satisfactory. American fishermen are freely taking out the licenses permitted to them under the modus vivendi and everything appears to be working smoothly.

It is understood that the Department of Fisheries will repeat this summer the exploratory surveys made last year of the deep sea fisheries of the Pacific. Mr. Mowat, Inspector of Fisheries for British Columbia, will be in charge of the expedition, and the special subject of enquiry will be the black cod fishery banks.

The mounted police seized a number of horses near Lethbridge, N.W.T., which had been smuggled into Canada. On examination by a veterinary surgeon the horses were found to be suffering from glanders, and the customs officers at Lethbridge ordered all the animals shot.

Fires at Guelph.

GUELPH, June 19.—Fire at Kennedy's lime kiln did $150 damage on Saturday night.

Joseph Hefferman's stable, on the Elora road, was burned down yesterday morning.

Hamilton Notes.

HAMILTON, June 19.—Four members of the family of Wm. Scott were taken very sick on Sunday after partaking of some corned beef which Mr. Scott purchased in the market on Saturday.

A fire occurred in the stables of Duffy's Hotel just before midnight on Monday. Wm. Smith was nearly suffocated before he was aroused from a drunken sleep in the burning building.

Hackman Cline, charged with careless driving in riding over a boy named John Kavanagh on Saturday, was remanded until next Monday at the Police Court.

The Mate of the Tradewind Drowned.

OSHAWA, June 19.—John Rolland, mate of the schooner Tradewind, was found drowned yesterday. He left the schooner to come up town, and not returning Capt. John Shaw sent his men in search; and after grappling for some time his body was discovered in the lake. It is supposed that, returning to the schooner in the dark, he missed his footing after getting aboard, as his body was found below the taffrail of the schooner. His body was sent to his friends in Port Hope for burial.

THE SEAL FISHERIES.

An Inquiry Made in the British House of Commons.

LONDON, June 19.—In the House of Commons yesterday Mr. Edward Gourley asked whether it was true that the American Government had officially announced the departure of the warship Dolphin and other armed vessels to Behring Sea with instructions to seize British or other vessels engaged in seal fishing. Mr. Gourley also asked if Her Majesty's Government had sent a warship to warn the masters of British sealers of the results of infringing the Alaskan laws, and if any of the vessels seized in 1886 and 1887 had been released.

Sir James Ferguson replied that so far as the Government knew no such announcement had been made by the American Government. An order had been given from Washington that the three British vessels seized in 1886 be restored to their owners. With regard to the vessels seized in 1887 the Government had not heard that any of them had been restored, but the proceedings relating to all the seizures were progressing.

POLITICS IN FRANCE.

An Election which must be Fought Over Again—A Close Vote.

PARIS, June 19.—In the election for member of the Chamber of Deputies for the department of the Charente, Gallibert (Bonapartist) received 31,401 votes, Weiller (Republican) 23,989, and Deroulede 20,854. Another ballot will be necessary.

France desires Peace.

MARSEILLES, June 19.—Premier Floquet, addressing the Municipal Council here, said it was the ambition of the Government to maintain a peaceful policy abroad to effect internal progressive reform. It was unjust to accuse the Ministry of desiring war while they were making preparations for an international exhibition.

The Devastating Grasshopper.

JASPER, Ind., June 19.—Myriads of grasshoppers have appeared in many parts of Southern Indiana, and are devouring all vegetation as they go. They destroy meadows first, then the foliage of trees, and next corn, oats and garden vegetables. Thousands of acres of meadows have been devastated.

Highwaymen Get in their Work.

HELENA, Mont., June 19.—Saturday a west bound train on the Northern Pacific road when near Junction City was stopped by highwaymen. The robbers broke in the express car and took a package containing $400. The male passengers were robbed of $600. A posse is in pursuit.

A MAD FOLLY.

THE Kingston Whig is still in a confused state of mind regarding Sir Charles Tupper's opinion of unrestricted reciprocity It quotes the telegram sent to Washington announcing the placing of certain articles on the free list and which closed. "Canadian government awaits further legislation by Congress in the same direction." It also quotes remarks said to have been made by Sir Charles wherein he looked to the passage of the Mills bill in Congress and to a larger share of reciprocity on both sides, and adds:—

"Now in the face of these facts what is the use of the REVIEW, or any other intelligently conducted paper, saying that Sir Charles declared unrestricted reciprocity to be 'a wild chimera,' that he gave no encouragement to the scheme!"

That depends. If there are others who have been misled by misrepresentations of what Sir Charles Tupper has said, or if the Whig is honestly open to conviction, there may be a great deal of use in quoting what the ex-Finance Minister did say.

The Whig should know that both political parties in Canada have been and still are in favor of more extended commercial relations with the United States. The Conservatives while in office endeavored by sending representatives to Washington to negotiate a treaty for that purpose, and the Mackenzie Government sent the late George Brown on a similar mission. It was a Conservative Administration that carried into effect the former reciprocity treaty and they have several times since tried to obtain the consent of the United States to a similar treaty. Last September the Hon. Wilfred Laurier declared that the policy of the Liberal party was to secure a renewal of that treaty. The both parties were agreed on that. Since then the Liberal party has adopted the advocacy of what they call unrestricted reciprocity—a scheme which includes the free passage across the boundary lines of all the products of either country, while customs duties are maintained against Great Britain and the rest of the world; a policy, in fact, that contemplates a combination with the United States against Great Britain. There is a wide difference between that scheme and the reciprocity that both parties formerly advocated, and it was this new scheme that Sir Charles Tupper opposed, while at the same time he favored freer commercial relations, which the Conservative party had always favored. Now, we must acknowledge that, in quoting from memory, the REVIEW did not give Sir Charles' words. He did not say that unrestricted reciprocity was a "wild chimera," but in his budget speech he said it was "the wildest chimera that was ever put before a sensible people." Is that sufficiently emphatic? He further referred to it as "the mad folly of unrestricted reciprocity." Is that plain enough? Further on in the same speech he said:—

"Does he (Sir Richard Cartwright), want to allow the enormous capital, the great skill, which has made the United States today one of the foremost manufacturing countries of the world, sweep our younger industries, with smaller capital, out of existence, and compel the labor of this country, which, after all, is our most vital and important consideration to keep in our midst, to go, as it had to go in these dark years of Canada, down to Boston and New York, to do in another country the work required to be done in Canada, and which a subsequent Canadian Government found that Canadians could do on Canadian soil? I have used a strong term; I have said this scheme of unrestricted reciprocity is a folly, a mad folly."

Does the Whig require anything further to show that Sir Charles gave no encouragement to the scheme?

Now, the offer Sir Charles, or the British Commissioners, made at Washington, was perfectly consistent with his words that we have quoted. It was simply an offer to settle the fisheries dispute on the basis of "freer commercial relations." Sir Charles did not propose that the freer relations should take the form of unrestricted reciprocity; and the United States Commissioners did not do so either, for they refused to negotiate regarding the trade relations.

Correspondence of the Review

HYMENEAL.—On Wednesday evening, the 14th inst., the Rev. George Carpenter and Miss Clara Crabtree, of this place, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony by the Rev. Mr. Wilson, of this place. The ceremony, which was a very pleasant affair, took place at the residence of the bride's father. Many friends of the young couple join in wishing them much happiness.

MOONLIGHT EXCURSION.—The first moonlight excursion of the season took place on Friday night, the 15th inst., under the auspices of the band, on the palace scow "Paloma." As the night was all that could be desired and the crowd was not too large, the cruise around Sturgeon Lake was a very pleasant one.

FISHING.—Every person who is fond of angling has been trying what can be done in the line of bass fishing since the season came in. Some of our local anglers have been very successful in hauling in some fine bass.

In brief and to the Point.

Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered liver is misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature.

The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existance. It is easily put out of order.

Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wunderful work in reforming this sad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

Remember:—No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings health and happines to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy-five cents.

Shipments of wheat from India during the past week to the United Kingdom were 105,000 quarters; to the continent 90,000 quarters.

THE STREET MARKET.

The receipts of grain on the street are small and prices in most cases nominal. Fall wheat is quoted at $1, spring at 86c to 90c, and goose at 77c to 78c. A load of oats sold at 57c. Barley nominal at 59c to 66c and peas at 72c to 75c. Hay in limited supply, and prices steady, with sales of ten loads at $15 to $18.50 a ton. Straw sold at $9 a ton. Dressed hogs are quoted at $8.50. Beef $6 to $7 for forequarters, and $8 to $10 for hindquarters. Mutton $6 to $8.50. Lamb $8 to $10. Veal $6.50 to $8.50.

BEERBOHM'S REPORT.

Beerbohm reports as follows to-day: London—Floating cargoes, wheat steady, corn nil; cargoes on passage, wheat and corn steady and quiet. Mark Lane—Wheat, flour and corn quiet. French country markets quiet. Paris—Wheat steady, flour firm. Good cargoes No. 1 Cal. wheat, off coast, 33s 3d, was 33s 3d. English farmer's delivery of wheat during the past week is as follows: Wheat 39,665 quarters; average price 31s 7d, was 31s 8d. Weather in England cold. Liverpool—Spot wheat neglected, corn dull, 4s 7½d, 1d cheaper. Good cargoes wheat, off coast, 32s, was 33s. Present and following month, 32s 6d, was 33s; do. Walla Walla wheat, off coast, 32s, was 32s. Present and following month, 32s, was 32s.

LIVERPOOL MARKETS.

Liverpool reports wheat quiet, with demand poor and holders offering freely; corn dull, demand poor. Quotations—Spring wheat 6s 7d to 6s 8d; red winter 6s 7d to 6s 8d; No. 1 Cal. 6s 7d to 6s 9d; corn, 4s 7d; peas, 5s 10d; pork, 70s; lard, 42s 3d; cheese, 44s 6d.

The Coal Trade.

The Coal Trade Journal reports the production of anthracite last week at 557,861 tons, as against 697,546 tons same week last year. Since Jan. 1 the total production is 14,391,088 tons comparing with 14,533,270 tons same time last year, decrease of 162,182 tons.

Canadian Oil.

The total clearance on the Petrolia Oil Exchange for the week ending June 7, were 23,592 bbls.; for the week ending June, 14, 17,379 bbls.; with prices ranging from $1.12 to $1.13. The present price has stimulated drilling considerably and operations in the producing field are pretty active. On the McPherson farm in the eastern field Mr. C. McKenzie has tapped the samevein as the late McPherson well and has a pretty good pumper. If it does not prove more permanent than the others in that field it will not prove much of a market disturber. Marshall & Stokes are reported to have struck a good well south of this town on Bear Creek Hill, but its capacity is not yet known.

The enquiries for refined have been increasing and there is a strong confidence in the trade that this season will be an active one. There has been for the last two of three years determined efforts made to improve the quality of Canadian refined, and it is gratifying to know that a large measure of success has resulted.—Petrolia Topic.

In Drummondville Moise Laramee was killed by the explosion of the boiler of a saw mill. A 12-year old boy named Alphonse Praise was also killed.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla operates radically upon the blood, thoroughly cleansing and invigorating it. As a safe and absolute cure for the various disorders caused by constitutional taint or infection, this remedy has no equal. Take it this month.

J. K. Emmet.

Mr. J. K. Emmet as "Fritz, Our Cousin German," has a world wide reputation as a German comedian, and judging by his performance of the play at the Opera House on Monday evening, there is not much fear of that reputation being tarnished. The house was only a fair one, but those who were present witnessed a performance of the highest order and one the like of which has not been seen here for a long time. As Fritz, Emmet carried the house by storm, his singing and dancing were features that were encored time and again, and deservedly so too. The support was excellent, the leading characters being sustained by Miss Georgie Gardiner, as Katrina, the Gypsy girl who marries Fritz, R. C. Gardiner as Grimm, the lawyer-detective, W. A. Paul and Mart Cody, the villians, and last but not by any means least Baby Spencer, Pearl Gardiner and Master Gardener, the little tots, who can give pointers to many older and more experienced actors. The scenery, particularly the old water mill in the last act, was really fine. The dog "Jura" exhibited rare intelligence even for a dog. The applause during the play was frequent and loud, and we feel confident that if Mr. Emmet ever visits Peterborough again, he will be greeted with a crowded house.

HOUSEFURNISHINGS.

At this season many Housekeepers are replenishing their supplies of Tableware and China. City folk are furnishing summer cottages; country folk are filling up the dressers and cupboards of the old homestead: town's folk are picking and choosing here and there. Many would be glad to know of a place whose special business is to meet these wants and desires; that aims to furnish essentially good wares at consistently low prices; that offers the choice of many different dinner services, and yet does not compel you to take an entire set of any pattern, but allow you to select each course of a new design, or buy any portion of the set you may need; that does not try to impose ideas or wares upon purchasers, and yet is ready to advise which of the many wares is most desirable and suitable; and, if wished, will make a careful selection of pattern. When you want Tablewear will you give us the opportunity to serve you.

Taking Holidays.

At the regular meeting of the "Y" held Monday evening, the 18th, it was decided to take holidays during the hot months. The Union will resume their different lines of work in September, when it is hoped that each old member will be found in her place and endeavor to bring a fresh one with her. Due notice will be given of the re-opening.

Social.

A Lawn Social under the auspices of St. Paul's Ladies' Aid will be held at the residence of Mr. Wm. Ferguson, High Park, North Monaghan, on Friday evening the 22nd inst. Admission 25 cents. The Fire Brigade Band will be in attendance. Busses will leave St. Paul's Church at 7 p.m., sharp. They will stop at the corner of Charlotte and Rubidge Streets. A charge of 5 cents for conveyance each way will be made. 3-d 143.

Battalion Notes.

As there was only a small number of members of the 57th on parade, the question of taking a vote on fixing a night for regular drill was postponed.

Through some mistake or misunderstanding there was no march out of the battalion on Monday night. The band, Drum Major and all, turned out in full force, and marched up to the drill shed, but upon finding that their services were not required they marched back again.

The red coats who were present at the muster were put through different movements for a short time, and were then dismissed for the evening.

At a meeting of the officers held on Monday evening, it was decided to form a Rifle Association in connection with the battalion. This is certainly a move in the right direction, and one that meets with much favor among the men.

THE ROWE ESTATE SALE.

The Land all Sold—Good Bidding and a Very Successful Sale.

The auction sale of the lands of the late Robert Rowe took place at the Court House on Monday afternoon. There was a good attendance and at times the bidding was spirited. The lands had been divided into seven parcels and sold as follows:—

Parcel No. 1.—Lot No. 10, south of McDonnel-st. and west of George-st., half acre with rough-cast dwelling. Sold to Mr. John Burnham for $1,700.

Parcel No. 2.—The homestead. The south part of Lot 10, north of Hunter-st. and west of George-st., having a frontage on Bethune-st. of 83 feet and on Hunter-st. of 114 feet, and having on it the dwelling occupied by Mr. Rowe. The bidding commenced at $2,000 and eight bids ran it up to $3,000, at which price it was sold to Mr. W. Aldridge.

Parcel No. 3.—An undivided half interest in part of Lot 1, south of Hunter-st. and east of George-st., frontage of Hunter-st. of 30 feet by a depth of 105 feet 8 inches. Covered by stores occupied by Messrs. Butler and Mitchell. Sold to Mr. James Stevenson for $4,000.

Parcel No. 4.—An undivided half interest in part of Lot 3, east of Water-st. and north of London-st., having a frontage of 57 feet on London-st. by a depth of 122 feet. A brick house on the property. Five bids ran this parcel up to $1,375 and it was bought by Mr. John O'Meara.

Parcel No. 5.—Part of Lots No. 2 south of Brock-st. and Lot No. 2 north of Hunter-st. and west of George-st. Frontage on Chambers-st. of about 94 feet by a depth of 95 feet. It was sold in halves, the south 47 feet being bought by Mr. W. J. Hall for $775, and the north 47 feet, with rough cast house, was also sold to Mr. Hall for $900.

Parcel No. 6.—Parts of Lot No. 1, south of Brock-st. and Lot No 1, north of Hunter-st. and west of George-st., having a frontage on George-st. of 40 feet and extending back 100 feet to Chambers-st. There are two shops on the property, occupied by Messrs. W. H. Wrighton and D. Smart. The bidding commenced at $5,000 and went up to $7,000 at the eighth bid, at which price it was knocked down to Mr. John Burnham.

Parcel No. 7.—Part of Lot No. 15 south of Simcoe and west of George-st. (Block A), having a frontage on Ried-st. of 63 feet by a depth of 118 feet. The bidding commenced at $400 and it was sold to Mr. Bannell Sawyer, on the eighth bid, for $825.

The sale was a very successful one. It was well managed, and was ably conducted by the auctioneer, Mr. Charles Stapleton.

Enlarged Again.

The case against the young lad, Butterworth, charged with larceny and forgery, came up at the Police Court again this morning, and it was further enlarged for a week. The authorities are in communication with the managers of the Miss Macpherson Home, whence the lad was sent from, and it is expected that they will do something for him.

Famous Sporting Grounds.

The Belleville Intelligencer says that—"As will be seen, the steamer Cruiser, C. Grylls, Master, will commence regular trips from Peterborough on the 27th inst., for Julian's Landing and Stoney Lake, the famous hunting and fishing grounds, already well and widely known. Besides the charms that the region has for sportsmen, the scenery is unsurpassed."

Off for Camp.

Captain Sanderson, two non-commissioned officers and eighteen men of the Durham Field Battery, left this morning on a Grand Trunk special for camp at Gananoque. At Port Hope they joined the main body and at the different places en route, they picked up detachments. Those who left here were a finely drilled and soldierly looking lot of young men and we have no doubt that this year, as on former occasions, they will fully sustain the reputation of the battery, as one of the best in the Dominion.

Cricket.

The Empire announces among the fixtures of the Irish gentlemen cricketers that "they may play matches at Orillia and Peterborough."

A cricket match between the Belleville and Peterborough clubs commenced on the P.A.A.A. grounds this morning. The home players went to the bat first and made 261 runs. Of these Sam Ray contributed 122, Day 42, Strathy 23, Hamilton 19 and McDonell 17. Belleville went to bat at 2.30 o'clock, after lunch.

More of It.

In addition to the Dominion Day programme as given by us, must be added the deer and fox hunts and the grand balloon ascension. For the first time in this vicinity people will have the opportunity of seeing and also hearing a pack of hounds in full cry after deer and foxes. The effects will be most realistic and will be well worth going miles to see. The secretary is also in communication with one of the greatest aeronauts known, who it is expected will be on hand with his monster balloon. The horses in training at the park for the trotting and running races are in splendid condition and it is fully expected that more than one local record will be broken.

Lacrosse Notes.

The match between the Riversides and the Y.M.C.A. lacrosse clubs, announced for Monday night, did not take place owing to the fact that several members of the latter team were not on hand in time. The Riversides chose up among themselves and had a good practise match.

The following team was chosen on Monday night to try conclusions with Orillia, at that place on Wednesday next:—

THE COUNTY COUNCIL.

THE JUNE SESSION OF REEVES AND DEPUTY REEVES.

A By-law to Issue Debentures Read a Third Time—Warden Walsh's Address to the Council.

The County Council met at 2 o'clock today in special session.

PRESENT—Warden Walsh in the chair, and Messrs. Moloney, Brown, Hicks, Crough, Kidd, Crowe, Forster, Anderson, Sanderson, Finlay, Stewart, Moore, Casement, Wilde, Burnham, Elmhirst and Fitzgerald.

READ A THIRD TIME.

The WARDEN explained that the special session was held to give the third reading to a by-law for the issuing of debentures for $20,000 to build bridges in the County.

On motion of Mr. BURNHAM, seconded by Mr. CASEMENT, the by-law was read a third time and passed.

REGULAR SESSION.

The Council then went into regular session and the minutes of the last sitting were read and confirmed.

THE WARDEN'S ADDRESS.

Warden WALSH addressed the Council as follows:—

GENTLEMEN.—It gives me great pleasure to congratulate you on our meeting in this second session of the year, all in good health and ready, I am sure, to enter heartily upon the work which will for the next few days demand our attention.

There is reason to say that the County is in a prosperous condition. The crops are looking fairly promising and with a favorable season the labors of the farmers will meet with a good reward.

Since the last session nothing of unusual importance has transpired worthy of my particularly drawing your attention to it. The last spring was very favorable to our county bridges. I have made special enquiries from our engineer and other persons likely to know, and I am glad to be able to inform you that not one dollar's worth of damage from spring freshets took place. This is in very agreeable contrast to the experience of most former years in this respect.

You are aware, of course, that two new bridges have been constructed by the County—at Warsaw and Allandale. They are both now complete and accepted, and I am most happy to report that in all respects they are well built.

In company with Mr. Moloney, Reeve of Douro, Mr. Sanderson, Reeve of Smith, representing this Council, and the County Engineer, and Mr. Law, the contractor for the iron work, I visited these bridges on June 9th. A most thorough examination of the bridges in every point was made, and everything was found satisfactory. I think the county, the contractor, and all concerned in these structures are to be congratulated upon the excellence of the work in every respect. They are likely to last for years without demanding anything for repairs, and they furnish additional evidences of the fact that what is worth doing is worth doing well. They will be permanent and satisfactory, and in the end the cheapest that can be built.

On the same date the same party visited what is known as Sullivan's bridge in Douro. This bridge was found to be in a dangerously delapidated condition, unfit for safe travel. I would urge the importance of rebuilding this bridge at the shortest convenient moment.

The equalization of the assessment will, of course, engage your attention. Your past experience in this matter will doubtless enable you to deal with the matter with due regard to the best interests of the County, as a whole, and in the way of justice to the several municipalities.

A short time ago I received a communication from the solicitor of the heirs of the estate of the late James Hague, making a claim to the amount of $200 for compensation for land taken by the county adjoining the west end of the iron bridge at Lakefield. I placed the matter in the hands of the County Solicitor with instructions to take measures to protect the interests of the County in the matter.

You will doubtless be asked to deal with the claim of our County Solicitor for increased remuneration in the matter of conducting the Grand Junction suit. You are aware that the amount of the costs given to the County by the decision of the Privy Council have been paid over to the Solicitor and although, as Warden of the County, I have made no less than three demands upon the County Solicitor for payment of the amount over to the County, he refuses to hand over the funds. I understand from him that he has placed a lien upon the amount to secure the payment by the County of the additional remuneration for his services he demanded. I regret that the withholding of this sum has caused the County to pay interest on borrowed money, when there are funds belonging to the County, which, if in our hands, would save no little expense. I might add that it seems to me our County Solicitor has been amply remunerated by the award made by the special committee last January. The Grand Junction matter has lasted too long already, and I think it would be wise to take such action as would result in placing everything in connection with it upon a basis admitting of no further dispute nor demands.

This suggests to me the importance of considering the subject of the mode of payment for the services of our County Engineer. I have instructed the Clerk to go over the record and ascertain what amounts have been paid the County Engineer for the past five years. His report will be laid before you and will enable you to intelligently discuss the question as to whether it is better to place the County Engineer upon fixed salary or to follow the course which has been pursued in the past.

Before closing I wish to refer to one other matter worthy of attention. You will all have noticed in coming here the beauty of the Court House Park, through which we passed. I think this Council can congratulate itself upon having done a wise thing in giving, as it did in 1885, a lease to the Peterborough and Ashburnham Horticultural Society of these grounds. The Society has made good use of its opportunities, and the public, both of town and county, receive great enjoyment from what is now one of the finest little parks in the country.

I have had too pleasant an experience of your devotion to your duties to make it necessary to commend the matters I have mentioned, as well as other matters that may arise during the course of the session, to your diligent consideration.

JOHN WALSH,
Warden.

June 19th, 1888.

Mr. MOLONEY moved, seconded by Mr. SANDERSON,—That Messrs. Burnham, Kidd, Stewart, Forster, Brown, and the mover and seconder, be a committee on the Warden's address.—Carried.

The CLERK read an invitation from Mr. J. H. Roper, on behalf of the Horticultural Society, inviting the Council to a concert in the park in the evening.

THE GRAND JUNCTION SUIT.

Mr. EDWARDS, County Solicitor, was heard. He said he had just handed in to the Clerk a statement of the Grand Junction matter, and his bill in connection with it. At the January session a Committee was appointed, which, as the matter was not an ordinary one for which a tariff was provided, decided on recommending a lump sum as his remuneration. This sum was reduced by the Finance Committee, and he did not think he had been sufficiently remunerated. He collected the costs from the other parties, and he deposited it in the bank. If it was decided that it belonged to the county they would receive it with interest; if it was decided that it belonged to him he would of course be entitled to interest. He did not blame the Council for the action it took in January, yet he did not think the remuneration they voted was sufficient. He was willing to have the matter referred to the taxing officer at Toronto to decide between them if they thought his bill too high. The Warden had asked him to hand over the money, but he told him the Council would then meet in ten days and he would make a report to it. If the difference of opinion continued between them he would be willing to have it referred to someone mutually agreed upon and it could be adjusted in eight or ten days.

The Council then adjourned till Wednesday morning.

Remain In.

Those who were at the Opera House last night were greatly annoyed by the noise made by people coming back after the acts had commenced, after taking a trip outside. A good plan to stop it would be to refuse to give checks, so that if a man went outside he would have to pay over again or remain out.

A Good Catch.

Saturday afternoon two ardent lovers of fishing proceeded to Young's Point to have some sport with hook and line. In a few hours they managed to secure no less than fifty-nine fine bass between them. Another gentleman, who was up at Buckhorn, informs us that the pools are fairly alive with fish.

—New ties are being laid on the G. T. R. from Edinburgh-st. north and the track raised to keep level with the new portion of the line.

—Some workmen at a G. L. R. R. dump had another close shave this morning from being injured by being carried over on one of the cars.

—The larceny case against a young girl came up again this morning and was further enlarged until to-morrow. It was found necessary for the court to take evidence in a house at the south end this morning, as the witness, a woman 82 years of age, was unable to leave her residence.

VILLIERS—OTONABEE.

Correspondence of the Review.

PICNIC.—A highly enjoyable picnic was held south of Villiers' corners in Mr. Jas. Dickson's grove, which proved to be a success. It being especially for the children of that school, amusements for the scholars, and also for grown people, were provided. Foot racing caused considerable sport. In the evening the children took their departure for home and dancing continued on to a late hour. There was a large crowd present from all parts, and a gentleman from near Peterborough gave instructions, and they danced accordingly.

The Steam Whistles.

To the Editor of the Review.

SIR.—In a recent issue of your paper you referred to the complaints that are made by the inhabitants of our town with regard to the outrageous and unnecessary disturbance caused by the train drivers on both our lines of railway, and no one, I think can assert that these complaints are without foundation. All day long, and during a considerable portion of the night, the steam whistles are sounding in and through our ears, breaking our rest at night, as well as interfering with our comfort during the day.

In Toronto this unbearable nuisance has been abated through the intervention of the municipal authorities who will not allow the steam whistle to be sounded within the corporation limits. Any one who is well acquainted with that city as well as with our town will be able to testify that there is far greater noise of this kind made at and near our comparatively small station than in the metropolis with its vast network of tracks; and this fact proves that there can be no actual necessity for the intolerable nuisance from which we suffer.

Some years ago, on complaint being made to Sir C. Tupper, who was then Minister of Railways, by the Mayor of Toronto, the minister said that if the railway men could not find out some other method of signaling than by means of the steam whistle, the committee would find out a method for them, and compel them to adopt it; hence the modification of the nuisance in Toronto.

Now, sir, at a meeting of our Town Council, held on the 4th instant, a resolution was unanimously adopted to the effect that the managers of the C. P. R. and G. T. R. be "requested to instruct their engineers to desist from the excessive use of the steam whistle." Was this request preferred, and if preferred has it been complied with? The Council alone can answer the former question; the ratepayers all over the town can reply to the latter.

Bricklayers' and Masons' Union

No. 12, Peterborough.

To the Architects and Builders of the Town of Peterborough.

GENTLEMEN.—The members of the Bricklayers' and Masons' Union, No. 12, Peterborough, have decided to take no sub-contracts after the 1st day of June, 1888. We take this step, believing it to be to the interest of Architects and Proprietors of buildings, to deal directly with us, and not, as heretofore, letting our branch of work to Carpenters, and then have them sub-let it to us, frequently at a loss to owners of buildings through inferior material being used to secure the carpenter a profit. We therefore consider it would be to the interest of all concerned, to have each trade control its own line of work.

Signed on behalf of the Union,
J. J. HARTLEY, President.
GEO. ROSE, Vice-President.
R. SHEEHY, Secretary.
ADAM DAWSON, Treasurer.

"I can readily understand your being a trifle incredulous, Mary," said Steve. Hopole to his sister, "nice things, such as our table shows, generally cost some considerable money. I sent the lot home yesterday, and I'm rather proud of my buying. The dinner service is ample, very strong, and I found it really cheap. The glass is not the best but good enough for us. The few silver things are the prettiest I've seen and the finish is as good as if they cost hundreds. Don't distress yourself, dear girl, about extravagance. When we can go to China Hall and buy what is pretty and neat for so little money I'd hate to deprive you of the pleasure of having the things about. How Mr. Wilson manages to sell so cheaply I don't know, but the facts are enough for me. Let us have dinner.

of all Lung diseases are much the same: feverishness, loss of appetite, sore throat, pains in the chest and back, headache, etc. In a few days you may be well, or, on the other hand, you may be down with Pneumonia or "galloping Consumption." Run no risks, but begin immediately to take Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

Several years ago, James Birchard, of Darien, Conn., was severely ill. The doctors said he was in Consumption, and that they could do nothing for him. but advised him, as a last resort, to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. After taking this medicine, two or three months, he was pronounced a well man. His health remains good to the present day.

J. S. Bradley, Malden, Mass., writes: "Three winters ago I took a severe cold, which rapidly developed into Bronchitis and Consumption. I was so weak that I could not sit up, was much emaciated, and coughed incessantly. I consulted several doctors, but they were powerless, and all agreed that I was in Consumption. At last, a friend brought me a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. From the first dose, I found relief. Two bottles cured me, and my healt' has since been perfect."

MONA'S CHOICE.

BY MRS. ALEXANDER.

CHAPTER XVII.—AT VARIANCE.

A change had indeed come o'er the spirit of her dream. Mona scarcely expected such energetic action on her uncle's part. That he would be angry she expected, but she did not think he would take such strong measures. However, there was nothing for it but submission to the decree of banishment pronounced against her; she therefore packed up her belongings, told the landlady she was going away for a short time, and retreated to Mme. Debrisay.

The lady was not at home. She had gone to pass the evening with a German violinist and his wife, with whom she was on rather intimate terms, so Mona sat down to wait for her.

Mme. Debrisay did not come in till ten o'clock.

"And is it here you are, all alone by yourself in the dark!" she cried, coming in quickly through the soft gloom of a summer's night. "This is too bad! To think of me talking politics to that castle-building German, when I might have been here with you, dear. How is it you got away from our dear Old Man of the Sea?"

"Easily enough, dear Deb! Uncle Sandy has turned me out because I have decidedly refused to marry Kenneth Macalister."

"Turned you out!" repeated Mme. Debrisay, as she struck a match and lighted the gas. "Has he gone off his head?"

"I do not think so; but I have ventured to believe you will take me in, and in that belief I have told Mrs. Puddiford that my room was wanted, so I came over here?"

"Turned you out!" repeated Mme. Debrisay, sitting down suddenly and taking off her bonnet, which she dropped on the floor; "and all for not marrying that long-legged Highlander, who is not fit to dust your shoes."

"No, no, Deb! he is a very good fellow."

"Oh, good enough; but not for such as you. So I suppose it is all over!"

"What is all over?" asked Mona.

"My hopes that your uncle would provide for you. Now you are no better off than you were before. Indeed you are worse off, for you have to make up for all the time you spent wandering about with that old bear."

"The usual fate of legacy hunters," returned Mona, smiling.

"You are no legacy hunter, Mona. I declare that cantankerous uncle of yours can have no more heart than a flint."

"I do not believe he is quite heartless," said Mona, thoughtfully; "I believe he is fond of me, and will soon recall me."

"When I hope you will have more spirit than to respond!" cried madame, indignantly; "he deserves to be left to hirelings for the rest of his days."

"That would be a cruel punishment for an outbreak of temper—it was nothing more. Come, dearest Deb, I am tired and depressed; I will go to bed. Do you know that it is very delightful the idea of breakfasting tete-a-tete with you to-morrow?"

"Is it, my darling? Ah, it warms my heart to hear you say so! If you belonged to me now; if you were my own, own child, oh, it would give me the strength of a dozen women to work for you and fight for you; not but I'd do it all the same, only I'd have a right to you then."

"Until I married some selfish tyrant of a man, who would show his love by separating me from you," returned Mona, taking her hand in both hers with an affectionate smile.

The next day was one of Mme. Debrisay's busiest, and it was exceedingly wet. Mona sat in-doors very contentedly, busy with book or needle, and Uncle Sandy made no sign.

The following evening, Kenneth made his appearance, with an exceedingly perturbed aspect.

"Well, Mr. Macalister, what news?" cried Mme. Debrisay, putting down the tea-pot to shake hands with him.

"Good-evening, Kenneth. You do not look too happy," said Mona.

"Happy!" he repeated; "I am just miserable. I am thinking Uncle Sandy's gone clean daft. He was up in the city at our place, and saw Mr. Sinclair—that is the principal partner. Came in all the rain in a cab from Moorgate Street. He told Mr. Sinclair that he was going to adopt me, and requested I might be allowed to leave, as he could not go to his place in the Highlands without me. So I was called up, and old Sinclair made me a speech about my good fortune, and my excellent conduct while in the service of the house (I don't believe he knew my name rightly half an hour before); and the two old fellows complimented each other. I fancy Mr. Sinclair thinks I am come in for ten thousand a year at least. This morning all the clerks were congratulating me, and I felt like a thief."

"Why should you, Kenneth? I assure you I should have been more miserable than you look, if I thought my uncle had quarreled with you about me. I have perfect confidence in your loyalty."

"And you may have that, Cousin Mona; but it's many a long day before I can be of any use to you."

"Let me give you a cup of tea, Mr. Kenneth," said madame, kindly. "It is my opinion," she continued, as she poured it out, "that neither one or other of you will ever see a sou of your uncle's money. He will get all he can out of you, and then leave all he has to some church or institution, or something wicked of that kind."

"No, I do not think that," returned Mona, thoughtfully. "I believe he is quite earnest in his intention now, but he might get angry again and change his mind."

"After all," cried Mme. Debrisay, "I don't believe he has much to leave behind him. He talks big, but for all the cry I suspect there is not much wool."

"There is no telling," said Kenneth. "But I think he is rich. My poor mother thought he was ferry rich."

"We shall never know till poor Uncle Sandy has no further need of our services," said Mona, smiling. "So there is no use conjecturing."

"That is true. Eh, but he is dreadfully angered against Mona," returned Kenneth, addressing Mme. Debrisay. "When I said I would come over and see her, he broke out against her, and forbade me to cross your threshold. I could not stand that. I just told him that I was willing to obey him in many ways, but that neither of us had any right to quarrel with her. So after some words—hot on my words—he told me to do as I liked, but I was never to name your name to him. He is awful miserable—just fretting the flesh off his bones. We are to start for Craigdarroch on Monday."

Some more talk and friendly conjecture made time pass quickly till Kenneth rose to bid them good-night.

Mona could hardly believe that Uncle Sandy would leave town without seeing her, and she kept a good deal in-door until the Monday fixed for his departure; but the old man made no advance.

Mme. Debrisay insisted on her being a guest for at least a month, to which the fear of offending her kind hostess compelled Mona to agree. Otherwise, the rest and congenial companionship were very delightful.

Uncle Sandy had been gone about a week, and the last days of July were fast slipping away, when one warm sultry afternoon, as Mona was out shopping for madame, whose soul expanded at sale time, a smart footman overtook her, accosting her with the words, "If you please'm, Lady Finistoun would be glad to speak to you."

"Lady Finistoun?" repeated Mona, looking round. "Where is she?"

"Her ladyship is in the carriage, close by."

Following the man, Mona was soon shaking hands with her former ally.

Ben Young, the new umpire of the International Association, comes highly recommended from the Tri-State League. He wasn't getting enough pay there.

During the last two years the Chicago club has made more money from the sale of players than the capital stock amounts to. The transfer of Kelly, Clarkson, Gore, McCormick, Dalrymple and Sunday netted the club $30,000. The capital stock is only $20,000.

We are showing the New Norfolk Blouse S for Boys and Youths. This style has become so popular in the larger cities that manufacturers can scarcely supply the demand. They look best in Fawn and Pearl Halifax Tweeds. Call and see them.

The most difficult Garment for a lady to choose is a light Print Dress, but if you call at Turnbull's you are sure to have no trouble as he can show you such a large variety in every color, every pattern and at any price.

A new material introduced this season is the Flannelette in fancy colored stripes and plains, the correct thing for Ladies' Wrappers and children's clothes, only ten cents a yard, Ladies handling it for the first time sometimes ask is it all wool. It is really all cotton but finished like a flannel.

As the weather gets warmer children require to have the heavy clothing changed for something light and cool, and Mothers are often perplexed to know what to buy. We would call their attention to our Colored Washing in Fancy Stripe and Check. They are warranted fast colors in fact the oftner they are washed the better they look. The prices range from 12½c. up.

MILLINERY.—We are still receiving daily New Goods by express. Another lot of Plaid Ribbons just received. Also some New Shapes, as the Blossom, Cape Town and Vallego. These are the correct thing for pic-nic hats.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 20, 1888

NOTES FROM THE CAPITAL.

THE WRIT FOR THE CUMBERLAND ELECTION ISSUED.

Nominations on July 3 and Polling on July 10—Senator Holland's Probable Successor—The Drinking Water Analysis.

OTTAWA, June 20.—The writ for Cumberland has been issued. Nominations will take place on July 3 and polling on July 10.

Major Tilton, Deputy Minister of Fisheries, stated yesterday that no extension of time for lobster fishing had been made, but of course he could not say what the new Minister of Marine and Fisheries would do. He was in favor of the present close season and a strict enforcement of the regulations as the only way to preserve the lobster fisheries, which would be hopelessly ruined if the packers were allowed to go on decimating the fisheries.

It is rumored that C. S. Rodier of Montreal has been called to the Senate in place of the late Hon. J. B. Rolland.

The bulletin containing the results of an analysis by Mr. MacFarlane, Chief Government Analyst, of samples of water from various parts of the Dominion, has just been placed in the hands of the printer.

The successful tenderers for the beef contract for Indian supplies are: Hull Transit Company, for Sarcee Indian Reserve; Robert Scott, Stoney Reserve; Waldrond Branch Company, Piegan Reserve; Senator Cochrane, for the Blood Reserve; and J. G. Baker, for the Blackfeet. This little arrangement covers the dispute of the various tenderers and takes in all. The other contracts have not been decided.

Mr. Bell, solicitor for the Grand Trunk, says that the Grand Trunk will have an outlet for the west for the Ottawa traffic before a year. The line will connect with the Canada Atlantic, running eastward.

It is said that the price paid by the Government for Col. Gilmore's yacht "Cruiser" was $5000. She cost over $20,000 in 1872.

The Ottawa River has risen nearly eighteen inches since last monday. This is unusual at this time of year, and is caused by the heavy rains recently in the Upper Ottawa country.

Collingwood Schreiber and his private secretary left for British Columbia on business in connection with the arbitration between the Government and the Canadian Pacific Railway respecting the Onderdonk section in the Rockies. The arbitrators meet at Vancouver on June 28.

Hon. Mr. McLelan is offering his house here for sale.

It is reported that Senator Schultz has sold his residence at the corner of Metcalf and Maria-street to Mr. Dewdney.

A PRESBYTERIAN PUZZLE.

The Deceased Wife's Sister Question Takes up the Assembly's Time Yesterday.

HALIFAX, June 20.—The Presbyterian General Assembly was occupied the entire morning and afternoon with the question of marriage with a deceased wife's sister. Finally Rev. Dr. Cochrane's resolution offering the position taken by the Assembly last year and transmitting the question back to the Presbyteries was passed by a vote of 39 to 34.

This leaves the matter practically where it was a year ago.

At the evening sederunt the report on the state of religion, on the whole satisfactory, was received and partly adopted, but the committee had not wholly completed their work and the unfinished portion remains over till to-morrow.

The report of the Temperance Committee was received and discussed at length. The first clause was adopted, but the second, advocating prohibition, provoked opposition from Rev. D. J. Macdonnell of Toronto, who did not believe in prohibition and thought there was much to be said in favor of high license. He moved this counter resolution:

The assembly urges upon all members of the church in the capacity of citizens to use their utmost endeavors to secure the passage of such laws as shall tend most effectually to reduce the evils of intemperance.

Rev. Mr. Macdonnell was speaking in support of his resolution when the hour for adjournment arrived.

SUICIDE AT AYLMER.

A Father Charged With a Horrible Crime Shoots Himself to Avoid Arrest.

AYLMER, June 20.—G. W. Goodfellow, proprietor of the Aylmer roller flour mills, drew a revolver and sent a bullet through his brain yesterday when an officer attempted to arrest him on a charge of unnatural intimacy, extending over a period of four or five years, with his 15-year-old daughter Lilian.

The girl went to her aunt's in Buffalo a few days ago, leaving a letter to be given to her father declaring that she could endure the crime no longer, and this falling into other hands, Goodfellow having gone after her and brought her back here last week, disclosed the father's guilt.

The Belgian Elections.

BRUSSELS, June 20.—In the second ballots for members of the Senate and Chamber of Deputies, the Clericals gained all the eight seats in the Senate allotted to this city and retained the fourteen seats previously held by them in the Chamber of Deputies, besides gaining from the Liberals. The Clericals have a majority of 60 in the Chamber of Deputies and a majority of 37 in the Senate.

Henry Stanley Said to be Dead.

LONDON, June 20.—A rumor that Henry M. Stanley is dead is in circulation in this city. The Paris Gaulois says that King Leopold of Belgium has received a telegram to that effect, but this is believed to be untrue. There is no news in Government or Congo missionary circles either in London or Brussels of the death of Stanley.

HOHENZOLLERN BLOOD.

EMPEROR WILLIAM SAID TO BE IN PERFECT HEALTH.

Sensational Statements About An Hereditary Taint Denied—Russian Friendliness to the New Ruler.

NEW YORK, June 20.—Dr. Charles Hammer of Schenectady is an exceedingly well read and finely educated physician, who in his youth was a great traveller. He was born in Europe and prosecuted his medical studies there. He also spent a year at the University of Heidelberg. Dr. Hammer has frequently been brought into contact with the Imperial family of Germany and he says:

"I have never seen a more magnificent race than the Hohenzollerns, and the statement that a loathsome disease tainted their blood I have every reason to know is absolutely false. It is said that the present Emperor's shrivelled arm is the result of this taint, and that the monarch also suffers from abcesses in the interior of the ears. There is no truth in either assertion. I was in Berlin at the time the Emperor was born, and what happened then was discussed in every physician's office in the city and also embodied in the medical reports of the day. The unborn infant's left shoulder was dislocated. The fact was not discovered until several days later, when the right shoulder had grown properly, while the muscles of the left of course had not done so well. The dislocation was reduced, but the arm has never been quite as strong as its fellow. It is far from useless, however, and the slight shortening would scarcely be noticed. When on horseback the Emperor hold the reins in his right hand on account of the weakness of his left, and it is only then that strangers are led to inquire if he has a physical defect. Some abcesses did form some years ago, following scarlet fever, as is frequently the case, but in time the young man outgrew them, and is now as well and strong as almost any one could wish to be. The facts that I have stated are true of my own knowledge.

BERLIN, June 20.—The morning papers approved the Emperor's proclamation to the people, especially the sincere aims which he has set himself and the stress he lays upon his trust of the people and the attachment between the sovereign and the nation.

The Friendly Mascovite.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 20.—In political circles here the friendliest feeling is shown toward the new German Emperor, and the belief is expressed that he will continue the peaceful policy of his father, from which it is thought he can have no motive for deviating.

THE AYR ELECTION.

The Tories and Unionists Dismayed at the Result—A New Land Scheme.

LONDON, June 20.—The result of the Ayr election has again brought dismay to the allied forces of the Tories and Unionists. Never was a Parliamentary contest fought on clearer grounds nor could there be more unmistakable evidence that this part of Scotland at least favored the Irish Home Rule scheme of Mr. Gladstone. The election was contested on this basis almost solely as on other questions the candidates were nearly equal. The true significance of the victory for the Gladstonians lies in the undoubted fact that Scotland wants Home Rule herself, and evidently considers the best way to evince such a desire is to assist Ireland in her struggle for it. The usual outcry is made by the Tory press, and it is growing louder as each defeat brings home the unwelcome truth that Tory doctrines are losing their potency in the country. The Times leads the press in denouncing the lack of tactics exhibited by the Government managers of the election, and has become exceedingly anxious over the coming election in the Isle of Thanet division, the late Col. King-Harman's seat, where Mr. James Lowther, the Tory candidate, is making stupid speeches about disestablishment of the Irish Church and other equally dead issues. The election in this division will take place on the 29th. Mr. Knatchbull Hughesson is the Liberal candidate.

THE BANK OF LONDON.

Meeting of Shareholders—The Directors' Report—A 60 Per Cent. Dividend.

LONDON, June 20.—The Bank of London shareholders held a meeting here yesterday afternoon. The directors submitted a statement showing assets $238,699, not all of which, however, is collectable, and liabilities to the public $8820. A dividend of 60 cents on the dollar based on the subscribed capital stock has been declared payable July 2. The old board of directors was re-elected with the exception of Henry Taylor, who was replaced by Mr. J. Ferguson.

A $500 Robbery—The Wilson Arrest—Two Election Petitions.

TORONTO, June 20.—Yesterday a package of bill's amounting to $500 disappeared from Paying Teller Scott's box at the Dominion Bank. The detectives were informed of the occurrence but have made no arrests.

The Wilson Arrest is still a fruitful theme, but the published rumors of action for criminal libel against the editors who disagreed with Magistrate Denison's dictum are not substantiated. The Methodist community would not mind a thorough sifting of the matter.

Dr. Daniel Wilson, President of Toronto University, has gone to Princetown, N.J., to be present at the inauguration of Rev. Dr. Patton, a graduate of Toronto University, as President of Princeton University.

Negotiations are in progress between the striking cigarmakers and manufacturers for the settlement of the dispute. It is understood that a joint meeting will be held shortly to discuss the situation.

Yesterday afternoon a young man walked into the detective office and announced that he wanted to give himself up. He stated that he was the man who shot Martin Farrell, the Island shooting gallery keeper, who died from the effects of a gunshot wound received while plying his business at Hanlan's Point. The man gave his name as William Young, and lives in Parkdale. Last night he, with some companions, went over to the Island, and while taking in the sights began shooting at the gallery near Hanlan's. Young says the old man got in the way of the rifle just as it was discharged. When he saw the old man fall he became terrified and made away for the wharf, taking the boat to the city. This morning his good sense overcame his fear and he resolved to surrender himself.

Two petitions against M. P's. have been filled at Osgoode Hall. The return of Mr. Archibald Campbell, as member for Kent, is impeached on the ground of bribery personally and by agents. Charles Levere is the petitioner. The second petition is as to the recent election in Russell, against the return of Mr. Edwards. There is a cross-petition by Mr. Edwards against Mr. Mackintosh, the defeated candidate. Both parties charge personal bribery.

The Methodist Conference, after one of the most exciting sessions on record, wound up its business at the Metropolitan Church last night.

CANADIAN AFFAIRS IN ENGLAND.

The Emigration of Paupers Discussed in the House of Commons.

LONDON, Eng., June 20.—In the House of Commons last night Mr. Bradlaugh drew the attention of the Board of Trade to the Toronto Trades and Labor Council's complaint that immigration of destitute laborers from Great Britain is encouraged by persons here describing themselves as Government agents. Sir Michael Hicks-Beach replied that he had seen newspaper reports, but the only quasi official position, held by an agent named Barlow, who was specially referred to, was that he had been appointed agent to several licensed brokers.

Colonial Credit.

LONDON, June 20.—The House of Commons discussed last night a resolution by Mr. Baden Powell, urging the value of colonial inscribed stocks for trust investments. Mr. Goschen said the Government desired to maintain colonial credit, but could not support the proposal as it was, as it directed the courts to discriminate between the values of colonial stocks. The matter must wait until a practical scheme is laid before the House. The resolution was withdrawn. It is understood the Government is likely to adopt the automatic plan proposed by Sir Charles Tupper.

Hamilton Notes.

HAMILTON, June 20.—The usual commencement exercises at Loreto Convent were dispensed with this year, and in their place is given a creditable exhibition of the pupils' work in painting, drawing, fancy work, plain sewing, etc.

A young man named Howard had one of his hands badly lacerated by a circular saw in Evans' planing mill and it was found necessary to amputate two fingers.

The Lords to be Reformed.

LONDON, June 20.—Lord Salisbury introduced in the House of Lords a bill to reform the constitution of that body. The measure proposes that not more than three life peers shall be appointed yearly, these to be drawn from the judges of the Superior Court, rear admirals, major-generals, ambassadors and privy councillors, the Queen also having the power to appoint two others yearly not so qualified. Lords Roseberry, Argyle and others approved the motion.

LANSDOWNE AT HOME.

THE RECENT UNIONIST DEFEAT—PARNELL AND DILLON HOSTILE.

Sarah Bernhardt's Latest Matrimonial Difficulty—The Extension of Lord Wolseley's Term—Edmund Yates' Gossip.

LONDON, June 20.—The Queen will arrive at Windsor from Balmoral on Thursday morning. Her Majesty will remain at the Castle about a month before proceeding to Osborne. The Prince and Princess of Wales will remain in Germany only a few days, and after returning to England will make a very brief stay at Marlborough House before leaving town for the season.

The absence from the Parnell banquet of the hero of Tullamore, the chief victim of "Bloody Balfour's baseness and imbecility"—to borrow his own elegant language—was explained by his having an engagement in Dublin. But the engagement was not until Friday evening; the dinner took place on Wednesday. He could have dined with Mr. Parnell not only on that evening, but on Thursday also, and yet have reached Dublin in ample time. The plain fact is that his absence from the dinner was owing to a very serious quarrel with his leader. In common with others, notably Mr. Dillon, he took offence at Mr. Parnell's speech at the Eighty Club. Mr. Dillon yielded to the pressure and attended the dinner, but Mr. O'Brien was implacable.

The absence of Mr. Sullivan, ex-Lord Mayor of Dublin, was less ominous. The list will be scanned in vain for the names of the two "Tims." In a word, the dinner was intended to conceal and possibly to heal the most serious breach that has ever broken out in the Parnellite ranks.

The Unionist defeat at Ayr was fully expected in that constituency. Mr. Campbell was a very popular member with great local influence, and his wife judiciously nursed his interests so that hundreds of voters supported him quite irrespective of political considerations. Last week the Separatists had the strong candidate, as Mr. Sinclair had been assidiously nursing the constituency for two years, and was a typical Gladstonian in his readiness to pledge himself on every conceivable question. Mr. Ashley was unknown in Ayr, except as having been defeated last year at Glasgow, and everybody knows how Lord Beaconsfield jeered at the idea of sending a beaten horse to fight a tough contest.

The extension of Lord Wolseley's period of service as Adjutant-General for two years should meet with approval. Lord Wolseley is a man whom it would be difficult to replace and equally difficult to provide for just now, having regard to his age and position. Some doubtless will cavil on the ground that Lord Wolseley is being favored, but when we consider everything, it is fortunate we have in this moment of supposed danger an officer of Lord Wolseley's known ability and varied experience. There is only one man by whom the public would be satisfied to see him replaced, namely, Sir Frederick Roberts.

Lord and Lady Lansdowne were received with the greatest possible enthusiasm on returning to Bowood last week. Corporation addresses were presented at Chippenham and at Calne. At the latter tour Lord and Lady Lansdowne were entertained at luncheon in the Town Hall, after which they drove home, entering the park through the Golden Gates. On arriving at Bowood an address from the tenantry was presented, there was a crowd of quite 1,500 persons, principally farmers and laborers, on the lawn in front of the house. Lord and Lady Lansdowne returned to town on Saturday, and they intend to go down to Bowood about the middle of next month for six weeks. They start for India toward the end of September.

The fact that the funeral service for the late Sir Francis Doyle clashed with so many fashionable arrangements must be held accountable for the comparatively small attendance at St. George's, Hanover square, on Tuesday. Mr. Gladstone, however, faithful to ancient friendships, was present accompanied by Mrs. Gladstone. If the maker of ballads be more assured of fame and remembrance than the maker of laws the name of Sir Francis Doyle will not soon be forgotten. Some of his stirring verses have passed into the literature of the era.

The man himself has occupied too prominent a place in society, literary, official and dilettanti to pass altogether from memory. His tall ill-built figure with the long silken hair, the refined, spectacled face, wide-spreading umbrella under his arm, and tilted hat, who, like Lord Beaconsfield, preferred sauntering to walking, will long be missed in the highways and byways of town and city. His long connection with the Custom-house made him a familiar figure in the east wards.

There is once more talk of Sarah's debts and Sarah's marriage. The other day some old creditor tried to make a seizure in her house on the Boulevard Pierie, but M. Grau came forward with documents in hand to prove that the house and all in it belong to him. In a day or two quite a complicated law suit will be decided between the heirs of M. Ballande, formerly lessee of the Theatre des Nations, and Sarah Bernhardt on a question of the payment of certain forfeit moneys. The interest of the case lies in the fact that incidentally the tribunal will have to pronounce on the marriage of Sarah with M. Damala. Sarah's lawyer pleads the non-responsibility of Sarah, because she acted without authorisation of her husband. The heirs of M. Ballande maintain her absolute responsibility, because, as she is not legally married to M. Damala, she has no need of his authorisation.

GUILTY OF INFANTICIDE.

The Girl Windsor Committed for Trial by Coroner Bell.

The inquest on the body of the new born infant, found under the cheese factory of Mr. J. W. Moore, at Lakefield, on Monday morning, was concluded on Tuesday evening before Coroner Bell and a jury, and after hearing the evidence of a number of witnesses and the testimony of the medical men, the jury returned a verdict that the mother was guilty of manslaughter, and she was placed under arrest. As she is too ill to be removed to the Peterborough jail, she will be kept under close surveillance.

The facts as elicited in evidence show that the mother, whose name is Windsor, was employed as a domestic at the house of Mr. J. W. Moore, who operated the Lakefield cheese factory. On Sunday evening she was delivered of an illegitimate child. Some time afterwards the child was seen in her arms. She wrapped the infant up in a bed quilt and threw the bundle from the window to the ground. She walked down stairs, out into the yard and after picking the bundle up thrust it under the cheese factory, and returning to the house, she went to bed.

Early on Monday morning, upon starting to work, the cheesemaker heard a soft wail coming from underneath the factory and upon instituting a search the infant was found wrapped up as described. The child was living and crying, but died in a short time after being discovered. The unnatural mother was soon found and placed under arrest, awaiting the action of the coroner's jury, with the result already indicated. The post-mortem examination showed that death resulted from the effects of the fall and exposure.

The girl is about 18 years of age and has been in Lakefield for only three months. She was born in Plantaganet, Quebec, and moved with her father and mother some years ago to a farm on the Wellington road away up in the north country. Her mother died and for some years she resided with an uncle, named Wilson, on the Burleigh road.

The prisoner is in a critical condition and the case is the talk of the village, creating as it has a great sensation.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla operates radically upon the blood, thoroughly cleansing and invigorating it. As a safe and absolute cure for the various disorders caused by constitutional taitu or infection, this remedy has no equal. Take it this month.

CROPS IN THE COUNTY.

Good Reports From All Parts, but Rain Wanted—Hay Will be Light.

The representatives of the townships assembled at the County Council meeting were interviewed by a REVIEW reporter on Tuesday in regard to the crop prospects. The reports from all the townships were much alike—crops looking well, except hay, and rain wanted. The following were the reports from the different municipalities:—

OTONABEE.

MR. STEWART.—The crops look very well, except timothy, which was late and was injured by frost. Rain is wanted.

SMITH.

MR. SANDERSON.—All the crops look well, except hay. Fall wheat is pretty fair and has come up wonderfully well since spring. Spring wheat was never better, and oats and barley are pretty good. Potatoes are very good, judging from what has come up. I have been a good deal through the County lately and I never saw the spring crop look better.

MR. FITZGERALD.—The crops are very good, so far, but we are looking for rain.

NORTH MONAGHAN.

MR. FORSTER.—Spring and fall wheat are promising well, and in fact all other crops, except hay. With rain soon we will have good crops.

DOURO.

MR. MOLONEY.—The crops are looking first rate, but are wanting rain. Hay will be short. Fall wheat on the whole is not going to be a first class crop; on heavy land it is not so good. Barley, spring wheat and oats look remarkably well.

ENNISMORE.

MR. CROUGH.—The crops look very good in color they are especially good. Rain is wanted, more especially for hay.

DUMMER.

MR. KIDD.—Crops in Dummer are first rate; never saw them better in color. But things are beginning to look dry.

ASPHODEL.

MR. WALSH.—The prospects are promising. If the season continues favorable we will have good crops.

MR. MOORE.—Everything is looking very fair, especially grain sown early.

LAKEFIELD.

MR. CASEMENT.—Our village is growing a good crop of new houses. There are twenty-two in course of construction. Around Lakefield the crops look well.

BELMONT.

MR. BROWN.—The crops look pretty good considering that this has been a late season. The prospects are favorable.

MR. WILDE.—Fall wheat looks splendid. The crops all came on well, earlier, but hay is at a standstill and other crops as well, as rain is wanted. Frost put barley back, but it has done very well.

HARVEY.

MR. HICKS.—The crops are all looking very well, but hay will be light. More rain is wanted.

BURLEIGH, ANSTRUTHER AND CHANDOS.

MR. ELMHIRST.—The prospects at present are that all the crops will be good. Hay is extra good.

Right now is the time to use a good Blood Purifying Medicine. Lose no time in getting a bottle of Dr. Carson's Stomach Bitters. It will do you good. Sold by all Druggists.

Sleepy Dan.

The Empire gives the following account of the the three minute race at Montreal on Tuesday:—"The three minute race was signalized by delay in scoring, and it was only after a dozen attempts that they got away and then it was a bad start. Laprairie Girl stopping almost in front of the stand. Sleepy Dan went to the front immediately and stayed there till the finish. His trace unhooked when at the half mile post, but Winch caught it and finished the heat holding the trace in his mouth. Laprairie Girl did some great trotting, but she could not make up the distance lost at the start. Johnny Stranger, who was very ugly, was never in it. Sleepy Dan took the lead again in the second heat, Johnny Stranger trailing behind. The latter started on a run and kept it up half way round the course and wound up by being distanced. At the half mile Laprairie Girl was showing was she was made of and soon put three lengths between the rest and herself. Sleepy Dan went up in the air a couple of times and lost a good deal of ground before he got down, while Laprairie Girl never made a skip. Belle Wilson made a great effort coming down the stretch, but Laprairie Girl won the heat easily. The third heat was a pretty one up to the half mile; as the saying is, a blanket could have covered the lot. Then Laprairie Girl drew away nicely and led all the way to the wire. Sleepy Dan again broke and lost a couple of lengths. Belle Wilson closed up [illegible] Girl, but a bad break near the wire spoiled her chances. The final heat was a clinker, but Laprairie Girl took the lead at the word, and stayed there till she got under the wire half a length ahead of Sleepy Dan. The latter was in hard luck, as again in this heat a trace gave way. It seemed as if an attempt to pocket Laprairie Girl had been made in this heat, but it did not amount to anything." Dan secured second place, standing 1, 3, 4, 2 in the four heats. The purse was $800, divided. The time was 2.37½, 2.35½, 2.34¼, 2.35.

Don't use any more nauseous purgatives such as Pills, Salts, etc., when you can get in Dr. Carson's Stomach Bitters, a medicine that moves the Bowels gently, cleansing all impurities from the system, and rendering the Blood pure and cool. Sold by all Druggists.

C. P. R. Siding.

The Empire says that Mr. T. C. Ridout Government engineer, has presented his report relative to the proposed C. P. R. siding at Peterborough. He explains the nature of the agreement reached in consultation with the parties interested, and the committee approved the application with the modification accepted by the applicants.

Bricklayers' and Masons' Union

No. 12, Peterborough.

To the Architects and Builders of the Town of Peterborough.

GENTLEMEN.—The members of the Bricklayers' and Masons' Union, No. 12, Peterborough, have decided to take no sub-contracts after the 1st day of June, 1888. We take this step believing it to be to the interest of Architects and Proprietors of buildings, to deal directly with us, and not, as heretofore, letting our branch of work to Carpenters, and then have them sub-let it to us, frequently at a loss to owners of buildings through inferior material being used to secure the carpenter a profit. We therefore consider it would be to the interest of all concerned, to have each trade control its own line of work.

Signed on behalf of the Union,
J. J. HARTLEY, President.

Right we are! Right we shall be! We Hew to the Line let the Chips fall where they may. Dealers who buy at six months time pursue the even tenor of their way. They are content to do business as hundreds of others are doing—and get left. How can the six months time men compete with GOUGHS, The Wonderful Cheap Men, the High Pressure Electric Clothiers, who seize the opportunity to buy at Spot Cash and buy awfully well. Read, you noble sons of toil, what the Clothiers of the Age are going to do for the next 30 days and when you read reflect, and when you reflect, come and buy from them, for you cannot buy from any wholesale house in Canada at the following prices; For thirty days we will sell you:—

Men's Suits at $2.95 that cost imaginary clothiers $4.25 wholesale.

Men's Pants for $1.50. We don't say what they are worth but see if you can buy elsewhere for $1.95.

Men's Suits for $5.00 worth easily $10.00.
Men's Halifax Tweed Suits all Wool $5.00.
Men's Fine Worsted Suits $6.90, worth $13.00.
Children's Suits for 58 cents, $1.10, $2.00 and up, worth double the money.

Special Drive in Boys' Coats 19c. each, Men's Working Pants 17c. each.

With ample means, prodigious energy and absolute determination to do the Largest Clothing Business in the District, we shall reach that goal if our friends, the buyers, will realize that no firm or dealer has ever offered the values we have given and are giving in Men's & Boys' Clothing. The Public have responded well to our great sale inducements. The public have our best thanks. We regret that the rush was so large on Saturday that we could not give our customers all the time we would like. Two additional Salesmen will be on hand Saturday next so that all who come can have ample attention. We rely on the invulnerable advantages of Square Dealing, in an Honorable Square Way, and with prices 33⅓ per cent. all round below all competitors are the ironclad basis on which we are doing a Triumphant Clothing Trade.

HOUSEFURNISHINGS.

At this season many Housekeepers are replenishing their supplies of Tableware and China. City folk are furnishing summer cottages; country folk are filling up the dressers and cupboards of the old homestead: town's folk are picking and choosing here and there. Many would be glad to know of a place whose special business is to meet these wants and desires; that aims to furnish essentially good wares at consistently low prices; that offers the choice of many different dinner services, and yet does not compel you to take an entire set of any pattern, but allow you to select each course of a new design, or buy any portion of the set you may need; that does not try to impose ideas or wares upon purchasers, and yet is ready to advise which of the many wares is most desirable and suitable; and, if wished, will make a careful selection of pattern. When you want tablewear will you give us the opportunity to serve you.

Band Concert.

The band concert at the Horticultural Park last night drew a large crowd, among them many of our leading citizens and lovers of good music. As usual the children were out in great force and enjoyed themselves hugely. Three police officers preserved order. The majority of the members of the County Council were also present. The music, of course, was of the best, and everybody was delighted.

Good and Bad Roads.

A gentleman who drove down from Lakefield informs us that the pathmasters are at work along the road. He compliments highly Mr. Cullen, who has charge of the section above Nassau, for the fine manner in which he is doing his work. All the stones and boulders have been raked off, and the road is in first-class shape. The section below Nassau he characterizes as being simply disgraceful, covered as it is with large rocks and stones. He advises the pathmaster to visit the section north of him, and get a few wrinkles as to how roads should be made and kept.

Appeal Dismissed.

The following case of local interest came up in Toronto on Monday:—"Gervais v. Goodwin.—Motion on behalf of the plaintiff to set aside the non-suit of Falconbridge, J., at the Peterborough assize in an action for negligence, and for a new trial. Reeve, Q. C., in support of the motion. McVeity (Ottawa), for defendant, contra. Judgment dismissing the appeal with costs. The action was brought under the Employers' Liability Act, 1886, to recover damages sustained by the plaintiff, a teamster, employed by the defendant in drawing stone for the Trent Valley Canal. The stone was raised from the waggon by a derrick, which falling caused the injuries complained of. The plaintiff alleges that the accident was owing to the defective condition of the derrick, breaking down in consequence of the removal of a guy. The plaintiff contended that the defendant had further contributed to the accident by employing a boy to take charge of the derrick, whereas he should have employed a man."

Personal.

Mr. John Finlay, Reeve of Norwood, has returned from an extended trip through north-western Ontario. He got as far as Peterborough on his way home on Tuesday in time for the opening of the County Council meeting.

They Rigged Him Out.

In noticing the commitment of a man named Kitely to the gaol a few days ago for vagrancy, he having been brought down from Apsley, it was said that he was naked when he arrived at the gaol. This was a slip, as, although he was almost literally naked when arrested at Apsley, the Reeve supplied him with boots, overalls and other articles before he was sent down to gaol.

C. L. R. R.

The Chemong Lake R. R. is graded half way across Smith-st. and the crossing is being levelled. It is understood that the dispute about the small corner below Smith-st. has been settled, but the railway people have not taken down the fence yet. It is thought that a locomotive can be taken up by Monday next, and then the work will be pushed through to completion as rapidly as possible.

Discharged.

The young girl charged with the larceny of $27 was before the Magistrate again this morning. The judgment of the court was in favor of the prisoner, and she was discharged, after some good advice had been imparted to her. In the case for stealing a wall bracket, the prisoner was allowed to go, with the understanding that she was to appear for sentence when called upon, and the bracket was handed over to the proper owner.

Trent Valley Canal.

The committee in charge of these excursions, which take place to-morrow and Friday, learn that a number of those intending to go have neglected to apply for tickets; they therefore request that applications be sent in at once. Any who may not have been able to make their arrangements in time to send in applications can secure tickets at the railway station, prior to the departure of the train, provided the full number does not exceed the 125 on each day, as more than that number of tickets will not be sold. To-morrow morning the train to Lakefield will stop at the Smith Street bridge, for the convenience of parties living in that neighborhood.

FROM modest efforts, honest goods, high quality, square dealing, good treatment, small profits, on to grand achievements in the way of Satisfying Bargains is the motto of The Pantry.

Howe's Circus.

In the concert tent of Howe's circus there will be found wonders in the musical world and the faries of the Arabian Nights will break into the silence and charm the heart with grandeur. The clown in all his glory will give amusement too and make laugh the most gloomy, while the beautiful and unbroken steeds will captivate and create admiration in all. This unique, complete and unusually well formed show will be here on Saturday and Monday next and should be patronized by all. This is the last chance that the people of Peterborough will have of seeing an amalgamation of the world's best athletes, aerial performers, performing goats, pigs, dogs, and the Indians, and cowboys, and Mexicans of the west for years. Therefore while you have a chance make it good. The admission is to be only 25 cents to all.

Firebugs Again.

A determined attempt was made on Tuesday night to set fire to the small building at the south-west corner of Aylmer and Simcoe-sts., known as White's butcher shop. About two weeks ago a fire occurred at this place, the origin of which was not discovered, but there is no doubt that it was caused by an incendiary. On Tuesday night about 12 o'clock a passer by noticed a strong smell of smoke. He procured assistance and the front door was burst in. The place was filled with smoke and there was a strong smell of coal oil. A burning sack and a heap of wood were carried out and about a dozen pails of water were required to put the blaze out. The fire was started in the west end of the building in a small room known as the office. Split wood had been saturated with coal oil and placed on a sack similarly treated. The building is owned by Mayor Stevenson and has not been occupied since the recent fire. It is about high time that steps were taken to discover who the firebugs are and have them properly punished.

That Barrie Match.

The last issue of the Barrie Gazette contains a local regarding the recent Barrie-Peterborough Lacrosse Match, that is very abusive and untrue. The umpire, Mr. H. LeBrun, is charged with giving unfair decisions, and winning the match for Peterborough, the reason alleged being that he had money on the game. Mr. LeBrun has held the highest office in the gift of the National Amateur Lacrosse Association of Canada, that of President—and to talk the way the Gazette does is simply rot. A fairer umpire never stood behind the flags, and Mr. LeBrun has acted in that capacity at some of the best games ever played in Canada, and a decision of his was never questioned before. Our boys are also accused of playing roughly. Perhaps they did so, but certain it is that the Barrie boys are adepts at that kind of work, and numerous members of the local team can prove it. It simply amounts to this: The Barrie people seem to think that their team can play lacrosse. They play a fair country, shinney-as-you-please kind of a game, and nothing better, and the quicker they ascertain that fact the better. As far as the two games played so far between these clubs are concerned, if it had not been for the borrowed and hired talent on the Barrie side, they would have been defeated worse than the old Barrie team of gentlemen were when they tackled the old timers of Peterborough. The local players do not play lacrosse through the newspapers; they play it on the field, but they do not not like to see one of our leading and most respectable citizens abused, and themselves wrongfully charged with foul play.

BELLVILLE BADLY BEATEN.

On the P.A.A.A. Grounds by a Peterborough Team of Cricketers.

The Peterborough cricketers, that is to say the senior players, opened the season on Tuesday, by playing a match on the P. A.A.A. grounds with a team representing Belleville. This is the first occasion in many years on which clubs from the places named have met and the result was watched with considerable interest.

The visitors arrived on the early Grand Junction train. Their reputation as a strong aggregation had preceded them, and as the Peterborough team was not by any means as strong as it will be later on in the season, there was some doubt as to which club would win.

The result was a surprise all around and the Bellevillians, who were defeated by an innings and 116 runs, displayed remarkably poor cricket, while the local men, especially in the field, were not by any means up to their usual form, but the season is young yet and before many moons we hope to see them play in their old time shape.

The attendance was rather slim and even those who went over to see the game, with a few exceptions, did not remain long, as it was soon seen that the defeat of the visitors was inevitible.

Captain Sam Ray won the toss and elected that Peterborough should take the bat. Day and Strathy went in first and before the latter was bowled, they had made 44 runs, of which the man out contributed 23. Rutherford, the pro. but he only made three and the second wicket fell for 51. Sam Ray followed and remained until the last, falling a victim to Armstrong after playing a magnificent innings of 122, the largest he ever made and one of the largest ever got together in Peterborough. It was made up of six 4's (over the fence) twenty-six 3's (to the fence), four 2's and twelve 1's. He played truly grand cricket and richly deserved the loud applause that he received from both players and spectators. Day was retired with 42 to his credit, every one of which he played for. Hamilton 19 and McDounel 17, were the others who obtained double figures and a remarkable fact is that there was not a single "duck" on the Peterborough side. The Belleville bowlers were Thomas, Tate, Yeomans, Biggar and Armstrong, of whom Tate was the most successful.

After luncheon the visitors faced the bowling of Rutherford, Day and Rogers. Youmans 31, and Thomas 14 were the only players who made a stand at all, and the side was out for 69. Of course the visitors had to follow on with 192 runs to make a tie. In the second innings Rutherford and Strathy did the trundling, the side being retired for 76, the home team contributing considerably to the score by loose fielding. Peterborough thus won by 116 runs, with an innings to spare.

Special features of the play were fine catches by Day, Ray, Rutherford and Strathy.

The Club in the Regatta.

Nine members of the Otonabee Canoe club sat last night on the sloping platform in front of the boat house and discussed the club's share in the approaching regatta, to be held on the evening of the 26th inst. Nine members constituted a quorum and their word is law. Between whiles the discussion was suspended to watch the struggles and fine balance act displayed out on the river by a trio of single-scullers who were picking up the rudiments of the art of rowing. After both had upset and been hauled ashore the club resumed their talk and decided to place on the regatta programme single and double paddling races and a special race requiring four paddles in each canoe. Single paddling races to be paddled in canoes not less than 16 ft. long by 30 in. beam, with the A.C.A. rules to govern the races. By way of variety and to encourage talent it was decided to include in the programme a tournament and a tug of war. The tournament is that species of aquatic exercise that generally results in the antagonists being hauled out of the water as the result of a collision-at-arms. The tug of war never fails to develop no end of fun. Entries for the races and tournament and tug-of-war must be made with the Secretary, Mr. A. E. Dixon, not later than Monday evening next. The club will provide lances and ropes for use in the tournament and tug-of-war. The offer made by Mr. H. Calcutt to present to the club a silver cup to be competed for under certain conditions was accepted and the Secretary instructed to acquaint Mr. Calcutt with the club's decision and to forward their hearty thanks on paper. Having despatched all of the above important business the quorum got off the sloping platform and came up town.

THE COUNTY COUNCIL.

THE SECOND DAY OF THE MIDSUMMER SESSION.

The Report of the Committee on the Warden's Address—The By-law Assuming Bridges to be Revised—Other Resolutions.

SECOND DAY—WEDNESDAY.

The Council reassembled this morning, Warden Walsh in the chair.

The minutes of Tuesday's session were read and confirmed.

THE WARDEN'S ADDRESS.

Mr. BURNHAM read the report of the Committee on the Warden's address, as follows:—

The Special Committee on the Warden's address beg leave to report as follows:—

1. Your committe join with the Warden in his anticipations of a favorable harvest. In no country are the crops more fairly promising than in Canada and in no county are the prospects for the season more favorable than in the County of Peterborough.

2. Your committee congratulate the county that the spring freshets caused so little damage to the county bridges and other property.

3. Your committee recommend that the matter of the Sullivan bridge be referred to the Road and Bridge Committee and that the matter of the County Solicitor be referred to the Finance Committee, where no doubt the matter can be satisfactorily explained and adjusted.

4. Your committee further recommend that the question of paying the County Engineer a fixed salary instead of by fees as heretofore, be also referred to the Finance Committee.

5. Your committee are pleased to observe the manner in which the Horticuitural Society have beautified part of the Court House Park. The labors of the Society have been creditable and they are deserving of every reasonable support.

All of which is respectfully submitted,
JOHN BURNHAM,
Chairman.

June 20th, 1888.

A DUMMER ROAD.

Mr. KIDD moved, seconded by Mr. FINLAY.—That whereas the Municipal Council of the corporation of the township of Dummer on the 20th day of August, 1887, passed a by-law to establish a public highway 40 feet wide on lot 9, in the 11th con. of Dummer, and whereas said by-law is inoperative unless the consent of the Council be granted as provided in section 505, chapter 104, R. S. O.,—be it therefore resolved that permission be granted the Council of the corporation of Dummer to establish said road, and that the corporate seal of the County of Peterborough be hereunto attached to give this resolution the force of a by-law.—Carried.

THE DEBENTURE BY-LAW.

Mr. BURNHAM moved, seconded by Mr. CASEMENT,—That the notice of registration of by-law No. 607 be published by the Clerk in the Peterborough REVIEW newspaper as required by-law.—Carried.

COUNTY BRIDGES.

Mr. MOLONEY moved, seconded by Mr. SANDERSON,—That the propriety of amending by-lay entitled "By-law to Assume all Bridges of 100 feet in length and upwards," so as to assume only bridges on leading roads, be referred to the Road and Bridge Committee.—Carried.

The Council adjourned till Thursday morning and spent the afternoon in committee work.

An Excursion.

Reeve Casement has been deputed by the County Council to make arrangements for an excursion to-morrow from Lakefield, through the Trent Valley Canal, for the purpose of inspecting the different county bridges. The members of the Council will go on the Masonic excursion train to Lakefield and proceed on the Dawn.

Better than '30.

"The horse that wins the open race on the first of July, must trot better than '30," Remarked a horseman this morning. He was right, too, judging by the look of things The nags are all in the finest of trim, and lively going will be the result. The Indians who are to take part in the grand Kalithumpian parade were out in full force last night, and their blood-curdling yells astonished the natives. All the other features of the procession are getting along finely, and things are about ready for the gigantic celebration. Professor Palmer of Rochester, will have full charge of the fireworks display, and he promises to give the management something that is not seen in this section of the country every day.

—A G. T. R. freight car jumped the track at one of the Dickson sidings yesterday.

—The market this morning could not be called a large one. Prices remain almost unchanged.

—A tramp with hardly enough clothes on him to wad a gun, was doing the north end this morning.

—The members of No. 5 Company, 57th Batt., under Captain Miller, are putting in target practice at the range this afternoon.

—The Finance and Fire, Water and Light Committees met last night. They will report to the Council.

—The junior cricketers are arranging for return matches with Port Hope and Lindsay.

—The Riverside Lacrosse team left for Orilla this morning. They have not much hope of victory.

—The electric light at George and MacDonnel-sts. has been placed on the east side of the street on a higher pole.

—Two bush fires were burning east of the village of Ashburnham, yesterday and today.

—The aroma from the fire hall stable filled the committee rooms last night, and the meetings were held down stairs.

—It is said that the Crossen car shops are to be removed from Cobourg to Toronto. Peterborough is a better place for them.

—The boys who go swimming are too light footed for the police, when it comes to running logs.

—A window from one of the upper storeys of a George-st. store fell on the sidewalk last night making a great noise and smash.

—Mr. T. B. Collins, of Millbrook, Grand Master of the Grand Orange Lodge of Ontario East, left for Ireland to-day.

—St. George's Church Sunday School, of Hastings, will picnic at Idyl Wild, on Friday next.

—The express trains are at last showing the weather signals. They are handy for the farmers along the railways.

—The Street and Bridge Committee are taking action regarding the grading of Smith-st., so we understand.

—The Belleville ball team will not play in Port Hope to-morrow as anticipated, there being some hitch.

—The Belleville cricketers left for home via Port Hope last night. They came up on the Grand Junction.

JOHN HACKETT

Has again occupied his former premises next door to Fortye & Phelan's Hardware Store.

The Store, which has been undergoing extensive alterations and improvements, is now a model place of business, and the public are invited to call and take a look through the premises.

The increased accommodation and convenience afforded us for doing business will no doubt help to compensate us and our customers for the inconvenience caused by our removal during the alterations and we hope to see all our friends back again in our handsome new premises.

"I assure you, father, the one thing needed to make the furnishing of this library complete is a lovely hanging lamp in place of this stand one which we have used for years. Nothing seems to give the finishing touch to the equipments of a room like a nice hanging lamp such as they keep at China Hall. Those ornaments up there, which I also bought at China Hall, are lovely. Every one admires them, and just half the price I was asked for the same things in Toronto; but still, father dear, I must have the lamp."

The First Symptoms

of all Lung diseases are much the same: feverishness, loss of appetite, sore throat, pains in the chest and back, headache, etc. In a few days you may be well, or, on the other hand, you may be down with Pneumonia or "galloping Consumption." Run no risks, but begin immediately to take Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

Several years ago, James Birchard, of Darien, Conn., was severely ill. The doctors said he was in Consumption, and that they could do nothing for him, but advised him, as a last resort, to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. After taking this medicine, two or three months, he was pronounced a well man. His health remains good to the present day.

J. S. Bradley, Malden, Mass., writes: "Three winters ago I took a severe cold, which rapidly developed into Bronchitis and Consumption. I was so weak that I could not sit up, was much emaciated, and coughed incessantly. I consulted several doctors, but they were powerless, and all agreed that I was in Consumption. At last, a friend brought me a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. From the first dose, I found relief. Two bottles cured me, and my health has since been perfect."

MONA'S CHOICE.

BY MRS. ALEXANDER.

"I was so afraid I should miss you, dear," cried the young peeress, shaking hands warmly with her. "I was afraid you had vanished from me altogether. Bertie told me about meeting you abroad with a wonderful old millionaire of an uncle. Come, let me drive you wherever you are going, or, better still, let me take you to see baby. Such a dear, darling baby. You will be enchanted with him. Do come in. Open the door, William."

"Oh, yes! I should be so delighted to see your baby, dear Evelyn!" said Mona.

The next minute she was seated beside Lady Finistoun, and driving toward that lady's house.

"Why did you not let me know you were in town?"

"I have not been long here," returned Mona, "and I have been busy. Nor did I think of looking you up. You see it is no use attempting to be on the old footing. We must drift apart."

"Oh, nonsense! You look as well—indeed better than ever. You will never lose your style, Mona, and I dare say you will marry very well, especially with this rich uncle behind you."

"My uncle has an heir."

"No! Has he? How very disgraceful! Never mind, dear, you are evidently a favorite of fortune. Where are you staying now?"

"With Madame Debrisay."

"And what have you done with the uncle?"

"He has quarrelled with me and left me."

"Oh, you foolish girl! How did you offend him?"

"It is too long a story to tell you now. Tell me about yourself."

Nothing loath, Lady Finistoun poured forth the annals of a golden life flooded with the sunshine of prosperity—with busy pleasure and careless, though kindly happiness.

Soon they reached Hyde Park Gardens, and Lady Finistoun sent a peremptory message to nurse. She soon appeared with the Hon. Hector Aubrey Douglas Montgomerie in her arms—a very active young gentleman, who did his best to precipitate himself head-foremost on the floor—jumping, crowing, clutching at his nurse's cap, and slobbering after the fashion of babies from St. James' to St. Giles'. He held out his plump, mottled arms to his delighted mother, who proudly took him, and then, as the highest mark of affection and confidence, gave him to Mona. She received him with no small apprehension, though pronouncing him, with genuine admiration to be a splendid fellow, and "so like Lord Finistoun."

"Do you see the likeness too? Yes, I think he is. But do you know, Mona, he has the Newburgh gray eyes? They are like yours, Mona. Don't you think baby's eyes are very like Miss Joscelyn's—I mean Miss Craig's? (Your name always puzzles me, Mona)."

"Perhaps so, my lady. They are very fine eyes, any way."

A little more showing off, and nurse judged that her lady had had as much of baby's society as was good for them all. She suggested that the young gentleman's own apartment was cooler and fresher for him than the drawing-room. After a little more kissing and cuddling he was taken away, and Lady Finistoun and her kinswoman sat down to tea.

"I am so glad you are pleased with the boy! I could see by your eyes you were ready to love him. There are lots of people ready to exclaim, 'He is a fine child!' but few look at him as you did, dear Mona!" cried the young mother. "Take off your hat, and we shall have a nice chat over our tea. I am not at home to anyone, Tomkins"—to the butler. "I want you to come and stay with me at Strathairlie. As soon as our cruise is over we are going for a week to the Chase, and will be in the Highlands the second week of September. Will you come, Mona?"

"I do not think I can. I shall want to be in town by the first of October, and—"

"Oh, but you really must come! And then, didn't Bertie tell me that the millionaire uncle has a place quite near? Then you can make friends with him. We will ask him to dinner. Those sort of people are always so pleased when they are asked to dinner."

"I shall not go anywhere. I shall stay very thankfully with my good friend Mme. Debrisay, who never changes toward me."

"Ah, yes, she is a dear old thing! But fancy staying in London all the year. You will make yourself ill, Mona."

"Just think, Evelyn, of the hundreds of people who never quit it, and live on."

"Then they are quite different."

"I cannot see," began Mona, when Lady Finistoun interrupting her, exclaimed—

"Oh, Mona! do you remember Captain Lisle?"

"I do."

"He has come into a large property and a baronetcy."

"Oh, indeed! How did that happen?"

"I think he always expected it.—Old Sir Howard Lisle was a relation of his father's and as they were a non-marrying set of men, our acquaintance, though not a near cousin, was the next heir."

So, after all, he was not a poor man. He had wealth and position almost in his grasp when he shrunk from sharing his life with her, thought Mona, while Lady Finistoun rattled on. "But I suppose there are many like him," was her conclusion.

"I rather think my mother would have liked him for Geraldine, but I am not so sure he would have made a good husband." Lady Finistoun was saying when Mona listened again. "These fascinating all accomplished men seldom do. They tell queer stories about them. The Countess of Northallerton went out of her mind about him, so it is said, and only the earl died so suddenly there would have been a fearful row."

"He was very agreeable," said Mona, quietly.

"Yes. He has been very popular in India, but he is coming home now on 'urgent private affairs,' I suppose, and will probably leave the army. You are not going yet, Mona?"

"I must. Madame Debrisay will be looking for me."

Lady Finistoun embraced her affectionately, and Mona walked leisurely home through Kensington Gardens in a very thoughtful mood.

* * * * * * *

The encounter with Lady [illegible] afforded much matter for talk to Mme. Debrisay. She did not press Mona to accept her insitation.

"I am not sure it would do you any good, dear. It is better to keep with those of your own trade. It went to my heart to see you leave your beautiful home, and the society you were used to; but it had to be done, and there is no use in looking back. Life has many sides, and there's none without its own spark of light."

So the friends enjoyed the quiet holiday time together. Prudence forbade their leaving town. But Mona, fresh from her wanderings, was glad to rest; and Mme. Debrisay was quite content while she had Mona.

Kenneth wrote occasionally. Uncle Sandy was greatly annoyed at the mismanagement of all things appertaining to the farm during his absence. He had dismissed the man he had left in charge, and was determined, with Kenneth's help, to direct everything himself; but he was very unwell and fractious. He never mentioned Mona's name, but Kenneth was of opinion that he thought of her a good deal. Meantime there was no chance of his getting away, and he began to fear that it would be many a month before he could see his Highland Mary.

The days and weeks flew by rapidly, and Mme. Debrisay was beginning to think of work again, when one morning in the first week of September, the post brought Mona a letter addressed in exceedingly shaky, spider-like calligraphy. It bore the postmark of "Kirktoun;" and having looked at it earnestly for a moment, she exclaim-

Iron Workers' Wages.

PITTSBURG, June 20.—At a scale conference of the iron manufacturers and the Amalgamated Association of Iron and Steel Workers the latter submitted a proposition to suspend operations for three months instead of accepting a reduction in wages. The manufacturers agreed to accept the proposition provided it applied to all the mills in the country. The Committee will give a final answer on Thursday.

The Horse Market.

TORONTO, June 20.—At Grand's yesterday 19 general purpose horses were sold at prices ranging from $45 to $150. There were only two outside buyers present. These were from the Northwest, but they took only half a dozen inferior animals. The total amount realized was $1643, the average price $86.

The Potatoe Market.

TORONTO, June 20.—The glut in the potatoe trade is not over. Deliveries from Manitoba, Maritime Provinces, Quebec and odd cars from points in Ontario were placed on the market, already overloaded. Transactions were light. Commission men have all they can handle as it is and were reluctant in bidding. Some consignors have been "stuck" and have stored their goods without effecting a sale. Prices are ranging from 50 to 75 cents a bag. The market is in a very unsettled condition and accurate prices are not to be had.

Egg and Butter Trade.

TORONTO, June 20.—Eggs are in good demand and moderate supply at 13 cents. Butter is almost a drug on the market. There is any quantity of "dairy" at prices varying from 14 to 16 cents. Creamery sells slow at 20c and 22c.

NOTES FROM THE CAPITAL.

MR. CHAPLEAU SAID TO HAVE BEEN APPOINTED POSTMASTER-GENERAL

Rumored Coming Superannuations—Relief for the Hull Fire Sufferers—Mortuary Statistics.

OTTAWA, June 21.—The appointment of Hon. Mr. Chapleau as Postmaster-General, in place of Hon. Mr. McLelan, is said by friends of the Premier to have been as good as made, but it will not take effect until the begining of the new fiscal year.

The usual crop of rumors of superannuations have made their appearance and four deputy heads are mentioned as likely to be placed on the superannuation list after July 1: W. H. Griffin, Deputy Postmaster-General; James Johnston, Commissioner of Customs; Grant Powell, Under Secretary of State, and W. Smith, Deputy Minister of Marine. The rumor with regard to the first named gentleman is probably correct, but that with respect to the others is at least premature. Mr. Griffin is the senior deputy head, having been appointed Deputy Postmaster-General in 1867. He is one of the oldest if not the oldest employee in the service, having entered it fifty-seven years ago next April. It is understood that Lieut.-Col. White, Secretary of the Department, will succeed him.

It is understood that the Dominion Government will contribute $5,000 for the relief of the sufferers from the Hull fire. The same amount has been contributed by the Quebec Government, and private subscriptions in money and kind amount to about $30,000. There is a good deal of distress amongst those burnt out. Very few have commenced rebuilding, one reason being that it is expected that at the next meeting of the Council a by-law will be passed prohibiting the erection of wooden buildings. The church authorities have not yet got a settlement from the insurance companies, and consequently have not commenced rebuilding the church.

The Department of Public Works has relaid the cables connecting Grosse Isle quarantine station with the Island of Orleans and so with Quebec. Instead of one cable, as used in previous years, two short cables have been laid and a land line built across the Isle aux Reaux. The two cables will be better protected from ice than the one previously used and it is believed it will not be necessary to take them up for the winter as has been done in former years.

Six dealers in the lower part of Ottawa County have lately been fined $5 each for non-payment of excise duty on Canadian tobacco, about 2,000 pounds of which was confiscated.

The Chandiere lumbermen who are in arrears of rent for water power have made an offer to the Government to pay off the arrears and take new leases on new terms.

Statistics issued by the Department of Agriculture show the deaths for May in the principal cities: Montreal 502, Toronto 202, Quebec 176, Halifax 82, Hamilton 78, Ottawa 54.

Sir Hector Langevin and Hon. Mackenzie Bowell left last night for Napanee, where the former will lay the corner-stone of the new public building.

On Friday the corner-stone of the new public building at Trenton will be laid. The ministers will return on Saturday.

Hon. Mr. Thompson, Minister of Justice, will visit Kingston Penitentiary next week, where it is proposed to make extensive improvements which will take several years to complete.

UPRIGHT IN DEATH.

A Wealthy Farmer Shoots Himself Because of Unhappy Domestic Relations.

BEAMSVILLE, June 21.—John O. Henry, one of the most prosperous farmers in this vicinity, shot and killed himself yesterday. Henry's farm is about three miles east of the village, and is a magnificent property of 300 acres. On Tuesday Henry went to St. Catharines and settled up some business there. He also called on several persons in Beamsville and vicinity with whom he had business dealings, and requested them to call at once and settle with him. Yesterday morning a man named A. Everett, who had been working for Henry, had some dispute with him about a small sum of money which was due Everett. Henry was then in bed, and as Everett left, he said he guessed he'd get up and put on his pants.

Shortly after this Henry's son Stanley heard a loud explosion in the house, and when he went inside he found his father sitting bolt upright in a chair near the bed, unconscious and dying, with a bullet hole through his head and a revolver lying by his side. The ball entered the right temple and came out over the right eye, passing through the brain. Death occurred a very few minutes after the shot was fired. In the dead man's vest, which lay on the bed, was found $2000 in bank bills and his gold watch. An inquest will be held.

The reasons for the suicide are not far to seek. Mr. Henry was a man of violent temper and irritable disposition; he was a rather heavy drinker, and his domestic relations were unhappy. His wife and daughters have not been living at home recently.

THE FIREMEN'S TOURNAMENT.

Brantford's Great Day—Dunnville Takes First Prize in Three of the Contests.

BRANTFORD, June 21.—The Firemen's Tournament here has proved a great success. A number of American fire companies arrived Tuesday evening and all trains yesterday morning brought in firemen and excursionists from all directions. By noon there were several thousand strangers in the city.

At 1 o'clock the firemen formed into line on Market-square and proceeded through the principal streets to the Agricultural Show Grounds where the programme of the day was carried out.

In the evening there was a torchlight procession and a fancy drill exhibition at the fair grounds.

SHAKING IN ITS BOOTS

EUROPE ALARMED AT GERMANY'S WARLIKE EMPEROR.

William II. making Things Hum—The Continent One Huge Garrison—Sad Love Story of the Widow to the Mother.

BERLIN, June 21.—The uneasy feeling which has pervaded Europe is at its highest point in Berlin. A glance at newspapers shows the condition of things. In one column is a long despatch from St. Petersburg, which winds up with the statement that Russia will be on the alert and ill at ease until the young Emperor has shown his purposes concerning that country. There is a feeling of alarm in Vienna. The Temps publishes an earnest, forcible article, admonishing the French politicians to sink their petty differences and recognise the portentious changes occasioned by the accession of the new German Emperor. One journal here has translated the leading articles of all the prominent London newspapers. They all predict war, the Standard asserting that the last barrier of peace in Europe was swept away by Frederick's death.

Telegrams from Rome say that the tone of the Emperor's proclamation to his army and navy leaves no doubt but the days of peace are over. From every European centre the story is the same. Here in Berlin the talk is war. Every officer in the army is eager for it, and overtaxed people, remembering the milliards that came in such a welcome shower from France, look forward to another period with relief. The vast schemes of ambition that are heard in Berlin on all sides are based mainly on the near prospect of a great military struggle. One thing is certain, there must be some sort of a climax to the present condition of things.

I have travelled a good deal over the face of Europe recently, but nowhere was I able for a moment to forget that four great nations were sapping their vital sources while they worked with feverish earnestness in preparation for the inevitable struggle. Europe to-day is a huge garrison. At Nancy, near the French frontier, 30,000 soldiers are at work night and day building works and drilling. At Strasburg a similar number of professional fighters are hard at it. In Vienna the entire male population is apparently in uniform. In Paris the people worship a demagogue because he is believed to awe the Germans. In Berlin the talk is war first, last and for ever. In Russia the war party is in the ascendant, and Great Britain is in a panic because she has just discovered that she is at the mercy of the great Continental powers.

All over Europe the railroads are run by soldiers, the telegraph system is a part of the military service and the mails are handled by men of arms. Every discussion in society, garden or club is reduced to one topic, war or no war. It suphered while the peace-loving Frederick quietly drifted away, but an hour after his soldier son had seized control of the nation the whole of Europe was agog.

There is no question of the great power of the new ruler, for the army and people follow him with a species of blind devotion unparalleled in other parts of the world. One portion of his fiery address to the army is reprinted constantly. It is this: "We belong to each other, I and the army. Thus we are born for one another, and thus we will stand together in an indissoluble bond in peace or storm as God may will."

The prospects of the country have changed, for the greatest army in the world is now not under the command of an octogenarian or a peace-loving Emperor, but has for its leader an Emperor whom it adores, and who is, above everything else, a born soldier.

A large number of deathbed anecdotes and last things of the late Emperor should be taken with a large substantial grain of salt, for his Majesty could neither speak nor write during the closing days of his unhappy life. "His eyes talked, but that was all, and his own wish at all times was to have his royal consort near him. When she was by, he was content to await the inevitable end. The love and devotion of the Empress were beautiful to behold. She was the solace and comfort of the Emperor in death, as she had been his dearest and constant friend in life. To-day I had a long talk with Dr. Persius, the spiritual adviser of the late Emperor. Dr. Persius conducted the services in the church last night, and was with various members of the royal family until late at night.

Concerning his late Majesty he added:—"I have, perhaps, had better opportunity than any one else to study his character. I must say that to me his most prominent characteristic was his gentleness and breeding. He was a famous soldier, a just ruler, but, above all, he was a true, honest gentleman. No higher type of man has ever lived, for his smallest thoughts were noble and pure. It was because of this that her Majesty the Empress requested me to read the service from the text, 'Blessed are the pure in heart, for they shall see God.'" The Emperor took the holy communion on Holy Thursday. His death was utterly painless. His last two days were passed in a serene contemplation of the future.

The Imperial widow will go to Switzerland for the purpose of recuperating her health, after which she will take up her residence at Wilemshone Palace, near Cassel. It was in this palace that Napoleon III. was held a prisoner after Sedan. It was left to the Empress by the will of William I. The opinion that the Empress will spend most of her time in England, though nominally living in Germany, is generally entertained. In the coffin of the dead Emperor her Majesty placed a small gold chain, to which three lockets were attached, containing miniatures which she had always worn until his last illness.

The royal widow's despatch to the Emperor's mother who was at Baden when her son died, was as follows:—

"She, who was so happy and proud to be his wife, weeps with you poor mother, for the loss of thy only son. No mother ever possessed such a son. Be calm and strong in thy grief. Even in his last moments he sent greetings to thee."

At 6.30 o'clock yesterday morning after the previous day's unexampled hardship and exertion, the Emperor mounted his favorite horse, galloped into the woods back of Potsdam, attended by a single aide and for two hours he rode at a hard fast pace that would have worn another man out; but when the young monarch returned he bounded to the ground, and remarked that he felt rested and refreshed. It was his way of dispelling fatigue.

BLAKELY HALL.

John Dillon Jailed.

DUBLIN, June 20.—The appeal of John Dillon from the sentence of six months' imprisonment for violation of the Crimes Act has been heard and the sentence confirmed. Mr. Dillon was taken to Dundalk jail and imprisoned. On the route to the prison he was heartily cheered. An address was presented to Mr. Dillon signed by 150 members of the House of Commons, resenting the policy of sending him to unmerited imprisonment and expressing the hope that his sojourn in prison would be made less bitter by the knowledge that sympathy for him was not confined to Ireland.

The rescuer drowned.

TROY, N.Y., June 21.—George Buck, aged 11 years, and George Kennef, aged 9 years, were drowned while bathing at West Troy yesterday. Kennef, who could not swim, was drowning when Buck went to his assistance.

GERMANY'S FOREIGN POLICY.

No Cause for Alarm—Peace Desired by the New Emperor.

BERLIN, June 21.—The Post declares that there is no foundation for the idea that a change will be made in the German policy adverse to Russia. French fears, it says, are also baseless. The moon is more likely to visit the earth than the German Emperor to dream of attacking France only to earn laurels. Germany wished nothing from France but to be let alone. As soon as the French see this conditions will exist for perpetual peace and friendship. At the same time the tone of the Emperor's proclamation may well serve to remind elements unfriendly to Germany, whether in the east or the west, in a manner perhaps not agreeable to them, of the Hohenzollern way of waging war, and make clear to them that any unjust attack upon Germany will meet the fate of the French attack of 1870. The Emperor will wield his sword like his glorious ancestors, but only in defence of the Fatherland against unjust attacks.

A Pesth despatch says The Pesther Lloyd thinks William's proclamation much resembles the programme of Pastor Stocker.

Emperor William has telegraphed to President Carnot of France thanking him for his message of condolence on the death of Emperor Frederick, and expressing the hope that the good relations now existing between France and Germany may continue.

The Emperor Will Command.

BERLIN, June 21.—It is stated that the Emperor will declare his intention of taking personal command of the autumn manœuvres. The Emperor will personally reopen the Reichstag and Landtag. He has ordered that memorial services be held in all universities, colleges and schools throughout the Empire on June 30.

The Czar looks for Peace.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 21.—The Czar has declined to sanction the proposal of Gen. Vannovski, Minister of War, that the number of battalions be doubled on the ground that the proposed increase would be too severe a burden on the financial resources of the Empire, and because the present political situation in no wise justifies such a measure.

Why the Russian Press is Optimistic.

BERLIN, June 21.—The Tagblatt says the fact of there being a censorship over the press in Russia positively forbade the newspapers expressing pessimistic views on the accession of Emperor William II.

400 Fishermen Drowned.

A GIRL'S SAD FATE.

Grace Allen dies from an Abortion—A Negro gets the Lash.

TORONTO, June 21. At the Central Prison yesterday Benjamin Graham, the negro who committed a brutal outrage on two little colored girls, received the first instalment of ten lashes on the back. During the administration of the flagellation he betrayed considerable cowardice, and at time bellowed like a bull. The cat was wielded by a prison guard. He will receive a second instalment in three months.

Mr. Robert Quinn, the new freight agent of the G.T.R. at Hamilton, was presented wit an address and service of plate by the local lumber dealers, and later on with a gold chain and an address by the grain section of the Board of Trade.

Bond-street Congregational church has flourished so well under Dr. Wild that they are going to get an assistant minister for the prophet. A call has been extended to Rev. C. O. Johnson of Hamilton, the salary to be $2,500.

A notice of appeal has been served against the police magistrate's decision in the Wilson-Jarvis case.

The weather here is very sultry. Yesterday Mrs. Frank Samo was prostrated by a sunstroke. Mrs. Samo is in a bad condition.

A girl who gave her name as Grace Allen died at the General Hospital yesterday morning from the effects of an abortion. The hospital authorities say that she was brought there by order of Dr. Charles Cook. She had been boarding at 112½ King-street west, and Dr. Cook was called in on Tuesday morning, when he saw at once that the condition of the unfortunate girl was critical. A consultation was held after the abortion was had, but nothing could be done for her. Before dying and in the presence of several witnesses she asserted that she had committed the abortion herself and that no one else was implicated. She said further that she had come from Buffalo a fortnight before.

The Methodist Conference Committee on the State of Work presented a report the other day in which the game of baseball was included as being among such causes of sin as the theater, the saloon, the dance and card playing. But Conference objecting to the baseball business, referred the report back, and the Committee again reporting referred only to the betting and gambling attendant upon the game. As a proof that some ministers are fond of the game, it may be mentioned that five of the cloth were counted at the Indianapolis-Toronto match on Tuesday.

Two boys, aged respectively 8 and 7 years, were drowned in the Don last night. They were the sons of N. Perreault and Lewis Forrest.

The Car Accountants at Montreal.

MONTREAL, June 21.—The International Association of Car Accountants commenced their thirteenth annual session here yesterday. They number 73 delegates, 34 honorary members and 60 lady friends. The delegates represent all parts of the United States, Canada and Mexico. Those officers for the ensuing year were elected: President, A. P. Wiler of Topeka, Kan.; Vice-President, J. G. Hunt of the Grand Trunk Railway; Treasurer, E. M. Horton of Chicago; Secretary, H. H. Lyon of the Chicago and Alton Railroad.

HER SUMMER PROGRAMME

WHERE HER MAJESTY WILL PASS THE HEATED DOG DAYS.

Puttkamer's Difficulty with the Late Emperor—Save us from the Doctors—Labouchere's Chatty Letter.

LONDON, June 21.—The Queen will leave Windsor Castle for Osborne about July 13, and Her Majesty intends to reside in the Isle of Wight till August 2, when the court removes to Scotland for the annual autumn sojourn of three months. The Queen, as was stated some time ago to be the case, is to visit Glasgow on her way to Balmoral. Her Majesty will arrive at Blytheswood, Sir Archibald Campbell's place in Renfrewshire, which is within a drive of Glasgow, early on the morning of Wednesday, August 22, having travelled direct from Gosport. Her Majesty will visit the exhibition on Thursday, the 23rd, and on the evening of that day will leave Blytheswood and travel all night to Balmoral.

The Queen has sent an urgent invitation to the widowed Empress Victoria to come to England for a few months as soon as affairs will admit of her quitting Potsdam. The death of the Emperor Frederick is the death knell of the London season. Royalties will go out nowhere, and indeed it is understood that the Prince and Princess of Wales, who are expected to return from Potsdam on Friday, will leave town next week with no intention of returning, the Prince going in all probability to Royal les Bains and the Princess to Sandringham.

The court balls and State concerts are abandoned and not postponed as the daily papers state.

I hear from Berlin that Herr Von Puttkamer was really dismissed by Emperor Frederick because it was discovered not only that he had managed to obtain possession of the cipher which the Empress Victoria has latterly used when telegraphing to England, but that her private correspondence and the Emperor's always passed through his hands. The Minister has been simply a creature of Prince Bismarck's, and on more than one occasion had made great mischief between Emperor William and the then Crown Prince and the Crown Princess. Herr Von Puttkamer, who for forty years has been a "junkeer" of the most offensive type, is the author of that delectable saying, "Our age is bitten with democratic rabies." He manages the reptile fund through which he has created a most unscrupulous semi-official press.

The Queen despatched quite a series of cipher telegrams from Balmoral to Potsdam on Friday afternoon, extending over more than five hundred words. It was not till her Majesty had concluded her communication to Germany that she commenced telegraphing to the Marquis of Salisbury and Lord Latham, and to Sir Henry Ponsonby, who have all been anxiously awaiting instructions on various points, and as a matter of fact the message about court mourning arrived too late for the order to be announced in Saturday's papers as it ought to have been. A great number of messages passed between Balmoral and Marlborough House on Saturday.

Now that the Emperor Frederick is dead, I hope that the doctors will patch up their quarrels and agree to bury the hatchet, or perhaps I should say scalpel, in the grave. Of course, I do not in the least expect they will. The opportunity for self-advertisement is too good to be thrown away.

I hear that a sort of general onslaught is to be made on Sir Morell Mackenzie by a number of gentlemen who think that the Kaiser should not have been allowed to die without their help. The distinguished physician is well able to take care of himself, but I am sure that the public would be glad to hear no more about cancer of the larynx, perichondritis, holes in the windpipe, artificial breathing-tubes and all other surgical horrors which have made our breakfast tables hideous for the last six months. There is no doubt whatever that the case was an exceptionally difficult one, quite apart form the vast political and personal interests connected with it. The disease ran a very unusual course and only two or three weeks ago the apparent improvement was so remarkable that even the German doctors, who had been persistently pessimistic from the first, began to waver in their opinion. The change for the worse occurred quite suddenly, and till Tuesday or Wednesday no one had any idea that the end was so near.

HENRY LABOUCHERE.

RECKLESS WITH HIS REVOLVER.

Willie Burchell of Clinton Found Dead From a Bullet Wound.

CLINTON, June 21.—About noon yesterday while three little boys were passing through Gibbing's Grove they saw a young man lying on the ground. Supposing him to be asleep they passed on but on their return they passed closer and saw blood and that he had been shot.

It proved to be Willie Burchell, a young man of about 22 years. He was quite dead, with his revolver in his hand. It is supposed that it had gone off accidentally and killed him. He was in the habit of going there to practice with the revolver and had been seen tossing it about rather daringly.

Deceased was a nephew of W. Doherty of the Doherty Organ Co.

THE SCHOOL BOOK EXTORTION.

ONE phase of the school book extortion is thus vigorously dealt with by the Hamilton Spectator:—"The Ontario government authorized the use of a particular drawing book, and gave a monopoly of the manufacture of that book to a single firm. That firm charged such prices that the book could be retailed only at ten cents each, and that was the price the government permitted to be charged. Better books had previously been sold at five cents each, and protests against the extortion were many and loud. It was shown that the books for which ten cents must be paid cost less than two cents to make, and could be sold at five cents, giving large profits to manufacturers and dealers. But the government was firm. It had the power to steal money from the people and put it into the pockets of political favorites, and it exercised that power. Other publishers offered to print the books and place them on the market so that they could be retailed at five cents each, but Mr. Ross turned a deaf ear to their applications. He had arranged that his political friends should steal five cents of the people's money over and above a fair profit, and he intended that they should continue to steal that money. What were the public interests to him?

"But lately some legal complications have made it probable that Mr. Ross would be compelled to enter the witness box and there explain his transactions in connection with the whole matter. The prospect caused him great alarm. He can defend his transactions in the Legislature, surrounded by his political friends, and when he is not very particular as to the accuracy of his statements; but he trembled when he tried to think how he would acquit himself in court, testifying on oath, and trying to explain how he had compelled people to pay ten cents for a book which cost only two cents.

"In this emergency he hastily wrote an order that the drawing books in question must be retailed at five cents a piece instead of ten. This is an admission that of all the money paid in Ontario for drawing books since Mr. Ross established his odious monopoly, at least one-half has been unjustly extorted by the Minister of Education.

"And this is but one of the many school-books for which the people of Ontario are compelled to pay double prices. In fixing the prices of almost all of them, the Minister of Education has made an arrangement by which political friends are authorized to rob the people.

"At present the people cannot help themselves. They must submit to be robbed until they turn the chief robbers out of office."

IT is rather curious that in Conservative England they should have started to reform the House of Lords, while in progressive Canada people agitate in vain for a reform of the Senate. Is it that the British House of Lords needs reform more than the Canadian Senate?—Ottawa Journal.

Well, the peerage is hereditary, and membership of the Senate is not. And the people have not been shown how the Senate can be reformed.

THE INQUEST.

Evidence and Verdict in the Lakefield Infanticide Case.

On Monday evening an inquest was held before Dr. Bell, coroner, touching the death of the unknown male infant, found on the premises of Mr. J. W. Moore at the cheese factory about a mile from the village.

The jury was empanalled and viewed the body and a warrant issued for a post-mortem examination, and the inquest adjourned to the Council Chamber until Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock.

At the hour appointed the jury answered to their names as follows and the proceedings continued:—W. M. Graham, foreman, B. Hunter, E. Sellens, Wm. Cox, jr., H. R. Patterson, G. Fitzgerald, N. A. Glass, J. L. Madill, J. P. Strickland, C. J. Burgis, David Arnot, H. Fitzgerald, T. Doogan.

JOHN W. MOORE, cheesemaker, being sworn, said:—Sarah Windsor had been working for him since the 16th of May, to Thursday last. She returned to her father's house in Burleigh, last Friday. She left on the stage. She returned to his house again on Sunday evening. He understood her father brought her to the village. The next time he saw her would be about 1 o'clock Monday morning in her own room. The girl that was sleeping with her (Hannah Nesbitt) gave an alarm. She said she thought that the girl (Windsor) was crazy, and that she was afraid of her. He saw the girl standing near the window with her head out. He asked her what was the matter and the reply was "nothing." He returned to his own room. He went into the hall again and called her and got no answer. He again asked her what was the matter and she said she was a little sick and had gone down stairs to get a drink of water. He then left her and did not see her again until morning. About 5 o'clock in the morning, when standing at his door, he heard a child crying and followed the direction of the sound. He found the child at the south of the factory about two feet under the building. By kneeling down it could have been placed there without throwing it. The infant was not dressed. It was not wrapped up in anything. He did not remove it but went into the house and reported the case to the women. He supposed the girl heard him tell them as she went out and brought the child into the house. The girl said she thought the child was dead when she put it under the building. He did not see the girl or the child after. He immediately sent for Dr. J. M. Fraser.

By a juryman: Did the girl seem grieved when she brought in the child?

Mr. MOORE said he did not see her and could not speak positively as to that.

HANNAH NESBITT, sworn, said:—She was sleeping with Sarah Windsor on Sunday night, and was awakened by a peculiar noise. She got up and called Mr. Moore, as she was frightened. They went to bed together about 10 o'clock. Miss Windsor complained of being sick. She did not see her again until Monday morning. She saw her when she brought in the infant. When she left the bedroom the girl was up. She heard a noise but did not know what it was. She was not sure that it was a child that was making the noise. She was so frightened she did not what to think or do.

DR. J. M. FRASER, [illegible]—On Monday morning he received a message from Mr. Moore to go to his residence. He found the girl, Sarah Windsor, in bed. He made an examination which showed that she had been recently confined. He had to remove the placenta. There was blood on the carpet, the bed, and the window sill. The girl was perfectly rational. He afterwards examined the child, which was still alive, and found marks of violence on the right hip, the right chest, the right shoulder, and the right ear. It was just possible that the injuries could have been caused by non-instrumental labor. The cord was tied. He took a look around the outside of the house after attending to mother and child. He found the grass was stained with blood at the end of the house where the girl's sleeping room was. The blood was dry and might have been there for days by its appearances. When he examined the child he found blood coming from its mouth. The child was apparently healthy. The marks found on the body were not sufficient to cause death.

By a juror: Could the injuries have been caused by simply placing the child in the position it was found.

Dr. FRASER: Possibly so.

Dr. J. M. FRASER recalled:—If the child had fallen on the grass he would not have expected to find the marks more severe. One of the blood marks in the grass was larger than a silver dollar. It might have been fresh. He did not see blood where the child had laid beneath the factory.

For a distance of about seven inches from the grave the grass was stained as if something had rolled over it, then settled where the larger clot was. He would hardly expect to find effusion of blood in the child's brain after a natural labor.

Dr. DUNCAN FRASER made a post mortem examination on Monday evening on the body of a male infant, name unknown. External appearances, a well-formed, seemingly matured child, about 18 to 19 inches, weight from 6 to 7 lbs. On the left side of the head, a little below the back of the ear, skin dark bluish color. On the back of the head the skin was soft and doughy, and covered with an abundance of black hair; eyes bluish, pupils widely dilated. On right breast one inch below and external to the nipple he found a number of scratches only skin deep, and on left breast at lower and back part a dark bluish spot extending through the skin. On opening chest, the left lung was very much congested immediately opposite this spot. With this exception all other organs in chest were normal and healthy. The right lung was of a bright red color and filling the right side of chest, being expanded; so also the left with the exception of a portion of the lower and back part, which was dark and highly congested. Heart normal. On opening abdominal cavity found organs all normal and healthy. On removing the scalp from the skull and then opening the calvarium or skull he found a large mass of dark clotted blood extending along the longitudinal fissure, between the calvarium (or skull cap) and the brain. The umbilical cord was about four or five inches long, and did not appear to have been cut, but was torn and ragged at the end and tied with a piece of tar rope, also dressed with a piece of cheese cloth. From the way in which the cord was tied he would infer that it was tied by some inexperienced person, as below the string there was an opening or tear in the cord. From the appearance of the cord he would take the child to be not more than one or two days of age. There was blood coming from the nostrils and mouth.

Dr. D. FRASER, recalled: Said he thought the injury on the head must have been caused by a great amount of violence. Would not think it could be caused by a natural labor. The child was strong and healthy. I think the injury to the head was sufficient to cause death. A blow would do it, but it would have to be a hard one. Would not expect such injuries even if the child had been born with the mother standing up. Would not expect such injuries as I found in a case of labor.

The room was cleared about 10.30 p. m. and the jury left to find their verdict. After thirty minutes consultation they brought in the following verdict:—"That Sarah Windsor did on the 18th day of June, at the house or cheese factory in the township of Smith, feloniously and unlawfully kill and slay her infant son against the peace and dignity of our Lady the Queen."

Don't use any more nauseous purgatives such as Pills, salts, etc., when you can get in Dr. Carson's Stomach Bitters, a medicine that moves the Bowels gently, cleansing all impurities from the system, and rendering the Blood pure and cool. Sold by all Druggists.

Correspondence of the Review

ORANGE.—The Otonabee Scarlet Chapter was opened on Thursday of last week.

ACCIDENT.—While Mr. H. J. English was unloading a barrel of sugar from the stage on Thursday week the horses started off and the barrel came on to Harry's foot, bruising it badly. It was promptly and properly attended to, and Harry expects to be all right before long.

DIVISION COURT.—His Honor Judge Weller held court here on the 19th. The only case was Gall vs. Yourex, in which Mr. Gall was non-suited.

PUBLIC SCHOOL ENTERTAINMENT.—The school entertainment at Lang was a success, the ladies and gentlemen from Hastings especially showing their ability to advantage, considering the smallness of the hall. All entertainments should be held in the large hall, and not in the small one. A lamp falling over near the first nearly caused a panic, and the report of another explosion doing any damage is utterly false.

CORRECTION.—In last week's issue we were made to speak of Miss for Mrs., and the final letter in Mr. Skinner's name was changed to a "y". You surely don't want our head broken!

TEMPLAR'S CONCERT.—This concert was a success. The hall was well filled, and Mr. Thomas Campbell occupied the chair with ability and dignity. Prof. McIntyre attended to the colored fires for the tableaux, and Prof. B. Anderson was scene-shifter. Mrs. Harrison, Miss G. Gallon and Messrs. Mark, Howson and Laughlin sang well.

NEW WHARF.—As our Council have at last made a grant towards building a new wharf, we expect to have it finished by next week at the latest.

PERSONAL.—M. Kennealy left on Tuesday for the camp at Gananoque. Officer Jas. McFarlane, of the N. W. M. P., writes occasionally, and speaks well of his situation and the country.

In brief and to the Point.

Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered liver is misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature.

The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existance. It is easily put out of order.

Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this sad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

Remember:—No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings health and happines to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy-five cents.

NO ADVANCE MADE.

The Republican Convention Take up Another Day with Preliminaries.

CONVOCATION HALL, CHICAGO, June 21.—When the Convention opened yesterday morning Mayor Roche, on behalf of the citizens of Chicago, presented to Chairman Estee a gavel made of gold and silver and diamond mounting.

The Convention then voted to effect perfect organization. Goy, Foster of Ohio, G. R. Sloan of New York, and M. D. Foley of Nevada were made a committee to escort Chairman Estee to the platform. The Chairman spoke briefly, referring to the Oregon election of two weeks ago. Roche of Illinois then took the platform and presented a solid silver and gold gavel to the Convention. Works of Illinois then presented to the chairman a gavel made of the wood from a desk in a tannery in Galena belonging to Grant. Received with applause.

Under the rules adopted the reports of the Committee on Credentials and platform and the naming of members of the National Committee must be acted upon before presentation and balloting for candidates begins.

At the evening session the convention adopted a resolution of sympathy with Germany by a standing vote. Resolutions of respect to Grant, Arthur Logan, and Conkling were also adopted unanimously.

HOUSEFURNISHINGS.

At this season many Housekeepers are replenishing their supplies of Tableware and China. City folk are furnishing summer cottages; country folk are filling up the dressers and cupboards of the old homestead: town's folk are picking and choosing here and there. Many would be glad to know of a place whose special business is to meet these wants and desires; that aims to furnish essentially good wares at consistently low prices; that offers the choice of many different dinner services, and yet does not compel you to take an entire set of any pattern, but allow you to select each course of a new design, or buy any portion of the set you may need; that does not try to impose ideas or wares upon purchasers, and yet is ready to advise which of the many wares is most desirable and suitable; and, if wished, will make a careful selection of pattern. When you want Tablewear will you give us the opportunity to serve you.

THURSDAY, JUNE 21, 1888.

THE CITY AND SUBURBS

Weather Probabilities.

Moderate to fresh winds from south east and south west; fair and very warm weather, followed by local showers to-night or to-morrow.

Hot Weather.

By this time the great majority of people have taken off their winter flannels, and the public are casting their eyes around for something cool. The ladies particularly have a longing for chambrays, grenadines and muslins. A full stock of these and all other seasonable goods cheap, will be found at the golden lion.

Runaway Accident.

About noon to-day Mr Wm. Wand was seated on top of a load of lumber, on Lake-st., Ashburnham. The binding chain gave away and Mr. Wand was thrown to the ground and rather severely shaken up. The horses ran away and the lumber was scattered all over the road. The horses were caught before running far.

A Libel Suit.

Mr. H. LeBrun has instructed his solicitor, Mr. John O'Meara, to demand an apology from the Barrie Gazette, on account of the alleged libel in connection with the Barrie-Peterborough lacrosse match, that appeared in that sheet last week, and failing a satisfactory apology to enter an action for criminal libel. Mr. LeBrun is bound that his good name is not going to be tarnished without any reason whatever.

Social.

A Lawn Social under the auspices of St. Paul's Ladies' Aid will be held at the residence of Mr. Wm. Ferguson, High Park, North Monaghan, on Friday evening the 22nd inst. Admission 25 cents. The Fire Brigade Band will be in attendance. Busses will leave St. Paul's Church at 7 p.m., sharp. They will stop at the corner of Charlotte and Rubidge Streets. A charge of 5 cents for conveyance each way will be made. 3-d 143.

PRICES shorn of Profits, Critical tastes Satisfied and everybody pleased with Groceries at The Pantry.

To the City of the Bay.

It is expected that 700 wheelmen will be at the great bicycle meet in Belleville on Dominion Day, and that city will be a centre of attraction for the province. The P. A. A. Association will run an excursion from Peterborough and intermediate stations to Belleville on that day, and the prospects are that it will be largely attended. An excursion to the pretty City of the Bay is always popular, and the day and the P. A. A. A. auspices are sufficient to make this one a pronounced success. Tickets, $1.10 for round trip.

The Butterworth Case.

The case of forgery and larceny against young Charley Butterworth, the Oriental Hotel bell boy, was disposed of at the police court this morning. The Superintendent of the Miss Macpherson Home, at Stratford, where the boy came from, was present. He gave the lad a good character and promised to look after him in the future. The Magistrate gave the lad some good sound advice as to how he should conduct himself in the future and then allowed him to go, judgment being suspended on the understanding that if ever he gets into trouble again the charges against him here will be pressed. The boy will be taken back to Stratford and given another chance to start life afresh.

Farewell Service.

Next Sunday evening in Charlotte-st. Methodist Church, the Rev Mr. Tovell will preach his farewell sermon.

Satisfied.

The Intelligencer says that—"The Belleville cricketers returned home from Peterborough at 10 o'clock on Wednesday morning and tell a tale of defeat, but the edge was taken off by good entertainment."

R. T. of T.

Peterborough Council No. 97, Royal Templars of Temperance, meet this evening in the W.C.T.U. Hall, entrance south of A. Clegg's. Gospel temperance meeting on Sunday from 4 to 5 o'clock p.m.

A conductor on the Canada Pacific,
Of aches and pains was prolific,
He limped all around
Until he had found
Kidd's walkumphast shoes the specific.

Shipping Eggs.

Mr. E. K. Ostrom and the Metropolitan Grocery Company on Wednesday shipped, via the Grand Trunk, a carload of eggs, consisting of Two Hundred and twenty-five cases, each containing fort-nine dozen or a total of 132,300 eggs.

Extensions.

The people appear to appreciate the water-works system, and not be many years before all portions of the town are served. Petitions have been prepared asking that the mains be extended west on Brock-st. as far as Park-st. and on Dublin-st. as far as Aylmer-st.

Back from the Market.

Messrs. J. H. Wyatt and J. A. Turner returned from Montreal last night, where they carefully selected and purchased a large, varied and excellent stock of ready-made clothing and gent's furnishings, which they will open for sale, in the stand formerly occupied by Messrs. W. W. Johnston & Co., on Wednesday next.

FROM modest efforts, honest goods, high quality, square dealing, good treatment, small profits, on to grand achievements in the way of Satisfying Bargains is the motto of The Pantry.

Serious Bite.

It is learned with regret that Mr. M. Mowry, employed in Mr. Peter Hamilton's Agricultural Works, was very severly bitten by a vicious cat on Tuesday night last. Mr. Mowry was removing the cat from amongst his poultry when it seized him by the right hand and left its marks thoroughly imprinted. The injured hand is very much swollen and exceedingly painful. Mr. Mowry will be laid up for some time.

New Telephones.

The telephone system is being rapidly extended and at the present rate of progress, under the efficient management of Mr. H. W. Kent, Peterborough will soon have more telephones than any place in Canada of the same size. The latest additions to the list are Mr. T. Cavanagh's hotel, Mr. J. J. Lundy's office, Mr. J. J. Lundy's residence and Mr. C. McGill's residence.

The Whistling Nuisance.

The railway companies are waking up to the fact that the people of Peterborough have good reason to complain of the whistling nuisance. The Grand Trunk has secured a copy of the town by-law to prohibit it and forwarded it to headquarters, and it is expected that instructions will be issued to all engineers to abate the nuisance. The C.P.R. will doubtless follow suit.

Matrimonial.

On Wednesday evening Mr. S. J. Hillier and Miss S. A. White were united in marriage by the Rev. P. C. Parker, in the presence of about forty friends of the contracting couple. The bride was attired in a white and blue plush dress. Mr. John Denoon acted as groomsman and Miss Hillier as bridesmaid. The presents were handsome, numerous and costly. After the ceremony those present were entertained at dinner. We extend congratulations.

New Sidewalks.

Numerous new sidewalks are being laid down in all quarters of the town, but not before they are badly needed. The walks on Water-st., from London north, are a disgrace to any town and the public who are in the habit of using them will be pleased to learn that it is the intention of the committee to replace them with new ones at once. The day of the sidewalk of plank laid lengthways has passed and all walks are now laid with the plank crossways, as they last longer and give better satisfaction in every way.

K. of L.

There was a large attendance of laborers at the meeting in the K. of L. hall, on Wednesday. Mr. D. J. O'Donoghue, of Toronto, was the speaker of the evening. He explained in aclear, lucid manner the aims and objects of the Knights of Labor and pointed out the difference between that body and the ordinary trades union. After hearing his address, it was decided that the laborers of Peterborough organize an assembly of the Knights of Labor and nearly all who were present signed the roll. The necessary steps will at once be taken.

The G.T.R. Train Service.

The report that the Grand Trunk would put on a train to run from Peterborough by way of Port Hope to Toronto is correct, and on Monday it will begin regular trips. It will leave here at 6.40 a.m., and arrive in Toronto at 9.45. Returning, it will leave Toronto at 5.30, p.m., and arrive at 9 o'clock. This will be convenient for persons desiring to cross Lake Ontario, as close connection will be made with the steamer, and the train will also connect in the morning with express to Montreal, and in the evening with the up express. The REVIEW expressed the opinion that consideration of the matter would lead to this train being put on, and we are pleased that it has.

Queen's College.

Among the students of Queen's University, Kingston, who subscribed to the Jubilee Endowment Fund, we find the name of Mr. Orr Bennet, B.A., for $100.

Sunday School Catering

Next Sunday afternoon at the Charlotte-st. Methodist Church, commencing at a quarter to three, there will be an open meeting of the Sunday School. Several gentlemen will deliver brief addresses and the Rev. Mr. Tovell will give a farewell talk to the children. All are cordially invited to be present.

Members Meeting.

The regular meeting of the "Endeavor Society" in connection with Charlotte-st. Methodist Church and Sunday School will be held in the School Room this evening, commencing at 8 o'clock. Important business and interesting programme. All members and young people of the congregation invited.

The Central Park.

Mayor Stevenson has issued notices to the effect that the playing of baseball, lacrosse, or any other game is strictly forbidden in the Central Park, and any person found injuring or destroying any of the trees or shrubs growing in the park will be rigorously prosecuted. His Worship has instructed the police to enforce the notice at all hazards.

Fine Florida.

Messrs. Elliott & Tierney have received direct from Florida a consignment of fine pineapples. They were grown on the plantation of Mr. "Dod" Clementi, an old Peterborough boy, and are fine specimens to come from so young a grove. The same firm also ordered some strawberries from Mr. Clementi, but they must have gone astray on the way up, as they have not yet been received.

At Toronto.

The month's muid for the late Archbishop Lynch took place at St. Michael's Cathedral, Toronto, on Wednesday. The panegyric on the dead prelate was preached by the Right Rev. Bishop Dowling, of Peterborough, and was an eloquent effort. The priests present from this diocese were Rev. Fathers Laurent, V.G., Lindsay, Conway, Norwood, and Davis, of Madoc.

St. Leon Water.

The marvellous results from the use of St. Leon Water in Rheumatism, Constipation and all diseases arising from a torpid liver is testified to by hundreds of grateful drinkers of the water. References are kindly permitted to N. T. Lapiant, Frank Bell, Rev. Father Lynch and many other prominent citizens. Sold by the glass and gallon or aerated by Taylor & Macdonald, Druggists, sole agents. G140-w25

Early Closing.

The leading grocers of the town have come to an understanding to close their respective places of business at the hour of 8 o'clock each evening, except Saturday. This step has been taken owing to the fact that it was found impossible to get sufficient signers to a petition for a by-law, as the outsiders refused to sign. This is the entering of the wedge and it is expected that 7 o'clock will be adopted as the hour before long.

The Masonic Excursion.

About one hundred and twenty-five persons left on the Grand Trunk this morning on the Masonic excursion for Lakefield, where they will take steamers and make the round trip to Lindsay, reaching home at 8.55 to-night. The members of the County Council were also on the train. They will visit the bridges, etc., on the Dawn. Another excursion under the same auspices will be run to-morrow, leaving here on the 8.20 train, going via Lindsay and returning via Lakefield.

Strayed Horses.

On Wednesday night a gentleman left his horse and buggy standing in front of a hotel while he went inside to transact some business. He came out in a few minutes but horse and rig had disappeared. He engaged a livery horse and started out on a still hunt. The horse was found in a hotel stable, where he had been placed for safe keeping by a gentleman who found him wandering on the street. Later on a farmer's team walked out of a hotel shed and were caught on Aylmer-st. near the south end of the town. In the wagon were a quantity of groceries, etc., but when the owner came along he found the team tied to a post, but a jar of something which was among the goods in the wagon was missing.

A Great Run.

The Grand Junction express from Belleville on Wednesday night made a great run from that city to Peterborough. Conductor Morris had charge and Engineer Pillen pulled the throttle. Owing to the fact that the train was delayed for one and a half hours at Belleville, to bring home some persons who had been attending a church picnic, it became necessary to do some fast running to make connection here with the express for Toronto. Pillen did it, however, and had ten minutes to spare. The run from Belleville, including stoppages, was made in 2 hours and 10 minutes, an average of between 40 and 50 miles per hour. The usual running time between the two points is 3 hours and 20 minutes.

Skimming Milk.

The Dairymen's Association are after milk skimmers all through the district, and the Inspectors intend to prosecute all offenders. They are now working in the vicinity of Belleville, and we learn from the Intelligencer that a case of importance and interest to cheesemen was settled in the Mogistrate's court on Tuesday afternoon. Hy Lennox, of Tyendinaga, and a patron of Mountain cheese factory, charged with skimming and watering milk, was fined $20 for each offence, amounting in costs and all to $58. The case was fought to the end. Mr. Jas Whitton, the prosecutor, was asked to produce proof that the milk had been skimmed or watered. While he announced his ability to do so, he declined, and rested the case on the result of the test by the lactometer. The magistrate held in his judgment that a lactometer test was good evidence.

FRESH Strawberries ever morning from this time on, at The Pantry.

LACROSSE AT ORILLIA.

The Riversides Defeated after a Hard and Excellent Game.

The Riversides and Orillia Lacrosse clubs met at the latter town on Wednesday afternoon, in a championship match. The attendance of spectators was not large owing to the fact that almost half of the town had gone off on a civic excursion.

The boys arrived at Orillia about dinner time and were met by some of the local men and escorted to a hotel. After dinner they proceeded to the grounds, and after some talk an agreement was reached to play only an hour and a half to allow the Peterborough boys to catch their train.

After preliminaries the teams lined up as follows and after inspection play commenced:—

ORILLIA.		RIVERSIDES.
Jas. Quinn	Goal	Joe Joyle
J. Armstrong	Point	A. Rose
E. Robbins	Cover Point	A. Butler
D. McMillan	1st Defence Field	T. Meagher
A. E. Cross	2nd " "	M. Halpin
F. McMillan	3rd " "	M. Kincaid
W. Peard	Centre Field	F. Larone
R. H. Jupp	3rd Home Field	J. C. Phelan
J. McInnes	2nd " "	J. Begley
J. B. Henderson	1st " "	L. Squair
F. Mundrell	Outside Home	T. Duncan
C. Henderson	Inside Home	A. Mercier
Geo. Thomson	Field Captain	M. Larone
R. G. Dalton	Umpire	J. Robinson

Referee, R. Shenman.

From the very start the Riversides had the advantage, and if the home men had been as strong as they should have been the result of the match would have been different. The playing on both sides was excellent lacrosse, roughness being unknown. Time after time the ball was passed towards the Orillia goal, but no game was scored. After playing for 40 minutes, one of the McMillan's scored for Orillia. The second game was at once commenced, but when time was called neither side had scored. In this game, too, Peterborough had the odvantage from the start, but they appeared unable to put the ball between the flags.

The Riverside team was weakened by the absence of Isbister and Fakenham, two reliable players.

For Orillia the two McMillans (who reside at Beaverton), Armstrong and Jupp did the best playing, while for the visitors Joyal, Phelan, Rose, Halpin and Butler were conspicuous.

The boys speak in the highest terms of their treatment at the hands of the players and the crowd, and when the Orillias visit Peterborough they will be cordially received.

Brevities.

—The electric light men are stringing their new wires all over town.

—Fanny B, formerly owned here, is to trot at Montreal this afternoon.

—The thermometer, at noon to-day, registered a fraction over 100 in the shade.

—The regular weekly shoot of the gun club will take place to-morrow afternoon.

—The Young Shamrock lacrosse club are willing to play either the Y.M.C.A. or Etna clubs.

—There was no meeting last night in connection with the proposed 57th rifle association.

—A row took place on Charlotte-st. last evening. One of the combatants received a black eye.

—Sleepy Dan trots at Montreal this afternoon in the 2.40 class. He should get "a piece" of it.

—The circus and the town council will both show on Monday. That is really too much for one night.

—The residents of Aylmer-st. south complain loudly about the dust and ask that the street be watered.

—The police cells were without a tenant last night and there were no regular cases at the court this morning.

—Work has been commenced on the foundation of the new Snowden Hotel. It will be of brick, four storeys high.

—The regular weekly match of the members of the Rifle Association takes place this afternoon at the range on the C.L.R. R.

—A woman complained at the police station this morning regarding ill treatment by her husband. She was told what to do.

—The authorities of the Stratford Home were not aware until a few days ago that young Butterworth, formerly at the Grand Central, was dead.

—The committee having charge of the Masonic excursion refused to sell tickets at the depot this morning, in order to prevent overcrowding.

—Those who desire to appear as Indians, on Dominion day, should apply for full information to big chief "Hello" at the Telephone office, at once.

—We understand that some George-st. merchants will soon be called upon to explain to the Magistrate why they exhibit goods on the sidewalk.

—A fight took place over a horse trade in Ashburnham last night, between a resident of the village and an Otonabee farmer. The latter got a black eye and a badly peeled nose.

—Mr. W. H. Law interested himself in the boy Butterworth, charged with forgery, and he worked successfully to get him off easily, in the the hope that the youth would reform and become a good citizen.

At the Butts.

A squad of men from No. 5 Co., under Captain Millar, had rifle practice at the butts on Wednesday afternoon. The ranges were 200, 400, and 500 yards and some very good scores were made, considering that many of those who took part shot a rifle for the first time this season. The following were the principal scores made:—

Corp. Blade	73
Captain Miller	69
Private Irwin	45
Bugler Roberts	33
Private Hounsell	24
Bandmaster Miller	86
Private Peeks	33
Private Hounsell	27
Private Crossgrey	44

Another squad from the same company will shoot on Saturday evening next, at the same place.

YOUNG'S POINT.

Correspondence of the Review.

LARGE DRIVES.—Last week Mr. Frank Brabant, that prince of voyageurs, passed through with two large drives for the Messrs. Strickland. The two drives contained about 85,000 pieces.

STEAMER FAIRY.—The old reliable steamer Fairy has been the first boat to make the trip to Lindsay. Captain Scollard reported the trip to be a delightful one, although impeded on the way up by a head wind, and besides she was towing a heavy scow for Mr. A. Ross.

BASEBALL.—The employees of Mr. C. Young, of the Young's Point Mills, have challenged the citizens to a match game on July 2nd. A good time may be expected.

THE MARY ELLEN.—This fine steamer is now completed, and it is needless to say is thoroughly and elegantly equipped. She is already chartered for several dates in this and next month. The engine, boiler, etc., were furnished by the Wm. Hamilton Manufacturing Company, which is a sufficient guarantee of their superiority. The painting, graining, decorating, etc., were done by the Messrs. Scrimgeour, of Lakefield, and are complete in their way. The finishing touches to the woodwork was done by Messrs. Leonard Dobbin and James Swanson, who have been engaged on the boat since the keel was laid.

MORE DRIVES.—Two drives under the command of Messrs. Dineen and Regan are passing through. That of Mr. Dineen is for the Bathburn Co. and Mr. Regan's is for Mr. J. McIrwin.

Injuns.

The costumes for the cavaliers' parade on Dominion Day have been received from Toronto, and they are gorgeous too in the extreme. The Indians will be one of the great features and some of the finest suits ever seen have been prepared. The horse races are attracting much attention all over the district and a large number of outsiders will be here to see them. Some of the local horsemen are talking of liking to have "a crack" at Sleepy Dan and it is not at all improbable that they will be accommodated and then look out for a race for blood.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria,
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria,
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria,
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

The name of McCausland & Son, of Toronto, is directly associated with the best stained windows in this country. Their are several offshoots from this veteran house, but experience tells the tale. Their equipments and personal knowledge make them peers in the Ornamental, Cut and Stained Glass trade, and we are glad to hear of the flattering success this firm has enjoyed during the past forty years.

"I assure you, father, the one thing needed to make the furnishing of this library complete is a lovely hanging-lamp in place of this stand one which we have used for years. Nothing seems to give the finishing touch to the equipments of a room like a nice hanging lamp such as they keep at China Hall. Those ornaments up there, which I also bought at China Hall, are lovely. THURSDAY, JUNE 21, 1888.

MONA'S CHOICE.

BY MRS. ALEXANDER.

"Why, here is a letter from Uncle Sandy!"

"You don't say so! Read it to me, if you will."

"I'll try. What an awful hand."

"MY DEAR NIECE:—As you have had time to think over your unkind and ungrateful conduct to your natural protector and nearest of kin, I make no doubt you are sorry and ashamed of yourself. But, as youth is always willful and self-opinionated, I dare say false shame holds you back from saying you are sorry. Therefore, for the sake of your father, and indeed, for your own, I will believe that you say them in your heart, and are willing to atone to me, by trying to be a comfort to my poor troubled old age, which you have been, all the time we journeyed together.

"Kenneth is a good lad, and decently sensible out-of-doors, but within it is awful desolate without a woman to order things. I therefore propose that, if you are penitent, as I hope you are, you come and stay with me as my daughter, to look after me, and rule my house, and I promise that you shall not be asked to wed with anyone you do not like, but that if you do wed, and love, you will find me ready to welcome a woman to dwell with me, and care for me, in your place.

"Now, you must write at once to me, yes or no, and then come as soon as you can start. Kenneth shall meet you in Glasgow. As you are young and strong, you might take the night train and come on here when you have taken a bite of breakfast in Glasgow. Feeling sure you will come to your old uncle, I inclose you a post-office order for three pounds five shillings and sixpence, to pay your fare (second class), and a cab and such like. And I'll give you a trifle for clothes every quarter regular, as we may agree upon. If your heart is good toward me, you might lose no time and be with me by Thursday first. For I am just wearying for you, my dearie! And give my respects to madame. May be she'll come up in holiday-time and pay us a visit. It is always a treat to look on the Highlands, and you'll be bonnier than ever when you live in the sweet mountain air. Now just answer straight, and as you answer, so I'll be your loving uncle or no.

"ALEXANDER CRAIG."

"Well," said Mme. Debrisay, her countenance falling, "I always expected it. What'll you do, dear?"

"Do?" repeated Mona, slowly. "I scarcely think I have any choice. You see he voluntarily removes all cause of complaint; but it is hard to leave you, Deb."

"It is cruelly hard to let you go; but I must. Now, Mona, my dear, be careful in answering that letter. You must show him that you are sacrificing independence to nurse him. And do not commit yourself to stay with him always."

"How can I bargain with a poor old man that loves me?"

"He loves his 'siller' better. You must not sacrifice yourself, Mona. Let me write what I want you to say, and you can modify it if you like; but you must let him see that you are giving up independence for his sake. Now is the time to make a client-tele, and you resign the chance."

"Very well, Deb. In such a matter two heads are better than one. There is one point I will stipulate for—a yearly holiday to come and see you! That will revive me, and you too; will it not?"

"Ah, my darlin' child, it will indeed!"

The tears sprung to Mme. Debrisay's bright, expressive eyes, and leaning toward her beloved pupil, she kissed her affectionately.

"Now, dear," she continued, "let us get rid of the breakfast things, and concoct our famous letter."

It was a piece of work not to be quickly done. The collaborators had wide differences of opinion as to what was and was not to be insisted upon. Mona had mostly her own way, but, nevertheless, was a good deal influenced by her friend's shrewd advice.

Finally, the letter was dispatched. As soon as the post could bring a reply came another epistle agreeing to everything, and expressing Uncle Sandy's extreme satisfaction. He gave his niece a few commissions to execute respecting books, papers, etc., and promised to subscribe to an Edinburgh circulating library, that they might have entertainment and instruction in the long winter nights.

The ensuing week was a busy one. London dress-makers were not to be thoughtlessly left behind. Preparations for a prolonged sojourn in comparative wilds were to be made. And Mona dearly loved becoming dress and pretty things. Still madame preached economy, and the necessity of considering Mona's tiny capital as too sacred to be touched.

Then the hour of parting came soon—too soon.

What sandwiches Mme. Debrisay cut; what biscuits and grapes she bought; how neatly she did them all up in a picturesque little basket with loving care, may be imagined.

She loaded her "dear child" with all kinds of little, useful presents, and she sent a warm waistcoat of her own knitting to Uncle Sandy, in preparation for the winter.

"I want to stand well with him, dear, for your sake; and he never quite took to me."

Finally she parted from Mona with nearly dry eyes.

"Why should I make her heart ache," thought the kindly woman.

But she was deeply gratified by the profound regret with which Mona bid her good-bye.

"My only idea of home is with you, dear Deb. You shall have a letter every week, and you must write regularly, too."

So madame stood smiling to the last, till the last glimmer of the red light at the end of the train had vanished, and then went home, to have it out unrestrainedly with her sorrow.

CHAPTER XVIII.—AMONG THE HEATHER.

Craigdarroch was a beautiful secluded spot on the side of a hill—the advanced post of a mountain range, which upheaved its lofty crests further inland. It looked west upon the loch (an inlet of the sea), which lay directly beneath it, and south toward the mountains, which tended to the east. The wild stretch of rocky heather-grown upland, called Strathairlie deer forest, lay to the north, and immediately at the other side of the hill, barely three miles distant, was the shooting-lodge of Lord Finistoun.

The house was old, gray, and rambling, having been much added to; and, thanks to the shelter of the hill, boasted the ornament of surrounding woods, not only of fir-trees, but beech and numerous oaks. It had been the residence of old lairds of Strathairlie. They had passed away long ago, and their lands had been divided among different purchasers. The Lord Finistoun of that day had bought the deer forest, and built a lodge. A Glasgow manufacturer bought the house, the home, and two or three other farms, which formed the estate of Craigdarroch, for a summer residence. He failed, and it was again brought to the hammer, when Sandy Craig became the possessor, for a sum decidedly below its real value. He also bought a good deal of the furniture, establishing himself with much glee. But it was somewhat late in life to change his habits. Farming proved a costly amusement. The want of steady, regular employment made him irritable, and a cheese-paring spirit as regarded the consumption of coal, coupled with the dampness of mid-winter on the western coast, induced rheumatism. So Sandy Craig thought himself in a very bad way, and betook himself to London for superior medical advice, with the results we have seen.

The place seemed to him after his long absence at once more beautiful and more intolerable than it used to be. He longed to show it to Mona. He longed to hear her exclamations of delight at its beauty, and to display so distinguished looking a creature as his niece and adopted daughter—for pride was a very ruling passion in the heart of Sandy Craig.

DOMINION RAILWAY STATISTICS.

The Progress Made by Canadian Railroads Last Year.

OTTAWA, June 21.—The chief engineer of government railways has compiled the railway statistics for last year. The year 1887 was marked by much enterprise and activity in railway construction. Thirteen new lines appear in the tables submitted and several of the older lines have added to their mileage under traffic. Iron rails are fast disappearing. The increase on the traffic amounted to nearly $5,500,000. From the following summary an idea as to the healthy state of the railways may be gathered: Miles of railway completed (track laid) 12,332; capital paid $685,773,191 including government bonus paid $129,810,633, government loans $20,592,026, government subscriptions $12,812,836; miles in operation 14,691; earnings $38,847,010, working expenses $27,624,683, net earnings $11,216,926, passengers carried, 10,698,638, tons of freight carried 16,356,335, miles run by trains 33,638,748, passengers killed, 10, injured 49, miles of iron rails 1,175, steel rails 11,157, miles of sidings 1,462, number of elevators 25, engines owned 1587, engines hired 46, sleepers and parlor cars owned 69, palace cars hired eight, first class cars owned 729, hired 35; second class and emigrant cars owned 498, hired 16; baggage mail and express cars owned 440, hired 23. Of the nominal capital paid ordinary share capital reaches $227,335,811; preference share capital $86,782,926, and bonded debt $194,501,553.

The Dominion Government granted aid to the amount of $129,497,466 at the rate of $10,500 a mile, the Ontario Government gave $5,947,007 at $482 a mile. Quebec contributed $7,729,987 or $635; New Brunswick furnished $3,979,095 or $322 a mile; Nova Scotia subscribed $1,653,902 or $134 a mile, Manitoba $1,895,000 or $153; municipalities gave $12,812,736 at the rate of $1,030 a mile; whilst the railways derived capital from other sources to the amount of $1,327,404 at $107 a mile, making a total in all of $83,773,191, at the rate of 355,447 a mile.

The Government and municipal loans bonuses etc., to railways completed and under construction totals a sum of $172,272,097. Of this $163,515,495 has been paid, and there are yet $8,756,602 to be paid. Next to the Federal, the Quebec Government contributes the highest share of aid to railways, giving $9,897,910 to Ontario's $5,947,097, but the aid of municipalities in Ontario outnumbers that of Quebec by more than five millions.

LAFLAMME V. THE MAIL.

The Court of Appeal Verdict against the Ex-Organ. $10,000

MONTREAL, June 21.—In the Court of Appeal the long pending case of Hon. R. Laflamme v. The Toronto Mail was decided, the verdict of the court below granting $10,000 to the plaintiff and dismissing a motion for an arrest of judgment and a new trial was confirmed. Judges Church and Baby dissented on the ground that the damage awarded was excessive, but the majority of the court were against them.

Chief Justice Sir A. A. Dorion stated that there had been animus and malice in the accusations prepared by the Mail. The court had no right to disturb the verdict. A new trial would therefore not be granted.

An appeal to England will likely be taken.

The Canadian Loans.

LONDON, June 21.—The Canadian Gazette remarks that the success of the Dominion loan is all the more noticeable because the death of the Emperor occurred just when it was issued while the Canadian Pacific loan probably absorbed in advance some of the money available.

The Canada Permanent issue is understood to have been successful, and it is expected that other good Canadian loan companies will shortly follow suit and issue permanent 4 per cent. stock in lieu of short term debentures.

Advice to Mothers.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa whether arising from teething or other causes. 25 cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

Bricklayers' and Masons' Union

No. 12, Peterborough.

To the Architects and Builders of the Town of Peterborough.

GENTLEMEN,—The members of the Bricklayers' and Masons' Union No. 12, Peterborough, have decided to take no sub-contracts after the 1st day of June, 1888. We take this step believing it to be to the interest of Architects and Proprietors of buildings, to deal directly with us, and not, as heretofore, letting our branch of work to Carpenters, and then have them sub-let it to us, frequently at a loss to owners of buildings through inferior material being used to secure the carpenter a profit. We therefore consider it would be to the interest of all concerned, to have each trade control its own line of work.

Signed on behalf of the Union,
J. J. HARTLEY, President.

BANKERS.—Bank of Toronto and Canadian Bank of Commerce
SOLICITORS.—Dumble & Leonard.

TO DEPOSITERS.—Deposits are received by this Company both on current account and for periods of one year or longer. The rate of interest paid on amount deposited on current account and which may be withdrawn by check in such sums as the depositor may from time to time require, is four per cent., either paid or compounded half yearly, and the rate on yearly deposits is five per cent.

TO INVESTORS.—The five and ten years five per cent debentures of this Company which are issued in denominations of $100, $200, $500 and $1,000 each, transferable by endorsement, with half-yearly interest coupons attached, payable at the Head Office of the Company in Peterborough, or at any Branch of the Bank of Toronto in Canada, afford a safe and convenient mode of investment.

The funds of the Company being invested with the utmost care and precaution, no better security can be offered to depositors or debenture holders, they having a first claim or mortgage on the whole Assets of the Company, the Shareholders having the second. The last audit shows that the amount so invested was over $1,310,223.69, and on securities of at least double that value.

By the Laws of Ontario, Trustees, Executors and Administrators may deposit Trust Funds of the estates which they control in this Company, and are free from all further liability, a privilege of which many have largely availed themselves.

TO BORROWERS.—Money is obtainable from this Company on approved Real Estate Security at the Lowest Current Rates of Interest. The Mortgage may be paid by yearly instalments or otherwise, as may be agreed upon, the interest ceasing at once on all amounts paid on account of the sum borrowed. Applications may be made either to the Head Office, or to any of the Agents.

Among the New Goods that arrived during the week were some Art Muslins, or Peek-a-boo Curtain Nets in fancy colors and beautiful Designs, the correct thing to make a home cosy and attractive, at a small cost. Also a nice assortment of Cretonne Fringes, selling at ten cents a yard, Marble Oilcloths with gold and blue veins in the best qualities. The gold has not been much shown but is particularly desirable. Ladies' Belts, a full range in cloth and leather, and to our already attractive stock of Prints we have added some entirely new lines in navy and cream, navy and gold, navy and cardinal and brown and gold in checks, stripes and sprays. White Lawns and all over Embroideries at all prices. Dress Goods. Owing to the large drain on Dress Goods Stock some of the best shades were sold out, but we have been able to repeat them and are now showing a full range again. Value always right. We have also on our Dress Goods counter a range of 25 pieces of All Wool and Bradford Goods which we are selling at 10c. a yard. We are confident that these are the best value being offered at the price.

"FAIR, FAT AND FORTY."

A Real Estate Man Sued for Breach of Promise by a Mature Maiden.

TORONTO, June 22.—A breach of promise of marriage case of more than ordinary interest was heard before Judge Falconbridge yesterday. The plaintiff is Elizabeth Coxwell and the defendant Walter Freeman, a real estate agent doing business in the Arcade. Five thousand dollars was demanded for the injury sustained by plaintiff.

The plaintiff, who is 43 years of age and not prepossessing in appearance, makes the following statement:—In July or August, 1887, Mr. A. J. McKay, of Toronto-street, said that he wished to introduce me to a nice widower who wanted a wife. I was then selling scrip for McKay and was in and out of his office a good deal. There I met Freeman and was introduced to him. He asked me to call upon him at his office, No. 10 Arcade. I called there several times. In September he proposed marriage to me. The first date fixed for the marriage was the 3rd or 4th of December. About a week before the date fixed for the ceremony he postponed it until the 5th of January, saying his wife would not be dead a year until Christmas. On the 4th January, by his direction, at such-a-way I engaged a cab to take me to his house where we were to be privately married that evening. On the way up he told me we could not be married that night, but that we would some other night and that we would allow the housekeeper to believe we were married down town. I lived with him as his wife until the 9th of April. Some time during January he told me he had heard I had an illegitimate child and that as I had deceived him he could not marry me. I thought he would change his mind and continued living at his house. The last week I was there we occupied separate rooms.

The defendant denied the truth of all the allegations contained in plaintiff's statement, and said that he never made the alleged promise of marriage; that the plaintiff was a woman of loose character, and was addicted to the immoderate use of liquor.

The Rev. Frederick Squire stated that in the course of his parochial duties he had frequently visited Freeman's house. He always found Mrs. Coxwell at home, and he understood, as with most his parishioners, that she was Mrs. Freeman. The plaintiff was a constant attendant at church.

The jury returned about 4 o'clock to consider their verdict. Shortly after 5 it was learned that they could not agree. The court was then adjourned until 8.30. When it reopened the jury had some questions to ask. These were answered, and the jurors again retired with instructions to deliver a sealed verdict to the Sheriff.

AT CAMP NIAGARA.

A Quiet Day Among the Volunteers—The Big Gun Practice.

CAMP NIAGARA, June 22.—Col. Otter's well-trained camp continues as quiet as if that urbane but strictly business officer were indeed present as usual, instead of off to the Falls with his staff, in charge of the 700 representative officers and men who left camp by special train to add lustre to the opening ceremonies at the Queen Victoria Park yesterday. The brigade major, Lieut.-Col. Gray, discharges the duties of chief of staff, but the senior officer in the camp is Lieut.-Col. Davis of the 37th.

The 50th Battalion furnished the men for guards and pickets yesterday, these constituting the official guardians of law and order in the camp.

The Artillery have spent the day plugging away at target practice. The Toronto Battery went out to the range early in the morning and having completed the preliminary practice, scoring 115 points out of a possible 384, proceeded with the final, after a couple of hours had been spent in replacing the target, hoisted and sunk by an artillery bullseye scored by Gunner Watson with his first shot. The battery will need a great many such bullseyes to take any prize in the competition, as in the preliminary practice they were badly left by Welland with 173 and Hamilton with 167 points. These two fired on the previous day. The following eight, having made the leading scores in the preliminary, represent the Toronto Battery in the final competition: Gr. Wefr, Sergt. Hughes, Gr. Benson, Gr. Ryan, Gr. Watson, Corp. Thompson, Sergt. Purvis, and Corp. Defoe.

A number of the officers in camp subscribed to a purse, handsome in total amount, to be awarded to the competitors in a glove contest, which took place in the artillery lines. It was between two privates in C Co. of the T.S.C., and Privates Arthur and William Taylor, brothers, belonging to the 77th Battalion. The Taylors having each won handily in the first contest, had a spirited and scientific windup, which was declared in favor of William, the elder. They are two tough little chaps, well seienced, smart upon their pins, and stand any amount of hard hitting without flinching or losing temper. The sparring entertainment passed off very pleasantly, furnishing an hour's first-class amusement.

Drowned while Bathing.

PAISLEY, Ont., June 22.—While a number of young men were bathing in a small lake in Elderslie Township a young man named John Gray, son of widow John Gray of the tenth concession of Elderslie was drowned. He is about 20 years of age. It is supposed he went too far into the water and his companions could not aid him as the lake has a very false, mucky bottom. The body was grappled for, and after about two hours was discovered.

A Hurricane at Dundas.

DUNDAS, June 22.—A thunderstorm accompanied by a violent hurricane caused considerable damage here yesterday afternoon. The roof of the Town Hall was lifted and settled again six inches out of place, being split completely in two.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

REPUBLICAN POW-WOW

A PLATFORM SUBMITTED AND UNANIMOUSLY ADOPTED.

Cleveland's Administration Arraigned—Nominations for President—Reduction of Taxes on Spirits and Tobacco Favored.

CHICAGO, June 22.—The first business before the convention yesterday was the consideration of the Republican platform. The platform as adopted says:

Fraternal congratulations to our fellow Americans from Brazil upon their great act of emancipation which completed the abolition of slavery throughout the two American continents.

We earnestly hope that we may soon congratulate our fellow citizens of Irish birth upon the peaceful recovery of Home Rule for Ireland.

We re-affirm our unswerving devotion to the National Constitution and to the indissoluble Union of the States, to the autonomy reserved to the States and the constitution—to the personal rights and liberties of citizens in all the States and Territories in the Union, and especially to the supreme and sovereign right of every lawful citizen, rich and poor, native and foreign born, white or black—to cast one free ballot in public elections and to have that ballot duly counted.

We hold the free and honest popular ballot and the just and equal representation of all the people to be the foundation of our Republican government and demand effective legislation to elections which are the foundations of all public authority.

We charge that the present administration and the Democratic majority in Congress owe their existence to the suppression of the ballot by criminal nullification of the constitution and laws of the United States.

We are uncompromisingly in favor of the American system of Protection. We protest against its destruction as proposed by the President and his party; they serve the interests of Europe. We will support the interests of Americans. We accept the issue, and confidently appeal to the people for their judgment. The Protective system must be maintained. Its abandonment has always been followed by general disaster to all interests except those of the usurper and the sheriff. We denounce the Mills Bill as destructive to the general business, the labor and the farming interests of the country, and we heartily endorse the consistent and patriotic action of the Republican representatives in Congress in opposing its passage. We condemn the proposition of the Democratic party to place wool on the free list, and we insist that the duties thereon shall be adjusted and maintained so as to furnish full and adequate protection to that industry.

The Republican party would effect all needed reduction of the national revenue by repealing the taxes upon tobacco, which are an annoyance and a burden to agriculture, and the tax upon spirits used in the arts and for mechanical purposes, and by such a revision of the tariff laws as will tend to check imports of such articles as are produced by our people, the production of which gives employment to our labor and releases from import duties those article o foreign production (except luxuries), the like of which cannot be produced at home. If there shall still remain a larger revenue than is requisite for the wants of the Government we favor the entire repeal of internal taxes rather than the surrender of any part of our protective system as the joint behests of the whisky trusts and the agents of foreign manufacturers.

We declare our hostility to the introduction into this country of foreign contract labor and of Chinese labor alien to our civilization and our constitution.

We declare our opposition to all combinations of capital organized in trusts or otherwise to control arbitrarily the condition of trade among our citizens.

We re-affirm the policy of appropriating the public lands of the United States to be homesteads for American citizens and settlers not aliens; the restoration of unearned railway grants to the public domain for the use of actual settlers, which was begun under the administration of President Arthur, should be continued.

The platform also demands the reduction of letter postage to one cent, condemns the administration for its attempt to demonetise silver, for the surrender of the fishing privileges and for a spirit hostile to pension legislation.

The Administration.

The platform having been adopted as above, the existing Administration was arraigned in the following pronouncement:

The conduct of foreign affairs by the present Administration has been distinguished by its inefficiency. Having withdrawn from the Senate all pending treaties effected by Republican Administrations for the removal of foreign burdens and restrictions upon our commerce, and for its extension into better markets, it has neither effected nor proposed any others in their stead. Professing adherence to the Monroe doctrine, it has seen with idle complacency the extension of foreign influence in Central America and of foreign trade everywhere among our neighbors. It has refused to charter, sanction or encourage any American organisation for constructing the Nicaragua canal, a work of vital importance to the maintenance of the Monroe doctrine and of our national influence in Central and Southern America, and necessary for the development of the trade with our Pacific Territory, with South America and with the islands on the further coasts of the Pacific Ocean.

We arraign the present Democratic Administration for its weak and unpatriotic treatment of the fisheries question and its pusillanimous surrender of the privileges to which our fishing vessels are entitled in Canadian ports under the treaty of 1818, the reciprocal maritime legislation of 1830, and the comity of nations, and which Canadian vessels receive in the ports of the United States.

We condemn the policy of the present Administration and the Democratic majority in Congress toward our fisheries as unfriendly and conspicuously unpatriotic and as tending to destroy a valuable national industry and an indispensable resource of defence against a foreign enemy.

The roll was then called for nominations.

Warner, of Connecticut, presented Hawley's name without a speech.

Leonard Sweet, of Illinois, nominated Gresham. Several delegates seconded the nomination, including Lynch, of Mississippi, who remarked that if the choice of convention should happen to fall upon Gen. Harrison, of Indiana, there will be no complaints. This remark brought out strong and long-continued applause, the greatest of the day.

Ex-Governor Porter then nominated Harrison. He was interrupted by cries of Gresham, mingled with hisses. At the conclusion of Porter's speech the Indiana delegation rose and cheered.

At 12.40 p.m. the Convention adjourned till three o'clock.

When the Convention assembled Texas and New Hampshire seconded the nomination of Senator Harrison, and the roll call proceeded until Iowa checked it by the rising of Chairman Hepburn, who presented the name of Senator Allison. Rhode Island seconded the nomination.

When Michigan was reached, Mr. Fraser, of Detroit, amid enthusiastic cheers, took the platform to nominate Governor Alger. Mr. Noyes, of Massachusetts seconded the nomination and Patrick Egan was greeted with great applause as he followed with Nebraska's endorsation, and an Arizona delegate joined in booming the Michigan candidate.

Senator Frank Hiscock took the floor and in a brilliant speech presented as the choice of New York Chauncey M. Depew. There was great cheering in the hall and it was some seconds before Mr. Hiscock could proceed. Minnesota seconded Depew.

The roll-call proceeded to Ohio, which, when reached, gave the Sherman contingent an opportunity to make a great demonstration, and the cheering continued for some seconds. Then Mr. Hastings of Pennsylvania nominated John Sherman. During his speech the mention of Blaine's name evoked great cheering from all parts of the hall, renewed time and again. Governor Foraker of Ohio seconded the nomination.

At the conclusion of Gov. Foraker's speech an allusion to the American flag as the bandana of the Republican party set the Convention wild, and for fifteen minutes the cheering, whistling, singing and waving of banners was continued until everybody was exhausted. Then Virginia and South Carolina seconded the nomination.

Chas. Emory Smith arose when Pennsylvania was reached and nominated Major Fitler, of Philadelphia.

Senator Spooner of Wisconsin presented the name of Governor Rusk.

It was 7.15 when the roll-call was finished, and at 7.25 Senator Warner Miller of New York moved an adjournment until 11 o'clock to-day, and the Convention adjourned.

A Forecast.

The Chicago Herald forecasts the result of the first ballot as follows:

Alger	73	Allison	39
Blaine	59	Depew	95
Gresham	85	Harrison	77
Sherman	292

Total number of votes, 836.
Necessary to a choice, 419.

The fight for second place, if the Presidency goes West, it is said, will be between Phelps and Levi P. Morton.

The delegates from Nebraska, Minnesota, Michigan, Wisconsin, Kansas and Iowa are receiving telegrams from their granger constituents to oppose Depew.

Some of the banner subscriptions are even more remarkable. Nebraska displays a banner with these words: "Headquarters of the Nebraska delegation. Corn is king." A well-known liquor saloon has this startling announcement:

BLAINE'S HEADQUARTERS.
Six-Year-Old Sour Mash Whiskey.

A London despatch says: Mr. Blaine was interviewed to-day, but declined to state whether he would or not accept the Presidential nomination.

AT THE GERMAN CAPITAL.

A Notification to the Powers of Emperor William's Pacific Desire.

BERLIN, June 22.—M. Puyreedir, of the Paris Gaulois and M. Ransom, of the Paris Matin, have been expelled from Berlin. The former wrote from Metz a statement reflecting upon the present Emperor and Empress which appeared in The Gaulois and The London World. Ransom after talking with a Russian staff officer in Berlin wrote letters reflecting upon the German army.

The Emperor in declaring amnesty will adhere to the terms of his father's proclamation, remitting sentences in force at the date of his accession.

It is reported that the Czar, while en route to Copenhagen this summer, will land at Stettin and pay a visit to Emperor William.

Prince Bismarck is suffering from rheumatism. It is rumored that Count Von Waldersee had a difference with the Chancellor and will be transferred to a provincial command.

Prince Bismarck has notified the powers, including Russia and France, that it is Emperor William's most sincere desire to maintain friendly relations with them.

Parisians Irritated.

PARIS, June 22.—The expulsion from Berlin of M. de Puyreedir and M. Ransom has greatly irritated the Parisians. The Evenement, The Intransigeant and other papers demand that the French Government make reprisals.

Sam Jones' Reverend Brother Elopes.

GRENVILLE, S.C., June 22.—Great excitement prevails in Laurens, S.C., caused by the recent elopement of the Rev. Joe Jones, brother of Sam Jones, and Miss Bessie Farrow, of Cross Anchor, S.C. Mr. Jones met the lady last summer while conducting a series of religious meetings at Laurens. The mother of the young lady was very much opposed to the match, but on the other hand it was favored by her father. On one occasion it is said that Mr. Jones went to see his affianced, and was met by her mother, who "shut the door in his face." Mr. Jones became tired of such obstacles, and with the aid of a friend secured the girl and ran away and married her. The happy couple were expected to leave on last night's train, but unfortunately the bride had left in such haste that she neglected to carry her baggage and they were detained. The mother declines to give it, and threatens to shoot the "first man who puts his foot inside of the door." Mr. Jones is about 30 years of age and has for some time been preaching at Laurens, S.C.

A Toronto Runaway Captured at Detroit.

DETROIT, June 22.—Frederick Nieuhaus, the 15-year-old boy who ran away from home in Toronto on Tuesday, was captured as he stepped from the Grand Trunk train at Brush-street Depot and locked up at the Central Station. His father will come on and take him home.

The Car Accountants' Convention.

MONTREAL, June 22.—At the session of the International Car Accountants' Association yesterday the subjects discussed were: (1) The distribution of cars; (2) Straight mileage; (3) Mileage per diem. The custom hitherto has been to change cars by mileage, but it is anticipated that to change per diem is the system which, if adopted, will obviate many difficulties that now arise. A resolution unanimously recommending its adoption was carried.

NOTES FROM THE CAPITAL.

A SEIZURE OF SMUGGLED GOODS AT ST. STEPHEN, N.B.

Prince Roland Bonaparte's Visit—A New Steam Cutter for the Pacific Coast—Arrival of Mr. O'Connor Power.

OTTAWA, June 22.—Prince Roland Napoleon Bonaparte arrived yesterday from Montreal and is staying at the Russell. He lunched with Hon. Mr. Chapleau and afterwards visited Rideau Hall, the Parliament buildings and other points of interest. Last night he dined with Sir Adolphe Caron, amongst those present being Sir John Macdonald, Hon. Messrs. Thompson, Chapleau, and McLelan. To-day he lunched with Hon. Mr. Chapleau and will leave this evening for Toronto by the Canadian Pacific Railway.

Officer Burnes of the Customs Department has reported a seizure of wheels and hubs at the port of St. Stephen, which were smuggled from the United States into Canada. The owners deposited the duty, paid the value of the articles and they were released.

The Marine Department, it is understood, will call for tenders in Scotland for the construction of a new steam cutter for light house and other purposes on the Pacific coast.

O'Connor Power arrived here to-day.

F. Rouleau, assistant clerk of the House, is dangerously ill at Quebec from inflammation of the lungs.

Michael McNaughton, chief messenger of the Privy Council, was yesterday presented with a handsome walking stick and waterproof coat by a number of friends in celebration of the fiftieth year of his public service.

Egberton Bourinot, teller of the Union Bank here, a son of Dr. Bourinot, clerk of the House, has been promoted and will shortly leave for Montreal.

IN THE NORTHWEST.

An Election by Acclamation—Railroad Rumors—A Libel Suit Threatened.

WINNIPEG, June 22.—Mr. Haultain of MacLeod has been elected by acclamation to the Northwest Council. There are contests in all the other divisions.

It is stated that arrangements have been definitely completed between the Government and the Northern Pacific representatives for the construction of the link between Winnipeg and Portage.

The first shipment of British Columbia strawberries was received here yesterday.

Rev. Mr. Argue was chosen President of the Methodist Conference at Portage yesterday.

Several Quebec priests arrived yesterday in the interests of parishioners who contem plate settling here.

The Call is threatened with a libel suit by Curtis, the law partner of Attorney-General Martin, unless its charges of boodling are retracted.

It is now stated that the Red River road will be completed by Aug. 15.

An effort has been made to prevent the Conservative candidate in Rockwood from running by not allowing his name to be placed on the voters' list. He was postmaster and resigned when nominated, and has to be a voter to qualify as a candidate. Judgment was reserved.

A Swede was found dead near Gleiches yesterday. He had evidently fell of a train.

The Hamilton Conspiracy Case.

HAMILTON, June 22.—The trial of David R. Gibson, William Mitchell and William Littlejohn on the charge of conspiracy, which was begun at the General Sessions on Tuesday was concluded Wednesday night. The claim of the prosecution was that the defendants, being members of the Bricklayers' and Masons' Union, voted for this resolution which it is said, was passed by the union:

That this Bricklayers' and Masons' Union boycott the new City Hall building, and that any member working on said building be fined $50 while the corporation retains Buscombe in the city's employ.

It was claimed that Mitchell was the mover and Littlejohn the seconder of the resolution and that Gibson made a speech at the union meeting in its favor. The evidence was contradictory as to whether the resolution was passed by the union or not, a number of witnesses swearing positively that it was and about twenty others testifying that no such resolution was ever before the union. The judge charged strongly against the accused and after a short absence the jury returned a verdict of guilty.

The defendants appeared for sentence yesterday morning, but their counsel stated that they had not yet decided whether to appeal or have the case reserved on points of law for adjudication by the Court of Queen's Bench, and the court deferred the matter until to-morrow.

A Cause Celebre.

MONTREAL, June 22.—The legal proceedings connected with the dispute over the estate of the late Benj. Hall have entered upon a new phase. A seizure before judgment was filed in court by Mrs. Ahearn against Mrs. Vennor, the tiers-saisis being the Bank of Montreal, the Richelieu and Ontario Navigation Company, the Intercolonial Coal Mining Company, the Canadian Bank of Commerce, the Montreal Telegraph Company and the Banque du Peuple. The plaintiff in the case wishes to have a sequestrator appointed so that an inventory can be made of the residue of the estate, valued at some $250,000, as it is alleged that a large portion cannot be accounted for, and the seizures are taken to protect whatever is in the possession of the above-mentioned tiers-saisis.

The A. O. F. Color Line.

CINCINNATI, June 22.—The Supreme Lodge Knights of Pythias has adopted a resolution declaring that no authority has ever been granted for the creation of a lodge of colored Knights and that no colored man can lawfully be admitted to any Lodge.

NONE SO BLIND.

THERE is none so blind as those who will not see, says the adage, and it is a true one. The Whig, of Kingston, still cannot see that Sir Charles Tupper did not give encouragement to the scheme of unrestricted reciprocity. It no longer pretends, as it did at first, that Sir Charles did not characterize the scheme as "a wild chimera;" it even admits that he described it as a mad folly, but it says that "between the time of delivering the budget speech and of debating the free list, Sir Charles Tupper had, apparently, come to regard the question of unrestricted reciprocity in a somewhat different light." That's news. If the Whig will kindly furnish us with the date upon which Sir Charles in the House said any thing favoring unrestricted reciprocity, we will publish it in full, and admit that our contemporary was right. In the meantime the record of Sir Charles' opinion is that he believed the scheme to be a folly, and impracticable. As a matter of fact he has not expressed any different opinion, and the Whig cannot give us the date asked for.

The Whig further adds:—"There may be a difference between unrestricted reciprocity and the mutual freedom of trade, but it is really too fine for most people to understand." Mutual freedom of trade was not the phrase used by Sir Charles Tupper. The ex-Finance Minister offered to settle the fisheries difficulty on the basis of freer commercial relations, or, as he expressed it in the Commons, greater freedom of commercial intercourse. Surely the Whig does not mean to say that there could not be greater freedom of commercial intercourse unless we had unrestricted reciprocity. There is greater freedom in that regard now than there was a year ago, and yet unrestricted reciprocity has not been adopted. If Congress passes the Mills, bill, there will be still greater freedom, and yet we would be a tremendous distance from Mr. Wiman's and Sir Richard Cartwright's scheme. A reciprocity treaty existed from 1854 to 1864, but it was not commercial union or unrestricted reciprocity—it did not free manufactured articles and there was no discrimination against Great Britain—and if a similar treaty were to be negotiated we would again have reciprocity, but not the unrestricted article.

THE prohibitionists of Cumberland county have nominated Mr. Charles R. Casey, a life long Conservative, as their candidate for the House of Commons. In his address to the electors Mr. Casey says that he intends if elected to vote for every resolution of non confidence that may be brought forward and against every measure involving the defeat of the administration, until such time as a prohibition measure has been passed.—Ottawa Free Press.

If Mr. Casey's address is correctly interpreted in the foregoing, he is neither a Conservative nor a Prohibitionist, but an unreasonable partisan opponent of the Government. For a candidate to declare that he would vote for every Liberal motion, whether good or bad, and against every Government measure, no matter how greatly it was in the interest of the country, exhibits a factionist of the deepest dye.

THE Ministerial organs are anxious that their readers should know that the credit of Canada is good. Good! Of course it is good, or how in the name of Cressus could it have stood the mischievous proceedings of Tilley, Tupper and their associates?—Montreal Hearld.

If the Conservative administration has been mischievous, if it has been such as would injure the country's credit and if the country is becoming impoverished, how is it that its credit is better than it ever was before? A man's credit does not improve as his financial position becomes worse. Not much.

MR. LAURIER, the Liberal leader, will not make a tour through Ontario this summer, as announced. He may deliver addresses in two or three places. Probably it would require too much exertion to carry his musket around to more.

WAS the Hon. C. H. Tupper's election by acclamation in Pictou another evidence that unrestricted reciprocity is sweeping over the country?

Right now is the time to use a good Blood Purifying Medicine. Lose no time in getting a bottle of Dr. Carson's Stomach Bitters. It will do you good. Sold by all Druggists.

STEWARTS—OTONABEE.

Correspondence of the Review.

SPORT.—A team composed of members of our Football club, "Crystal Springs," and a team representing the "Cold Springs" club will play a match on Wednesday, June 27th, at Mr. B. Crowley's, a short distance south of Stewart's school. The game will commence at 6 p.m., sharp. An enjoyable time is expected, and the club extends a cordial invitation to all to be present.

In sight and to the Point.

Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered liver a misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature.

The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existance. It is easily put out of order.

Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this sad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

Remember:—No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings health and happines to the dyspeptic. Asfl your druggist for a bottle. Seventy-five cents.

Uninvited Guests at a Hamilton Wedding —Incendiary Fires.

HAMILTON, June 22.—While the wedding of Mr. Morden Binkley and Miss Ella Drake was in progress at the residence of Mr. John Binkley, a crowd of toughs assembled outside using vile language and storming the house with stones. Several windows were broken and some of the guests struck with the missiles. Thomas Redden and John Moran were arrested for the offence. They were remanded at the Police Court until Saturday.

There were three fires at the residence of P. H. Stuart yesterday and one on Wednesday. The building had a close call the last time, but the firemen got the best of it. Each time the fire started in a bed room. The firemen were told that a little seven year-old boy had set fire to the place each time, but the Chief was told that the boy was tied up when the last fire occurred. The police have no doubt but that the place was deliberately set on fire each time, but are at a loss to know by whom. An investigation is being made.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Ferguson of this city celebrated their silver wedding this week.

The Grand Lodge of Ontario, A. F. and A. M. has commenced its sixteenth annual communication in this city. The business so far transacted has been of a routine nature.

Lord Lansdowne at Oxford.

LONDON, June 22.—Further particulars from Oxford show that Lord Lansdowne received a marked ovation when the degrees were conferred. Professor Bryce, in introducing Lord Lansdowne, referred to his popularity in Canada, to the success of his regime, to the suppression of the rebellion and the opening of the Canadian Pacific. He prophesied success for his Excellency in India. The undergraduates sang "For he's a jolly good fellow."

The Danger Before Us.

We have already alluded to the importance of housekeepers paying more attention to the kind of baking powders used in leavening their bread. This is a matter to which we cannot draw attention too often, because it is something which involves the most serious consequences to the general body of mankind. Temperance apostles tell us—and there is ample foundation for the statement—that there is disease, both moral and physical, in the intoxicating cup; and in the same way there is disease, slow perhaps, but certain, in the lime and alum leavening agents employed in many of the homes on this continent.

No punishment is too severe for those manufacturers who place these poisonous alum and lime baking powders before the public with the assurance that they are pure and wholesome articles. In the belief of the truth of such statements, such baking powders are largely used in the preparation of food, and in this way the poisonous ingredients are taken into the system without a suspicion of their presence. By and by come spells of headache, distress in the stomach, loss of appetite, a fluttering of the heart; the child is seized with an apparently causeless cough. The coating of the stomach is destroyed, perhaps; one of the vital organs is rendered almost useless; the kidneys are attacked with Bright's disease. The health of the child is irreparably broken down; the adult becomes a chronic dyspeptic. These are the doings of the modern cheap baking powders, that are composed of lime and alum, or that contain sulphuric or phosphatic acids.

In view of these facts, surely all housewives should exercise the care that is, we know, now exercised by some in the selection of a proper brand of baking powder. She who does not do so, whether the neglect is the result of ignorance or recklessness, cannot free herself from the responsibility for the health, perhaps life, thereby endangered. No housewife need be ignorant of the quality and composition of the article which she uses to leaven her bread, biscuit and cake. The official reports of the government chemists, who are certainly unprejudiced, have been published and show very clearly the quality and strength of all the baking powders in the market. The Royal Baking Powder, which is accessible at every hand, is reported absolutely free from lime, alum, phosphatic acid, or any injurious ingredient. It is further stated by the most eminent authorities on food hygiene that food leavened with it is more wholesome than when raised by any other method. Its use is therefore to be commended. It is to be regretted that no other baking powder, when there are so many in the market, some of which will find their way into use, is free from all these substances. The official analysts assure us, however, that all except the Royal contain either lime or alum. The housekeeper who regards the health of her loved ones should not only order the Royal, but make personal examination to be sure that no other brand is sent her in its place.

HOUSEFURNISHINGS.

At this season many Housekeepers are replenishing their supplies of Tableware and China. City folk are furnishing summer cottages; country folk are filling up the dressers and cupboards of the old homestead: town's folk are picking and choosing here and there. Many would be glad to know of a place whose special business is to meet these wants and desires; that aims to furnish essentially good wares at consistently low prices; that offers the choice of many different dinner services, and yet does not compel you to take an entire set of any pattern, but allow you to select each course of a new design, or buy any portion of the set you may need; that does not try to impose ideas or wares upon purchasers, and yet is ready to advise which of the many wares is most desirable and suitable; and, if wished, will make a careful selection of pattern. When you want tablewear will you give us the opportunity to serve you.

FRIDAY, JUNE 22, 1888.

THE CITY AND SUBURBS

Weather Probabilities.

Moderate to fresh winds from south east and south west; fair and very warm weather, followed by local showers to-night or to-morrow.

Hot Weather Goods.

Meet the warm weather by wearing light apparel. Buy at Fair's some of those White Goods, Embroideries, Lawns or Linens. Just the coolest things to wear when the glass shows 94 degrees in the shade. Come to the golden lion for your hot weather apparel.

A Quartette.

There have been numerous complaints to the police recently regarding boys swimming in daylight in the pond near the Park-st. bridge, and close to the west Ward school. The police have heretofore been unable to make any captures, but this morning officer Stewart strolled up in that direction and captured four boys in the act. They will appear before the Police Magistrate to-morrow morning.

Should be Punished.

About three o'clock this morning the engineer of a G.T.R. freight train woke up the whole south end of the town, by the fiendish manner in which he sounded the whistle of his locomotive. It is said he whistled for fully five minutes in the most unearthly way and only desisted when the steam in his engine gave out. His case has been reported to headquarters and it is to be hoped that it will be dealt with in a proper manner.

Coughs and Colds.—If everything has failed try Allen's Lung Balsam and be cured.

A Great Gathering.

The magnificent prizes offered for the bicycle races at Belleville on Dominion Day (a photograph of them is in Schofield's window) will lead to some splendid races by some of the seven hundred wheelmen. The Athletic Association has conferred a favor on the public by arranging for an excursion to Belleville on the day for $1.10, and the tickets good for two days. It will be a pleasant outing and will give excursionists from here an opportunity to see the great Wheelmen's meet. Don't miss it.

Social.

A Lawn Social under the auspices of St. Paul's Ladies' Aid will be held at the residence of Mr. Wm. Ferguson, High Park, North Monaghan, on Friday evening the 22nd inst. Admission 25 cents. The Fire Brigade Band will be in attendance. Busses will leave St. Paul's Church at 7 p.m., sharp. They will stop at the corner of Charlotte and Rubidge Streets. A charge of 5 cents for conveyance each way will be made. 3-d 143.

PRICES shorn of Profits. Critical tastes Satisfied and everybody pleased with Groceries at The Pantry.

Sent to the Central.

On the 30th of May last two crooks who boarded a Grand Trunk train near Brighton were recognized as such by Conductor Tamblin, and put off the train with the assistance of the brakemen. One of the ruffians, named Burke, fired two shots at Gary, a brakeman, who with the conductor is a resident of Toronto. Detective Spence, of the G. T. R., being furnished with a description of the two men, arrested them at Hastings. Detective Spence arrived in Toronto from Cobourg on Wednesday morning with the two prisoners in charge, having been successful in having them committed to the Central by Judge Benson. Burke received two years, and the other, named Fairfield, six months.

See clipping in another column from Insurance Bulletin. It is certainly gratifying to the policy holders and stockholders of the Co. to know of its unparalleled success in this section of the country. We understand that Messrs. Wilson & Morrison have a vacancy for a few good men.

A Rainbow.

Although we had no rain whatever yesterday evening a very pretty rainbow was observable in the eastern sky. It was watched with interest by large nuumbers of people and remained visible for a considerable length of time. It was regarded as a somewhat remarkable phenomenon.

"Welcome."

The first thing that greets the eye of the visitor to the Horticultural Park now, is the word "Welcome" in large letters, on the bank around the fountain. The letters of red colored plants and showing out from the green background they present a very pleasing effect.

In Uniform.

Chief Constable Roszel donned his uniform for the first time this morning. He is no dude and has dispensed with the usual flaps of braid. The clothes are of the regulation blue color, like those of the men, but instead of the white strip on the trousers, is a black one. The buttons are also black instead of brass. The helmet is white.

FROM modest efforts, honest goods, high quality, square dealing, good treatment, small profits, on to grand achievements in the way of Satisfying Bargains is the motto of The Pantry.

From Millbrook.

An excursion party numbering three or four hundred people passed through on the Grand Trunk yesterday. They hailed from Millbrook, and were bound for Sturgeon Point. They were accompanied by the Fire Brigade Band, of Millbrook. Some returned on a special train about 8 o'clock, and remained here until the arrival of the regular express, but that train brought the great majority of the pleasure-seekers home.

Best in Canada.

The Kingston Whig, in its Gananoque camp notes, says:—"The Durham Field Battery is the best in Canada. There are more military school men in it than any three detachments. The horses are strong animals, the best the battery ever had. This year there is a full force of men and horses—74 non-commissioned officers and men, and 29 horses, officered as follows:—Major McLean, commanding, Capt. Sanderson, Lieuts. Mulligan and Twigg, and Surgeon T. C. Brereton. Last year the battery won more prizes than any other in the Dominion."

Decoration Day Notes.

Ladies who can donate flowers for the ceremonies next Tuesday are requested to leave them at either of the lodge rooms, or for Otonabee Lodge at Mr. A. Mercer's store, and for Peterborough Lodge at Mr. Harry Long's. The lodge rooms will be open from 9 a. m. on Tuesday for the reception of flowers. Flowers last longer by being cut and placed in water over night. The brethren will meet at their respective lodges at 2:30 p. m. sharp, to receive their badges. Order of procession will be formed in Central Park. Visiting brethren are invited to take part in the beautiful ceremony. It is not the intention of the committee this year to apply for the proclamation of a half holiday, but they would accept it as a personal favor if all the merchants will give their employes the afternoon. Canton Peterborough, Patriarchs Militant, under Capt. McNeil, and headed by the Fire Brigade Band, will lead the procession.

Sewerage.

The Canadian Architect and Builder, the best authority on the subject in Canada, contains the following, of interest to our townspeople:—"The City Council of Peterborough, Ont., are considering the introduction of a system of sewerage under the terms of a public competition. The proposal is to submit the plans to a committee of three engineers as arbitors—one to be selected by the city, one by the competitors, and the third by the other two; the successful competitor to have the commission of the execution of the work. This commends itself as the fairest tribunal before which any competitive plans can be laid; still, in view of the unsatisfactory nature of all competitions, we cannot endorse the scheme as heartily as we could desire. The questions at stake in the planning and laying out of a system of sewerage are very weighty, and require a great deal of thought. Few competitors can afford the time and money to visit a city and take in all the points, on the mere chance of gaining a prize, which will not compensate them for their time, unless they obtain the first prize. We have now several engineers of eminence in sanitary science in this province, and if gratuitous advice is ever of any value, we offer it to the City Council of Peterborough, and advise them to seek out and employ a consulting engineer. Let him have the surveys made by some one conversant with the needs of the city, inform him of any special points as to discharge of sewerage, and areas to be specially sewered at once, and leave him from his experience to propound the most satisfactory system he can devise."

Ayer's Sarsaparilla operates radically upon the blood, thoroughly cleansing and invigorating it. As a safe and absolute cure for the various disorders caused by constitutional taint or infection, this remedy has no equal. Take it this month.

Try It.

Headmaster Smith is conducting promotion examinations at present, and in order to allow him to devote the afternoon to it, his pupils assemble at 8 a.m., and are dismissed at 1 p.m. This plan works admirably, and it might be extended to all the classes without doing any injury.

At Montreal.

In the 2.40 trot at Montreal, Sleepy Dan did not fare very well, failing to secure a place at all. Fanny B., of Ottawa, formerly owned by Messrs. E. Brown and F. J. Daly, was also a competitor and while she failed to secure a place, she stood higher in the list than Dan did.

The other Way.

Quite a number left on the Masonic excursion to-day over the line of the Trent Valley Canal. They left for Lindsay on the 8.20 train, from there will proceed to Lakefield by the Cruiser, and thence home by the Grand Trunk. They expect to reach Peterborough about 10 o'clock.

The Grand Trunk and Mr. Lush have at last come to terms, and the fence around the lot in question was torn down this morning, and the graders are now working on it. The track is laid almost across Smith-st., and vehicles find it difficult to cross. The new line will join the old one at a point about fifty feet north of Antrim-st.

Sunday School Catering

Next Sunday afternoon at the Charlotte-st. Methodist Church, commencing at a quarter to three, there will be an open meeting of the Sunday School. Several addresses will deliver brief addresses and the Rev. Mr. Tovell will give a farewell talk to the children. All are cordially invited to be present.

No "Sport" in this.

A Montreal despatch of Wednesday says that:—Sport did not publish to-day and it is not unlikely that the paper's existence is ended, although it may start up again. The Star says: "Sport has suspended publication. Serious charges of misappropriation of funds are made by the publisher, Mr. English, in connection with the suspension, and unless a settlement of the claim, which amounts to $600, is arrived at, criminal proceedings are threatened." The publisher referred to is Mr. "Dave" English, a brother of Messrs. Wm., Jas. and Sam. English, of Peterborough.

Avoid the use of calomel for bilious complaints. Ayer's Cathartic Pills, entirely vegetable, have been tested forty years, and are acknowledged to be the best remedy for torpidity of the liver, costiveness, and indigestion.

Locomotive Whistling.

Just at present when there is so much talk about locomotive whistling it may be interesting to read the following extract from the by-law regarding it. The by-law states that, "no person shall disturb the "peace by the ringing of bells or blowing "of whistles," and then reads, "the above "shall not apply to the bells or whistles of "railway locomotives necessarily rung or "blown at road crossings as required by "the railway acts in force, but shall apply "to all blowing of such locomotive whistles "for semaphores or for switches or for any "other purpose than as a compliance with "the imperative provisions of the Railway "Acts respecting the same."

By the Bushel.

The electric lights are deadly to flies, locusts, bugs, etc. Each light is surrounded nightly by myriads of them, who appear to like death as they rush into the globes by thousands. Last night the lamp in front of Gough Bros. was almost extinguished from this cause and the globes of many other lamps were nearly filled. There was not an outside light in town that did not kill countless numbers. The man who takes care of the lights estimates that he threw out over three bushels of dead flies while going his rounds this morning.

The County Council Trip.

On Thursday the members of the County Council headed by Warden Walsh, and flanked by County Clerk Pearce, County Engineer Belcher and County Solicitor Edwards, took a trip to the north to examine some county bridges. The party went to Lakefield by the special morning train, and viewed the Lakefield bridge and the ground upon which the heirs of the late Jas. Hague make a claim upon the County. Capt. Eden's new and trim craft, the Dawn, was boarded, and carried the party north through lakes, locks and rivers. The Burleigh bridge was found to be in need of repairs, the Buckhorn structure was inspected and, proceeding on, the proposed sites for the Gannon's Narrows bridge were viewed. At Oak Orchard, the party went on shore and called at the summer residences of Messrs A. Hudspeth, of Lindsay, and J. E. Belcher. At Bobcaygeon dinner was served at the Rockland House. Lindsay was reached at 7.15 p. m., the party reaching Peterborough by the evening train.

OVER THE TRENT VALLEY ROUTE.

The Masonic Excursion Enjoys a Delightful trip.

The Masonic excursion party who were carried over the route of the Trent Valley Canal yesterday, was the pioneer excursion. This line of travel may now be considered open, and will, no doubt, be largely patronized. The trip is a delightful one in every respect, cool, full of interest, and affords a lesson in a practical way, about the geography of the country to the north, that gives clearer ideas as to the ultimate benefits to be derived from the opening of the chain of waters to steamboat navigation.

The party numbering about seventy-five, reached Lakefield by special train at 7.00 a.m. The number was limited to avoid over-crowding the boat, although there was an eager demand for tickets. The steamer cruiser, under Capt. Wright, carried the party comfortably and made fast time. Young's Point was quickly passed and Clear and Stony lakes ran through in rapid order. At Burleigh, the lock was a point of great interest, and many disembarked to view the process of locking through. It was quickly done, 7 minutes covering the delay at the first lift and 5 minutes at the second.

Here the party were treated to an exhibition in amateur athletics, a tug of war between two sides to gain possession of Mr. Dod Fortye. Five minutes struggle resulted in Mr. Fortye being carried off to the hotel to spend the day with Myneer H. LeBrun and other jolly fellows. Twenty minutes sailing brought the boat to Lovesick Lock, and while locking through, the rapid—now smothered out—was inspected and interesting tales told of the numberless upsets and escapes from drowning experienced by canoeists at this point. The sail past Lovesick, Deer Bay and Victoria Heights was simply delightful, and Buckhorn was reached at 12 o'clock. The entire population turned out to see the novel sight of the first excursion. A pleasant hour's sail along Buckhorn Lake, a stop of half an hour at Oak Orchard Narrows, and the run to Bobcaygeon occupied the time up to 3 o'clock, and at 4 o'clock the steamer headed for Lindsay. Fifteen minutes were allowed to call at Sturgeon Point and the opportunity was taken advantage of to stroll about this beautiful summer resort. Lindsay was reached at 9 o'clock.

The route is one that must prove popular. It is cool and pleasant on the lakes compared with the heat experienced in town. The variety of scenery is pleasing and never fails to interest. Many of the men of the party—merchants and business men—had their first glimpse of the extent of the back lake waters and expressed surprise and admiration at the magnificent opportunity afforded by building the connecting link to encourage trade and navigation, and develop the resources of the country along the route.

Were space available a couple of columns could be well filled with matter descriptive of the trip. The party are indebted to Capt. Wright for his kindness and courtesy and thoughtful consideration for the comfort of all. Mr. Geo. Walker was the only one of the committee that made the trip, and he exerted himself—and successfully, too—to see that nothing was wanting, and gained, as he thoroughly deserved, the thanks of the ladies.

The steamer Mary Ellen was engaged to carry a part of the excursion, but the inspection of the boat was not completed in time to allow of the boat being used. She made a trial trip up the lake from Young's Point and made a fine appearance, developing good speed.

Ladies go into ecstacies over the new perfume, 'Lotus of the Nile."

The Sun was Hot.

On Thursday afternoon the sun was hot in Peterborough. It was also hot in Enniskmore. A farmer residing in that township purchased a new milk can in town and took it home with him. He placed it on the ground in the barnyard and went into the house. In a short time one of the hands observed smoke arising from chips and straw near the can. He gave an alarm at once, and the blaze was extinguished before it reached the barns and other outbuildings. There is no doubt that the fire was caused by the rays of the sun glancing off the can to the chips, straw, etc., in the yard.

Once More.

The General Secretary of the Dominion Day celebration committee, is constantly in receipt of letters from all parts of the district, asking for information and programmes regarding the great celebration to be held here. It is a well known fact the programme offered in Peterborough is always the best. The sub-committees are working might and main and on the 2nd of July the result of their labors will be seen. Two more entries for the open trot were received yesterday, and prospects are good for securing the services of a celebrated aeronaut and his monster balloon. Watch for further particulars.

The Northern Division Meet

The meet of the Northern Division of the A.C.A., to be held at Horse Island, Lake Couchiching, Orillia, promises to be a great time for canoeists. On Thursday members of the executive committee visited the site of the camp, and on their return report that everything has been arranged for a capital two week's sport. The camp opens on July 23, and closes Aug 4. From the programme just issued it is learned that Mr. J. McKinnin, of Orillia, has erected a commodious store on the island, where camp requisites can be had, and all supplies procured. A post-office will be established at the camp store. It is expected that at least two short cruises will be made from the camp to some of the neighboring lakes. Peterborough canoe clubs will, it is expected, be well represented at the meet.

FRIDAY, JUNE 22, 1888.

BY MRS. ALEXANDER.

Still, it cost him a severe mental struggle to yield so much to his strong desire for Mona's company, as to write the letter above quoted. Once done, he was feverishly eager to reap the fruits of his surrender, and reckoned the days till Mona made her appearance.

After a fatiguing journey, for the night was warm, Mona found herself at Glasgow in the gray of the morning. Early as it was, Kenneth, "in the garb of old Gaul," awaited her on the platform. He looked so martial and magnificent, that Mona did not recognize him at first. When she did she was disposed to laugh at what she considered his "fancy dress." He assured her, however, that it was his habitual costume when among the hills, and that the only difference he had made was to put on his best go-to-meeting kilt and plaid in her honor.

"Not altogether in my honor, Kenneth," she said, when having collected her luggage, they had time to exchange a few words.

"Well, may be not," he returned, with a happy smile. "Now, if we leave by the one-twenty train for Kirktoun, we'll get to Craigdarroch by six o'clock. My uncle agreed not to expect you before, so you can come away to Mrs. Robertson's, where you can rest and have breakfast. She is a fery old friend of Mrs. Black, and Mary is just waiting to welcome you. She is wearying to know you, though she will be half frightened at so grand a young lady as you are."

"Grand! Why, Kenneth, you are chaffing me!"

He only laughed, and, calling a cab, they drove away through dull streets, as yet scarcely astir, to the modest mansion of a Free Kirk minister, who was already in his study, and came forth to welcome the stranger lassie with kindly warmth; then his wife appeared, as neat and well appointed in her cotton morning-dress as if she had made an afternoon toilet; and lastly, Mary, blushing, with downcast eyes and a sweet smile flickering on her lips. The first thing Mona noticed was the golden-red tinge in her soft, abundant hair.

"If mine is half as pretty, I am content," she thought as she offered her hand, and said kindly—

"I am very pleased to meet you."

The words—the tone in which they were said—made Mary look up, and then the smile shone out in her honest, light blue eyes; these, and a red-lipped mouth rarely quite closed over very white teeth, redeemed her face from plainness. Her complexion, though clear and good, was much freckled, and the cheek bones were somewhat high; still Mary Black was undoubtedly a "bonnie lassie," and pleasant to look at, as Kenneth evidently thought, as his face beamed when his eyes fell upon her.

"You'll be awful tired after so many hours in the train; here, Mary, take Miss Craig to the spare room. You'll may be like to wash your hands and brush your hair a bit before you eat your breakfast!"

"Thank you. I feel I need ablution sorely."

"I am so very pleased to see you," said Mona, when she and Mary had entered the sacred precincts of the spare room.

"And so am I to meet you; Kenneth told me what a good friend you have been to him; but you are not a bit like what I expected to see."

"I suppose not; people never are like what is expected."

"I will leave you now; ring when you are ready, and I will show you the way to the breakfast-room."

At the table were gathered the minister's younger bairns; a big-boned lad of fourteen; a slight, thoughtful boy of nine or ten—both silently intent on finishing their morning meal, to be off in good time for school—and a chubby girl of six, evidently the pet of the family.

The long, devout grace, the bowls of porridge and cups of milk, the voices, the dialect, all seemed to Mona like a chapter out of a Scotch novel, yet it took her fancy. The host appeared to be acquainted with Mr. Craig, and spoke of him with a touch of dry humor here and there which showed he was fully alive to the peculiarities of his character. Mr. Robertson—a pleasant, well-read man, quite abreast of the modern thought movement—seemed pleased to converse with his young English guest. As soon as he had bestowed the final blessing, the minister bade Mona farewell as he was going out.

Then Mary assisted Mrs Robertson to clear away the breakfast things, and the latter said—

"You three young folk will have a good deal to say to one another, so you can have it out here, while I am busy above and below, so soon as I have sent Jamie off to school."

"I should think we had a good deal to say to each other," said Kenneth, as soon as they were alone. "Mary knows that the only bit of comfort I ever had in you big dreary town was when I could walk and talk with you, Mona, and that kind soul Mme. Debrisay! Isn't it curious, when I used to be with you in London, I thought I saw such a likeness between you and Mary, and now you are together, it has just vanished away!"

"Like Miss Craig!" cried Mary, blushing and laughing. "Eh, Kenneth, but your eyes must have been all wrong!"

Then a very confidential conversation ensued, and Mona promised to help the lovers in all ways. Indeed, her heart went out very warmly to the gentle, simple Highland lassie, and she privately congratulated Kenneth on his choice.

Having been taken to see the cathedral and some public buildings, she was given luncheon and hurried away to the station.

* * * * * * *

A splendid sunset was glorifying moor and mountain, the loch, and a distant glimpse of blue sea, when the travelers reached Kirktoun, where a very rusty old one-horse phæton, driven by Uncle Sandy himself, awaited them.

"Well, my dearie, the sight of you is good for sair een!" he cried with unusual warmth, reaching down a hand to assist his niece to the seat beside him; adding in the same breath, "and I am right glad you have seen the error of your ways. I am always ready to forgive, when I see anyone in their right mind."

"I am very glad to see you, uncle. What delightful air! It is like new life to breathe it."

"Ay, it is just that! You'll grow strong and weel. Hoo's a' wi' ye, Kenneth? Did you see Mr. Macray, and get the papers? Eh, we canna carry the two big boxes, Can ye do without them till to-morrow, Mona, and I'll send the cart for them?"

"Yes, uncle. I have my hand portmanteau, which is quite enough."

The old cart-horse that with bent head and patient toil dragged the vehicle up the long ascent, evidently understood his task too well to heed Uncle Sandy's "gee-ups" and occasional applications of the whip. When they came to a gentle decline or a few level yards, he broke into a slow, heavy trot—his great feet beating the road like sledge-hammers; then at the very first upward tendency he deliberately checked his pace to a steady walk, from which nothing could move him. Yet Mona enjoyed the drive immensely. The beautiful wild scenery; the soft, delicious, honey-sweet breeze, that from time to time touched her cheek like a caress; the restful silence, and perhaps, more than all, the unusually happy expression of Uncle Sandy's puckered face, gave her profound pleasure.

At length, after following a low moss and grass-grown wall for some way, they turned into a narrow road, at the divergence of which a wooden gate, with one broken hinge, lay helplessly open.

"Noo," said Mr. Craig, with all the pride of proprietorship, 'you are in the parks of Craigdarroch."

The Haldimand Farmers' Picnic.

DUNNVILLE, June 22.—The Haldimand farmers' picnic yesterday at "Clearville," County Crown Attorney Martin's stock farm, was a great success, several thousands being in attendance. Speeches were made by Dr. Montague, M.P., C. W. Coulter, ex-M.P., Prof. Robertson of the Agricultural College at Guelph, Mr. Martin and others.

Found Dead.

COLCHESTER, June 22.—The body of an unknown man, apparently about 35 years of age, was found three miles west of here yesterday. A purse containing $2.50 was found in his pocket. He had brown hair, was clean shaven, and about 5 feet 8 inches in height.

Fatal Boiler Explosion Near Mt. Forest.

MOUNT FOREST, June 22.—The boiler in Thorpe's saw mill, about three miles from town, burst yesterday afternoon. Peter McIntyre was terribly scalded and died in about two hours. John Sevil was also badly injured.

The Fruit Market.

TORONTO, June 22.—The consignments of Canadian strawberries yesterday were fairly large. Prices run from 13c to 17c a box, according to quality. A few baskets of Canadian gooseberries came over by boat and sold at $1.50 a basket. The strawberry crop does not promise to be particularly abundant. The light sandy gardens in the peninsula have suffered through drouth and the yield there will be lighter than that of last year. Oakville promises fairly well.

Butter and Eggs.

TORONTO, June 22.—Butter has risen in price during the last few days of hot weather. Tub butter is quoted at 15c and 16c, and pound rolls at 16c to 18c. Creamery is quoted at 22c. Eggs are firm at 15 cents, with enquiry good and supply limited.

The Manufacturers' Life Ins. Co'y.

The Bulletin of Life and Accident Insurance says,—"Phenomenal" will but faintly express the success of the great company. During the month of May just past applications have been received at the head office for about $680,000 insurance, a result we venture to affirm never before attained by any life insurance company in one month in the middle of their fiscal year. This enormous business is being done without any undue pressure.

"The liberality of its contracts and eminent fairness of its plans, no less than the substantial names appearing on its lists of officers and directors, contribute to its wonderful growth. It is confidently believed that its business this year will be, not only larger than that of any company in Canada, but larger by far, than has ever been secured by any company in the world in the same time in proportion to the population. This is something for a home company to be able to say. It is a credit to the Dominion, as well as to the far-sighted business men, who have stood at the helm of its affairs since its organization."

She will call as South Point and Sputwest Point, where the breakwater has to be repaired. She carries as well engines and boilers for the steam fog whistle at Cape La Roche and a full cargo of supplies for lights in the Gulf. There are on board four female missionaries for Esquimalt Point.

Hon. Mr. Thompson, Minister, and Mr. Sedgewick, Deputy Minister of Justice, left for Kingston yesterday to inspect the penetentiary.

A $45,000 JUDGMENT.

Against the Southeastern Railway Trustees—J. M. Fortier's Damage Suit.

MONTREAL, June 23.—Soon after the trustees of the bondholders took possession of the Southeastern Railway a suit was brought against them by the Ontario Car Company of London, to recover the value of certain cars which had previously been delivered to the railway company. Judge Mathieu gave judgment against the bondholders, Wm. Farwell, Duncan McIntyre, and W. C. Van Horne, for the full amount of the claim, $45,000, with full costs and interests since 1886.

Judge Gill has granted Mr. J. M. Fortier, cigar manufacturer, $150 damages from The Canadian Workman for advising people not to buy from a child beater or woman spanker. In two weeks Fortier's sales had fallen off $6000 but that might have been due to the labor investigation. The damages claimed were $50,000.

THE GOLD FEVER.

A FAMOUS DIVORCE CASE.

MRS. BOUCICAULT OBTAINS A DECREE OF SEPARATION FROM DION.

The Government 'Twixt the Devil and the Deep Sea—Lord Randolph or the Liberals to Come out on Top.

LONDON, June 23.—The celebrated Boucicault divorce case was decided in favor of the wife. In the trial of the case Mrs. Agnes Boucicault, the petitioner, deposed that she was born at Edinburgh in 1833, was educated for the stage and that she first appeared at the Princess Theatre in London, which was then under the management of Charles Keanne. She was then introduced to Dion Boucicault, who made her an offer of marriage. Influenced by the advice of Mrs. Keanne she declined the offer, but eventually in 1852 went to live with him. Relations continued between them until August, 1853, when she went to America to follow her profession. She had an engagement at Montreal and while there she received letters from Dion Boucicault, who was at New York. At his request she went there to see him. On her raising some objections to living with him at the hotel, he informed her that if she would consent to become his wife, he would consent to become her husband, and that by the laws of New York, that, together with living as man and wife under his name, constituted as valid a marriage as in Scotland. Under the circumstances she consented to become his wife, and they stayed at the hotel for a week or ten days living publicly there as man and wife.

After that she was generally looked upon as his wife, and on one occasion at Boston he publicly made an announcement to that effect from the stage. Subsequently she executed a separation deed, under which she was to have an annuity of $4,000 a year. That document was signed in her maiden name, she being forced to do so, being warned that otherwise she would not receive the allowance in question. In 1883 she heard that Dion had gone through a ceremony of marriage with a lady in Australia. She commenced a suit for divorce, but abandoned it at the request of her child. Mrs. Boucicault was cross-examined at some length as to the various proceeding she had taken against her husband and as to the date of the alleged marriage, one of the dates being 1855. His Lordship pointed out that the pleadings appeared to have been amended.

No witnesses were called for the defence. The respondent's counsel contended that there was no marriage between them. The judge came to the conclusion that there was a legal marriage between the parties and granted Mrs. Boucicault a decree nisi by reason of the bigamy of her husband, Dion Boucicault, who, moreover, is mulcted in costs.

The Ministry are having a bad week of it. Their defeat on Tuesday was in itself of no great consequence. The question what authority shall appoint chief constables of counties is not one to shake a Cabinet or shatter a coalition. The Tories and Liberals Unionists were allowed to vote as they liked. Mr. Ritchie did not even take pains to explain to the House the point at issue, and his supporters, of course, straggled. The truth is—no new truth either—that the Tory party in the House of Commons is not brilliantly led. Some part of the truth is pretty bluntly told in the Tory organ. The leaders exhibit a want of tact and decision, and there is a corresponding lack of subordination and discipline in their followers. The majority is getting out of hand, the surrender of the licensing clauses in the Local Government Bill was a tactical mistake, and it has been followed by a free and easy method of piloting the bill through committee.

Tuesday's defeat was due to studied stupidity. Such are some of the confessions of The Standard—pleasant reading for Mr. Smith and Mr. Ritchie. These criticisms only echo in print what many Tories have been saying in private, and more might be said. The enthusiasm which a large section of Conservatives bring to bear on this measure is very lukewarm. If the majority of the House of Lords were free to vote according to their convictions or prejudices they would wreck the bill.

Meantime, in the House of Commons, men of some calibre are playing fast and loose with the Ministerial policy. It is a dangerous game. The Liberals look on with delight. Once more you hear predictions of coming change; the Ministry is to be out before September; the country is going as Ayr went, and so on. These are not sober views. By-elections are bad weathercocks. Yesterday's meeting of the Tory party was called chiefly in order to straighten out these crooked paths, and to tighten discipline and inspirit the party.

But the party in the House of Commons needs a leader, and the one leader available, Lord Randolph Churchill, Lord Salisbury will not give them. Instead of proposing to reinforce the weak front bench, the Prime Minister turns and rends those who sit behind it. He charges Mr. Jennings with having caused the Tory defeat at Ayr. Mr. Jennings, formerly of New York, and now member for Stockport, is well known to be a friend of Lord Randolph, and Lord Salisbury's attack on him does not contribute much to harmony. There were further explanations on both sides and the meeting finally adjourned in fairly good temper.

The Liberals are making still more capital out of Mr. Dillon's imprisonment, against which they raise protests of every kind, some of them far too violent.

The Daily News is rapidly running out of adjectives. "wanton," "savage," "wicked," "brutal," "base," "vile," "infamous," and "cruel," are but some out of many epithets bestowed on the sentence and on the judicial authorities who passed and confirmed it. There is, I think, much feeling among the English against the system which results in sending Mr. Dillon to jail for six months, but it can hardly be kept at this fever heat. Personal sympathy with Mr. Dillon, whose health is known to be weak, is very strong.

Anxiety about Stanley has been rapidly increasing without much reason. Those who know the facts are not anxious. There seems to be no doubt that Mr. Stanley had other objects than relieving Emin Pacha. He is supposed to meditate founding a new state on the Upper Nile, after the pattern of the Congo Free State. He longs to lay the axe at the root of the slave trade in the Baker Gazelle country. He is an explorer, and would gladly open up a district of Equatorial Africa never yet travelled by a European. He is, moreover, surrounded by difficulties in the shape of swamps. Emin Pacha himself described them as almost impassable. All these things are more than sufficient to account for the delay in hearing from Mr. Stanley. Dr. Junker and other experts say that there is no cause for alarm. If there were any bad news, if disaster had happened there would be no delay in transmitting news of that kind. G. W. S.

The Chancellor for Peace.

BERLIN, June 23.—At yesterday's meeting of the Bundesrath Prince Bismarck laid special stress on the peaceful character of the political situation and intimated that the Government would adhere to the principles which had hitherto guided its policy.

Sad Drowning Accident.

CORNWALL, June 23.—Lewis Page, a respectable man about sixty years of age, was drowned here yesterday morning. He was crossing the old lock gates to catch the mail boat going west when he walked off the coping into the locks. His cries were heard by John Jenner, who did all in his power to save the old man, but he was too late.

A TOUCHING APPEAL.

The Letter That Lilian Goodfellow Wrote Her Unnatural Father.

ST. THOMAS, June 23.—The letter which brought on the arrest and subsequent suicide of George W. Goodfellow, written by his daughter, is as follows:

"PAPA: I have been · · long enough. You have pretended to love me but instead of loving me you hate me · · · · You have deprived me of young company and of the freedom which is necessary to young girls like me. I have gone where I can have these things, and if you ever find me it will do you no good, because I shall put myself under the protection of the laws of this country, and if you come after me I would appeal to them for protection and they would send you to penitentiary for life. Papa, I did love you once, but · · there is no more love in my heart for you, and if I stayed at home and let you do · · as you liked I would be a corpse before I was 19 years of age. I have only $1.25, but I will use it to get among strangers. You have always got me the best of clothes, but I would rather wear an old print dress and shoes with the toes out and have a clear conscience than stay at home and do as I have done. No father that loved his child would whip her as you have whipped me. It is the greatest sin that man can commit to ruin his own dear children that God gave him to love and care for. 'Thou should not commit adultery.' "LILIAN."

Goodfellow had previously had the paternity of one or two children laid to him by girls who had become mothers ere they were wives. After Lilian's second disappearance the excitement continued to grow until on Thursday night last a mob of 200 collected in front of Goodfellow's house and burned him in effigy. Goodfellow therefore opened fire upon the crowd with a revolver and the mob retaliated with a fusilade of stones, wrecking one or two windows. Goodfellow then sallied forth revolver in hand, and the mob scattered, a number of bullets being sent after them. Monday the prisoner, who had not previously walked further up town than the bank, confining himself as much as possible to his mill, proceeded east to the postoffice. The street was lined with people and he was hooted for several blocks. Monday night a report was circulated that Lillian had been kept secreted in the cellar, and another rumor was afloat that her father had killed her. Goodfellow had meantime made no attempt to clear away the charges made against him, and fearing that the threats of lynching might be carried into effect, Detective J. G. Clayton lodged an information.

When the two constables drove up to Goodfellow's house to effect the arrest he showed no surprise, saying, "All right, I'll go with you, boys." Seemingly as an afterthought he asked to see his wife, and was allowed to walk out into the hall, when he shot himself instantly.

Parties familiar with the home life of the Goodfellow family state that the father was extremely harsh and cruel both to his wife and children, whom he ruled with a rod of iron, and frequently resorted to personal violence. The coroner, when the widow was brought before the jury, respected her grief and forebore to torment her with questions other than what were absolutely necessary. The sympathy in Aylmer is all for the family. Before Goodfellow's suicide there were those who thought him innocent of the foul charges; not one is now heard to say that he was innocent.

Those who know Lilian Goodfellow, the victim of a father's crime, state that she is modest and unassuming. There is no doubt but that she is in Buffalo as her father stated when arrested. She has been telegraphed for.

A CHALLENGE TO THE MINISTRY.

Mr. John Morley Throws Down the Gauntlet on the Crimes Act.

LONDON, June 23.—In the House of Commons Mr. John Morley gave notice that he intended to introduce a resolution to the effect that the operation of the Crimes Act tends to undermine the respect entertained for the law, to estrange the minds of the people of Ireland and to deeply injure the common interests of the United Kingdom. Mr. Gladstone gave notice that he would on Monday ask the Government to appoint a day for the discussion of the resolution. Mr. Smith, Government leader, said that he had listened with the greatest attention to Mr. Morley's notice, feeling that it was a challenge to the conduct of the Government in every respect. He would forthwith place next Monday at Mr. Morley's disposal for the resolution. This elicited loud cheers from the Opposition.

A Meeting of Dissidents.

LONDON, June 23.—A meeting of dissident Liberals was held here, Lord Hartington presiding. His Lordship strongly supported the Government's proposal to drop the Sunday closing clause of the Local Government Bill and warned the dissidents who had avowed their intention of supporting the clause that they would place the Government in a difficult position if they persisted.

A resolution to support the Government was unanimously adopted.

A Quarter of a Million.

LONDON, June 23.—Billy Porter and Frank Buck, the alleged American burglars, who were arrested on a warrant charging them with burglary at Zurich, Switzerland, were arraigned yesterday morning. The police stated that Porter, alias Morton, was a robber, and stood at the top of his profession. They were both safe breakers, and had stolen property to the amount of $50,000. The prisoners were arrested at Cafe Monaco in a private room. They denied the charges against them, but were identified as visitors who had been at Augsberg, where they had stayed at various hotels and made purchases at the stores. The prisoners were remanded to await extradition papers.

The Manitoba Land Company.

LONDON, June 23.—The meeting of the Manitoba Land Company yesterday decided after a brief discussion to wind up the company and form a new concern in accordance with the scheme cabled on Wednesday.

DEPEW OUT OF THE RACE.

HE WITHDRAWS HIS NAME IN THE REPUBLICAN CONVENTION.

Three Ballots Taken Without a Nomination—Sherman Leads, with Gresham Second and Alger Third.

CHICAGO, June 23.—On the first ballot yesterday Alger received 84, Allison 72, Depew 99, Fitler 21, Gresham 114, Harrison 79, Hawley 13, Ingalls 28, Phelps 25, Rusk, 25, Sherman 229, Blaine 33, McKinley 31.

On the second ballot Pennsylvania gave Sherman 53, Wisconsin changed 3 from Rusk to Gresham, Indiana changed one from Harrison to Gresham, Smith of Pennsylvania withdrew Fitler's name.

On the third ballot are Alger 122, Depew 90, Harrison 94, Phelps 5, Lincoln 2, Sherman 244, Miller 2, Allison 88, Gresham 123, Rusk 16, Blaine 35, McKinley 8.

After the third ballot had been announced there was a scene of great confusion in the Convention. The cheering for Gresham was very loud and prolonged. Miller moved the adjournment till 7 which was carried.

The convention was called to order at 7.15 p.m. by Chairman Estee, who had recovered his voice to a certain degree. The bands struck up inspiriting national airs, amongst them being "Dixie," which, however, did not create the enthusiasm which its every rendition excited at the recent St. Louis convention.

As the music ceased Mr. Depew ascended the platform and received an enthusiastic ovation from the delegates and audience. He said that he came to Chicago as a delegate, neither expecting nor desiring to appear in any other capacity. After his arrival New York presented his name for state reasons. After weighty consideration he was constrained to believe that his vocations and associations might raise questions which would prejudice the prospects of the party, and therefore he withdrew his name from the list of candidates.

The announcement took the convention by surprise, and hardly had Mr. Depew sat down when General Hastings of Pennsylvania, who placed Sherman in nomination, was on his feet and was recognized by the chair.

He said he believed those interests dearest to the Convention would be best served by an adjournment in order to give the convention time to have a more thorough understanding and to prevent hasty and unconsidered action. He therefore moved to adjourn until 10 o'clock this morning, and upon this motion he demanded a call of the roll of States.

There was at once a half-dozen seconders to the motion and the call was ordered. It resulted in a vote of 535 yeas to 252 nays. The chair then declared the convention adjourned until 10 o'clock to-day.

IN A PERILOUS POSITION.

Stanley Abandoned by His Escort—Surrounded by Hostile Natives.

LONDON, June 23.—A despatch from St. Paul de Lounda, says:—Several deserters from the Stanley expedition have reached Camp Yambunja. They state that after traversing the Upper Aruwhimi Stanley struck into a rough, mountainous country covered with dense forests. The natives, who were excited by reports spread by Arabs, disputed the passage of the expedition, and there was continuous fighting. Stanley was severely wounded. He was compelled several times to construct camps in order to repel attacks, and was obliged to use the reserve provisions that were intended for Emin Bey. The Soudanese attached to the force had all died or disappeared. The deserters estimate that the caravan lost one-third of its men, and they say that many of those remaining were ill, including the Europeans. Stanley was encamped when the deserters left. He was surrounded by hostiles and was unable to send news to Emin Bey or directly to Yambunja. Major Bartillot had returned to Yambunja, where he was awaiting the men. Mr. Ward was collecting men to form a powerful expedition to go to the relief of Stanley. The sickness at Yambunja was lessening, but only 80 of the 125 Zanzibar men survived. Tippoo Tib received 625 men to form two caravans and started for the interior about the end of January. Ward left Boma on May 30 for Leopoldville, where he was to embark men and provisions in the Congo State steamer for the Aruwhimi. The Yambunja advices reach the middle of April. The time the deserters left Stanley is uncertain. Gov. Janssen left the Congo on June 15 on his way to Europe to consult regarding the sending of assistance to Stanley.

SHOCKING HARDSHIPS.

A Cod Fishing Schooner Abandoned by the Crew—Fourteen Lives Lost.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 23.—The steamer Bertha, which has arrived from Kurluk, Alaska, brought three of the sailors of the cod-fishing schooner Isabel, which encountered a gale May 1 and on the 3rd had to be abandoned. The crew took to the boats, but in a storm got separated. The eight skiffs which contained the nineteen men on board the Isabel first divided themselves into two parties in four skiffs. After being out two days, two of the men went mad from the hardships endured, and had to be put in separate boats and soon were drowned. When another boat capsized Captain Tuckerson in trying to save the lives of the men, was drowned, as were also the men whom he tried to rescue. It is believed that the men in the two boats which got separated from the others were also drowned, making fourteen who lost their lives.

PRESIDENTIAL PROBABILITIES.

GUESSING how the various states will "go" and what the result of the Presidential contest in the United States will be, will be a favorite amusement across the lines for a time. The New York Sun has already been at work and it has come to the conclusion that the following States may reasonably be expected to choose Republican electors in November:—California, Colorada, Illinois, Iowa, Kansas, Maine, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Nebraska, Nevada, New Hampshire, Ohio, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Vermont and Wisconsin. These States combined have 181 electoral votes. It may be mentioned, however, that Democratic hopes of capturing Minnesota and Massachusetts have been expressed.

Sixteen States are set down by this calculator as being solid for the Demociats:—Alabama, Arkansas, Delaware, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maryland, Mississippi, Misouri, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennesee, Texas, Virginia and West Virgina, with a total of 153 electoral votes.

This calculation, if correct, would leave the Republicans 29 votes to secure from the doubtful States in order to gain a victory, and the Democrats would need 48. The total electoral vote of the Sates set down as doubtful is 66, and of these New York has 36, the remainder being made up by Connecticut, Indiana and New Jersey. This forecast brings the matter down to the old point that the party that carries New York will win the election.

LAKEFIELD.

Correspondence of the Review.

MINISTERIAL CHANGES.—Rev. Mr. Buckler preached his farewell sermon on Sunday night, to quite a large congregation. Rev. Mr. Buckler leaves for his new field of labour, St. Ola, on Monday. The Rev. C. H. Coop, from Welcome, takes his place here. Rev. Mr. McFarlane will preach his farewell sermon on Sunday evening in the Methodist church. The Presbyterians have dispensed with any services that evening so as to be able to hear the Rev. Mr. McFarlane's farewell address and as a mark of the esteem in which the reverend gentleman is held by the pastor and congregation of that church, Rev. Mr. McFarlane goes to his new field of labour (Keene) the following week, and the Rev. Johnston, of Keene, will occupy the pulpit July 1st. for the first time as pastor.

FULL LINE of patent medicines at Henderson's Pharmacy.

TWO CLOSE CALLS.—Last week the iron bridge over the Otonabee was discovered on fire. Fortunately before gaining any headway it was extinguished. On Monday some children were playing with the devouring element in the rear of Smith & Trude's butcher shop, setting some straw on fire, which was very close to S. & T's barn. They set that building on fire. The old fashioned bucket brigade was once more brought into service, and extinguished what might have been a most distructive fire, all of which points to what may some day take place in the village.

WATERWORKS BY-LAW.—Messrs. Graham and Henderson raised the $40 required to submit the Waterworks By-law, depositing the amount with the village treasurer. The people of Lakefield will now have a chance to say whether they want fire protection or not. If the by-law carries the depositors have their money refunded; if defeated the villege will not have to pay the costs, but the promoters of the scheme will foot the bill. Some of the ratepayers advocate a steam fire engine, and some water works. It would be as well to look closely into both schemes before the by-law is submitted, and not have two factions, one fighing the other, but both unite and give the village some adequate protection from fire, whether it be by means of waterworks or a steam engine.

CHEMICALLY PURE Paris Green and Hellebore for sale at Henderson's Pharmacy.

EXCURSION.—Mr. Sheldrake's school had an excursion on the steamer Cruiser to Stony Lake on Friday.

FORESTERS' EXCURSION.—Court Lakefield, C.O.F., will hold their annual excursion on July 2nd, per steamer Cruiser to Stoney Lake. Also on same date, the Presbyterian Sunday School will hold their annual excursion per steamer Mary Ellen to the same place.

GONE NORTH.—Quite a number of campers have gone to Stony Lake. The back lakes bid fair to become more popular every season.

FISH.—Since the season for fishing has opened a large number of fine hauls have been obtained and a great many fishy stories are being told. We have not heard one good enough yet to publish.

PERSONAL.—we were favored last week with a call from our old friend, Mr. William Woods, Woodstock, who is looking as hall and hearty as ever ....Mr. James D Graham has passed his examinations and obtained the degree of B. A., from Toronto University.

THE BAND.—The Foresters' Band serenaded Mr. and Mrs. Robinson, the newly married couple, on Monday evening. The gentlemen comprising the Foresters Band, under the careful training of Bandmaster Geo. Scrimger, have made wonderful strides in the art of music, during this last winter. Lakefield inhabitants have been highly favored with open air concerts two or three times a week, for some time past. The efforts of the band to please are no doubt fully appreciated by the public generally. The best way always to show our appreciation is to do it in a substantial manner. The Council no doubt will receive a deputation from the band in a generous manner and do the "magnificent" thing.

PERSONAL.—Reeve Casement and Mr. George Cochrane went to Toronto on Wednesday ....Mr. D'Arcy Strickland has gone to Lake Superior ....Mr. W. J. Wallace, one of Lakefield's esteemed citizens, who has been down on the Pacific Slope for the last fifteen months, is expected home this week. His many friends will be glad to see him, and have a right good shake of his hand.....Mr. S. Nelson left on Monday night on business to Buffalo, N, Y.

THE COUNTY COUNCIL.

THE VARIOUS COMMITTEES REPORT THEIR RECOMMENDATIONS.

A By-law Passed Naming the Bridges Assumed by the County—Confirmatory By-laws Passed—The Session Closed.

FRIDAY.

The members spent the whole day in committee. At 5.30 p.m. the Council met, Warden Walsh in the chair and all the members present.

The minutes of the last session were read and confirmed.

EQULIZATION

Mr. BURNHAM read the report of the Committee on Equalization and Assessment:—

Your Committee have examined the assessment of the different municipalities, and find slight variations in the acreage of the municipalities, but not so perceptible as to lead us to vary the basis of last year. Your committee would, therefore, recommend that the basis adopted by the Council last year be the basis adopted for the year 1888, as shown by the schedule, and that the Clerk be authorized to obtain a correct statement, and, if necessary, a survey, to establish to what lot and concession the islands in the several lakes belong.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

JOHN BURNHAM, Chairman

A by-law passed confirming the report.

FINANCE REPORT.

Mr. KIDD read the following report:—

(2) That no action be taken with reference to the account of Geo. McIlmoyal for attendance on Charles Yeomans, but that the same be referred to the townships of Galway and Cavendish.

(3) That the County Treasurer be instructed to pay the demand of the License Commissioners for $847.10, according to the tenor thereof, and that the demand of the License Commissioners for East Peterborough for $1,395.56, be paid in like manner.

(4). That the salary of the County Engineer be paid in the same manner as heretofore.

(5). That the sum of $25 be granted to the Peterborough Teachers' Institute, as recommended by the Committee on Petitions.

(6). That the matter of the bill of Mr. E. B. Edwards, for his costs as Solicitor for county in the suit of the G.J.R. against the County be referred to the taxing officer at Toronto for taxation, and that Mr. W. A. Stratton act for the county in the matter.

(7). That the Auctioneer's By-law be so amended that the cost of an auctioneer's license for any period, less than a year, shall be equal to one-half of the cost of such license.

(8). That the sum of $7.50 be paid to Mr. Garner Nicholls, Inspector of Municipal Licenses, in full for his services up to July 1st, 1888, and that he be hereafter required to report at every session, as to the manner in which he has performed his duties, and that his salary for the coming six months shall be $15.

(9). That the Warden and Treasurer be authorized to invest such of the late issue of debentures as may be required for the sinking fund.

(10). That the rate for the coming year for county purposes be 2 3-10 mills on the dollar on the equalized value of property.

(11). That inasmuch as it appears that the amount that is provided shall be levied under debenture by-laws numbers 355 and 373 will produce a sum largely in excess of the amount required, that the Clerk be instructed to levy such an amount only as will be sufficient to meet this year's sinking fund and interest, and that one-half of the rate provided under By law No. 454, be collected, for the reason that only one half of the debentures authorized to be issued thereunder have been issued.

The report was adopted, and the usual by-law passed.

COUNTY BUILDINGS.

Mr. Moloney introduced a by-law for the county to take over the following bridges, provided they were 100 feet in length and upwards, such length to be calculated from the natural bank of each stream at its ordinary flow:—In Asphodel—Birdsalls, Steele's, Wellbecks and Comstocks. In Belmont and Methuen—Burnt Mill, Taylors, Prestons and Crow River. Burleigh etc.,—Potash Creek. Dummer—Warsaw, Warminster factory, Douglas and Geo. Payne's. Douro—Sullivans and Burns. Harvey—Nogey's Creek, Eel's Creek, Squaw River, Dewdney over Bass River, and Massasaga River. Otonabee—Keene, at Grand Junction station, Allandale, Hope's Mill, Fife's and Norwood road.

The by-law was passed.

Right now is the time to use a good Blood Purifying Medicine. Lose no time in getting a bottle of Dr. Carson's Stomach Bitters. It will do you good. Sold by all Druggists.

MURDER AT MEGANTIC.

A United States Deputy Marshal Shot Down by a Desperado.

LAKE MEGANTIC, Que., June 23.—United States Deputy Marshal Lucien P. Warren was shot dead at 3.30 yesterday afternoon on the sidewalk opposite Graham's store by a desperado named Donald Morrison, formerly a resident of this village.

A few weeks ago Morrison set fire to the property of Mr. Duquet, and he is greatly feared by the villagers, as he is known to be a desperate character. He has not yet been arrested.

Hon. Mr. Joly's Mission.

QUEBEC, June 23.—Ex-Premier Joly will represent the Province of Quebec at the United States Forestry Congress, to be held this year at Atlanta, Georgia. He has preferred a request to Premier Mercier to permit him to invite the congress to meet in Quebec next year.

Burnt to Death.

MONTREAL, June 23.—The wife of Mr. J. C. Hounier of the Theatre Royal was burnt to death last night through a lamp exploding in her residence, 38 St. Elizabeth street. The premises were gutted. Loss about $500.

In brief and to the Point.

Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered livet s misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature.

The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existance. It is easily put out of order.

Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this sad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

Remember:—No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings health and happines to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy-five cents.

The name of McCausland & Son, of Toronto, is directly associated with the best stained windows in this country. Their are several offshoots from this veteran house, but experience tells the tale. Bricklayers' and Masons' Union

No. 13, Peterborough.

To the Architects and Builders of the Town of Peterborough.

GENTLEMEN.—The members of the Bricklayers' and Masons' Union, No. 12, Peterborough, have decided to take no sub-contracts after the 1st day of June, 1888. We take this step believing it to be to the interest of Architects and Proprietors of buildings, to deal directly with us, and not, as heretofore, letting our branch of work to Carpenters, and then have them sub-let it to us, frequently at a loss to owners of buildings through inferior material being used to secure the carpenter a profit. We therefore consider it would be to the interest of all concerned, to have each trade control its own line of work.

Signed on behalf of the Union,
J. J. HARTLEY, President.

They are content to do business as hundreds of others are doing—and get left. How can the six months time men compete with GOUGHS, The Wonderful Cheap Men, the High Pressure Electric Clothiers, who seize the opportunity to buy at Spot Cash and buy awfully well. Read, you noble sons of toil, what the Clothiers of the Age are going to do for the next 30 days and when you read reflect, and when you reflect, come and buy from them, for you cannot buy from any wholesale house in Canada at the following prices; For thirty days we will sell you:—

Men's Suits at $2.95 that cost imaginary cloth- $4.25 wholesale.

Men's Pants for $1.50. We don't say what they are worth, but see if you can buy elsewhere for $1.95.

Men's Suits for $5.00 worth easily $10.00.
Men's Halifax Tweed Suits all Wool $5.00.
Men's Fine Worsted Suits $6.90, worth $13.00.
Children's Suits for 58 cents, $1.10, $2.00 and up, worth double the money.

Special Drive in Boys' Coats 19c. each, Men's Working Pants 17c. each.

With ample means, prodigious energy and absolute determination to do the Largest Clothing Business in the District, we shall reach that goal if our friends, the buyers, will realize that no firm or dealer has ever offered the values we have given and are giving in Men's & Boys' Clothing. The Public have responded well to our great sale inducements. The public have our best thanks. We regret that the rush was so large on Saturday that we could not give our customers all the time we would like. Two additional Salesmen will be on hand Saturday next so that all who come can have ample attention. We rely on the invulnerable advantages of Square Dealing, in an Honorable Square Way, and with prices 33⅓ per cent. all round below all competitors are the ironclad basis on which we are doing a Triumphant Clothing Trade.

HOUSEFURNISHINGS.

At this season many Housekeepers are replenishing their supplies of Tableware and China. City folk are furnishing summer cottages; country folk are filling up the dressers and cupboards of the old homestead: town's folk are picking and choosing here and there. Many would be glad to know of a place whose special business is to meet these wants and desires; that aims to furnish essentially good wares at consistently low prices; that offers the choice of many different dinner services, and yet does not compel you to take an entire set of any pattern, but allow you to select each course of a new design, or buy any portion of the set you may need; that does not try to impose ideas or wares upon purchasers, and yet is ready to advise which of the many wares is most desirable and suitable; and, if wished, will make a careful selection of pattern. When you want Tablewear will you give us the opportunity to serve you.

THE CITY AND SUBURBS

Weather Probabilities.

Moderate winds, between south-east and south-west; mostly fair and continued very warm weather, with local showers or thunderstorms.

A Fair Question?

Do you want good value in summer dry goods? Do you prefer new and stylish materials? Do you value a perfect-made costume and desire such when you leave your order? The answer is plain, every lady wants to secure the above as the result of an outlay. Then come to the golden lion, and fair will answer this and other fair questions fairly.

A Good Walker.

Mr. Charles Brownlee is one of our oldest and best known citizens. On Friday he was out in Ennismore and thought he would take a walk. He did so and covered over eight miles. The sun was over 100 degrees, still Mr. Brownlee, who is over 84 years of age, did not feel much the worse for his journey.

Masonic Anniversary.

Sunday next being St. John's Day the Masonic fraternity of the town will attend Divine service at St. Andrew's Church at 7 o'clock. An appropriate discourse will be preached by Rev. Bro. Pearson, pastor-elect of the George-st. Methodist Church. The brethren will assemble at the Hall at 6 p.m., from whence to the church they will proceed in a body.

PRICES shorn of Profits. Critical tastes Satisfied and everybody pleased with Groceries at The Pantry.

Decoration Day Notes.

Ladies who can donate flowers for the ceremonies next Tuesday are requested to leave them at either of the lodge rooms, or for Otonabee Lodge at Mr. A. Mercer's store, and for Peterborough Lodge at Mr. Harry Long's. The lodge rooms will be open from 9 a. m. on Tuesday for the reception of flowers. Flowers last longer by being cut and placed in water over night. The brethren will meet at their respective lodges at 1.30 p. m. sharp, to receive their badges. Order of procession will be formed in Central Park. Visiting brethren are invited to take part in the beautiful ceremony. It is not the intention of the committee this year to apply for the proclamation of a half holiday, but they would accept it as a personal favor if all the merchants will give their employes the afternoon. Canton Peterborough, Patriarchs Militant, under Capt. McNeil, and headed by the Fire Brigade Band, will lead the procession.

A Specimen Coin.

One of the excursionist on Thursday, while in Bobcaygeon, appropriated from a pile a specimen of the "coin" in which subscriptions to the independent are paid. The specimen (stick of wood) was displayed in the window of McClelland's jewellery store with the following inscription:—

"This specimen stick was 'borrowed' on Thursday by a member of the excursion party from the woodpile of the Bobcaygeon Independent. In such wood as this do the intelligent and discriminating public of Nogie's Creek, Toker's Corners, Crowley's Bridge and Farnell Point pay their subscriptions to this mighty representative of the press. With such wood as this the fires are kindled which set in motion the the powerful engines used in running off with lightning-like rapidity the thousands of copies of the Independent. These, scattered broadcast over all quarters of the civilized and uncivilized globe, fling abroad the seeds of truth, which, springing up, produce a crop that is wonderful to behold of the Good, the True and the Beautiful. No wonder it was hot in Bobcaygeon."

Gave Satisfaction.

BENESFORT, May 21, 1888.

To Mr. G. B. Sproule Photographer;

DEAR SIR,—The photographs you made of my children arrived safely and gave entire satisfaction. Mr. THOS. WOOD

Run In.

An individual evidently of the genus crank, commenced to preach on the market square this morning in front of the entrance to the circus. He was very obstreporous and noisy, refused to desist when requested by the police and consequently he soon found himself locked up in a cell.

FROM modest efforts, honest goods, high quality, square dealing, good treatment, small profits, on to grand achievements in the way of Satisfying Bargains is the motto of The Pantry.

Drunks.

Two drunks sat on the sidewalk near the corner of George and Charlotte-sts. last night, and their loud and profane talk had not by any means a soothing effect on the neighbors, who were trying to get some sleep. A telephone message was sent in, but no officers were at the station, the two on duty being otherwise engaged. They richly deserved being run in.

Good for two Days.

The tickets for the P.A.A.A. excursion to Belleville on Dominion Day are good for two days and the price is low, only $1.10. This will be a gala day in Belleville. A visit to the City of the Bay is pleasant at any time, but it will be especially so on this day, as the great wheelmen's meet will be held there. It will be a grand sight to see the host of bicyclists in procession.

Excursion to Bobcaygeon.

The Young's Point Base Ball Club will have an excursion from Young's Point to Bobcaygeon, on Tuesday next, June 26th, per the new steamer Mary Ellen. The boat will leave the Point at 6.30 a. m., fare for the round trip $1.00. This is a splendid opportunity to visit the back lake waters, and to enjoy some solid fun at the picnic at Bobcaygeon. The steamer is new and staunch and will make fast time. 2d147

Howe's Shows.

Howe's shows reached town from Lindsay on the Grand Trunk this morning and pitched their tents on the market square. About 11.30 o'clock the procession headed by a brass band started out and paraded the principal streets of the town and were witnessed by a very large number of spectators. The performance is in progress as we go to press and the tent is filled. They will appear again this evening and on Monday afternoon and evening.

I.O.O.F.

At the regular meeting of Mount Hebron Encampment, I.O.O.F., held on Friday evening, the following officers were elected for the ensuing term:—

R. M. Roy ..... C.P.
M. Mowry ..... H.P.
W. E. Matthews ..... S.W.
Jas. A. McGill ..... J.W.
E. E. Henderson, (re-elected) ..... Scribe.
Thos. Armstrong ..... Treasurer.

Dr. R. W. Bell, Representative to the Grand Encampment of Ontario. The remaining officers will be appointed and all installed at the next meeting.

Large and May Be Doubled.

The Midland Free Press says:—"The shipping trade of this port has been very lively so far this season, and the capacity of our elevator has been fully tested. It is now settled beyond a doubt that at least double the capacity, or even storage room for one million bushels of grain, will not be in advance of our requirements in a very short time, if the railway people endeavor to develop the grain trade, because our harbor is yearly growing in favor among vesselmen and shippers. There is some talk of the G. T. R. doubling the capacity of the present elevator during the summer or fall. We hope that this has been fully decided on. The G. T. R. by making an effort, could easily double its grain traffic from Midland."

Successful Social.

On Friday evening a highly successful social under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society of St. Paul's Church, was held at the residence of Mr. Wm. Ferguson, High Park, North Monaghan. The spacious grounds and residence were thrown open to the public and for several hours all present enjoyed themselves greatly. The band of the Fire Brigade furnished excellent music at intervals during the evening, Misses Swayne and C. Macdonald also contributed vocal solos, the accompaniments being played by Mrs. Geo. Stevenson. The attendance was large, it being estimated that upwards of two hundred persons were present, the large majority of whom were from town. Refreshments, consisting of ice cream, lemonade, coffee and cake were served liberally. The Rev. Mr. Torrance was present. A number of the bicyclists went up on their wheels a portion of the way, but walked the greater portion of it. Those from town reached home about midnight, much pleased with their outing, and all speak highly of the attentions of Mr. and Mrs. Ferguson and their estimable family.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla operates radically upon the blood, thoroughly cleansing and invigorating it. As a safe and absolute cure for the various disorders caused by constitutional taint or infection, this remedy has no equal. Take it this month.

Gospel Temperance Song Service.

On account of the intense heat the Sunday afternoon temperance meeting will be withdrawn until further notice.

A Rumor.

Quite an excitement was caused around town last night by a rumor that Mr. James Fairweather had been drowned in the Little Lake. The report, we are pleased to state, had no foundation in fact.

Stealing Iron.

An iron dealer reported to the police this morning that a raid had been made on his piles during the night and a considerable quantity carried off. It is strongly suspected that boys who wanted money to see the circus are responsible for the theft.

Excursion to Jubilee Point.

St. Luke's Sunday School Pic-Nic will be held at Jubilee Point, Friday, June 29th. Steamer Golden Eye leaves Peterborough wharf at 8 a.m., calling at Ashburnham. Return tickets: Adults, 40 cents. Children 25 cents. 6d144.

Too Hot.

Several cases of prostration by the heat were reported last night. While no cases of sunstroke are heard of, more than one person was forced to seek shelter or fall on the street. The death of a cow across the river is attributed to the excessive heat.

Inspecting the Bridge Works.

The Warden and members of the County Council paid a visit of inspection to the Central Bridge Works this morning. They were shown through by Mr. Law and all the different processes were explained to them. They were much pleased with their visit and expressed their thanks to Mr. Law.

Home Again.

Messrs. T. Hay, C. E., and R. Tivey, of the G. T. R., returned home from Chicago on Friday night. The object of their visit to the west was to obtain information regarding the great grain elevators of that city, with a view to enlarging and otherwise greatly improving the elevator at Midland. They picked up many wrinkles.

Bad Boys Bathing.

Danny Houlihan, Fred Appleyard, Tommy Tuquette and Albert Tuquette, four boys who had been caught bathing in the pond near the west ward school, were marshalled before the magistrate this morning, by the Chief. They all simpered, pleaded guilty and were discharged with a caution. The next offenders in this respect will not fare nearly so well.

Almost Out.

The flies that delight to hover around the electric lights and get burned to death were out in full force again last night. All the lamps in town had their globes half full at least. The lights in front of Hall, Innes & Co's block were almost extinguished when midnight came and the chances are that they would not have burned half an hour longer.

St. Leon Water.

The marvellous results from the use of St. Leon Water in Rheumatism, Constipation and all diseases arising from a torpid liver is testified to by hundreds of grateful drinkers of the water. References are kindly permitted to N. T. Lapiant, Frank Bell, Rev. Father Lynch and many other prominent citizens. Sold by the glass and gallon or aerated by Taylor & Macdonald, Druggists, sole agents. d140-w25

A Fine Horse.

The horsemen in this section of the country appear to be waking up at last to the great importance of securing thoroughbred sires, and as a consequence a large number have been brought in during the last few years. The latest edition is Black Prince, purchased from Mr. J. O. Perras, of Laprairie, Que., by Messrs. Shearer & Elmhirst, of Otonabee. He reached town on the C.P.R. to-day and since his arrival he has been viewed and admired by hundreds of people. Black Prince is indeed a beauty. His sire was the imported thoroughbred Black Prince. His dam was a thoroughbred imported French mare and his grand dam Blackhawk. The price paid was private, but it is said that it reached a handsome figure.

A Pitiable Case.

On Friday afternoon it was reported at the police station that a man with a sore face was lying on the side of the road near the stove foundry. Officer Stewart went down, but could not find him. Later on, however, he was captured on King-st., where he was raising a disturbance. He turned out to be William Course, the well known backer, who is suffering from a cancer in his mouth, which has broken out and he presents a most revolting appearance. He was sent to Toronto for treatment some time ago, but as the doctors there could not do anything to relieve him, he was sent home again. As he has no home or friends he was sent to gaol as a vagrant. On Tuesday he was released and this morning he was sent up for a six months' term. The Magistrate promised to interest himself in the case and secure comforts and attendance for the suffering man.

New Time Table.

The Grand Trunk Railway has issued a new time table, which takes effect on Monday, June 25th. The new local train from Peterborough to Toronto is given on it. It leaves Peterborough at 6.40 a.m., arriving at Port Hope at 7.40 and Toronto at 9.55. It leaves Toronto 5.30 p.m., reaching Port Hope at 8 and Peterborough at 9. There is a slight change in the express from Toronto, which leaves the city at the same time and arrives here at 9 o'clock p.m. instead of at 8.50. On the grand Junction there are two changes. The morning train will leave here at 8.20 instead of at 8.30, and arrive in Belleville ten minutes earlier. The afternoon train leaves Belleville at 4.30 and reaches Peterborough at 7.50 instead of 8.05. The morning train to Lakefield leaves here at 8.35, fifteen minutes earlier than formerly, and arrives in Lakefield at 9.30. Returning it leaves Lakefield at 10.15 a.m., instead of 10.05, and arrives at 11.07, instead of 10.57. The changes are slight and are in the right direction. The Toronto local is a good addition.

Mortuary Statistics.

The Dominion Mortuary Statistics for May are to hand. The number of deaths in Peterborough was only 7, the smallest with one exception in the Province. Five were males and two females. All the males died of local diseases. The deaths in other places were Toronto 204, Brantford 22, Hamilton 78, Guelph 13, Belleville 10, Kingston 24, Ottawa 54, London 32, Woodstock 11, Chatham 13, Galt 14.

Cricket Notes.

The juniors did not go up to Lindsay today to play the return match, with the High School club of that town, as the latter had expressed a desire not to play until the holidays.

The juniors will play with the Port Hope colts, at that place, on Saturday next.

Whitby wants the game scheduled for Peterborough, to be played in that town. It is not probable that the request will be granted.

This is the Place.

The closer Dominion Day approaches the greater becomes the excitement regarding the grand demonstration to be held in Peterborough. To-day visitors by the hundred were inquiring regarding the bill of fare offered. When they learned that horse races, deer hunts, fox hunts, band concerts, and fireworks were on the list in addition to the great calithumpian parade, they unanimously declared that Peterborough was the place to spend the day, and witness the sport.

Brevities.

—The long expected rain came in a small scale this afternoon.

—The town Council will probably meet on Monday night.

—It still continues remarkably warm, even for June weather.

—The morning trains to-day were all crowded with country people.

—Among the employees of the Howe show are quite a number of Indians.

—There was a large attendance of boys at the police court this morning.

—The lemonade vendors and peanut merchants did a lively trade to-day.

—A free exhibition in front of the sideshow this morning attracted a large crowd.

—Several new and handsome flower beds were planted at the Horticultural Park to-day.

—The men who were driving the pins this morning found the market square rather hard.

—The cowboys and Mexicans with the Howe show attract much attention on the streets.

—During the past few days the cooling qualities of Walnwright's pure ice have been appreciated.

—A By-law for early closing for the bookstores, etc., will propably pass at the Council meeting on Monday evening.

—Mr. Wm. Mitchell, of the Ottawa Free Press, who is looking after the press interests of the Howe Show, called on us this morning.

CAMPBELLFORD.

FELL FROM A BUILDING.—Mr. Anson Connor, a young man of Seymour east, met with a serious accident one day during the week. He was assisting at the building of a barn on the farm of Mr. Wm. Meiklejohn, and was on top of the structure staying a brace. The brace slipped from its position, and Connor fell to the ground, a distance of about fourteen feet, dislocating his ankle and breaking the bone above it. He was removed to his home and attended to by a physician.

LIBERATED.—The two young men, Alexander Armour and William Keating, of Campbellford, who were sent to the Kingston penitentiary on the strength of charges brought against them by a worthless and characterless family named Davey, who resided here for a short time, were released from that institution one day during the week, and have returned home. They have been in confinement about three years and eight months.

CHARGED WITH THEFT.—A young man named Clarke who has been residing in Campbellford for a short time, was sent to the counties gaol on Wednesday, on a charge of taking $10 from a fellow boarder at the residence of Mrs. Nadon. His trial took place before Justice LeVescomte on Tuesday. The young man could not be induced to remain at home, and while here he has passed the time in indolence. His parents reside in the township.—Herald.

"I assure you, father, the one thing needed to make the furnishing of this library complete is a lovely hanging lamp in place of this stand one which we have used for years. Nothing seems to give the finishing touch to the equipments of a room like a nice hanging lamp such as they keep at China Hall. Those ornaments up there, which I also bought at China Hall, are lovely. Every one admires them, and just half the price I was asked for the same things in Toronto, but still, father dear, I must have the lamp."

SATURDAY, JUNE 23, 1888.

MONA'S CHOICE.

BY MRS. ALEXANDER.

"—— a delightful country! What a pretty place!"

"Wait till you are up at the hoose. I think you'll say it is better than Westbourne Villas."

They soon reached the "hoose," which was turned in a contradictory manner with its face to the hill, and built of melancholy, half-mourning gray-stone. At the door stood a respectable gray-haired "dour" looking woman—the cook and general servant—and behind, the "bit lassie" who helped her.

"This is my niece, Miss Craig," said Uncle Sandy to the "dour" looking woman; "ye'll just do a' she tells ye."

"She'll likely not know our ways, and she frae the south," she returned, sulkily.

"Then you must teach me," said Mona, smiling so pleasantly on her that her face relaxed.

"We'll learn quick if they are so minded," she said, less harshly.

Then Uncle Sandy led Mona through the museum, the dining-room, the drawing-room, the library.

"You see it's no a poor hoose," he said, with satisfaction. "Noo, come awa' to your ain bed-chamber. You'll like it fine, I am thinking." Uncle Sandy stumped down the passage and introduced his niece to a pretty airy chamber, the windows of which looked over the garden, with a side glimpse of the loch. "My room is next you. I thought if I were sick, or bad with the rheumatics, it would be well to have you nigh hand me. I have had a bell put there, ye see, just over the head of your bed. I can reach the rope frae mine, and wake ye any time I want ye."

"A delightful arrangement," said Mona, laughing. "It is a charming room, and when I unpack I shall make it look quite pretty. The house has evidently been arranged by men, uncle; it seems awfully bare."

"Aweel, women have their uses. If I had been able to marry the lassie I loved, I would be a different mon this day."

Mona soon found that life at Craigdarroch, in spite of the beauty that surrounded her, was not a bed of roses.

Mr. Craig viewed housekeeping expenses through the small end of his mental telescope, and tried to keep them down to impossible limits; while at the bottom of his manly heart he feared Phemie, the cook, far too much to do more than grumble indefinitely.

"She is a wastefu' deil," he whispered to his niece, the second day of her sojourn at Craigdarroch, when he was solemnly handing her the keys, and instructing her in the duties of her new position. "You can look after her better than I can. She just drinks pounds o' tea; twa ounces ought to do her and the girlie for a week, and then the flesher's bill is just fearfu'. They twa want good meat meals every day."

"But, uncle, they must have meat every day—no one would serve you without it."

"Well, it's just a bad new fashion. Scotchmen grew to be what they are on good oat-meal."

"I shall do my best, uncle, but I am not economical, I warn you. I know what it cost Madame Debrisay and myself to exist, and it will be a sort of guide. May I look at your books?"

"Books! I never keepit any. I just know the siller slips away ower fast."

"No wonder you think so, if you keep no accounts. I will not undertake impossibilities, but if I do not give satisfaction, you must turn me away. Craig of Craigdarroch ought to live like a gentleman."

"Eh, but that's weel said!" cried Uncle Sandy, with sudden enthusiasm, which showed Mona she had hit the right nail on the head. "Weel, do your best, dearie; but you mauna ruin me."

"I will not, try, uncle."

So Mona took up her cross with courage and found, as is often the case, that difficulties vanish at the touch of a bold hand.

* * * * * * * *

A week of this new life passed rapidly. Mona found her hands full; nor was the work unpleasant. Her nature was essentially feminine. She loved order and delicate nicety in her home, thought no trouble too much to secure it. Fortunately she succeeded in winning the allegiance of the cook, who, having anticipated that the stinginess of her master would be intensified by the minute inspection of a mistress was relieved to find a greatly increased degree of justice and liberality in the domestic government.

The furniture, too, vexed her soul. It was excellent as regarded quality, but frightful in form and color. With much persuasion she induced Uncle Sandy to permit of her ordering pretty colored muslin curtains, a few cheap Oriental rugs, and some small et ceteras, the choice of which Mona confided to Mary Black. These, with sundry baskets and pots of flowers disposed about the drawing-room, so transformed it that Uncle Sandy scarcely recognized the once stiff and dreary chamber.

"You're a clever lassie," he cried. "You have made the place look grand at no great outlay. Noo, I'm hoping you'll no ask mair siller for a long time."

"We shall want some additions to our furniture and decorations, uncle, before winter," returned Mona, who had learned from experience that the less Uncle Sandy was asked for, the less he was inclined to give. "But I will tell you about them in good time. Now that you are going to reside here, you must have your house nice. I think you ought to be obliged to Miss Black for the trouble she has taken."

"Weel, and who says I am not?" She and her people are Kenneth's friends, hev'"

"They are. They were so kind and hospitable to me when I arrived, weary and way-worn, in Glasgow, that I should like immensely to ask her to spend a few days here on her way home, if you would permit me. She is a nice girl. I am sure you would like her."

"Oh! ay, you may ask her as much as you like. Can she sing a Scotch song?"

"I have no doubt she can. Then I may write to Miss Black?"

"Ay, she'll tell a' the folk in Glencorrie what a grand place Kenneth is in."

"Yes; of course she will."

Mr. Craig took his umbrella, and with a muttered complaint that his "puir back was awfu' bad the day," hobbled off with the accompanying knock knock of his supports on the floor, to worry the gardener.

The delight of Kenneth [illegible] he heard of the success which had [illegible] Mona's sudden inspiration suggesting the invitation to Mary Black, cannot be easily described. His dark eyes were aglow with pleasure from the time he heard of it. His gratitude to his benefactress was unbounded. He was indefatigable in his efforts to oblige everyone. At length the happy day arrived when he was to go into Kirktoun to meet the expected visitor, who was to reach that station at half past one. Mona had made all due preparation for the guest, and sat down to read the Times to Uncle Sandy in the drawing-room. They had not long been thus employed when the sound of wheels upon the gravel attracted their attention.

"It canna be Kenneth, yet," said Uncle Sandy, glancing at the clock.

"No, he has hardly reached Kirktoun yet," returned Mona.

"There is a gentleman who wants to speak wi' you," said the little help, coming into the room in the neat cap Mona insisted on her wearing.

"Aweel, put him in the museum," replied her master.

"Eh, but he's just behind me!" cried the girl, stepping back, whereupon a gentleman in shooting dress walked in, a distinguished-looking man, with an imbrowned face, rather light eyes, and thick mustache.

"You will, I hope, excuse—" he was beginning in the clear, haughty voice Mona remembered so well, when his eyes met hers, and he stopped, growing suddenly [illegible]

THE OLD GRANT HOMESTEAD.

Sold to Satisfy a Mortgage Held by Vanderbilt.

ST. LOUIS, June 23.—The old Grant homestead, located four miles from the city limits on the Gravels road, was sold by Chauncey M. Depew, [illegible] gage held by W. H. Vanderbilt. The farm consists of 750 acres and was mortgaged to Vanderbilt at the time of the Grant & Ward failure. It was bought by E. H. Conn of this city for $70,000. Conn proposes to make a fine stock farm of it. The farm originally belonged to the Depew family.

Defaulter Pascoe Expelled.

PHILADELPHIA, June 23.—David M. Pascoe, ex-Secretary-Treasurer of the International Typographical Union, has been expelled from the International Union at its meeting held in Kansas City last week. He is charged with appropriating the funds of the Union to his own use and in failing to account for over $2000 which he should have on hand. The exact amount of the defalcation is not yet known, but so far a shortage of $2000 has been discovered. The resolution expelling Pascoe from the International body also provides for his expulsion from Philadelphia Typographical Union No. 2, of which he is a member.

The Week's Failures.

NEW YORK, June 23.—The failures occurring throughout the country during the last seven days number for the United States 176 and for Canada 28, or a total of 204 failures as compared with 232 last week and 235 the week previous to the last.

REPUBLICAN CONVENTION.

FIVE BALLOTS TAKEN AND THE CONVENTION AT A STANDSTILL.

Depew gives his Reasons for Retiring—The Grangers would not Swallow the Railway Magnate—The Balloting.

CHICAGO, June 25.—Chauncey M. Depew was asked his reasons for retiring. Before replying to this question he said: "The members of the New York delegation were unanimously in favor of my nomination—that is, unanimous with one exception. One man thought to distinguish himself and carry the world on his shoulders.

"The delegates assured me of their votes as long as ballots were to be cast. New York is perhaps the greatest State in the Union. The greatest in its manufactures, in the value of its agricultural productions, in the extent of its commerce and the capitalization of its railroads. New York is a commercial state and its people have learned to estimate a man by his capacity and success in business.

"However it may be considered in the west, there is in New York an undertone but indignant feeling against Cleveland. This feeling can be utilized only by a citizen of New York, one who has the confidence of the business classes from long connection with them and residence among them. It is a feeling which, with direction and a candidate in whom they have confidence and felt sure would succeed and carry the State would strike and strike to kill. Twenty or thirty thousand Democrats would bolt.

Representatives of five of the Western States came to me this afternoon, just after the Convention. They told me that my nomination would be a very serious thing to the Republican party in Kansas, Iowa, Nebraska and Wisconsin. No, not Minnesota. Minnesota repudiated it. They told me it would permanently endanger the Republican party in those States, perhaps disrupt, because I was a railroad man. That it would identify the Republican party with railroad monopoly.

The Inter-Ocean says:—A number of lieutenants of the various candidates met about 11.30 o'clock Saturday afternoon. All the candidates were represented except Senator Harrison. J. S. Clarkson was Senator Allison's near friend in the meeting. Mayor McKinley, Green B. Raum, Senator Quay and Major Butterworth appeared for Sherman. Mr. Blaine was represented through members of the Conference delegation. Powell Clayton was also on hand and two or three of Alger's best men. Senator Farwell was there for Judge Gresham. The meeting did not adjourn till three o'clock. It is learned that one thing was very unanimously decided upon, and that was to prevent any hasty action being precipitated upon the Convention or to allow a stampede to take place in favor of any dark horse. It was concluded that the best way to do the business of making a candidate for the Republican party was to proceed very slowly and act with mature judgment.

The names of none of the candidates were brought before the meeting. It is now clear that New York does not hold the key to the situation, and that the Convention does not intend that that State shall dictate who shall be the nominee.

The decision reached by the meeting will prevent any stampede should Blaine's name be sprung on the Convention. Gresham, Allison, Alger and Sherman go into the convention again with their forces at command and without concentrating all on any individual. A report was current after midnight that New York had agreed to transfer forty votes to Harrison, on the condition that if it should appear that Harrison could not be nominated, the votes given him should be released. A member of the New York delegation, who stands high in the councils of the party, said they were in earnest for Harrison, and would do their utmost to nominate him. They believed that the other delegates would not dare to ignore the wishes of New York after she had withdrawn her own candidate.

A forth and fifth ballot were taken on Saturday. Below is a table giving the balloting in detail up to Saturday night when the convention adjourned.

	1st	2nd	3rd	4th	5th
Whole number of votes					853
Necessary to a choice					427
Alger	84	116	122	135	142
Allison	72	75	88	88	99
Blaine	35	32	35	42	48
Depew	99	99	91	..	..
Fitler	24	..	..	..	..
Gresham	111	108	123	98	87
Harrison	80	91	94	217	213
Hawley	13	..	..	..	..
Ingalls	28	16	..	..	..
Lincoln	3	2	2	1	..
McKinley	2	3	8	11	14
Miller	..	..	2	..	..
Phelps	25	18	5	..	..
Rusk	25	20	16	..	..
Sherman	229	249	244	235	224
Foraker	..	..	..	1	1
Douglas	..	..	..	1	..

There was a narrow escape from a Blaine stampede in the Convention at 4 o'clock in the afternoon. Depew, who was responsible for the Harrison boom which gave such promise, admitted the failure of that movement and declared himself for Blaine. Instead of getting nominated in the morning Harrison was forced to the utmost of his strength and compelled to fall back confessedly beaten. Harrison's friends are very indignant at the manner in which he has been treated and claim a mere pretence was made of giving him hearty support and that from the first it was not intended by Elkins and his colleagues to permit the Hoosier's nomination. They were in an ugly mood Saturday night, and while confessing their favorite's defeat had no plans for the future.

The Elkins programme of beating the regular candidates one after another, thus preparing the way for Blaine, is being successfully carried out. Sherman fell by the wayside on Friday and has telegraphed his delegates relief of all pledges to him. Harrison was beaten on Saturday. The friends of Judge Gresham are making one last rally and are forcibly presenting his claims as the strongest man on whom the opposition to Blaine can unite.

This afternoon's adjournment without a ballot was first put down as an anti-Blaine victory, but the facts do not support this theory. There are good reasons for believing that Depew's abandonment of Harrison was arranged to be the signal for a Blaine stampede, but it is the policy of the Blaine forces to aid all efforts to secure delay.

There is no concealment of the bitter feeling prevailing over the manner in which the Convention is being juggled with by the friends of Blaine, who pretend to be giving other candidates a fair chance and at the same time take good care to defeat them one after the other as they rise in prominence in balloting. So much feeling is being engendered by these tactics, which the friends of Harrison denounce as a confidence game, making dupes of earnest men, that a revolt against the Blaine programme is threatened. Many visitors, disgusted with the manipulation of the convention, which brings on an adjournment without an attempt to transact business, are leaving the city, and if the feeling of antagonism among delegates continues to grow another than Blaine may be nominated.

Elkins has openly boasted of his ability to beat any candidate the opposition may put up and also boasts of having defeated Sherman and Harrison. He says there is no doubt of Blaine's acceptance of nomination. The current prediction is that Blaine will be nominated, possibly after a conference with the representatives of the defeated candidates at which a letter or telegram from Mr. Blaine will be read.

The Tribune says that the anti-Harrison forces have combined to prevent his nomination, and after a ballot or two more will adjourn to unite on some other candidate.

The News says the ticket still looks like Blaine and Harrison or Blaine and Alger.

The Tribune says Alger and Allison gained strength.

The Herald says Alger and Allison, men are very hopeful. It says part of Pennsylvania will go to Allison after Sherman.

The papers agree that at present Harrison is the most popular candidate.

Mr. Blaine's Movements.

LONDON, June 25.—Mr. Blaine left Melrose for Dalkeith this morning.

They Refuse to be Buried.

CHICAGO, June 25.—The Presidential situation is practically unchanged. Yesterday brought a clearer understanding of the conditions under which the remarkable contest is to be fought out. Gradually it has dawned upon the Convention that certain men pretending to represent Blaine have determined to prevent the nomination of any other candidate in order to make Blaine's nomination a possibility. Their aim has been to kill off one candidate after another till none of the original aspirants remained. There is a general belief that some despatches from Blaine will be read to the Convention to-day, probably one requesting his friends to refrain from voting for him.

The situation Saturday night may be described as follows: In the Convention to-day all the candidates will stand firm. There are no withdrawals. The conference of anti-Blaine men has agreed not to present any candidate for the support of the Opposition. Indeed it is unable to agree upon a candidate. There is a deep feeling on all sides that the "Blaine or bust" programme is not sanctioned by Mr. Blaine. The plan of the opposition therefore is simply to stand firm and wait for Blaine himself to speak or for his assured representatives to face the issue. The candidates whom Elkins professed to have killed refuse to be buried. Every one of them is still in the race and determined at all hazards to prevent Blaine's nomination. To-day's balloting is likely to show little change from Saturday.

English Comment on the Platform.

LONDON, June 25.—The Chicago platform was cabled in full to The Times, but elicits no comment of importance, unless the comment of The Spectator may be called important. That journal thinks it unlikely that the sorely pressed and unprotected agriculturists will support such a programme. "The enthusiasm of the Convention," remarks the same writer, "manifests itself in the worst style of oratory we remember to have read; oratory as of Americans educated by Irishmen."

A STEAM YACHT UPSETS.

Six Young People Drowned near Newark, N.J., on Saturday Night.

NEWARK, N.J., June 25.—A party of ladies and gentlemen hired the steam yacht Olivette Saturday night and went for a trip down the bay. The boat went aground on the jetty at the foot of the bay and several of the male passengers jumped over on the jetty, and in doing so the boat lurched and slid off into deep water. The girls then made a rush for the side of the boat and this caused her to keel over suddenly and in a second she turned bottom up and six of the party were drowned.

The names of those lost were: Louis Groff, 20; Gussie Leitz, 20; Lizzie Colfin, 15; Minnie Burgher, 19; Gussie Weber, 19; and Annie Fricke.

Saw Her Child Killed.

LIMA, O., June 25.—This afternoon Mrs. Mary Wolfe left a small baby carriage containing her 6-months' old child standing in front of Ramsey Brothers' shoe store while she went inside to do some shopping. The carriage, from some unaccountable cause, started to run away and ran into the gutter, upsetting and throwing the child out in front of a horse and buggy; the horse stepped on the child's head, crushing the skull. The mother, seeing the horse step on the child, became frantic and fainted away. It was some time before she was restored. The child lived only a short ti-

GLADSTONE'S CHALLENGE.

ITS READY ACCEPTANCE SURPRISES THE LIBERALS.

The Ministry Likely to be Supported by an Unbroken Majority—The Conservative Meeting at the Foreign Office.

NEW YORK, June 25.—G. W. Smalley cables The Tribune from London. Mr. Smith's ready acceptance of Mr. Gladstone's challenge has surprised the Gladstonians. They did not expect Mr. Smith to be ready. They had, however, given him plenty of time. They had announced before hand with much music of trumpets that the Ministry was to be brought to book about coercion. There are good tactticians on the Tory side as well as on the Liberal, and they recognized at once the advantage which this step gave them. There have been of late divisions in the Unionist ranks on minor matters, and the Tories themselves have had their differences. All these disappear at once. Mr. Morley's motion is to call to arms, and the Ministerial ranks close up instinctively. It is not about coercion that the Tory-Unionist coalition has been concerned. There are no searchings to the heart among them on that question, or none which have become public. Lord Randolph Churchill is the only important personage who doubts the efficacy of the plank bed. The whole party, from Lord Hartington to Mr. Colling, and from Mr. Smith to Mr. Ashmead Bartlett, will support Mr. Balfour and all his works. There will be two days debate, perhaps more, and whatever may be the merits of the question, the Ministry will in the end be supported by an unknown majority. Mr. Morley and Mr. Gladstone probably hope to convince the country, if not the House of Commons. The Dillon case will be the chief item in their programme, and the criticisms on the conviction of Mr. Dillon are chiefly technical; necessarily so. Broader censures reach the Crimes Act itself, not merely the administration of it. The Tories, rightly or wrongly, rejoice in the prospect before them. Fuller reports are now published of the Conservative meeting at the Foreign Office. They do not read as though it were the gathering of a happy family. Efforts were made to keep the proceedings secret, and Lord Salisbury threatened all tell-tales with heavy pains and penalties, but tales are told and printed. Secrecy respecting the proceedings of a meeting 200 strong is not possible. Lord Salisbury may well have wished to hide the truth. Clearly there are dissensions in the party. He himself talked of left and right wings. His censures were not confined to Mr. Jennings of Stockport, but he complained bitterly of men who allowed themselves to be influenced by individual predilections, and the usual menace was hung up over their heads, that if they suffer the Ministry to be defeated the Ministry will dissolve Parliament and appeal to the country. That means first, a heavy fine on the members in the shape of election expenses; secondly, the possible loss of their seats; and thirdly, the possible return of Mr. Gladstone to power. This last is the bogy which keeps mutineers in order. Mr. Curzon, one of the rising hopes of Tory Radicalism, spoke defiantly enough. "I suppose I am one of the left wing," said he "if the party leaders expect our support, let them take us into their confidence." There were many speakers and some hard sayings were heard. Mr. Smith thought it necessary to offer in an informal way, to resign the leadership of the House. This, of course, was not accepted. "We don't want you to resign," say the malcontents; "we want you to lead." But now come Mr. Curzon, Mr. Bartley and other speakers, flatly denying that they said what they are reported to have said. Mr. Curzon who has a talent for epigram, says that the report is not a caricature, it is a concoction.

The Unionists, too, have had a meeting. Lord Hartington was no less emphatic about secrecy than was Lord Salisbury, nor more successful. All the papers have reports. They show, subject to further details, that the Liberal-Unionists are in entire accord with the Tories. A compromise on temperance issues has been arranged, and there is no other matter on which danger of disagreement was serious.

The two items appear together, significantly enough. Mr. Gladstone is going to speak and vote for the channel tunnel, and Sir Edward Watkin, chairman of the South-eastern Railway is going to speak and vote for the Liberal candidate in the Isle of Thanet. Sir Edward has been a Mugwump for years. Mr. Gladstone's advocacy of the tunnel has convinced him that Home Rule is good for Ireland. But Sir Edward does not carry with him his vice-chairman, Lord Brabourne, sometimes known as his "Man Friday." Mr. Knatchbull Hughessen, the Liberal candidate, is Lord Brabourne's son, and Lord Brabourne advises the electors to vote against him. Altogether the situation is curious. The Liberals have some hopes of winning the seat.

Sheridan's Condition.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—The following bulletin has been issued: There are no very important changes to be noted from the last report in Gen. Sheridan's condition. He rested well last night, and, notwithstanding the heat of the weather has passed a comfortable day. His pulse continues strong though irregular. His respiration seems more even.

Minnie Hauk's Tenth Anniversary.

LONDON, June 25.—Minnie Hauk sang in "Carmen" at Covent Garden Saturday evening. It was the tenth anniversary of her appearance in the role. She was presented with a golden wreath, the gift of a number of noblemen.

Urgent Whips.

LONDON, June 25.—All parties in the House of Commons are urgently whipping in their numbers for the division on Mr. Morley's motion in regard to the administration of the Crimes Act. The division will take place to-morrow.

THE MASONIC SERMON.

PREACHED IN ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH BY REV. BRO. PEARSON.

Farewell Services in the Charlotte and Mark-st. Methodist Churches—A Children's Service in the Baptist Church.

Masonic Special Service.

In St. Andrew's Church at 7 p. m. a sermon of more than usual interest was preached to the Masonic fraternity by Rev. Bro. M. L. Pearson, pastor of the George-st. Methodist Church, and who drove down from Lindsay during the afternoon at considerable personal inconvenience to keep the engagement. The brethern met at the Masonic hall, where the lodge was opened, and afterwards marched in a body along the principal streets to St. Andrew's. By direction of the trustees the centre pews of the church were reserved for the seating of members of the order. The handsome church was well filled by masons and the congregation in general. During the service the choir of the church assisted by leading in the hymns and contributed an anthem, "Peace be within Thy walls."

The service opened with singing "Onward Christian Soldiers" and prayer, followed by hymn 203, and brief invocation. Taking his text from Paul's Epistle to the Romans, chap. 14, verse 7—"For none of us liveth unto himself," Rev. Bro. Pearson preached a well considered and appropriate sermon. He briefly—on opening—defined the nature of a Mason's obligation and the claim to public respect which the carrying out of that obligation merited.

The craft was an organization for mutual good. It was right that there should be association together for mutual benefit. Man loves company. It is the divine ordination that there should be a mutuality of interests, a pooling as it were of sympathy. Understanding this what is the purpose of the Masonic body? It had been asserted by those opposed to the order that the secrecy connected therewith was an objectionable feature. The fact was that the ability to keep a secret had promoted some of the best enterprises and movements the world has ever seen. It was quite a proper thing to say that a people who knew when and how to keep their mouths shut were a wise people. Nature herself is full of secrets, and he who would learn must seek with earnestness and purpose. In like manner the man who studies the Art can never become an athiest. There is no place in the order for men who deny the existence of an all supreme God. The order was not established to teach religion, but is a beautiful system of morality. The members must be loyal, must be obedient to the laws of the country. The purposes of the Masonic association is to make man better in every respect. But masonry still needs masons just as christianity to-day needs christians, and good men and true, of the order, should live up to the principles. Friendship and brotherly love were vital points in the principles of the order. Belief and truth were also cardinal principles Thousands of hearts and thousands of homes have felt the benefits of relief. The order was grand in this respect as it knows no nationality and no differences. The order in this set an example that was worthy to follow.

Of great antiquty the order inculcated noble pricipies that were founded in the law as given from God. But no society, no association of ancient days—outside the Christian church—taught the sacred truths as they are embodied in the principles of the order. The principle of brotherhood was founded on the recognition of the sacred words "I have loved you."

In view of the responsibility ever before the craft, it behoved all to walk in the Light. Their actions and movements should form a standard for other men to walk by.

The sands in the hour glass are getting lower every day. It requires energy and faithfulness to shape our lives by the moral lines of Christ's religion. This is the work the true Mason has before him, and while he is true to the teachings of the craft the work will be done.

After service the brethren marched back to the hall, when the lodge closed down. W. Bro. Brundrette, after compilmenting Rev. Bro. Pearson on the excellent discourse delivered, moved a vote of thanks which was ably seconded by V. W. Bro W. Patterson, and unanimously carried, and in accepting which Rev. Bro. Pearson thanked the craft for their expression of esteem which he heartily appreciated.

Children's Service at Baptist Church.

On Sunday morning a special service was held in the Baptist church for the children of the Sunday school. The church was very prettily decorated with clusters of flowers, vines and daisies, which made a pleasing effect when the scholars marched in from the class room and took their places in the front pews of the church. After several hymns had been sung by the school, assisted by the choir, the Pastor, the Rev. P. C. Parker, secured the attention of the little ones and taking for his text the eleventh verse, Psalm 119:—"Thy word have I hid in mine heart that I might not sin against Thee," addressed them in a most interesting manner; explaining that the best thing they could have was the word of God, the best place they could keep it was in the heart, and the best purpose for which they could have it was that they might not sin against God. Midway in the address the children sang another hymn, and the infant class, led by the teacher Miss E. Stratton, recited the ten commandments very prettily and perfectly.

Mr. Tovell's Farewell.

In the evening the Charlotte-st. Church was crowded to the doors, to hear the Rev. Mr. Tovell preach his farewell sermon. He chose as his text the 4th verse of III. Joshua, reading "Yet there shall be a space between you and it, about two thousand cubits by measure: Come not near unto it, that ye may know the way by which ye must go: for ye have not passed this way heretofore." The Rev. gentleman said that the text showed that we must pass through sorrows, trials, losses and bereavements, but all should trust and obey. Our life is by a new route, we were never over it before. No two lives are alike, the details are different. Even in the Bible characters there is a great diversity in circumstances, emotions and thoughts. God was the nearest to mortals. He was infinite. Christ has had our experience, suffer as we may. All should aim to follow Christ and get His spirit unto us. Jesus is love. We must go forward. There is no retracing. Life is like a great kaleidscope, we cannot repeal it. Each year turns up some new picture and there is no return to that of last year. We cannot undo the past. We may redeem it, but what is done, is done. Life's way should be a divinely guided way as was that of Joshua. Every child of God to-day in the spiritual eye is guided the same. All should walk in the path of Providence, of Christ. If we are off that path there is danger ahead and Christ is not with us. If divinely guided our lives are high and holy. God built up a highway for man and any person who trusts in God is lifted up and ennobled. Christians can march through a guilty, godless world and come out clean and clear. All can rise into the clearer atmosphere where God is. Christians should not have any doubt in their minds, but should look to Christ, who will dispell the darkness and lift the clouds and there will always be a vision of the goodly land ahead. Are we all travelling the good way? Will we all reach heaven? Shall we anchor safely? Will we overcome the last enemy, [illegible] death, and lay hold of the sceptre? [illegible] where shall we land? He was [illegible] with the great responsibility that had rested on him during the four years he had resided in Peterborough, and he asked all those who had not given themselves to God to ponder over the matter deeply, add decide before too late. He advised all to make sure of heaven. The word farewell he did not like, except where it meant fare ye well, and in that sense he used it on this occasion. He returned thanks to the congregation for their unspeakable kindness. During the four years of his pastorate he had been in a constant state of peace of mind. He thanked the people for their fidelity, friendship, thoughtfulness and kindness, and these were the honest sentiments of his heart. His intercourse with all the officials of the church had been agreeable, gentlemanly and christian. To the sexton he was deeply indebted and he hoped that God would bless him and multiply his usefulness. The choir he thanked for their devotion to duty and the efforts they had made to make the ceremonies interesting. For the many comforts provided by the Ladies Aid, he was deeply grateful. The Sunday School workers were doing a noble work and the present building will soon be too small, and he asked the wealthy members of the church to provide funds to enlarge it. He asked that the usefulness of the Y. P. Endeavor Society might increase. To all outsiders he was thankful, and as long as he lived he would never forget Peterborough. He hoped to see Methodism increase and prosper and become a thing of beauty and a joy forever. His relations with the ministers of other denominations, including Father Conway, had been of the happiest character. He found one and all liberal in character and a unit to promote Christianity. He had been greeted in a kindly christian manner by the members of all congregations, and he looked forward to the day when all would be united. In Peterborough there is more unity than in any other place in Canada, a fact that he felt justly proud of. To the Rev. Mr. Davis, he recurned his heartfelt thanks. If, during his pastorate here, he had injured any person he deeply regretted it, and could assure all that it was not done intentionally. Peterborough, he had found to be a quiet, wholesome, healthful and comparatively pure moral town, and there was no place that he knew of in the country where the Christian churches are better patronized. He left Peterborough with regret, and his family joined with him and at all times he would welcome Peterborough people to his home, wherever he might be. Farewell.

Charlotte-st. S. S.

The attendance at the Charlotte-st. Sabbath School was not large, owing to the rain. Mr. Arthur Tebb and Mr. J. L. Hughes expressed regret at losing such an excellent pastor as Mr. Tovell had proven himself to be. Rev. Mr. Tovell, after the usual services said that the scholars attending Methodist Sunday Schools exceeded those of all other denominations combined. He pointed out the great responsibility that rests upon parents and teachers. He asked that the Rev. Mr. Storey be received kindly, with open arms. The boys should touch their hats to him and the girls bow to him on the street, as nothing pleases a pastor more to know that he is recognized by the young folks. He warned all never to lose their self respect and to keep on good terms with themselves. They should try to please everybody and should not be rough or ungainly. All should try to do good and look to Jesus. He wished prosperity to the school and parted from his young friends with reluctance. In conclusion he said that he hoped to meet them all in heaven. Mr. Tebb made a few remarks and the meeting closed with the benediction, by the Rev. Mr. Tovell.

Ashburnham Methodist Church.

In the morning, at the Mark-st. Methodist Church, Ashburnham, a very interesting children's service was held, conducted by the Rev. J. C. Wilson. At the evening service Mr. Wilson preached an able sermon, his theme being "Names Written." At the close of the sermon he addressed a few words of farewell to the congregation. He thanked the officers and congregation for their kindness and sympathy, and referred to the work they had done together. Mr. Wilson has been a very acceptable pastor, and his departure is regretted. He goes to Cobourg.

Right now is the time to use a good Blood Purifying Medicine. Lose no time in getting a bottle of Dr. Carson's Stomach Bitters. It will do you good. Sold by all Druggists.

A POSTMASTER HALF KILLED.

Three Bullets Planted in His Body by Burglars.

STREETSVILLE, June 25. On Saturday a lively attempt at l[illegible] some serious revolver shooting disturbed the quiet of this town. Wm. Graydon is a storekeeper and postmaster and his son Wm. J. is in business with his father. About 2.30 in the morning two men were discovered by the Messrs. Graydon trying to effect an entrance into their store. The merchants just heard a loud rattling at the store door, and the two went out to investigate. Just ontside the door they encountered the pair, and a fight followed. One of the burglars got away, but the Graydons seized the other one and threw him down. As he fell he drew a revolver from his pocket and fired twice rapidly, one of the bullets striking the elder Graydon in the thigh. The pal returned on seeing his pal captured and he, too, fired two shots at the Graydons. The father was once more shot; the bullet this time entering the left arm near the wrist, taking a course towards the elbow. The scoundrels then ran away and were traced as far as Cooksville, where they managed to throw their pursuers off the track. Mr. Graydon is dangerously wounded. The doctors have extracted two of the bullets, but have been unable to reach the other. No fatal results are anticipated.

Give them a Chance.

That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do their work. And what they do, they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boschee's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failed you you may depend upon this for certain.

EXCURSION.—An annual Sunday and day school pic-nic took place on the 21st, and a large number, both old and young, attended. They proceeded to Bewdley for dinner and thence to Idyl Wild for tea. Calling at Jubilee Point, they engaged a violinist who furnished them with music, and dancing proceeded. Some of the members objected to it, but it was of no use. They then arrived at Campbelltown. Most of the older people got ashore, and the merry youths proceeded with the Beaver to Oak Orchard, where a very pleasant time was spent.

At HIGH PRICES.

Our Aim Accomplished,—to make our Store the Hub of Peterborough's Clothing Trade.

52½ c. We are Rattling out at Express Speed, Fine Lines, a Continuation of our Great 52½ cts. on the Dollar Clothing Sale. 52½ c.

WE BOOM UP THE GOODS. WE BOOM DOWN PRICES.

Right we are! Right we shall be! We Hew to the Line let the Chips fall where they may. Dealers who buy at six months time pursue the even tenor of their way. They are content to do business as hundreds of others are doing—and get left. How can the six months time men compete with GOUGHS, The Wonderful Cheap Men, the High Pressure Electric Clothiers, who seize the opportunity to buy at Spot Cash and buy awfully well. Read, you noble sons of toil, what the Clothiers of the Age are going to do for the next 30 days and when you read reflect, and when you reflect, come and buy from them, for you cannot buy from any wholesale house in Canada at the following prices; For thirty days we will sell you:—

Men's Suits at $2.95 that cost imaginary cloth- ; $4.25 wholesale.

Men's Pants for $1.50. We don't say what they are worth but see if you can buy elsewhere for $1.95.

Men's Suits for $5.00 worth easily $10.00.
Men's Halifax Tweed Suits all Wool $5.00.
Men's Fine Worsted Suits $6.90, worth $13.00.
Children's Suits for 58 cents, $1.10, $2.00 and up, worth double the money.

Special Drive in Boys' Coats 19c. each, Men's Working Pants 17c. each.

With ample means, prodigious energy and absolute determination to do the Largest Clothing Business in the District, we shall reach that goal if our friends, the buyers, will realize that no firm or dealer has ever offered the values we have given and are giving in Men's & Boys' Clothing. The Public have responded well to our great sale inducements. The public have our best thanks. We regret that the rush was so large on Saturday that we could not give our customers all the time we would like. Two additional Salesmen will be on hand Saturday next so that all who come can have ample attention. We rely on the invulnerable advantages of Square Dealing, in an Honorable Square Way, and with prices 33⅓ per cent. all round below all competitors are the ironclad basis on which we are doing a Triumphant Clothing Trade.

HOUSEFURNISHINGS.

At this season many Housekeepers are replenishing their supplies of Tableware and China. City folk are furnishing summer cottages; country folk are filling up the dressers and cupboards of the old homestead: town's folk are picking and choosing here and there. Many would be glad to know of a place whose special business is to meet these wan's and desires; that aims to furnish essentially good wares at consistently low prices; that offers the choice of many different dinner services, and yet does not compel you to take an entire set of any pattern, but allow you to select each course of a new design, or buy any portion of the set you may need; that does not try to impose ideas or wares upon purchasers, and yet is ready to advise which of the many wares is most desirable and suitable; and, if wished, will make a careful selection of pattern. When you want Tablewear will you give us the opportunity to serve you.

Skipped Out.

The girl Windsor, near Lakefield, whose child was found under the cheese factory, and who was to stand trial for a charge of having caused its death, in accordance with the verdict at the inquest, has escaped. The village constable employed a woman to watch her, as she could not be moved to gaol, and the woman left her charge. While the constable was looking for someonce else to stand guard, on Thursday night, the girl got away and has not since been heard of. It is said she was assisted in her flight by a friend, and she must have received help to get away.

Obituary.

The death is announced of Mr. Samuel Griffith, an old and well known resident of the town, who expired on Sunday afternoon at the age of 68 years. Deceased came to Peterborough over forty-two years ago, from County Donegal, Ireland, when he was a young man 26th years of age, bringing his wife with him, and who died some twenty years ago. The family number two sons and three daughters, all living, and two sons now dead. Mr. Griffith was a member of the Church of England congregation, (St. John's), and for a time of St. Luke's, Ashburnham, and by his honest and upright life, gained the esteem and respect of all. By his industry at his trade, that of a carpenter, he acquired considerably property which will pass to members of the family. Mr. Griffith took a deep interest in municipal affairs and for several years was a member of the Town Council. The funeral takes place from the family residence on Wednesday, next at 2 30 p.m., interment at the Little Lake Cemetery.

A Boy Injured.

On Saturday evening a young son of Mr. Alex. Scott, who lives near Rice Lake, was standing in front of the gangway leading to the City Hotel yard. A team of horses were driven out and ran against him, knocking him down. He was struck a severe blow, or stepped upon, on the stomach and was severely injured. Dr. King was called and attended to the sufferer, who was removed to a house on Sherbrooke-st.

Mr. Morgan on His Native Heath.

We hasten to lay before our readers the following interesting correspondence received to-day from the celebrated English poet. Mr. Morgan has, it would appear, found a munificent and generous patron, whose donations of 10 shillings and upwards will no doubt assist in keeping alive the fire of a truly noble ambition to excel in verse composition:—

1, PIPER'S ROW,
Wolverhampton, England,
13th June, 1888.

To the Editor Peterborough Review, Ont, Canada:

MY DEAR SIR,—I hope you are well. I am staying in this town. Since I returned from Canada last October, I have had several sums of money from my patron, Lord Tredegar. I have been staying in London, Gravesend and Croydon. I have written many new poems. I visited my native town, Leamington, a few days ago.

My patron, Lord Tredegar, sends me £1 for every printed poem I send to his lordship. My late father, who died in 1877, was the borough surveyor of this town for 12 years. His salary was £450 per annum. My patron, Lord Tredegar, is worth about £300,000 per annum. His lordship is the eldest son of the first Baron Tredegar. The present lord served in the Crimea as captain of the 17th Lancers. My family are related to the noble Baron Tredegar by Descent. I arrived here last night and found a letter awaiting me from Lord Tredegar containing 10s. in cash.

I hope that my friends, Mr. J. D. Collins, Mr. Bell and others are well. I cannot say when I shall revisit your town. I was in New York on Jan. 10th last. I came to Holland in a sailing ship.

I am, yours faithfully,
J. DICKSON MORGAN,
English Poet.

Patron: The Right Hon. Lord Tredegar, J. P., Lieutenant County Mon. Residences: Tredegar Park, Ruperra Castle, Mansion House, Brecon, and Portman Square. Clubs, Carlton, St. James, etc., etc.

A Lunatic.

A man named McGuire, a resident of Harvey, was brought to town on Sunday, by Constable McIlmoyle, of Lakefield. The man is insane and was tied up with ropes. He was very violent and was lodged in gaol. He has been before the court on a previous occasion on the same charge.

Mr. Hammond's Sale.

Don't forget the sale of valuable household furniture at the residence of Mr. H. A. Hammond, west of St. Andrew's church, to-morrow, Tuesday, June 26th, at 12.30 p. m. sharp. Bargains may be expected, as Mr. Hammond is going to the old country. 1d248

The Regatta.

If you are interested in aqutic sports drop down to the lake and see the regatta, on Tuesday evening. The sport begins early and there is a full programme provided, of rowing and paddling races and the tournament and tug of war. Mr. J. McClelland will start the races and Mr. R. M. Roy will act as judge, and his decision will be cheerfully deferred to in all the events.

Legal.

The following case came up in Toronto last week:—"Scott v. Benedict.—Motion on behalf of Defendant B. by way of appeal from an order of the Master in Chambers appointing Judge Weller, of Peterborough, to take the examination of defendant B., at Albany. Walter Barwick for the motion. R. J. Maclennan contra. Appeal allowed. Costs to be costs in the cause.

Avoid the use of calomel for billious complaints. Ayer's Cathartic Pills, entirely vegetable, have been tested forty years, and are acknowledged to be the best remedy for torpidity of the liver, costiveness, and indigestion.

Burglars at Lindsay.

On Saturday morning thieves entered Messrs. McLean & Smith's dry goods house and carried off small wares to the value of about $100. Mr. G. A. Metherall's store was also entered and books, stationery and fancy goods taken, and from Messrs. Graham & Lee's grocery a few boxes of cigars were taken. The thieves took the tools they worked with from Makins' foundry. Be on guard to-night.

Down Fine.

The first of July committee have got the programme down pretty fine and the biggest demonstration ever seen here may confidently be expected. Two more horses were entered this morning for the open trot. The entries do not close until Saturday night. The physlogs are practicing hard, the Indians are anxiously awaiting orders to go on the warpath, the cavaliers have received their costumes, the deer and foxes are in fine shape and a great time generally may be looked for.

For Sale by Auction.

Messrs. G. A. Cox and James Stevenson having resolved to wind up their co-partnership in all property held by them as joint owners, have concluded to put the same up for sale by public auction in order to obtain a basis for settlement. It comprises a lot of the finest property in Peterborough. It will be sold on Monday, the 9th July next. 2148

Howe's Show.

Howe's Circus, under the management of Mr. John Griffin, exhibited on the market square on Saturday afternoon and evening, to large and delighted audiences. The performance throughout is clean and wholesome, and is of a high order. The tumbling, trapeze work, juggling, etc., is of the highest order, and taken all through the performance gave the best of satisfaction. The Albion family, on the Roman ladders, are well-known. Bensley on the slack wire, and the shooting of the cowboys were special features, that took immensely with the audience. They perform again this afternoon and evening, and should be seen by every person.

Baptist Association.

The convention of the Peterborough and Belleville Association of Baptist Churches will begin in the Murray-st. church tomorrow morning. At 10 o'clock devotional exercises will be conducted by the Rev. P. Clifton Parker. The Rev. D. Reddick, B.A., will preach the annual sermon at 11, and the appointment of officers and committees will follow. In the afternoon reports from churches will be read and representatives of church papers and interests will give addresses. In the evening the Rev. Jas. Grant, Toronto, and Rev. D. Mihell, Belleville, will speak on "Foreign Missions," the Rev. Dr. Castle, Toronto, on "Education," and Rev. E. W. Dadson, B.A., on "Denominational Literature." The convention will continue on Wednesday.

PROBABLY MURDER.

A CIRCUS EMPLOYEE SHOOTS ANOTHER ON SUNDAY AFTERNOON.

The Victim an Oneida Indian—The Market Square the Scene of the Tragedy—A Revolver the Weapon The Indian Very Low.

About four o'clock on Sunday afternoon, the town was thrown into a great state of excitement, by the report that one of the circus men had shot a fellow employee. The report turned out to be too true and in a few minutes the market square, where the affair occurred, was literally black with people.

Just exactly how it happened it is impossible to say, there are so many conflicting stories, but the facts as gathered by the County Attorney are substantially as follows:—On Sunday morning Simon Elijah, an Oneida Indian attached to the sideshow, and James F. Farley, alias "Reddy," one of the property men, had a wrestling match, in which the Indian had the best of it. All passed off quietly enough until the afternoon, when Farley and the Indian met in the market square close to the meat market. The Indian in passing said "Hello Reddy." Farley in reply said "Don't speak to me, you black son of a ——." The Indian muttered something not audible to those who were standing near and Farley as quick as a flash pulled out a revolver and fired point blank at the Indian. The bullet hit him on the left side, just about the seventh rib. The wounded man doubled up and fell over, as a dozen or more people ran to his aid.

Farley, who was under the influence of liquor, appeared quite unconcerned and one of the cowboys named Cranston ran out and disarmed him before he could fire a second shot. In the meantime the chief constable, who was in the station at the time, heard the report of the revolver and ran out to the investigate. As soon as Farley saw him, he surrendered himself and was locked up, the chief taking the revolver with him.

As may be imagined the news spread like wildfire. Dr. Collins was summoned, Dr. Rolston, a stranger, quickly followed. The physicians saw that the man was badly wounded and that his life hung in the balance. A mattrass was secured and Elijah was carried to the Grand Central hotel, where Drs. King and Brennan were called in.

Fearing that the man was dying, Police Magistrate Dumble and County Attorney Wood were sent for and a deposition was taken. The Indian recognized the prisoner as the man who shot him and he could not ascribe any cause for it. As the wounded man was under the influence of morphine, the deposition was not taken in the regular way and is valueless as far as evidence goes.

After a consultation the doctors decided that the Indian should be sent to the hospital, and he was accordingly carried to that institution by a dozen stalwart employees of the circus.

The Rev. Mr. Beck was sent for and quickly responded, Elijah being a member of the Church of England.

Mr. John Griffin, the manager of the circus, as soon as he heard of the unfortunate affair, gave instructions to have the best medical talent procured, at his expense, and in fact he did everything that it was possible for a man to do to soothe the sufferings of his employee.

This morning Elijah was in about the same condition as he was on Sunday. No attempt had been made to probe for the bullet and the doctors fear internal hemorrage.

The wounded man is a splendid specimen of his race, with a constitution like iron and that fact alone accounts for him being still alive.

The prisoner is a small man, about 26 years of age and has a sneaking look about him. When the deposition was being taken on Sunday he was very jaunty and insolent, and expressed his sorrow that he had not killed his man. He comes from Philadelphia, where his people reside.

The revolver was an ordinary 32 calibre one and belonged to the "properties" of the show, and was used by one of the cowboys in giving exhibitions. Three of the chambers are still loaded.

Two attaches of the circus named Cranston and Collins were locked up as material witnesses. The former was allowed out by the magistrate this morning.

At the police court this morning the room was filled. Mr. O'Meara appeared for the prisoner. No evidence was taken and the case was enlarged until 4.30 this afternoon.

When being taken up to the gaol on Sunday Farley passed through the Horticultural Park. He looked around him, admired the place and remarked to the chief, "This would be a d—n fine place to swing."

At the court this morning the prisoner appeared to realize the seriousness of his position and inquired anxiously regarding the condition of the wounded man.

On the way down from the gaol Farley smoked a cigar and appeared unconcerned, but his looks betrayed him. He was very anxious that his parents in Philadelphia should be notified.

A large number of witnesses have been subpœnaed. It is said that fully fifty people witnessed the affray.

A rumor was current on the streets this morning that the Indian was dead, but, of course, it was untrue.

The bullet struck the Indian in about the same place as the Italian, who was shot about a year ago, near the Wm. Hamilton Manufacturing Co's foundry. The Italian recovered all right.

The doctors agree that the chances of recovery are only about one in a hundred. His rugged constitution may carry him through, however.

—A drunk named McCabe spent Sunday in the cells and was discharged at the court this morning.

—A great many people intend going out to Bridgenorth to-morrow morning en route to the Bobcaygeon pic-nic.

—The Rev. G. Davis occupied the pulpit of the George-st. church on Sunday morning and Mr. Wm. Cumming in the evening.

—A meeting of the directors of the West Riding Agricultural Society was held on Saturday afternoon. Revision of the prize list was the business in hand.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla acts upon the blood, thoroughly cleansing and invigorating it. As a safe and absolute cure for the various disorders caused by constitutional taint or infection, this remedy has no equal. Take it this month.

Correspondence of the Review.

A PECULIAR CASE.—Four years ago a daughter of Mr. R. Sanderson, while playing with some companions, had the stone of a choke-cherry blown into her ear. It affected her hearing, and although the best medical aid was summoned the stone was not removed. Last week she took the stone out herself with a hairpin, and her hearing is improved.

If the Sufferers from Consumption, Scrofula, Bad General Debility, would try Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil, with hypophosphites they will find immediate relief and a permanent benefit. Dr H. V. Mott, Brentwood, Cal., writes: "I have used Scott's Emulsion with great advantage in cases of Phthisis, Scrofula and Wasting Diseases. It is very palatable. Put up in 50c. and $1 size.

"I assure you, father, the one thing needed to make the furnishing of this library complete is a lovely hanging lamp in place of this stand one which we have used for years. Nothing seems to give the finishing touch to the equipments of a room like a nice hanging lamp such as they keep at China Hall. Those ornaments up there, which I also bought at China Hall, are lovely. Every one admires them, and just half the price I was asked for the same things in Toronto; but sush, father dear, I must have the lamp."

It is Absurd

for people to expect a cure for Indigestion, unless they refrain from eating that is unwholesome; but if anything will sharpen the appetite and give tone to the digestive organs, it is Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Thousands all over the land testify to the merits of this medicine.

Mrs. Sarah Burroughs, of 248 Eighth street, South Boston, writes: "My husband has taken Ayer's Sarsaparilla, for dyspepsia and torpid liver, and has been greatly benefited."

A Confirmed Dyspeptic.

C. Canterbury, of 141 Franklin st., Boston, Mass., writes, that, suffering for years from Indigestion, he was at last induced to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla and, by its use, was entirely cured.

Mrs. Joseph Aubin, of High street, Holyoke, Mass., suffered for over a year from Dyspepsia, so that she could not eat substantial food, became very weak, and was unable to care for her family. Neither the medicines prescribed by physicians, nor any of the remedies advertised for the cure of Dyspepsia, helped her, until she commenced the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. "Three bottles of this medicine," she writes, "cured me."

MONDAY, JUNE 25, 1888.

MONA'S CHOICE.

BY MRS. ALEXANDER.

Mona laid aside her paper, and rising, advanced quietly, saying, as she did so—

"How do you do, Captain Lisle?"

"Miss Joscelyn! This is quite an unexpected pleasure!" he exclaimed, taking the hand she offered, and evidently more moved than she was.

"Hoo's this? Do you know Sir St. John Lisle?" cried Mr. Craig.

"I used to know Captain Lisle," returned Mona, smiling, and looked steadily at him.

"I had the pleasure of meeting Miss Joscelyn in London some years ago."

"There's no Miss Joscelyn here," interrupted Uncle Sandy, impatiently. "This is my niece—my puir brother's daughter—Miss Craig."

"Oh, indeed! forgive the mistake."

He paused, and for a few short seconds seemed less self-possessed than Mona could have imagined possible.

"I suppose," he resumed, in his natural tone and manner, "you are spending the autumn in this beautiful spot, Really, Mr. Craig, you have a superb view—the finest I have yet seen since I came up here," and he advanced to the window, his eyes glancing quickly from the view he praised to Mona's face, which he scanned with a curious, questioning glance.

"It's weel enough," said Uncle Sandy, swelling with pride in his possessions, "and I'm glad you are pleased with it; and noo, what's yer will?"

"Oh—ah—I brought you a letter from Mr. Macfarlane's agent. You will see what he says about your rights of fishing, and how far they extend. It seems M'Gregor has let his fishing to Lord Finlstoun, and I am now on my way to Strathairlie to see what we can do in the way of mutual accommodation. Have you seen Lady Finlstoun yet? You used to be great chums, I remember," addressing Mona.

"I did not know she had arrived."

"They came last Saturday," said Lisle, handing the letter he had spoken of to Mr. Craig, who put on his glasses and proceeded to read it with great deliberation.

"Does she know you are in this part of the world?" continued Lisle, letting his eyes rest on Mona, with the peculiar lingering gaze that used to disturb her—even now it cost her an effort to meet them with a smiling, unembarrassed look, but she succeeded, as she answered—

"No; I rarely hold any communication with her; when we meet, she is as nice and sweet as ever."

"Perennial charm and sweetness seem to be the peculiarity of your race!" he returned, with a caressing smile.

Mona slightly raised her eyebrows, and observed—

"Bertie is not exactly fascinating."

"Bertie, no, of course—"

"I'm thinking there is a contradiction somewhere," interrupted Mr. Craig, looking up from the letter he had been reading. "I will just look for the letter I had frae Balmuir himself. I have it somewhere," and taking his stick he walked away into his library.

"What an extraordinary, delightful surprise to find you here!" exclaimed Lisle, rising and coming over to the window where Mona sat, and leaning his shoulder against the frame. "I never was more amazed than when my eyes fell upon you. Is this old—gentleman really your uncle?"

"Really and truly my father's elder brother. You see, I have reverted to my natural grade."

"I feel all at sea," said Lisle, slowly, his eyes still dwelling on her. "Do you know I watched the papers for the announcement of your marriage for months, then I wrote to Bertie Everard, and heard from him that you had thrown over the poor devil I had been envying, and disappeared in the deepest disgrace with everyone."

"How very good of you to take so much interest in a person you were not likely to see again!" said Mona, looking up in his face with a half smile.

"I always hoped to see you again."

"Really?" archly.

"You knew I did!" returned Lisle, quickly.

"I knew nothing about you, except that you were an amusing partner, and waltzed remarkably well—almost as well as you thought you did."

Lisle did not answer immediately; he pulled his mustache, and looked thoughtfully out of the window.

"And did you discover your uncle soon after you left the Chase?"

"Not for a considerable time."

"And how did you manage?—I am dying to hear your history. You will tell me everything, won't you? We were always sworn allies."

"Oh! I have no story to tell. I have been extremely fortunate, and I have no claim on anyone's compassion."

A scornful smile curved her haughty mouth.

"No. I suspect you would very quickly throw it back in the face of any idiot who presumed to offer it. But I shall see you again, I hear your interesting relative approaching. I must see you again."

As he spoke, Mr. Craig came in, the letter he had gone to seek for in his hand.

"I am right," he said, exultingly, as he tumbled into a chair rather than sat down. "Balmuir himself writes to me on the 25th of June, 1883, that he believes my rights extend as far as the cairn of Kilnethan; and here"—striking the letter Lisle had brought with irritation—"his factor says I canna feesh below the gray stane dike at the lower peels. Just read for yourself."

Lisle took both letters, and read them with an air of profound interest.

"There is a distinct contradiction," he said, when he had finished. "Suppose I take both up to Balmuir, and talk the matter over with him, and let you know the result. I do not wish to give you more trouble than I can help," he added, courteously.

"You're varra polite. It would save me a good bit o' trouble. I'm a puir frail body, as you see; and noo, we'll be having dinner in a quarter of an hour, stay and tak a bite."

"Thank you," said Lisle, frankly and graciously. "I shall be most happy," his eyes seeking Mona's with a laughing glance.

"Just rin oot, dearie," said her uncle, "and tell Jamie to put the horse in the stable. The gig can bide in the yard."

"Pray, Miss—Miss Craig, allow me. I could not think of allowing you to be sent to—"

"You had bett[illegible] Probably Jamie would not attend to your orders," interrupted Mona.

She went away to deliver the message, and Lisle followed her.

"Is Donald at the stables?" she added. "Make him attend to the horse. I am afraid of trusting your smart turn-out in Jamie's rude hands," she said to Lisle.

"He cannot do much. What a trump your uncle is to ask me to stay."

"And how very much bored you will be before the midday meal is over."

"I am ready to risk that."

Mona turned to re-enter the drawing-room.

"Are there not gardens or ferneries or something to look at?" asked Lisle, insinuatingly.

"Yes, we have very good gardens. Would you like to see them?"

"Certainly; above all things."

"Very well. Uncle Sandy," she said, opening the door, "Captain—I mean Sir St. John Lisle would like to see the gardens."

"Varra weel. I'll be proud to show them," and Uncle Sandy leaned over the arm of his chair to pick up his stick, which as usual had fallen on the carpet.

"I will stay to receive Miss Black, who must soon be here," said Mona, gently, as she took up her work and resumed her seat by the window.

TURNBULLS'.
New Goods received this week. Art Muslins, or Peek-a-boo Curtain Nets, Cretonnes, Fringes, Table Oilcloths. Ladies' Belts, Prints, Lawns and Dress Goods.

Among the New Goods that arrived during the week were some Art Muslins, or Peek-a-boo Curtain Nets in fancy colors and beautiful Designs, the correct thing to make a home cosy and attractive, at a small cost. Also a nice assortment of Cretonne Fringes, selling at ten cents a yard, Marble Oilcloths with gold and blue veins in the best qualities. The gold has not been much shown but is particularly desirable Ladies' Belts, a full range in cloth and leather, and to our already attractive stock of Prints we have added some entirely new lines in navy and cream, navy and gold, navy and cardinal and brown and gold in checks, stripes and sprays, White Lawns and all over Embroideries at all prices. Dress Goods. Owing to the large drain on Dress Goods Stock some of the best shades were sold out, but we have been able to repeat them and are now showing a full range again. Value always right. We have also on our Dress Goods counter a range of 25 pieces of All Wool and Bradford Goods which we are selling at 10c. a yard. We are confident that these are the best value being offered at the price.

Just to hand light and dark Seersuckers in desirable patterns, probably one of the newest and most popular goods we are showing for children's wear in navy and cream colored estamine with navy and cream and cream and navy; anchor trimming to match. Mothers should see these goods.

WILLIAM'S INTENTIONS.
HIS ALLEGED WARLIKE HOTHEADEDNESS DENIED.

The Emperor on Germany's Pacific Disposition—How the Kaiser Intends to Honor his Mother—Opening of the Reichstag.

BERLIN, June 26.—German financiers and the great mass of well-informed Germans seem to believe that Kaiser Wilhelm is neither rash nor war-loving, otherwise the steadiness of the stock markets would be incomprehensible. All the stocks, Russians, Austrians, etc., which fluctuated so violently during the last year of the old Kaiser's life, are still controlled in a large measure by the German quotations. These stocks are widely enough scattered throughout Germany to insure a panic in them if any appreciable part of his subjects suspected the Emperor of desiring war; yet there is no suspicion of a panic nor of any marked change from the period of steadiness which seems to have set in. Regarding rumors circulated concerning the Kaiser's disposition and intentions an eminent political authority said to me:

"Most of these war rumors were started or greatly exaggerated by the Radical press, which more than anything else has always feared the reign of another such firmly-intentioned conservative king as was the late Kaiser Wilhelm. Of late, too, the Radicals used every effort to prevent the late Emperor's abdication. Among these means have been all kinds of stories about the present Emperor. Unfortunately the foreign press quotes almost entirely from the sensational opposition papers, and, as a rule the wilder the story the more certain it is to be widely quoted. Hence the world at large, outside of Germany, lacking other information, has agreed to call the Emperor a hot-headed warrior.

"In German politics this misrepresentation must prove a great advantage to the young Kaiser. He has been called bad names until the people are ready to pardon any small errors merely because they feared greater. Now his proclamations prove him a loyal son, and, so far as words go, a wise ruler. It will be quickly seen that any party willing in the past to endanger the Empire by exciting the suspicions of other nations against its future ruler is unworthy of confidence. Out of party animosity will come, therefore, a national party with the Emperor for its leader. Aside from an unprovoked attack on us or our allies, there is only one risk of a German war. If the minor German sovereigns should show themselves distrustful or jealous of their young Kaiser, or if through suspicion or jealousy any attempt is made to infringe the Imperial prerogatives, then the Kaiser might choose to rally all Germany around him for a victorious foreign war. The young Kaiser has probably no overwhelming desire for the old imperial title of 'increaser of the Empire,' but it is quite certain that without a struggle he will never yield any power granted to his ancestors. The risk though needs scarcely to be considered, for the German people are for the Empire, even if thereby against one or all the petty kingdoms. The address from Prussia's old enemy, the Saxon people, proves this.

"Finally, the key note of the administration, as shown by The Berlin Post's official article, is opposition to all wars made by or against Germany or its allies. When an Emperor, scarcely on his throne, goes so far as to advise France where she may safely strike, it if only fair to accuse him of a desire to make war himself."

"How was this done?"

"Oh! You did not notice, then, the ending of the Post's article, as follows:—'Truly, then, the world offers wide fields outside of a war with Germany for French ambition and French energies—fields on which France will meet no German jealousy.' No, I did not say that that meant England; that idea occurs to you naturally because England is the nearest and most defenceless of the fields on which France could regain the self-respect she lost in 1870.

Among the odds and ends of news afloat is a rumor that Kaiser Wilhelm has decided to show his respect for his mother's abilities by conferring upon her some such vice-regal place as that now held in Brunswick by Prince Albert of Prussia. Where and what is not stated, but the reasons for this are said to be, among others, the desire to prove that he is not and has not been her opponent during his father's or grandfather's reign, and to accustom the Empress' mother to practise government, so that in event of a regency she may be able to fill that important place, which in any regency she must inevitably take. If in any degree true this would be totally at variance with all Prussian customs, but it might politically be the most wise as it would attach to the Kaiser most of those Radicals who are now more loyal to the Empress mother than to her son.

WILLIAM AS EMPEROR.

He Opens the Reichstag in a Blaze of Brilliancy.

BERLIN, June 26.—The Reichstag was opened yesterday with pomp and brilliancy. After divine service in the court chapel the Emperor was escorted with great ceremony to the White Hall of the old castle where he declared the session opened. Throughout his speech the Emperor dwelt upon Germany's pacific disposition. He said her policy aimed solely to ward off attack, not to acquire military glory. The Empire, he declared, desired peace with all nations. The Emperor said further: "Germany will adhere to her alliance with Austria which public opinion supports as a basis of European equilibrium and an inheritance of German history. The same relations and national needs united Germany and Italy. These relations will permit the careful cultivation of the Emperor's personal friendship with the Czar and the maintenance of the pacific relations with Russia which have existed for a century in consonance with the Emperor's feelings and Germany's interests.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

THE DARK HORSE WINS.
SKETCH OF THE REPUBLICANS' CHOICE FOR THE PRESIDENCY.

The Hoosier Comes to the Front in the Eighth Ballot—Blaine Cables His Withdrawal—Harrison a Church Deacon.

CHICAGO, June 26.—The Convention was called to order yesterday at 10.08. Boutelle of Maine read despatches from Blaine, dated Edinburgh, earnestly requesting his friends to withdraw his name from the Convention. This announcement killed the Blaine boom and the Convention went on with the balloting. It was not long before they selected their candidate in the person of ex-Senator Benjamin Harrison of Indiana. The details of the balloting are as below:—

SIXTH BALLOT
Alger	137	Allison	73
Blaine	40	Gresham	91
Harrison	361	McKinley	12
Sherman	244
SEVENTH BALLOT.
Alger	120	Allison	76
Blaine	15	Gresham	91
Harrison	278	Sherman	238
EIGHTH BALLOT.
Harrison	544	Alger	100
Sherman	118	Blaine	5
Gresham	59

The announcement of the vote was followed by great confusion in the hall, the delegates rising to their feet and cheering and the bands playing.

Foraker of Ohio moved to make the nomination unanimous. Hoar seconded the motion. The motion carried amid loud cheering.

Gen. Harrison's Career.

Of Gen. Harrison, the Republican nominee for the Presidency, a newspaper representative at the Convention the other day wrote:

Ex-Senator Benjamin Harrison, of Indiana, was born in Ohio. Here we see a public man who is not only a deacon in the Presbyterian Church, but a Sunday school teacher besides. He is by all odds the most popular Republican in Indiana, and has been the leader of the party there ever since the death of Oliver P. Morton. Strange as it may appear, he is not an eloquent man, nor is he what is termed magnetic. He forgets names and faces, and is completely destitute of that quality known as policy. Not being a temporiser he says yes and no, and then turns his attention to the next man who desires to see him. When he is announced to speak a throng is present to hear him, and great is the enthusiasm when once he begins. He is sure of the loyal support of every Republican in the State when he is a candidate for office and of the independent voters also.

The secret of his popularity is that he is a master of details, not only in politics, but in law and everything else. For many years he has been one of the most conspicuous men before the bar of Indiana, and his clients, by the way, have been numerous, he is still in moderate circumstances. His mental grasp is one of the wonders of those who know him, and his capacity for organization is his strongest quality. When he is conducting a case in court he displays supreme skill in managing his cause and is remarkably effective in cross-examinations.

In his political campaigns he displays the same genius that distinguishes his legal battles, and he is usually successful in all that he undertakes. Blunt as a wedge, cold as John Sherman is alleged to be, a Christian gentleman and a scholar, he leads in Indiana, while bright orators and hail fellows well met are glad to follow where he goes.

Short and stocky, with light hair and a colorless face, he is not a handsome man by any means. However, in his case as in all others, handsome is as handsome does. General Harrison is fifty-five years old. He was born on the old homestead of his grandfather, William Henry Harrison, ninth President of the United States, which was near North Bend on the Ohio River. His education and his wife were secured at Miami University, Oxford, O., from which he graduated when he was 18, where he was married before he was 21. With about $500 in his pocket and a family on his hands he journeyed to the city of Indianapolis, and a few days after his arrival there his law office was opened and he was prepared to do business with neatness and despatch. His hair was very white, his legs very short, and his head rather large for his body, but he went to work, and even if he did live for years in three plain rooms he was successful and not ashamed of his poverty or of the self-evident fact that clients would be gratefully received by him night or day.

Naturally he was a Republican and quite naturally a politician. When he became better known he was elected reporter of the Supreme Court of the State and was enjoying the benefits of the office when Lincoln called for 75,000 volunteers. Commissioned a second lieutenant by Gov. Morton, young Harrison marched away, leaving behind his wife and two small children. At the close of the war he returned to Indianapolis a brigadier-general, and almost immediately was re-elected to his old position in the Supreme Court, which had been occupied by a Democrat while he was fighting other Democrats in the South.

In 1876, when Tilden and Hendricks were making Indiana very lively with red fire and long processions, Oodlove Orth, the Republican nominee for Governor, withdrew from the ticket, and the State Central Committee put Harrison on in his stead. The General was in the pine forests of Michigan at the time and did not hear of the change until he returned home. He told his friends he would be defeated, but he made a vigorous struggle nevertheless, only to meet the fate he had predicted. In 1880 he succeeded Joseph E. McDonald in the Senate and served with honor until 1885, when he in turn was succeeded by David Turpie, a Democrat.

At the evening session Mr. Moore of Tennessee, who had been placed in nomination for the Vice-Presidency, withdrew his name, saying that he wanted no office but desired to see that political incubus removed from the White House, to have that great Jumbo, that clumsy behemoth, of Bourbon Democracy, who occupied the place of power at Washington, abolished from that high station. The Convention then proceeded to ballot, which resulted in the nomination of Levi P. Morton of New York by this vote: Morton 591, Phelps 119, Bradley 103, B. K. Bruce 11, W. F. Thomas 1.

The Convention adjourned at 8.52 without date.

At Harrison's Home.

INDIANAPOLIS, June 26.—A few minutes after one o'clock, when it became apparent that Harrison's nomination was probable, the excitement in the streets became intense. When Tennessee made his nomination certain tremendous cheers broke forth and the crowds from all the bulletin boards made a frantic rush for Gen. Harrison's law office in Market-street, shouting, waving hats, umbrellas and canes as they went. In an incredibly short space of time the broad street was packed with thousands of cheering men, many of whom rushed into his office crowding around him and cheering themselves hoarse.

ONTARIO AND MANITOBA'S CROP.

Encouraging Prospects of a Good Harvest in Both Provinces.

TORONTO, June 26.—Mr. A. Blue, Deputy Minister of Agriculture, says that if no unfavorable conditions appear during the next two weeks all reasonable fear of a failure of crops will be over. The rain of Sunday was fairly general, and there must have been millions in it for the country. Mr. Blue is confident of a splendid harvest.

Mr. McNee, the representative of the Winnipeg City Council and Board of Trade, who has just returned from a flying visit to Manitoba, reports a jubilant and confident feeling over the crop outlook in the Prairie Province. The recent warm weather and refreshing rains have brought on the crops very encouragingly, and they are now almost as far advanced as at this period last year. There was a danger that the coldness and cloudiness of the earlier part of the season would so retard growth that frosts must become imminent before the harvest could be fully ripened. It is now felt, however, that this danger is passing and that there is hope for a harvest equal even to that of last season. But it is admitted that the month of August largely settles the fate of Manitoba harvests.

THE PEACEMAKER SHOT.

A Griffintown Tragedy—The Termination of a Family Quarrel.

MONTREAL, June 26.—At Griffintown yesterday Grocer Thomas Donnelly was shot by a son of his neighbor, Jack Kehoe. The boy had a violent quarrel with his father about the sale of some property, and his father, being unable to pacify him, asked Mr. Donnelly to assist him in quieting the boy. Donnelly went over, but no sooner had he entered the house than Kehoe, all forward, struck by a bullet from a pistol in young Kehoe's hand. Young Kehoe was afterwards found in the stable and arrested.

Donnelly kept his consciousness up to 3.45 and on being taken to his bed said: "I was shot by Kehoe without any reason, and without his saying a word." He suffered intense agony until he lost consciousness.

A FEELING TRIBUTE.

At the opening of the Diocesan Synod of Montreal, the Bishop, the Rt. Rev. Dr. Bond, in the course of his annual charge, thus referred to the late Hon. Thomas White, who for many years was an active member of that body:—

"Since our last meeting many valuable and beloved members of our church have been summoned from their labours here to the life beyond the grave. The whole Dominion suffered a heavy loss in the death of the Hon. Thomas White, Minister of the Interior. He was taken from us in the prime of his life and usefulness. To me, personally, as to many here present, he was not only a valuable co-worker and intelligent adviser, but he was also a very dear friend. Though at the time of his death, owing to his duties at Ottawa, not a member of the Synod, he seemed still to belong to us. So short a time had elapsed since his presence here was almost a matter of course, that it was hard to realize that anything more than temporary absence had separated him from those who loved him so well. A native of Montreal, with the same opportunities for education as other lads in the city, a High School training, and experience acquired by residence in the midst of a large and important commercial community, he contrived while still a youth to build himself up in strength of character and conduct, and make his influence felt for good on the young men of his own generation. He was always found on the side of order, reverence and progress; his practical Christianity made him benevolent and kind wherever men needed the help and sympathy of a fellow-man, and his [illegible] religion was of that earnest, unostentatious type which moulds the character and directs the life, both in public and private. His riper years justified his earlier promise, his versatile talents found ample scope in the Legislature and in the Council Chamber. Those above him appreciated his perspicacity and thoroughness, and rising men recognized in him a leader. At the time of his lamented decease he was, I believe, one of the most trusted and able statesmen in the Dominion. A country governed by such men as the late Thomas White cannot fail to become great, for largeness of heart, simple religious faith, integrity of purpose judgment to think and eloquence to proclaim—the results of thought are fruitful seeds indeed wherewith to sow the future of any nation. It is seldom that so many talents and virtues are possessed by one man, but it is possible to most men to emulate some of them. The best monument the sons of Montreal can raise to the memory of him we mourn is a living monument formed of men resolved to do their best, to cultivate in themselves the powers which have been given them, and the virtues which spring from the in-dwelling spirit of God, so that they may be able to respond to their country's need, and serving Canada in church and state, carry on such good works as were delighted in by Mr. White."

OUR BOYS UNDER CANVAS.

Putting in the Annual Drill—Scenes and Incidents of the Camp.

GANANOQUE CAMP,
June 22nd, 1888.

We have had very warm weather down here since Wednesday, and the boys are getting pretty well baked up. The camp is very orderly for such a large one. It is the largest camp held in eastern Ontario since 1872. The camp is situated about 2,000 yds. from the banks of the river St. Lawrence, and about three quarters of a mile from the town. We are the only corps from the western end of the district. We are divided into three brigades, Cavalry, Artillery and Infantry, under the the command of Col. Duff of the Cavalry, Col. Cotton of the Artillery, but I do not know who is in command of the Infantry Brigade, with Col. Straubenzie in command of the camp.

The corps in camp are as follows:—
4th Regiment Cavalry, Lieut. Col. Duff, Kingston.
Prescott Troop of Cavalry, Capt. John Raney.
Ottawa Field Battery, Col. Stewart.
Kingston Field Battery, Major Drennan.
Durham Field Battery, Port Hope, Major McLean.
Gananoque Field Battery, Col. McKenzie.
"A" Battery, Kingston, Lieut. Heandam.
16th battalion, Picton, Col. Hogg.
42nd battalion, Brockville, Col. Matheson.
47th battalion, Col. Kirkpatrick, Kingston.
49th battalion, Belleville, Col. Brown.
59th battalion, Cornwall, Col. Bredin.

The Durham battery looks splendid this year in their new uniforms, and we have a splendid lot of men and the best horses on the ground, but I suppose it is not proper to blow ones own horn, we will leave others to do that for us.

NOTES.

We do our target practice to-morrow (Tuesday), and will be inspected by General Middleton on Wednesday.

The Y. M. C. A. have a tent on the ground and it is a very handy thing too, as you can see all the daily papers and do your writing there without being disturbed by the rows that are always going on in the lines. The W. C. T. U. have also a tent on the ground.

All the boys are well and appear to be enjoying themselves. We expect to leave here for home on Friday evening or Saturday morning next.

Held Over.

Owing to the fact that we go to press at 12 o'clock to-day, a considerable amount of matter is held over.

Cheese Market.

The regular fortnightly meeting of the Cheese Board is in progress as we go to press. There is a good attendance of both buyers and sellers.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria,
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria,
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria,
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria,

SIMON ELIJAH IS DEAD.

HE EXPIRES AT THE HOSPITAL AT 9 O'CLOCK THIS MORNING.

The Prisoner Before the Magistrate—He Will Be Indicted For Murder—Coroner Fife Holding an Inquest.

Simon Elijah, the Indian, who was shot on the market square on Sunday afternoon, by James Farley, died at the Nicholls Hospital shortly before nine o'clock this morning.

Coroner Fife was at once notified and an inquest is in progress as we go to press.

THE PRISONER.

James F. Farley was before the Police Magistrate on [illegible] noon. Without hearing any witnesses, the prisoners was remanded for one week, pending the result of Elijah's injuries.

Farley will now be indicted for murder.

Advice to Mothers.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should as ways be used when children are cutting teeth It relieves the little suffer at once; it product natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa whether rising from teething or other causes 25 cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

First Public Entertainment.

The Endeavor Society of Charlotte-st. Methodist Church, will hold their first public Entertainment at the School Room, on Thursday evening next. An interesting programme will be rendered. Admission free. Welcome to everybody.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla operates radically upon the blood, thoroughly cleansing and invigorating it. As a safe and absolute cure for the various disorders caused by constitutional taint or infection, this remedy has no equal. Take it this month.

Ready.

There was a rousing meeting of the committee of management of the Dominion Day celebration last night, and the various sub-committees all made highly favorable reports. Everything is now in first-class shape and a gigantic affair is sure to be the result.

Give them a Chance.

That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do their work. And what they do, they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boschee's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failed you you may depend upon this for certain.

"I assure you, father, the one thing needed to make the furnishing of this library complete is a lovely hanging lamp in piece of this stand one which we have used for years. Nothing seems to give the finishing touch to the equipments of a room like a nice hanging lamp such as they keep at China Hall. Those ornaments up there, which I also bought at China Hall, are lovely. Every one admires them, and just half the price I was asked for the same things in Toronto; but still, father dear, I must have the lamp."

Bricklayers' and Masons' Union
No. 12, Peterborough.

To the Architects and Builders of the Town of Peterborough.

GENTLEMEN.—The members of the Bricklayers' and Masons' Union, No. 12, Peterborough, have decided to take no sub-contracts after the 1st day of June, 1888. We take this step believing it to be to the interest of Architects and Proprietors of buildings, to deal directly with us, and not, as heretofore, letting our branch of work to Carpenters, and then have them sub-let it to us, frequently at a loss to owners of buildings through inferior material being used to secure the carpenter a profit. We therefore consider it would be to the interest of all concerned, to have each trade control its own line of work.

Signed on behalf of the Union,
J. J. HARTLEY, President.

How can the six months time men compete with GOUGHS, The Wonderful Cheap Men, the High Pressure Electric Clothiers, who seize the opportunity to buy at Spot Cash and buy awfully well. Read, you noble sons of toil, what the Clothiers of the Age are going to do for the next 30 days and when you read reflect, and when you reflect, come and buy from them, for you cannot buy from any wholesale house in Canada at the following prices; For thirty days we will sell you:—

Men's Suits at $2.95 that cost imaginary clothiers $4.25 wholesale.
Men's Pants for $1.50. We don't say what they are worth but see if you can buy elsewhere for $1.95.
Men's Suits for $5.00 worth easily $10.00.
Men's Halifax Tweed Suits all Wool $5.00.
Men's Fine Worsted Suits $6.90, worth $13.00.
Children's Suits for 58 cents, $1.10, $2.00 and up, worth double the money.

Special Drive in Boys' Coats 19c. each, Men's Working Pants 17c. each.

With ample means, prodigious energy and absolute determination to do the Largest Clothing Business in the District, we shall reach that goal if our friends, the buyers, will realize that no firm or dealer has ever offered the values we have given and are giving in Men's & Boys' Clothing. The Public have responded well to our great sale inducements. The public have our best thanks. We regret that the rush was so large on Saturday that we could not give our customers all the time we would like. Two additional Salesmen will be on hand Saturday next so that all who come can have ample attention. We rely on the invulnerable advantages of Square Dealing, in an Honorable Square Way, and with prices 33⅓ per cent. all round below all competitors are the ironclad basis on which we are doing a Triumphant Clothing Trade.

HOUSEFURNISHINGS.

At this season many Housekeepers are replenishing their supplies of Tableware and China. City folk are furnishing summer cottages; country folk are filling up the dressers and cupboards of the old homestead: town's folk are picking and choosing here and there. Many would be glad to know of a place whose special business is to meet these wan's and desires; that aims to furnish essentially good wares at consistently low prices; that offers the choice of many different dinner services, and yet does not compel you to take an entire set of any pattern, but allow you to select each course of a new design, or buy any portion of the set you may need; that does not try to impose ideas or wares upon purchasers, and yet is ready to advise which of the many wares is most desirable and suitable; and, if wished, will make a careful selection of pattern. When you want Tablewear will you give us the opportunity to serve you.

Wanted.

Terry Smith wants a new floor put on the fire stable. As it is now he is afraid tha some fine morning he will drop in and find half a dozen horses hanging by their necks with their bodies down in the place where prisoners were kept once upon a time.

No Council Meeting.

Four members of the Council were out of town on Monday night, some were at the circus and Mayor Stevenson and Councillors Davidson, Langford, A. Hall and Winch were those who turned up. The new man, Councillor E. H. D. Hall, was also on hand and prepared to ride the goat, but as the other man, the seventh, failed to turn up, no meeting took place. His Worship has called another meeting for Friday evening next.

A Pleasant Outing.

Those who desire to take a day out of town on Dominion Day of course wish to find a pleasant and an inexpensive trip. The P. A. A. A. excursion to Belleville, where the great bicycle meet and races will be held, gives the opportunity wanted. The excursion will be a pleasant one over the Grand Trunk to the City of the Bay. The tickets are only $1.10 and are good for two days. The Peterborough bicyclists are going and some of them will take part in the great races.

The New S.A. Temple.

A grand opening of the new Salvation Army temple will be held on Saturday, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, July 14th, 15, 16th and 17th. Commissioner Coombs, Commander in Chief in Canada; Major Bailey, Chief of Staff; Majors Glover, Woolley and Spooner, other staff officers and some forty field officers will be present, besides hundreds of soldiers. On Saturday night at 8 p.m. a grand welcome of officers and dedication of the temple will take place. On Sunday meetings will be held at 7 a.m., 11 a.m., 3 p.m. and 8 p.m. On Monday (the day of days) at 3 p.m. there will be a grand march with the war chariot, from 5 to 7.30 p.m. a grand banquet in the new barracks, and at 8 p.m. tragic scenes of life and death. On Tuesday at 8 p.m, there will be a grand farewell of Commissioner Coombs and staff officers. The local officers and corps are making great preparations for the events, demonstration and services in connection with this opening of the new temple.

The Circus.

Howe's circus exhibited again on Monday afternoon and evening. The attendance on either occasion was not very large, but the performance appeared to give every satisfaction. Tents were struck last night and at an early hour this morning the party left on the Grand Junction for Stirling.

Touched.

A bad gang follow the Howe circus, but they are not connected at all with the circus. Notwithstanding the vigilance of the police the nutshell men plied their trade to a considerable extent and the suckers bit freely. We are told that a father prominent resident of the county was touched for $20.

A Wheel Off.

While they were loading up the circus properties on Monday evening on the market square, one of the heavy wagons collided with a light buggy with the result that the buggy only had three wheels after the collision. The occupants were thrown to the ground, but no person was injured.

Meet them Cordially.

The Directors of the Central Exhibition will meet on the morning of July 4th for the purpose of finishing the revision of the prize list and canvassing the town for subscriptions and special prizes. They should be received in a liberal manner by the merchants and citizens generally.

The Regatta.

If you are interested in aqutic sports drop down to the lake and see the regatta, on Tuesday evening. The sport begins early and there is a full programme provided, of rowing and paddling races and the tournament and tug of war. Mr. J. McClelland will start the races and Mr. R. M. Roy will act as judge, and his decision will be cheerfully deferred to in all the events.

FROM modest efforts, honest goods, high quality, square dealing, good treatment, small profits, on to grand achievements in the way of Satisfying Bargains is the motto of The Pantry.

St. Leon Water.

The marvellous results from the use of St. Leon Water in Rheumatism, Constipation and all diseases arising from a torpid liver is testified to by hundreds of grateful drinkers of the water. Messrs. G. A. Cox and James Stevenson having resolved to wind up their co-partnership in all property held by them as joint owners, have concluded to put the same up for sale by public auction in order to obtain a basis for settlement. It comprises a lot of the finest property in Peterborough. It will be sold on Monday, the 9th July next. 2d148

Paralyzers Again.

The lock works baseball team, known as the "Paralyzers," had another match yesterday evening on the Priest's field. Their opponents were a nine from Englishtown. The P's had very little difficulty in disposing of their opponents who were snowed under in an eight innings game by a score of 26 to 3. The batteries were "Paralyzers," Pratt and Daily, Englishtown, Fuller and Huffman. The "Paralyzers" feel rather cocky and we are authorized to state that they are open for challenges from any local club, within a radius of 35 miles. The secretary is J. Farley, Lock works.

Toronto Conservatory of Music.

Many no doubt will recollect the first announcement that in September, 1887, a Conservatory of Music was to be opened with a Board of Management, comprising men whose names were eminent throughout the entire country, and with Mr. Edward Fisher, the well-known Toronto musician, as Musical Director. The proposal met with marked encouragement, and the Conservatory opened under successful and most brilliant auspices. The first season has found over 600 pupils in attendance, drawn from all quarters of Canada, as well as Toronto itself. During the season a large number of Concerts, Recitals, Lectures, etc., have been given. These collateral and free advantages all aid in the formation of a broader musical education than can be obtained through the pursuit of the ordinary practical studies alone, and are to be valued accordingly. The prospects for next season are said to be so very encouraging that negotiations are even now pending for the purchase of a site on which a large Conservatory building, Concert Hall, and Art Gallery may be erected. 1d149

THE BAPTIST CHURCH

THE PETERBOROUGH AND BELLEVILLE ASSOCIATION.

The Conference Held in the Murray-st. Church—List of Delegates—Opening Services.

The annual conference of the Peterborough and Belleville Association of Baptist Churches was opened in the Murray-st. church at 10 o'clock this morning.

The Rev. P. Clifton Parker took the chair.

The following is a list of the clergymen and lay delegates:—

BAILLIEBORO.—Rev. T. J. Bennett, student, Messrs. H. Jewison and J. Veals.

BELLEVILLE.—Rev. D. N. Mihell, Messrs. G. Davis and G. Jones.

BRIGHTON.—Rev. J. Reddick, Mrs. S. Chase, Mrs. S. McCartney and Mrs. J. Gould.

CAMPBELLFORD.—Rev. Hugh Shaw, Messrs. J. Hay and J. Mather.

CRAMAHE.—Rev. T. C. Sowter, Messrs. D. McLaughlin, J. Finn and Mrs. J. Gould.

COLBORNE.—Rev. J. Reddick, Mrs. G. Whinn and Mrs. G. Turney.

COBOURG.—Rev. H. H. Hall, student, and Messrs. E. Squires and C. Tapscott.

DUMMER.—Rev. Wm. Peer and Mr. J. Boyle.

FENELON.—Rev. T. C. Sowter, Messrs. N. Curtis and A. J. Cross.

HALDIMAND.—Rev. T. J. Dowling, Messrs. P. Hinman, B. Bradley and E. B. Hinman.

LAKEFIELD.—Messrs. Wm. Lang and John Garbutt.

NORWOOD.—Rev. Wm. Peer, Mrs. Peer and Mr. James Raddon.

PETERBOROUGH.—Rev. P. Clifton Parker, Messrs. Wm. Graham, A. Gillespie, J. C. Turnbull and W. Aldridge.

PORT HOPE.—Rev. J. Reddick, B.A. Messrs. T. Dixon Craig, M. P. P., G. Martin, G Handsman, G. Mimins and Miss Hume.

SIDNEY.—Rev. J. Robinson and Mr. N. Faulkner.

SELWYN.—Rev. J. B. Hull, Messrs. Wm. Nicholls and Thos. Bell.

STIRLING.—Rev. J. Robinson and Mr. James Butler and Mrs. Butler.

SMITH.—Rev. J. B. Hull, Messrs. James Mann and Andrew Young.

WARSAW.—Rev. W. Peer. Messrs. G. Forsyth and W. E. Kidd.

DENOMINATIONAL REPRESENTATIVES.—Rev. Dr. Welton, McMaster University, (Education); Rev. E. W. Dadson, B.A., editor of the Canadian Baptist, (Publication); Rev. Alex. Grant, General Superintendent Home Missions, (Missions); Rev. James Grant, Secretary Foreign Missions, (Foreign Missions); Mrs. J. F. Barker, Whitby, (Woman's Work).

NOTE—The names of some of the ministers are placed opposite different stations, as they are duly accredited representatives of each.

The Rev. Mr. Parker led the devotional exercises, which continued for an hour.

Rev. Mr. FARKER, on behalf of the Peterborough congregation, heartily welcomed the delegates. He knew they had come to do work for the Lord and he was sure the true brotherly and sisterly spirit which characterized true Baptists would prevail. Twenty-four years ago the Eastern Ontario Association met in Peterborough, and he was glad to know that since that time the churches had grown so large that the Association had to be divided. He hoped in a few years they would have to divide again.

Rev. T. J. DOWLING, the retiring Moderator, said they all responded cordially to the hearty welcome extended by Mr. Parker. He referred to the history of the Baptist Church in Ontario, and said that its history was one of progress. Though changes had taken place, it was sweet to know that the Kingdom went on.

The conference is in session as we go to press.

P. M. Edmison is trying a skim milk case at the Court House to-day. One of the Dairymen's Association Inspectors is the prosecutor.

If the Sufferer is from Consumption, Scrofula and General Debility, will try Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil, with hypophosphites they will find immediate relief and a permanent benefit. Dr. H. V. Mott, Brentwood, Cal., writes: "I have used Scott's Emulsion with great advantage in cases of Phthisis, Scrofula and Wasting Diseases. It is very palatable. Put up in 50c. and $1 size.

Quite a Grist.

It never rains but it pours, so it has often been said and as regards police matters it appears to be true enough. On Monday afternoon and evening the police were kept busy hustling in drunks and by midnight six of them were caged. At the police court John Sharp, alias "Chuckens," was the first victim. He said he was guilty and was assessed $2.00 or ten days. It is not necessary to state that John took the days. Edward Allen John Hanson, and John O'Neil were similary treated. The latter is a tatooer and has been around town for some time. He created some excitement when placed in the cell by breaking a pane of glass and chewing a portion of it. He also talked of committing suicide and attempted to make a noose of his suspenders. He went up on the hill also. Edward and Harry Lynch were charged with fighting by officer McGinty. They pleaded not guilty and the evidence of several witnesses was taken, showing that Harry Lynch was endeavoring to separate a fight when he was arrested. He was discharged and Edward was asked to contribute a fiver.

THE COUNTY COUNCIL.

Report of the Various Committee—The Session Closed.

COUNTY PROPERTY.

Mr. SANDERSON read the following report:—

(1.) That the County Engineer be instructed to repaint and repoint the office of the Clerk of the County Court and also to have the floor of the vault thereof cemented.

(2.) That the County Clerk be instructed to value the Court House building at $40,000, the County Court Clerk's office at $2,500 and the land in connection with the above at $30,000 for the purpose of furnishing statements of assets as required by law.

(3.) That the County Clerk be instructed to procure a telephone for the judge's chambers.

(4.) That the County Engineer be instructed to procure the necessary tile for carrying the water from the county buildings.

The rerort was adopted and by-law passed.

ROADS AND BRIDGES.

Mr. MOLONEY read and submitted the following report:—

(1.) That By-Law No. 598 be amended so as to define more strictly what bridges are assumed exclusively by this Council.

(2.) That the report of the County Engineer be received and adopted.

(3.) That the members of this Council personally inspect the Big Burleigh, Buckhorn and Scenic's Narrows bridges. And that the arrangements therefor be left in the hands of the Reeve of Lakefield.

(4.) That with reference to the claim of the Hague Estate your committee recommend that if it is found that the Lakefield bridge occupies a different site from the old, that the amount of compensation for any encroachment be fixed by the County Engineer and the Reeve of Lakefield and if the estate does not accept the compensation so fixed that the estate be left to its remedy by arbitration.

5. That a grant of $200 be given to the North Monaghan Council for the purpose of repairing the roadway between the counties of Durham and Peterborough as an equivalent for a like grant from the United Counties of Durham and Northumberland and that the Reeve of North Monaghan be a commissioneer for the expenditure of the same.

6. That the question of the propriety of paying the County Engineer a fixed salary be referred to the Finance Committe.

7. That with reference to the communication of Messrs. Fortye and Elliott, asking for a swing in the floating bridge over Chemong Lake, that the matter be left for consideration in the hands of Messrs. Sanderson, Moloney, Kidd, Stewart, Burnham and the County Engineer with full power to act in the premises they desire most wise.

8. That the County Engineer be instructed to prepare plans for a bridge over the narrows, between Harvey and Ennismore, on the floating principle, and submit the same to the Dominion Government for their approval.

9. That a grant of $90 be given to the village of Norwood towards the re-building of the bridge over the Ouse on Colborne-st., Norwood, and that the Reeve of Norwood be commissioner for the expenditure of the same.

The report was adopted and by-law passed.

SCHOOLS.

Mr. FINLAY read the following:—

1. That a grant of $25 be given to the Peterborough Teachers' Institute.

2. That Messrs. J. Stratton, Town School Inspector, James Coyle Brown, County School Inspector, and John Davidson, B.A., be the County Board of Examiners to examine teachers and give certificates in accordance with the statutes in that behalf.

3. That the petition of the Peterborough Teachers' Institute praying for the revocation of the proposed fall examinations to be held by the County Inspector for the purpose of judging of the statues of the schools be not granted.

The report was adopted, and by-law passed.

PETITIONS.

Mr. STEWART read the following report:

(1). Your Committee recommend that the Ontario Legislature be petitioned to repeal the Municipal Act, in so far as it permits municipalities to grant bonuses for the promotion of manufactories in their limits.

(2). That the Council appoint the County Judge, the County School Inspector and the Reeve of Douro as arbitrators, to revise, determine and alter the boundaries of the school sections affected by the petition of Donald Cameron, Edward Christie and Wm. Evans, Trustees of Union School Sections numbers 2 and 6, of the Township of Asphodel.

BLANKS.

On motion of Mr. MANSFIELD, the Clerk was instructed to procure $10 worth of blank forms for the use of County Magistrates.

AN INVIVATION.

The WARDEN said that Mr. W. H. Law had invited the Council to visit his bridge works on Saturday.

The invitation was accepted for 10.30 o'clock on Saturday.

The Council then adjourned until 9.30 a.m. Saturday.

SATURDAY.

The council resumed at 9.30 o'clock on Saturday morning.

BURLEIGH ROADS.

Mr. ELMHIRST moved, seconded by Mr. FINLAY,—That a grant of $25 be made for the side line on Concession 14, lots 25 and 26, known as the Long road, and also $25 for the road at Julian's Landing.

Mr. SANDERSON said that there was no appropriation for these grants and the rate was struck.

Mr. CASEMENT said he knew that one of the roads at least needed the work.

After further discussion the motion was carried.

THE COUNTY LEVY.

The by-law to levy the rate for the year was introduced and passed through its stages. The amount was $20,249.47 made up as follows:—

Ashburnham	$ 556 00
Lakefield	879 50
Norwood	179 40
Asphodel	2188 00

Cavendish	17 40
Harvey	613 69
Monaghan	1128 91
Otonabee	4958 91
Smith	4363 50
	$20,249 47

CONFIRMING THE AWARD.

A by-law was introduced by Mr. Kidd to confirm the award of the administration of justice arbitrators, and it was passed.

AUCTIONEERS' LICENSES.

A by-law was introduced by Mr. Stewart to amend By-law No. 12 and amendments thereto so that for any auctioneer's license for a period less than six months, the fee be not less than half the annual rate. It was passed.

The Council then adjourned.

Mrs. Sarah Burroughs, of 248 Eighth street, South Boston, writes: "My husband has taken Ayer's Sarsaparilla, for dyspepsia and torpid liver, and has been greatly benefited."

A Confirmed Dyspeptic.

C. Canterbury, of 141 Franklin st., Boston, Mass., writes, that, suffering for years from Indigestion, he was at last induced to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla and, by its use, was entirely cured.

Mrs. Joseph Aubin, of High street, Holyoke, Mass., suffered for over a year from Dyspepsia, so that she could not eat substantial food, became very weak, and was unable to care for her family. Neither the medicines prescribed by physicians, nor any of the remedies advertised for the cure of Dyspepsia, helped her, until she commenced the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. "Three bottles of this medicine," she writes, "cured me."

MONA'S CHOICE.

BY MRS. ALEXANDER.

Lisle cast a backward glance at her as he left the room—a glance she did not pretend to see. As soon as she was alone her hands dropped into her lap—a grave, almost sad expression crept over her speaking face, which had worn so bright and amused an aspect, while she remembered the sharp pain, the corroding mortification that had eaten into her soul, and for which she had to thank the pleasant-mannered, distinguished-looking man who had just left her.

"'All's well that ends well,'" she murmured, rousing herself. "It's all past now, and left not even a scar. I did not think his presence would have moved me so little. I will never avoid him, or seem unfriendly, but I defy him to flirt with me if I do not choose. I hope he is enjoying his ramble with Uncle Sandy."

Here the sound of wheels upon the gravel drew her to the entrance in time to see the phaeton drive up, wherein sat Kenneth triumphant, and Mary Black beside him.

Mona welcomed her cordially.

"I am so glad to see you. Uncle Sandy has gone out round the garden with a gentleman, so I will show you your room at once. She is looking blooming, Kenneth—better than when we met in Glasgow."

"I am so glad to see you a bit alone before I meet Mr. Craig," said Mary, as she followed Mona down the long passage to her room; "I am very frightened of him."

"But you must not be so," said her young hostess. "My uncle likes those least who fear him most."

"It was so good of you to ask me. Kenneth told me all about it, and mother bid me present her best compliments to you."

Then they had a little cheerful talk about the most becoming mode of dressing the hair, with a few words on the prevailing fashion of morning frocks; after which it was time to go to the drawing-room, which they hardly reached before the bell rang.

Mona could hardly repress a smile when Uncle Sandy appeared, followed by his guest. Lisle looked rather grave, but Mr. Craig had an air of self-satisfaction, which spoke volumes as to the amount of boring his victim had endured.

"And this is Miss Black? I am weel pleased to welcome her to Craigdarroch. Any friend of Miss Craig's, my niece, is welcome to me, especially a bonnie lassie like you. Sit ye doon, sit ye doon." And he proceeded to ask a blessing of portentous length.

The midday meal proceeded very successfully. To Mona's surprise, Lisle made himself very pleasant, listening to all Uncle Sandy said with interest, and just enough difference of opinion to stimulate the old man to triumphant argument. He seemed to enjoy the very simple food set before him, and discussed fishing with Kenneth, inviting him to spend a day on the river's side occasionally, sending a half-admiring, half-defiant glance to Mona, which seemed to say that he was not to be easily shaken off. Seeing that it made Mary blush painfully to be noticed, he kindly left her alone. Directly to Mona he said very little, but he inquired if she had seen this or that periodical or quarterly, and offered to send them up to her. Finally, he was, he said, reluctantly obliged to take leave, and the whole party went out to see him start.

"I suppose I may give your love to Lady Finistoun, Miss Craig? She will be here to-morrow, I dare say, when she knows who is in her neighborhood. Many thanks for your hospitality, Mr. Craig. I will come up again as soon as I have seen M'Gregor. Adieu."

A wave of the hand, an uplifting of his hat, he touched his spirited horse with the whip, and in another moment he was out of sight round the curve of the drive.

"A varra reasonable, wise-like young mon, for ane in his position, and willing to hear truth from the lips of a thoughtful body. But he has his tempers, I'll be bound. He was just anither sort o' man the day I went to meet him—short-spoken and scornful-like. But I daur say he sune saw that Sandy Craig could hold his ain with a'body. Aha, lad, he's changed his tune the day! Come along, my bonnie bairn! Kenneth and me are going to our books, so Mona will take you round the gardens and the grounds, forbye the dairy."

CHAPTER XIX.—"'TIS WELL TO BE OFF WITH THE OLD LOVE."

Mona felt younger and more like her old self after this meeting with Lisle than she had done since her grandmother's death. The encounter had proved to her how completely she had cast off the old feeling of regret and pain at her disenchantment, and showed her that she was stronger than of old. Still Lisle in a way interested her. His manners, when he chose, were attractive, though Mona fancied she could perceive the baser metal of selfishness underlying the silver-plating of his effective exterior.

With all his radicalism, Uncle Sandy was deeply gratified by the readiness of this fine gentleman to cultivate his acquaintance. He was remarkably amiable and serene during the whole afternoon and evening after Lisle's visit, although he held forth at some length on the folly and evil effect of titles on their possessors, as well as on society at large.

Lisle proved a true prophet. The day but one after his visit, Uncle Sandy and his guests had assembled in the library to their five o'clock tea. This was a serious meal, with bannocks and scones, cookies, bread and butter, preserves, and toast.

It served to support nature till eight o'clock supper, after which came prayers and bed. Mr. Craig had just "asked a blessing," when the sound of an approaching carriage interrupted his attack on the toast and newly-made strawberry jam.

"It is neither visitor," he said. "Why, one might as weel be in Edinburgh or London."

"We had not many visitors in London," observed Mona.

As she spoke, Jessie, the youthful housemaid, came hastily into the room.

"There is a leddy speerin' for you, Miss Craig!" she exclaimed; "a bran' leddy, in a chaise wi' twa ponnies."

"It must be Lady Finistoun," said Mona, rising. "I may bring her in, uncle."

"Eh? Surely. Ask her to take a cup o' tea."

Mona hastened to the door, before which in a light basket-carriage sat Lady Finistoun, and beside her a stately lady made up in the most youthful style.

"Ah! my dear Mona! So you are at home. I am so glad." She gave the reins to a smart, diminutive groom, and stepped out quickly, embracing Mona with effusion. Lady Finistoun continued, "I was so delighted to hear you were within reach. I have brought Miss Morton with me. You know Miss Morton? No! Oh, well, you ought; everyone knows her."

"Then I must be no one," said Mona, laughing. "I am very glad to see you, Evelyn. You must come in, we are at tea, my uncle begs you will join us."

Descending the steps, she courteously invited Miss Morton to alight.

"Certainly, with pleasure," said that lady, with much decision; and, followed by both new arrivals, Mona led the way to the library.

Miss Morton was very tall, and rather bony; her long neck was surmounted by a small head and a face short and broad for its size, rather of the pug order, with small, keen, light-brown eyes. Her complexion seemed to have suffered a good deal from exposure to weather, and was considerably and undoubtedly powdered. She wore a very masculine-looking overcoat of light tweed with a round cape, a small deer-stalker cap, and a white gauze veil tied round it, which at present was [illegible] with a [illegible]

HER LOVER AND HER FATHER.

They Quarrel and Riddle Each Other with Bullets.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., June 26.—Henry Baker, a farmer living in the north of this city, had a young and pretty daughter, to whom George Long, a young farmer in that vicinity, had been paying addresses. Mr. Baker seriously objected to the attachment. Last evening Albert, the young woman's brother, met Long and insisted that he should cease calling upon his sister. The two had a fight with no particular damage to either. Young Baker went home and told his father of the encounter, which so incensed the latter that he immediately hunted up Long. The two met on the highway. From words they came to blows and from blows to pistols. Baker disarmed Long, shot him, and when the latter fell he started away from the scene. Long staggered up, seized the pistol and shot Baker through the heart, killing him instantly. Long is dying.

TURNBULLS'.

New Goods received this week. Art Muslins, or Peek-a-boo Curtain Nets, Cretonnes, Fringes, Table Oilcloths, Ladies' Belts, Prints, Lawns and Dress Goods.

Among the New Goods that arrived during the week were some Art Muslins, or Peek-a-boo Curtain Nets in fancy colors and beautiful Designs, the correct thing to make a home cosy and attractive, at a small cost. Also a nice assortment of Cretonne Fringes, selling at ten cents a yard, Marble Oilcloths with gold and blue veins in the best qualities. The gold has not been much shown but is particularly desirable Ladies' Belts, a full range in cloth and leather, and to our already attractive stock of Prints we have added some entirely new lines in navy and cream, navy and gold, navy and cardinal and brown and gold in checks, stripes and sprays, White Lawns and all over Embroideries at all prices. Dress Goods. Owing to the large drain on Dress Goods Stock some of the best shades were sold out, but we have been able to repeat them and are now showing a full range again. Value always right. We have also on our Dress Goods counter a range of 25 pieces of All Wool and Bradford Goods which we are selling at 10c. a yard. We are confident that these are the best value being offered at the price.

Just to hand light and dark Seersuckers in desirable patterns, probably one of the newest and most popular goods we are showing for children's wear in navy and cream colored estamine with navy and cream and cream and navy; anchor trimming to match. Mothers should see these goods.

DEADLY MEXICAN FLOOD.

THE CITIES OF SILAO AND LEON DESTROYED.

The Valleys Swept by a Torrent—Adobe Houses Crumble Upon Their Inhabitants—Seven Hundred Lives Lost.

St. Louis, June 27.—A City of Mexico special says: During the past ten days the table lands between there and Zacatecas have been visited by unprecedented rains. Every mountain rivulet along the Central Railway for more than two hundred miles has been converted into a destructive torrent and the valleys present the appearance of lakes. Many cities and towns have been inundated.

On the 18th inst. it commenced raining heavily and continued all night, raising the Silas River out of its banks, breaking at the north end of the town of Silao, and passing through the streets with irresistible force and volume. Most of the houses being adobe, they soon became saturated with water and began to fall. About 225 houses were destroyed. The station buildings were occupied by homeless people who were unable to obtain anything to eat except watermelons and fruit found floating in the water. On the 20th it was learned that the flood had been more destructive in Leon.

The river broke over its dikes and notwithstanding all efforts to check its course it made rapid headway and finally flooded the city. As the rain fell the river rose rapidly, its volume of water flowing into the town gradually wearing away the foundation of buildings which commenced to fall as night came on. On Monday night the people believing themselves secure from the flood went to bed in those parts of the town where the water had not found its way. The steady downfall of rain, with the extensive waterbed of the outlying country, increased the flow of the river and rapidly extended its channel until one-half of Leon was under water and the loss of life commenced, unparalleled in the history of any of the great inundations of modern times. As the buildings fell the unfortunate sleepers were either crushed to death or drowned. One whole night of terror followed. Men, women and children fled to the streets in their night clothes, some to find shelter in the high ground and others to be swept away by the flood.

On Tuesday morning rain was still falling. All night it poured until Wednesday morning saw the lake surrounding the city undiminished in size. In the afternoon, however, it ceased raining and the waters commenced to recede. It is estimated that 700 persons perished. There is a strong stench arising from the heaps of rubbish that once formed houses. One hundred and eleven bodies have been recovered without moving any of the ruins of houses, and hundreds of bodies must be buried under them. The destroyed houses are estimated at 2,000, and the loss at $2,000,000. Many other towns have been badly damaged, but loss of life is only reported from Silas and Leon.

CITY OF MEXICO, June 27.—The very last statement received places the number of houses destroyed at Leon at 2,224, and the homeless families at more than 1,000. More than 250 bodies have been recovered from the ruins, and there is no probability that the entire number will fall short of 700.

AMONG THE DEMOCRATS.

Cleveland Accepts the Nomination of the St. Louis Convention.

WASHINGTON, June 27.—The committee to notify the President of his nomination by the St. Louis Convention called at the White House yesterday. General Patrick Collins of Boston was spokesman of the committee. When the letter of notification had been read the President addressed the committee, speaking mainly of the responsibilities of the Executive. In concluding his remarks Mr. Cleveland said:

"I shall not dwell upon the acts and policy of the Administration now drawing to its close. Its record is open to every citizen in the land, and yet I will not be denied the privilege of asserting at this time that in the exercise of the functions of the high trust confided to me, I have yielded obedience only to the constitution and the solemn obligations of my oath of office. It but remains for me to say to you and through you to the Democracy of the nation that I accept the nomination with which they have honored me."

A Madman's Act.

NEW YORK, June 27.—At 6.40 o'clock yesterday morning, Joseph Seaford, aged 16, a soldier, employed in a boarding house at 125 West 33th-street, shot and killed Rosie Sullivan, aged 18, an assistant cook, and then sent a bullet through his right temple and died while being removed to the hospital.

Will Support Cleveland.

The Administration of the Crimes Act Sustained by a Majority of 93.

LONDON, June 27.—In the House of Commons yesterday the debate was resumed on Mr. Morley's motion censuring the Government for its administration of the Irish Crimes Act.

William O'Brien (Nationalist) spoke in favor of the resolution and Henry Chaplin (Con.) defended the Government. Mr. Chaplin said:

"Who is now more responsible for the sufferings of the people under the league than certain English politicians who only a few years ago were the worst foes of the league? It might suit some to forget, but everybody knew that if there was one man in England who was more responsible than another for the atrocities of the league it was the leader of the Opposition who seemed to forget how he had encouraged them. (Cries of "Shame!" "Withdraw!") Mr. Gladstone might have forgotten what words he used about the Parnellite chiefs, but that would not be attributed to loss of memory through infirmities of age."

Mr. Gladstone, who upon rising was received with cheers, said that however much he was afflicted with loss of memory through infirmities of age, he hoped, for a time at least—(renewed cheers)—that he would remain able to cope with antagonists of the calibre of Mr. Chaplin. The Government's vote might be against them, but their ultimate appeal was to public opinion.

The censure motion was reported, 366 to 273.

LONDON, June 27.—The newspapers welcome the pacific character of Emperor William's speech. The Chronicle thinks that the speech proves that England has not joined the triple alliance. The News says no mention is made of relief for the people overtaxed with military burdens, and that the well-being of the people still holds second place to military instincts. The Times and The Standard consider that although the tone of the Emperor's speech was pacific, permanent peace is impossible while all the nations are preparing for war.

CHICAGO, June 27.—All the lines on the Central Traffic Association except the Grand Trunk have gone into effect the new rate on live stock from Chicago to the seaboard, as adopted by the Vanderbilt lines. This is a reduction from 65 to 40½ cents per 100 pounds. Simultaneously with this reduction, live stock rates, which were 25 cents, dropped to 16½ cents per 100 pounds, under the lead of the Pennsylvania Road. The Grand Trunk has made no change in its rates in either of these classes of freight, and it is officially announced that none will be made.

BIG PRICES REALIZED AT HER MAJESTY'S STOCK SALE.

The Prince of Wales Has Hard Luck With His Horses—Christine Neilson's Latest and Greatest Success—Interesting Items.

LONDON, June 27.—The Queen's journey from Balmoral to Windsor was made in absolute privacy. Her Majesty drove to Ballater in an open carriage drawn by four grey horses. There was no guard of honor at the station. At Terry Hill the public were excluded, the Lord Provost of Aberdeen having received a telegram from Major Bigger in the morning requesting that nobody would come to the station. At Perth the blinds of the Royal saloons were kept drawn. The Queen did not stop to dine, but had dinner from the refreshment rooms handed into the day saloon.

What can I say about court mourning? Nothing except that the court has gone into mourning, so has society to a greater or less extent; the middle class has not. With the English mourning is a national custom, consequently in this case most necessary as a mark of respect.

The Prince of Wales continues to experience very bad luck with his racehorses. Not long since a two-year-old was named to him whose name was changed from Peter Abbott to Plantagenet. But he turned out utterly unworthy of such a high-sounding, royal appellation when recently tried at Kingsclere. He has since been returned to Mr. Smith, his breeder, as worthless for racing.

The project has been mooted of pulling down the entire range of stands at Ascot, replacing the heterogeneous and inconvenient mass of brick, stone and ironwork with a magnificent range of buildings worthy of the royal meeting. The Duke of Westminster will run no horses for some weeks, owing to the recent death of Lord Robert Edward Grosvenor at Constantinople.

The sale of the Royal yearlings last Saturday, which was the most successful the Queen ever held, being an average of 474 guineas for twenty-six, was something to boast of, even if it does not lead the list at the end of the season. The highest price, 2,500 guineas and 1,500 guineas, were obtained for a colt by St. Simon out of Lady Gladys, a comparatively unknown mare of no reputation, and for a filly by the same young sire out of Quiver, both of which were purchased by the Duke of Portland, St. Simon's owner. Next came a beautiful filly by Springfield out of Grand Tair, who was preferred by many cognoscenti when knocked down to Lord Dudley for 1,450 guineas, and a splendid colt by Manchester out of Land's End, dam of St. Michael and the Lizard, who realised 100 guineas. The latter was bought with several other lots to go to Buenos Ayres, where the breeding of thoroughbred stock is all the rage just now.

The scene to be no limit to the money value of a racehorse with a future before it. It is stated on apparently good authority that the sporting owner refused £20,000 for the colt Chitabob, named from a combination found in the Ingoldsby Legends.

The canard of last week about Mr. Balfour's resignation was by no means as senseless and innocent as the public seem to suppose. I have reason for stating that its appearance in the columns of The Daily Express on the very day fixed for the appeal in Mr. Dillon's case was the result of a deep and cleverly planned plot. Such an announcement in a Gladstonian paper, for example, The Freeman's Journal, would have attracted little notice, but by hoaxing the chief Tory organ of the Irish press the author of the canard insured its acceptance by the very people he wished to mislead. The innuendo, of course, was that the Chief Secretary had been forced to retire by a decision of the Cabinet, owing to the Ayr election, to relax the vigor of the Irish policy, and in keeping with their estimates of the men who are Irish County Court judges, the Parnellites assumed that Judge Kirby would frame his decision accordingly.

The resignation of Mr. Bond, chief librarian of the British Museum, was unexpected. He is still in full vigor, and his ripe experience will be greatly missed. There can be little doubt in the minds of any familiar with the organization of the Museum who is the right person to succeed Mr. Bond. Sir Anthony Panizzi, Mr. Winter, Mr. Jones and Mr. Bond, the four librarians within modern memory, had all been keepers of the printed books prior to their appointments as chief librarians. In Mr. George Bullion, who holds the second position at the Museum, the trustees have a man fully equipped with all the qualifications for the principal post of great learning, business faculty, unbounded popularity and knowledge of the world.

Kuhne's concert at Albert Hall, in which Madam Christine Neilsson took her farewell, was crowded. There was not a seat to be had, as the saying goes, for love or money. Madam Neilsson received for two concerts £1,000. The receipts exceeded on Wednesday last £2,000, that is to say, the highest sum which at these prices can be made higher than Patti ever drew. All to Madam Neilsson's singing, the result is produced baffled description. In the concert went on towards the second part when the fatal last appearance drew nearer, the audience grew almost warmer. They encored the "Miserere," which she sang with Sim Reeves and the Chains genuinely. Her last song, which she sang with a dramatic intensity, with an artistic superiority that no living singer can rival, received a double encore, the whole audience standing up waving handkerchiefs, shouting and making a real ovation of the scene.

DECORATION DAY.

The Little Lake Cemetery the Scene of a Beautiful and Interesting Ceremony.

The beautiful and interesting ceremony of decorating the graves of their deceased brethren was carried out at the Little Lake Cemetery, on Tuesday afternoon, by the Oddfellows.

Shortly before 3 o'clock, the members of Otonabee Lodge No. 13, Peterborough Lodge No. 111, Mount Hebron and Hiawatha Encampment and Canton Peterborough No. 10, assembled at the Central Park and headed by the band of the 57th battalion, they formed in procession and marched to the Little Lake Cemetery. The streets along the route were lined with spectators and business was almost entirely suspended during the afternoon. The fancy movements of the canton were watched with much interest, and on no previous occasion did the members acquit themselves more creditably. Each brother in the procession carried a bouquet or a floral device of some kind.

Early in the afternoon the exodus to the cemetery commenced. The Golden Eye and Pearl ran regular trips, the busses and cabs were plying steadily, and large numbers walked down. It is estimated that when the procession entered the gates fully two thousand persons were present.

The beautiful resting place of the dead never looked better than it did on this occasion and every visitor remarked the fact.

Superintendent Kelly had everything as clean and neat as they could possibly be made. Barrels of ice water were placed at different points, something that was much appreciated, and all the lots were in a tidy condition.

Upon arriving at the cemetery the band was marched up and to one side, the chevaliers of the Canton formed an arch with their swords and the others with uncovered heads marched through. At the chapel a circle was formed, the chevaliers forming a small circle in the centre of the large one. In the centre of it stood N. G. Cowle, of Peterborough Lodge, N. G. elect, Matthewson, of Otonabee Lodge, and Chaplain Lindsay. After a few remarks by N. G. Matthewson, the Chaplain offered up a prayer. All then sang Nearer My God to Thee, accompanied by the band.

The brethren were then divided into two parties and under the guidance of cemetery employees the graves were decorated, one or more bouquets, wreaths, etc., being placed on each grave.

The graves of the following were decorated, the three last named having died within the year:—

Bro. Judge J. B. Hall, ex-M.P., 1st N.G., Otonabee Lodge.
Bro. Sheriff W. S. Conger, ex-M.P., 2nd N. G., Otonabee Lodge.
Bro. Charles Perry, ex-M.P., 1st V.G., Otonabee Lodge.
Bro. Col. McDonald, Otonabee Lodge.

The Chevaliers and the band proceeded to the Oddfellows' plot, wherein are buried Messrs. F. J. B. Buckett and James Martin, and kneeling around the graves they sang "In the Sweet Bye and Bye," a large number of visitors joining in.

Then follied an intermission of about and hour, during which time the visitors had an opportunity of inspecting the cemetery and viewing the many improvements that have been made. During the interval the band also played several pieces of sacred music to the evident delight of all the auditors.

Just previous to departure the band, Chevaliers and Oddfellows formed a circle near the chapel and N. G. Cowie delivered the address prescribed in the ritual for use on such occasions, and after prayer and singing "In the Sweet Bye and Bye," the route for home was taken.

In addition to the graves of the Oddfellows hundreds of other graves were decorated, in fact there were but few graves in the cemetery that did not bear some floral tribute.

The following donations of flowers were received:—By Peterborough Lodge, Mrs. Innes, 2 hand bouquets; Miss H. S. Crosly, 12 bouquets; Miss C. Ludgate, flowers; Mrs. B. Cooney, 6 bouquets and wreaths of flowers; Mrs. J. Sawers, 2 bouquets and basket of flowers; Mrs. S. White, 2 bouquets; Mrs. Rubidge, bouquet. By Otonabee Lodge:—Mrs. Hatton, basket of flowers; Mrs. John Mowry, Ashburnham, basket of bouquets; Mrs. Robt Hamilton, 4 bouquets.

In a Ditch.

At an early hour on Monday morning a farmer named Moncrief, who resides near Springville, was driving along Charlotte st. when his buggy upset into a ditch made by the waterworks employees. The buggy upset and the shafts and dashboard were broken. Mr. Moncrief had one of his knees injured, but not at all seriously.

THE BAPTIST CHURCH.

THE PETERBOROUGH AND BELLEVILLE ASSOCIATION.

The Officers of the Association Elected—Committees Appointed—Reports From the different Churches—Addresses.

The following is a continuation of Tuesday morning's proceedings.

The Rev. D. Reddick, B. A., of Port Hope, delivered an able sermon from Matthew, xxviii, 18,20. The theme of the discourse was "The Great Commission," and it was interesting and instructive.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.

The election then took place and resulted as follows:—

MODERATOR.—Rev. J. B. Huff, Smith.
CLERK.—Rev. P. Clifton Parker, Peterborough.
ASSISTANT CLERK.—Rev. D. Reddick, B. A., Port Hope.

COMMITTEES.

The following committees were appointed:—

ON ARRANGEMENTS.—Rev. Wm. Graham, and Revs. D. Reddick and P. C. Parker.
RESOLUTIONS.—Revs. Dr. Welton, J. F. Dowling and D. M. Mihell.
APPLICATION OF CHURCHES TO ASSOCIATION.—Messrs. J. Mather, P. Hinman and Rev. T. C. Sawter.

The Conference then adjourned.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

Mr. A. C. Steeves, student, Lakefield, conducted the opening exercises.

REPORTS FROM CHURCHES.

Reports were read from the various churches in the Association. The general tenor of the reports was progress. The financial reports were satisfactory, and 146 members had been received. One church did not report. The Rev. A. Grant said that Stirling was too large a field for one man. The matter was referred to the Association Board.

On motion, visitors from other churches were invited to take part in the proceedings.

CHURCHES RECEIVED.

The Committee on the Reception of Churches reported recommending the reception of Norwood, Dummer and Lakefield churches be received into the Association.

The report was adopted and the Moderator extended the right hand of fellowship to the representatives of the churches, welcoming them into the Association.

PUBLISHING INTERESTS.

Rev. E. Dodson, B.A., then addressed the Conference on the publishing interests of the denomination. He explained that the success of the Canadian Baptist and of the publishing house depended upon the members, and he urged them to take an interest in them. They had met with a measure of success, for which they were thankful; and he asked them, if the Baptist represented their views, to support it, as the paper was theirs.

The following committee was appointed to nominate the Home Mission Board:—Revs. D. M. Mihell, Belleville; D. Reddick, B. A., Port Hope; Mr. P. Hinman, Grafton.

The Conference then adjourned till evening.

EVENING SESSION.

At the evening session the devotional exercises were conducted by the Rev. T. C. Sawter, Cramahe.

The Rev. W. K. ANDERSON, of Lindsay, secretary of the Home Mission Band, gave a report of the general state of the churches of the long East Ontario Association. There was reason for encouragement on every hand. Kinmount had erected a beautiful chapel, almost free from debt. In the east, Norwood reported a new and beautiful chapel. He referred to the meeting in Norwood, at which the Dummer and Norwood churches were recognized. The membership of this Association last year was 889, and this year the membership was 1136. For Home Missions $537 was raised.

Dr. WELTON gave an address on Education. He dwelt on the importance to the missions and churches, of the work done in the university. From McMaster Hall must come the missionaries for the home and foreign fields. The idea, some held, that education was incompatable with piety and zeal, was an exploded one. All now recognized that, other things being equal, the educated man was the stronger man. They had more money for education than all the other denominations put together. They had reason to take courage and to improve the vast possibilities for good given into their hands. Steps had been taken to establish a ladies' college at Toronto and to finally establish a college at Woodstock. Senator McMaster had given a large sum for education, but they needed to make provision to supplement the small salaries of students on fields.

Rev. ALEX. GRANT said that Baptists were God's instruments in a great work. They were Protestants before Luther, and were increasing at the rate of 100,000 a year in the United States. He referred to their work in distant fields. He dwelt eloquently on their great opportunities, their responsibilities, and the work they could and should do. There were 30,000 to 33,000 Baptists in Ontario and Quebec, and they gave $15,000 to missions. The address was a stirring one.

After a collection had been taken up, the audience was dismissed.

Bricklayers' and Masons' Union

No. 12, Peterborough.

To the Architects and Builders of the Town of Peterborough.

GENTLEMEN.—The members of the Bricklayers' and Masons' Union, No. 12, Peterborough, have decided to take no sub-contracts after the 1st day of June, 1888. We take this step believing it to be to the interest of Architects and Proprietors of buildings, to deal directly with us, and not, as heretofore, letting our branch of work to Carpenters, and then have them sub-let it to us, frequently at a loss to owners of buildings through inferior material being used to secure the carpenter a profit. We therefore consider it would be to the interest of all concerned, to have each trade control its own line of work.

Signed on behalf of the Union,
J. J. HARTLEY, President.
GEO. ROSE, Vice-President.
R. SHEEHY, Secretary.
ADAM DAWSON, Treasurer.

HOUSEFURNISHINGS.

At this season many Housekeepers are replenishing their supplies of Tableware and China. City folk are furnishing summer cottages; country folk are filling up the dressers and cupboards of the old homestead; town's folk are picking and choosing here and there. Many would be glad to know of a place whose special business is to meet these wants and desires; that aims to furnish essentially good wares at consistently low prices; that offers the choice of many different dinner services, and yet does not compel you to take an entire set of any pattern, but allow you to select each course of a new design, or buy any portion of the set you may need; that does not try to impose ideas or wares upon purchasers, and yet is ready to advise which of the many wares is most desirable and suitable; and, if wished, will make a careful selection of pattern. When you want Tablewear will you give us the opportunity to serve you.

THE CITY AND SUBURBS

Weather Probabilities.

Moderate winds, mostly north and north-east, fair, cool weather to-day rain in western Ontario to-morrow.

Rushing Summer Goods.

Day by day, as fast as new invoices can be passed through our hands, and the cases opened, our counters display new and ever-varied lines of summer dress goods. The new colorings and new blendings of shades afford a broader chance for the varied taste of the wearers than ever before, and buyers don't hesitate to express their pleasure at the wonderful assortment and the lowness of price, which in many instances has not been reached in many years. In grenadines we are doing particularly well, and invite every lady shopper to visit the Golden Lion.

Lacrosse Club Meeting.

Meeting of Y. M. C. A. lacrosse club at the rooms at 9 o'clock this evening. Members are urged to attend.

Lawn Tennis.

The regular semi-monthly meeting of the Lawn Tennis Club will be held to-morrow afternoon at the Association grounds at 4 30 o'clock. Members are requested to attend an invite their lady friends.

Volunteers Wanted.

All who would like to take part in the grand parade on Dominion Day, as cavaliers, should apply at once to Mr. J. E. McIntyre, Oriental Hotel. Suits are provided free, the committee having received 50 suits for use on this occasion.

The Reason.

Why is the city to which the P.A.A.A. excursion goes on Dominion Day called the City of the Bay? Because it is situated on the beautiful and historical Bay of Quinte, one of the prettiest sheets of water in the country. The tickets for the excursion are good for two days and only cost $1.10.

A conductor on the Canada Pacific,
Of aches and pains was prolific,
He limped all around
Until he had found
Kidd's walkumphast shoes the specific.

The Reason.

Mr. Platt Hinman, of Grafton, a director of the Eastern Ontario Dairymans' Association, was at the cheese board on Tuesday. He asked why it was that certain factories were selected? Several of the buyers replied. The reasons given were that some factories turned out a better article. Some are easier reached than others. The make of some factories has a standing reputation across the ocean, and even if it is not quite up to the mark, it can always be disposed of.

FROM modest efforts, honest goods, high quality, square dealing, good treatment, small profits, on to grand achievements in the way of Satisfying Bargains is the motto of The Pantry.

Realizes It.

J. F. Farley, the young man who killed the Indian, appears to feel his position keenly and to realize that he is likely to be hanged. His case will come before the Police Magistrate on Monday next. The excitement over the affair has cooled down almost altogether and it is seldom mentioned now.

Lacrosse.

The Lindsay and Port Hope Y. M. C. A. lacrosse clubs played a game in the pennant series at Lindsay on Tuesday. Port Hope won by three goals to one....A team of the Iddependent Lacrosse Club, a junior organization, are playing at Millbrook to-day.

At Park.

The persons who frequent the park on the occasion of band concerts are becoming somewhat civilized and it is not necessary now to have the whole police on the ground to prevent injury to the terraces and flower beds. Last night the attendance was large and the band discoursed a long programme of excellent music.

Right now is the time to use a good Blood Purifying Medicine. Lose no time in getting a bottle of Dr. Carson's Stomach Bitters. It will do you good. Sold by all Druggists.

Skimmed Milk.

Inspector Rawlings, employed by the Eastern Darymens' Association had John Wasson sr., of Dummer, up before County P. M. Edmison, at the Court House, on Tuesday, on a charge of sending skimmed milk to the cheese factory. The evidence showed that by the lactometer test, the milk was away below the standard and had been skimmed without doubt, by some person. Judgment was reserved.

Locked Out.

There is a gentleman up street who is somewhat forgetful. Not long ago he missed an excursion train after sitting up most of the night to catch it. On Tuesday afternoon he left his keys on the bed and went out and shut the door, which fastens with a spring lock. A detachment of the fire brigade with the extension ladder was required to open the door of his room, which is in the third storey, and people thought that there was a fire.

Stoney Lake Trips.

The steamer Cruiser will, during the season, run special trips over the Stoney Lake route. On Thursday the rate for the round trip is only $1.00, and affords a capital opportunity to all to see the back lake country. On Saturdays the boat leaves Lakefield on arrival of the evening train, returning to Lakefield Monday morning, in time to catch the early train for Peterborough. Parties are referred to advertisement. 1d150.

A New Brand.

A resident of the south end of the town has brought on his head the wrath of his neighbors. He heard some time ago, of a new kind of tomato, a very early variety, extra prolific and with fruit as large as dippers. The seed was to be procured at Montreal. The man sent for some and generously gave all his neighbors some to plant. It grew finely, but instead of tomatoes, it turned out to be wild mustard and now there is fun and at the same time wrath in the South Ward. It is very hard to eradicate this pest and those who planted it can find no better remedy than pulling up each root.

OUR customers always speak when they pass by, and say "Xamine these Xcellent, un-Xcelled T's at The Pantry."

Where?

Where will the physiogs start from on Monday next? is the question that people are asking. That is being kept quiet, but they will emerge from their meeting place resplendent in fresh paint and fine clothes. Numerous taking features will be given and the turnout of cavaliers and Indians is expected to be the largest ever seen in the district. The horsemen are working hard and some pretty close finishes may be looked for. The fox and deer hunts will be novelties indeed. An enormous attendance is looked for from all parts of the country, and every person should make it a point to be on hand.

THE JURY'S VERDICT.

ON THE DEATH OF SIMON ELIJAH, THE INDIAN SHOWMAN.

Shot by James F. Farley and the Bullet Wound the Cause of Death—The Evidence taken before Coroner Fife and Jury

On the lawn in front of the Nicholls Hospital on Tuesday afternoon, Coroner Fife empanelled the following jury to enquire into the cause of the death of Simon Elijah, the Indian showman:—

Charles Cameron, foreman, D. Cameron, W. A. Sanderson, Benj. Shortly, J. P. Bryson, A. J. Gough, J. J. Sheehy, Thos. Morrow, F. Foote, M. J. Ostrom, Robt. Wiltla, Johnston Carey, W. G. Bain, I. Dormer and C. W. Hawkey.

After being sworn in the jurymen and coroner went to No. 2 room in the hospital and viewed the body of the dead man.

Dr. COLLINS was then sworn, and said:—The body we have seen is the body of the man I attended on Sunday, Simon Elijah. First saw him lying on a mattrass under the canvas on the market square.

At this point the jury decided to have a post mortem examination made, and instructions were given.

Dr. COLLINS resumed:—Elijah was wounded on the left side about six inches below the left nipple. The wound, he believed, was caused by a pistol bullet. Examined the abdomen and found tenderness in right iliac region. Did not find the bullet nor any opening where it might have come out. He was weak and in a state of collapse, caused by the bullet wound. I believe the wound was sufficient to cause the death and that it did so.

GEO. STEVENSON sworn, said:—I was on the market square on Sunday afternoon. I was standing leaning against a post. Saw the prisoner, Farley, talking to a cowboy. Farley turned away and walked northward; I looked the other way, and as I turned back about half a minute after, I saw him point the pistol and shoot a man. Farley coolly walked away, and placed the pistol in his pocket. He was so composed that I thought they were fooling. The man who was shot stood a minute, and then placed his hands on his abdomen, doubled over and moaned. He walked north and the crowd surrounded him. A cowboy took the pistol from Farley. I did not hear any angry words before the shot was fired, as I was too far away.

FRED DOLAN sworn, said:—I was on the market square at about 2.30 p.m. Between 3.30 and 25 to 4 I saw the Indian and another circus man going towards the arcade. I heard the Indian say he could knock out any red white or black man of his weight in Peterborough. The Indian was not sober. I heard the Indian tell his comrade "how Reddy got left to-day." Saw the prisoner come within 12 or 13 feet of me. The Indian went around a post. I heard him say, "Good-day" or "Hello, Reddy." The prisoner told him to—(a very vulgar expression). The Indian made some reply, and the prisoner walked quickly towards the post with his hands on his coat as if to pull it off. I heard a report, and saw smoke between the two. There was 3 or 4 feet between them. The indian stood still for about 25 or 30 seconds, and then put his hands on his stomach. He bent over and walked about two yards towards the arcade. He was moaning. When I saw the Indian again he was being placed on a table. The man taken into the police station was the one who did the shooting. "Reddy" was a nickname for the prisoner.

THEODORE MULCAHAY was sworn and said:—I was with Fred. Dolan on Sunday and saw the shooting. Dolan's evidence was correct.

The inquest was then adjourned till 7.30 o'clock.

EVENING SESSION.

The inquest was resumed at 7.30 o'clock in the Court House. County Crown Attorney Wood was present, and Coroner Fife presided.

CHIEF ROSZEL was sworn, and said:—I arrested the prisoner on Sunday. He gave me the name of James F. Farley. He is in the gaol. The body at the hospital is that of the Indian who was shot. I have the revolver, which was given me by one of the circus men, W. H. Crieson, who said it was taken from the prisoner.

THOMAS GRIFFIN sworn, said:—I was on the market square on Sunday afternoon, Sometime after 2 o'clock I saw the prisoner going towards the north side of the market. He stood talking to a cowboy and then went towards the dining tent. The Indian and another man were leaving the tent. The former was standing with his foot on a rope. The Indian came up and spoke to the prisoner. They passed each other within three or four feet. The Indian said he could lick anyone of his weight, black, red or white, in the town. The prisoner walked a few steps and said "I'll lick you," and he drew a revolver and shot him. I was within two or three feet of the Indian. The two men were two or three feet apart. Farley walked towards the Indian. The revolver produced looks the same as the one used. Saw the cowboy trying to take the revolver from Farley. The Indian made no attempt to strike the prisoner when he said he could lick anyone; he was laughing at the time. Farley did not try to fire a second shot. Did not hear Farley say anything after he fired; he turned away. The men did not appear to be drunk.

Dr. BELL, who performed the post mortem examination with Dr. King, was sworn, and read the following statement, which was signed by both of the surgeons:—

Record of a post mortem examination held on the body of the late Simon Elijah at the Nicholls Hospital by Drs. Bell and King, on the afternoon of Tuesday, 26th day of June, 1888:—On viewing the body we found a well developed, muscular man. The only wound on the body we found on the left side, 6½ inches from and below the left nipple and 6½ inches from median line and 7½ inches from umbilicus. This wound was a perforated one between the 10th and 11th ribs. The direction of the wound was downwards and inwards and towards the right side through the muscular wall in front of the 11th rib. On dissecting away the skin we found a slight effusion of blood about three inches in diameter. The internal aperture was about two inches below the external aperture. On further examination we found a transverse perforation of the bowels directly opposite the inner opening. Immediately underlying that another perforation of the bowels. On removing the intestines we found the first perforation to be three feet below the pyloric orifice of stomach. Then we found the messentery perforated 20 inches below first perforation. Messentery and bowels again perforated 64 inches below first perforation of bowels. This perforation was diagonal and completely through the bowels. Four inches below the last perforation the messentery was again perforated, and again 37 inches below that. The bowels was perforated tranversely 35 inches below last perforation of messentery. Bowel perforated again, only one aperture, 24 inches below the last. A bullet was found 2½ inches from symphysis tubis, 4½ inches from anterior superior spinus process of ilium and one inch below Pouparts ligament. A large amount of effusion of bloody serum, the result of inflammatory action set up by the injury, was also found. We also examined the other abdominal organs and found them to be healthy. We also examined the thorax and found the contained organs healthy, excepting back part of lungs which were hypostatically congested, due to position. Having removed the calvarium and examined the brain we found it healthy. The perforated wounds of the bowels and messentery which we found were, we believe, the direct cause of death.

R. W. BELL, M.D.
RICHARD KING, M.D.

Dr. KING concurred in the statement made by Dr. Bell. He said: I saw deceased at the tent on Sunday. The body at the hospital is that of the same man. He was suffering from a bullet wound.

Dr. BELL, recalled, said he did not believe the best medical skill in the world could have saved the Indian's life.

PETER CLANCY, sworn, said he saw the Indian shot. Was standing a few feet away. The Indian and Farley exchanged words; Farley came towards him and shot him. Saw the cowboy take the revolver from Farley.

The CORONER then addressed the jury, reviewing the evidence.

The jury then retired, and in twenty-five minutes returned with the following verdict:—

That from the evidence given before us the said Elijah came to his death by a pistol shot, fired by one James F. Farley, on the afternoon of Sunday, the 24th June, 1888, on the market square, town of Peterborough, Ontario.

The jurymen were then discharged.

"I assure you, father, the one thing needed to make the furnishing of this library complete is a lovely hanging lamp in place of this stand one which we have used for years. Nothing seems to give the finishing touch to the equipments of a room like a nice hanging lamp such as they keep at China Hall. Those ornaments up there, which I also bought at China Hall, are lovely. Every one admires them, and just half the price I was asked for the same things in Toronto; but still, father dear, I must have the lamp."

for people to expect a cure for Indigestion, unless they refrain from eating that is unwholesome; but if anything will sharpen the appetite and give tone to the digestive organs, it is Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Thousands all over the land testify to the merits of this medicine.

Mrs. Sarah Burroughs, of 248 Eighth street, South Boston, writes: "My husband has taken Ayer's Sarsaparilla, for dyspepsia and torpid liver, and has been greatly benefited."

A Confirmed Dyspeptic.

C. Canterbury, of 141 Franklin st., Boston, Mass., writes, that, suffering for years from Indigestion, he was at last induced to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla and, by its use, was entirely cured.

Mrs. Joseph Aubin, of High street, Holyoke, Mass., suffered for over a year from Dyspepsia, so that she could not eat substantial food, became very weak, and was unable to care for her family. Neither the medicines prescribed by physicians, nor any of the remedies advertised for the cure of Dyspepsia, helped her, until she commenced the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. "Three bottles of this medicine," she writes, "cured me."

THE JOINT REGATTA.

Aquatic Sports on the Little Lake—A Large Attendance.

The combination regatta of the Rowing and Canoe clubs came off on the lake on Tuesday evening. Quite a large crowd gathered to see the several events contested, although it was nearly eight o'clock before the first race was on. For the double paddling race the following pairs entered:—Mason, A. Smith, J. H. Dixon, A. E. Stratton, A. Connal, J. Smith, T. J. Smith and Connal led down the course and turned in the front, but were overhauled by Mason and Stratton who won by a few lengths. When one-third of the way home Connal and Smith capsized.

The four oard race was well contested by the following crews:—

1ST HEAT.

Bow, Armstrong —	Bow, Adams H.
No. 2, Might —	No. 2, Dolan —
No. 3, Stevenson A. vs.	No. 3, Tate —
Stroke, Matthews W.	Stroke, Sheehy J.

Sheehy's crew caught the water first and went off with a rush. Matthews pulled up with a swinging stroke, the boats running down the course and turning even. On the return trip Matthews went to the front and won the heat by a half length.

2ND HEAT.

Bow, Leeh [illegible]	Bow, Henry R.
No. 2, Lech W.	No. 2, Hackett M.
No. 3, McAuliffe — vs.	No. 3, Mercer H.
Stroke, Halliday Y.	Stroke, Kent H.

Halliday's crew were the strongest and pulled a lifting stroke, but were hampered by a broken rudder. Kent's crew, not so heavy, pulled well but a trifle out of time. After a well contested race the heat was won by Halliday's boat.

The single canoe event had three competitors, A. Stratton, A. Mason and J. Connal. The race after a brisk paddle was won by Connal with something to spare, Stratton, second.

The tournament was great fun and when Messrs. Mason and Smith sailed out on the water to spar with long poles having a pad on the end, the crowd cheered. The rivals stood up and bandished their weapons. The canoes were driven towards each other and presently Mason was, partly by his own exertion, tumbled into the water. H. Kent sailed away out and tried a hack at Smith and presently took an involuntary bath. Smith was declared the winner.

THE CHEESE MARKET.

Nine And Three-Eighth Cents the Highest Price paid for Selections.

The regular fortnightly meeting of the Peterborough and Victoria Cheese Board was held at the old music hall, on Tuesday There was a large attendance.

The buyers present were Messrs. Warrington, Stewart, Hodgson, Bird and Cook, of Belleville, Flavelle and Leary, of Lindsay, and Fitzgerald, Cluxton and Wrighton, of Peterborough.

Some of the Belleville buyers objected to Mr. Wrighton acting as Inspector on the ground that he was an agent. It was decided to discuss the matter at a future meeting.

The following cheese were boarded.

The Liverpool quotation was 44 shillings.

The bidding, after it started, was spirited. Warrington bid 8¾ for selections. Leary bid 8¾ for the board. Warrington offered 8¾ for the board. Hodgson went 9. Warrington sang out 9¼ for the board. Hodgson called 9¼ for selections. Flavelle said 9¼ for Warminster and Central Smith.

The various offers were then considered, and the sales were as follows:—Shearer, Cherry Grove, Warsaw, N. Smith, Pine Grove, Lily Lake and Myrtle were purchased by Hodgson at 9¼.

Flavelle got Warminster and Central Smith at 9¼.

At 9¼ Warrington got Keene, Norwood, Westwood, Melrose Abbey, S. Dummer, Mariposa and Bobcaygeon, and at 9 1-16 Warrington purchased Lakefield, Otonabee Union, Bensfort, Glenthorn, Downeyville, Fenelon Falls, Cambray, Reaboro, Star and West Ops. Clear Lake refused to sell.

Give them a Chance.

That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do their work. And what they do, they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boschee's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failed you you may depend upon this for certain.

CONVENTION ECHOES.

LEVI P. MORTON THE CANDIDATE FOR THE VICE-PRESIDENCY.

A Despatch from Blaine—Senator Mitchell of Oregon Favorable to Harrison—Newspaper Comments—Among the Democrats

CHICAGO, June 27.—The Republican candidate for the Vice-Presidency is descended from George Morton, one of the Puritan Fathers, who landed at Plymouth, New England, in 1623, and is a son of the late Rev. Daniel Morton. His birthplace was Shoreham, Vermont, where he first saw the light on May 16th, 1824. Having a strong preference for a business career, when 16 years of age he [illegible] a country store. By the time he [illegible] majority he was made a partner by his employer. In 1849 he removed to Boston, where he was admitted as a partner in a wealthy mercantile firm, good fortune due to his ability alone, as he had neither adequate capital nor influential friends to gain him the promotion. Five years after he made New York his residence, and opened a place of business in that city, Prosperity attended him, and in 1863 he founded the banking houses of Morton, Bliss & Co., New York, and Morton, Rose & Co., London.

Mr. Morton was elected to Congress from the Eleventh District of New York in 1878 as a Republican. His majority was over 7,000 votes. He was re-elected two years after. President Garfield nominated him as Minister to France, which was unanimously confirmed by the Senate in March, 1881.

The vacant seat thus created in the House of Representatives was filled by Roswell P. Flower after a memorable contest, which gave this gentleman his first distinction in American politics. In May, 1881, Mr. Morton was appointed Honorary Commissioner-General to the Paris International Exhibition of Electricity. Dartmouth College gave him the honorary degree of LL.D. in July of the same year.

A Despatch from Blaine.

INDIANAPOLIS, June 27.—General Harrison received the following from Mr. Blaine:—

LINLITHGOW, Scotland, June 25.—To Gen. Harrison, Indianapolis: I congratulate you most heartily upon the work of the National Convention. Your candidacy will recall the triumphant enthusiasm and assure the victorious conclusion which followed your grandfather's nomination in 1840. Your election will seal our industrial independence as the declaration of '76—which bears the honored name of your great grandfather—sealed our political independence. (Signed) JAMES G. BLAINE.

THE HEATHEN CHINEE

Likely to Cut Some Figure in the Presidential Contest—Convention Echoes.

WASHINGTON, June 27.—Senator Mitchell of Oregon, one of the most pronounced promoters of anti-Chinese legislation in Congress, says it is a mistake to suppose that Gen. Harrison's record is objectionable to the people of the Pacific slope and that to those who are familiar with it it needs no apology.

Harrison in a Hurry.

BUFFALO, N. Y., June 27.—Benjamin Harrison of Indiana arrived in the city yesterday. He is on his way to New York, to confer with Mr. Depew and other leaders of the party as to the plan of campaign.

Newspaper Comments.

NEW YORK, June 27.—The Sun says: The Republican ticket is a respectable ticket all through. We warn the Democrats that they will have to put forth their best efforts and bring out their utmost strength. It is no sham battle that is opening before them.

The Tribune says: With a man so strong and worthy the Republican party has a right to look for a popular uprising not unlike that which swept Martin Vanburen from power in 1840.

The Times says: Altogether it is an entirely respectable nomination. It will not inspire the party, it will not strik terror into the hearts of the supporters of Mr. Cleveland, quite the contrary; it will not, through any quality of the candidate, quicken to any unwonted degree the Republican pulse. But plainly there is no magnetism in Mr. Harrison.

The Times announces that it will support Cleveland and Thurman in the coming contest.

The Herald says: The two Republican candidates, Messrs. Harrison and Morton, are like the Democrats candidates, upright and honorable men. The fact is a great gain to the country.

TURNBULLS'.

New Goods received this week. Art Muslins, or Peek-a-boo Curtain Nets, Cretonnes Fringes, Table Oilcloths. Ladies' Belts, Prints, Lawns and Dress Goods.

Among the New Goods that arrived during the week were some Art Muslins, or Peek-a-boo Curtain Nets in fancy colors and beautiful Designs, the correct thing to make a home cosy and attractive, at a small cost. Also a nice assortment of Cretonne Fringes, selling at ten cents a yard, Marble Oilcloths with gold and blue veins in the best qualities. The gold has not been much shown but is particularly desirable Ladies' Belts, a full range in cloth and leather, and to our already attractive stock of Prints we have added some entirely new lines in navy and cream, navy and gold, navy and cardinal and brown and gold in checks, stripes and sprays, White Lawns and all over Embroideries at all prices. Dress Goods. Owing to the large drain on Dress Goods Stock some of the best shades were sold out, but we have been able to repeat them and are now showing a full range again. Value always right. We have also on our Dress Goods counter a range of 25 pieces of All Wool and Bradford Goods which we are selling at 10c. a yard. We are confident that these are the best value being offered at the price.

Just to hand light and dark Seersuckers in desirable patterns, probably one of the newest and most popular goods we are showing for children's wear in navy and cream colored estamine with navy and cream and cream and navy; anchor trimming to match. Mothers should see these goods.

THE GOVERNMENT LOSES.

DECISION GIVEN IN THE CELEBRATED AYER SEIZURE.

The Action Dismissed—The Confiscated Goods Ordered to be Returned—Threatened Action for Damages.

OTTAWA, June 28. In the Exchequer Court yesterday Justice Ritchie gave judgment in the celebrated customs case of the Queen v. J. C. Ayer & Co., which was tried here and in Montreal just a year ago. The decision was against the Government with costs, the release of the seized goods being ordered.

Ayer & Co. are manufacturers of sarsaparilla, hair vigor, pills and other compounds at Lowell, Mass., and in 1862 started a branch establishment at St. John, N.B. The material was imported in a crude state and afterwards prepared in the Dominion, bottles and other articles being purchased here. By this method the Company only had to pay duty on the fair marketable value of the compound for some twenty years. The Ayers continued their importations until 1882, when Uunderhill, an employe of theirs who had been dismissed, laid information at Montreal against them for importing at undervalue. Acting on this information Officers O'Hara and Brosseau of Montreal made seizures at various points in the Dominion. The Ayers disputed the rights of the Customs to make these seizures, and last year the case came on before Chief Justice Sir Wm. Ritchie.

The goods seized were 4,349 dozed bottles of sarsaparilla.

The Chief Justice, after reviewing portions of the evidence, said that he could not understand how honest business men like the Ayers, making honest importations in order to carry on business in the Dominion, could do more than they had done in this case, viz: To apply to the customs authorities to learn upon what terms the goods should be imported into Canada. The invoices clearly showed that the ingredients imported in bulk by the firm, to add to other materials bought in Canada, possessed no market value beyond those ingredients. The charge of smuggling seemed to him to be monstrous. The evidence went to show that the Ayers' goods were rather over-valued than otherwise.

The judge expressed the opinion that a scheme was concocted by O'Hara, Brosseau and Underhill against a firm whose honesty was beyond question for twenty-one years.

The books of Ayer & Co., surreptitiously obtained and deposited with the collector of customs at Montreal, remained, despite the orders of a judge of the Supreme Court for their production.

O'Hara came in for censure for his conduct in the matter. The conduct of Officer drosseau in trafficking in money to be refibved in forfetures was disgraceful.

The Chief Justice concluded by adjudging that the Ayers had not made any attempt to, nor did they pass the customs at St. John with bottles of medicine, that there was no proof of a certain patent medicine mentioned being entered under value, that there was no proof that goods illegally entered in Canada were kept for sale and that there was no intent to defraud the customs. The information of undervaluation and of defrauding the revenue was therefore dismissed with costs and the goods seized were ordered to be restored.

Mr. R. D. McGibbon, one of the counsel for Ayer & Co., says the firm will make a claim against the Goverument for damages, probably reaching in the millions. On the other hand it is not at all probable that the Government will let so imporsant a case be decided by the judgment of a single judge, and an appeal will probably be taken to the Supreme Court.

Excitement Over the Gold Discoveries at the Lake of the Woods.

WINNIPEG, June 28.—The leaders of both parties are holding meetings throughout the country.

Ex-Sheriff Richard is announced as an independent candidate for Provencher for the Commons, and will be opposed by either Ladyiere or Bernier.

Owing to being unable to make a five year's arrangement for rates with the Canadian Pacific Railway the Anthracite Coal Company will cease operations, being unable to make contracts with large firms.

Excitement over the gold discoveries at the Lake of the Woods is increasing and a couple of American millionaires are visiting the mines with a view to investments

General Major Oakes of the Northern Pacific is expected here this week.

Governor Aikins and family leave on Friday for Toronto, where they will reside.

THE NORTHWEST ELECTIONS.

Returns not all in, but the Conservatives Claim a Majority.

WINNIPEG, June 28.—The elections in the Northwest Territories took place yesterday, and although party lines were not strictly introduced, the Conservatives have a majority. These returns have been received :

North Regina—Jelly, majority 100.
South Regina—Secord, majority 11
Medicine Hat—Tweed, by acclamation.
North Qu'Appelle—Sutherland, majority 165.
Wolseley—Richardson probably elected.
South Qu'Appelle—Davidson, majority 62.
Moosejaw—Ross probably elected.

TEMPERANCE MEN IN SESSION.

Platform of the Prohibitionists Adopted at Syracuse.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., June 28.—The Prohibition Convention has adopted the following platform:

First. The traffic in alcohol as beverages has produced misery, pauperism, want, wretchedness, taxation, ruin, crime and death. It neither begets wealth or conserves human affairs. It is a foe to the home, a menace to the church, and a growing peril to the state, and its total prohibition is demanded by every interest of political economy, of moral relationship, of social life.

Second. The total prohibition of this traffic can be secured only through a policy which outlives the traffic, and refuses it all legal recognition; never by a policy of license in any form for any price.

Third. The policy of prohibition can be applied to this traffic only through some political agency or source, and can be applied with success only through such force or agency as favor this policy, therefore a Prohibition party is imperative, that the principle may have imbodiment and the policy may be sustained through the administration of law.

Fourth. While there is, and must be, a national policy of any kind concerning the liquor traffic, a national party is, and must be, necessary to establish and maintain a national policy of prohibition and we reaffirm our allegiance to the National Prohibition party. We ratify with hearty enthusiasm the nominees of that party for President and Vice-President of the United States, and we call upon all parties to endorse this nomination at the polls.

Fifth. The organization of liquor men for the avowed purpose of defying law, and their repeated assertions that Prohibition laws cannot be enforced, demonstrated that the liquor traffic is disloyal of character, revolutionary in its methods, and of treasonable intent, and any political party that allies itself with or does not condemn said traffic becomes either an active participant in, or a silent endorser of, the disloyalty and the treason by it shown.

Thus declaring ourselves upon the supreme issue which this party was organized to meet, and which it exist, to decide, and believing this to be the dominant question on which good citizens should now agree upon. All other questions we adopted, and endorse the utterances of our National Prohibition platform put forth at Indianapolis, also our State platform of 1887, and invite the faithful co-operation of the voters of this State.

GRAND LODGE I.O.G.T.

Proceedings at Yesterday's Session—Installation of Officers.

HAMILTON, June 28.—At the session of the Grand Lodge I.O.G.T. yesterday morning Dr. Oronhyatekha and J. H. Flagg were appointed representatives to the Prohibition Convention at Montreal.

This resolution was adopted: That the Executive be empowered to confer with committees from other temperance societies and churches for the purpose of forming some definite plan to obtain legal prohibition of the importation, manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors as a beverage in the Dominion of Canada.

J. H. Flagg received the unanimous recommendation of the Grand Lodge for Deputy Right Worthy Grand Templar.

A deputation of the Royal Templars of Temperance was introduced and addresses were made in favor of organic union. A resolution was passed recommending the union of all the temperance organizations in the country.

At the afternoon session the chief business was the installation of officers.

The U.S. Tariff Bill.

WASHINGTON, June 28.—When Mr. Mills called up the Tariff Bill in the House yesterday Mr. Kelly of Pennsylvania suggested on his individual responsibility, as a means of expediting adjournment, that the Tariff Bill be laid aside until next session, its fate then to depend upon the result of November elections, and that the surplus be kept down by an entire repeal of the tobacco tariff. Mr. Mills rejected the suggestion, and made a counter proposal that the Republicans should fix an early day for taking a final vote on the bill. Mr. Reed of Maine declared that Mr. Kelly spoke for himself alone, and that the Republicans would insist upon pointing out the defects of the bill in detail.

The members of the Ways and Means Committee express confidence that the Mills bill will pass the House substantially as agreed upon by the Democratic caucus, to which the proposed amendments were reported. The opinion is expressed that the bill can be passed by the House and sent to the Senate in time for the House to adjourn by Aug. 15. There is no doubt that the Senate would decline to act upon the Tariff Bill at the present session if it should not be passed by the House before the date mentioned, so that, so far as anything in the future can be certain, it may be accepted as a certainty that there will be no legislation at the present session of Congress.

Hamilton's "Long Felt Want."

HAMILTON, June 28.—The project to establish an inebriate asylum in this city is gaining supporters among Christians, temperance and medical men, and already subscriptions have been promised. The whole of the subject will shortly be introduced to the Rescue Home Association whose directors are influential men, and it is believed that they will successfuly estalish this institution for the cure of habitual drunkards.

THE HAND OF BISMARCK.

IMPRESSION MADE IN EUROPE BY THE EMPEROR'S SPEECH.

The White Pasha Believed to be Stanley—Lord Coleridge's Letter in the Arnold Memorial—The English Turf.

LONDON, June 28.—The Emperor's speech to the Reichstag has made a marked and very favorable impression. It would not be a very rash guess that the hand which held the pen when this document was composed was the hand of Bismarck. Certain it is that every idea in the message is an idea which Prince Bismarck has for twenty years done his best to enforce in Europe. Peace is the refrain of the whole speech, but peace maintained by arms. Peace while Germany wishes peace, till Germany is in greater danger from peace than war. Peace till she has become too strong to be attacked. England, like the rest of Europe, is looking on Prince Bismarck as the chief constable of the Continent. The English press so hails him and hails the Emperor as a ruler ready to leave Prince Bismarck a free hand.

Mr. Stanley's fate was discussed by the Royal Geological Society. Sir Francis de Winton, whom the president described as in a position to speak more authoritatively than any other man, once more declared his belief that Mr. Stanley is all right. Probably, said Sir Francis, Mr. Stanley has met with some resistance in November last. No doubt the White Pasha who had been seen by the natives fighting his way through the country was Mr. Stanley. Mr. Frederick Villiers, the well-known war correspondent, writes to say that he is convinced that Mr. Stanley intended to advance on Khartoum from Bahr Gazel. He, too, believes he is the White Pasha, a name likely to stick.

Lord Coleridge's long promised letter on behalf of the Arnold memorial has at last appeared. He tells us that Mr. Smith's refusal to continue the pension to Mrs. Arnold is based chiefly, though not exclusively, on the want of precedent. It would be interesting to know what else it is based on. England is certainly the only country in the world where such an excuse would have been held good; where, indeed, was there a precedent for Mr. Arnold. What the committee have determined on is to solicit funds, first for a medallion on the bust in Westminster Abbey, second to make adequate provision for Mrs. Arnold and her married daughter, third to found at Oxford an Arnold scholarship.

The Wood libel case continues to be the chief entertainment of the town. The theatres are half empty, but Lord Coleridge's court is crowded. More reputations than Mr. Wood's are now seen to be at stake. Hardly a witness leaves the stand without having damaged either himself or some other important personage. Perhaps never before has so much daylight been let in upon racing as now practised. "One more such trial," said a man well known on the turf and elsewhere, "and the turf must be left to those who disgrace it." The defence have succeeded, perhaps, in damaging Mr. Wood, but hardly anyone escapes without a touch from the brush with which he is tarred.

A WIFE MURDERER HANGED.

Execution of George Wilson in a New York State Jail Yesterday Morning—His Crime.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., June 28.—Geo. Wilson was hanged in the Albion, Orleans county, jail, yesterday for the murder of his wife on the night of January 17, last year. On the morning of the 18th Wilson went to a neighbor's house and said his wife was dying, and asked that the neighbor go to his house and remain there while he went for a doctor. The neighbor did so, and found the woman dead and having the appearance of having been dead for some hours. Wilson returned and then an undertaker was summoned who called a coroner. There was no marks of violence on the body, but the lips had the appearance of having been bitten. A jury was empanelled, but no evidence was taken that day. A post mortem was held, and the husband arrested and lodged in jail. The testimony before the jury showed the woman had been strangled, and the jury found that her husband had committed the crime.

Thurman Confident of Success.

COLUMBUS, O., June 28.—In answer to the question: What do you think of the Republican nomination? Judge Thurman said: "I consider it a very strong ticket. I have no personal acquaintance with General Harrison, and thought Sherman's nomination would be the strongest one, but under the circumstances the ticket as named is as strong as could have been nominated by the convention. However, I do not believe it is stronger than its party, and therefore do not see how it can be elected, New York, Indiana and New Jersey are naturally Democratic. Any ticket named at Chicago could not carry any of these States. I have no fear of the result in November. We shall have a Democratic victory.

The Nicolet Election.

QUEBEC, June 28.—The special parliamentary committee unanimously threw out the bill to incorporate the veterinary surgeons, refusing to give the surgeons the exclusive right to practise all over the province.

The writs have been issued for the Nicolet election, which has been fixed for July 10.

It is reported that Hector Cameron has successfully floated on the London market the bonds of the Temiscouata Railway. It is also stated that Mr. Beemer has been successful in the London market.

G.T.R Freight Trains in Collision.

INGERSOLL, June 28.—Early yesterday morning an accident occurred on the main line of the Grand Trunk Railway near here, but luckily no one was injured. Freight No. 26 from the west ran into the tail end of a special freight and a couple of cars were derailed. The track was blocked until about 9 o'clock and trains had to go around by Stratford until it was cleared.

THE BAPTIST CHURCH.

THE ASSOCIATION NAMED AFTER THIS TOWN AND COUNTY.

Resolutions Adopted on Various Subjects—Addresses on Sunday Schools and Missions—Votes of Thanks.

WEDNESDAY.

The Conference reassembled at 9.30 o'clock this morning. The devotional exercises were conducted by the Rev. Wm. Peer, of Norwood.

Rev. D. REDDICK, B.A. on behalf of the Nominating Committee, reported recommending the appointment of the following to constitute the Home Mission Board:—Rev. P. Clifton Parker, Chairman; Rev. D. N. Mihell, Mr. P. Hennlan, Rev. J. Reddick and Rev. J. B. Huff.

The report was adopted.

A discussion arose as to what name the Association would be given—the name by which it was known being only provisional. The names suggested were, Haldimand, East Ontario, Trent Valley, and Peterborough and Belleville. After considerable discussion the matter was laid on the table.

A committee was, after discussion, appointed on constitution and by-laws, consisting as follows:—Revs. W. Peer, D. N. Mihell, and McLeod.

Rev. D. REDDICK, B.A., moved, seconded by Rev. T. C. SOWTER, a resolution expressing satisfaction at the prospect of the establishment of an arts department in connection with McMaster University and of efficient affiliated preparatory schools, and gratefulness for the efficient work that was being done in McMaster Hall, and commending the schools to the support of the churches.—Carried.

Rev. Dr. WELTON moved, seconded by Rev. T. C. SAWTER, that an enlarged circulation be constantly urged, for the very efficient paper and book-room.

Rev. W. KERR moved, seconded by Mr. H. DRAIN, that their best thanks be tendered to the ladies of Peterborough for their hospitable entertainment, and praying that ever-enlarging blessings may rest upon them.

Rev. J. REDDICK moved, seconded by Mr. Platt HINMAN,—That as Christian churches we will relax no effort and never rest contented, trusting in God, until entire prohibition of the liquor traffic be secured.—Carried.

Mr. P. HINMAN moved, seconded by Mr. Wm. Laing, a motion expressing regret that the spirit of the Sabbath was so constantly violated by managers of railways, steamboats and others, and urging the authorities to enforce the law of the Sabbath.—Carried.

A resolution was moved by Rev. C. A. YOUNG, seconded by Rev. Mr. MUNT, and resolved, urging greater consecration, and more liberality, in view of the mission doors that were opening to them.

Mr. H. GRAHAM moved, seconded by Mr. J. CROSS,—That every possible effort be put forth to increase spirituality among the children in the Sunday schools.—Carried.

Rev. J. T. DOWLING moved, seconded by Rev. T. C. SAWTER,—That whereas the ladies' circles have developed great power for good, resolved that we bid this movement God speed.—Carried.

The arrangements for the meeting next year were left in the hands of a committee.

On motion of Rev. T. C. SAWTER, seconded by Rev. P. C. PARKER, the Rev. Dr. Reddick, B. A., was requested to send his sermon to the Canadian Baptist for publication.

Rev. WM. PEER reported on behalf of the Committee, recommending the adoption of the constitution under which they were working and that the name of the association be the Trent Valley Association.—Received.

The Conference adjourned at noon.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The conference met again at 1.30 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon. The Rev. J. Robinson, of Stirling, conducted the devotional exercises.

The Rev. J. REDDICK, of Colborne, gave an address on Sunday schools, "Conversion—the Teacher's object and the Best Methods of Securing it." It was easy to drop down to teaching the geography of a lesson and the doctrines it contained, but that was short of the ideal. Conversion was turning to Christ, and the children should be directed in that direction. Conversion did not mean regeneration. Children were capable of being converted at a very early age, when accountability commenced. If a child was under the instruction of a teacher for several years without being converted, another teacher should try. The character and spirit of the teacher had a large influence on the child. He would not expect an unconverted teacher to convert a child. It was their business to plant the seed, and God would make it grow, leading to regeneration. Prayer by the teacher for each child in the class was necessary, and they should talk with the children separately.

Mr. H. GRAHAM endorsed the words spoken, but did not understand that conversion was the work of the teacher.

Rev. W. K. ANDERSON said there was a difference between conversion and salvation, but he did not think there could be conversion without salvation.

Rev. Dr. WELTON said the difficulty was in the literal and the general meaning of the word conversion. He dwelt upon the importance of training the children, owing to the positions they would occupy in the future. The Sunday school should be the workshop of the church, and all should do some work in it. The church should appoint the officers and teachers and it was important that the relations between the superintendent and pastor should be most cordial.

Rev. P. C. PARKER said that it was the exception and not the rule that was noticed, and that was the reason that if a child of Christian parents did not turn out right it was noticed. Every teacher should try to make the children feel the weight of their Christian life. They should make the children feel that conversion was their chief object. He spoke of the importance of good companionship and habits.

Mr. T. DIXON CRAIG, M.P.P., spoke on "The Office of Superintendent." He believed the superintendent should be elected by the teachers. The superintendent should be a Christian, have a good reputation, be patient, firm, punctual, prompt, vigilant, willing to learn, and have sympathy with children. The superintendent had duties out of school, and should study the lesson, select the hymns, speak with the teachers and scholars, look after absent teachers, speak about the school and hold teachers' meetings. In the school he should be regular in attendance, see that everything is ready, begin on time, close on time, keep order, etc. He dealt with the subject thoroughly and minutely.

The discussion was continued by Mr. H. Graham, Revs. Dr. Welton, J. Reddick, P. C. Parker and Mrs. Barker. On motion of Dr. Welton, Mr. Craig was asked to send his address to the Canadian Baptist.

The report of the committee on the constitution was taken up, and the question of the name was discussed.

Mr. T. D. CRAIG suggested that it be called Peterborough, and other names were prodosed. A vote was finally taken on the following names, the others being withdrawn:—Peterborough and Belleville, and Peterborough.

The vote resulted in the name Peterborough Association being chosen. The remainder of the report was adopted.

The Rev. J. T. Dowling was appointed to write a circular letter for the next meeting on the history of the Association.

On motion of Rev. D. REDDICK, a vote of thanks was tendered the railways for reduced fares.

Oumotion of Rev. D. N. MIHELL, seconded by Mr. CRAIG, a vote of thanks was tendered to the Peterborough papers, for their attendance and reports.

Rev. J. T. DOWLING moved, seconded by Rev. WM. PEER,—That a vote of thanks be tendered the [illegible] the manner in which he had [illegible] carried.

The conference adjourned until the evening.

LADIES' MISSION CIRCLE.

The ladies, delegates and others, met in the church at four o'clock, the Association retiring to the Sunday school room, to complete the work of organizing a Ladies' Mission Circle in connection with the Association. The meeting was opened with devotional exercises.

Mrs. J. F. BARKER, of Whitby, presided. She expressed thankfulness because the ladies were permitted to assist in the work of the church.

Mrs. BARKER also read the reports of the different circles. In some cases gratifying progress was shown, while in others there was still room for improvement and greater interest.

Miss Emma Bradley, of Grafton, was elected Director. Her duties will be to have a general oversight of the circles and to preside at the annual meetings.

Miss BRADLEY acknowledged the honor conferred upon her by being chosen for the position.

Mrs. PEER said that official visits to the Circles would have a good effect.

Miss ADA ALDRIDGE read a paper on Mission Bands, which was carefully prepared and suggestive.

Miss NICHOLLS, in the absence of the President, Mrs. Gilmour, through illness, welcomed the visiting ladies, on behalf of the local Circle, to Peterborough, to their homes and to the Circle.

Mrs. PEER, on behalf of the visiting ladies, returned thanks for the welcome.

The meeting closed with devotional exercises, Mrs. Gould, of Cramahe, leading in prayer.

On the Road.

Give them a Chance.

That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do their work. And what they do, they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boschee's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failed you you may depend upon this for certain.

A Protest.

To the Editor of the Review.

SIR,—It is with surprise and sorrow that we hear that one of the amusements for Dominion Day is to be a "Deer chase" in the exhibition grounds.

It is a poor excuse that the dogs are to be muzzled, for the agony of terror is as great as the agony of death, only of longer duration.

It is hard to understand where the pleasure and excitement can be, when the heroic animal "Man" is perfectly free from even a shadow of danger, all the suffering is inflicted on the most timid and harmless of creatures.

One could imagine some exciting sport if the "Lords of the Creation" took some share in the danger, as with the lion or tiger, but as the case stands it seems a wanton act of cowardice and cruelty.

Bricklayers' and Masons' Union

No. 12, Peterborough.

To the Architects and Builders of the Town of Peterborough.

GENTLEMEN,—The members of the Bricklayers' and Masons' Union, No. 12, Peterborough, have decided to take no sub-contracts after the 1st day of June, 1888. We take this step believing it to be to the interest of Architects and Proprietors of buildings, to deal directly with us, and no', as heretofore, letting our branch of work to Carpenters, and then have them sub-let it to us, frequently at a loss to owners of buildings through inferior material being used to secure the carpenter a profit. We therefore consider it would be to the interest of all concerned, to have each trade control its own line of work.

Signed on behalf of the Union,
J. J. HARTLEY, President.
GEO. ROSE, Vice-President.
R. SHEEHY, Secretary.

MORE SLEDGE HAMMER WHACKS At HIGH PRICES.

Our Aim Accomplished,--to make our Store the Hub of Peterborough's Clothing Trade.

52½ c. We are Rattling out at Express Speed, Fine Lines, a Continuation of our Great 52½ cts. on the Dollar Clothing Sale. 52½ c.

WE BOOM UP THE GOODS.
WE BOOM DOWN PRICES.

Right we are! Right we shall be! We Hew to the Line let the Chips fall where they may. Dealers who buy at six months time pursue the even tenor of their way. They are content to do business as hundreds of others are doing—and get left. How can the six months time men compete with GOUGHS, The Wonderful Cheap Men, the High Pressure Electric Clothiers, who seize the opportunity to buy at Spot Cash and buy awfully well. Read, you noble sons of toil, what the Clothiers of the Age are going to do for the next 30 days and when you read reflect, and when you reflect, come and buy from them, for you cannot buy from any wholesale house in Canada at the following prices; For thirty days we will sell you:

Men's Suits at $2.95 that cost imaginary clothiers $4.25 wholesale.

Men's Pants for $1.50. We don't say what they are worth but see if you can buy elsewhere for $1.95.

Men's Suits for $5.00 worth easily $10.00.
Men's Halifax Tweed Suits all Wool $5.00.
Men's Fine Worsted Suits $6.90, worth $13.00.
Children's Suits for 58 cents, $1.10, $2.00 and up, worth double the money.

Special Drive in Boys' Coats 19c. each, Men's Working Pants 17c. each

With ample means, prodigious energy and absolute determination to do the Largest Clothing Business in the District, we shall reach that goal if our friends, the buyers, will realize that no firm or dealer has ever offered the values we have given and are giving in Men's & Boys' Clothing. The Public have responded well to our great sale inducements. The public have our best thanks. We regret that the rush was so large on Saturday that we could not give our customers all the time we would like. Two additional Salesmen will be on hand Saturday next so that all who come can have ample attention. We rely on the invulnerable advantages of Square Dealing, in an Honorable Square Way, and with prices 33⅓ per cent. all round below all competitors are the ironclad basis on which we are doing a Triumphant Clothing Trade.

Lots of Laces.

Should lady shoppers require laces the golden lion is the place to buy. Our stock is large and varied. Laces form one of the most attractive features of a lady's costume. There is confessedly something irresistibly fascinating in those cloudlike fabrics that fall gracefully about the female form. Nothing in a lady's toilet can equal it. It is beyond compare. It has a unique charm of its own. How much could be told of laces, their origin, introduction and advance. How one of those famous Nottingham beer-drinkers, named Hammond, was refused credit at the ale house, and, going home, long and patiently delved, until he produced the famous Valenciennes Lace, and drank up the good fortune it brought him. How for long years no machinery could imitate the expensive hand-made or cushion work, until the stocking frame was adapted to the purpose, so that Hosiery became the parent of Lace. Try the golden lion for Lace.

Boating Shawls.

Kindly look in to Sheppard's when down town. All colors. Regular price, $1.75. Sheppard's price to-day, $1.00. Decidedly cheap goods. 3d151-1w26.

Large Funeral.

The funeral of the late Samuel Griffith took place on Wednesday afternoon and was very largely attended by friends and acquaintances, who thus testified their respect and esteem for the deceased.

R. T. of T.

Peterborough Council No. 97, Royal Templars of Temperance, meet this evening in the W.C.T.U. Hall, entrance south of A. Clegg's. Gospel temperance meeting on Sunday from 4 to 5 o'clock p.m.

A New Line.

A gang of Canadian Pacific telegraph men are in town. They are constructing a line to Lindsay. They expect to finish in the course of a few weeks. They are all French Canadians hailing from Montreal. More of the north eastern towns will also be connected with the C. P. R. system this summer.

Mount Hebron.

The following are the elected officers of Mount Hebron Encampment, I. O. O. F. They will be installed at the next meeting:—

Joseph Mills	J.P.C.P.
Jas. D. Tully	C.P.
R. J. Kidd	H.P.
Angus McIntosh	S.W.
T. Emmerson	J.W.
J. W. Meade	Scribe
W. H. Dayman	Treasurer.

A New Switch.

Business is increasing so rapidly with the C. P. R. at Peterborought that it has been found necessary to lay down another siding, which will run on their own property. The men employed on it expect to be kept at work until the fall in building the line up the bank of the river, regarding which no definite arrangements have yet been made.

The First One.

A strawberry festival was held on the grounds of St. John's Church on Wednesday evening. Chinese lanterns and other decorations were used with pleasing effect. Strawberries, ice cream and other refreshments were served. The Fire Brigade Band furnished music. The attendance was very good and all were much pleased with the evening's entertainment.

Elijah's Body.

On Wednesday the Chief Constable telegraphed to the managers of the circus, asking if any person claimed the body of Simon Elijah. An answer was received stating that no person claimed it but that the murdered man's cousin would like to have him interred in a Protestant cemetery. Under these circumstances nothing could be done and Mr. D. Belleghem, Inspector of Anatomy for the Ontario Government, took charge of it and had it interred in the Little Lake Cemetery. Rev. Mr. Beck conducted the funeral ceremony.

Personal.

Mr. A. E. Carter will take up his residence in Peterborough and enter upon his duties as organist of St. Andrew's church on Sunday, July 1st.

At a meeting of the Directors of the Lakefield Lumber and Manufacturing Co., held at their offices in Lakefield on Wednesday, Mr. A. V. R. Young, chartered accountant, of Peterborough, was appointed auditor for the company. The company made a wise choice for this responsible position as, judging from his professional reputation, Mr. Young is eminently qualified for the position.

Mr. Thos. Mahoney has secured the position as Representative of the Manufacturer's Accident Insurance Company for Peterborough, in Messrs. Wilson & Morrison's office. Mr. Mahoney has always been considered one of the best Accident Insurance agents in Peterborough.

A Pair.

George Wright and A. Dundas, two drunks, were brought before the P. M. this morning by the chief. They both pleaded guilty and were fined $2 or ten days each. Dundas paid and Wright went to gaol.

Bound to Stop it.

The Magistrate this morning at the Police Court said that he was bound to put down the prevailing drunkenness, if it was possible to do so. He would inflict $10 fines, if he found it necessary.

Excursion to Jubilee Point.

St. Luke's Sunday School Pic-Nic will be held at Jubilee Point, Friday, June 29th. Steamer Golden Eye leaves Peterborough wharf at 8 a.m., calling at Ashburnham. Return tickets: Adults, 40 cents. Children 25 cents. 6d144.

The Trial.

Gaoler Nesbitt says that Farley, the alleged murderer, cannot be brought before the Police Magistrate, on Monday next, without an order from the Attorney-General, as he is now held on a coroner's warrant. If such is the case, some person has surely blundered.

Free.

Don't forget the free Musical and Literary Entertainment to be given by the Endeavor Society, in the School Room of the Charlotte Street Methodist Church this evening at 8 o'clock. Splendid programme. Cordial welcome.

For a Day's Outing.

Try the breezes of Sturgeon Lake. Make up a party to take the trip, via rail and boat to Sturgeon Point, with the George-st. Methodist Sunday School excursion, on July 10th. Leave and return by regular trains. See future locals for price of tickets. 1d157-1w26.

The soothing and restorative effects of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral are realized in all cases of colds, coughs, throat or lung troubles, while its powerful healing qualities are shown in the most serious pulmonary disorders.

Lost His Horse.

A man lost his horse on Wednesday afternoon while under the influence of liquor. He went to the police station and ordered the police to find his rig at once. The chief endeavored to find out something about where the man had been, but instead of being answered in a civil manner, he was met by a torrent of abuse and the man soon found himself behind the bars. The horse and rig were afterwards found standing on the street in front of a hotel and they were sent home.

The "Royal" Flavoring Extracts are not only true to their names, but are prepared from fruits of the best quality.

Beautiful Property.

The Roman Catholic Park Lot which for so long a time has been looked at with hungry eyes, is at last being put in the market. It lies between two of the best streets in Peterborough, Gilmour-st. especially is the fashionable street of the town. The lots will be sold off at low prices, as money is needed for church purposes. As soon as building operations are begun on this property there will be a rapid advance in value. The sale will afford a good investment for all who desire a safe thing and a chance for a little speculation. 6d151-1w26

From Farley's Father.

After the shooting affair on Sunday, Farley, the prisoner, requested that a telegram be sent to to his father, who resides in Philadelphia. A despatch was accordingly sent and on Wednesday afternoon the Chief Constable received an answer. The father is an employee of the Knickerbocker Ice Co., and states that he is a poor, hard-working man, who has not the means to come to Peterborough. He asks the Chief to forward him full particulars and to state who was to blame in the unfortunate affair. The Chief sent copies of the REVIEW containing accounts of the murder and the inquest. It is learned that the prisoner was here some three or four years ago and a man who was employed with him states that he was always regarded by his fellow employees as a crank.

THE BAPTIST CHURCH

EVENING SESSION.

The attendance was very good in the evening. After singing and prayer by the Rev. J. T. Dowling, the regular business of the Association was proceeded with.

Mr. T. D. CRAIG, M. P. P., of Fort Hope, was called on to address the meeting on Foreign Missions. He read a letter from the Rev. Mr. Grant, Superintendent of Foreign Missions, regretting his absence and stating that the church was behind in the Foreign Mission fund and that the churches in this Association were behind in their assessments. He defined Foreign Missions as like bread and water to the heathen. He pointed out the great difficulties that missionaries had to contend with and regarded their lives as exceedingly dangerous and toilsome, and full of privations. They have no churches, no society, poor health owing to the climate, and no person here can fully realize all that they have to contend with. The missionaries are buoyed up by the knowledge that God is with them and that the natives are being converted. At three different points in India buildings are owned by the Baptists. They have 10 missionaries and 2 boats. There are 64 native preachers, 4 of whom are ordained. There are 14 Bible women, 2 colporteurs, 1,900 members of the church, 200 Sunday School children, 300 scholars attend the day schools and over 100 villages have native Christians in them. He felt proud that the work was progressing and asked for prayers and liberal contributions. He related several instances of conversions through small contributions, and regarded Foreign Missions as the work of individuals rather than of boards and associations.

Rev. D. N. MIHALL, of Belleville, said that he lacked enthusiasm for the work. He referred to the romantic phase of foreign missions and that persons who contributed from emotion are giving from a very low motive indeed. He took a practical view of the matter. He asked have we discharged our obligations to Christ? Have we paid our debts to Him? All Christians should pay their debts and will if they are honest. Christ is supreme and all must acknowledge that fact and should do whatever Christ requires of him. He felt that much time was spent in India doing little, but as long as a man is faithful God will see that this work is successful. All should contribute from a proper motive, for Christ's sake, and then they will give as they should give. If we acknowledge the validity of God's commands we must contribute towards foreign missions. If we do not do it we deny God's commands, and until all obey them we will never contribute in a proper manner. We should recognize, like Paul, that we are indebted to the Greeks and barbarians and should discharge that indebtedness by contributing liberally towards the conversion of the heathens. He did not refer particularly to Home or Foreign Missions, but to missions generally, whether at home or abroad. He did not believe in monopoly, but would scatter the Gospel broadcast. Unless we contribute under the impression that we are discharging an obligation to Christ, we are not acting in a proper spirit.

Mrs. J. F. BARKER, of Whitby, a good speaker addressed the Association on "Women's Work." She said that she was not an advocate of Women's Rights, but on the contrary regarded man as head of the church of Christ and the family. She regarded God's command to preach the Gospel as applying with equal force to male and females. Woman owes her social, religious and domestic liberty to the Gospel. In heathen countries the woman is regarded as the inferior of man, while in Christian countries she is his equal. Sometimes we are told that civilization is responsible for this state of affairs, but history tells us different. Civilization without Christianity is not capable of elevating man and woman and women should show their appreciation of this fact by liberal contributions. Christ has assured us that anything done for oppressed humanity, out of love, is acceptable to Him. From recent statistics she learned that the United States had one minister to every 700 people. In China there was but one to each million, and in Africa there are 140 millions of people who are unconverted. She spoke strongly in favor of the organization of Woman's Mission Circles in every congregation. All should aim to make every church a mission church. There is help and strength in organization. To do this pride and ambition must be sacrificed, and if such is done women would be better mothers, wives and Christians.

Rev. J. R. HUFF, Moderator, returned thanks for the hospitality of the people of Peterborough and for the vote of thanks tendered to him as chairman.

Rev. Mr. PARKER said that on behalf of the congregation he returned thanks to the delegates and also to the members of the church for the kindly manner in which they had entertained the visitors. He felt that the people were enriched by the visit of the delegates. He also thanked the press for their reports of the meetings and thought the papers were doing a great missionary work.

After singing a hymn the proceedings closed with prayer by the Rev. Mr. Anderson, of Lindsay.

Advice to Mothers.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth It relieves the little suffer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa whether arising from teething or other causes 25 cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

Exciting Contests.

The bicycle races at Belleville on Dominion Day will be exciting. The best wheelmen in the province will be present. Mr. Greatrix, of Peterborough, intends competing for some of the handsome prizes. The P.A.A.A. excursion will leave here at 8.20 a.m. Tickets, good for two days, only $1.10.

Coughs and Colds.—If everything has failed try Allen's Lung Balsam and be cured.

The Programme.

The scheme for holding the band concert and fireworks' display on Monday next, on the P.A.A.A. grounds, instead of at the Driving Park, is one that is appreciated by the public. The great trotting and running races, the novel deer hunt and fox chases and probably the balloon ascension will all take place at the Driving Park during the afternoon. The physogs, Indians and cavaliers, after parading the town, will proceed direct to the park. Those wishing to take part as cavaliers should apply at once to Mr. J. E. McIntyre, at the Oriental.

"I assure you, father, the one thing needed to make the furnishing of this library complete is a lovely hanging lamp in place of this stand one which we have used for years. Nothing seems to give the finishing touch to the equipments of a room like a nice hanging lamp such as they keep at China Hall. Those ornaments up there, which I also bought at China Hall, are lovely. Every one admires them, and just half the price I was asked for the same things in Toronto; but still, father dear, I must have the lamp."

The First Symptoms

of all Lung diseases are much the same: feverishness, loss of appetite, sore throat, pains in the chest and back, headache, etc. In a few days you may be well, or, on the other hand, you may be down with Pneumonia or "galloping Consumption." Run no risks, but begin immediately to take Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

Several years ago, James Birchard, of Darien, Conn., was severely ill. The doctors said he was in Consumption, and that they could do nothing for him, but advised him, as a last resort, to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. After taking this medicine, two or three months, he was pronounced a well man. His health remains good to the present day.

J. S. Bradley, Malden, Mass., writes: "Three winters ago I took a severe cold, which rapidly developed into Bronchitis and Consumption. I was so weak that I could not sit up, was much emaciated, and coughed incessantly. I consulted several doctors, but they were powerless, and all agreed that I was in Consumption. At last, a friend brought me a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. From the first dose, I found relief. Two bottles cured me, and my health has since been perfect."

MONA'S CHOICE.

BY MRS. ALEXANDER.

"Uncle, let me introduce Lady Finistoun and Miss Morton to you," said Mona.

"I am sure I am varra pleased to see ony friends o' my niece," said Uncle Sandy, rising after two distinct efforts, and smiling on the visitors. Like most Scotchmen, he was much mollified by the sight of a pretty face. "Ye'll sit doon and tak' a cup of tea or a glass of wine after your drive? Here, Jessie, set a chair for the leddy by me, and bring cups and plates. Where'll the ither leddy sit? Kenneth, mak' room 'twixt you and Mona."

"Thank you, Mr. Craig," said Lady Finistoun, in her soft, sweet tones; "a cup of tea will be most refreshing after our long drive; for I stupidly lost my way, and my groom is a Londoner."

"There is a remarkable fine air here; it's better than what you have over in Strathairlie," returned Uncle Sandy. "You see, we are sheltered frae the north, an' we get mair sun—forbye the porridge. I have just insisted on her takin' porridge to her breakfast."

"Porridge is exceedingly indigestible, and bad for the complexion," said Miss Morton, between the mouthsful of cream scones.

"You're wrang!" cried Uncle Sandy. "Just look at the men and women that are reared on porridge! There's no their equals to be found on earth!"

"My dear sir, I don't imagine you have seen much of earth beyond your native land."

"You're wrang there again, mem. I've just come back from over a year's wandering wi' my niece about the Continent of Europe; and there's little I saw there that I'd care to tak' awa'."

"Ah, I see you are one of the large class who think their geese swans."

"I'm much obliged for your high opeenion, mem; but I am no such a fule-body. I have the maist intelligent men of all times on my side."

"Miss Morton has an intellectual love of argument," said Lady Finistoun, soothingly, "and is generally in opposition to the foeman she considers most worthy of her steel. But I am anxious to see your charming gardens, if there is time after tea. Sir St. John Lisle tells me it is a gem of a place."

"Weel, I hope you will come as often as you like to look at it," returned Uncle Sandy.

"It is admirably situated. A family place, I suppose?" asked Miss Morton, pausing up her cup.

"Naw!" exclaimed Uncle Sandy; "I bought it wi' my ain hard-earned money."

"Oh, you lucky man! Of all powers, the one I envy most is the power of making money."

"You have quite enough, dear," said Lady Finistoun. "Now, my dear Mr. Craig, I want you to spare my cousin to me for a few days. It is so long since we were together, and as we have rather a pleasant party, and the change—"

"She's no your cousin," said Uncle Sandy, hastily; "she has no kin except me. Her grandmother's kin fell from her when she most needed them."

"But she is indeed my cousin; and through her I claim you, too, my dear Mr. Craig, as a kinsman, if you will permit the claim."

"It would be hard to say ye nay," he returned, a smile puckering up his self-satisfied face. "Mona may please herself."

"Do you always wear the kilt?" said Miss Morton, abruptly, to Kenneth.

"Mostly, when I'm amang the heather."

"It's very becoming," said she, with an admiring glance. "I do not wonder at Highland gentleman wearing it; but you are all very conceited."

"I am sorry you think so."

"Don't you admit it?"

"I am not sure."

"Ah! that is the cautious Scot all over. Tell me, are you his nephew?" nodding in the direction of Uncle Sandy.

"I am."

"And Miss Craig's brother?"

"No; my name is Kenneth Macalister."

"Ah! Highland to the backbone. Then is this young lady your sister?"

Kenneth and Mary blushed simultaneously.

"I see. No, certainly not," returned Miss Morton, with a harsh laugh. "Now, Mr. Macalister, the room is rather warm; haven't you a shrubbery or a garden, or something to show me? I don't care to sit here any longer."

Kenneth rose reluctantly.

"Oh, yes, I can take you for a stroll."

"I am going to look at the grounds," said the resolute spinster to her chaperon, "with Mr. Macalister."

"My niece will—" began Uncle Sandy, but Miss Morton promptly interrupted him.

"Oh, no, thank you; I don't want any young ladies; a Highlander is enough for me," and she walked off, followed somewhat sheepishly by Kenneth.

"Milly Morton professes not to like women," explained Lady Finistoun, laughing.

"Mair's the pity," said Uncle Sandy, dryly, "for I'm thinking few men would like her!"

"I assure you they do. She is very popular, and has had endless offers—to be sure, she has a good fortune."

"Weel, weel! siller is nae everything to a wife. Noo, if you'll tak' nae mair tea, I'll go round the grounds with you myself."

"Thank you," and Lady Finistoun satisfied her host's heart with exclamations of admiration and delicately-administered flattery.

"Well, my dear sir, I must tear myself away. The shades of evening will be round us before we reach the Lodge. Now, where has Miss Morton wandered to with that good-looking Highlander? It will be dark before we can go home."

"I think they went round by the big oak," said Mona. "I will go and look for them."

When found, Miss Morton proposed—as it was only three miles to the Lodge by the short cut over the hill—to walk back under Kenneth's escort, a suggestion which evidently alarmed him.

This Lady Finistoun decidedly negatived.

"Don't talk such nonsense, my dear. Mr. Macalister would not get back till midnight, and you would be too late for dinner. Three miles over a hill-top are equal to six on a flat road. Come, let us be going."

"You are a little [illegible] Miss Morton.

"Will you walk with me to the gate, Mona, while they are bringing round the phaeton? I am sure Mr. Macalister will come so far with Miss Morton."

"With pleasure," cried Mona.

Having bid a cordial farewell to Uncle Sandy, and a civil good-bye to Mary, Lady Finistoun slipped her arm through Mona's, and they walked slowly down the approach.

"I have been dying to ask you a hundred questions, dear!" she exclaimed. "What a droll, intensely Scotch Scotchman your uncle is! Quite a character! I am sure he is very rich. Has he adopted you? Is he going to leave you all his money? Is 'young Lochinvar' a lover, or a rival near the throne? Tell me everything."

Mona laughed, and gave Lady Finistoun a slight sketch of the situation, in which that sympathetic young peeress was immensely interested.

"The 'braw Hielandman' is no doubt an excellent person," she said; "but I should like to see you sole heir to your uncle's wealth. I suppose he is very rich?"

"Not according to your standard, I imagine," returned Mona, "though I believe he could make Kenneth independent, and me, too; for I have found that woman wants but little here below to make her happy. Money cannot buy what is most essential."

To be continued.

BANKERS.—Bank of Toronto and Canadian Bank of Commerce
SOLICITORS.—Dumble & Leonard.

TO DEPOSITERS.—Deposits are received by this Company both on current account and for periods of one year or longer. The rate of interest paid on amount deposited on current account and which may be withdrawn by check in such sums as the depositor may from time to time require, is four per cent., either paid or compounded half yearly, and the rate on yearly deposits is five per cent.

TO INVESTORS.—The five and ten years five per cent debentures of this Company which are issued in denominations of $100, $200, $500 and $1,000 each, transferable by endorsement, with half-yearly interest coupons attached, payable at the Head Office of the Company in Peterborough, or at any Branch of the Bank of Toronto in Canada, afford a safe and convenient mode of investment.

The funds of the Company being invested with the utmost care and precaution, no better security can be offered to depositors or debenture-holders, they having a first claim or mortgage on the whole Assets of the Company, the Shareholders having the second. The last audit shows that the amount so invested was over $1,310,223.69, and on securities of at least double that value.

By the Laws of Ontario, Trustees, Executors and Administrators may deposit Trust Funds of the estates which they control in this Company, and are free from all further liability, a privilege of which many have largely availed themselves.

TO BORROWERS.—Money is obtainable from this Company on approved Real Estate Security at the Lowest Current Rates of Interest. The Mortgage may be paid by yearly instalments or otherwise, as may be agreed upon, the interest ceasing at once on all amounts paid on account of the sum borrowed. Applications may be made either to the Head Office, or to any of the Agents.

TURNBULL'S.

New Goods received this week. Art Muslins, or Peek-a-boo Curtain Nets, Cretonnes, Fringes, Table Oilcloths. Ladies' Belts, Prints, Lawns and Dress Goods.

Among the New Goods that arrived during the week were some Art Muslins, or Peek-a-boo Curtain Nets in fancy colors and beautiful Designs, the correct thing to make a home cosy and attractive, at a small cost. Also a nice assortment of Cretonne Fringes, selling at ten cents a yard, Marble Oilcloths with gold and blue veins in the best qualities. The gold has not been much shown but is particularly desirable Ladies' Belts, a full range in cloth and leather, and to our already attractive stock of Prints we have added some entirely new lines in navy and cream, navy and gold, navy and cardinal and brown and gold in checks, stripes and sprays, White Lawns and all over Embroideries at all prices. Dress Goods. Owing to the large drain on Dress Goods Stock some of the best shades were sold out, but we have been able to repeat them and are now showing a full range again. Value always right. We have also on our Dress Goods counter a range of 25 pieces of All Wool and Bradford Goods which we are selling at 10c. a yard. We are confident that these are the best value being offered at the price.

Just to hand light and dark Seersuckers in desirable patterns, probably one of the newest and most popular goods we are showing for children's wear in navy and cream colored estamine with navy and cream and cream and navy; anchor trimming to match. Mothers should see these goods.

THE MILLS TARIFF BILL.

A BITTER DISCUSSION IN THE HOUSE YESTERDAY.

Michigan's Protest—Canadian Competition Feared—Free Whiskey and the Republican Platform.

WASHINGTON, June 29.—The House went into committee on the tariff bill yesterday. Mr. BAKER (N. Y.) moved to strike from the free list vegetables in their natural state or in salt or brine, not specially enumerated or provided for.

Mr. Brewer (Mich.), in supporting the motion, referred to the strong competition which existed between the farmers of Northern Michigan and those of the Province of Ontario, and protested against the removal of the small tariff which was now laid upon the vegetables imported from Canada.

Mr. Farquhar (N. Y.) ironically expressed his admiration for the generosity of the Committee on Ways and Means in opening the northern markets to the Canadian farmers. If that was good American policy let the committee follow it, but along the Canadian border there were intelligent farmers who would give their opinion of this cut-throat legislation when November came around.

Mr. Mills said that one of the objections made to the clause was that it removed the duty on potatoes. This was a mistake, as potatoes were specially provided for in another portion of the bill. The clause, he contended, was in the interest of the consuming classes, and he queried where the Republicans would be willing to reduce taxation.

Mr. Brumm suggested that they were ready to reduce internal rates.

Mr. Miller: You want free whisky. You do not say in your platform that you want to reduce the duties on sugar and rice. The convention has overruled what you have contended for. Your party demands you to go for free whisky. We go with you to the country on that question. We demand a reduction on those things which enter into consumption as necessaries and demand that the tax shall remain on whisky as it is to-day.

Mr. J. D. Taylor challenged the statement that the Republican party was in favor of free whisky. All persons of the Republican party were in favor of abolishing internal taxes because they believed it to be unwise as a system. That the Republican party was in favor of free whisky was absurd and he repudiated the charge.

Mr. Mills: "The platform of the Republican party says it is in favor of the repeal of internal taxes. [Shouts of "no! no!" from the Republicans.] It says it is in favor of taking the tax off alcohol used in the arts, and if that is not enough it is in favor of taking off all internal taxes. That is what is understood by the country as being in favor of free whiskey." Mr. Mills said he was not astonished at the tenderness of the gentleman on this question. It was well known that the majority of the Republican party was opposed to the extreme position which the Republicans had taken in Chicago. It was well known that the gentleman from Pennsylvania (Kelley) represented a minority and when the convention at Chicago was lashed and scourged to take a position for free whisky, no one sooner than the gentleman from Pennsylvania sent congratulations to the convention for coming to the heroic stand which he had occupied.

Boodler Keenan Sues for His Share.

NEW YORK, June 29.—John Keenan, the boodler who acted as an intermediary for the boodle aldermen, and who now is in Canada, has sued Herman T. Clarke, the aqueduct contractor, for an accounting. Keenan claims he and Clarke entered into an arrangement by which both were to share the profits on any aqueduct contract that might be awarded to the latter. Keenan wants to share in a contract of $400,000. Clarke says the agreement Keenan sues under was destroyed at the request of the former.

The Esquimalt Defences.

LONDON, June 29.—In the House of Lords last night Lord Sudeley questioned the Government as regards the defences at Esquimalt. The Colonial Secretary replied that the Government was awaiting a reply from the Dominion Government to the despatch of June 13, whether they assent to the proposed arrangement. If Canada's answer is in the affirmative the Imperial Government will at once proceed with the defences. The guns are in a very forward state.

The Canada Company.

LONDON, June 29.—At the Canada Company's meeting yesterday, Mr. Currie presiding, a dividend of 1 pound per share was unanimously adopted. The chairman said the reduced dividend was due to the bad Ontario harvest. The present season's crops promised to reach the average except as regards fall wheat.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

AT THE GERMAN CAPITAL.

DR. MACKENZIE HAULED OVER THE COALS BY THE PRESS.

Messages From the Reichstag to the Dowager Empress Victoria—Russian Relations—Going to St. Petersburg.

BERLIN, June 29.—The North German Gazette, alluding to the published interview had with Dr. Mackenzie at The Hague, in which the doctor admitted having concealed his knowledge of the cancerous nature of the late Emperor's malady in order to prevent a regency, says:—"The statement that Emperor Frederick or his consort in their own interests desired to rule even for a short time is untrue. Emperor Frederick, who had the highest conceivable sense of the duties imposed upon him by his Imperial dignity, would not have assumed the government of the country if he were proved to be incurably affected with cancer. Amongst those who might eventually have been called upon to approach Emperor Frederick on the subject there was none wanting in determination to broach the subject. According to his own statement, Dr. Mackenzie considered it his principal task to play a political role. An unimportant English physician, holding Radical views in politics, has the presumption to act the part of Privy Councillor and exercise a decisive influence upon the German nation. Dr. Mackenzie's statement calls for an explanation.

The dowager Empress Victoria yesterday received the President and Vice-President of the Reichstag, who presented her with an address of condolence on account of the death of Emperor Frederick. The Empress, in her reply to the address, thanked them for their sympathy. The President and Vice-President afterwards waited upon the Emperor and presented him with the reply of the Reichstag to the Speech from the Throne. The Emperor thanked them for the unanimity with which the reply had been voted and asked them to convey his thanks to the Reichstag. His Majesty recalled the passage of the Army Bill by the Reichstag on February 6 and said that decision had a most cheering effect upon his grandfather and himself. He attended the sitting of the Reichstag in person and was the first to announce the vote to his grandfather, who, after receiving the news, embraced and kissed him. His Majesty said he would never forget that day. The audience was here brought to a close.

Russian Relations.

BERLIN, June 29.—It is reported that the Czar has sent a lengthly letter to Emperor William expressing thorough friendship for Germany and sorrow for the loss sustained in the death of Emperor Fredrick. Gen. Pape will carry the Czar Emperor William's reply, written in Russian, in which the Emperor promises to follow his father's advice respecting friendship for Russia.

It is reported that the Berlin municipal authorities, some of whom hold very liberal views on religious matters, were received yesterday in a very frigid manner by the Emperor, and that his Majesty concluded his remarks to them by saying, "make it your business to see that more churches are built in Berlin."

Going to St. Petersburg.

LONDON, June 29.—The Standard's Berlin special says: Emperor William, with an imposing suite, will embark on the Imperial yacht Hohenzollern on July 13 or 14, and proceed direct to St. Petersburg, where he will remain for several days. During his stay magnificent fetes will be given in his honor. The arrangements for King Humbert's visit to Berlin will be agreed upon at a meeting between Minister Crispi and Prince Bismarck.

THE NICARAGUA CANAL.

Some English Capitalists Become Interested in the Scheme.

LONDON, June 29.—English aid is coming to the assistance of the Nicaragua canal. For some time past agents of rival schemes have been over here urging the co-operation of British shipowners, who have given careful consideration to all that has been urged by the various canal agents, and, as a result of these deliberations, which have extended over a year, upwards of sixty of the leading shipowners and merchants of the United Kingdom held a meeting at Liverpool and pronounced their decision.

J. Lockat of Liverpool was chairman, and those present were unanimous, passing the following resolution, which was moved and seconded by Chilian Consul Thomas Bain and Henry Shield, the head of the Liverpool iron works:

"This meeting of merchants, as shipowners of the port of Liverpool, having heard with satisfaction the explanation given by A. L. Blackman, president of the American, Atlantic and Pacific Ship Canal Company, relating to the plans of the company for the construction of the Nicaragua ship canal, and having regard for the opinion expressed by James Abernethy, C.E., and Sir George Bruce, C.E., of London, past and present presidents of the institution of Civil Engineers, to the effect that after careful examination and comparison of the various plans for the construction of an inter-oceanic ship canal across the territory of Nicaragua, they are satisfied that the plans submitted by Blackman are preferable to any others both as regards the working and the maintenance of the canal, its cost of construction and time required for its completion, and that owing to the great width of waterway and capacity of the locks proposed the canal will afford ample facilities for all traffic, however great, that may pass through it, as it will possess the great advantage that vessels can navigate at or near full speed and pass each other without danger or delay, which is not practicable in the usual type of canal of restricted width.

"'Resolved, that the ship canal across the territory of Nicaragua, constructed according to the plans which have been submitted to the meeting by Mr. Blackman, would be an undertaking of the first importance to commerce, and especially to the commerce of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland and to that of the United States of America.'"

The meeting regrets to learn that owing mainly to the existing disputes between the Government of Nicaragua and the American company concerning a concession granted by the Government to the company, the carrying out of the project has hitherto been delayed and trusts that the Government and the company may speedily settle their differences and that the undertaking may be placed on such basis that ample security will be afforded for capital seeking to be invested in connection with it. All the money necessary to build the canal in connection with previously secured American capital has now been provided, and England will prove a good second to the United States in completing the work.

FIRES OF A DAY.

A Sawmill, 1,500,000 Feet of Lumber and 100,000 Shingles Burnt at Germania.

GRAVENHURST, June 29.—A fire occurred at Thomas Tait's sawmill at Germania, about six miles from Gravenhurst yesterday, burning the mill, contents, 1,500,000 feet of lumber and 100,000 shingles. The loss is over $20,000, insured for $2,000.

This is the third fire inside of three years for Mr. Tait, two at Germania and one in Gravenhurst.

A spark from the burner is supposed to be the cause of the fire.

Fire at Picton.

PICTON, June 29.—The drive house and barns of G. Williams, two miles south of Picton, were burned yesterday, together with the contents. They were insured for $1,700 in the Bay of Quinte Mutual and $853 in the Fire Insurance Association.

A $100,000 Fire at St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., June 29.—The planing mill and box factory of Henry Gauze & Sons, have been destroyed by fire. Loss $100,000.

DECLARED INSANE.

Donnelly's Murderer Out of His Mind—Teller Pitcher Remanded.

MONTREAL, June 29.—John Kehoe, who is in jail for the murder of Thos. Donnelly, has been declared insane by Dr. Desmarteau, the jail physician.

Pitcher, the Providence absconder, has been remanded until Tuesday. Dr. Tucker, a director, and Joseph Johnston, cashier of the Union Bank of Providence, are here as witnesses in the case. The bank officials have interviewed the prisoner but he declines to make any statement. J. C. Hatton, Q. C., and C. A. Geoffrion, Q. C., will represent the prosecution, who were not ready to proceed to-day although the prisoner was. An attempt will be made to have Pitcher extradited. Pitcher says if he is released he will hand over the securities.

HAWKE'S HAUL.

Presented with a $1,000 Purse on His Return from Fredericton Jail.

MONCTON, N.B., June 29.—Mr. Hawke, editor of The Transcript, reached here yesterday after spending two months in Fredericton Jail for contempt of court. He was met at the station by a large crowd, which formed in procession and, accompanied by a band of music, escorted him to Robinson's Hall, where an address was presented, to which Mr. Hawke made a lengthy reply.

A purse containing about $1,000 accompanied the address.

EDISON'S PHONOGRAPH.

The Perfected Instrument Sent Across the Ocean to Tell Its Story.

LONDON, June 29.—Col. G. E. Gourand, writing from Little Menlo, Upper Norwood, S.E., says: "At 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon, at the above address, I had the honor to receive from Edison his first perfected phonograph, which, on the authority of Edison's own statement, in his own familiar voice communicated to me by the phonograph itself, is the first instrument of his latest model that has been seen outside his laboratory or that has left his hands, and is consequently the first to reach this country.

"At 2.05 o'clock precisely my family and I were enjoying at once the unprecedented and astounding experience of listening to Edison's own familiar and unmistakable tones here in England, more than 3,000 miles from the place where he had spoken, and exactly ten days after, the voice having meanwhile voyaged across the Atlantic ocean. His first phonogram, as Edison puts it, tells me, among other things of interest, that this instrument contains many modifications of that which was shown at the Electrical club in New York a few weeks ago and so widely reported by the press in several long phonogramic communications to me, no single word of which had to be repeated in order to be clearly and easily understood by every person present, including my child, 7 years old. Edison mentions that he will send me phonograms by every mail leaving New York, and requests me to correspond exclusively through the medium of the phonograph, humorously remarking in this connection upon the advantages he will himself derive from the substitution of phonograms for the style of writing not always too legible.

"Edison has sent, for our amusement, numerous musical records of great interest and beauty, pianoforte, cornet and other instruments, solos, duets, etc., many of which, he tells me, have been frequently repeated several hundred times. Altogether our experiences of to day have been so delightful and unusual, not to say supernatural, that it would be difficult to realize that we have not been dreaming, and so interesting withal as to make it seem our duty, as it has a pleasure, to communicate the above to the public. All honor to Edison."

Mr. Potts' Full Value.

PORT HURON, June 29.—In the suit of Attice Potts v. Emily Willard for $50,000 damages for alienating the affections of her husband, Lewis Potts, the jury brought in a verdict for $20,000 damages.

FRIDAY, JUNE 29, 1888.

THE REPUBLICAN NOMINEES,

WHAT effect the nomination of Gen. Harrison and Mr. Levi P. Morton by the Republican party will have upon the United States Presidential election, is the question that the politicians across the lines are discussing. Mr. Harrison is a respectable man, of considerable ability and with a good record. His father was a Congressman, his grandfather was President and another ancestor signed the declaration of independence. But the family history is not likely to have a large influence on the voters. Mr. Harrison's chances lie largely in the fact that he is a resident of Indiana, which is a doubtful State, and that he may carry his State with him. If he receives the votes of the States that supported Mr. Blaine, and which are supposed to be "solid" Republican, and also receives the support of his own State, Indiana, he will be within four electoral votes of victory, and the capture of the smallest of the other doubtful States would give him a majority. It is possible that Harrison may be elected, even should New York vote for Mr. Cleveland. New Jersey and Connecticut, however, have generally gone with New York, and if they should do so this time, Indiana would not be sufficient, along with the States that supported Mr. Blaine, to elect Mr. Harrison.

It was thought by some that the Mugwumps would return to the Republican fold when Mr. Blaine did not secure the nomination, but the New York Times announces that it will again support the Democratic candidates, and the body of the Independents will probably do the same. The Times supports Cleveland and Thurman on tariff reform grounds, and there is still the question of civil service reform to influence the Mugwumps in Cleveland's direction.

The tariff reform is now the prominent issue and will probably remain so. The Republicans have planked themselves on the present tariff and look to a removal of internal revenue taxes to reduce the surplus. The Democrats have endorsed Mr. Cleveland's policy and the Mills bill. The issue is more clearly defined—as the policy of the Democrats is more clearly defined, having been reduced to a bill—than it was before, and there is a possibility of certain States being affected by this question. The protection feeling has been growing in the "solid south," and the proposal of the Republicans to lessen the internal revenue tax on tobacco can scarcely be without influence in the south. Again the Democrats do not propose free trade. Their bill is in a large measure a protectionist one, and there may be protectionists who think it would be sufficient. All this introduces an element of uncertainty.

To sum up, there is a probability that Cleveland will be re-elected, and there is a chance that Harrison may secure the prize. The REVIEW will feel more positive about it—after November 4th.

THE people have not been shown how the Senate can be reformed.—Peterborough REVIEW.

It don't need reforming. It needs quicklime or a sepulchre. You can't reform a corpse.—London Advertiser.

Then the Advertiser thinks Mr. Mowat and the other members of the Quebec conference were foolish when they proposed "reforming" the Senate.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria,
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria,
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria,
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

BENSFORT.

Correspondence of the Review.

THE CROPS.—Fall wheat is doing well. The hay crop will be both short and light. The spring sown grain has a very promising appearance up to the present, but if the dry weather continues the straw will be very short in many places. The fruit prospect is not so good as last year. Pears, small fruits and cherries promise very well, but plums and apples will be but a medium crop.

AN ACCIDENT.—Last Friday morning Mr. J. Thorne and his son William were on their way to Peterborough with a load of grain, when in some unaccountable manner the tongue dropped from the neck yoke, causing the waggon to run off the road at a culvert, turning the waggon and load completely upside down. Mr. Thorne narrowly escaped being thrown under the load. Very fortunately no serious damage was done.

FOOTBALL.—A football club has been organised by the young men in the vicinity of Bensfort. They were out in full force for practice on last Saturday evening, when some lively kicking was done. They appeared to heartily enjoy their new game.

PICNIC.—There was a married folk's picnic, with a sprinkling of a few who are seriously contemplating the cannubial state, from Bensfort neighborhood, held at the lake shore on last Saturday afternoon. We believe they had a good jolly time fishing, boating, singing, promading, &c. The day was very fine and every one enjoyed themselves to their hearts content.

EXCURSION.—The union S.S. excursion passed off on the 20th June. They report having had a good, quiet and very pleasant time. The sail was delightful, the weather favourable, the party in the best of humor and all bent on thoroughly enjoying themselves.

BUILDING.—Mr. John Mein has just completed the stone foundation for the new barn on Mr. D. Truscott's premises. Mr. J. Monerief, jr., has his new barn just about finished. He has it ornamented with a ventilator and weather vane of considerable height, which gives the building quite and imposing appearance. Mr. J. Kerr, jr., of Baillieboro, was the contractor.

Regarding Sports.

To the Editor of the Review.

DEAR SIR,—I just want to say that I endorse, and I am sure very many more do, the sentiments of "An Old Subscriber" with reference to the deer hunt advertised to be held on Monday next, and in an humble way to lift up my voice against such a cruel (to say the least of it) pastime. Why should the deer, and I may say the fox, be hunted merely for the gratification of those who may be present. The deer, I presume, is a tame, probably a pet one, and even although the hounds are to be muzzled cannot they, if they should get them on to the deer or fox, inflict wounds and cause unnecessary suffering and pain? I hope the good sense and human feeling of the managing committee will yet influence them to dispense with this part of the programme. It is not too late to do so and I am satisfied such a course will be pleasing to many.

It is a great pity, I think, that sports, etc., cannot be held on public holidays that shall be free from cruelty to even the smallest animals—part of the exhibition on the afternoon of last Queen's Birthday was not very creditable to the committee or those who undertook to drive the different animals and birds; the dog, I am told, was more or less injured, and the poor, harmless little rabbit died either from fright or injury. I do hope there will be no repitition.

Yours, etc.,
HUMANITY.

Peterborough, June 29th, 1888.

Welcomed.

The Rev. M. L. Pearson, President of the Bay of Quinte Conference and the new pastor of the George-st. Methodist Church, arrived with his family from Linday on the G. T. R. last night. He was welcomed by Messrs. Dumble, Mason and others and escorted to his new home. He will occupy the pulpit on Sunday.

EPPS'S COCOA

BREAKFAST.

"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavoured beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there was a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—"Civil Service Gazette."

HOUSEFURNISHINGS.

At this season many Housekeepers are replenishing their supplies of Tableware and China. City folk are furnishing summaer cottages; country folk are filling up the dressers and cupboards of the old homestead; town's folk are picking and choosing here and there. Many would be glad to know of a place whose special business is to meet these wants and desires; that aims to furnish essentially good wares at consistently low prices; that offers the choice of many different dinner services, and yet does not compel you to take an entire set of any pattern, but allow you to select each course of a new design, or buy any portion of the set you may need; that does not try to impose ideas or wares upon purchasers, and yet is ready to advise which of the many wares is most desirable and suitable; and, if wished, will make a careful selection of pattern. When you want Tablewear will you give us the opportunity to serve you.

Enjoy Your Pleasure.

A sarcastic Frenchman has said that the Enlish take their pleasures sadly. In Canada we take our fun merrily. To enjoy outdoor amusements one requires to be properly clad. To be properly clad calls for right materials for dress or garments. Here is where the golden lion comes to the front. We have a fine stock of boating flannels, cricketing flannels, and materials suitable for lawn tennis suits. Handsome, light to wear and make up well. Drop in at the golden lion and buy.

A Protest.

Mr. C. J. Phelan of the Riverside Lacrosse Club, attended the meeting of the Council of the Canadian Lacrosse Association at Toronto, as a witness in the case of the protest of Orangeville against Shelburne, growing out of the fact that one of the Shelburne players named James had played with Barrie against Peterborough. James denied that he played here, but "Joe" positively identified him as having done so. After much talk it was finally decided that James should visit Peterborough on the 13th of July next and interview the different members of the Riverside Club, who took part in the game. There is no doubt that he played here and the chances are very rosy that he will be expelled from the Association. Hartley and James, who played with Barrie against Peterborough on the Queen's birthday, were re-instated after being warned and the Peterborough protest thus falls through.

Imperial Federation.

A meeting of the members of the Peterborough branch of the Imperial Federation League was held on Thursday evening, at Hartley's music store. The attendance was not large. President J. H. Long presided. Many matters were talked over and it was shown that after paying all liabilities there would be a small surplus on hand. It was decided to discontinue monthly meetings for the present, but to keep up the organization so that in case any particular question may crop up, or any notable speaker may visit Peterborough, the league will be in a condition to receive the speaker and discuss the question. Some papers from England have recently been received, showing that Imperial Federation is making good progress at home and in all the colonies. In Canada the work goes on apace, several branches having recently been formed, at Orillia among other places.

Injured at Lindsay.

The Sam Trotter referred to in the following from the Lindsay Watchman, formerly was employed at the Grand Central and Hub hotels, and was well known here:

"On Tuesday evening about 6 10 o'clock, a painful accident happened to Mr. Sam. Trotter, an employe on the G. T. R'y. It appears from what we can learn, that the auxiliary train was coming in from Haliburton, and when at the Colborne St. crossing, on the Avenue, in order to save the walk back from the station, Trotter jumped from the middle of the train, but not being able to throw himself clear of the cars was struck by a projection and buried with great violence on the rocky side of the track. His skull was fractured by the fall, and he now lies in a critical condition. Dr. McAlpine was promptly in attendance and had the wounded man carried to his home. Trotter was perfectly conscious when picked up, and conversed in a natural manner with those around him. Drs. McAlpine and Hood hope for the ultimate recovery of their patient."

Departed.

The Rev. J. C. Wilson, late pastor of the Mark-st. Methodist church, Ashburnham, took his departure for his new field of labor on Thursday night. A large number of his late congregation were at the depot to wish him success in his new field of labor.

Down the River.

The Golden Eye this morning carried down quite a large number of the pupils, teachers and friends of St. Luke's Sabbath School, Ashburnham. Their destination was the beautiful Jubilee Point. The weather has been all that could be desired and no doubt all spent a pleasant day. The boat is expected back about 7 o'clock this evening.

Over the River.

The Dickson Company, who now own the grocery store, in Ashburnham, occupied by Mr. W. Collins, are going to fit the premises up in true Metropolitan style. Plate glass for the windows has just been received through Messrs. McKee & Davidson.

The Village Council has ordered from a Toronto manufacturer one hundred dog tags, and soon the dogs will be cavvalled to wear the brasses, or die at the muzzle of Constable Craig's trusty revolver.

Sensible.

As the day approaches the excitement increases and learning of the really excellent programme to be carried out here on Dominion Day, many who had intended spending the day abroad have decided to remain at home, and well they might too as there is no doubt that Peterborough's Demonstration will excel in grandeur and attractiveness anything ever attempted in the district. Let us enumerate again the various events. Physiogs, trotting and running races, Indian and cavalier parade, band concert, Fireworks, promenade concert and fox and deer hunts.

A Really Good Travelling Companion—Perry Davis' Pain Killer.

Councillor Cahill Abroad.

The colleagues of our esteemed Councillor Cahill will regret that the Council will be obliged to get along without his assistance for some time yet. Letters received state that the Councillor is at present enjoying himself at Victoria, B. C., where the "wether is glorious but it is always cold at night," to quote from Mr. Cahill's communication. He proposes returning home some time after the 8th July, but does not, it is inferred, expect to be met at the station with shouts of gladness, cups of wine and brass bands, so to speak. Our city fathers may expect to profit by the condensed wisdom which Councillor Cahill will lay before them as the result of his trip.

Beautiful Property.

The Roman Catholic Park Lot which for so long a time has been looked at with hungry eyes, is at last being put in the market. It lies between two of the best streets in Peterborough, Gilmour-st, especially is the fashionable street of the town. The lots will be sold off at low prices, as money is needed for church purposes. As soon as building operations are begun on this property there will be a rapid advance in value. The sale will afford a good investment for all who desire a safe thing and a chance for a little speculation. 6d151-1w26

Endeavor Society Entertainment.

Last evening, though the weather proved unpleasant, the School Room of the Charlotte-st. Methodist Church was crowded to the doors, the occasion being the first public entertainment of the Endeavor Society. The room was beautifully decorated with bunting, and the platform was festooned with flowers. Appropriate mottoes, such as "Welcome to All," "Deeds, not Words," etc., adorned the walls. Mr. G. C. Rowse, President of the Society, occupied the chair. The hymn "Work for the Night is Coming," was sung, after which Mr. J. L. Hughes led in prayer. The President made a few felicitous remarks anent the object and aims of the Society, after which Mr. A. L. Davis sang "The Holy Friar" with a rich, full voice. It was well received by the audience. Then came a reading by Sergeant-Major Rundle entitled "The Jiners," which gave much satisfaction and pleasure. Miss Fairweather gave an instrumental selection, which was heartily appreciated, as was plainly seen by the applause which greeted her at its close. The Lansdowne Piano showed to good advantage during Miss Fairweather's rendition. Mr. Morris, of the Ontario Bank, sang "True till Death," with marked feeling and effect. This completed the first part of the programme. After an interval of about fifteen minutes, during which time the audience were very busy in conversation, &c., the second part of the programme was commenced by a vocal duet by Messrs. Stevens and Henderson, "The Larboard Watch." It was also well rendered that it merited and received an encore, but the gentlemen preferred to give another of their popular selections at a future time. A serio comic reading from Tennyson, by Mr. A. Clegg, was given in his usual excellent style. "Kathleen Arcon" was the musical selection chosen by Mrs. Logan and was sung with sweetness and effect. This song was one of the gems of the evening. Mr. Parker then favored the audience with an instrumental selection. Mr. Parker's ability is so well known that it is only necessary to state that it was up to the standard. Sergt.-Major Rundle than sang "Heart Bowed Down." This piece is very difficult in rendering, but it was well received and heartily applauded. The last piece of the programme was given by Mr. Rowse. It was a recitation entitled "The Eagle Rock." The audience than sang "God Save the Queen,' and dispersed after enjoying an excellent entertainment.

If the Sufferers from Consumption, Scrofula and General Debility, will try Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil, with hypophosphites they will find immediate relief and a permanent benefit. Dr. H. V. It is expected that the Peterborough Bicycle Club will be represented at the Belleville meet by about one dozen wheels. Captain Greatrix will be in command.

Town Council.

A special meeting of the Town Council for the transaction of general business is called for this evening, when it is expected that considerable important business will be transacted.

To Make a Dollar.

One dollar saved, is one dollar made; don't forget this. The big drop in Men's and Boy's Clothing at the store of Sheppard's is a long clean drop of a saving in dollars and cents to you every time. You should buy from Sheppard, he has the cheapest clothing in Peterborough. 3d151-1w26.

OUR customers always speak when they pass by, and say "Xamine these Xcellent, un-Xcelled T's at The Pantry."

No Game.

The lacrosse match for the championship between the Beavertons and Excelsiors, to be played here on Dominion Day, has been declared off, owing to the fact that the Beaverton boys find themselves unable to get a team together for the occasion. The secretary has been corresponding with various other clubs to arrange a match, but as all of them had previous engagements, no game will take place here at all.

Police Court.

At the police court this morning Maurice Daly was charged with being drunk and disorderly. He pleaded not guilty. Officer McGinty was the complainant. Witnesses were sworn, who proved the charge and a fine of $2 and $2.35 costs was imposed. The money was paid. The Chief charged John Lacy with cutting sods off Ward-st. He pleaded guilty and ignorance of the law. He got off with $2 to be paid in ten days. The Magistrate gave a warning that he would not be so lenient in the future.

The "Royal" Flavoring Extracts are not only true to their names, but are prepared from fruits of the best quality.

Coming Excursions.

On Tuesday next, the choir of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church will hold their annual excursion. This time it will be over the Trent Valley Canal route, via Lakefield. Next week the Golden-Eye will carry a large party of Otonabee farmers to Jubilee Point. The annual excursion of the Salvation Army will be held at Jubilee Point, on Monday next. In addition to the Peterborough corps and bands, visitors from Cobourg, Port Hope and other places will take part.

Places of Interest.

Those who go to Belleville on the P. A. A. excursion on Dominion Day will have plenty of time to enjoy the sights of the city even if they return the same day, but the tickets are good for two days. Among the interesting places in Belleville are, those fine residential portions of the city known as Taylor's hill (east) and Murney's hill (west), Albert College, the Deaf and Dumb Institute, several grand churches, the market building and town hall, other public buildings, the waterworks, and the beautiful Massassaga Point a short distance down the bay. The great event of Monday, however, will be the wheelmen's races, which all should see. Tickets only $1.10.

Something the Public Should Know.

The articles, anonymous and otherwise, appearing from time to time in the newspapers, making unfavorable reference to Cleveland's baking powder, are from a rival baking powder Company. These articles are intended to counteract, if possible, the letter to the public from General Hurst, late Ohio State Dairy & Food Commissioner, in which he states that the Ohio Commission's investigation of the baking powders, based upon the State Chemist's analyses of thirty different brands, proves that Cleveland's is a strictly pure cream of tartar baking powder, entirely free from alum, ammonia, lime, &c., and that it is absolutely the best and most desirable baking powder manufactured; also, that the Royal baking powder contains ammonia, and that the Cleveland's is superior to the Royal in every quality of excellence. Another object sought by our competitors in the articles referred to is to divert public attention from the scathing but well merited rebuke administered to them by General Hurst for falsifying his official report in their effort to bolster up their baking powder when it compares so unfavorably with Cleveland's powder.

It is quite time that the public is made aware of the deceptive character of the advertising of the baking powder Company in question. While extravagantly advertising their powder they have shrewdly concealed their use of ammonia in its manufacture and have persistently maligned Cleveland's powder.

Cleveland's superior baking powder has never been made of anything but purest grape cream of tartar, purest bicarbonate of soda, and a small portion of wheat flour or starch, and has always been absolutely free from adulteration. This is attested by the leading chemists in different parts of the country from analyses made of our powder purchased by them in open market in their respective localities, as shown by their certificates in the circular accompanying each can. We ask the public to show its disapproval of the despicable advertising methods referred to by extending its patronage to Cleveland's superior baking powder, which has for eighteen years been first in point of merit as a pure, efficient, and healthful bread leavening agent. OUR NATIONAL DAY.

The Different Ways In Which Our Citizens Can Celebrate It.

Monday next, July 2nd, will be celebrated as Dominion Day, and as is usually the way, many different avenues of amusement are open to our citizens. The bill of fare is both varied and attractive, and each one can surely find something suited to their taste. The following is an outline of the various sports and amusements:—

THE SALVATION ARMY.

The annual picnic of the Salvation Army will take place per the Golden Eye, to Jubilee Point. Both brass and string bands will be on board and at the Point will be assembled contingents from almost every station in the district.

CRICKET.

The first "big" cricket match of the season will take place on the P. A. A. A. grounds, between the Rosedale (Toronto) and Peterborough clubs. The visitors are playing great cricket this year and as the local men will play a strong eleven, some excellent cricket may be looked for in this game.

PHYSIOGS.

The physiogs or calithumpians have always been a taking feature, as carried out in Peterborough, and the parade on Monday promises to be no exception to the rule. They will parade the principal streets most after the fancy dogue and will then proceed to the Driving Park.

HORSE RACES, ETC.

At the Driving Park the horse races will take place. The events include an open trot for a $200 purse, a running races and races for Indians and chevaliers. Novelties will be a deer hunt, with muzzled dogs, and a couple of fox hunts. The Fire Brigade band will be present.

ST. PETER'S PICNIC.

The annual picnic of the congregation of St. Peter's Cathedral will take place in St. Leonard's grove, Ashburnham, formerly the residence of Dr. H. C. Burritt. Baseball and football matches and a long programme of athletic sports, refreshments, dancing, dinner, etc., form the attractions. This is always one of the most successful affairs of the year and the outlook for Monday is brighter than ever.

IN THE EVENING.

In the evening a grand display of fireworks by Prof. Palmer, of Rochester, under the auspices of the celebration committee, and a promenade concert by the Fire Brigade Band, will be given on the P. A. A. A. grounds and will be a fitting close to a great celebration.

TO BELLEVILLE.

The P.A.A.A. excursion to Belleville promises to be largely patronized. Those who go down can spend nearly the whole day in the Bay City, and witness the largest turnout of bicyclists ever seen in Canada.

OUT OF TOWN.

The railways offer inducements in the way of cheap fares to visit neighboring places, and doubtless many will take advantage of them.

Ladies go into ecstacies over the new perfume, 'Lotus of the Nile."

Postponed.

The private excursion that was to have taken place on the Golden Eye last night, was postponed owing to the rain.

Boating Shawls.

Kindly look in to Sheppard's when down town. All colors. Regular price, $1.75. Sheppard's price to-day, $1.00. Decidedly cheap goods. 3d151-1w26.

A few days Longer.

We fully intended as announced, to close our business here last night, but have now concluded to continue our sale a few days longer. We will clear any lines in stock at greatly reduced prices. Take advantage of our offer, which will only last a short time. F. S. Gould, agent. Dawson Bros'. old stand. 2d151-1w26

St. Leon Water.

The marvellous results from the use of St. Leon Water in Rheumatism, Constipation and all diseases arising from a torpid liver is testified to by hundreds of grateful drinkers of the water. References are kindly permitted to N. T. Laplant, Frank Bell, Rev. Father Lynch and many other prominent citizens. Sold by the glass and gallon or aerated by Taylor & Macdonald, Druggists, sole agents. d140-w25

FROM modest efforts, honest goods, high quality, square dealing, good treatment, small profits, on to grand achievements in the way of Satisfying Bargains is the motto of The Pantry.

Cricket.

The eleven to play against Rosedale, on Monday, have not yet been definitely chosen. It is said that five or six of the best players will not take part. This match was one of the first arranged, and it seems rather remarkable that at the first "big" match, the local club is to be represented by a weak team.

The following eleven "colts" will play the return match at Port Hope to-morrow:—W. Hamilton, Wise, Dumble, Bell, Blomfield; Hodge, Hay, G. Boucher, B. Boucher, Kincaid, Dunsford. Extra man, Orde.

Don't use any more nauseous purgatives such as Pills, Salts, etc., when you can get in Dr. Carson's Stomach Bitters, a medicine that moves the Bowels gently, cleansing all impurities from the system, and rendering the Blood pure and cool. Sold by all Druggists.

Brevities.

—Howe's circus exhibited at Madoc yesterday.

—Special meeting of the Town Council to-night.

—Painters appear to be reaping a harvest just now.

—Overcoats were in demand last night, as were also flannels.

—The C. L. R. R. is graded across Smith-st., and is being rapidly pushed ahead.

—A by-law to open out streets through the Inverlea property has been prepared.

—Mr. H. W. Kent offers a prize of $5 for the best dressed Indian in the Dominion Day parade.

—Oats are scarce and dear and dealers are importing by the car load to supply their customers.

—Peterborough and Rosedale (Toronto) cricket clubs will play on the P.A.A.A. grounds on Monday.

—A farmers wagon upset at the Smith st. railway crossing last night. No person was hurt and nothing was broken.

—Mother Goose requests a full attendance of her followers to-morrow, Saturday, at 2 p. m., for practice, at the usual place.

—The stationers, etc., are anxiously waiting for a Council meeting, in order to get their early closing by-law through.

—The schools close this evening for the midsummer holidays, and the Third-Class Teachers' Examinations will take place next week.

—More Indians and cavaliers are wanted for Monday. Those desirous of taking part should apply at the telephone office or the Oriental.

—The sewer gas was very strong around the town buildings yesterday. It is always the same when the wind blows from the south east.

—Clerk Doherty has eradicated all signs of the recent circus on the market square by burning up the straw, sawdust and other refuse left behind.

Headache, Billiousness, Dyspepsia and Indigestion relieved and at once by Dr. Carson's Stomach Bitters. Try it. Samples free.

—The time for receiving tenders for the construction of wooden bridges over the creek, will expire on Saturday. Up to date no tenders have been received.

—Two of the gravel cars on the Chemong Lake R.R. dump collided on Thursday evening. One man had a narrow escape from being badly injured or killed.

The soothing and restorative effects of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral are realized in all cases of colds, coughs, throat or lung troubles, while its powerful healing qualities are shown in the most serious pulmonary disorders.

PRICES shorn of Profits. Critical tastes Satisfied and everybody pleased with Groceries at The Pantry.

PICNIC.—A grand pic-nic will be held in the grove here on July 2nd. Dinner and refreshments will be served on the ground. Proceeds in aid of the Sunday school Library.

MINISTERIAL CHANGES.—The Rev. Mr Fallis left on Wednesday last, for his new appointment in Norham. The Rev. Mr. Seccomb, who is to succeed Mr. Fallis was here this week.

PERSONAL.—Miss Balfour of Omemee, is here, visiting her sister, Mrs. Fallis.

TELEGRAPHIC.—The leaving of Mrs. W. J. Armstrong from this place, caused a change to be made in the telegraph office. Mr. J. L. Aunger now looks after the duties of the office.

TRADE.—Honest John has again visited this place, with his "vatches" and managed to do quite a business with the river-men. Mr. Wilson's gang of men presented him with a fine silver watch valued at $50.

PERSONAL.—Mr. Isaac Puffer, was here this week making a short visit.

Give them a Chance.

That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger airl passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do their work. And what they do, they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boschee's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failed you you may depend upon this for certain.

"I assure you, father, the one thing needed to make the furnishing of this library complete is a lovely hanging lamp in place of this stand one which we have used for years. Nothing seems to give the finishing touch to the equipments of a room like a nice hanging lamp such as they keep at China Hall. Those ornaments up there, which I also bought at China Hall, are lovely. Everyone admires them, and just half the price I was asked for the same things in Toronto; but still, father dear, I must have the lamp."

of all Lung diseases are much the same. Feverishness, loss of appetite, sore throat, pains in the chest and back, headache, etc. In a few days you may be well, or, on the other hand, you may be down with Pneumonia or "gallopin Consumption." Run no risks, but begin immediately to take Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

Several years ago, James Birchard, of Darien, Conn., was severely ill. The doctors said he was in Consumption, and that they could do nothing for him, but advised him, as a last resort, to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. After taking this medicine, two or three months, he was pronounced a well man. His health remains good to the present day.

J. S. Bradley, Malden, Mass., writes: "Three winters ago I took a severe cold, which rapidly developed into Bronchitis and Consumption. I was so weak that I could not sit up, was much emaciated, and coughed incessantly. I consulted several doctors, but they were powerless, and all agreed that I was in Consumption. At last, a friend brought me a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. From the first dose, I found relief. Two bottles cured me, and my health has since been perfect."

MONA'S CHOICE.

BY MRS. ALEXANDER.

"Oh, of course not! Still one wants a few necessaries. I often wonder how poor Geraldine will get on. She will not hear of the horrors which wait on poverty."

"May I," said Mona, with a slight hesitation, "may I send my love to your mother? I am so fond of her. And you know she has a right to be angry with me. I did not behave well to—"

"To poor Leslie Waring!" put in Lady Finistoun, as she hesitated. "No, you did not! Now, I dare say you are sorry for it?"

"I am very sorry I pained him, but I am very glad I did not marry him. It would have been bad for both of us."

"Perhaps so. At any rate he is gone to the bad, so some one was telling me. He lost heaps of money on horses and at Monte Carlo; and he got into an awfully fast set; then he disappeared. They say he was last seen plowing or breaking horses, or some such thing, in Texas. So, after all, he might have ruined you as well as himself if you had married him."

"It grieves me to hear such an account of him," replied Mona, after a few moment's silence. "He was kind and generous, and deserved a better woman than I am."

Then came leave-taking, and the visitors drove off as the soft gloom of an autumnal night began to deepen in the east.

"Do you mind walking back by yourself?" asked Kenneth. "I am going up the hill a bit to speak a word to Allan, the shepherd."

"Oh, no. I am only a few steps from our own road, and there is nothing to fear among these delightful hills."

"That's true. I'll be back before supper," and Kenneth went swiftly on, with a free, swinging step.

The sound of his footfall had hardly died away when another caught Mona's ear, and seemed to gain upon her. In spite of her assertion that "there was nothing to fear," she felt an odd uneasiness that, thought not absolutely fear, was unpleasant; nor was she surprised when a voice behind her said, "Good evening, Miss Craig! I did not hope to find you so far afield." Then she was obliged to pause to turn and greet Lisle, who soon overtook her. He carried a gun on his shoulder, and was followed by a gillie with a game-bag.

"This is a piece of luck! I was shooting in this direction, so thought of taking Craigdarroch on my way back, to tell your uncle that I have had no reply from Balmuir."

Mona was annoyed at this rencontre. She wanted to walk back alone in undisturbed thought. The report of Waring she had just heard had affected her. She was so sorry for him! And now came Lisle to stir up the less worthy side of her nature—for Mona was by no means an angel all round. If, as he seemed disposed to do, he again tried to amuse a passing hour by making love to her, she would accept it in a spirit of fun which should show out at intervals. He should never flatter himself again that he made any serious impression on her.

"Can I not take the message for you?" she said, looking up, with a demure smile. "It is a steep road to climb after your day's tramp over the moor."

"What! and leave your fair side all unguarded, lady?"

"Oh! my fair side is accustomed to take care of itself very successfully."

"Then may I confess to a low-minded hope that your uncle may ask me to dinner?—though, by the way, I am scarcely fit to present myself."

"A hope I must nip in the bud! We have dined."

"Great powers! Well, I need not lose this precious chance of speaking to you. I suppose I shall never see you except through a haze of Highland relations."

"No; it is not very likely."

"If you knew how anxious I am to ask you a variety of questions, you would give me some opportunity of a tete-a-tete.

"You may ask as many as you like! I have no secrets."

"What! does your uncle know you refused Waring?"

"How did you know I did?"

"Oh! I know how desperately in love he was, and it is currently reported that you did, and that he went to the bad in consequence!"

"Nonsense!" returned Mona, a grave, hard expression replacing the smile which had played round her lips. "You and I, Sir St. John Lisle, have seen enough of the world we live in to know that women seldom have sufficient influence to make or mar any man's life."

"I am not so sure! I fancy if any woman ever had, you would be one of them."

"Considering the sort of women who are most influential, I do not think your opinion flattering."

"Why, do you not think good women influence us?"

"Not often, I fancy."

"You have grown worldly wise since we met, Mona."

"Does an absence of nearly four years make you more familiar with my name than you used to be?" she asked, coldly.

"Yes," he returned, looking down into her eyes, "because I have thought of you so often, and called you Mona in my heart since we parted."

"Call me what you like in the inner region you term heart, but pray let your lips conform to the usages of this mundane society in which we live and move and have our being," she said, carelessly.

"I accept your rebuke," he said, "and will not again offend."

"Oh, I did not mean to rebuke!" said Mona, good-humoredly, "only to [illegible]

"You have changed enormously!" resumed Lisle. "You seem years older."

"Thank you! That is a rare compliment."

"I will not be chaffed into retracting it, I meant that you seemed more mature; and I find, as I always do, that the fruit is more heavenly sweet than even the blossom."

"Yet I imagine that anticipation is always better than fruition," said Mona, quite unmoved by the implied compliment.

They walked a few steps in silence, then Lisle exclaimed—

"What banishment it must be for you to live here with these very excellent people!"

"On the contrary, I feel quite at home. I am fond of my uncle, because he is fond of me, and I find life quite endurable."

"Do you always love those who love you?"

"Yes, always."

"Except in poor Waring's case?"

"That was the exception which proves the rule. Probably I should have been wiser had I been conformed to your sound advice," turning to him with a frank, sweet smile, "but I cannot say I repent my rejection of it."

"I fear," said Lisle, gravely, "that you no longer consider me a friend, as you used?"

"On the contrary, I am very pleased to welcome such a friend, after his long absence!"

"Thank you," and Lisle walked beside her in silence for a few minutes.

A few more unimportant sentences brought them to the house, where they found Uncle Sandy enjoying forty winks, while waiting till the darkness had deepened sufficiently to render the lamp necessary. Mary was seated on the steps leading to the garden, reading by the fast-fading light.

"Eh! what's wrang?" cried Uncle Sandy, rousing up confusedly.

"Sir St. John Lisle has come to see you, uncle."

"What's his will?" in an irritated tone.

"I am very sorry to disturb you; but I did not like to pass your house without calling to say that I have had no answer as yet to my letter, so we will keep well [illegible] of the [illegible] boundary, and [illegible] matter is de-

TURNBULLS'.

New Goods received this week. Art Muslins, or Peek-a-boo Curtain Nets, Cretonnes, Fringes, Table Oilcloths. Ladies' Belts, Prints, Lawns and Dress Goods.

Among the New Goods that arrived during the week were some Art Muslins, or Peek-a-boo Curtain Nets in fancy colors and beautiful Designs, the correct thing to make a home cosy and attractive, at a small cost. Also a nice assortment of Cretonne Fringes, selling at ten cents a yard, Marble Oilcloths with gold and blue veins in the best qualities. The gold has not been much shown but is particularly desirable Ladies' Belts, a full range in cloth and leather, and to our already attractive stock of Prints we have added some entirely new lines in navy and cream, navy and gold, navy and cardinal and brown and gold in checks, stripes and sprays, White Lawns and all over Embroideries at all prices. Dress Goods. Owing to the large drain on Dress Goods Stock some of the best shades were sold out, but we have been able to repeat them and are now showing a full range again. Value always right. We have also on our Dress Goods counter a range of 25 pieces of All Wool and Bradford Goods which we are selling at 10c. a yard. We are confident that these are the best value being offered at the price.

Just to hand light and dark Seersuckers in desirable patterns, probably one of the newest and most popular goods we are showing for children's wear in navy and cream colored estamine with navy and cream and cream and navy; anchor trimming to match. Mothers should see these goods.

AN EMBEZZLING EPIDEMIC.

MANY MERETRICIOUS MONEYMAKERS AT MONTREAL.

A Customs Clerk's Capture of a Check—The Providence Pitcher's Positive Position—Dubamel's Defalcations.

MONTREAL, June 30.—The customs clerk of a large dry [illegible] was entrusted with a check for [illegible] a few days ago with which to pay duties on importations. He has not been seen since and is said to be in New York.

The counsel of Pitcher, the Providence absconder, said yesterday: "If Pitcher is charged with having brought stolen money into Canada he will plead not guilty and fight the charge to the last. The money, only $13,000, which was found upon him is his property. He was simply going to Europe, and he can prove that the money did not belong to the bank. If any of the authorities of that institution swear to the contrary he will be charged with perjury at once."

The Post has a story to the effect that A. M. Duhamel has absconded from Longueuil. He had charge in that town of the collection of water rates, the supervision of auction sales and was also the corporation bailiff. Mayor Morin personally loses several hundred dollars, being the proceeds of a seizure with which he recently entrusted him. He also acted for several lawyers and would obtain capiases and executions against certain persons and then collect the whole or accept part payments and retain the money for his own use. Three individuals who were arrested by him eight weeks ago on capiases were also allowed to clear out. The amount of the defalcation will not, it is believed, exceed $30,000.

CENTRAL BANK AFFAIRS.

Judgment Rendered by the Master in the Double Liability Cases.

TORONTO, June 30.—The Master delivered judgment yesterday in the Central Bank double liability cases. This is the crowning of all the litigation of the weary months since the liquidation proper began. The Master read his judgment, which was an exhaustive recital of the legal aspects of the downward progress of the bank towards its ruin, each stage of its disastrous progress being viewed in the light of English decisions and previous decisions of our own courts. The Master used language as strong as was consistent with judicial utterance when referring to the scandalous financial mismanagement responsible for the far-reaching ruin that the bank's failure caused throughout the province. Each of the pleas which had been entered on behalf of the shareholders was gone over, and the general tenor of the judgment was adverse to the contentions they were put forward to uphold. After the failure of the bank, the Master said, there were creditors and contributories; the question was, who was liable when the tree was cut down. Coming to the defence, urging that the charter of the bank was originally invalid, and that all acts done under its operation were void of binding effect, the Master cited a number of precedents in all of which the principle was upheld that such a defence could not be set up, the more so in view of the admitted acts of the shareholders in conducting the bank's affairs. In all the cases before him, with eight exceptions, the Master's judgment was that the shareholders are doubly liable in respect of their shares.

CANADA AND THE EMPIRE.

The Dominion's Advantages Set Forth by Sir Charles Tupper.

LONDON, June 30.—At the meeting of the Association for Promoting State-aided Colonization Sir Charles Tupper presented the advantages of Canada as a field for colonization, and urged it as a duty for the British Government to aid by every possible means such emigration as would result in great good to England and her Colonies. Lord Dufferin declared that the great Northwest was capable of supporting no less than forty millions, and this was only a section of the Dominion of Canada.

A PRONOUNCED CRANK.

Zachar, the Faster, 41 Days Without Food—How Much Longer.

RACINE, Wis., June 30.—Zachar, the faster, is keeping up his intention of beating the world's record. He has now been 41 days without food. That he is demented is certain. How much longer nature will sustain life in the man is a question. He may live ten or twelve days more, as he has not reached the stage of extreme weakness, but retains considerable vitality.

Comments on the Encyclical.

ROME, June 30.—The Popolo Romano believes the Pope's Encyclical will not make any substantial change in the existing situation. The Francessa says that the utterance of the Pope is no longer a majestic affirmation of the permanent lordship of the Church, but rather resembled the cry of shipwrecked persons who see the waves rising around them. The Riforma says the Pope has the best means of knowing that the Government, so far from following a policy of persecution, has only pursued a policy of defence firmly applied, but carried on within the strict limits of equity and propriety. The Pope himself refutes the accusations of his own organs against the Government. The principal point of the Pope's second rescript relating to Ireland will be the Vatican's absolute neutrality in politics.

A Farmer's Suicide.

CAMPTON, June 30.—Albert Blossom, a well-to-do farmer, about 40 years of age, committed suicide by hanging about 5 p.m. yesterday at his home three miles from Campton Station, on the Easton road. Mr. Blossom has been in ill-health for some time.

CLOSING EXERCISES AT THE ONTARIO COLLEGE YESTERDAY.

Graduates, Medalists and Prizemen—A Distinguished Gathering—Minister Drury Makes some Sensible Remarks.

GUELPH, June 30.—The winter and spring term in the Ontario Agricultural College closed yesterday, and the usual ceremony connected with the closing took place. Prof. Mills, President of the College, occupied the chair. Among those on the platform were; Hon. Chas. Drury, Minister of Agriculture; Professors Panton, Robertson and Hunt; Jas. Innes, M.P.; D. Guthrie, M.P.P.; Jas. Laid. law, ex-M.P.P.; Rev. Father Doherty, Rev. J. W. Holmes, Rev. Dr. Wardrope, Rev. Mr. Ball, Sheriff McKim, J. C. Chadwick and John Campbell.

The President welcomed the visitors and took pride in stating that this year's graduating class was the largest the college ever had, and not only that, but 16 of the graduates were sons of Ontario farmers.

Mr. T. B. Williams delivered a valedictory address, after which Hon. Chas. Drury presented the graduates with their diplomas as follows:

A. M. Austin, Sunderland, Eng.; S. R. S. Bayne, Lee, Kent, Eng.; W. G. Birdsall, Birdsall, Ont.; W. R. Bishop, Brussels, Ont.; S. P. Brown, Whitby, Ont.; W. Budd, Delhi, Ont.; W. S. Carpenter, Simcoe, Ont.; H. H. Dean, Harley, Ont.; C. W. Elton, West Kensington, Eng.; R. F. Elton, West Kensington, Eng.; G. Harcourt, St. Ann's, Ont.; R. E. Harrison, Lincoln, Eng.; W. F. Heacock, Kettleby, Ont.; T. J. Horrocks, Toronto, Ont.; J. R. Hutton, Welland, Ont.; S. M. Knowlton, Newboro, Ont.; W. J. Palmer, Charlottetown, P. E. I.; W. E. Serson, Antrim, Ont.; A. Shantz, Waterloo, Ont.; J. J. Sinclair, Ridgetown, Ont.; R. M. Soule, South End, Ont.; C. R. Stevenson, Fingal, Ont.; H. R. Sweet, Selby, Ont.; R. Vallance, Osnabruck Centre, Ont.; T. B. Williams, Leeds, Eng.; N. Williams, Leeds, Eng.; A. B. Wilmot, Oromocto, N. B.

Mr. H. Dean, one of the medalists, delivered an address on "No Need for a More Liberal Education for Farmers," very sensibly, and sometimes humorously, showing in which particulars the Ontario farmer was defective and how his status might be improved.

Hon. Chas. Drury concluded the programme in a half-hour address. He dealt with the question of competition of foreign agricultural products with the Canadian exports to the English markets. They could not stop foreign production; they could not raise prices; the only thing they could do was to cheapen production in order that they might hold their own in a market where keen competition existed. He fully felt the responsibility that had been laid upon him. He trusted that he would be supported in the work he had to do by the farmers of this Province, and in return promised to devote his whole energy to the performance of his duty. He could say, after having kept careful accounts these last few years, that farming had not been very lucrative. But young men had to do something, and engaging in farming was, he considered, more likely to yield a happy contented life with fair competence than any of the professions. Young men were often attracted by the glamor of city life and reports of large incomes earned by professional men and merchants. But their attention had never been directed to the thousands of doctors and lawyers who, failing to gain prominence in their professions, eked out a bare existence. They had not, when reading of fortunes made by merchants, considered the track strewed with ruins of failure. The profession of farming was crowded, but not more than others. The cleverest doctor or the cleverest lawyer was the one that made a success in life, and so would it be with the farmer. The Agricultural College, as an institution to give farmer's sons an opportunity to gain knowledge and skill in farming, was of eminent worth.

Wedding Bells at Oshawa.

OSHAWA, June 30—The marriage of Mr. W. C. Phillips of the Cobban Manufacturing Company of Toronto to Miss Ella McMillan, second daughter of Mr. T. H. McMillan, cashier of the Western Bank here, took place Thursday night, Rev. Mr. McLellan of Whitby performing the ceremony. The bridesmaids were Miss Gertie Hames and three sisters of the bride. The groom was supported by Messrs. J. Hargraft, J. Phillips, F. W. Cowan and Harry L. McMillan. The bride was elegantly attired in a crushed strawberry satin dress on train, trimmed with passementerie lace.

Stratford's Big Gas Engine.

STRATFORD, June 30.—The new 50 horse power gas engine from the works of Crossley Bros., Manchester, Eng., has arrived in the city and work has been commenced putting it in place in the basement of the electric light building. There are few if any gas engines of this size in either Canada or the United States, so that the Stratford Gas Company are pioneers in the matter of introducing engines of this description for power.

Purchase of a New Gun.

LONDON, June 30.—The Daily News says the French Government has bought Maseim's new repeating gun, which fires 60 rounds a minute.

A Carrier Pigeon Started for Toronto.

DETROIT, June 30.—Mr. Straith of the firm of Straith & McDonald started a carrier pigeon for Toronto yesterday morning at 9.10. The bird was let go off the roof of the Post office. It circled around for about two minutes, then it appeared to get its bearings and flew rapidly in the direction of its destination. A large number of spectators witnessed the flight of the bird till it was out of sight.

A Passenger Killed.

LOCKPORT, N.Y., June 30.—A passenger train on the R. W. & O. railway while crossing a bridge at New Fane station broke in two. A passenger named J. K. Bassinman was passing from one coach to another and was instantly killed.

IN THE LAND OF PHARAOH

GROWING BELIEF THAT THE WHITE PASHA IS STANLEY.

White Captives at Khartoum Cruelly Treated by the Fanatical Followers of El Mahdi—Money Sent to the Captives.

LONDON, June 30.—The opinion is growing that Stanley is the great White Pasha, whose arrival in the Bahr-el-Ghazel Province at the head of a large force is agitating the native mind at Suakim and Cairo, and set the Mahdi's successors at Khartoum thinking of the best and most expeditious method of annihilating the daring intruder. Englishmen who believe England's fair fame was tarnished by the failure to relieve Khartoum, cherish the hope that the romance of Central African annals may culminate in the wiping out of that stain by Stanley, and clearing up the mystery of Gordon's fate. The idea is fascinating, but Stanley's mission is to join Emin Pasha, and the general opinion is that he is too practical a man to entertain the thought of ousting the Mahdi and reigning in his stead. The more immediate effect of his movements will be, it is feared, to make more miserable the sad fate of the Europeans who fell into the Mahdi's hands after Gordon's death, and most of whom are still in captivity at Khartoum. The great African traveller, Dr. Junker, has received heart-moving news of these poor people lately brought from Khartoum to Cairo by two Soudanese messengers, who risked their lives to deliver it. The news was brought in two small letters each about four times the size of an ordinary postage stamp. One was written by Statin Bey and the other by the widow of an Egyptian officer who lost his life in the massacre which followed the fall of Khartoum. The letters say that Lupton Bey, one of Egypt's most trusted Governors, who made the Bahr-el-Ghazel Province more than self-supporting, has until lately been compelled to work in the rude arsenal which the Mahdi's successor established, as a common laborer, perhaps to herd with common Arab laborers, naked save for a pair of drawers and a fez, and subject to the insults and ill-treatment of native overseers. Now his lot is somewhat ameliorated, as he has been allowed to work in the mint, from which Khalifa Abdullah, the Mahdi's successor, is turning out any amount of bare coin which his subjects are forced to pass current.

Poor Statin Bey is acting as Khalifa's forerunner, which brings him into uncomfortable relations with that potentate. Barefoot and half naked he has to run by the side of his mightiness' horse, carrying a lance and a small banner. One of his most important duties is to hold the stirrup whenever the fanatical potentate deigns to mount or dismount. But most to be pitied of all is a German named Neufeld, who is kept in chains, and out of the tyrant's mere wantonness has several times been ordered out for execution. The poor fellow is actually strung up to the gallows, and after suffering all the agonies of death is cut down and resuscitated. The Mahdi's successor used to derive much amusement from similar tortures inflicted on Baron Seckendorff's servant and a Prussian non-commissioned officer named Klotz until death mercifully ended their sufferings about a year ago.

No wonder Dr. Junker congratulates himself upon the prudence which saved him from a similar fate. He was actually on the way to join Lupton Bey when he received warning and turned back and took shelter in Emin Pasha's province. Baron Seckendorff's servant disregarded the warning and duly fell into the black Nero's hands. Three missionaries and four nuns, Austrians and Italians, have been better treated, and beyond the inconvenience of being compulsorily married have not much to complain of except their actual captivity and agonising uncertainty in which they spend their days. One of the messengers who brought the foregoing news pluckily agreed to return to the captives, and left Cairo on June 5 for Khartoum via Berber, carrying tiny letters for the captives and a considerable sum of money for their use over and above the large reward paid him for his faithful services.

The Channel Tunnel.

LONDON, June 30.—In the House of Commons the Channel Tunnel Bill, introduced by Sir Walter Watkin, was rejected by a vote of 307 to 165.

A Clergyman Honored.

LONDON, June 30.—The dinner to Rev. Wm. Rogers was a remarkable compliment to a remarkable man. He has been forty-five years a clergyman at the East End, London, and much more than a clergyman. His recently published reminiscences tell the story of his life. Lord Rosebery presided at this dinner, supported by an extraordinary gathering of eminent men, in Mr. Roger's honor. The Bishop of London, the Master of Ballist, Lord Coleridge, the Dean of Westminster, Lord Herschell, Lord Londonderry, Lord Granville, Mr. Walter of The Times, Mr. Lawson of The Telegraph, Mr. Frederick Harrison and Lord Justice Power are only a few of the many distinguished names.

Offer to Take the Bonds.

PARIS, June 30.—A syndicate has agreed to lend the Panama Canal Company, on condition that the unsold bonds, amounting to 30,000,000 francs, be deposited as security, an immediate advance of one-sixth of the nominal value of the bonds, to be sold at the convenience of the syndicate and the proceeds to be handed to the company less the advance, the interest and a commission of 7½ francs per bond. It is believed that this will carry the company eighteen months without the necessity of making a fresh appeal for funds.

SATURDAY, JUNE 30, 1888.

ADJOURNED BEFORE TEN

THE COUNCIL WADES THROUGH COMMUNICATIONS AND ACCOUNTS.

One By-law Passed, one Held Over, and one Dropped—Numerous Motions regarding Miscellaneous Matters.

A special meeting of the Town Council was held on Friday evening. Present, Mayor Stevenson, presiding, and Councillors Davidson, Kelly, E. H. D. Hall, A. Hall, Moore, Douglas, Langford, Hartley.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and confirmed.

COMMUNICATIONS.

From the Town Clerk certifying to the election of Mr. E. H. D. Hall, as a councillor for No. 2 Ward, and stating that he had filed the necessary declarations.—Received.

From the Police Magistrate, drawing attention to the disgraceful sanitary condition of the police station, cells, and clerk's office, and asking that immediate steps be taken to remedy the defects.—Property Committee.

From the Blyth Woollen Co., asking for the passage of a by-law to exempt their buiding from taxation.—Finance Committee.

From Messrs. E. E. Henderson and Wilson & Morrison, asking that that the town insurance be divided up among the different agents doing business in Peterborough.—Property Committee.

From the Rev. Mr. Clementi, asking that Aylmer-st. south be watered, in accordance with a petition sent in some time ago.—Fire, Water and Light Committee.

From Charles Gray, asking for the privilege of selling fruit, etc., from a handcart on the streets.—Granted, on payment of $5.

From the Secretary of the Horticultural Society, asking the Council to provide better light in the park on the nights of band concerts.—Fire, Water and Light Committee.

From the Secretary of the Fire Brigade, asking for a grant in favor of the Dominion Day celebration.—Received.

From R. W. Muncaster, and 13 others, asking that the Water Company's pipes be extended west on Brock-st. to Park-st. and that a hydrant be placed at the corner of Park and Brock-sts.—Fire, Water and Light Committee.

From James Bogue and 13 others, asking that the Water Company's pipes be extended on Dublin-st, as far as Aylmer St.—Fire, Water and Light Committee.

From the Town Solicitor, enclosing by-laws.—Received.

From Messrs. Meidrum, Davidson, & Co., and the other firms doing business on the Dickson raceway, asking that the Water Company's pipes be laid along the bottom of the race, from London to Murray-sts. Anything less than an eight inch pipe and three hydrants they regarded as useless.—Fire, Water and Light Committee.

From the Auditors, submitting their report for 1887, and certifying that all the books are neatly and correctly kept.—Finance Committee.

From the Schlight, Field Co., asking for instructions regarding a cabinet for the Town Clerk's office.—The company to be notified that the Council is not aware of a cabinet having been ordered.

From the West Riding License Commissioners, giving particulars as to how the $491.96 demanded from the town for enforcing the Scott Act was expended.

From T. G. Hazlitt asking that the eastern boundary of Water-st., opposite the goose pond, be gribbed.—Street and Bridge Committee.

From T. Smith, drawing attention to the bad condition of the flooring of the fire hall stables.—Property Committee.

OPENING NEW STREETS.

A by-law to open up three new streets through Inverlea, two of forty-six feet wide each and one of fifty feet wide, was given its several readings and passed.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

Before the by-law was read there was some discussion on it.

Mayor Stevenson said that many persons has spoken to him regarding the purchase of Inverlea for a park, and he was asked to bring the matter before the Council. It would be a great benefit and blessing to the citizens in general and a finer spot for a park could not be possibly secured. It was almost in the centre of the town and was all ready for park purposes. It had advantages that no other place in town possessed and should be purchased if possible.

Councillor Davidson said that, as one of the owners, he could say that a good deal of the land was already sold and the property is not in the market at present for park purposes.

Councillor Hartley said that many persons had spoken to him and it was certainly a pity that it was not purchased for a park. If it could be secured the town should lose no time in securing it.

Councillor Langford said that the streets were already chopped out and cellars dug, so that a park was an impossibility, as far as Inverlea is concerned.

Give them a Chance.

That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do their work. And what they do, they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boschee's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failed you you may depend upon this for certain.

High Figures.

A correspondent of the Lindsay Warder says:—"Mr. Thompson, a lumber merchant of Peterborough, has been engaged for some time purchasing pine trees in the townships of Manvers and Cartwright. He offered a resident of Blackstock $200 for ten, but the offer was not accepted. Mr. Joseph Magill, of Yelverton, disposed of four at the very good figure of $60."

Bricklayers' and Masons' Union

No. 12, Peterborough.

To the Architects and Builders of the Town of Peterborough.

Gentlemen.—The members of the Bricklayers' and Masons' Union, No. 12, Peterborough, have decided to take no sub-contracts after the 1st day of June, 1888. We take this step believing it to be to the interest of Architects and Proprietors of buildings, to deal directly with us, and not, as heretofore, letting our branch of work to Carpenters, and then have them sublet it to us, frequently at a loss to owners of buildings through inferior material being used to secure the carpenter a profit. We therefore consider it would be to the interest of all concerned, to have each trade control its own line of work.

Signed on behalf of the Union,
J. J. HARTLEY, President.
GEO. ROSE, Vice-President.

HOUSEFURNISHINGS.

At this season many Housekeepers are replenishing their supplies of Tableware and China. City folk are furnishing summer cottages; country folk are filling up the dressers and cupboards of the old homestead: town's folk are picking and choosing here and there. Many would be glad to know of a place whose special business is to meet these wan's and desires; that aims to furnish essentially good wares at, consistently low prices; that offers the choice of many different dinner services, and yet does not compel you to take an entire set of any pattern, but allow you to select each course of a new design, or buy any portion of the set you may need; that does not try to impose ideas or wares upon purchasers, and yet is ready to advise which of the many wares is most desirable and suitable; and, if wished, will make a careful selection of pattern. When you want Tablewear will you give us the opportunity to serve you.

Light, handsome and durable, at the golden lion.

Lacrosse.

The lacrosse match at Millbrook, between the Shamrocks and the Millbrook, club did not take place on Thursday, owing to the heavy rain. A match will probably be arrangep for a later date.

Sleepy Dan.

Mr. H. C. Winch had intended to enter "Sleepy Dan" in one or more of the races to take place at Port Perry on Monday, but in order to give his friends a chance of seeing their favorite go, he has decided to compete at the driving park here on that day.

All Aboard Going East!

The great wheelmen's parade will take place in Belleville on Monday soon after dinner and the sports will follow. The P. A. A. A. excursion will leave here at 8.20 a. m., and returning will leave Belleville at 6 p. m. There will be a pleasant ride, a number of hours in the Bay City and an opportunity to see the parade of hundreds of wheelmen and the sports. No doubt large numbers will join the Athletic Association in this excursion. Tickets, good for two days, $1.10; children half price.

First District Meeting.

The first annual district meeting of representative Oddfellows was held on Friday evening at the residence of Mr. J. R. Stratton, D.D.G.M., for the purpose of selecting a D.D.G.M. for 1888-9. All the lodges in District No. 34 were represented. The election resulted in the selection of Mr. Thomas Workman, P.G. of Otonabee Lodge. Several other subjects were brought forward and discussed and at the close of the meeting Dr. G. A. Pettigrew, of Norwood, proposed a vote of thanks to the retiring D.D.G.M., for the successful manner in which he had performed his duties. The motion was carried and Mr. Stratton briefly acknowledged it. After the adjournment the delegates were entertained at a supper by Mrs. Stratton, this bringing to a close a very pleasant gathering.

Beautiful Property.

The Roman Catholic Park Lot which for so long a time has been looked at with hungry eyes, is at last being put in the market. It lies between two of the best streets in Peterborough, Gilmour-st. especially is the fashionable street of the town. The lots will be sold off at low prices, as money is needed for church purposes. As soon as building operations are begun on this property there will be a rapid advance in value. The sale will afford a good investment for all who desire a safe thing and a chance for a little speculation. 6d151-1w26

Strong Commendation.

The Christian Guardian has the following in reference to the new pastor of the Charlotte-st. Church:—"The Rev. S. J. Shorey closed his pastoral term of three years in the Sherbourne-st. church last Sunday. He did not preach any farewell sermon, though he made a few kindly and tender remarks at the close of the evening service, referring to the change, and commending his successor, Dr. Stanford, to the congregation. Mr. Shorey is not at all a sensational preacher; but he is earnest, forcible, and thoughtful. His sermons have the freshness and originality which are the result of being carefully thought out from his own standpoint. He is manly and independent, and impresses his hearers with his deep sincerity. He has won in a high degree the confidence and affection of the congregation. No church in the city has made greater progress than Sherbourne-st. during the last three years. Other city ministers who are moving may have an equally good record; but we have not the same personal knowledge of their work, as we have in the case of Sherbourne-st."

A Building Stone Quarry.

Mr. J. B. McWilliams, crown timber agent, has at his office an excellent specimen of building stone brought from a lot owned by him in the township of Snowden. It is crystallized limestone, hard, durable and naturally handsome and at the same time capable of being given a beautiful finish. The quarry is close to the Irondale and Bancroft railway, so that the shipping facilities are good. There is an almost inexhaustible supply of the stone.

FRESH Strawberries ever morning from this time on, at The Pantry.

St. Luke's S. S.

The annual excursion and picnic of St. Luke's Sunday School, Ashburnham, took place on Friday last to Jubilee Point. About one hundred and fifty persons went down on the Golden Eye, leaving the Ashburnham wharf at 9 o'clock. After a pleasant sail, the Point was reached at noon. Baskets were quickly got out and soon the tables provided on the beautiful grounds were laden down with good things. After dinner the children enjoyed themselves by sailing, paddling, swinging, playing base ball and in the one hundred and one other ways that they know of. During the afternoon a programme of sports was carried out under the superintendence of the Rev. Mr. Bradshaw and an efficient committee. Suitable prizes were given in all the events. The following were the winners:—

Boys' race 10 and under,—1st. Wm. Cathcart, 2nd Wm. Roberts.

Girls' race 8 and under,—1st Lavinia Cathcart, 2nd Emma Payne.

Boys' race 12 and under,—1st H. Phillips, 2nd Alex. Long.

Girls' race 12 and under,—1st Alice Tivey, 2nd Carrie Young.

Boys' race over 12,—1st Bert Craig, 2nd Fred Long.

Girls' race over 12,—1st Sarah Payne.

Three legged race, boys,—1st B. Craig and Chas. Young, 2nd H. Phillips and Reub. Cassels.

Handicap race, boys,—1st B. Craig, 2nd Guy Rogers.

All fours race, boys,—1st H. Phillips, 2nd Geo. Leith.

All the events were well contested and the entries for each were numerous. On the return trip the boat left the Point at about 4.45 and home was reached shortly after 8 o'clock, all on board being thoroughly satisfied with the day's outing and enjoyment. The weather was to the Queen's taste and Jubilee Point never looked better. The thanks of all are due to the Rev. Mr. Bradshaw and the committee of management, who did all they possibly could to promote the enjoyment of all present and the success of the picnic was due in a large measure to their indefatiguable efforts.

ADJOURNED BEFORE TEN

EARLY CLOSING.

A by-law to provide for the early closing stationery stores, etc., was read a first time. On the second reading, the committe rose and asked permission to sit again, owing to the fact that it was thought the words "dealers in trunks" might cover some who had not signed the petition.

THE FIRE BY-LAW.

A By-Law was read to exempt the G.T.R. station block from the operations of the Fire By-Law, in order to allow the R. R. Co., to erect a wooden elevator. The By-Law on its second reading, with Councillor Langford in the chair, met with opposition.

Councillor HARTLEY thought it was not fair to exempt a company when an individual had to comply with the law.

Councillor DAVIDSON said they desired to erect a grain elevator, which must be of wood, as brick, stone or iron was not suitable. The block of land was all owned by the Co., and the privilege asked for was granted in every other place. The Co. was perfectly willing to cover the building with brick.

Councillor MOORE said that the elevators in Toronto were all of wood.

Councillor E. H. D. HALL thought the by-law was too indefinite and did not limit the Co. to one elevator or did not require that it be covered with iron.

The MAYOR said that he would like to see a plan of the proposed building before voting for the by-law.

Councillor DAVIDSON moved that the committee rise and the motion being carried the by-law dropped to the ground.

THE NEW MEMBER.

Moved by Councillor KELLY, seconded by Councillor DAVIDSON,—That Mr. E. H. D. Hall be appointed on all the committees of which Mr. McNeil was a member, with the exception of the chairmanship of the Fire, Water and Light Committee.—Carried.

WHISTLING.

Moved by Councillor MOORE, seconded by Councillor A. HALL,—That the Mayor communicate with the Chairman or Secretary of the Railway Committee of the Privy Council of Canada, and represent to him that the Council of the Town have, without avail, endeavored to induce the Canadian Pacific and Grand Trunk Railways and their servants to cease the use of steam whistles on their engines, within the town; that such use has become of most excessive annoyance to the public and is believed to be almost altogether unnecessary; and that this Council respectfully request that the said Railway Committee, under the provisions of the 10th section of the Railway Act, prohibit the use of steam whistles on the engines of the said companies, within the limits of this town, and provide for the imposition of such penalties for breach of such regulations as the committee may deem proper.—Carried.

PRINTING A BY-LAW.

Moved by Councillor DAVIDSON, seconded by Councillor A. HALL,—That the by-law relating to the fire brigade be printed.—Carried.

A NEW SIDEWALK.

Moved by Councillor MOORE, seconded by Councillor A. HALL,—That the Street and Bridge Inspector be directed to put down a new sidewalk on Bethune-st., between Brock and Murray-sts.—Street and Bridge Committee.

WANT A SETTLEMENT.

The MAYOR was requested to see that the Grand Trunk made proper crossings and sidewalks on Bethune-st. in accordance with the terms of their settlement with the town.

TALKS ABOUT WALKS.

Councillor KELLY drew the attention of Councillor Landford to the bad state of the sidewalk on the west side of George-st. in the centre of the town.

Councillor LANGFORD said that it was the intention to lay down a new walk at an early date.

Councillor HARTLEY wanted granolithic walks, as they would last for many years and would prove the cheapest in the end. He would get a sample laid down.

The MAYOR said that even Lindsay and all other small towns in the country had stone paved gutters, while Peterborough was without them.

Councillor MOORE said our streets are a disgrace, littered up as they are with wood, boxes, papers and dirt.

TAPPING THE SEWER.

Mr. Harper of Lakefield was given permission to run a sewer from his new building on Charlotte-st. to the main sewer on George-st.

The Council then adjourned shortly before ten o'clock, to the call of the Mayor.

Waiting for It.

But one more day remains and then July second will dawn and with it will come preparations for the grandest celebration that Peterborough ever saw. Everything is complete and ready and thousands are anxiously awaiting the occasion. Those phunny phellows, the physiogs will furnish amusement free to all. The great open trot, the running race, in heats, the Indian and chevalier races, the deer and fox hunts and the other attractions at the driving park will furnish abundant sport for the afternoon, while the promenade concert by the Fire Brigade band and the grand display of fireworks in the evening on the P. A. A. A. grounds, will complete the day's programme. And remember that the sum of twenty-five cents will admit to both places.

Right now is the time to use a good Blood Purifying Medicine. Lose no time in getting a bottle of Dr. Carson's Stomach Bitters. It will do you good. Sold by all Druggists.

When arranging Your Trips.

Remember the jaunt to Sturgeon Point, on July 10, by the George-st Methodist Sunday School. The rail ride is short, and the river and lake trip very pleasant. Sturgeon Point is about the best pic-nic ground in the province, and where all can enjoy themselves to perfection. The fare is reasonable. 1d153.

The Collegiate Institute.

Next week the examinations for entrance and for certificates will be held, the regular work of the Institute having closed. There will be a large number of candidates for second and third class certificates. Many of these candidates go up, however, upon their own responsibility, the teachers having recommended only 20 for third class and 13 for first and second class. Five candidates will present themselves for matriculation into various Universities and Colleges. As promotion examinations have been held this week in connection with the First and Second Forms, no reports will be issued for June in these forms.

Don't use any more nauseous purgatives such as Pills, Salts, etc., when you can ge in Dr. Carson's Stomach Bitters, a medicine that moves the Bowels gently, cleansing all impurities from the system, and rendering the Blood pure and cool. Sold by all Druggists.

An Order from Europe.

Messrs. Porter Bros. are extending their trade, and this morning shipped an O.B. & S road cart to Europe. The cart was shipped in response to an order received on Friday by cable, from Mr. Jas. Stewart, the bookkeeper of the firm, who cabled to ship at once a double cart to Glasgow. This will probably be only the beginning of a transatlantic trade, which Messrs. Porter Bros. will build up in their vehicles, as Mr. Stewart, having made a beginning, will no doubt receive further orders; and once begun the firm is capable of holding the trade and extending it.

Rev. Mr. Shorey.

The Rev. Mr. Shorey, late of Toronto, the new Pastor of the Charlotte-st. Methodist Church, arrived on the 7.53 p.m. train, on the Canadian Pacific, on Friday. He was met at the depot by Mr. Wm. Clurton, and several prominent members of the congregation, and cordially welcomed, with his family, to Peterborough. A committee took charge of his baggage, and the new pastor was escorted to the parsonage, where the Ladies' Aid had prepared everything necessary for their comfort. A very pleasant evening was spent by all present, and after seeing Mr. Shorey and family comfortably settled, the members of the congregation took their departure.

Battery Firing.

The Kingston News Gananoque camp letter, of June 27th, contains the following:—"The field batteries finished firing to-day, and the different scores show that the teams that were chosen from each corps were good ones. The totals are as follows:—Gananoque field battery, officers, 44 points; preliminary, 211 points; final, 167 points. Kingston Field Battery—Officers, 11 points; preliminary, 119 points; final 78 points. Durham Field Battery—Officers, 49 points; preliminary, 164 points; final 106 points. Ottawa field batery—Officers 43 points; preliminary, 157 points; final 132 points. It will only take a glance at the above figures to see which battery did the best firing. The Durham battery officers excelled, while the men in the Gananoque battery leads by 378 points, the Ottawa next with 289 points, Durham next, with 270 points, and Kingston next with 197 points.

Lawn Party.

A Garden Party, in aid of St. Luke's, will be given at the residence of John Burnham, Esq., on the 9th of July.

If the Sufferers from Consumption, Scrofula and General Debility, will try Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil, with hypophosphites they will find immediate relief and a permanent benefit; Dr. H. V. Mott, Brentwood, Cal., writes: "I have used Scott's Emulsion with great advantage in cases of Phthisis, Scrofula and Wasting Diseases. It is very palatable. Put up in 50c. and $1 size.

Heavities.

—The cheese sold at the last board meeting was shipped to Montreal on the G.T.R. yesterday.

—There will be numerous private picnics on Monday, Chemong Lake appears to be a favorite resort for this purpose.

—The Street and Bridge Committee will probably sit to-night to open and award tenders for the bridges.

—The three year old son of Mr. D. J. Lundy, who tumbled out of a second storey window, is apparently uninjured.

—Lindsay Warder:—"Mr. Geo. Matthews left for England on Wednesday last. May the journey be pleasant and profitable."

—The accounts and communications at last night's council probably outnumbered those ever received on any previous occasion, on one night.

—Quite a number from Harwood and vicinity came up on the Beaver to day to attend our market and make purchases in town.

—Drive of Rathbun's logs are passing down the river. They are not much better than the usual run, but the large ones may be stuck along the banks of the river.

—All speak in glowing terms of Jubilee Point which is now at its best. Every person seeking health and enjoyment should pay it a visit.

Lindsay Post:—"Messrs. A. Higinbotham and John Hart, of this town, attended the decoration day ceremonies at Peterborough, of the I. O. O. F., Tuesday. There was a large turnout and an exceedingly fine display."

The Manufacturers' Life Ins. Co'y.

The Bulletin of Life and Accident Insurance says,—"Phenomenal" will but faintly express the success of the great company. During the month of May just past applications have been received at the head office for about $680,000 insurance, a result we venture to affirm never before attained by any life insurance company in one month in the middle of their fiscal year. This enormous business is being done without any undue pressure.

"The liberality of its contracts and eminent fairness of its plans, no less than the substantial names appearing on its lists of officers and directors, contribute to its wonderful growth. It is confidently believed that its business this year will be, not only larger than that of any company in Canada, but larger by far, than has ever been secured by any company in the world in the same time in proportion to the population. This is something for a home company to be able to say. It is a credit to the Dominion, as well as to the far-sighted business men, who have stood at the helm of its affairs since its organization."

The First Symptoms

of all Lung diseases are much the same—feverishness, loss of appetite, sore throat, pains in the chest and back, headache, etc. In a few days you may be well, or, on the other hand, you may be down with Pneumonia or "galloping Consumption." Run no risks, but begin immediately to take Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

Several years ago, James Birchard, of Darien, Conn., was severely ill. The doctors said he was in Consumption, and that they could do nothing for him, but advised him, as a last resort, to use Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. After taking this medicine, two or three months, he was pronounced a well man. His health remains good to the present day.

J. S. Bradley, Malden, Mass., writes: "Three winters ago I took a severe cold, which rapidly developed into Bronchitis and Consumption. I was so weak that I could not sit up, was much emaciated, and coughed incessantly. I consulted several doctors, but they were powerless, and all agreed that I was in Consumption. At last, a friend brought me a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. From the first dose, I found relief. Two bottles cured me, and my health has since been perfect."

MONA'S CHOICE.

BY MRS. ALEXANDER.

"Weel, it canna be helpit."

"No, certainly not. May I leave you a couple of brace of grouse, Mr. Craig? They are good plump birds."

"I am much obliged to you. They are fine and digestible food. Where are they?"

"The gillie is just outside with my bag."

"Mona, ca' Phemie to take them!"

"Then I will not trespass on you any longer. Pray, young ladies, do you not feel disposed to put me on my way? The moon is rising, and the walk back would be charming!"

Mary looked at Mona, evidently ready to return her good offices if necessary, but the other laughed, and said they could enjoy the view from the window without the trouble of walking. Lisle reproached both for refusing his request, and bidding them a gay good-night, departed on his homeward road.

"Aweel, I did na' want to hear he 'had nae letter,' murmured Uncle Sandy. "I'd rather have my bit doze than a' the birdies!" and settled to his nap again.

"Ah!" whispered Mary Black, "it's not the letter that brought him here. I am afraid but you are a hard-hearted lassie, Mona! He is a handsome, grand-looking gentleman."

"He is not nearly as good-looking as Kenneth," said Mona, laughing at Mary's evident delight in the discovery she thought she had made.

Meanwhile Lisle walked rapidly down hill in the direction of the hotel where he and his friend put up, and thinking very earnestly of the interview he had just had.

CHAPTER XX.—EDGED TOOLS.

It was, on the whole, a bright time at Craigdarroch. Mona found Mary a very pleasant companion—a quiet, kindly, sensible girl, whose hearty admiration and profound faith was a gratifying tribute to her new friend. Uncle Sandy's uneasy pride had perhaps never before been so satisfactorily fed, and, like all things thus satiated, was lulled to sleep for the present. If at any time the currents of his temper flowed from the east, it was against Kenneth they chafed; and Kenneth was more inflexible than formerly. It was a great relief to Mona to have a partner in her readings and writings and general care of Uncle Sandy. Moreover, Mary had learned to play chess with her father, the schoolmaster, and allowed herself to be beaten with much tact—occasionally winning to keep up the illusion.

Amid this temporary tranquillity and comfort, Mona wrote often to her dear, kind Deb. She made, however, very slight mention of Lisle; but slight as it was, it sufficed to set Mme. Debrisay off.

"Your letter, as usual, reached me on Saturday. I can't tell you how I look forward to it; and it's like you, dear, to be so faithful in writing. Is it not a queer turn your meeting that nice, elegant Captain Lisle away there in the wilds? I always thought, and always will think, that he was a great admirer of yours; and if he had not been sent off to India just when your poor grandmother died, there's no knowing what might have happened. I hope, dear, you will not turn up your nose at him as you generally do—Lady Lisle would look well and suit you well. * * * Now for some of my own news. I have some new pupils—two daughters of a Mrs. Rivers, who has lately come from India, and is giving these girls finishing lessons before taking them back with her. Lady Hayter recommended me. A few days ago I had stayed over my time, and Mrs. Rivers asked me to come in to luncheon. I was starving—talking and singing make one fearfully hungry—so I went in. They were very pleasant, and had a nice curry.

"Presently a general something was announced, and a very grand old warrior marched in.

"A great, tall, thin man—a bag of bones you might say—with big black eyebrows, and angry-looking eyes; but his hair was white and his face brown, and he had an empty sleeve. He was named to me and gave me a stare, as much as to say, 'Who the deuce are you?' Then he began to talk in short sentences, and with what we might term a 'staccato fortissimo' manner. Somehow his eyes and voice seemed familiar to me, only I could not find a clear place for him in my memory. When he had eaten some curry—and abused it—and taken a glass of hock and seltzer, he said, looking at me as if he was going to accuse me of murder—

"'What did you say this lady's name is?'

"'Madame Debrisay,' said Mrs. Rivers.

"'Humph!' said he; 'are you a Frenchwoman?'

"'No,' said I; 'but I am next door to one—I am Irish.'

"'From what part of that unfortunate country, may I ask?' more politely.

"'From Ballykillruddery.'

"'Ah, I thought so!'

"And he was silent for a bit; then he said, with a pleasanter smile than I thought his grim face could put on—

"'I see you have no recollection of me.'

"'Your voice and face are not strange to me,' I said, my heart beginning to beat, 'but I cannot recall your name.'

"'Have you quite forgotten a gunner called Fielden—Mark Fielden—who won the cup at the Ballykillruddery hunt races in '53, more than thirty years ago?'

"'Do I not? And I helped to do up my cousin Rose Nugent's hair with ribbons of his colors for the race ball! I know you now, and I must shake hands with you.'

"So we shook hands; and his brown face softened and glowed while he talked of Rose. He was desperately in love with her, and they were engaged. He went off to India; she stayed at home—got a wetting out boating, took cold, and went off into a decline. He married, and lost his wife, and now he is wandering about in indifferent health. I should not have mentioned all this if it had not been for a bit that will interest you. In the course of conversation, it turned out that the general is some relation of poor Mr. Waring's, and he is awfully vexed with him. It seems he has got through a heap of money and has gone away to America. A friend of the general's saw him breaking horses last spring somewhere in Dominion. I said I had met him, and what a good fellow I thought him. Then the general said he was an ass, and had let himself be knocked out of the running because he could not get the girl he wanted to marry him. Of course I did not let on that I knew anything about it, and the subject dropped. Then my old general asked for my address, and said he would come and see me some Sunday—which, I told him, was my only free day—but I don't fancy he will.

"Now, my darling, I have prosed long enough, and I must stop. When shall I see you again? Can't you persuade your uncle to come up to town for a little more physic? You make him too happy and comfortable. I was going to write, 'Don't refuse Sir St. John Lisle without thinking twice,' but I will not. Matrimony is a tremendous experiment, and I'll not venture to recommend it. God bless you, my own dear. My best regards to your uncle.

"Ever your loving

"GERALDINE DEBRISAY."

Mona read this with the deepest interest. She smiled at the account of her meeting at Mrs. Rivers', but grew very grave over the description of Waring's decadence.

"Am I to blame? I wish I were not always having sidelong reproaches flung at me. He would have been as bad or worse if I had married him, for I could not have been a loving, sympathetic wife, and then his last state and mine, too, would be worse than the first. How I wish I could hear that he was well and happily married."

The Thursday on which Mona was to have a peep once more at the world she felt she had quitted forever, rose fresh and clear after yesterday of storm and rain.

Lady Finistoun had offered to drive over after luncheon and fetch her, so Mona—relieved from the necessity of taking out Uncle Sandy's ramshackle conveyance—dressed, and having put up a carefully arranged dinner dress and change of raiment, waited quietly for her ladyship's appearance.

Uncle Sandy had driven away early with Kenneth to a sale of Highland cattle at Kirktoun, and Mary had gone to carry some jelly to the shepherd's mother, who was old and weak.

Mona was reading a review sent her by Mme. Debrisay, when she heard the sound of a carriage driving up.

TURNBULLS'.

New Goods received this week. Art Muslins, or Peek-a-boo Curtain Nets, Cretonnes, Fringes, Table Oilcloths. Ladies' Belts, Prin's, Lawns and Dress Goods.

Among the New Goods that arrived during the week were some Art Muslins, or Peek-a-boo Curtain Nets in fancy colors and beautiful Designs, the correct thing to make a home cosy and attractive, at a small cost. Also a nice assortment of Cretonne Fringes, selling at ten cents a yard, Marble Oilcloths with gold and blue veins in the best qualities. The gold has not been much shown but is particularly desirable Ladies' Belts, a full range in cloth and leather, and to our already attractive stock of Prints we have added some entirely new lines in navy and cream, navy and gold, navy and cardinal and brown and gold in checks, stripes and sprays, White Lawns and all over Embroideries at all prices. Dress Goods. Owing to the large drain on Dress Goods Stock some of the best shades were sold out, but we have been able to repeat them and are now showing a full range again. Value always right. We have also on our Dress Goods counter a range of 25 pieces of All Wool and Bradford Goods which we are selling at 10c. a yard. We are confident that these are the best value being offered at the price.

Just to hand light and dark Seersuckers in desirable patterns, probably one of the newest and most popular goods we are showing for children's wear in navy and cream colored estamine with navy and cream and cream and navy; anchor trimming to match. Mothers should see these goods.

UNITED STATES LEGISLATORS.

Mr. Frye of Maine Asks for Another Batch of Correspondence.

WASHINGTON, July 3.—In the Senate yesterday Mr. Frye (Me.) offered a resolution (which was adopted) directing the Secretary of the Treasury to furnish correspondence and information relating to the amendment made for traffic between Suspension Bridge and Detroit, whereby merchandise was allowed to be conveyed on the Great Western Railway of Canada, without payment of duty, on the completion of the railroad bridge across the Niagara River in 1855.

The U. S. Chief Justiceship.

WASHINGTON, July 3.—The Senate Committee on Judiciary reported back to the Senate the nomination of Melville W. Fuller to be Chief Justice without any recommendation, and it was placed on the calendar.

A Belligerent Representative.

WASHINGTON, July 3.—Just before the House was called to order this morning a scene occurred which attracted a good deal of attention. Congressman Logan of Louisiana, feeling angered at an article which appeared lately in The New Orleans City Item, took advantage of the presence of a correspondent of that paper, W. B. Lynch, to express his feelings. Some angry words followed, and the Congressman, seizing the correspondent, pushed him out of the room. Mr. Logan was much excited, and threatened to follow up the attack.

U. S. Revenue and Expenditures.

WASHINGTON, July 3.—The total receipts and expenditures of the United States were: $32,490,777 and $16,643,295 respectively, against $33,070,984 and $4,959,888 for the month of June in 1887.

Trying to Reduce the Surplus.

WASHINGTON, July 3.—The River and Harbor Bill, as originally reported from the Senate Committee on Commerce, appropriated $21,502,783. As it finally passed the Senate to-day it appropriates $22,474,783, having been increased by the Senate $912,000.

Chanks and His Wife at Washington.

WASHINGTON, June 30.—The Indian Chanks and his white wife, formerly Miss Cora Fellows of this city, whose marriage was the subject of considerable newspaper notoriety, were at the Indian office to-day on business in connection with certain lands in the west. The lady spoke of the newspaper comments to which her marriage had given rise, and said she did not understand why there had been so much gossip. The couple intend leaving the city next week for the west, where they will settle down to farming.

The Last of the Bisons.

CHICAGO, July 1.—The Times to-day prints the final carrier-pigeon dispatch from its Texas buffalo hunting expedition. Success has been attained and fifteen live, full-grown buffalo with seven calves, the last herd roaming at large on the continent, are now on the way to a ranch at Garden City, Ks. There they will be crossed with thoroughbred domestic. Those interested in the experiment say it will revolutionize the breeding of range cattle.

Serious Accident to a Goderich Lad.

GODERICH, July 1.—On Saturday evening some boys were playing lacrosse as the town 'bus was returning from the station. In the excitement of the play Robert Thompson, aged 15, followed the ball beside the 'bus and from some at present unexplainable cause fell. The heavy wheels passed over both legs, badly breaking them, and otherwise injuring the lad.

Spoiled Ice Cream Causes a Suicide.

READING, Pa., June 30.—Jos. Autenbach, an ice cream dealer, went into his cellar this evening, telling his wife that he feared the ice cream had turned sour. Ten minutes afterwards she found him hanging in the cellar, he having committed suicide because of his loss by the spoiling of his ice cream.

A Faithful Watchman.

OSHAWA, July 1.—Jas. Brewer, who has been night watchman in the Jas. Hull works for over twenty-four years, was discharged yesterday in consequence of the Messrs. Williams having purchased the place for their piano establishment.

Cannot be Accounted for.

DENVER, Col., June 30.—A special from Aspen Junction says: Charles Whitehead shot and instantly killed Minnie Hill to-night and then blew out his brains. No cause for the act has yet been learned.

Saengerfest at Baltimore.

BALTIMORE, July 3.—Thousands of singers and friends of the singers are now in Baltimore attending the National Saengerfest. At the headquarters of the Executive Committee it was ascertained that there are seventy out-of-town societies now in the city, represented by 2,100 singers. These, together with the 400 singers at the home societies, will make an aggregate 2,500 singers. The visitors are accompanied by about 1000 people, including wives, daughters, friends and honorary members of the societies.

An Appeal to Anti-Saloon Republicans.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., July 3.—Albert Griffin, chairman of the anti-saloon Republican National Committee, has issued an address to the country in which he summarizes the work of the National Republican Convention on temperance matters and appeals to the voters to support the ticket nominated by the convention.

Mr. Sexton Renominated.

DUBLIN, July 3.—The Municipal Council has nominated Mr. Sexton for re-election as Lord Mayor for 1889.

The Customs receipts at Hamilton for the past month show a decrease of 40 per cent. as compared with those of the corresponding month last year.

The Methodists of Winnipeg have decided to establish an Indian industrial school at Norway House, the institution to be supported by the Government.

A SENSATIONAL LAWSUIT.

SOME LIVELY FUN IN THE JOCKEY LIBEL CASE.

Mr. Gladstone enthusiastically received—Death of an Ex-U.S. Consul—Parnellism and Crime—A £50,000 Libel Suit.

NEW YORK, July 3.—G. W. Smalley telegraphs to the Tribune:—The verdict on the Wood libel case may be taken as an expression of opinion by the jury that they do not approve of the existing state of things on the turf. Small blame to them for that. But whether it does justice as between the parties to this action is another question. Lord Coleridge thinks it does. He sided strongly against Wood and summed up against him, and now says that he would deprive him of his costs if he had the power. A verdict with a farthing damages is of course more injurious to Wood than if it had been for the defendant. There was evidence to justify a verdict on either side. Many men of high position swore that Wood's reputation as a jockey was bad, and many others swore that though they had heard things said they did not believe them, and continued to employ him. Equally conflicting was the evidence as to pulling the horse Success, the only one about which a specific charge was made. But what seems clear enough is that if Wood has sinned, he has sinned in company with others. "All jockeys," said the Duke of Portland in his letter to Lord Durham, "are damned thieves." Wood's offence, if offence there be, consists in breaking the Eleventh Commandment.

The trial has been full of sensational incidents and the court full of famous people. If the reputation of the Prime Minister had been at stake the interest could not have been more intense. Nothing quite equalled the excitement when Lord Durham, who has really been defending Cox, produced a private letter from the Duke of Portland, his intimate friend, in hope of contradicting his evidence given on the stand. When Sir Henry James came to his closing arguments he denounced this act in terms seldom applied in court to a man in Lord Durham's position. "That letter," said Sir Henry, "was not the weapon of a warrior, but the dagger of an assassin." He denounced, too, Sir Charles Russell, the leading counsel for the defendant, for using it. But this was perhaps a little Pekwickian, and was explained away; though Lord Coleridge said that he ought himself to have stopped "No friend will ever again," said Sir Henry, "write a letter to the Duke of Portland beginning 'My Dear Jacko.' They will begin 'Without Prejudice, My Dear Jacko.'" The Duke of Portland and Sir Henry James are men who meet socially on even terms, but their relations seem likely in future to be a little strained. Two powerful parties on the turf are in fact fighting out their quarrel in the court, and the Lord Chief is clearly more than a reconnaissance in force.

Mr. Gladstone addressed a meeting at Hampstead. He was given an enthusiastic ovation. In his speech he said that coercion in Ireland was formerly a painful necessity and a momentary expedient, but now it was erected into a principle, a system and an institution which would have received a deadly blow yesterday had there been a few more Liberals in the Isle of Thanet. The majority in Thanet would have the noble satisfaction of reflecting on the fact that they have riveted the chains of force and renewed the power of injustice. Each individual of them would be answerable therefor to God.

PARNELLISM AND CRIME.

Mr. O'Donnell's £50,000 Libel Suit Against the Thunderer Begun.

LONDON, July 3.—The trial of the action of Frank Hugh O'Donnell against the London Times for Libel in its articles on "Parnellism and Crime" was begun yesterday. The court room was packed. Lord Chief Justice Coleridge presided. Mr. O'Donnell was represented by Mr. Reugg, a junior counsel, who is a lean, nervous, bilious looking man. Herbert Gladstone, Arthur O'Connor and many other prominent persons were present. Herbert Gladstone sat by Mr. O'Donnell's side. The Times was represented by Sir R. F. Webster, Attorney General, Sir Henry James, Lumbley Smith and William Graham Gwynne.

Reugg, in presenting the case for the plaintiff, declared that Mr. O'Donnell was not in sympathy with the Irish extremists, but held their methods in detestation. The Times had no ground for coupling his name with that party, and the plaintiff, therefore, claimed £50,000 damages. Mr. Reugg also said that Mr. O'Donnell had not been connected with the Parnellite party since 1884.

Mr. Reugg's voice was not strong and his manner of speaking was monotonous. The impression created upon the auditors was not altogether favorable and the court did not appear particularly interested.

The first witness was Henry Lucy, editor of The Daily News. He said he considered that the references in the articles on "Parnellism and Crime" included Mr. O'Donnell.

At this juncture Mr. Parnell entered the court room.

On cross-examination Mr. Lucy gave testimony which tended to prove that O'Donnell was present at National League meetings where violent speeches inciting to murder and arson were made, and against which he uttered no protest.

The Lord Chief Justice ruled that questions concerning Mr. Gladstone's anti-league speeches in Parliament were irrelevant.

Death of an ex-U.S. Consul.

LONDON, July 3.—Edward A. Farrington, of New York, formerly Consul at Valentia, died here yesterday.

Sure of Success.

PARIS, July 3.—Gen. Boulanger, in accepting the presidency of the National Revision committee for the Boulogne Division, Rhone Department, writes: "The movement we have set afoot becomes every day stronger and more marked. It is making serious progress through France. Have confidence, you are sure of success."

A Dense Fog at Gibraltar.

GIBRALTAR, July.—A fog of unprecedented darkness prevails here. Three British steamers, the Glendevon, the Lionel and the Earl of Dumfries, have gone ashore since it set in and another steamer, the Resolution, has arrived with her bows damaged.

Greek Seditionists Arrested.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 3.—Philpodes, a Greek secret agent and author of a revolutionary pamphlet, and Argneropolous, a Greek physician, have been arrested at Monaster for inciting the Macedonians to revolt.

A BUSY MONTH FOR CANDIDATES.

Large List of Competitors for Various Examinations.

TORONTO, July 3.—The departmental examinations for second and third class teachers' certificates commenced to-day. According to the returns recently received at the department 5000 candidates will write for both grades. The papers for second and first class certificates were prepared by the University examiners, and the third class by the Central Committee of the Education Department.

For the first time candidates for first class grade certificates will be examined at local points, of which there are 120. The examinations begin July 10. There are 200 candidates on the list for this examination. With regard to first class grade A and B, the department does not any longer exercise any control, these being graded after the candidates undergo a specified course at the universities. The examinations for admission to high schools and collegiate institutes will begin on Wednesday and will last until Friday afternoon following. These examinations are not exclusively held at High schools, the policy of the department being to set apart additional centres considered of convenience to pupils. It is estimated that 12,000 candidates will write on the entrance papers, and when other grades and university examinations are taken into consideration, no less than 20,000 boys and girls in Ontario will be examined on some sphere of educational work during the coming month. The University examinations will be conducted at the same centres and on the same days as those for teachers' certificates.

Notes from Toronto.

TORONTO, July 3.—A memorial tablet has just been placed in the Congregational Church, Brantford, as a presentation from the Bond street church, Toronto, in memory of the late Mrs. Currie, who met her death under melancholy circumstances in Africa shortly after her marriage and departure from this city.

Dominion Day was duly observed here yesterday, the most important event of the day being the Victoria Rifles' visit. The Victorias left last night by special train, delighted with their reception by their Toronto brethren.

A STRATEGIC CONSIDERATION.

Further Measures Urged for the Severance of the Reichsland from France.

BERLIN, July 3.—The North German Gazette, referring to the passport regulations, says: "The absorption of Alsace-Lorraine by Germany was partly a strategic consideration with a view to the protection of Germany against a French invasion. The impression that the Verdes from the frontier line must be strengthened and made permanent. The passport regulations work in this direction, but they are not sufficient. Further measures will have to follow if the severance of Alsace-Lorraine from France is to be as systematically obtained."

Icelanders for Manitoba.

LONDON, July 3.—The season's Icelandic emigration to Manitoba commenced by the departure from Glasgow of 315 emigrants, and 700 to 800 are expected to settle in Manitoba this year, consequent on the good reports of three returned delegates. No Government assistance is being given, the emigrants all paying their own through fares, though the Icelandic residents of Manitoba contributed 20,000 kroner, equal to £1,000, towards the passage money. The men of the party are strong and hardy looking. There is a good proportion of women.

The Perils of a Green Corn Dance.

MUSKOGEE, I.T., July 3.—A desperate fight between United States officers and two notorious desperadoes took place at a green corn dance near Enfala Saturday night. United States Marshals Phillips and McLoughlen were killed and Walter Barnett, a desperado, was fatally injured.

AN ACCIDENT AT OTTAWA.

FALL OF THE GRAND STAND AT LANDSDOWNE PARK.

Only Two or Three of the Occupants Seriously Injured and None Fatally—The Princess of Wales Rifles.

OTTAWA, July 3.—Dominion Day was generally celebrated yesterday, most places of business being closed. The weather was splendid, large crowds visited the city and everything passed off satisfactorily except a little unpleasantness at the drill hall and a slight accident at Landsdowne Park.

In the morning the Princess of Wales Rifles of Kingston were inspected by Gen. Middleton and presented a very creditable appearance. After inspection the men went into the drill hall for dinner and here an unpleasantness occurred. The men were hot and hungry, and the dinner was good and plenty of it, but there were no knives and forks. It appears that the caterer could not supply so large a number and stipulated in the contract that the men were to bring their own knives and forks. This caused great commotion. The men kicked up a row, threw plates at Col. Smith and the officers had to be called in to quiet them. Finally order was restored and the men got their dinners the best way they could.

Just after the first heat in the free-for-all at Lansdowne Park this afternoon an accident occurred which it seems almost miraculous did not result in great loss of life. A portion of the grand stand, on which there were about 300 people, fell, and men, women and children were buried in the heap of ruins. Although a large number received slight injuries, only two or three are seriously injured and none fatally.

The Government to Intervene.

LONDON, July 3.—In the appeal of the St. Catharines Milling and Lumbering Company from the judgment of the Supreme Court of Canada, confirming the right of the Ontario Government to deal with the timber in the lately disputed territory, the solicitors for the Dominion Government have given notice of the intention of the Government to intervene and become party to the suit. The suit has hitherto been conducted solely in the name of the St. Catharines Milling and Lumbering Company. The Dominion Government have been constantly urged by the Ontario Government to take this step in order finally to decide the question, but have hitherto refused. The case opens on the 10th July.

Drowning Accident near Brantford.

BRANTFORD, July 3.—John Beer, a young man, aged about 20 years, while swimming at Lovejoy's pond was drowned. He took a dive, came up above the water standing on his feet, with both hands wiped the water off his face, then threw back both arms, fell backwards in the water and did not rise again. His companions thought he was in sport. His body was found about an hour afterwards a short distance from where he went down. Deceased was only from England about three months, and was stopping with his uncle, Wm. Beers.

Fire at Hespeler.

HESPELER, July 3.—Fire yesterday morning destroyed the barn and shed belonging to John Zrijd with almost the entire contents. The barn was owned by John Bond, and was valued at $3,000. About $100 worth of the contents of the barn, belonging to John Washburn, were also destroyed. Mr. Zrijd's loss is about $1,000, on which there is an insurance of $400 equally divided between the Economic of Berlin and Mutual of Guelph. The cause of the fire is unknown.

The Dark Secret Spoken.

BOSTON, July 3.—The little dorry Dark Secret, with its solitary occupant en route to Europe, was spoken 65 miles from Boston light at 10 a.m. Saturday by the pilot boat Hesper of Boston. Captain Andrews said he had been detained by the easterly winds of the two preceding days and had been driven back within sight of Cape Cod light on Friday night. He appeared to be in excellent spirits.

TUESDAY, JULY 3, 1888.

CANADA'S NATAL DAY.

Is Right Royally Celebrated in Town.

ALL PASSES QUIETLY.

THE PHYSIOGS, RACES, PICNICS AND FIREWORKS.

The Demonstration is a Huge Success all Around.—It Draws a Large Crowd and Every Person is Satisfied.

Monday July 2nd was duly celebrated in Peterborough as Dominion Day. The programme of attractions as daily announced for weeks ahead was carried out to the letter, and in very few places in the country was the day better kept than it was in Peterborough. The weather was all that could be desired. A large number of strangers were in town and as will be seen by what follows, the people had many and various ways of spending the day and enjoying themselves.

The Philsiological Display.

During the morning the drill shed was the centre of attraction for the boys. A deal of preparation was going on inside and with closed doors. It was rumored that behind the walls of the shed the redoubtable and inexorable pants morphite conglomeration was dressing up and getting into its harness, so to speak. Public expectation was strained to the point of fracture almost, and then the public bottling up their expectations, went home to dinner.

It was fully half-past one o'clock when the procession of oddities made its appearance on George-st. The thoroughfare was lined for blocks with a sight-seeing crowd that hailed the motley cavalcade with shouts of laughter. A band of mounted Indians, curvetting, whooping and gutting about led the procession. The aborigines were well gotten up and were a capital copy of the genuine article. On foot came the celebrated tin horn band, 15 pieces blowing their brains out, making at tremendiuous racket. A really fine feature of the parade came next a retinue of mounted cavaliers in gorgeous costumes of the last century and the one before. Porter Bros., the well known carriage makers, were represented by a couple of rigs that provoked roars of laughter. The vehicle of the date of 1838 was a quaint and queer contrivance and oddly contrasted with the production of 1888. A laughable take off on the Town Council presented that august body engaged in noisy deliberation on the chief of police question and the suggested enterprise of buying A public park, backed up by the statement that they were guided by the principal of "men not measures." The Trent Valley navigation interests were largely brought into view by the fine steamer "John Macnot-on," bound as announced for Spaulding's bay. The model was not exactly a Burgess, but the representation was a capital take off. Gough's the wonderful cheap men secured a splendid advertisement with their display, effectively shown on wheels, and which gained many complimentary remarks. On a platform was erected a sixteen foot ring and a party of sports were assisting in the slaughtering of John L. and one of the Lindsay town council, proposing to afterward give the remains decent interment. The "Dark Town Fire Brigade" displayed an antiquated hand fire engine hauled by a lean horse hitched to a shaft about 30 feet long. The motto displayed reminded the public that "where duty calls you'll never find us." Barnum's Museum of living and obsolete wonders was laughable, and sundry legends painted on the boards stated the paternity of the animals incarcerated. T. B. McGrath had the city paint shop in full artistic swing. More hands there were than could find shop room on the turn out at work papering, painting and lettering, and among the confidential statements made in black and white was one that "no ready mixed paints were used." Twelve "Dry Bums" in a waste of waggon cut a variety of absurd capers and roared out a frightful chorus in defiance of the Scott Act. A ticket waggon, an offshoot from the museum and which had been delayed by the heat and the obstinacy of the intelligent horse drawing it, closed the procession. After parading the principal streets the Indians, civilians and many of the representatives made their way to the Driving Park where a series of races to be contested had already been commenced.

At the Driving Park.

Hardly had the procession been well looked at than a stampede was made for the driving park. Hacks, busses and private vehicles carried down a large number while others made their way through the dust on foot. In a short time there was a large crowd on the grounds, seated on the grand stand and standing about the track. The band came in and presently struck up a quickstep and at intervals during the afternoon played selections. Enterprising dealers in refreshments—principally liquid—did a thriving trade and Dupree's and Benedict's Minstrels gave an entertainment under a large tent.

At 2.50 the judges entered the stand and the first race was called up. Messrs. Jackson Reid of Bobcaygeon, R. W. Muncaster, and G. W. Ranney were the judges, while Mr. J. C. English took the time with his infallible stop watch. Following is the specification for the first race. The heats of the two first races were trotted or run alternately.

OPEN TROT.—Purse $200, open to all pacers and trotters. Mile heats in harness, best 3 in 5. 1st horse $125, 2nd $50, 3rd $25.

Three horses came to the track after a tedious wait of 20 minutes, W. Clancy's Royal Jim, F. J. Daly's pacer and Morgan's Grey Ned. Royal Jim drew the pole with the pacer outside, and after some scoring a start was effected. Grey Ned at once trotted to the front and travelling steadily assured a decided lead, the others fairly well up, with the pacer breaking. The grey held the lead on the first round and after a sharp burst of speed secured the heat. In the second heat Grey Ned won in a canter with Royal Jim several lengths behind. The third heat was trotted under protest from the driver of the pacer who claimed that he had been fouled by the horse and sulky that secured second place. The judges agreed after hearing statements to decide the matter further on. This heat brought the pacer to the front in a half minute of quick work he drew up from 3rd to 2nd place and held it until the finish of the heat, Grey Ned trotting taking the heat. Following is a summary of the heats trotted:—

Grey Ned	1	1	1
Daly's Pacer	2	3	2
Royal Jim	3	2	3

Time, 2.35, 2.45, 2.38½.

Alternately with the trotting race, heats of the running race were worked off, the terms of the contest being as follows:—

RUNNING RACE.—Purse $100. Catch weights, best 2 in 3, mile heats. First horse $50, 2nd $25, 3rd $15.

Three entries were made in this race, Lady Macdonald (owned by Stapleton, of Brighton), Fred Hill (owned by F. Hill, Peterborough), Black D. (owned by A. Beath, Lindsay). Lady Macdonald was ridden by C. S. Stapleton, Fred Hill by his owner, and Black D. by — Patterson. The three horses got away at a lively rate, pretty well together. At the first turn Fred Hill bolted and turned up in a corner of the park where the fence stopped his progress. Black D. threw his rider and rolled across the track. Lady Macdonald having a clear track and under no particular hurry made the mile in 2.05½, securing the heat. Black D. was mounted by his rider and Fred Hill having been coaxed to the track the two had a lively race for second place, which was secured by F. Hill. The second heat was a pretty contest, Lady Macdonald and Fred Hill running the first half-mile neck-and-neck. The mare was let out on the home-stretch and gained the heat with something to spare, Fred Hill coming in for second place. Following is a summary of the race:—

Lady Macdonald	1	1	0
Fred Hill	2	2	0
Black D	3	3	0

Time, 2.05½, 2.00.

The indian race—in costume—brought out a capital field of braves, arrayed in war paint, feathers and leggings, who dashed round the track uttering yells that supplied the place of whips in urging their steeds. They were given a standing start. The inventory taken at the moment of starting showed that the following had entered:—Jim Bickle's Squirt, H. Kent's Squaw, Paterson's Hole-in-the-Sky, Milburn's Texas Bill, Corcoran's Ki-Yi, Wainwright's Dora and Benton's Dollie B. The field started to the following:—

INDIAN RACE.—Purse $15.—First horse, $10 2nd $5. Half-mile dash.

Wide as the track is there was no room to spare when the horses got under motion. They straddled across the track and bunched together in a way that was perfectly delightful. Out of the melee Hole-in-the-Sky and Squaw struggled and made a race of it for first place, which was taken by the former, with the Squaw close up. Time 1.03, and very good time indeed, considering the circumstances.

The Cavalier's Race was a classical contest, brightened up with a deal of gold lace and gay scarf and all that sort of thing. Four horses started. Snowden's Enterprise, Dean's Graybird, McIntyre's Nancy Lee and Kennedy's Honest Charlie.

CAVALIER'S RACE.—Purse, $15.—First horse $10, 2nd $5 Half mile dash.

On the start Enterprise bolted and made for the fence. Greybird dashed off but was presently collared by Nancy Lee, which held the lead and captured the heat in 1.07½, Greybird 2nd, Honest Charlie 3rd.

This closed the programme and a general break was made for up town.

At St. Leonard's.

The annual picnic of the congregation of St. Peter's Cathedral was held at St. Leonard's, Ashburnham. A finer place could not have been chosen and a better satisfied lot of people never left a ground. The attendance was extra large, it being estimated that fully three thousand people passed through the gates during the day.

A spacious platform was provided for dancers and to the excellent music provided by the Fire Brigade Band orchestra, the merry dancers enjoyed themselves from early in the morning until late in the evening. Swings, etc, furnished amusement for the youngsters.

In the morning a baseball match was played between nines from the Wm. Hamilton Manufacturing Co, and the Lock Works, resulting as the following score shows in a victory for the Hamilton men:—

OBSTACLE RACE.—L. Squire, a box of soap, value $4.00, presented by John Garvey.

BACKWARDS RACE.—James McPherson, a white robe dress, value $5.00, presented by G. C. Clarke.

THE DANCING.

CLOG DANCE.—F. Twomey, an umbrella, value $2.50, presented by M. Sullivan & Co.

IRISH JIG.—Miss Hoyland, a parasol, value $2.00, presented by Thomas Kelly.

SCOTCH HORNPIPE.—T. Houlihan Sr., underclothing, value $2.50, presented by P. D. Doran.

Throughout the grounds were scattered at frequent intervals stands, where young ladies dispensed cigars, lemonade, ice cream and other refreshments, and judging by the crowds that surrounded them all the day, business must have been brisk. A shooting gallery furnished amusement to many. Benches were provided in all the shady nooks and that they were appreciated goes without saying.

His Lordship Bishop Dowling and Rev. Fathers Fayol, of Crookston, Dakota, formerly of Peterborough, Kelity, of Enniskmore, O'Connell, of Douro, Conway, of Norwood, and Lynch, Rodkins, McEvay and Duble, of Peterborough, were on the grounds and appeared much pleased with the exceedingly quiet and harmonious manner in which everything was conducted.

It is estimated that 5,000 persons entered the grounds during the day, and the receipts must have reached something handsome.

Mr. John E. Hayes, stonemason, with ticket No. 1581 won the $20 gold piece. Miss M. McAuliffe, won Mr. John Hackett's prize of $20 for selling the most tickets on the gold piece. Mrs. Robinomme won the handsome silk bannerette. Mrs. P. Bagley won the Bishop's picture and Mr. F. H. O'Shea won the whip presented by Mr. W. J. Devlin.

Taken altogether the picnic was certainly one of the best yet held under the same auspices and the members of the managing committee, one and all are deserving of the highest credit.

A New Bridge.

The Street and Bridge Committee on Saturday night awarded the tender for the stonework of the Charlotte-st. bridge to Mr. M. Hagys for $1,150. The King-st. bridge was not let.

If the Sufferers from Consumption, Scrofula and General Debility, will try Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil, with hypophosphites they will find immediate relief and a permanent benefit. Dr. H. V. NORWOOD.

I. O. O. F.—The Dominion Oddfellow, of Toronto, says:—"Bro. R. J. Stewart, of Norwood Lodge, No. 262, gave us a friendly call a day or two since. We are always pleased to welcome our brethren and show them whatever attention we can. Bro. Stewart reports his lodge as flourishing nicely; though yet young it is showing a marked activity, and will soon work its way into prominence in its community."

In brief and to the Point.

Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered liver is misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature.

The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existance. It is easily put out of order.

Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this sad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

Remember:—No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings health and happiness to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy-five cents.

LINDSAY.

FIRE.—Callaghan Bros' shingle and saw mills at Emily creek, on the south shore of Sturgeon lake, were destroyed by fire last Thursday evening. A Mr. Laveridge of Port Hope owned the buildings. Loss about $5,000. It is understood there was some insurance.

SHOT HIMSELF.—On Monday morning last Mr. W. Donoghue of East Ops, near the boundary of Emily, accidentally shot himself with a revolver, while shooting birds. The ball entered near the thigh and coursed downwards. Mr. Donoghue was brought to Lindsay and placed under the care of Dr. Poole. The bullet was probed for but could not be found.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.—A serious and probably fatal accident occurred to Mr. Lawrence Duke, plasterer, Wednesday afternoon. He was working for Mr. Growden, who is building a house for Mr. Crowley, East Ops, and while engaged in plastering missed his footing on the scaffold and was precipitated to the floor, the fall breaking three ribs and pressing them in upon the heart and lungs. He was conveyed to town and is now under the care of Drs. DeGrassi, Herriman and Foley, who entertain put very slight hopes of recovery.—Post.

HOUSEFURNISHINGS.

At this season many Housekeepers are replenishing their supplies of Tableware and China. City folk are furnishing summer cottages; country folk are filling up the dressers and cupboards of the old homestead; town's folk are picking and choosing here and there. Many would be glad to know of a place whose special business is to meet these wants and desires; that aims to furnish essentially good wares at consistently low prices; that offers the choice of many different dinner services, and yet does not compel you to take an entire set of any pattern, but allow you to select each course of a new design, or buy any portion of the set you may need; that does not try to impose ideas or wares upon purchasers, and yet is ready to advise which of the many wares is most desirable and suitable; and, if wished, will make a careful selection of pattern. When you want tableware will you give us the opportunity to serve you.

Obituary.

The death is announced at Bobcaygeon on Sunday last, of Mr. Charles Bradfield at the age of 68 years. Deceased was for many years engaged in business and a resident of this town, where he carried on an extensive dry goods trade. Some twenty years ago he removed to Bobcaygeon where he has since resided and where he in the course of his business career gained the respect and esteem of the people of the village and district surrounding. He leaves a widow but no children.

The Highlands of Haliburton.

Newnham, Haliburton, is becoming a popular summer resort under the management of Mrs. Stewart. This season promises to be very successful and already many people have arrived, stayed some time and left thoroughly well pleased. Newnham has its own station on the grounds. It is situate about half a mile from the village of Haliburton to which you can either walk or go by boat. The scenery is of the Swiss character, and Newnham possesses within itself forest and lake, meadows and cows, milk and wild fruit. Particulars of the beauty of its environment, its amusements and resources, and its extent (it is not large accommodating thirty to forty) will be forwarded by writing to Mrs. Stewart.

Beautiful Property.

The Roman Catholic Park Lot which for so long a time has been looked at with hungry eyes, is at last being put in the market. It lies between two of the best streets in Peterborough, Gilmour-st. especially is the fashionable street of the town. The lots will be sold off at low prices, as money is needed for church purposes. As soon as building operations are begun on this property there will be a rapid advance in value. The sale will afford a good investment for all who desire a safe thing and a chance for a little speculation. 6d151-1w26

Able Committees Struck.

Experience shows that to make any public occasion a successful one calls for men of experience, tact, and energy in charge. Recognizing this the selection of committees to do up the details in connection with the George-st. Methodist Sunday School excursion on Tuesday, July 10th, has been made. Take the item of sports. Here we have Messrs. A. E. Scott, R. J. Kidd, F. Wesley, and J. Henderson in charge, with a number of young ladies as a bright and cheerful annex to assist. The commissariat department is an important one, in fact vitally so. In this case Messrs. T. W. Robinson, W. F. Hilliard and A. Mason have been named and who will bring along everything promised in the way of provender. To guard against the above committee being overworked, Messrs. Geo. Sanderson, W. Smith, I. Cooney, Ventress and Eastland have been installed to receive baskets at the train and keep an eye on their transfer to the boat, the predatory instincts of the Lindsay people being feared. Other able committees will look after the children so that parents who cannot accompany their little ones may rest assured that they will be cared for.

Burglars at Bobcaygeon.

About two o'clock Sunday morning burglars entered the house of James Leary, postmaster at King's Wharf, eight miles south of Bobcaygeon and made off with fifty dollars in cash, all the inmates being in a sound sleep until a terrible explosion in the neighbourhood of his barn awoke the family. Mr. Leary, on looking out, saw his barn on fire. He ran out in hopes of saving some farming utensils, but was met by two rough-looking customers who fired two shots at him, one taking effect in his leg, the other passing through his shirt. The parties made off, and are still at large.

Something About Farley.

Chief Roszel yesterday received a letter from Charles W. Wood, Chief of Detectives, Philadelphia, referring of J. F. Farley, the man held here for murder, from which we take the following extract:—

DEAR SIR,—"Yours of the 26th inst., referring to James F. Farley, rec'd. In reply would say, that Farley is known here as an idle and worthless fellow, almost constantly in a state of intoxication. He has never been arrested in this city for any serious offense. He was arrested here last winter for cutting a man in the head with an ice axe, while cutting ice. The affair was said to have been an accident, and Farley was discharged."

Personal.

Mr. Gus Loeh leaves for London this week where he proposes to take the examination before the military authorities for a lieutenancy in the volunteers. We trust that Mr. Loeh will receive the promotion that will follow a creditable examand that the force will gain an active and efficient officer,

Dr. A. M. Roseborough, of Toronto, will be at the Grand Central Hotel, Peterborough, on Saturday next, the 7th inst. 1d1-1w27

Mr. P. Doharty, wife and son, of Saginaw, Michigan, are here on a visit to the genial John Doharty. Mr. Doharty has not been here in twenty years and he is of the opinion that Peterborough has grown somewhat since his last visit.

Railway Note.

The Lindsay Post says:—"It will surprise many to learn that the purchase of the Northern has greatly increased the railway work and business done at Lindsay, but is a fact all the same. A heavy grain trade from Collingwood, via Barrie, Orillia and Lindsay has been developed, as it keeps the trains off the crowded main line. The system from Collingwood to Belleville, and eventually through by Perth to Montreal, will be worked from Lindsay. As a consequence the works, sidings, stations, etc., are altogether inadequate to the new and unexpectedly heavy demands make upon them, and extensive additions will have to be made at once. Improvements and enlargements may be expected for the next two or three years."

Learning Shorthand.

"How long does it take you to learn shorthand?" my son. "Well, that depends on what you want to learn it for. If you want to be a court reporter, in which you will have to report just exactly what the speaker says, and nothing else, it will take you two or three years to learn. But to report merely political speeches, which is the occupation you merely look wise while you make hen tracks, and then go to the office and write down the speech from memory, making the speaker say whatever you think will please the managing editor, and hurt the other party, about six weeks' light study, with intervals of light recreation, will be a thorough university course." By taking lessons from a competent teacher you can qualify yourself for court reporting, for an office position or for newspaper work in the shortest possible time—much less than the humorist supposes. Miss Harper, whose card appears in another column, is such a teacher. 1d1

Legal.

Judgment was given in Toronto on Friday in the case of Sweeney vs. Sweeney and is thus reported in the Empire:—"Sweeney v. Sweeney.—Judgment. The judgment of the court below varied by making the charge for maintenance payable at the end of the year, and motion dismissed on all other points. No costs of motion to either party. C. J. Leonard for plaintiff. C. J. Holman for defendant. This was a motion on behalf of defendant to set aside the judgment of Falconbridge, J., in favor of the plaintiff. The action tried at the recent assizes at Peterborough, was brought to have a specific allowance charged upon the lands of the defendant in lieu of a charge for maintenance generally. In support of the motion counsel cited Comber v. Howard, 1 C. B. 440, per Earle J. and Woodfall L. & T. last edition, 366, and contended that at the time of the action there was nothing in default, the amount being paid yearly, meaning once a year, and that at the end of the year. Counsel for plaintiff contended that whether there was anything in default or not the action was properly brought to have it declared that the plaintiff was liable to pay a specific sum, and that the word "yearly" might mean yearly in advance, and that it was the intention of the parties that the plaintiff should be maintained from the granting of that deed, which meant paying the sum in advance, and cited Millette v. Suburbin, 12 Que. Rep. 264.

A Bout With a Burglar.

Mr. C. Stapleton, the well known auctioneer, had an interesting time this morning hunting a burglar. Mr. Stapleton was alarmed about 2.30 a. m. by cries from upper windows of the neighboring house occupied by Mrs. Dr. Burritt and family. The ladies had been awakened by the uproar made by a man who was trying to force his way into the house, and who had been for some minutes unsuccessfully at work at the front door. Mr. Stapleton came out on the street arrayed in a scanty costume, and upon reaching the next house was met by the burglar who dashed out of the porch. Mr. Stapleton tried to seize the man, who dodged around a tree guard and after one or to efforts raced off down the street. Mr. C. S. Stapleton joined in the chase and succeeded in getting in several blows on the burglar's head one of which knocked him down but did not interfere with his escape. He was followed as far as the post office, where in the darkness he was lost sight of. Mr. Stapleton received a bad fall at the corner of Water and Brocks sts. and was considerably shaken up. The object to be attained by the burglar was no doubt plunder. His hat was secured as a trophy of the chase. He looked, so Mr. Stapleton says, an able bodied man with a fine turn of speed, able to go for a short distance about as fast as Daly's pacer. Both pursuers shouted for the police but no assistance was forthcoming.

SHEPPARD, THE GREAT CHEAPSIDE.

GEORGE STREET PETERBOROUGH.

A Goner.

The Brock-st. bridge is evidently a goner. On Saturday the supports gave way and the inspector had to prop it up.

A Find.

Officer Stewart on Saturday night found half a dozen iron wash basins standing in front of a George-st. store. They were handed to the owner this morning.

Beaten.

The colts were rather badly beaten at Port Hope on Saturday by the Trinity College School boys. The scores were Port Hope, 133, Peterborough 28 and 69.

Cribbing.

The work of cribbing Crescent-st. was commenced to-day. It is proposed to make a good job of it and work was not commenced any too soon.

Special Service.

The Rev. Mr. Pearson will deliver an address to the Epworth League of Peterborough on Sunday next, the 8th of July, in the Presbyterian Church, at half past three o'clock. A collection will be taken up which will be given in aid of the Protestant home.

A Wheel Off.

On Monday evening, when Mr. and Mrs. George Carton and family were driving from Ashburnham to town, one of the wheels came off. Mr. Carton jumped out and prevented injury to any of the others. Mrs. Carton was badly frightened. The occurrence drew a large crowd right in front of the Otonabee Mill.

Baseball.

On Saturday evening the married and single men of the Auburn factory tried conclusions at baseball. The bachelors were too much for their doubled companions and won by a score of 21 to 8. Batteries, married, McMurphy and R. Somerville, single, J. Dunn and C. M. Welsh. Umpire F. Billings.

Church Notes.

The Rev. S. J. Shorey preached an able and interesting sermon in the Charlotte-st. Methodist Church on Sunday morning and at the close took occasion to refer to his assuming the pastorate of the church and expressed the wish to meet as many of the congregation as possible at the festival on Thursday evening.

On Sunday Rev. M. L. Pearson, pastor of the George-st. Methodist church, filled the pulpit morning and evening. He prefaced the morning sermon with a brief statement of his earnest endeavor to work for the advancement of the church and the spiritual life of the congregation. The tenor of the address pointed out that it was wholly necessary to have the sustaining power of the spirit manifested to ensure a successful year's work.

The Town Buildings.

Councillors A. Hall, Davidson and Hartley, of the Property Committee last week made a thorough examination of the town buildings to try and remedy the prevailing stench that is doing much to injure the health of the inmates. As a result of their visit many defects were found in the sanitary arrangements, and numerous radical changes will be made by a plumber who is skilled in such matters. The condition in which things were found one would hardly believe without seeing for themselves, and more than one Councillor expressed astonishment that the officials were not attacked with typhoid fever long ago. These buildings have already cost much money and it is to be hoped that a perfect and lasting job will be made this time.

A Mission at Centreton.

The "Mission" conducted by the Rev. W. C. Bradshaw at St. John's Church, Centreton, was closed on Wednesday. The Cobourg Sentinel Star says:—"It was very gratifying to witness the large numbers who attended this service. The interest steadily increased throughout the mission. The addresses of the missioner were characterized with an earnestness in delivery and simplicity of language which never failed in riveting the attention of all present, and in bringing home to each individual his or her weak point, and at once indicating the source of strength and salvation. On Sunday afternoon at 3.30, a special service for men only, and boys over 14, was held, at which a lengthy address was given. The attention paid to the speaker on this occasion was something wonderful; eyes and ears were actually strained to catch what was being said. Much good has already resulted from the work, and we feel that God has been with us, blessing us and speaking to our souls through the instrumentality of His servants, who freely and willingly undertook to come amongst us. A number of persons received the Holy Communion for the first time at this service."

Cricket.

The Rosedale (Toronto) and Peterborough Cricket Clubs met on the P. A. A. A. grounds for the first "big" match of the season, with as result that Peterborough was defeated in the first innings, there not being time enough to play the game out. The local team was a weak one, while the visitors had their strongest eleven. The annexed score will furnish all particulars:—

The time agreed upon for drawing the stumps having arrived, play was discontinued and the Toronto men were the victors on the first innings by 15 runs.

Another Victory For the Y. M. C. A. Team.

The Port Hope and Peterborough lacrosse clubs played at Port Hope yesterday morning. The match lasted for one hour and a half, being won by Peterborough by three straight games taken in 8 minutes, 25 minutes and 5 minutes. A full report of the match will be given in to-morrow's issue of the REVIEW.

At Norwood.

The Elms junior lacrosse club sent twelve down to meet the second twelve of Norwood. The Millbrook club was to play the first twelve, but as they failed to show up, the Elmas and the first twelve of Norwood played a game, resulting in a victory for the home players of three straights after nearly three hours' play. The boys were met at the depot by a brass band and were used like kings during their sojourn in the village.

Port Hope.

An extra large crowd, including quite a number from town, were in Port Hope. The acquatic and athletic sports, horse races, bicyce races, Broworks, etc., were very good. The Massey band of Toronto furnished music.

To Belleville.

The P. A. A. A. excursion to Belleville was a success. A large number from town went down, and at every station considerable additions were made to the party. The Bay City was reached about noon and everything was found to be lively. The great attraction was the annual meet of the Canadian Wheelmen's Association, and it was one of the most successful yet held. Captain Greatrix headed the Peterborough contingent of about a dozen. The bicycle races were really grand to see and the excursionists reached home at an early hour, all well pleased.

Down the River.

The Golden Eye carried down one of the largest crowds of the season. They were bound for Jubilee Point and the occasion was the annual picnic and excursion of the Salvation Army. At the Point they spent a regular Hallelujah time. Adjutant Bolton had charge and in addition to the Peterborough corps and band detachments from Cobourg, Port Hope, Millbrook, Norwood, Hastings and other places were present.

THE FIREWORKS.

In the evening the Fire Brigade headed by their band marched to the P. A. A. A. grounds, where a display of fireworks was given. The attendance was large over 25,00 people passing the gates. The display, furnished by Palmer, of Rochester, was an excellent one and gave the best of satisfaction. The band added much to the enjoyment of the evening by rendering some fine selections.

Give them a Chance.

That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is, not only the larger air passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do their work. And what they do, they cannot do well.
